Stockholders of Bulloch County Bank Meet

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Bulloch County Bank held here Tuesday morning, Walter H. Aldred, Jr., W. G. Cobb, R. J. Kennedy, Fred T. Lanier, J. L. Mathews, W. J. Rackley and Harry W. Smith were selected directors of the bank for 1948.

Mr. W. G. Cobb, executive vice-president, in making a report to the stockholders, stated that the bank had had a good year. He read a comparative statement showing loan figures of $815,205.28 at the end of 1947 as compared with $484,978.35 for the same period in 1946. In analyzing the loan figure Mr. Cobb stated, "There are no inflationary loans in our bank." Using figures furnished the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, he reported that the bank made 3,472 loans for the year for a volume of $3,114,473.28.

Undivided profits in the December 31, 1947, statement show $55,759.13 as compared with the 1946 period of $36,381.14.

The bank statement shows U. S. bonds held by the bank amount to $1,660,525.00, and cash and due from other banks, $587,158.90.

The bank declared a 10 percent dividend just before Christmas.

In closing his report Mr. Cobb commended the members of the bank's staff for their excellent work during the year.

Mr. W. J. Rackley in a brief statement paid tribute to the late S. W. Lewis, to whom he gave a great deal of credit for the establishment of the Bulloch County Bank in 1934.

3 In Race For 2 Court Offices

Unless someone else announces their candidacy for the judgeship and for solicitor general of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit it will be an all-Bulloch show and race.

Last week Fred T. Lanier, of Statesboro, present solicitor of the Ogeechee Circuit, announced he would be a candidate to succeed himself.

The Ogeechee Circuit is composed of Bulloch, Screven, Jenkins and Effingham counties and Judge J. L. Renfro is now the presiding judge.

Although Judge Renfro has not formally announced he will be a candidate to succeed himself, when confronted by a member of The Herald's staff last week, he stated, "I am running."

W. G. Neville, prominent lawyer of Statesboro and former solicitor of the circuit, has already announced that he would be in the race for the judgeship and has long been actively soliciting votes and getting his political machine oiled for the race.

County Library Needs $20,000

Twenty-two thousand five hundred and seventeen books in the Bulloch County Library were used for a total circulation of 2,960 during a one year period, ending June 30, 1947, according to Librarian Isabel Sorrier, at an open meeting of the Library Board last Friday evening in the library room in the Sealand Bank building.

Miss Sorrier stated that the library now has a lot on South Main street, and $20,000 in cash. The drive will be made to raise an additional $20,000, which will provide a $40,000 library building.

At the meeting plans were made for a drive to raise additional funds to provide for a library building. Portal City Council Votes To Issue Beer Licenses

The City of Portal will issue beer licenses to sell beer within the city limits for the year 1948.

The announcement followed a meeting of the Portal city council Tuesday night. The vote, taken on a secret ballot, was three to two in favor of issuing beer licenses.

The cost of the initial license was not revealed, but it was stated that five cents will be collected on each bottle of beer sold.

Members of the city council are W. Wood, Ellis McElrath, Leroy Bird, C. J. Wynn and Ernest Carter. H. W. Rucker is Mayor.

When the county voted to "dry up" Bulloch county the question of the licensing and sale of beer was being considered. With the vote two to one in favor of drying up the county, the county board of commissioners and the city council of Statesboro voted not to issue licenses for the sale of beer in the City of Statesboro and the county.

It was pointed out that incorporated municipalities in Georgia have the discretionary power to issue licenses for the sale of beer. It was under this power that the City of Portal voted to issue beer licenses.

Stockholders of Bulloch County Bank Meet

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Bulloch County Bank held here Tuesday morning, Walter H. Aldred, Jr., W. G. Cobb, R. J. Kennedy, Fred T. Lanier, J. L. Mathews, W. J. Rackley and Harry W. Smith were selected directors of the bank for 1948.

Mr. W. G. Cobb, executive vice-president, in making a report to the stockholders, stated that the bank had had a good year. He read a comparative statement showing loan figures of $815,205.28 at the end of 1947 as compared with $484,978.35 for the same period in 1946. In analyzing the loan figure Mr. Cobb stated, "There are no inflationary loans in our bank." Using figures furnished the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, he reported that the bank made 3,472 loans for the year for a volume of $3,114,473.28.

Undivided profits in the December 31, 1947, statement show $55,759.13 as compared with the 1946 period of $36,381.14.

The bank statement shows U. S. bonds held by the bank amount to $1,660,525.00, and cash and due from other banks, $587,158.90.

The bank declared a 10 percent dividend just before Christmas.

In closing his report Mr. Cobb commended the members of the bank's staff for their excellent work during the year.

Mr. W. J. Rackley in a brief statement paid tribute to the late S. W. Lewis,

A Verse For This Week

Between us and Thyself remove whatever hinderances may be
That so our innermost heart may prove a holy temple, meet for Thee.

A Traffic Police Observes

A man who is in a position to make a proper appraisal of a condition airs his thinking.
A city policeman is assigned to the task of directing traffic at the corner of South Main Street and Grady Street in the morning before school hours and in the afternoon when school is out.
"Mule" Smith, as he is known to his friends, stands there charged with the safety of the city's school children who pass that corner to and from school.
He observes that out-of-state tourists are more careful as they approach the crossing than our home-folks. He observes that pedestrians seem to be unaware of any responsibility they should share in observing safety rules as they "jay-walk" the street intersection there.
Kids on bicycles seem to think they own the streets. Their attitude seems to be that automobile drivers and pedestrians should clear the streets for their passing. Bicyclers ride in pairs creating situations that break every safety rule in the book and are dangerous to themselves and to others.
Simple courtesy and designed consideration of the rights of others can form the basis of excellent safety rules.
And the knowledge that you are protecting the lives of the youth of Statesboro; is not there any satisfaction in that?

A Sore Gets Cleaned Up

A sore has been cleaned up and we commend the county for it.
For weeks the trash pile back of the Bulloch County Hospital has been a sore spot in the eyes of all who notice it. Inadequate provisions for the disposal of accumulated trash, waist, and garbage from the hospital had allowed a bad situation to develop.
The county authorities had it cleaned up on Wednesday of last week and provisions are being made to provide for the per disposal of future accumulations.
If there is one spot in Statesboro and Bulloch county which must be kept spotless it is our hospital. Of course we realize the problems existing which allow provisions to develop—short conditions to develop—short help, hard-to-get materials.
The grounds in front of the hospital are fairly well kept. But the back can be improved.
And it's good to know that it's being cleaned up.

A Good Safety Record

Five consecutive years without a single disabling injury—that is a remarkable safety record.
And Statesboro has a part in it.
C. B. McManus, president of the Georgia Power Company, recently congratulated T. A. Gibson, vice president and manager of the Augusta Division, and Sam Strauss, manager of the Statesboro District, on their part in the record of the division.
There are thirty people working in the Statesboro District, including Statesboro, Swainsboro and Metter—working under all conditions, maintaining power service. Their work is a necessity of a dangerous nature and only the observance of strict safety measures can prevent accidents.
"There are 431 employees in the Augusta Division. They worked a total of 1,086,000 man-hours with out a single injury serious enough to cause loss of time from work."
Mr. Strauss states that credit for this excellent safety record goes mainly to the rank and file of employees in the district and the division.
The Herald is safety-conscious and commend the Georgia Power Company on its five-year record.

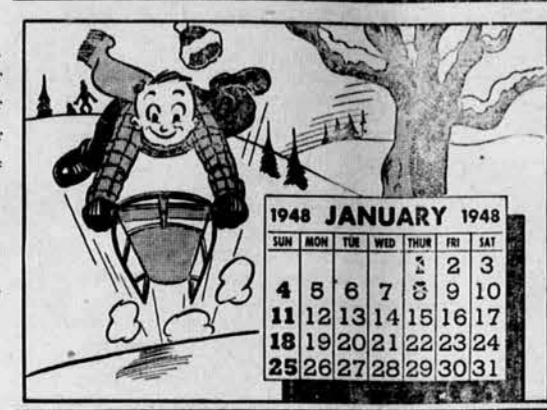

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN HERE!

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column is designed to create dissatisfaction with the present status of Statesboro. It will consist of stories of what other communities like ours are doing, with the hope that Statesboro might realize that we must be continually alert to maintain the classification of "A Progressive City."

DRIVING COURSE SET UP FOR ELBERTON STUDENTS

ELBERTON, Ga., Jan. 10—Students of the Elberton high school are taking lessons in safe automobile driving.
Through the courtesy of a local automobile firm, the school is furnished a brand-new car to be used in training student drivers. The program is sponsored by a national manufacturer, and is under the supervision of the American Automobile Assn. The cost of operating the car is being borne by the Rotary, Kiwanis, Pilot and Exchange clubs of Elberton.
W. M. Hardy, Jr., superintendent of the city schools, is the driving instructor. He was required to attend Georgia Tech for a training course approved by the AAA. In addition to actual driving lessons, the students will be required to take 40 hours of related study.
But it didn't happen HERE!

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On . . .

TODAY, Thursday, January 15, will be windy. Don't go fishing.
FRIDAY, January 16, will be cold. Fishing only fair.
SATURDAY, January 17, will be fair. Fishing a little better.
SUNDAY, January 18, will be frosty. Don't fish on Sunday.
MONDAY, January 19, will be warmer than yesterday.
TUESDAY, January 20, will be warm. Fishing bad.
WEDNESDAY, January 21, will be warm. Fishing still bad.

But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

We were having our annual clean-up around our desk this week and ran across the following which we had clipped from The Nashville Herald in June, 1940. Maybe it'll strike some of our readers as amusing. It gave us a pleasant beginning this morning.
"Man is of few days and full of trouble. He labors all the days of his youth to pay for the gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished, lo! the thin gin junk and he needeth another."
"The plantain grain in the earth and filtheth it diligently, he and his servants and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered in to the barns, he oweth the landlord eight dollars and forty cents more than the crop is worth."
"He borroweth money from lenders to buy pork and syrup and gasoline and the interest eateth up all that he hath."
He begets sons and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear a white collar and, lo, they have soft hands and neither labor in the field nor anywhere under the sun. The children of his loins are onery and one of them becometh a lawyer and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance thereof.
The wife of his bosom flirtheeth with a stranger and when he re-

League of Women Voters

600 Teen-Agers in Ga. Prisons

In a recent publication of the League of Women Voters of Georgia a statement is made that there are "600 Teen-Agers now in Prison in Georgia."
The League asks the question: "Will they graduate as criminals or as citizens? And then suggest an immediate need for a modern state-wide probation system."
Continuing the statement reads: "Many hundred youthful as well as adults first offenders could be reprimanded and corrected under a wise probation system. These same first offenders, nine times out of ten become second, third, and fourth offenders after serving lengthy prison sentences. Under the present system, many youths of fourteen, fifteen, and sixteen years of age are sentenced to as much as five years in prison for the theft of as little as $3 or a neighbor's pig. Such a sentence seems a lifetime to a teen-ager. We are actually sentencing him to a lifetime of crime when we brand him with a prison record and break his spirit by incarceration. A good probation system would reclaim most of these first offenders and make them good citizens, at the same time saving the tax-payers money. It costs only $5 cent a day per probationer whereas it costs the state $1.10 a day to keep an individual in prison."
AN ADEQUATE INSTITUTION FOR JUVENILE PRISONERS
"The second 'must' is a modern juvenile institution to train and correct those remaining youthful offenders who would not be eligible for probation. Juveniles sentenced to prison are not eligible to enter the Georgia Training School at Milledgeville. Such an institution would require a considerable initial state appropriation to build and maintain. In the long run it would be economy. We would train useful, self-respecting citizens instead of turning out criminals who would return again to be cared for at state expense. The Department of corrections has utilized a number of unused buildings at Battery Hospital in Rome to set up a Juvenile Training Institute composed of a little over one hundred youths between the ages of 14 and 18. There they are receiving two hours a day schooling as well as training while they work on carpentering, plumbing, electric work, painting, shoe repairing projects that are needed at the hospital. But there are four hundred more for whom there is no room at Battery."
A NEW WOMEN'S PRISON
"The Corrections law requires the removal of the women's prison from its proximity to that of the men. War priorities are no longer an excuse for delaying this building. The time is now at hand when we must have a decent prison where our women offenders can be helped toward a new life by teaching them self-respect and training in useful vocations. Our present plant is nothing more than a jail, totally lacking in facilities for this sort of program."

All's Fair

WE GROW red-blooded boys in Statesboro—stout-hearted and brave. We give for example that group led by Glenn Jennings, Jr. who stalked big game in the backyard of the Jennings residence at 217 Savannah Avenue. The ferocious animal must not have played possum for, in relating the incident, Glenn said he shot once (using a .22 rifle) and the possum wiggled; he shot again and it wiggled again, but after the third shot there was no more wiggling. In the daring round-up were Billy Bland, Bobby Donaldson, Steve Sewell, Jimmy Bland, Frank Williams and Glenn. The excited lads tied the possum in a bag and hung him in a tree until Toots arrived to find things going on in her back yard. The possum was over and again in Black Bottom for fifty cents. Say, boys, how about shooting a squirrel for Jane? If the meat situation gets more acute, I might relieve you of the next possum you bring down. On second thought, I hope things won't get that bad . . .

BOYS, YOU HAD your mamas worried—Scouts Perry Kennedy, Jimmie Bland, Glenn Jennings and Frank Williams were slated for a fourteen-mile hike. They were each to build a fire, cook their food etc. They left home at 9 o'clock and went nearly to Dover. Just when mothers were about to go scouting in cars, the boys came in—at 6 p. m.—tired, but happy . . .

RUSSELL LEE POWERS was the first to arrive at the terrible car wreck on the highway west of Statesboro. He removed his best suit coat to assist the victims in the crash in every way possible. Later, he discovered that his coat was missing. He questioned others at the scene of the wreck; he went out to the hospital making inquiries; no one knew anything about the whereabouts of his coat. Sunday afternoon when Russell Lee went out to the hospital to visit survivors of the crash, he started to hang his hat on a rack in the hall and what did he see but his missing coat . . .

MARGORIE MURRAY is convinced that fate at the terrible car wreck on the highway west of Statesboro is a new couple and maketh eyes at a young sheik that slinketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of bride.
"Woe is man! From the date of his birth to the time when the earth knoweth him no more, he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. Dust he was in the beginning and his name is mud."

DOROTHY DURDEN deserves mention this week. She accompanied the buyer from Davidson's to the furniture store in Chicago and Grand Rapids, Michigan.
MY EGO has been completely deflated. A very good friend of mine, enjoying a tour of five states, informed me that many times she wished for me—and here was the reason she gave: "I remember when you and I were together on a certain occasion and two more good friends of ours began to enlighten us on some things that EVERYBODY KNEW WAS GOING ON in our town. Now I was dumb," she admitted, "but you were dumber than I." Now, how about that! Well, despite the classification in which she puts me, I know that I would like to have been with Nettie (Mrs. Brantley) Johnson on her trip to points in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Alabama, besides giving Georgia a brief once-over before striking distant trails. Nettie showed up at the Sugar Bowl game. Traveling with Nettie were her son, Billy; daughter, Annie Laurie, and son-in-law, "Rut" (Dr. C. E. Rutledge). Nettie was completely unappreciative of those French dishes. She had difficulty ordering and put herself at the mercy of the waiter by saying, "Just get me what you think I'll eat." There were eight courses (all alike) and the bill was $5. She described the food as messy and the coffee was "insane!" Well, at any rate, it's nice to be remembered . . .

As ever,
JANE.

this is YOUR GEORGIA!

Within the present boundaries of Georgia there once existed an independent nation, that of the Cherokee Indians. The civilization developed by the Cherokees in a narrow strip of mountainous land across the northern part of the State attracted the admiration of the entire world. The Indians developed an alphabet of their own, published a newspaper, translated the Bible into their own language and established a government similar to that of the United States. The nation was dissolved in 1838 when the Cherokees were moved to Indian Territory by federal mandate.

General Robert E. Lee's first appointment after graduating from West Point was to Fort Pulaski, on Cockspur Island at the mouth of the Savannah River.

The total tonnage of finished products manufactured in the Union Bag & Paper Corporation plant at Savannah in 1946 was more than twice that of the entire Georgia cotton crop for the same year.

The national Girl Scout organization was born in Savannah in 1912. It was founded by Juliette Lewis.

Under a group insurance plan that is financed jointly by the company and employees, Union Bag & Paper men and women at Savannah hold more than $15,000,000 in life insurance.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Laugh's on Them!

A lot of folks (outsiders mostly) laughed when we formed our Town Improvement Council. Couldn't figure why we needed such a group, so long as we had a competent local government in office.

But the laugh's on them—because the Council has done a lot of good in our town: put the "Stop" signs up on Main Street, subscribed a new ward to the City Hospital, fixed up the Teen-Age Center; organized our charities.

From where I sit, the people can do as much to run a town as government itself—just the way industry can regulate its operations over and above the laws imposed upon it: like the brewers' program of "Self Regulation."

They inspect all taverns selling beer—to make sure they're clean, orderly, law-abiding... warning those few that aren't to "clean up or run the risk of being closed up." And like good citizens the tavern keepers are wholeheartedly behind the program!

From where I sit, the people can do as much to run a town as government itself—just the way industry can regulate its operations over and above the laws imposed upon it: like the brewers' program of "Self Regulation."

Milk Cooling With Electricity Sound

Better Quality Product Results at Small Cost

Milk customers don't pay off on the quality of milk as it is produced on the farm. It's quality at the point of sale that puts money in the bank.

The dairy farmer, therefore, faces a double task—to produce good milk at milking time and to preserve that hard-won goodness until his product reaches the consumer.

Water alone is not a satisfactory cooling agent, because only in rare instances is its temperature lower than 60 degrees. The addition of ice to water will help, but storage difficulties and the work involved in keeping the tank adequately supplied present certain obstacles to its use.

When deep litter is used, a greater amount of lime may be added. This system, in fact, no system, will be satisfactory in damp weather, unless the house is well built and land well drained.

"Green Manure" Crops "Green manure" is vital to soil rebuilding and higher crop yields that come from a crop of legumes, as shown by accompanying chart.

On the basis of tests conducted recently on 101 selected New York state farms, the cost of cooling milk electrically averages from 12 to 13.5 cents per hundred pounds.

Prognostics of the present-day New Hampshire farmer are some of the farm flocks of "Red" chickens in New Hampshire 35 to 40 years ago.

Limed Litter Helps Improve Hens' Health

Build-Up System Also Benefits Baby Chicks

By W. J. DRYDEN

Not only as a means of saving on the cost of litter material as well as on labor, but also as a coccidiosis control measure, authorities now recommend that litter be left in the brooder and laying house for a year or more.

When the litter is treated with hydrated lime little danger from disease will result. By using the built-up litter method, the poultry house receives additional insulation, resulting in drier litter and more uniform temperature.

Healthy poultry can be kept on litter left in houses for a year or more.

This system of litter management. When the built-up method is employed, the litter is first put in at two to three inches deep, to which one pound of hydrated lime is added to each five square feet of floor space.

When deep litter is used, a greater amount of lime may be added. This system, in fact, no system, will be satisfactory in damp weather, unless the house is well built and land well drained.

Ga. Power Radio Station Here

Statesboro has been selected as the location for one of 10 new radio telephone transmitter stations which the Georgia Power Company plans to install this year in order to provide faster communications that will speed up repair to its electric facilities in time of trouble. It was announced by Sam E. Strauss, district manager.

Details of the installation have not been completely worked out and it may be some time before the necessary equipment and materials can be obtained. All 10 of the new stations will be 50-watt frequency modulation sending and receiving units. Several electric trouble trucks equipped with 30-watt mobile sets, will be assigned to the local area served by each station. It is planned to install 42 of these mobile units this year.

The power company has filed application with the Federal Communications Commission authority to proceed with construction of the new radio facilities, which will be located in Statesboro, Louisville, Hartwell, Columbus, Americus, Albany, Tifton, Macon, Canton and Carrollton. These stations will be in addition to existing fixed stations in Atlanta, Athens, Augusta, Gainesville, Rome, Tallahassee and Thomson. The company also has 46 mobile units already in service.

This year's radio construction projects make up a large part of an ultimate program to establish radio telephone facilities throughout the entire territory served by the company, more than four-fifths of the state's area. It is expected that the program will be completed in 1949, when additional stations are to be established.

Experience with its present facilities has demonstrated to the power company that radio telephone communications add to the efficiency of repair crews in emergencies when power lines, knocked out by lightning, high winds or sleet, must be restored to service as quickly as possible. Radio equipment enables electric line and repair crews to keep in constant touch with their district headquarters and to receive instructions without loss of time when power lines are damaged from any cause. The crews are thus able to make repairs and restore the service in the shortest possible time. Radio communication is particularly valuable wherever a storm may have disrupted other means of communication.

Jaycee Have Plan To Finish Pool

If the plan of the board of directors of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce is adopted the youth of Statesboro will have one of the state's finest recreation centers.

Members of the Jaycees are to appear before the city council as soon as possible to ask for consideration of a plan to raise funds with which to complete the swimming pool and enlarge and completely equip a modern recreational area around the pool.

According to Buford Knight, chairman of the swimming pool committee of the Jaycees, they are going to ask the city to consider collecting $1.00 a month on each water meter in Statesboro for a period of five years. It is estimated that such a collection would raise $84,000 and give the young people a recreational center they deserve.

Work on the swimming pool has stalled. $10,000 more is needed to purchase and install the filtration system if the pool is to be ready for summer.

It's Better To Catch Rats By Surprise; Without Bait

B. M. Bird knows his rats—the four-legged rats, that is.

Mr. Bird's knowledge of rats suggested an idea for a rat trap to which he hopes the world beat a path. He converted his idea into a working model and his belief in it is strong enough that he applied for a patent.

Mr. Bird explains that a rat doesn't mind going into anything he can see through. So he built a trap a rat can see through. And his trap catches 'em alive. He doesn't use any bait in his trap, stating, "It is better to catch a rat by surprise than by luring him with bait."

The trap is an oblong box connected with a trap door at each end. It is about 20 inches long by 5 inches wide and 6 inches deep.

3 Burn to Death in Plane Crash On Airfield Here Late Tuesday Night

And sudden death! Three persons died in a plane crash on the Statesboro Airport late last night.

Johny Fulmer, of North Augusta, S. C., Clarence Stafford and Harry Tucker, of near Metter, were burned to death when the plane they were flying crashed on the local airport Tuesday night about 11:30 o'clock.

The story, as pieced together from information from Logan Hagan, chief of the Statesboro Fire Department, and Harold Sapp, of Pulaski, who was on the field at the time of the crash, is as follows:

Fulmer was an instructor for the Boshers Flying Service, who has the airfield leased from the city and county, Stafford, a veteran who was taking flying lessons, and Harry Tucker took off in a three-passenger Stinson plane late Tuesday night. Harold Sapp was with the others but was not in the plane. He was at the control center (the building used for the office of the flying school on the airfield) when the crash occurred.

Sapp called the fire department and the Smith-Tilman Mortuary. Logan Hagan and Otis Hollingsworth, with the city fire truck, arrived at the scene of the crash a few minutes after Jake Smith arrived with the ambulance. Fire Chief Hagan states that when he arrived there was still a flame about five feet high in the wreckage.

The bodies were badly burned. Harold Sapp identified them, stating that they were in such condition that only someone who knew them well could have recognized them.

From the position of the bodies it is believed that Fulmer, the instructor, was at the controls. It seemed that Stafford was in the front with Fulmer, and Tucker in the rear seat.

It is believed that the plane landed squarely on the taxi strip on the extreme eastern edge of the airfield. It seemed to have straight. The plane skidded about 150 feet to come to a rest where it burned. Mr. Taylor, of Statesboro, used an acetylene torch to cut away obstructions so that the bodies could be removed from the wreckage. The plane was completely demolished and only a small pile of ashes and the skeleton fuselage remains to remind one of the crash.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority was notified of the accident and inspectors and members of the CAA safety board were in Statesboro yesterday investigating the crash.
