It's Not Too Late To Plant Small Grains For Spring Grazing

It is not too late to plant small grains for early spring grazing. If the success of Lamar Jones had last spring could be used as a guide.

Most Bulloch county livestock growers failed to get adequate small grains planted last fall for their hogs and cattle this spring.

Mr. Jones was in the same position last spring, having obtained possession of his farm late. He planted the small grains anyway and fertilized them well, then sown the oats later with the corn. His oats provided about as much spring grazing as any in the county.

Planting some oats now, fertilizing them well, will go a long way toward making the corn crop last until early corn can be obtained in July.

Free Supper Policy Expected to Increase Portal FB Attendance

Everybody has a free supper at the Portal Farm Bureau, except the fellows serving the meal. This group eats free next time.

C. M. Cowart, president of the Portal group, announced Thursday night that they had adopted a new system to provide the monthly meal. The 187 members have been divided into 12 groups, and months assigned to each of the groups. The group that prepared the January supper paid for it themselves and will eat free on the other groups for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Cowart explained that this was being tried to boost attendance. When a group serves the supper and most of the members eat off them free, that group will make a special effort to be present the other times to eat free off the other groups.

W. H. Comer, landscaping specialist from G. S. C. W., at Milledgeville, led a discussion on landscaping the farm home by use of color slides of the adapted shrubs and grass. Mr. Comer had slides showing the right and wrong kinds of plants and right and wrong methods of placing them around the home.

S.H.S. Gets New Band Director
The Statesboro High School Blue Devil Band has a new director.

Mr. Frank J. Tamburino, of Seneca Falls, New York, reported to Superintendent S. H. Sherman of the high school Monday morning of this week and assumed the duties of director of the high school's "Million-Dollar Band."

Mr. Tamburino came here from the Ithaca, N. Y., Conservatory of Music, having finished his musical education there following four years in the armed forces, during which he played in the band of the 12th Armored Division. He served overseas for two years.

His special instrument is the clarinet, but he plays and teaches every instrument in the band. His music career began on the piano which he played as a kid.

Someone in Statesboro really started something. Write your congressman and redeem your souvenir Confederate money and see what he does. He'll be his usual affable self. He'll write you a nice letter and carefully explain that the whole thing was something started in sentiment which, if continued, would not only break him but might jeopardize our national economy.

Fred Hodges Tells All At Meeting
A small group of citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county attended an open meeting of the Bulloch County League of Women Voters held at the library of the Teachers College last Friday night to hear Fred Hodges discuss "Your County Government."

He discussed the county tax system, property evaluation, collection of taxes, and how the funds are allocated.

He told how the department of health operated, the library, and all services of the county. During his talk he was interrupted by those at the meeting to answer questions, defend charges, and to explain misunderstandings. He offered numerous suggestions for improving the county government set-up which his office is helpless to effect.

Statesboro Social Activities

MR. ERNEST BRANNEN PHONE 212

DUNNWAY-AVERITT

Of paramount social interest is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Addie Marie Dunaway, of Statesboro, formerly of Clarksville, Tenn., to Jack Nelson Averitt, of Statesboro. The engagement of the prominent couple was announced at a brilliant reception given by the groom-elect's parents.

Miss Dunaway is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan Dunaway, of Clarksville. Her maternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis, of Sikeston, Mo. The late Mr. and Mrs. Madison Dunaway, of Cumberland, Tenn., are her paternal grandparents. Mrs. Robert Irving Pitts of Miami, Florida, is her only sister.

After graduating from Clarksville high school, Miss Dunaway attended Austin Peay State College and the University of Tennessee. She was on the staff of the All-State college paper and a member of the Alpha sorority. She received her B.S. from Peabody College in Nashville. Later doing graduate work in the Peabody Library School. She taught in the Clarksville Public Schools and is a charter member of the Louise Runyan circle of King Daughters. Miss Dunaway holds the position of assistant librarian at Georgia Teachers College.

Mr. Averitt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Barney Averitt, of Statesboro. His only brother is Hal Averitt. His maternal grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Olliff, are descendants of pioneer settlers of Bulloch county. His paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. David Poindexter Averitt, of Wilmington, N. C.

Mr. Averitt graduated from Statesboro High School, being valedictorian of his class. He attended the University of Georgia where he was a member of the Georgia Glee Club, Demosthenian Society and the Sigma Chi fraternity. He received his B. S. from Georgia Teachers College in 1944 and his M.A. from the University of Georgia in 1945. He was awarded the William Jenice cream, cookies and punch. Paper hats, valentine suckers and balloons were given as favors.

Those present were Britt Waters, Sue Dixon, Steve Lanier, Phyllis Matz, Ray Hodges, Rusty Hodges, Ann Oliver, Charles Hodges, Gail Griffin, Martha Chester, Dianne Lewis, Dewart Beeland, Marjorie Parker, Caroline Kenan, Gary Cowart and Ellen Neal.

MRS. MATHEWS, MRS. POUND HONOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Whiteside was again feted Friday afternoon at a bridge-noon with Mrs. C. B. Mathews and her daughter, Mrs. Bob Pound, as hostesses at the Mathews home on Zetterower Avenue.

Guests were invited for four tables of bridge and twelve canapés for tea. The home was attractively decorated with white pom chrysanthemums and red carnations.

Miss Whiteside received a table-spoon in the English Gadsden pattern.

Covered candy dishes went to Mrs. Frank Mikell for high, and to Mrs. W. E. Carter for cut. Mrs. Stothard Deal won a double-deck of bridge cards for low. The hostess served a salad course and coffee.

MRS. E. L. AKINS HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. E. L. Akins entertained with three tables of bridge at her lovely home on North Main Street.

Guests were served strawberry and orange cake and coffee.

For high score Mrs. Horace Smith received an aluminum baking sheet. Mrs. E. L. Barnes won a decorative flower pot for floating prize, and a similar prize went to Mrs. Raiford Williams for cut.

Other players were Mrs. Bonnie Morris, Mrs. C. B. Mathews, Mrs. Grady Attaway, Mrs. Jake Murray, Mrs. E. N. Brown, Mrs. Frank Olliff, Mrs. Jim Moore, Mrs. Dew Groover and Mrs. W. J. Dixon.

CARLEY ANN RUSHING IS THREE YEARS OLD

Mrs. J. B. Rushing honored her daughter, Carley Ann, Friday afternoon at a lovely birthday party. Carley Ann was three years old and, though the weatherman turned up with rain and severe cold, her friends were on hand to celebrate the event.

Lavinia Bryant and Villette Hursey assisted Mrs. Rushing with indoor games and Mrs. L. A. Bloodworth and Mrs. Hilton Olliff assisted the hostess in serving complimented Miss Whiteside at a delightfully informal buffet supper at the Manse, Pink Glad-toli were used in decorating.

Mrs. Percy Averitt poured coffee.

The choir's gift to Miss Whiteside was a silver bread and butter plate.

Those present were Horace McDougald, Dr. and Mrs. Ronald

DR. BEN DEAL IMPROVED

The many friends of Dr. Ben A. Deal will be interested to learn that his condition is improving following a very serious operation at the West-Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh. Dr. Deal and his wife were on a visit to their son, Dr. Albert Deal, and family when he was stricken and his condition pronounced critical.

Mrs. Joe Joyner, of Screven, went to Pittsburgh, by plane last week to join her mother at the bedside of her father.

LUNCHEON AT JAECKEL FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Alline Whiteside was the central figure at a luncheon Wednesday at the Jaekel Hotel with Mrs. Roy Adams, of Claxton, the charming hostess. The table was beautifully decorated, having as a centerpiece a silver bowl filled with flowering quince. The place cards with clever rhymes identifying the guests had small pink wedding bells and bows of white ribbon.

Mrs. Adams presented Miss Whiteside with two glasses in her crystal pattern. Covers were laid for Miss Whiteside, Mrs. Bill Keith, Mrs. Bert Riggs, Mrs. James Bland, Mrs. Ike Minkovitz, Mrs. Talmadge Ramsey, Mrs. J. C. Hines and Mrs. Adams.
