Many in the Denmark community, one name rings familiar and one picture fills them with pride: Hallock Jerome W. Davis, of the Chicago Cardinals, famous professional football team, is a hero to the members of the DeLoach family and their friends—Mrs. R. P. Mikell, Mrs. W. M. Higgins, Mrs. Russic Waters, Clate DeLoach, Cleve DeLoach, Arthur DeLoach, of Savannah; John N. Rushing, and all their families... for "Jake" Davis is their cousin, the son of Mrs. Minnie Lee DeLoach Davis, the daughter of the late Clem DeLoach and the late Jerome W. Davis, of Covington, Louisiana. Young Davis graduated from Southeastern Louisiana College in 1947. He was recommended as the only football player in the state of Louisiana who might be good enough to make the professional grade. Jimmy Conzelmann, Chicago Cardinal coach, thought so too, and young Davis made good.

In his first game, against the Washington Redskins, in Denver on Labor Day, he scored a touchdown after a 63-yard run from the kickoff.

Known as "The Weasel," Jake Davis promises to be the prize football rookie of the year, according to sportswriters in professional circles. "Pop goes the Weasel" is the song when young Davis gets going with the ball.

During the war years he played at the University of Georgia. He was a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy.

Occasionally he is a visitor in Statesboro. Members of the Statesboro Quarterback Club are hoping that he might be secured for one of their Monday night meetings.

Each Sunday finds the members of the DeLoach family and other relatives and friends scanning the sports pages, singing "Pop Goes the Weasel."

MORNING REPORT— Mayor partially agreed with him, but suggested that temperance might do more good than beatings. Two other cases were called but the defendants were not in court and their cash bonds were forfeited.

Police Court convenes each Monday morning at 9 o'clock, with Mayor Come presiding.

POLICE CHIEF LOTT this week warns citizens of Statesboro to keep their dogs shut up. He pointed out that there is an ordinance on the city laws which prohibits dog owners from allowing their dogs to roam the streets. "It's dangerous," he says. "We are cooperating with the County Health Department in its campaign to protect citizens of the city and county from the possibility of rabies." The ordinance requires dog owners to secure a dog tag. He stated that he had made a survey of the city and found too many dogs loose. "We are going to begin making cases against owners if they do not secure dog tags and keep dogs shut up," he said. "It will become our duty to kill all dogs we find whose owners fail to comply with the law."

THE NEW POLICE CHIEF also warns home owners who sweep up leaves and burn them on the sidewalk pavement or street pavement. "There is an ordinance which prohibits this custom," he said. "HE ALSO urges business houses and home owners to take proper precaution in the disposal of their garbage. Garbage collectors may pick it up fast and without having to gather up scattered garbage and rags."

CHIEF LOTT after a survey of the traffic conditions in Statesboro stated yesterday afternoon that he found them "deplorable."

He states that car drivers are violating nearly every traffic ordinance on the books. He is trying to keep the traffic of Statesboro flowing freely. He is calling attention to the following violations: Parking cars on the wrong side of the street, parking in alleys and lanes, double parking, parking on yellow curbs, making "U" turns, parking within 10 feet of fireplugs, and others.

He states that tickets will be issued to all car owners who continue to violate these traffic ordinances. "Obeying traffic regulations is for your own safety," he said, "as well as for the safety of others. We can't continue to tolerate these violations."

Letters To The Editor
Nov. 8, 1948
The Bulloch Herald: In your November issue Dottie Hargrove says, concerning the watermelon in the Stillson exhibit: "Some resourcement person must have saved it in a freezer specially for the fair."

I am sure Mr. J. M. Pope, of the Stillson community, feels as all of us do, very much insulted at this statement of Dottie's. Mr. Pope gathered a truckload of melons out of his field on Saturday, October 23rd, and sold them Monday, October 25th. The two in our exhibit came from his field. I may say that all of the other fruits and vegetables in the Stillson booth were also authentic. For example, the grapes—I helped pick myself on Sunday evening before they were placed on exhibit Monday. (Yes, of course, I got my fill before I thought of the fair.)

By special planning and plantings, we hope to have an even better collection next year.

Sincerely,
GEORGE A. CHANCE, JR.

We can grow them better and quicker.

First, second and third prizes in the Colored schools exhibits went to Pope's academy, Willow Hill and New Sandridge, respectively.

A HOLE IN THE GROUND

Rev. T. Earl Serson

"HE'S GOING TO BE MISSED."
"It's going to be hard to get someone to take his place."

"He did a great good for this community."
Rev. T. Earl Serson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Statesboro, is dead.

Following the first shock felt upon receiving the news of his drowning in a lake while on a hunting trip in Canada, citizens began recalling the fine things had done for his church, his people, and his community.

He is going to be missed.
A big man, physically, he never had use for a hat. He covered a lot of territory, seeking out the sick, the hurt, the desperate—giving them comfort in the name of his Lord.

Despite the fact that he came to the South a Northerner, he was quick to allow himself to become a part of the community, and one soon forgot that he came from another section of the country.
Thought to be gruff, and a bit "short" with people and ideas, it was only that he thought what he was doing and saying to be the right and best thing for his "folk" and the community.

With T. Earl Serson there was never any compromise. If it were right, then there was no half-way.

His aggressive personality and spirit lifted his church to the highest level in its history. His interest in the young people of the community found its expression in his last Rally Day drive, when a large sum of money was set aside with which to build recreation facilities for the youth of Statesboro.

His thoughtfulness and compassion carried him into homes wherever there was suffering and pain.

His knowledge of the Word of God was manifested in his consistently excellent sermons, which attracted his church membership Sunday after Sunday.

A Canadian by birth, Rev. Serson found his place in the ministry the hard way. His congregations have heard the story many times. He gained his first ministerial experiences in the slums of Detroit, Michigan, serving in a mission for the wrecked souls of that city. He progressed and grew in his experiences and became a pastor of one of the city's great Baptist churches.

The coming of World War II found him wanting to serve.

A chaplain in the Army Air Force, he was assigned to duty here at the local air base.
It was inevitable that he should find a place in the hearts of the people of the First Baptist Church of Statesboro.

With his discharge from the army he became the pastor of the church here.

No one can deny that the church's progress and growth, both in material values and in spiritual values, continued with his coming.

His influence is upon the city and community. His presence is still with us.

T. Earl Serson is dead—but he lives on in the minds and hearts of those whom he served.

And So You Go Hunting

AND SO you put your gun in the car and called up your dogs.

You were going hunting.

For November is "Hunter's Month" and you couldn't stand it around the house much longer.

And you drove out into the country until you found a likely-looking place and you turned the dogs out and they began "covering the territory."
Now, did you get permission to hunt on that property?

Recently, two men invaded a Cobb county pasture in which there were 60 head of good dairy cattle. They were going hunting, and they were there without the owner's permission.

Technically, they were guilty of trespassing. Actually, they were guilty of thoughtlessness and sheer carelessness in their intrusion upon another's property rights and in endangering valuable livestock.

The Cobb County Times, in commenting on the incident, offered this thought:

"Imagine their (the hunters') reaction if this farmer and a friend, carrying guns, came striding upon the front yard of their city home."

A lot of farmers and landowners like for their town friends to come hunting on their property—but they like to be considered. They like for you to ask their permission to hunt on their lands.

Then when he has granted you permission—it's your responsibility to be careful. Protect his property and "hunt it" like it were your own.

TODAY, Thursday, November 18, will be warmer.
FRIDAY, November 19, will be warmer. Moon highest.
SATURDAY, November 20, will bring showers.
SUNDAY, November 21, will be cooler.
MONDAY, November 22, will be fair.
TUESDAY, November 23, will be fair.
WEDNESDAY, November 24, will be warmer.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This week we continue thinking of George Goodwin on his "Worried About Our Democracy," a talk he made at the Statesboro Rotary Club recently.

THE DANGER
Let's analyze this evidence in the light of some basic axioms of government and see what it means.

"First, what is democracy? I'll grant you that it is intangible, but it is none the less real. It is a simple and beautiful thing. It is an idea and an ideal that some twelve million other Americans recently risked their lives for. It is something that some of your own sons and brothers died for."

"Democracy presumes a great deal. Its foundations are the fundamental truths that all men are equal in the sight of God; that the dignity of man is excelled only by the glory of God; and that men must be honest in their dealings with one another."

"Democracy presumes character. Its very foundation is that ballots will be honestly cast and accurately counted.
Democracy presumes vigilance. It cannot be taken for granted. Always it must be guarded. The people—the enlightened people—are its guardians. Frequently you are to fight for it, and sometimes you have to die for it."
"Gentlemen, if any one of those three presumptions is not fulfilled, democracy cannot long exist. In our beloved state of Georgia we are falling down on all three."
"Two years ago I sat in the Fulton county court house and heard a negro answer the question of What is Democracy?"
"His answer was not original; but as I think about it, I am coming to the conclusion that his words contained the explanation of what is wrong with our elections in the South, and why we are in danger."
"The negro, who was being challenged on his right to vote, said simply that democracy is government of the people, by the people, for the people."
"Think about that definition. Lincoln made it first at Gettysburg. There is one word that is repeated three times in the ten-word sentence. That word is people. What Lincoln and the challenged negro were saying was that the people are the principal ingredient of democracy. If my premise is correct that there is something wrong with democratic procedures in the South, if my fear for the future of democracy is justified; the trouble must lie with the people."
"I submit that in our South the people either have never known what democracy is all about; they have forgotten what they once knew; or they just don't give a damn. Frankly, I doubt that with the majority of our people that last possibility is true. I think you will agree with me, however, that it is true among our political bosses and among the corrupt or careless ones who hold many of our elections."
"As for the people now knowing or having forgotten the ideals of democracy, I think that it is quite likely. They know about patriotism, of course, but democracy is a different and far more important thing."
"Review for a minute your own personal contributions to the mass knowledge of democracy. Did you ever hear a program dedicated to the sole purpose of reminding each other that you hold this

MISS BETTY RUSHING BECOMES BRIDE OF JOHN F. WILLIAMS

While Jack Averitt played "To a Wild Rose," Miss Betty Jean Rushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Kelly Rushing, of Register, and John Foster Williams, Jr., of Metter, spoke their marriage vows in a brilliant double-ring ceremony performed Sunday afternoon at the Ephesus Primitive Baptist Church.

As a background for the nuptial rites palms and plumed fern were beautifully silhouetted on white. Burning white tapers in multi-branched candelabra shed soft light on the altar design, a widespread fan formed of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums and marked at each side with lovely bouquets of white gladioli. "Trailing sandals adorned grace to the windows and bordered the pews. The vows were read by Elder V. F. Agan, of Statesboro.

Prior to the ceremony, Mr. Averitt played a program of nuptial music which included traditional wedding music. Mrs. Cohen Anderson sang "Because" and "I Love Thee."

Miss Dorothy Rushing was her sister's maid of honor. She wore aqua tulle dress with ballet length skirt with bustle in the back. The low neck waist buttoned down the back and the sleeves were three quarter length. Her crownless hat was fashioned from material similar to her dress. She carried a nosegay of orchid chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids dressed in costumes identical to the maid of honor's were Miss Julie Rushing, a cousin of the bride, whose dress was tulle and her nosegay was of yellow chrysanthemums, and Mrs. Frank Altman whose dress was hyacinth blue and her flowers were bronze chrysanthemums.

The radiant bride entering with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, was lovely in her wedding dress of changeable elephant gray faille made ballet length. She wore a pink feather hat with matching pink gloves and carried a white sat in prayer book topped with a purple orchid. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Frank Altman was Mr. Williams' best man. The ushers were Jack Rushing, brother of the bride, James Donaldson, a cousin, Brooks Bird and Dan Lanier, of Metter.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rushing wore a becoming gown of royal blue crepe with the yoke embroidered in cut steel beads. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

Mrs. Williams, mother of the groom, was handsomely gowned in ice blue crepe. Her flowers were red carnations.

Following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained the bridal party at an elaborate reception at their home.

Mrs. Hobson Donaldson met the guests as they arrived. Mrs. Buster Warren introduced them to the receiving line composed of the bride's party. Mrs. Hughlin Brown conducted guests to the dining room where Mrs. E. B. Rushing and Mrs. J. W. Clendenning, of Jacksonville, presided. Mrs. Bernard Scott kept the bride's book. Mrs. W. L. Rushing led the way to the gift room where they were met by Mrs. Jim Rushing. Those serving were Misses Anne Nevils, Merle Godbee, Jan Brown, Mary Rushing, Ardella Rushing and Norma Rushing. They were assisted by Mrs. Floyd Neville, Mrs. M. J. Bowen and Mrs. Delmas Rushing.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Williams will reside in Atlanta.

Ogeechee River Baptist Ass'n Honors Serson

The Executive Committee of the Ogeechee River Baptist Association met at the First Baptist Church last evening, November 8, 1948.

Shortly after the session opened, a message came announcing the death of Pastor Earl Serson and Fred Beasley Jr., by drowning in a lake in western Ontario.

The whole city and community were greatly shocked and grieved. Everyone became keenly conscious that the city and county had lost their first citizen.

The First Baptist Church had lost a courageous leader and good pastor, and the family a devoted husband and father.

Rev. Serson had been pastor of the Baptist Church for nearly four years. During these years he has steadily led his people forward in spiritual attainment and to the achieving of worthy goals.

His radio program, under the theme of "Morning Meditations" brought comfort and hope to the sick and aged, and challenge to the young and strong to accept Christ as Savior and Lord.

He will be greatly missed and his place of courageous leadership will not soon be filled.

Therefore, be it resolved that we tender our deepest Christian sympathy to Mrs. Serson and daughter, Sally; to his aged mother; to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beasley; and to the members of the First Baptist Church.

We pray that the Father of Mercies, and the God of all Comfort shall comfort, and keep you in this hour of your great loss and sorrow.

B. L. HARRISON, C. K. EVERETT, W. H. EVANS, Acting for the Executive Committee.

Students Honor Rev. T.E. Serson

A large body of TC students attended memorial services at the college and at the Statesboro Baptist Church Tuesday in honor of Rev. T. Earl Serson, who lost his life in Canada last week.

Preceding the 11 o'clock service at the church, some forty students met in room 21 of the Administration Building, where Norma Cowart, representing the Baptist Student Union, led a prayer service.

At the church Professor Jack Avoct was organist and Betty McLemore, TC student, sang to the hushed and reverent assembly. Rev. T. L. Harnsberger, pastor of the Presbyterian Church; Rev. Charles Jackson, pastor of the Methodist Church; and Rev. John Burch, former assistant pastor of the Statesboro Baptist Church, paid tribute to Rev. Serson.

Forestry Notes

By J. W. ROBERTS Bulloch County Protective Unit

The Georgia Department of Forestry will sponsor a forestry camp next summer. Plans are being worked out with the vocational teachers in Bulloch county for the participation of F.F.A. boys.

The contest, however, will not be restricted to F.F.A. boys exclusively. Any boy in the county in high school is eligible to enter. The winners will be sent to forestry camp for one week, expenses paid. The camp will probably be held at the Laura S. Walker State Park, near Waycross.

Bulloch county will be eligible to send at least two boys. Boys participating in the contest will receive some real forestry training and there will be no competition for scholarships to be awarded. Tentative plans are for each participant to plant a small plot of seedlings. Also a small plot will be thinned or pruned, depending on the condition of the stand. Fire will be kept out of the entire contest area. The boys will then write a short essay on good forestry practices that should be carried out by every Bulloch county landowner.

PONTIAC
Above everything else.. a good car!
Pontiac has one manufacturing principle which takes precedence over all others. Pontiac must always be a good car! There is no other motor car quality which people value so much as good cars. That's why Pontiac engineers and production specialists spend so much time and energy and money to insure Pontiac quality. Pontiac cars must last long—and they must last well—and they must function through the years with a minimum of upkeep cost. Owners have been quick to appreciate this. Some of the testimonials they send to the factory, and to Pontiac dealers, tell of performance feats that seem almost impossible of attainment. Pontiac has many other outstanding virtues, of course. It is a wonderful performer. It is delightfully comfortable and easy to handle. It is a great beauty, and unusually distinctive in appearance. But its greatest virtue is goodness. This year, or any year, you just can't beat it for faithful performance.

S. H. S. to Have School Boy Patrol

Traffic around the Statesboro schools will soon be controlled by a School Boy Patrol, according to a joint statement made this week by Superintendent S. H. Sherman and Chief of Police "Bill" Lott.

The School Boy Patrol is being sponsored by the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Statesboro Public School and the Statesboro Police Department. Badges and belt are being furnished by W. F. Shipman of the East Georgia Motor Club of Augusta.

According to the sponsors the School Boy Patrol will be inaugurated as part of a safety program to protect the school children against the traffic hazards on the streets approaching the schools, and to promote safety on the school grounds and in the school buildings.

The patrol will consist of three officers, a captain, two first lieutenants and 12 patrolmen. Two patrolmen will be stationed at South Main and West Grady, two at West Grady and South College, one at West Grady and Institute, and one at West Inman and South College street. They will go on duty at 8 a. m. and serve until about 8:45. Then they will go on duty again in the afternoon at 2:40 and remain until 3:15.

The patrolmen will be selected from the fifth, sixth and seventh grades of the grammar school and the eighth and ninth grades of high school.

Superintendent Sherman stated that the problem of safety is an increasing one on the streets near the school buildings.

The boys for the patrol will be selected next week.

Woman's Club Hears Sanford Hall Chorus Of Teachers College

The Sanford Hall Chorus, under the direction of Jack Averitt, made its first public appearance at the Statesboro Woman's Club last Thursday. The group sang three numbers, "Prayer," "Finlandia," a Latin hymn, by Sibelius, and the Thanksgiving hymn, "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come." The chorus has been organized but a short time, but sang with fine tonal quality and interpretation.

Mr. Averitt was guest speaker for the afternoon and made a talk on the history and traditions of Thanksgiving, dating the custom back to Biblical times. He brought out facts of the Jamestown founding not generally known, pointing out the fact that the Mayflower had to be the home of the colonists for many months until homes could be built, and that part of the food on which they subsisted during this time was found in abandoned Indian dwellings. In mentioning the may hardships of these first settlers who still could celebrate Thanksgiving, he reminded those present that in times of hardship we could all be thankful for faith, courage, and the power to love our fellowman, and to refreshments consisting of coffee and assorted sandwiches were served.

Dr. Curtis Lane, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee which entered Statesboro in the Georgia Power Company "Champion Home Town" contest, prepared an elaborate and complete report on which the judging was based. The judges were in Statesboro last week and made a personal inspection last week.

Statesboro will compete with the "Champion Home Towns" from five other divisions of the Power Company for the title "Champion Home Town of Georgia" and a $1,000 cash first prize.

Thanksgiving

Let us, now, as good citizens, as good believers in God, gratefully keep Thanksgiving Day. Let us crowd to his sanctuaries, and praise God, from whom all blessings flow. Let households and friends gather about their firesides and well-spread boards, and let charities to the poor brighten and commemorate the day, that it may be to us all long a pleasant memory.

9-Year-Old Child Hit By Auto In School Zone

Bulloch County Bank Makes "Movie" of All Checks It Handles

The Bulloch County Bank has gone in for movies. But not the kind where pretty maidens are the stars. Your checks and your neighbors checks are the "stars" of the bank's new "movies".

The bank has recently installed a "Recurdak", a camera which makes a photograph of every check that passes through it's system. Each 200 foot roll of film records 13,000 checks. When developed the film is filed and if a question is ever raised regarding any check the film is run through a movie camera until the check in question comes on the tiny screen and there it is. A reproduction of the actual check.

The Supreme Court upholds the use of the method of recording checks, says Wallace Cobb, executive vice president of the bank. "It's a safety device to protect our customers," he says.

Rev. Harnsberger Talks to Rotarians On China Problem

Rev. T. L. Harnsberger, pastor of the Statesboro First Presbyterian Church, told Rotarians at their meeting Monday of this week that "As China Goes, so goes the World."

With 30 years of his life spent in China and the Far East, Rev. Harnsberger spoke with authority on the present day crisis that is present in China today. He explained the difficulties the Nationalist government is having in trying to stem the moving threat of the Communist armies.

Talking from a map which illustrated the greatness of the area of Soviet Republics he stated that the Russians are as "Smart as a whip and their influence is a lot greater in China than you and I ever dream of."

He told of the inefficiencies, the graft, and corruption that has infested the Nationalist army. "China is as weak as a little child," he said and "If Stalin gets in there, God help the world."

Members of all churches are expected to participate and a cordial invitation is extended to all citizens.

BLUE DEVIL BAND PARADE THIS AFTERNOON AT 2 P. M.

Mayor Gilbert Cone is the only candidate for the mayor's place. The election will be held in the courthouse on Saturday, December 4.

In the councilmen's race, the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be elected.

Saturday morning of this week the East Side Woman's Club will lay the foundation for their community center.

The men and ladies of this community will meet early Saturday morning to select a site and the foundation will be placed immediately afterward. The East Side Woman's Club is purchasing needed materials for the work and plans are being made to furnish the building.

Soil Conservation Reports Wanted

Bulloch County farmers who are participating in the 1948 Agricultural Conservation Program and have completed their conservation work are urged to report their projects to the county Agricultural Conservation Program office. "Sales slips, seed tags or other required evidence should be presented," says Doris Cason of the AAA office.

Practices which still can be carried out or completed in Bulloch include: Applying lime on farm lands or pastures, applying superphosphate to winter legumes or pastures, constructing terraces with proper outlets, constructing drainage ditches on farm lands, constructing firebreaks on woodland and clearing land for establishment of permanent pastures.

The local offices urged farmers who have unfinished practices to use the remaining time to complete their conservation work before projects are completed. Every bit of conservation work completed will mean that much more soil saved, or water conserved.

Cooperation of the Bulloch county farmers in this will speed up the work of the government's share in the cost of the approved conservation practices," says Mr. Cason.
