Rural Bulloch Getting More Telephone Lines

NEVILS
There will be some 63 telephones in the Nevils and Denmark communities by September, according to a report made at the Nevils Farm Bureau meeting on Wednesday night. Raymond Summerlin, owner of the Brooklet Telephone Company, told some of the Nevils members that all was now ready to proceed to install phones.

Following the ham supper at Robert Cox.

A detailed discussion of the tobacco referendum was held following by reports on the August 14 and Waynesboro Farm Bureau meeting. Nevils had delegates at both meetings. President Rufus Brannen and V. J. Rowe attended the August meeting and then they also went to Waynesboro along with Raymond G. Hodges, Ray Trapnell, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox.

Guard Air Show Draws 100 Planes
More than one hundred airplanes are expected to join the Statesboro airport today, August 14, as the National Guard-sponsored air show gets underway. Final plans for the show are being made this week. Guard officials say they are attempting to secure the services of a noted parachute jumper, who leaves a plane at 7,000 feet and falls more than a mile before he opens his chute.

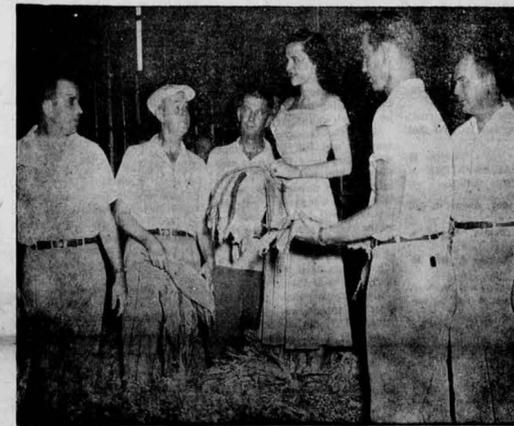

Another big feature planned is the bringing of a biplane to Statesboro. The biplane will take a man from a downtown street or building roof and deposit him at the airport without ever touching the ground.

Final arrangements have been made for the fleet of jet planes to be used for the show. The jets will be on the ground during part of the show and the public will have a chance to see them at close range. Seven P-51 Mustang bombers are expected from the Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

Major Henry, who is well known in aviation circles in this part of the country, will bring his stunting troupe to Statesboro with him for the show and they will perform many stunts in the air, such as walking on the wing of a plane.

Those who do not have transportation to the show or who do not wish to drive, need not worry. Guard officials say they will have transportation for all who would like to go. The vehicles will leave the courthouse starting at 11. They will bring passengers back to town after the show is completed.

There will be refreshments at the field and the show is expected to last some three hours. Tickets are now on sale at stores over Statesboro. Proceeds will go towards building a lighted drill field for the school.

Peanut Growers Meet Monday at Courthouse

Peanut growers and handlers will meet at the courthouse in Statesboro Monday, August 8, at 3 p.m. to discuss the proposed peanut marketing agreement.

Representatives from the Production Marketing Administration, Extension Service, and Georgia Farm Bureau will attend the meeting and bring those interested in peanuts up-to-date on the latest information regarding the referendum which will be held in the near future.

Every peanut grower in Bulloch county interested in helping to set up a marketing agreement, that will help prevent adverse prices, is urged to attend.

Lockwood Tells Rotarians About City's Recreation Program; Says Community Is at Crossroads and Must Make a Decision

Max Lockwood, superintendent of recreation for the city, addressed members of the Rotary Club at their regular Monday meeting. Mr. Lockwood told the group that the recreation program was now at a crossroads and he said it could go either to the left, to the right, or continue straight ahead.

In his talk to the club, Mr. Lockwood reviewed the history of the recreation organization. He said that during the first season it operated with less than $25 in cash. During the present year various civic clubs have underwritten the cost of operation and have contributed some $1,000 of standstill position and not move any further.

If the recreational undertaking moves straight ahead, Mr. Lockwood said, the department will move forward with progress as its goal.

The 1948 average monthly attendance for supervised recreation was 2,400 persons. This year the average monthly attendance has jumped to 6,000, including boys, girls, men and women.

The superintendent pointed out that some 22 students at Georgia Teachers College, who were studying community recreation, had done part-time work with his organization. These young men and women taught swimming, arts, and crafts to the young people at no cost to the program.

At the present time, he said, 300 persons are taking swimming lessons. Of this number, 100 are ladies from 25 to 65 years of age. All of them are now able to swim, whereas 85 per cent could not swim before taking the instruction. These ladies have contributed $130, unsolicited, for the recreation program. The money will be used to develop the East Side community recreation project.

Mr. Lockwood expressed thanks to Rotary members for their share of the $500 playground equipment

First Week's Sales Show Prices Down, Money Up

While tobacco prices, in general, have been off from last year's opening week, tabulations yesterday showed that growers have received more money in the first six days of the 1949 season than they did in the same length of time in 1948. The reason: greater sales.

Sisters Off For Beauty Pageant

Two sisters left yesterday to see if they can bring back an honor to Statesboro for the second year. Elaine and Gertrude left for Columbus where Elaine will represent Statesboro and Bulloch county in the "Miss Georgia" contest. Given won the contest last year.

Both young ladies are going as guests of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

To given will go the honor of crowning this year's winner. What if this year's winner is her sister? Well, the lovely "Miss Georgia of 1948" says, "That would be too good."

Planning Started For Horse Show

Plans are rapidly shaping up for the Lions Club Third Annual Horse Show. A firm date has not yet been set for the show, but it is tentatively planned for early September.

Local Jaycee Body Considers Projects

The Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce this week has been asked to back several projects in the interest of the community. The board of directors will meet early next week to consider the undertakings.

The USO has asked the Jaycees to undertake the job of raising some $1,000 for USO activities in the coming year. Miss Greta Rouse, a USO field representative from Jesup, spoke to the club yesterday and asked that they consider the matter.

Alfred Dorman presented a plan for erecting several roadside highway lunch and picnic tables. He said the Rotary club would like to join the Jaycees, the Lions club and the Chamber of Commerce in erecting such picnic areas on every side of the city on all the major highways.

A third promotion plan has been presented to the club. The plan is for publicizing and promoting U. S. Highway 25, which passes through Statesboro. The club has been asked to join with other interested parties from neighboring towns and hold a conference on the matter. Through concerted activity it is expected that tourist travel on Highway 25 may be substantially increased.

Support Prices Set For Peanuts

Government support prices for peanuts were announced this week in Washington, according to S. D. Groover of the East Georgia Peanut Company. Mr. Groover said support prices will be about the same as in 1948 for Spanish. Parity was announced above 17 cents per pound and peanuts will be supported at 90 per cent of this figure.

Farmers' stock prices for this year for Spanish type, grading 70 per cent, meat, will be $209 per ton with $3 per point above 70 per cent and the same thing for each point below 70 per cent.

Virginia type will be $199 per ton for 65 per cent peanuts with $2.10 up or down from this for each point variation.

Runners will be $187 per ton for 65 per cent peanuts with $2.80 up or down for each point varied from one grade.

All peanuts will be federally inspected this year with only 7 per cent moisture allowed. Moisture penalty will start at 7 1/2 per cent and a premium will be paid on peanuts running less than 6 1/2 per cent in moisture. No peanuts will be accepted under the support program if they run above 9 1/2 per cent in moisture content. This means peanuts must be dry this year.

These prices, said Mr. Groover, are not the prices necessarily that peanuts will sell for, but rather are the support prices the government will offer if higher prices are not offered on the commercial market.

A tabulation of figures, up to and including Tuesday's sales on the Statesboro market show growers have sold 4,283,487 pounds of golden leaf, at an average price of $42.95 bringing $1,840,683.85.

Business seems to have picked up as a result of this large amount of money being released in Statesboro, but many merchants are quick to point out that growers are using the money to pay up back debts, rather than buy goods now.

A large amount of out-of-state tobacco has been sold on the local market. Almost every day there have been long lines of trucks waiting to unload, many of these bearing out-of-state tags. Market officials say they are predicting a short, but full, selling season pointing out that almost all of the tobacco is ready to sell at the present time. Warehousemen have been full for every sale since the market opened last Tuesday.

Following are official sale figures for the Statesboro market:

Day	lbs. sold	amt. paid	av. price
Tues.	678,406	$296,641.85	$43.73
Wed.	735,063	317,310.26	43.17

Taylor Speaks to B & P Leaders

Dr. Charles Taylor, an economist with the Federal Reserve Bank, Atlanta, addressed members of the board of directors of the Georgia Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, at Shorter College, Saturday, July 23. His talk was the concluding feature of a two-day board meeting in which legislative objectives and aims of the organization were mapped. Points in the legislative program, which was unanimously adopted, included a provision to strengthen and help raise health and safety standards; the reorganizing of all club members in compliance with the recent Georgia legislative act; to support the United Nations; a review of national legislation; and to encourage women to run for and be elected to public offices.

Miss Zula Gammage, who is an officer and a member of the board of directors of the Georgia Federation, attended the meeting in Rome. She also represented the Statesboro Business and Professional Women's Club as public affairs chairman.

Ten FFA Members At Jackson Lake

Ten Bulloch F.F.A. members, representing the six chapters of the county, are attending the State F.F.A. convention at Jackson Lake, near Covington, this week. The purpose of the convention is to train F.F.A. leaders and officers and to provide a vacation-recreation period for the boys.

During the morning the boys will be trained in leadership practices and in building better F.F.A. chapters in their home counties. In the afternoons they will take part in many forms of recreation including swimming, tennis, basketball, badminton, and hiking.

Gordon Hendrix, agriculture instructor at Nevils, accompanied the group to Jackson Lake. They will return tomorrow (Friday).

Local GEA Officers Attend Workshop

Miss Ethel McCormick and Miss Cleo Edfield, president and public relations chairman respectively of the Local GEA Unit will attend the three-day workshop to be held at Jekyll Island August 14-17. Those attending will include some 400 classroom teachers, principals, superintendents, members of the state department of Education and University System.

The workshop will be presided over by GEA President Dr. O. C. Aderhold, and J. Harold Saxton, GEA executive secretary, will serve as director of the workshop, assisted by the GEA central office staff.

Major emphasis will be placed on Public Relations.

How to keep cool — and carefree

This time of year there's one place a lot cozier and cooler than your favorite spot around the house.

That's in your Buick—finding a breeze along dusk-cooled highways, or following those little roads that lead to inviting "loafing grounds."

Either way, whichever pleasure trail you follow, you'll find more fun on the way if your Buick is in top-flight shape to take the miles in its steady stride.

HOW HIGH IS A TUNE-UP?
Our Buick tune-ups go far beyond adjusting your spark and carburetor. We cover a long list of things—your valve tappets, voltage regulator, fuel pump filter, coil, hose connections, and so on. We even tighten the cylinder head and clean off your battery terminals—and do all this at a low, low rate price that will surprise you!

Get one of our conscientious motor tune-ups, and one of our thorough Lubricare treatments. We'll put the bounce back in your motor—while we're taking the bounce out of your ride.

We do this well because we're Buick men. We know your Buick, we've studied correct factory methods for each operation, we know the factory specifications your car was built to. We use genuine Buick parts—even special Buick tools!

Yet you don't pay a penny more for all these extras. Stop in this week, won't you?

An Orchid This Week

IF THIS NEWSPAPER were handing out orchids each week to the citizen who did the most good for the community, our orchid this week would go to Sidney Dodd, one of Bulloch county's representatives in the state legislature.

Our representatives in the state legislature, voting "No" on the patchwork bills to raise taxes which were passed at the recently completed "emergency" session of the legislature. We put the word "emergency" in quotes because this session was no more of an "emergency" last week than it was six months ago. Coming as it did, the session took on the aspects of a hopped-up political picnic.

If one can delve behind the mass of propaganda that has been passed out concerning the "emergency" he might find something like this as the basis for all the activity:

For many months now it has been apparent that the state would eventually face a bad financial situation. We elected a governor who promised he would "fire 2,500 useless employees." Yet, today, the state payroll is higher than when he took office.

We elected a governor who promised "there would be no new taxes without the vote of the people." Can you remember back when everyone went to the polls to vote on whether they wanted new services and, likewise, new taxes? The people of the state voted a strong "No" to that question.

Yet, taxes have been raised. Auto owners, cigarette smokers, corporations, liquor-drinkers, and others noticed it on Monday. New taxes are no longer just words—they are an accomplished fact.

We cannot deny that we need better roads in Georgia. We cannot deny that we need better hospital care for our mental patients. We cannot deny that we want the aged and infirm people of the state well-cared-for.

We will not deny that the state needs a better tax system. Perhaps we need more taxes, even though the present administration is spending more than almost any previous one in our history. Whether we are getting more for our money is a debatable question at this point in the game.

We feel, along with Mr. Dodd, that what Georgia needs is not a "political timetable" tax session, designed to tide the administration over until after the election, but rather, a true, long-range tax program, designed to anticipate and fulfill the future needs of this, the "Empire State of the South." Judge Renfro, of the Ogeechee circuit, called the situation correctly when he said in his charge to the grand jury, that it appeared like a man who had patched a tire until it was almost completely patched up and then looked around for another place or two he could patch up and save the day.

We feel that the Tax Revision Committee, a group especially appointed to study the situation, could, if given the opportunity, present well-founded plan for completely revising this 19th century tax program, with which we are trying to operate a 20th century government.

If the state legislature would consider the future—and we don't mean the Fall of 1950—we feel sure they could adopt such a re-worked plan for the good of the state.

We are going to need more money for Georgia in the future. The lush spending and earning of the inflated war years has made us demand more. A socialized trend has made us demand more of the government—national and state. A look ahead will show us that what we need is a new tire—such as Mr. Dodd visualized—and not just another patch that may come off the next time the administration gets a new driver.

We commend Mr. Dodd for his stand. Not because he is on our side, but because he had the courage to look ahead and, greater still, the courage to vote his convictions.

An orchid to you, Mr. Legislator.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

BY FAR the most interesting invention of the week is a small machine that will fit into an average suitcase. It isn't on the market yet, of course, having just been invented. Its name is simple enough. It's known as a "Logic" machine.

Now, this logic machine was invented by a professor of logic at Roosevelt College in Chicago, and he has been letting his students test it out.

This little device—which sooner or later, we might expect, will be available in a vest pocket edition—has only one function. It examines statements made in arguments and detects whether they are logical or not. It determines whether they will, in effect, "hold water."

We think maybe a lot of our law friends will find this device helpful when preparing arguments for the jury. They can simply test them out on this machine and see if their arguments make sense. It must be a wonderful device.

Take, for instance, an erring husband who comes in late. As he approaches the front door he can whip out his little "logic-meter" (to coin a word) and figure out, beyond a shadow of a doubt, if his alibi will stand up.

Ah! Science, how wonderful is thy name.

Not so long ago, Mason discovered that a deputy sheriff owned a house of ill repute on the outskirts of town. Checking into the situation, he got the facts and presented them during a broadcast, advising the deputy to give up one job or the other.

Well, the outcome was that someone met Bill Mason as he was driving down the street and silenced him forever with a .38 caliber slug through the heart. Whether he was guilty or not, the deputy sheriff locked himself up in the county jail. It seems that the citizens of the town got rather irate and thought of avenging Bill Mason's death by their own means. It took "Texas Rangers"—the uniformed state police—to quiet the town down.

Now the mills of justice will begin their grind to take the details and find the proper measure of punishment for the state.

This situation just goes to show that some men still have what the founders of the nation had—a courage to believe in what they say and then, better still, say what they believe.

Of course, Bill Mason and his friends are dead. But his voice shall echo and be heard over the Texas ranges for years to come.

There is a lesson for all in this passing. It is this: Scheming and petty politicians, corrupt and inefficient public officials, whatever their station, and "king size" citizens who live outside the law are never safe. Years may pass and the decades move, but time will surely find them out. And, some day—whether in this world or the next—they shall meet their just deserts.

ALL'S FAIR

It may not be "on the spot", But I'm giving you the news while it's hot.

YES, INDEED, it's hot, and with a wave of my palm I'll send it sizzling your way. The Marvin Pittman are not saying. They are on the shores of Tomahawk Lake in Wisconsin with their children and grandchildren.

Mrs. W. L. Jones, hostess to dozens of children throughout the fall and spring, is getting a much-deserved rest—visiting W. L. Jr., his wife and baby, Marinda, at Syracuse, N. Y. Her plans include a visit to Niagara Falls and a bit of prowling in Canada.

The hot weather evidently cuts no ice with Mrs. M. M. Holland, age 83. Bright and early, on the hottest day last week, Mrs. Holland and Pearl Brady left for Oglethorpe, Ga., 163 miles from Statesboro, where Mrs. Holland is staying.

LEARN TO GET ALONG WITH OTHER PEOPLE

The house next door is no longer vacant. Marcia and Billie Pedrick moved in a short time ago with their three-year-old son, Grady. They had the grounds plowed up, planted peas all over the yard and plan to play them under later in the summer before they sow grass seed. Billie has repainted the shutters and awnings and the house is very much lived-in.

Marcia and Billie are Waycross originals and both the Pedricks and McNeelys live here. Marcia attended GTC in '39 and has fond memories of the campus dances, "Aunt Sophie," "Mr. Bob," Elizabeth Edenfield and the gone (but not forgotten) "sororities," frats and football games.

The Pedricks are good neighbors and Grady is a real boy. It's fun to live next door to good folks and it's wonderful for Beth to have someone like Grady to play with.

Our two-and-a-half-year old hasn't been around too many children and doesn't get this sharing of toys too well. Marcia has told Grady that since he was here a whole year before Beth came, he should help her along. (Grady staggered Marcia by asking if Beth was in the same sky he was in before she came and added that he didn't remember seeing her.)

I've told Beth she must let Grady ride HIS red fire wagon. I say patiently, "No, Grady, I say patiently, "My turn!" "Well, what am I gonna do?"

Daytime hasn't fully established itself before Beth wants to play with "Grady" and it's work to get the last of the egg down her throat if she hears him pushing his tricycle or fussing at Smoky, his five-month-old black dog. She's down from the high chair and out the back door in one movement. Grady shared his fireman's hat with her. They remind me of busy pigmies rushing busily around the back yard. They really work at playing.

Things move pretty smoothly for about half an hour and then a small, distressed voice at the back door calls, "Beth's mamma! Beth's mamma! She won't let me have my ladder!" When I get outside, there stands Grady, bewildered by an unwavering female who stands there clutching the ladder off his little truck. It seems the fate of stalwart mankind to live perplexed and mystified by physically smaller and weaker women.

The three of us get our heads together and discuss things like intelligent humans. Grady gets the ladder and Beth is pacified with his wheelbarrow and her shovel, so I return to my business for another half hour.

About mid-morning, all activities must cease and we have a "tea party" with Coca-Cola, lemonade or lemonade. When Beth's glass is empty, she holds it out and repeats "I wanna tea party" until it is refilled.

It's wonderful to have a good neighbor and Beth is learning discipline the hard way. When I put my tired little girl to bed each night, it's comforting to recall the events of the day and realize that she is learning to get along with people.

County News—Brooklet

(MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON)

DAVES—STEED

The First Baptist Church in Brooklet was the setting for the wedding of Miss Lavana Daves, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Daves, and Charles Steed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Steed, of Fitzgerald, Friday afternoon, July 28, at 5:30 o'clock. Rev. H. B. Loftin, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. South-ern long-leaf pines and smilax together with magnolia foliage and sword ferns formed a background for tall vases of white dahlias and white gladioli. Two seven-branched candelabra with burning tapers completed the setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was lovely in her wedding gown of white mar-quette over slipper satin. The fitted bodice had a yoke effect of wide lace and self-covered buttons to match the ones on her pointed leg-omutton sleeves. The full skirt fell in folds from a yoke around which was wide lace trim that extended onto the train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a matching lace tiara. She carried a white prayer book on which was an orchid.

Miss Joyce Denmark was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a blue organdy dress and carried an arm bouquet of dahlias and stephanotis.

Louren Hargrove, of Fitzgerald, was best man, and ushers were Robert Alderman and John Theus McCormick. Mrs. W. D. Lee rendered a musical program and Mrs. Joe Ingram sang.

Mrs. T. E. Daves, mother of the bride, wore a floor-length dress of sheer blue silk crepe with lace trimmings. Mrs. Steed, mother of the groom, was gowned in sapphire blue crepe trimmed with tiny rhinestones. They both wore orchids.

Immediately after the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Daves entertained with a reception on the lawn of their home. Mrs. J. D. Alderman introduced the guests to the receiving line, and Mrs. J. M. Williams, assisted by Misses Barbara Jones, Betty Upchurch, Joan Demark and Ann Akins, served refreshments. Mr. T. R. Bryan and Mrs. F. W. Hughes were hostesses on the lawn. Mrs. J. D. Alderman and Mrs. J. A. Wynn were in charge of the gift room. Miss Edna Earl Steed had charge of the bride's desk.

PARTIES FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Lavana Daves, a bride-elect last Friday, was the honoree at several parties during the past week.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. T. E. Bryan entertained at her home with a bridge-hearts handkerchief shower honoring Miss Daves. She was assisted by Mrs. D. L. Alderman.

Thursday morning Mrs. Floyd Akins entertained at the Country Club in honor of Miss Daves, with bridge and hearts party. She was assisted by Mrs. Otis Waters of Statesboro.

Thursday evening before the wedding rehearsal Mrs. J. A. Wynn and Mrs. James D. Alderman entertained the bride party and a few friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wynn. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. F. W. Hughes, Mrs. D. L. Alderman, Mrs. F. W. Hughes, Mrs. C. S. Jones, Miss Barbara Jones, and Mrs. C. S. Jones.

Miss Margaret Warren of Pabask was the weekend guest of Miss Ethel McCormick.

(MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON)

DAVES—STEED

The First Baptist Church in Brooklet was the setting for the wedding of Miss Lavana Daves, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Daves, and Charles Steed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Steed, of Fitzgerald, Friday afternoon, July 28, at 5:30 o'clock. Rev. H. B. Loftin, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. South-ern long-leaf pines and smilax together with magnolia foliage and sword ferns formed a background for tall vases of white dahlias and white gladioli. Two seven-branched candelabra with burning tapers completed the setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was lovely in her wedding gown of white mar-quette over slipper satin. The fitted bodice had a yoke effect of wide lace and self-covered buttons to match the ones on her pointed leg-omutton sleeves. The full skirt fell in folds from a yoke around which was wide lace trim that extended onto the train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a matching lace tiara. She carried a white prayer book on which was an orchid.

Miss Joyce Denmark was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a blue organdy dress and carried an arm bouquet of dahlias and stephanotis.

Louren Hargrove, of Fitzgerald, was best man, and ushers were Robert Alderman and John Theus McCormick. Mrs. W. D. Lee rendered a musical program and Mrs. Joe Ingram sang.

Mrs. T. E. Daves, mother of the bride, wore a floor-length dress of sheer blue silk crepe with lace trimmings. Mrs. Steed, mother of the groom, was gowned in sapphire blue crepe trimmed with tiny rhinestones. They both wore orchids.

Immediately after the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Daves entertained with a reception on the lawn of their home. Mrs. J. D. Alderman introduced the guests to the receiving line, and Mrs. J. M. Williams, assisted by Misses Barbara Jones, Betty Upchurch, Joan Demark and Ann Akins, served refreshments. Mr. T. R. Bryan and Mrs. F. W. Hughes were hostesses on the lawn. Mrs. J. D. Alderman and Mrs. J. A. Wynn were in charge of the gift room. Miss Edna Earl Steed had charge of the bride's desk.

After the reception the young couple left for a week's wedding trip, the bride traveling in an off-white summer suit with brown and white accessories. They will make their home in Fitzgerald, where Mr. Steed is in business.

HUDSON—POWELL

In a lovely candlelight service Sunday afternoon, July 31, Miss Eunice Hudson became the bride of Herbert Lee Powell. The marriage took place, at 6 o'clock in the Register Baptist Church, with the Rev. C. K. Everett performing the ceremony.

The bride wore a bridal gown of white satin, with a veil and train of white net. She carried a white prayer book and purple orchids. The bridesmaids, were Miss Betty Ann Hudson, the bride's sister, from Atlanta, and Miss Helen Daniel, of Bellville, Ga., the bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of light blue tulle. They carried fans of rubrum lilies.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Lamar Rowland, of Port St. Joe, also a sister of the bride, contrasted effectively with the bridesmaids in her long dress of a delicate pink shade. Also in pink was Miss Hudson's niece, Judith Miller, the pretty flower girl from Whigham, Ga.

J. W. Powell, of Claxton, brother of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were Harold Powell, another brother, from Statesboro; Joseph Hudson, from Cairo, the bride's brother; Bill Holloway and John Wesley Moore, of Register; Lumney Greene, of Metter, was ring-bearer.

The church was beautifully decorated with white gladioli, white daisies, and fern. Lighted carries formed an arch behind a large sunburst arrangement of flowers, and palm were banked on the sides. Bill Holloway was in charge of decorations.

Miss Melrose Kennedy sang "At Dawning" and "Because" at the beginning of the service. Mr. Charles Cates closed the ceremony by singing "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. C. K. Everett was the accompanist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hudson, of Cairo, Ga. She is a graduate of G.S.C.W., Milledgeville, and has been Register High School's home economics teacher for the past year. The groom is the son of the late Mr. John Powell and Mrs. Powell, of Register. He is a graduate of Register High School, and is a prominent farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Olliff Jr., of Register, honored the couple with a reception at their beautiful new home following the ceremony.

After the numerous guests were served, they viewed the wedding gifts on display. Also adding decorativeness to the occasion was the ornate white wedding cake, placed in the center of a table covered with a white cloth and banked by candles.

Among those who served at the reception were Margaret Crew, of Bainbridge, Ga.; Mrs. Harold Powell, Mrs. W. B. Bowen, Miss Jan Gay, Miss Sally Olliff, Miss Nancy Riggs, and Miss Joan Anderson. Little Misses Barbara Jean Bowen, Judith Miller, and Rebecca Powell served mints and passed napkins.

After their wedding trip, the couple plan to reside with the groom's mother, Mrs. John Powell, at her home near Register.

ARNOLD—PROSSER

In Pembroke Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, July 24, at 5:30 o'clock Miss Evelyn Louise Arnold, youngest daughter of Mrs. Jennie L. Arnold, was married to Silas Marvin Prosser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russie Lee Prosser, of Statesboro. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Jones, pastor of the church. Tulle dresses and white gladioli in baskets, palms and ivy formed a background for the seven-branched candelabra holding lighted white tapers. Mrs. George Kelly played the wedding music and Mrs. Roy Lewis, of Pembroke, sang.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride wore a wedding gown of white satin and lace with scalloped bertha and a yoke of chantilly lace. The front of the full skirt was of matching lace and the skirt ended in a long train. Her lace veil was held to a crown of orange blossoms. She wore a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white tuberoses centered with a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Margaret Waxer, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Denmark of Brooklet, Miss Evelyn Sims of Pembroke and Miss Myrtice Prosser, sister of the groom. They also wore identical dresses of blue organdy over taffeta, with matching blue net mitts and picture hats. They carried bouquets of pink asters and American Beauty rosebuds tied with blue satin ribbons. Joy Ann and Joyce Cason, twins of Pembroke, were the flower girls, dressed in blue marquisette and carried baskets of pink rose petals. Little Judy Waxer, dressed as a bride, preceded her aunt, Ring bearer was little Charles Lane, in a white satin suit.

J. Mooney Prosser was his brother's best man and usher-groomsman were Robert Rowell of Savannah, Clyde Paine of Pembroke, George Eanes of Woodcliff, and Dight Olliff of Statesboro.

Mrs. Arnold, the bride's mother, wore a gown of beige crepe and lace and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Russie Lee Prosser, the groom's mother, was gowned in blue crepe with an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Pembroke.

maintenance program was conducted by the American Oil Company, which sponsors such programs all over the nation. Green Higgs, right, of Trenton county, puts on a demonstration entitled "Chemical Stimulation in Naval Stores Production." He is applying a solution of sulphuric acid after clipping a streak on the tree. The acid is used to increase gum flow. L. A. Attaway, Johnson county, is an interested spectator. 250 4-H Club Members Participate In District Achievement Meeting

Some 250 4-H clubsters flocked over southeastern Georgia entered the district 4-H club contests here recently, according to figures tabulated this week. The contests, designed to choose clubsters to represent the district of 26 counties in the state meet, met were part of the District Achievement meeting.

Johnny Dennitto, Brooklet clubster, did not place in the judges' opinion in the talent show, but did with the 250 or more in the auditorium. The applause he received caused every one to think he had won in a walk. The judges picked a trumpet player from Soperton over Johnny's accordion solo as top. Johnny's specialty is the piano but he was asked to try the accordion because of the novelty it would present.

Scene of the contests, which covered a variety of talents, was stronger this year and hopes to the Georgia Teachers College campus. Miss Melba McAllister of Montgomery county was named president of the district group. Bulloch county's 4-H club president, Hazel Creasy (see picture) set an outstanding example for other clubsters to follow. She took first place in the food preparation contest and then went on to win a place as district song leader. She will compete with other district winners on food.

Paul Akins, Middle Ground clubster, presented something new in demonstrations with his forestry-flaming flannel talk. The miniature trees were stuck on an ordinary piece of flannel cloth and as he elected to remove one, he merely lifted it off. But it was not good enough to win first place.

She is repeating on the singing achievement for the second year. Wynette Blackburn, a Middle Ground clubster, also repeated in the senior style revue. Miss Blackburn was a district winner last year also but did not win the Raymond Hagan, Brooklet clubster, who is the county president-elect, and Beverly Bannan, Nevils clubster and girls' vice-president-elect, represented the county during the district election. Bulloch county had the past district president, Murry Mobley, Register clubster, and was not eligible for election this year.

the curls. As for Alison, she was delighted. She'd been wanting to get a haircut for a long time. Her naturally curled ringlets were sort of sassy. Mary picked up the long curls and put them carefully away in a cellophane bag—and there are pictures to prove it....

KERMIT CARR, who claims roses, music and books as his hobbies, sorter got them all in on his attractive book plates. His ownership of a book is clearly settled by his name underneath a bar of music which is decorated with a full-blown red rose. On his desk I spotted a lovely bud vase, a rose pattern crystal. It proved to be an anniversary present for Billie—their twenty-third. Kermit couldn't find a rose to put in it. Billie's gift to him was a handsome pair of brass book-ends (rectangular flower pots, with cacti grown in them). Kermit had just received a note from June, who is visiting in Waycross. The contents were short and to the point: "Hi! That's all I've got to say. I MISS you June." Were the dollar marks suggestive?

$400 Scholarship For Negro 4-H Club Members Announced

A two-year, $400 college scholarship will be awarded this year to one Negro 4-H club boy or girl in the state whose 4-H and scholastic records are judged most outstanding, according to P. H. Stone, state extension service agent for Negro work. The scholarship is provided by the Southern States Iron Roofing Company of Savannah.

Winner of the award will receive $200 each year for two years of college work. He may enter any Negro branch of the University System of Georgia.

Records are to be judged by a special scholarship committee and announcement of the winner will be made in the near future.

This 2nd day of August, 1949. F. I. WILLIAMS, Ordinary, Bulloch County. (8-4-1tc)

4-H Members Participating In National Tractor Program

Georgia 4-H club boys and girls are a part of 30,000 club members in the nation who are helping save millions of gallons of tractor fuel this year through their work in the national 4-H club tractor maintenance program, according to L. R. Dunson, assistant state 4-H leader, and G. I. Johnson, extension service agricultural engineer.

Not only are the boys and girls benefitting from daily use of the recommended practices the learn in the program, but they also have an opportunity to compete for achievement awards. Mr. Dunson said. Sponsored by the American Oil Company, the program offers sterling silver medals to county winners, a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in November to the state champion and six $300 college scholarships to national winners.

There were 119 county medal winners in Georgia last year, and Herman Harnage, Berrien county, received a trip to Chicago as state winner.

National Guard Air Show To Attract Thousands Sunday

If you hear a buzzing noise Sunday, don't rush to your favorite car doctor or mental specialist. There won't be anything wrong with your ears or your brain. It's just that hundreds of aircraft will be converging on Statesboro for the huge National Guard Air Show that takes place Sunday afternoon at 3.

The latest information available this week shows that Navy, Air Force, Marine, Air National Guard, and civilian planes will fill up on take-off, land in the same manner, remain stationary in the air, land on the top of buildings and take off likewise, and do hundreds of other things impossible for a plane to do. It can travel forward at a speed in excess of 100 miles an hour.

LT. Col. Ralph Kuhn, CO of the Air National Guard jet plane squadron in Savannah, will personally land a jet fighter on the runway and park it so that it may be inspected by all. Col. Kuhn's squadron will make low level flights over the field at speeds above 600 miles per hour, but his will be the only plane to land because of the danger in landing on the 5,200-foot runways, which are shorter than normal for the high-speed jet planes. Col. Kuhn will land at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The jet squadron will make their pass at 3:30.

A large group of planes from the "Week-End Warriors," Organized Reserve Squadrons from the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit at Jacksonville, Fla., will fly over during the show, according to LTJG Frank Coghlan, public information officer for the group, who is flying here today to make arrangements. Lt. Coghlan said the two groups would include a formation of twin-engine PV-2 Venturers—VP(ML)56—and a Marine Air Reserve Fighter Squadron (VMF-144) flying F4U Corsairs. These groups will be in tactical formation, the latter group acting as fighter cover for the heavier planes. They will pass over the field at 3:15.

Two parachute jumpers will be on hand and will jump together, each one seeing it can delay opening his chute longer than the other. Mel Henry, famed stunt flyer, will perform his wing-walk, hanging upside down from a flying plane, and will transfer from plane to a car while both are moving down the field.

Guard officials have visited other airports in this section during the past few days and have learned that hundreds of civilian planes from over the state will be here for the show.

Tickets are on sale at all drug stores in town, and will be on sale at a booth near the traffic light Saturday. Transportation will be provided to the field beginning at 1 Sunday. These vehicles will leave from the courthouse.

The National Guard is sponsoring the show to raise money for a lighted drill field. They have been handicapped by having no place to drill at night.

Congressman Prince H. Preston; his secretary, J. Brantley Johnson; and Gen. George Finch, Commanding General of the Air National Guard, will fly to Statesboro Sunday morning for the show. Gen. Finch will pilot a B-26 and land at the local airport. The group will fly back to Washington Sunday night.

MONEY, MONEY EVERYWHERE—The Statesboro National Guard this week paid off in silver dollars to show the merchants of Statesboro just how much money the Guard brings into circulation each month. Shown left to right are 1st Sgt. Clarence Brack; Capt. Gene L. Hodges, C.O. of Hq. Battery; Kermit Carr, cashier of the Sea Island Bank, who made arrangements for the money to be paid in silver; Capt. Leland Riggs, C.O. of "A" Battery, and Lt. Col. Henry Ellis, C.O. of the 101st AA Gun Battalion. Some $5,000 was paid out and the silver weighed over 300 pounds. Sgt. Brack and Col. Ellis enlisted in the Guard as privates, the former having 18 years service, while Col. Ellis has 21. The Guard is sponsoring the air show Sunday afternoon to raise money for a lighted drill field. Police Chief Lott Writes Letter Of Resignation

City Police Chief William J. Lott has tendered his resignation to the Mayor and City Council. In a letter dated August 4, Chief Lott asked that the resignation become effective on November 15. Should the Council accept the resignation the Chief would have held his position 12 months and 15 days, having been sworn in on November 1 last year.

In his letter, Mr. Lott said simply that he was resigning "for reasons beyond his control." In a statement made this week he said he had tried to organize the city police force on a "city" basis, rather than a "country town" proposition, and he indicated this had met with disapproval in some quarters.

He said, "Some citizens don't realize the duties of a police officer. An officer of the law is, under his oath, supposed to uphold the law, without favor. I have tried to carry out the provisions of my oath but unfortunately this, too, has met with disapproval. Therefore, I find myself resigning."

Memorial Park Pool To Close On September 4

Letter get those bathing suits back in the water soon with you inside. That's the word this week from Max Lockwood, superintendent of recreation for the city.

Mr. Lockwood said the city recreation board, the governing body for the recreational program, had voted to officially close the pool on Sunday, September 4. This is just one day prior to the opening of the city school system.

In other recreational developments this week the board voted to investigate the possibility of getting water under way on the proposed 10,000 square foot concrete recreational area. Plans call for the area to be paved just south of the Community Center, next to the football field.

Mr. Lockwood said this would provide recreational facilities throughout the winter and be used at night.

Grand Jury Scores Sheriff And Lax Law Enforcement Here

In one of the strongest presentations to come from a local grand jury in recent years, the July term grand jury this week called for the closing of a local dine-dance establishment as a public nuisance, recommended the dismissal of a deputy sheriff, found that the sheriff's office had not been conducted in a manner in keeping with the strict enforcement of the law, asked for the separation of the sheriff's office and the county police, and called upon the sheriff for more diligent conduct in the affairs of his office.

Re-convening Monday after a recess on July 25, the grand jury deliberated on Judge J. L. Renfro's charge to "investigate thoroughly" rumors of liquor activities in Bulloch county. In their presentations, the full text of which is published on the editorial page of this paper, the grand jury:

- (1) Recommended that the "Green Frog," a dine-dance place, located just outside the city limits on the Portial highway, be closed as a public nuisance.
- (2) Recommended the dismissal of Deputy Sheriff James W. Rushing.
- (3) Found that the sheriff's office had not been conducted "in keeping with the strict enforcement of the law and with the dignity which that office deserves."
- (4) Called for the setting up and maintaining of separate offices for the county police force.
- (5) Recommended that Sheriff Steward Deal be more diligent in the conduct of affairs of his office.

It further maintains "that the said place is a notorious 'Blind Tiger' where the operator encourages idleness, loitering and drinking..." The petition sets forth that the "Green Frog" is a "public dance hall" and "that the building is used for gambling."

In other actions the grand jury appointed Raymond Hodges to succeed himself on the board of education and acknowledged the report made by the county welfare director.

The group also urged citizens to register for voting without delay.

Acting on the petition, Judge Renfro called for a hearing on Tuesday, August 23, at 10 a.m., in the courtroom, at which time he will hear arguments "why the welfare director should not be temporarily enjoined from using the premises and why the same should not be abated as a nuisance."

Horse Show Dates Are Sept. 1 and 2

Friday and Saturday nights, September 1 and 2, have been set as dates for Bulloch county's Third Annual Horse Show. The event is sponsored by the Statesboro Lions Club, with proceeds going towards purchase of eyeglasses and medical care for the eyes of the county's underprivileged children.

Top show horses from South Carolina and Florida, as well as from various parts of Georgia, will be shown both nights. As an added attraction this year, there will be a drawing each night, and a grand prize, as well as several gate prizes to be given away.

Chairmen of the various committees include Osborne Basile, finance; Sidney L. Lanier, tickets; M. O. Lawrence, lighting and sound; Cameron Bremseth, registration; Henry J. Ellis, advertising; Dr. Ed Smart Jr., awards; M. E. Alderman Sr., grounds; and John A. Gee, publicity.

Judge for this year's show will be H. O. Davis, of Montgomery, Ala.

Rotarians Hear District Governor

Count D. Gibson of St. Simons, a noted geologist, lecturer and author, and a District Governor of Rotary International, will address the local Rotary club here at their regular meeting, Monday, August 15.

On Sunday night, August 14, at 8 p.m., Mr. Gibson will address the Rotary assembly, a group composed of all committee heads. They will discuss the year's program together at the Forest Heights Country Club.

Prior to his retirement as an educator, Mr. Gibson was professor of mathematics and physics at Emory Junior College in Covington, and from 1930 to 1942 he was head of the department of geology at Georgia Institute of Technology.
