HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN—That isn't exactly what Auctioneer Ed Rogers was saying the first sale day at a Statesboro warehouse, but it expresses the way most people were feeling about this year's record smashing opening leaf sale. Auctioneer Rogers, fifth man down left hand side of row being sold, was literally chanting a song of dollars for the growers who are eagerly watching him as he sells to the row of buyers behind him. All over the huge warehouse may be seen part of the approximately 450,000 pounds of good Georgia cigarette leaf that was on the floor when sales began. The leaf, piled on baskets (one of which may be seen in the foreground) is wrapped into sheets and carried away as fast as possible after the sale to make way for the next day's offerings.

This scene was shot by The Savannah Morning News Photographer Lee Banks from a point above the auctioneer's warehouse. Over at the left may be seen a group of warehouse workers waiting for the sales crowd to thin a little so they may remove the leaf. Tobacco to the auctioneer's right has not yet been sold.

The auctioneer, while the most important man in the leaf sales picture, is but one of a large group of checkers, clerks and other warehouse personnel who handle complicated details of the sales. When a farmer sells his tobacco, he gets a check within a very short time.

TURBOTS OF FISH WITH TOMATO SAUCE

Meatless days aren't worry days at all—not if you'll dip way down in your bag of tricks and come up with eye-appealing, appetizing fish dishes like this.

- Turbots of Fish
1 filets (haddock, perch, cod, flounder, as desired)
2 salt, pepper
3 rusk, crushed to crumbs
4 small onion, minced
5 stuffed olives, sliced
6 tablespoon minced parsley
7 juice of 1 lemon
8 tablespoons fortified margarine, melted
1 cup snappy mushroom tomato sauce

Sprinkle filets with salt and pepper. Make a light stuffing of remaining ingredients, excepting the tomato sauce. Spread the stuffing over surface of the filets. Roll each and tie. Place in well greased muffin tin. Slip this pan of tins into a brown paper bag closing the bag with string. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1/2 hour. If desired, when pan is removed from paper bag, tops of fish rolls may be browned under broiler heat. Remove to serving platter and serve with tomato mushroom sauce.

JUNIOR LEAGUE ALL-STAR PLAYERS ARE SELECTED

At the picnic sponsored by Watson Sporting Goods last week the Junior Boys' City League selected a list from which the all-stars will be selected. It was decided that boys away on vacation at the time of the selection of the team would be placed on a utility list and would be considered all-stars. These utility men will play in the all-star game with Claxton and their names may appear in the starting line-up. Jere Fletcher was selected pitcher-manager and Bobby Newton as pitcher and captain. A list of the players follows:

- Jere Fletcher, pitcher-manager; Bobby Newton, pitcher-captain; Lamar Underwood, pitcher; Gene Newton, catcher; Joe Hines, catcher; Joe Johnston, Billy Fountain, Bob Brannen, Colen Baron, Gilbert Cone, Guy Freeman, Wayne Parrish, Al DeLoach, Preston Barber, Al McDougald, Charlie Joe Hollingsworth and Eddie Hodges.

business. Without these, the program could not have been a worthwhile undertaking. These contributions do not include contributions to the pool, which are numerous to mention here. The wading pool is growing in popularity and the Girl Scouts are doing a fine job. Mothers are asked to remember that the wading pool is open Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 3 until 5 o'clock.

The East Side community held a community meeting this week to work out details for organizing in their community a recreation program and various related projects. Crafts of all types are to be introduced for all ages. The East Side Sewing Club is working on projects to raise funds to equip their community center. The teen-agers are organizing a teen club and considerable interest is shown. The center and club will be under the direction of the sewing club and recreation department.

The Recreation Department is grateful to the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the work done toward completion of the pool, and to all citizens who have worked and contributed to this undertaking. Mr. Steptoe is working with the men of the community to have the building moved to a central location. It will be painted and decorated by the people of the community. The Junior boys and girls are organizing into clubs so that they can do their part in setting up the program for the community.

FLOOR FINISHING Use extreme care in using floor finishing materials in the home as they are often highly inflammable. Do not allow turpentine-soaked rags to lie around, and dispose of all waste as soon as possible. Clean brushes carefully and store and keep all paint materials tightly covered.

We're building ONE EVERY 45 SECONDS

but that's not fast enough for America!

Service wherever you go

IN JUST TWO YEARS we've built and sold more fine cars than any other new manufacturer in automobile history.

Why? Because America fell in love with the KAISER and the FRAZER on sight. Folks are streaming into Kaiser-Frazer showrooms and learning from present owners how dependable these two great cars are. They're learning — from people who drive them — how soundly they are built... how economical they are... how much enjoyment there is in owning one.

THESE ARE THE MOST-COPIED CARS IN AMERICA, road-proved by 250,000 owners in two billion miles of driving.

Because plenty of Americans insist on comfort, convenience, style and value, traditional leaders had to "move over" — as Kaiser-Frazer became the fourth largest manufacturer of motor cars in the world in two short years.

Why wait? Enjoy your new car this summer. You'll get fair treatment and highest trade-in allowance.

Dottie And Beth Watch The Tobacco Auctioneer At Work

When I went out to buy an Atlanta Constitution Sunday morning, they were all gone. It seems that the town is full of tobacco folks who go after papers earlier than I do.

I lived in a cotton community for 15 years before I finally went through a mill. It was fascinating to watch bales of raw cotton miraculously turn into spools of strong twin. I could have kicked myself for waiting so long to see it.

The Statesboro tobacco market opened last Thursday and I made it a point to go Monday morning. I'm glad I didn't put it off, and want to go again. It's an experience.

F. E. Boone gives the auctioneer's chant over the radio, but that singing business isn't the half of it. The warehouse was hot and dusty—full of folks sitting on piles of tobacco—some drinking cold drinks from the stands just across the street, others standing in groups discussing sales they were making that day, and others just watching.

We found a corner where the haze wasn't quite so thick and Beth sat patiently in her stroller while I talked with Mrs. Rose Hays, of Gaston. Her son, Rastus, had already sold his tobacco for 61 cents per 100 lbs., but they had to wait for the sale to go through before they could get their check and go home.

Hugh Darley had charge of an aluminum bucket of ice water for the buyers and auctioneers, but gave me a cupful for Beth.

You'd be surprised at the group of growers from North Carolina who bring their hogs (first pickings) to Statesboro. I found a group of them—Troy Smith, Herman Page, Willie J. Smith, H. L. Page, Woodrow Jackson, John F. Noecker and Clifton Strauss. They estimated that one-third of the tobacco on the floor Monday was from North Carolina. They had driven almost 400 miles with their golden leaf to take advantage of the early market, and then Georgia and Florida sell tobacco loose—the other states require the sellers to grade their own and tie it in bale-like bundles which do not exceed 300 pounds.

I wandered over to look at the piles and piles of tobacco spread out on the floor. About 290,000 pounds of tobacco changes hands on a daily average in Sheppard's No. 1 warehouse.

The buyers, pinhookers (speculators) and auctioneer were coming down a row toward me and I went over to watch and listen. It's a speedy operation—the warehouseman goes ahead, turns part of the stack over, calls out the beginning price and the auctioneer takes over from there. It's sold in a few seconds and they are tagging at the next pile. The crowd keeps walking all the time—there's no standing over one pile and chanting for several minutes, as I had imagined.

Most of the auctioneers are from out of the state, and Ed Rogers, of Reidsville, North Carolina, was holding forth while I was there.

C. W. DeLoach and son, Lester, were waiting for the buyers to get to their piles, but planned to be home in time for dinner.

Floyd Neville, who has been raising and selling tobacco since 1928, had sold 2,000 pounds that morning and got the warehouse papers and his check while we were talking.

Mrs. Alice Rogers, of Dover, was getting ready to leave with her check and Mrs. Bessie Deal, of Brooklet, was waiting with her sales ticket and marketing card for the office to figure the warehouse commission. I couldn't help thinking, "so round, so firm, so fully packed."

and when I hear that phrase I always picture a hot dog! With the vision of a frankfurter in the back of my mind, my stomach began to complain and I discovered that it was already 12 o'clock! Time to don my apron and get busy in the kitchen, so Beth and I scooted out into the sunshine and hurried home. I'll never forget it.

Hog Self-Feeder

A portable hog feeder is a piece of labor saving equipment which has a place on every farm where hogs are being raised. The capacity of this feeder is 4 bushels, but it may be made of any size desired. If it is kept well painted it will remain water tight.

Culling Pays Dividends To Poultry Producers

Regular culling pays dividends, but many poultry farmers are unable to carry out the procedure because of pressure of other duties. However, as the moulting season approaches, it will be seen that a percentage of the flock commences to moult earlier than others, and it is these early moulters that should be segregated and sent off to market at first opportunity.

Bulloch County Gets $290,075.97 In Highway Construction Since Jan. 1947

Highway construction for Bulloch County has mounted to $290,075.97 since January, 1947, figures released by the State Highway Department reveal. The figures cover projects awarded through June 30, 1948.

The program in Bulloch county included 18.83 miles of grading and paving, as well as sidewalks, curbing and gutters in Statesboro.

The projects for the county during the eighteen month period are for 6.84 miles from Statesboro toward Pembroke, sidewalks in Statesboro, and finishing the Pembroke road.

In the past eighteen months, Georgia has seen the greatest highway construction program in the state's history. Projects were awarded in 146 counties, the most widespread distribution of construction recorded. The total cost of construction for the eighteen months was $34,920,824.

In addition, maintenance was increased in efficiency and the budget for keeping the roads of Georgia in shape for traffic was raised to the largest sum in history.

Portal to Get Paved Sidewalks Along US 80

Paved sidewalks and gutters, along with storm gutters, will be installed along U. S. Route 80 through Portal, J. E. Parrish reported to the Farm Bureau on Thursday night.

Mr. Parrish was chairman of a committee which had been working on this project for Portal and the farm bureau. Some time ago, this committee met in Atlanta with State Highway officials and Governor M. E. Thompson. They were given assurance that a survey would be made and if engineers found that the project was needed it would be completed. The engineers' reports were favorable toward the project and assurance has been given that approximately $36,000 would be spent immediately on the

PORTAL FB MEMBERS DISCUSS WEVIL POISON

Details of why some boll weevil poison kills and why some do not were thoroughly discussed by C. M. Cowart, president of the Portal Farm Bureau, and representatives of chemical companies. Mr. Cowart reported that the dust now being used in the community was killing the weevils about 100 percent, and in a very short time—less than two hours.

NEVILLS FARM BUREAU PLANS COMMUNITY TOUR

The Nevills Farm Bureau planned its community tour and discussed the long range agricultural program at a meeting Wed-

Stores to Stay Open on Wed.

The business houses of Statesboro will remain open during tobacco season on Wednesday afternoons, according to C. P. Olliff, chairman of the Merchants' Council.

Mr. Olliff said that the group held a meeting Friday afternoon and voted to remain open Wednesday afternoons during the tobacco season on Wednesday prior to Armistice Day, which comes on Thursday, and would close for that holiday November 11.

Starting with the Wednesday prior to Thanksgiving, which will be a holiday, the stores will remain open on Wednesday afternoons until Christmas. The group

Monday night, V. J. Rowe, president of the chapter, pointed out that the fact that this agricultural program was passed over the South's opposition was an indication that a stronger farm bureau was needed.

With only about 30 percent of the farmers, yet they have only about 20 percent of the members. It is entirely possible to get the legislation changed before it is effective, Mr. Rowe stated.

voted to remain open as long as night as the individual desired during Christmas week.

The banks are staying open to accommodate tobacco growers while they are selling their crops. The merchants felt that they should cooperate with these tobacco growers by remaining open during the selling season.

MARINE RECRUITERS TO INTERVIEW LOCAL PROSPECTIVE ENLISTEES

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 29.—Marine Technical Sergeant Oral K. Newman Jr., representative of the peacetime Marine Corps, will interview applicants interested in the opportunities offered by the Marine Corps Saturday, July 31, in the Post Office Building, between the hours of 12 noon and 6:00 p. m.

Sergeant Newman urges men interested in finishing high school and obtaining a diploma, or those who wish to prepare for college, to investigate the advantages offered by the Marine Corps Institute.

Under the present pay bill, men will enter the service at $73 a month. Enlistments are for 3 and four years.

4-H Club Winners In Achievement Contests Named

Creasy were first place winners for Bulloch county 4-H clubsters in the district achievement meeting held here last week. Wynette took top honors over 26 other county entries in the senior girls' style review; Melva took first place in muffin making.

The tow winner will compete for state honors during the club congress to be held in Atlanta.

Devaughn Roberts and Gene Mikell took second honors in the livestock judging and public speaking, respectively. Murry Mobley was runner-up for district president. Luaweta Low was a blue ribbon winner in the home improvement contest; LeVita Burness won a similar award in the junior girls' style review; Boots Beasley took a blue ribbon on her canning, and Deloris Riggs received honorable mention for her yeast bread making.

Hazel Creasy was named song leader for the girls and will help lead the singing at the state leadership meeting in Milledgeville from August 17 to 21.

Miss Blackburn also entered the talent program with a tap dance. Carolyn Tanner, Mary Louise Rimes, and Bonnie Allen rendered a song in the talent program, with Etta Ann Atkins at the piano.

ADVICE ON WOODLAND MANAGEMENT AVAILABLE

Farm woodland owners of Bulloch county who have timber which they wish to sell, or have any problem relating to proper management of their woodland, may obtain advice and assistance from James C. Turner, farm forester, whose headquarters are in Statesboro. Mr. Turner will assist in selecting the trees to be sold and give estimates of the volume of timber selected and marked for sale.

After the timber has been measured and marked, the forester will also supply the owner with a list of possible markets for the timber. This service is provided free of charge to the owner except for the cost of the paint used to mark trees selected to be sold. This paint may be obtained from the forester at a cost of approximately $1.75 per gallon, or the owner may provide his own paint.

This farm forestry project is sponsored cooperatively by the State Department of Forestry and the U. S. Forest Service, and is available at first to those counties having a fire protection unit.

To secure the services of the forester, land owners may contact him at box 268, Statesboro, or through the county agent, vocational agriculture teacher, or soil conservation technician.

USE OF DDT

Agricultural specialists advise that DDT may be used to control insect damage in seed corn, but should not be used for treating corn which will be fed to animals or used as food for people.

Farm Bureau Is Making a Thorough Study of Livestock

The Georgia Farm Bureau is making a thorough study of the livestock problems in the state, W. C. Hodges Jr., a member of the state organization's livestock committee, reports.

Mr. Hodges stated that their committee, composed of livestock specialists and farmers from all sections of the state, met recently in Macon to plan their course of study on the problems, and that they hoped to be in position to make some definite recommendations by the time of the state convention in November.

Mr. Hodges represents this section of Georgia on this committee.

Statesboro Tobacco Market Shows Tremendous Growth During 20 Years

The phenomenal growth of the Statesboro tobacco market since the first year of the market in 1928 is almost unbelievable, with each day's sales this summer paying out more money than was paid out during the entire season in 1928.

After many years of hard work on the part of enthusiastic local citizens, a market was opened here in the summer of 1928. That first year the Statesboro market sold 2,306,288 pounds of tobacco for $248,246.07, or an average of $10.76 per hundred. This summer, just twenty years later, the Statesboro market is paying out daily more than $275,000.00, selling every sales day more than a half million pounds of tobacco.

Many are asking the answer to the question of the "whys" the

When the two-set buyer market became a reality, warehousemen and local citizens really went to work and in 1946 the Statesboro market led the state in poundage and money paid out. That year 14,670,367 pounds of tobacco sold for $5,974,996.00, or an average of $40.73 a hundred.

But it has not always been rosy. The first few years were difficult years when acreage and prices dropped. The lean years were in 1931 and 1932. In 1932 the Statesboro market sold only 1,812,582 pounds of tobacco (just about two good sales days this year), for $113,190.96 (and more than twice that amount was paid out on the opening day here this season). That lean year the average was $6.24 a hundred. In 1932 the price picked up slightly, averaging $7.78, but the poundage was slightly over a half million pounds, which brought the growers only $4,105.55.

Statesboro did not reach the million income mark until 1938 and by 1945 the income had jumped to over three and a half million.

Pure-Blooded Duroc Sale Will Be Held Here on August 11

There will be 57 head of "blue blooded" Duroc Jersey hogs in the purebred sale scheduled here on August 11.

George W. Bible, manager of the Mountain Cove Farms, advised Mr. F. C. Parker Jr. and County Agent Byron Dyer that he had selected 225 3-ring male pigs, 17 gilts and 15 bred gilts for the sale.

EVER WISH YOU WERE IN KALAMAZOO?

By JANE

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Darley and daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Wendzell, Hugh Darley and Miss Pat Proctorius have returned from a trip to Kalamazoo Mich., and other interesting places.

Of great interest to her friends will be the fact that Mrs. Darley, who has fought her way to health with amazing courage, was the first to climb a mountain, or to seek out beautiful parks and enjoy the scenic beauty of the highways on which they traveled.

It was springtime in Michigan. In Coloma, they visited relatives of Tech Sergeant Al Wendzell.

Evelyn's late husband, who was shot down over Vienna. Here the home was surrounded with orchards of cherry trees, loaded with fruit, a field of strawberries with berries as large as apples, Mrs. Darley reported.

They spent a day at Benton Harbor and on to South Bend, Indiana, where, for Hugh's sake, they went out the Notre Dame and visited the stadium. They were in Cleveland, Ohio, for three days. They were in Washington, D. C. during the funeral of General Pershing. They went to the White House at 4 o'clock, where those paying their respects formed a line two miles long; returning at 9 o'clock, they found the line equally as long.

They were surprised and delighted on their trip to Arlington to meet up with Grace Walker, Jane Proctor and Billy Bland. Mount Vernon was on their list of "must see's," as were Smithsonian Institute, art galleries and the Library of Congress. In looking at some views which Mrs. Darley so kindly sent me I was fascinated by the House of David Park. A perfect beauty spot with formal gardens—a place for fairies to dance in the moonlight—yet inhabited by bearded men who are nationally famous for the House of David baseball team. Though a religious group, the park featured beer parlors, dances and concerts.

Mrs. Darley was impressed with the bridges and the Pennsylvania turnpike was a delight to a tired motorist—where traffic was no problem and you could cruise along and relax. From all accounts I received, Mr. Darley seems to have gotten a bigger kick out of watching a fisherman at a lovely stream pull in what appeared to be a ten-pound trout—and it did not get away.

Fertilizer Won't Solve Entire Farm Problem

Many farmers are inclined to use fertilizer as a crutch by attempting to make it substitute for good soil management. Vital as fertilizer is, it cannot do the entire job. It must be backed up by other practices that add organic matter, build soil structure and boost crop yields.

New Insecticides Are Non-Poisonous to Bees

One serious cause of bee poisoning has been that bees have taken dusts containing arsenic and have stored this poison in combination with pollen in the hives. Arsenic remains permanently poisonous but never insecticidal dusts and sprays, such as DDT, DN and D.D.D., are less dangerous to beneficial insects as the toxic effects will break down gradually.

Candidates For Governor Endorse Education Program

Acting Governor M. E. Thompson and Herman Talmadge, major candidates for governor, have endorsed the GEA Minimum Foundation Program of Education for Georgia children which is based on recommendations of the Investigating Committee of the 1946 Georgia Legislature. The overall program calls for $83,401,720. The people of this county want to know the effect of the program on its schools. The following estimate from the State Department of Education will be of interest to everyone in this county, including the candidates for the General Assembly, since the Legislature must provide funds to finance this program.

For 1947-48 Bulloch county received from the State of Georgia, for all school purposes (excluding certain state and federal vocational funds) $403,525.00. The Minimum Foundation proposes an increase in state funds of $208,705.00. The State Department of Education estimates that this system needs 1 1/2 times as much to make it possible for the Board of Education to operate an efficient school system, pay four years' professionally trained teachers a minimum of $2,000.00, and care for text books, transportation, current operating expenses and other essential needs.

Of particular interest is the proposal of the Minimum Foundation Program calling for $200 for each state allotted teacher for capital outlay. For the 207 state allotted teachers in this county, the state will pay $41,400 annually, to be available for capital outlay only. In ten years this will amount to $414,000.

If and when the building needs are met, these funds may be used to retire outstanding bonds voted to construct present school facilities. The state is not now bearing any share of the burden of school house construction. The Minimum Foundation Program proposes for children in rural areas as good school buildings and equipment as urban children. Under the present conditions, with bond levies for school house construction limited to 7 percent of the assessed valuation of real property, over 100 rural Georgia counties find it impossible to construct and equip adequate schools for their children.

Manuscript of Beethoven's Last Completed Work Found
BALTIMORE — The original manuscript of what is believed to be the last completed work of Composer Ludwig von Beethoven was unearthed at Peabody Conservatory of Music, officials of the institution said.

Searching for displays to celebrate the conservatory's 80th anniversary, the manuscript was found in a library. Peabody officials said they were unaware it was in their possession.

The work is a canon, a composition having "voices" or "parts" with the same melody sung in harmonious succession. The words and music are in Beethoven's handwriting.

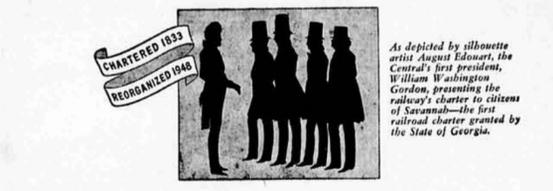

Beethoven sent the composition to a friend along with the last movement of his B-flat quartet.

Judge Discounts Vet's Plea Of Stealing for New Home
PHILADELPHIA — A navy veteran, who told the court he stole in the hope of making a separate home for his wife and 15-month-old child, was sentenced to 1 1/2 to 23 months in county prison by Judge Thomas Bluet.

The veteran, Raymond Slovanski, 21, pleaded guilty to robbing a candy store of $53, after holding up a 16-year-old counter girl, Juanita Giffin, at pistol point.

Slovanski told the court he had found his mother's home impossible. He said he hoped to obtain enough money from the robbery to make a home for his own family. Judge Bluet waved aside defense counsel's plea for clemency, however, and imposed sentence.

"As a navy veteran," Bluet said, "this young man should know how dangerous a weapon can be."

The Quality of Leadership...

Quality of leadership means much to an organization, particularly to one which renders a service to the general public, as does a railroad.

The reorganized Central of Georgia Railway Company takes pride in the fact that its Board of Directors comprises men who bring to their duties proven competence, long experience and successful achievement in industry, commerce and finance.

Members of the Central of Georgia's Board of Directors are:

WILLIAM D. ANDERSON, Chairman, Bibb Manufacturing Co., Macon, Ga.
 MERRELL P. CALLAWAY, Chairman of the Board, Savannah, Ga.
 ERLE COCKE, President, Fulton National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.
 R. R. CUMMINS, Vice President and General Manager, Savannah, Ga.
 T. M. CUNNINGHAM, Attorney at Law, Savannah, Ga.
 ROBERT W. GROVES, Partner, Strachan Shipping Co., Savannah, Ga.
 ROBERT E. HIGHTOWER, President, Thomson Cotton Mills, Thomson, Ga.

H. V. JENKINS, Publisher, Morning News, Evening Press, Savannah, Ga.
 A. R. LAWTON, Jr., General Counsel, Savannah, Ga.
 ALLISON W. LEDBETTER, Contractor, Rome, Ga.
 T. GEORGE PAGE, Vice President, Bankers Trust Co., New York, N. Y.
 CHARLES S. SANFORD, President, Liberty National Bank & Trust Co., Savannah, Ga.
 D. ABBOTT TURNER, Manufacturer, Columbus, Ga.
 R. CLYDE WILLIAMS, President, First National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.
 MARION J. WEBB, President, Savannah, Ga.

To this list will be added other men of mark in the territory, as soon as certain formalities of corporation procedure can be arranged. Thus completed, the Board of Directors will guide the destinies of a railroad important to the Southeast... a railroad that, as a part of the nation's great transportation network, will not only strive to render adequate service, but will also champion the development and progress of the industrial and agricultural Southeast.

The objectives of the Board of Directors will be achieved by officers and employees skilled and experienced in their duties, working with modernized equipment and facilities, and united in a determination to supply service that is both dependable and courteous.

In this spirit, the cooperation and support of the traveling and shipping public is sought.

N. Y. Court Decision Holds Test-Tube Baby Legitimate
NEW YORK — A supreme court justice ruled that a child born as the result of artificial insemination is legitimate.

The ruling was made by Justice Henry Clay Greenberg in deciding that the estranged husband of Mrs. Julie Strnad, 31, had a right to visit her daughter, four-year-old Antoinette, who she said was a product of artificial insemination.

Mrs. Strnad claimed that her husband, Antoine, 42, was sterile since birth, an allegation he denied. She sought to prevent him from seeing the child on the ground Antoinette was not the offspring of her ex-husband. She had won a separation decree and principal custody of the child last October.

FOR SOLICITOR GENERAL

To the People of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit:

I am a candidate for Solicitor General of this circuit, subject to the rules governing the State Democratic Primary to be held September 8th, next.

I am winding up my second term as Solicitor General and I am asking for your vote for this office for one more term only, as I shall not be a candidate for this office again after the next state primary. This is a very important office to the public. It is the work of the Solicitor General to prepare the indictments in exactly the correct and legal form, to submit the evidence for the state to the grand jury, to make out the state's case before the trial jury with such evidence and in such a way as to sustain a conviction where a conviction is had, and in the case of an appeal after the verdict, it is the duty of the Solicitor General to represent the State in arguing those cases before the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of Georgia.

I have had considerable experience in the trial of cases. I have tried almost every kind of case known to our criminal law, as well as all sorts of civil cases. During my administration, I have tried to represent the interest of the State before the Grand Jury and in the Trial Courts with as little loss of time and with as little cost to the counties as possible, and at the same time giving due consideration to the parties involved.

I shall appreciate your support and your influence and vote, and if I am elected to this office for another term, I shall endeavor to give you the same sort of fair, impartial and efficient service which I have tried to give for the past seven years.

Yours sincerely,
FRED T. LANIER.

One night sitting on that lovely porch overlooking the Atlantic with a silver moon sailing high in the sky, Hoke Jr., sighed sleepily and remarked, "It's so pretty and I can see two moons." While FRANK and MARY McKELL were spending part of their vacation with Mary's parents in Teococ, ALISON had a wonderful time, for the recreation center was just across the street from her grandmother's. She experienced the delights of tennis and couldn't understand why we didn't have a place like it in Statesboro. Alison discovered a gorgeous rainbow in the sky and was told by her mother that it was the Marines come marching in. Two sisters competing in the state contest will be something different, I imagine. . . . Sound the trumpets loud and long and be sure you go early to watch the great all-girl baseball team at Eliot's Field Friday night sponsored by the Business out for a doctor. Our ship back-tracked for fifty miles and took the American seaman aboard. He is better, so the bulletin board stated. Our dining table is next to the Captain's (it wouldn't have surprised me to find her seated at the Captain's table) and he comes by every meal he can make (I am not sure how to interpret that) and says "Hello!" Tonight, we were the ship's special guests, so we were asked what we would like to have for our dinner—so here it is—Fruit cocktail, brook trout, polli, butter, baked turkey, cauliflower, cranberry sauce, and potatoes. The turkey was brought in whole and then carved. The dessert was baked Alaska—described minutely by Doll as a slice of cake with ice cream over it, then covered with egg whites and baked and served in slices.

"I've never seen such delicious food (I'm going slightly wild—J.) and the most gorgeous Sheffield silver. The courses are beautifully served." Now for Doll's daily routine: "Breakfast at 9:30, after which we write, play tennis or walk around the deck. We have deck chairs and blankets, but the weather has been cloudy and cold all the way over. In fact, the fog horn blew, off and on, all night last night. Lunch at 1:30 p. m., then we play bridge. At four everybody goes into a lounge and is served tea and cookies. I've never tasted better tea. The English do not use lemon. After tea we attend a British or American movie from 4:30 to 6:00. By that time we must don evening clothes for dinner. All I do is eat, and the food is marvelous. (There goes that food again.) After dinner we play bingo, or a horse racing game after that we dance. I never get to bed before two a. m."

Doll met and talked with Lady Dover Dell, of Paris, France, and has met people from Ireland, Scotland, England, France, and India. I am just wondering will my heroine tell all when she reaches Paree. Oh, yes, I was about to overlook the romance budding at home. I was at Penney's Beauty Shop with them making a desperate effort to make me presentable when the pretty blond who was working on me said, "Haven't you heard from Mrs. Foy?" It was a dead give-away, for how could she have known that I had a letter from Doll unless she, Macy Tucker, had a boy friend who worked for the telephone company?

Mountain Cove Farms To Sell Duroc Jersey Hogs Here August 11

The Mountain Cove Farms at Kensington, Ga., have been requested to bring some of their Duroc Jersey hogs here for a purebred sale in August.

George W. Bible, manager of the farms, has indicated his willingness to enter some of his top breeding stock in a sale here. F. C. Parker Jr., manager of a local stockyard, has suggested that these hogs be brought here August 11.

In contacting Mr. Bible, County Agent Byron Eyer and Mr. Parker expressed to him the need for good Duroc hogs in the county and requested that he bring approximately 25 male pigs, 15 to 20 gilts and about the same number of bred gilts. The manager of this farm indicated he would try to work out something agreeable to the Bulloch county hog growers.

This farm has long been noted for its Duroc hogs and has some 4,000 acres of land devoted to growing nothing but this breed of hogs.

Duroc hogs are one of the favorite breeds in the county.

It takes four and a half times the energy to work at a table top low as one of correct height. Make sure that all insecticides used in the home and garden are labeled with the name and use. Varnished or waxed floor finishes last longer when cleaned with mineral spirits and turpentine instead of water.

The way a dress is made, as well as the fabric, in it, determines how easily it will wash and iron. Specialists advise treating seed potatoes with Semeas-Bel before or after cutting when planting Irish potatoes. A good practice from a nutritional standpoint, is to prepare raw vegetables just before using them. When buying an iron, get one that is not too heavy, for heat is more important than weight and pressure.

Bulloch to Have S.E. Fair Exhibit

Bulloch is one of four counties in Georgia selected to help put on the general agricultural exhibit at Southeastern Fair in Atlanta the first of October. At a conference in Athens Friday, Robert A. Wynn, assistant county agent, and Miss Irma Spears, home demonstration agent, were advised that the fair officials had asked that four counties in Georgia be invited to help present the state's agricultural program in one large exhibit, and that each county give, through its products, a good story on what that section of Georgia produced in the way of agricultural products.

Dry Weather Hits Corn and Cotton

Dry weather materially reduced the yield of corn and cotton demonstrations in the Nevils community, as witnessed on a tour of that community Monday. However, several demonstrations will still be good examples of what can be done with legumes and fertilization, and using best known methods of cultivation. C. J. Martin cited numerous instances where crops which followed blue lupine were holding up despite dry weather—and with a saving in fertilizer cost. The Nevils Farm Bureau members set up demonstrations in cotton and corn last spring and have made every effort to prove that higher yields could be obtained from an acre of land if better fertilized and cultivated. The harvest will tell the story. Farms visited on the tour last Monday were those of Messrs. Martin, V. J. Rowe, R. L. Robert, D. B. Edmund, John Willie Sanders, Allen and Ray Trappell, Walton Nesmith and Charlie M. Hodges.

Brown Jr., assistant technical director of the Red Cross national blood bank program, explain the technical aspects of operating a blood bank. Dr. W. O. Good Yield Seen for 'Total Loss' Cotton Ninety-seven bolls of cotton on a stalk considered a total hail loss by insurance inspectors eight weeks ago is something which can be pointed to with pride. Mr. Claude Cowart, of the Portals community, near the Jenkins county line, has 24 acres of cotton which a hail storm "laid low." He had it insured and upon inspection by insurance adjusters it was agreed that the cotton was a total loss. He collected his full amount. Without naming the members of his faculty, Mr. Sherman stated that it is now complete, with seven new members. A feature of the 1948-49 school year will be the addition to the faculty of a second full-time piano instructor, Miss Ann Youmans, of Metter, and Mrs. Verdie Lee Hilliard will make up the piano department. Miss Youmans is a graduate of the University of Georgia fine arts department with a major in piano. Mr. Sherman also announced that Sydney J. Katz, of Beverly, Mass., will succeed Frank Tamburino as director of the high school Blue Devil band. Mr. Katz is a graduate of Columbia University with a masters degree. He has had wide experience in directing bands and symphonic orchestras. Mr. Sherman added that the school buildings will be in condition for opening on September 6.
