Registration of young men between the ages of 18 and 25 has been completed in Bulloch county, according to an announcement made this week by Joe Robert Tillman, chairman of the county Selective Service Board.

Questionnaires were mailed to young men according to the law which requires all men to register within five days after they reach their eighteenth birthday. Those away from home should register at the nearest draft board unless they expect to be back home before the expiration of the five-day limit.

A HOLE IN THE GROUND

This "hole in the ground" represents the unfinished Swimming Pool. We are leaving it here as a constant reminder of our need to complete this project for the young people of this community.

Robbing Peter to Pay Paul

TEN YEARS AGO—1938—a small library was provided for the grammar school children. It was set up in the old office of the grammar school principal, where for three years it grew slowly until 600 books were on its shelves.

In 1941 the high school librarian visualized a library which was in the next few years to grow into one of the finest grammar school libraries in the state, with more than 2,000 volumes.

Using funds realized from the proceeds of sales of candies and soft drinks in the school's "Little Store," the library in 1941, moved into a room which had for years been the "junk room. Devoting her personal time and doing much of the work, the librarian converted the junk room into an attractive library, serving a real need of the children in the lower grades of our school.

And then in a tidal of first year children the Grammar School Library was engulfed and ten years of work was washed away in the ripple.

Ninety children entered the first grade this month.

And no place to put one third of them!

"There's the grammar school library," someone suggested.

And, so, more than 2,000 books, in their shelves, were turned with their faces to the walls and space made available for the largest first grade in the history of the school. Three sections.

Already an oversized fifth grade in three sections.

Watch These Racketeers

HAVE YOU BEEN MADE A VICTIM of the septic tank cleaning racket which is spreading over Georgia?

According to our county health commissioner, Dr. W. D. Lundquist, very clever men are convincing home owners who have septic tanks for sewage disposal systems that their tanks should be cleaned out at regular intervals.

These "racketeers" are claiming that they represent the State Health Department and that there is a state law which requires that tanks be cleaned regularly.

These claims are false. There is no such law. The Health Department does not employ such men.

Dr. Lundquist stated that it is advisable that your septic tank be left alone and never cleaned out unless it should give you trouble.

The Almanac Says the Weather this Week On...

TODAY, Thursday, September 23, will be thundery. FRIDAY, September 24, will be stormy. SATURDAY, September 25, will be stormy. SUNDAY, September 26, will be stormy. MONDAY, September 27, will be cooler. TUESDAY, September 28, will be fair. WEDNESDAY, September 29, will be fair and pleasant.

But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac is Wrong

BUT above all, the victory is most sure. For him, who, seeking faith by virtue, strives to yield entire obedience to Law Of Conscience; Conscience revered and obeyed, As God's most intimate presence in the soul, And His most perfect image in the world.

—W. WORDSWORTH

Come the week of September 27-October 2 the farmers of Bulloch county will join farmers in each of the state's 159 counties in observing FARM BUREAU WEEK.

We often poked gentle fun at many of the "Weeks" which clutter up a year's calendar, all promoting someone's special idea or cause. "National Doughnut Week," "National Peanut Week," and scores of others—many of them most worthy "weeks."

And with the coming up of FARM BUREAU WEEK we list it with the most worthy weeks.

This year, more than 62,000 families in Georgia will be made aware of FARM BUREAU WEEK. Many of Georgia's outstanding figures are lending their influence in promoting it. Senator Walter F. George says: "The farmers of Georgia should support 100 percent the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation..."

Senator Dick Russell says: "The Farm Bureau has always taken an active and leading part in the fight to protect the interests of the farmers..."

Congressman Eric W. Preston says: "Every southern farmer should be alarmed at the enactment of the recent long-range farm program..."

Acting Governor Thompson says: "It is contributing much to Georgia and to the welfare of Georgia farmers..."

Governor- Nominee Herman Talmadge says: "I am pledged to aid in every way possible the improvement of farm life in our state..."

We say: "It's good business to belong to the Farm Bureau."

HOUSING in Statesboro is as great a problem as it is in larger cities. Every day people come in our office looking for rooms, apartments, houses, young married couples... a man with a family of five... a teacher at the college—all looking for a place to live. New homes keep going up, but there seems to be no relief for those looking for a place in which to settle.

S. J. KATZ, the new band director for the Statesboro Blue Devil Band, is completely sold on Statesboro. "The people here are the kindest and most friendly I've ever known," he told us this week. "If I didn't know I was in the South, I'd think we were being sold a bill of goods." He has some wonderful plans for the band and for music in the Statesboro schools. In addition to his work with the band, he has several classes in public school music and is directing the glee club.

He made a swell impression on the people of Statesboro at the Lions Club horse show at the airport on Thursday and Friday nights of last week—he was the trumpeter, calling the horses to the ring. We like him because he likes Statesboro and is interested in giving Statesboro music. And a community with music can't go far wrong.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Choose a Tenant

Most tenant farmers in our county have been in their homes for years—because farm owners have been careful whom they've picked.

Take Bert Childers. He chooses family men with children—the more children the better—because they're stable, temperate, industrious—the kind who'll settle for a moderate glass of beer at night and be ready for a good day's work next morning.

And under their program of Self Regulation, our tavern falling short of these high standards is first warned, and then reported to the right authorities. Yes, good tenants make a mighty big difference, in a farm or in a tavern. It's worth being choosy!

And from where I sit, the brewers are pretty particular whom they have for "tenants" in their industries.

TURBOTS OF FISH WITH TOMATO SAUCE

Mealtime days aren't worry days at all—not if you'll dip away down into your bag of tricks and come up with eye-opening, appetizing fish dishes like this.

If doubtful on the cause of a stain in clothes or linens, always use the mildest treatment first when removing the stain.

Large pieces in the family wash should be fastened with clothespins in three or four places to avoid strain.

It will be my purpose to serve the citizens of Bulloch county in every way to aid the advancement of our state and county.

MISS JUNE ATTAWAY WEDS JACK TILLMAN

The terrace of the beautiful Georgian type home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Attaway on College Boulevard was the scene Friday, September 17, of the marriage of their daughter, Miss June Attaway, to Jack Brunson Tillman, son of Mrs. Grant Tillman and the late Mr. Tillman.

The double ring ceremony was performed at twilight by Rev. L. P. Glass, of Fairburn, before a background of fern trees, palms and trailing smilax over the arched doorway, in the presence of friends and relatives grouped on the expansive lawn. The wrought iron balustrade enclosing the white dahlia and chrysanthemum tied with white satin ribbons attached to the railing.

The wedding music was presented by Frank Rushing, organist, and Miss Beverly Coran, of Narrows, Ga., college friend of the bride, soloist. Miss Coburn sang "Thine Alone" and "You're My Heart Alone." Miss Ann Attaway, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were her sisters, Misses Nancy and Josephine Attaway, Louise Wilson and Dorothy Jane Hodges. The dresses of the attendants were fashioned alike from pastel shades of marquisette over taffeta with fitted bodices and off-shoulder necklines formed by wide bertha shirred at intervals to form a scalloped effect. Their full skirts were posed over hoops and caught up with tiny bows of the material to display ruffled petticoats.

All wore picture hats of horse-hair braid featuring velvet ribbons and sprays of tulips in pastel shades matching their dresses. Their old fashioned lace encircled nosegays were of mixed garden flowers with the predominant colors in each matching the attendants' dresses, which were fuchsia, lemon color, ice blue, mint green and pale pink.

Ring bearers were Billy Attaway, brother of the bride, and Madeline Waters, niece of the groom. Billy was dressed like the groomsmen and Madeline's white marquisette was fashioned like that of the lady attendants. She wore a bandeau of small white chrysanthemums.

The groom was attended by his brother, Grant Tillman, as best man. Groomsmen were Emory Bohler, Dick Tillman of Clarkston, Lamar Trappell and Frank Simmons Jr.

Escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, the radiant blonde bride was lovely in her exquisite wedding gown. The close fitting bodice of pearl-toned satin with long sleeves coming to a point over the hands had a marquisette yoke which fastened down the back with small covered buttons. Folds of marquisette were crushed at the bottom of the yoke, simulating fashionable decollete. The full marquisette skirt, poised over hoops, was caught up in front, revealing a ruffled petticoat, and extended in the back to form a graceful train. The fingertip veil of illusion was three-tiered and fell from a tiara of pearl-encrusted orange blossoms. The bride's bou-quet was of stephanotis and was centered with a purple-throated white orchid.

The bride's mother wore kelly green crepe with purple furnishings, fullness in the back. Gold, plated braid encircled the waist, line and throat. She wore a purple orchid.

The groom's mother was gowned in black crepe with an orchid corsage. Mrs. R. M. Arnold wore black crepe and her corsage was of lavender aster.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding party and the parents of the groom formed a receiving line on the terrace. Mrs. Inman Dekle introduced guests to the line. Mrs. Percy Averitt was at the door. Meeting guests in the living room were Miss Lillian Williams, of Atlanta; Mrs. Devan Watson, Mrs. J. B. Averitt, and Mrs. M. M. Newton.

Mrs. J. S. Murray, of Augusta, and Mrs. Cohen Anderson were in the dining room. Mrs. Jim Donnanson directed the guests to the gift room. In the gift room were Mrs. Frank Olliff, Mrs. Glenn Jennings, Mrs. Lannie Simmons and Mrs. Percy Bland. Misses Betty and Shirley Tillman, sisters of the groom, presented the gifts.

The bride's table on the back porch was of wrought iron with glass top and was banked underneath with magnolia leaves. The three-tiered all white wedding cake was embossed with full-blown roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom and a wedding bell. An oblong crystal bowl filled with white dahlia was placed on a reflector on one end of the table.

Two crystal birds posed in front of this arrangement. The cake knife was showered with satin ribbons, fern chrysanthemums, and fern. Mrs. Bruce Olliff directed the guest to the lawn in the back garden where they were served refreshments. Maxine Brunson and Barbara Page Brunson handed out the napkins which featured silver wedding bells and the names of the bride and groom, and the wedding date. Mrs. Cecil Kennedy was assisted in serving by Mrs. Reppard DeLoach, Mrs. Sidney Lanier, Mrs. Grady Simmons, Mrs. James Bland, Mrs. Bernard McDougald, Mrs. Perry Kennedy, and Miss Edna Williams.

Among the younger crowd serving were Misses Margaret Sherman, Helen Johnson, Agnes Blitch, Virginia Rushing, Virginia Durden, Lila Barby, Barbara Franklin, Sue Nell Smith, Julie Turner, Paul Prestorius, Lela Stockdale, Mae Earl Henderson, of Atlanta, Mesdames Grant Tillman, G. C. Coleman Jr., Inman Foy Jr., Walker Hill, Fred Daryl and Bernard Morris. At the punch bowl were Etta Akins, Deborah Prather, Betty Womack and Jackie Murray, of Augusta.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Tillman left for Daytona Beach, Fla., where they will spend their honeymoon. They spent the night at the General Oglethorpe Hotel enroute to Daytona. The bride traveled in a chestnut brown gabardine suit worn with a beige blouse with gold buttons down the front. Her off-face hat of winter brown felt was trimmed with dark brown feathers tipped with forest green. Her bag and shoes were of dark brown suede. Her corsage was the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Following their brief wedding trip, they will return to Athens, where the groom is studying for a degree in business administration at the University of Georgia.

Among out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones, Captain H. W. Collins, Mrs. Louise Altman, Misses Lillie Mae Williams, Edna Williams, Mae Earl Henderson and Rebecca Franklin, of Atlanta; Mrs. Ray Williams, of Marietta; Mrs. L. B. Coburn, Miss Beverly Coburn and Hank Fulgrave, of Narrows, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blue, Thompson; Mr. and Mrs. Corley Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tillman, Miss Lenora Tillman and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tillman, all of Claxton.

Arrangements of white flowers adorned the living room. The bride's table introduced the motif of green and white in graceful formality. The table, overlaid with a Madeira outwork cloth, was centered with an oblong, handcrafted crystal bowl filled with white dahlia combined with white button chrysanthemum and fern. Diagonal arrangements marked the corners of the table. Bride and groom candles in crystal holders marked the left front and a three branched crystal candleholder holding white tapers, from which narrow satin ribbons cascaded with clusters of button chrysanthemum caught at intervals, gave interest to the other end of the table. The place cards were miniature nosegays.

The four-course luncheon, dainty and appetizing, adhered to the bridal theme—grapefruit cocktail with green cherry, green tinted pear topped with white cream cheese and green cherry, the main dish of creamed chicken in heart timbales, green peas and mushrooms on a casserole. Strips of raw vegetables centered with green olives made an artistic and colorful platter. Hot rolls and butter, iced tea with a dessert course of lime sherbet served with individual cakes iced in green and embossed with white flowers.

Favors were packs of chewing gum, and they were served ice cream, birthday cake and cocoa-cakes. The birthday cake was a lovely two-tiered affair iced in pink and green, with circus animal candle holders.
