Wednesday night the Explorers Scouts of the troop staged an Indian ceremony. Members of the troop, dressed like Indians, carried torches and did a dance around the campfire.

The campfire was closed with all Scouts lighting a torch to rededicate themselves to the principles and ideals of Scouting.

Thursday the camp was closed and awards given the patrol with the cleanest campsite. They then headed home following their outing highlighting their theme, "Adventure that's Scouting."

Five-Acre Cotton Contest As compared with the 1947 contest, the state's 1948 five-acre cotton contest brought about an increase from one and one-tenth bales per acre to one and one-third bales.

Blue Devils 49 Schedule Opens at Waynesboro

With two weeks' work-outs already under their shoulder pads the Statesboro High School Blue Devils are working hard for their first game of the 199 season with Waynesboro.

Coach James Hall says that competition places on the 25-man squad is keen. "There are now 40 boys working out and by the time school begins next week there will be 65 men out scraping for a place on the squad," he said.

He announced that there will be a Blue Devil "B" Team this year with a six-game schedule. B-Team games will be played on Thursday nights. The A team will play on the regular schedule for positions on the varsity squad.

Members of the 1948 Blue Devil squad that are having to work to keep the places they held last year are: Center—Lair Price and Ferrell Parrish; Ends—C. P. Claxton and Jack Uphurch; Tackles—Dight Spence, Guards—Howard Allen, Bobby Stubbs, Jimmy Johnson, Oscar Hendrix, and Tommy Blitch; Backs—Bobby Olliff, Ash-ton Cassidy, Joe Ben Cassidy, Emory Smith, Emory Nessmith, and Jerry Marsh.

Ashley Boyd has a new five-gaited show horse, "The Colonel's Champ." Ashley won't ride. He says he's ready, but Mamma's not. Jo Johnston, Si Waters, and Eddie Hodges are some of the younger riders who are entering the five-gaited class.

And other thoroughbreds that will add beauty and glamour to the evening will be the ribbon girls. On Thursday evening Misses Jan Gay of Register, Joan Denmark, Brooklet; Jacky Zetterover, Ogechee, and the local "Miss Statesboro," Sara Betty Jones, will carry the ribbons.

Misses Ann Waters, Ann Evans, Ann Remington and Ginny Lee Floyd will be the ribbon girls Friday night. All trophy donors have selected little girls to bestow trophies to the winners.

In addition to witnessing a show packed with winners, you, too, have a chance to go home with prizes. Gate prizes are on display at the Men & Boys Store in Statesboro — and hold your breath for the grand prize, a double sink and cabinet, for that dream kitchen. Let's make it a date!

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, September 8, 1949 NUMBER 42

News Briefs

SIDNEY D. DEAL, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Eugene Deal, RFD 4, Statesboro, has been promoted to grade of Corporal in the United States Army. Corporal Deal is on duty with the 24th Infantry Division, 63rd Field Artillery Battalion, on Kyushu, Japan.

He graduated from West Side School in 1947 and entered the army in 1948. He was recently graduated from Potential Non-commissioned Officers' School in Japan. Corporal Deal will return to the U. S. in 1951.

ODESSA G. REED, of Statesboro, has received the degree of Master of Arts from Ohio State University, according to an announcement made this week. The graduation exercises took place September 2 with Dr. Wilbur White, president of the University of Toledo, delivering the commencement address.

MRS. PHIL HAMILTON, of Statesboro, has been appointed chairman of the USO campaign for Bulloch county. The campaign will be held in October to raise $1,072 for the USO. There are 251 boys from Bulloch county now in the armed services and for this reason the USO campaign should be of particular interest to local citizens.

MISS MAUDE WHITE has received the degree of Master of Arts in Education at the University of Georgia. The degree was conferred Wednesday afternoon in the university amphitheatre. Mrs. John B. Anderson, Miss Leila White and Miss Myrtle Harville were in Athens for the ceremonies.

CHALMERS McCALL, formerly of Statesboro, has recently been appointed to serve as an instructor in sociology at the University of Illinois' Navy Pier undergraduate branch in Chicago. He will begin his new duties September 23.

Mr. McCall received his education at the University of Florida and the University of Chicago and has been in Statesboro this summer doing research work on special sociological problems.

Soil Conservation Week Is Highlighted By Special Program Series Next Week

Next week, September 11-17, has been officially set aside as "Soil Conservation Week." The main purpose of this week is to remind all Georgians of the stake they have in conserving the resources of the state. (See story on page 7.)

Citizens of Bulloch county are joining in the observance of this special week in the following ways:

1. A special radio salute on the "Farm and Home Hour" over WWSN at 12:15, Saturday, September 10.

2. A special edition (next week) of the Bulloch Herald.

3. A program of conservation at the Rotary Club meeting Monday, September 12, and at the Lions Club meeting the following day.

4. A special conservation program at meetings of the Ogechee Farm Bureau Tuesday night and at the Stillson Farm Bureau meeting Wednesday night.

5. A conservation tour of the A. P. Murphy farm, with veterans taking "on-the-farm" training, and their instructors. Date: Friday, September 16.

6. Approximately 50 ponds in the county will be stocked with Bluegill Bream on September 15.

Lions Horse Show Is Very Successful

"Very successful" was the way officials termed the Statesboro Lions Club's Third Annual Horse Show, held Thursday and Friday nights at the airport stadium.

Proceeds from the show went towards the club's "Eyesight Conservation Program," which provides funds for eyeglasses and eye care for the underprivileged children of the county.

Bunn took the trophy and horseshoe in the championship five gaited stake and also took the championship in the rooster stake driving "Jeeter."

Winners in the show from Statesboro follow: Model five gaited, Hal Waters (second) showing "Sweet Talk"; Open pleasure, Delroy Billy (second) on "Red Banner"; Ed Lockhard (third) on "Patsy"; J. Hart (fourth) on "Johnny Flash"; and Reginald Newsome (fifth) on "Flash."

Five-gaited amateur, Si Waters (first) on "Patsy McDonald"; Eddie Hodges (second) on "After Dawn"; and Joe Johnston (third) on "Sonny Boy."

Open Walking, J. E. Foy Sr. (second) on "Society Boy"; Open five-gaited, Si Waters (fourth) on "Sweet Talk"; Men's pleasure class, Delroy Billy (first) on "Red Banner"; C. P. Olliff (second) on "Sonny"; J. A. Hart (third) on "Johnny Grey"; Lannie Simmons (fourth) on "Buddy"; and George Ben (fifth) on "Jack."

Local five-gaited, Si Waters (first) on "Patsy McDonald"; Eddie Hodges (second) on "After Dawn"; and Joe Johnston (third) on "Sonny Boy."

Walking stakes, J. E. Foy Sr. (second) on "Society Boy"; Open five-gaited, Si Waters (fourth) on "Sweet Talk"; Men's pleasure class, Delroy Billy (first) on "Red Banner"; C. P. Olliff (second) on "Sonny"; J. A. Hart (third) on "Johnny Grey"; Lannie Simmons (fourth) on "Buddy"; and George Ben (fifth) on "Jack."</

Let's Do Something

LET'S DO SOMETHING for the Negro youth of Statesboro and Bulloch county!

Let's promote a recreational program for the children of Negro citizens of this city and county!

Let's promote a swimming pool for the Negro citizens of the future.

Let's promote a community center for the young Negroes of our community.

Let's give the children of these citizens what we have given the children of our other citizens.

Let's give them an outlet for their youthful vitality and enthusiasm for living.

Let's give them an opportunity to grow into useful and productive citizens.

We believe that if we give the Negro citizens of this community the proper encouragement and leadership assistance they will do this themselves for their own youth.

That's the way the Statesboro Community Center was made a reality.

That's the way the Memorial Park swimming pool was completed.

It was a community project. Conceived, promoted, and finished by citizens of this community.

It was done over a long period of time. It took a lot of work. A lot of planning.

The city and county helped a great deal, but it was basically a community project.

And now we have one of the finest recreational programs in the southeast.

What was done for the white youth of Statesboro and Bulloch county can be done for the Negro youth of Statesboro and Bulloch county.

There is already a Recreational Board which helps administer the city recreational program.

There is Max Lockwood, our recreational director.

The machinery is already organized to conduct a Negro program once it is set up.

We believe that with the proper Negro leadership they might develop for their youth the finest recreational program of its kind in the state.

Let it be all theirs.

Let them raise their own funds—just as the white people of this community raised funds for their Community Center.

We believe that the city and county will do their part.

Regardless of color and race—they are citizens of this community.

Their children are future citizens of this community.

They need to play and develop.

We believe this is the way to make our community more solid.

We believe this is a way toward mutual trust and understanding.

And Statesboro will be a better city, and Bulloch will be a better county for it.

Let Him Lead You

Dottie Hargrove's .DOTS.

Caroline Duer, author of the Vogue Book of Etiquette, says in a magazine article that she believes men are more prone to regretful thoughts than women, and adds that this may be because men's consciences are closer to the surface, and so tend to be.

Women, Miss Duer claims, do not sweep emotion—being very sorry for a certain course of action—unless it has hurt someone else. Women, she believes, just go ahead, if no other person has been harmed, and accept the fact that what they have done is simply a part of the web of life that has been woven, and therefore must have been a part of the pattern designed.

I have thought earnestly and at length about these observations, while doing my daily tasks, and I am glad she put in that sentence about accepting the fact that what's done is done, and is not crying over spilled milk. I'm not by nature a morbid individual, and it always has been my tendency to live in the present—but lately, I've caught myself analyzing and regretting some of my own everyday performances and trying to figure ways by which I might have gotten better results.

Take such an important item as cleaning up the back part of my house. Did you ever finish your breakfast dishes, restore your shiny-white stove to its original state of immaculacy, mop your pretty linoleum, and then remember that your refrigerator needed defrosting or your pantry shelves were crying for a good big taste of soap and water? Well, didn't you feel like kicking yourself for using all that energy to clean the floor, which promptly needed another mopping the minute you got your pantry and/or lexbox clean enough to suit you?

Or, take shopping. Don't you often go to the marts of trade with a list that includes items ranging in importance from new sandals for your angel child on down to a nickel's worth of household lime to discourage varmints that know at the leaves of your plants, and find yourself at one end of the street when you should be at the opposite end of another? And no time to retrace your steps and pick up a purchase that seems terribly important? Well, if you do, how can you help regretting your course of action? How can you resist spending some of your precious mental energy in trying to figure how on earth you ever got confused and made such a mess of your venture?

Miss Duer's article—I forgot to tell you—is entitled "How To Live With Yourself" and her point is that people need never feel guilty about what they do, so long as they never allow themselves to do anything selfish or cruel. She believes we can do reckless things and still be happy and live comfortably with ourselves, but she says irritability and impatience are bad for the digestion. Irritability and impatience not only keep others from being happy with us, but hinder us from being happy with ourselves—and I absolutely agree, because I've noticed that people with hair-trigger tempers not only...

Quietly Waiting

WILL THERE BE laughter—to fill the eyes with light and every heart with joy?

Will there be grief—to cloud the vision and burden the heart and soul?

We'll know tonight or tomorrow.

For today is the day that Bulloch county's Barbara June submits herself to a famous doctor that she might be like other little girls—healthy, happy, and full of the joy of living.

The answer is folded in the mercy of God, who guides the hands of the great surgeon.

Today, in Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Josh Smith Jr. are quietly awaiting the results. We believe that they know they have done all within the power of human beings for their child. They certainly know that their friends, and people they've never known and will never know, are praying for them and their child.

There is a sincere feeling that this young couple is deeply grateful to all those who opened their hearts and loosed their generosity to them that they might be relieved, in part, of the tremendous financial worry that has been theirs for the three years they have been fighting for the life of little Barbara June.

Even as you read this the operation may be completed.

The will of God will have been done. And for a long time other people can say: "The people of Bulloch county have a heart."

Jaycees Are Spreading

IF THIS WERE in the Classified Advertising Section of The Herald it would read a little like this:

WANTED—Young men between the ages of 18 and 35 who are interested in the progress and development of their home communities, their home counties, and the State of Georgia. If you are interested, write to the president of the nearest Junior Chamber of Commerce for full particulars.

And the young men at Brooklet, Register, and Nevils would write in to Buford Knight, president of the Statesboro Jaycees, and ask: "What's the dope?"

Mr. Knight and members of his extension committee would meet with the young men of these communities and show them how to organize a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All of this is to say that the Jaycees, the fire-balls of Georgia, are on a rampage.

They intend to spread the work of the Jaycees in every nook and corner of the Empire State of Georgia. Dyer Massey, of Wrightsville, chairman of the state extension committee, is building the fire under Dr. Lamar Blacklock, of Sylvania, chairman of the first district extension committee, who is building the fire under Buford Knight (as if a fire needs to be built under him), who is president of the local Jaycees.

People in this community need no bill of particulars on the Jaycees. They are known as an "on-the-ball" bunch of young business men.

We commend them and their work to the young men of the several communities in Bulloch county—and to the young men in our neighboring towns and communities.

Write Mr. Knight—and, before you know it, there'll be a fire built under you, and you'll be a member of a great movement—the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

What If ???

"WHAT IF YOU were told there are two killers in every nook and corner of the Empire State of Georgia?"

"And if you thought they were 'blood and thunder' killers, you would be concerned, and be looking to your law enforcement officers to clear the county of them."

That is the way Dr. W. D. Lundquist put it to the members of the Statesboro Rotary Club recently.

He told these business leaders that in our county today there are 23 cases of active tuberculosis. And for every known case of the "killer" there is another unknown case.

And these are preventable,

he said. "There are several hundred cases of syphilis in Bulloch county, and there may be several thousands," he continued.

And these are preventable.

There is no "if" here. There are two killers loose in Bulloch county, and we are not doing much about it.

But something is about to be done about it. And it is going to depend entirely upon you, you, and you. Every one in the county must join in the "hunt" for these two killers.

In November of this year a survey is to be conducted.

To be effective and to "run the killers to bay," every person in the county must allow himself to be examined—X-rayed, and tested to see if these killers are working on him.

But, understand, the survey is voluntary. But to be sure—it must be 100 percent.

Don't say to yourself: "There's no need for me to be examined or tested."

But—can you be sure? Now is the time to be sure....

Watch for the major—in November—when members of the Georgia Department of Health will be here with equipment to "run the killers to bay."

Lower City Tax Rate

From the "Carroll County Times" A FINE EXAMPLE of what can be done toward easing the burden of financing the city and county has been demonstrated by the mayor and city council. The tax rate for 1949 here will be 20 mills as compared to 22 mills last year.

The reason is that more property has been put on the tax digest and the assessments have been brought a little more in balance.

People who are more familiar with these things have been telling us for a long time that one of the most pressing needs of the city and county is for assessment to be equalized and more people participate on a more equitable basis in financing of the services expected.

It is a matter of record that about 40 percent of the property owners of Carroll county pay no county tax. Another 25 percent pay less than $25 per year. It is our belief that most of these people should be paying something toward the support of services they expect from the county.

About the same thing holds true in the city. As a result the tax burden is heavy on the few who are paying. The tax digest of the city and the county should be greatly increased and in like proportion the tax rates should be lowered.

The city may be commended upon moving ahead with a gradual equalization of the tax situation.

A man is relieved and gay when he has put his heart into his work and has done his best but what he has said or done otherwise, shall give him no peace.

It is astonishing how soon the whole conscience begins to unravel, if a single stitch drops; one little sin indulged makes a hole you could put your head through.

We are too fond of our own will. We want to be doing what we fancy might things; but the great point is, to do small things, when called to them, in a right spirit.

You have not fulfilled every duty, unless you have fulfilled that of being pleasant.

What if you were told there are two killers in every nook and corner of the Empire State of Georgia?

And if you thought they were 'blood and thunder' killers, you would be concerned, and be looking to your law enforcement officers to clear the county of them."

That is the way Dr. W. D. Lundquist put it to the members of the Statesboro Rotary Club recently.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

Monday, September 5, was the last day of "Dog Days."

According to the almanac, Dog Days "came in" on July 28.

However, there are no two authorities who agree on the dates for Dog Days. As a matter of fact, the dates vary with the latitude.

Dog Days are believed to have started in 735 A.D., and as originally calculated by the ancients lasted 40 days—20 days before and 20 days after the date on which the sun rose at the same time as the Dog Star Sirius. Presumably, these 40 days represented the hottest part of the summer.

Melvin Rushing says he pays no attention to the dates, as set by the almanac. He has a surer way of knowing when Dog Days come in and go out.

According to him, the day the mocking birds quit singing is the first day of Dog Days. And the day the mocking birds begin singing again—that's the day after the last day of Dog Days.

He says that for a long time he has noticed this, and he now relies on this songbird completely. He admits that the mocking bird may make a sort of "strangling cheer" during Dog Days, but he does not give forth with his usual joyous song.

So, Tuesday, the mocking bird was back in full song—but it was still as hot as a firepopper.

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER THIS WEEK—

TODAY, Thursday, Sept. 8, will be pleasant.

TOMORROW, Friday, Sept. 9, will be clear.

SAURDAY, Sept. 10, will be hot.

SUNDAY, Sept. 11, will be dry.

MONDAY, Sept. 12, will be sultry.

TUESDAY, Sept. 13, will be windy.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 14, will be stormy.

BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC IS WRONG!

And then they all had a picnic.

Choice of Canning Syrup

The choice of syrup for canning fruits should depend on the kind of fruit and the desired richness of the product. This syrup is used for small, soft fruits, medium for sour berries and acid fruits and heavy for larger sour fruits.

ALL'S FAIR

Miss Georgia of '48 pulls a new one on us; She slips out of Statesboro without fanfare or fuss.

We shop with her at Davidson's and decide she's very wise; She assembles an ensemble that'll make folks pop their eyes.

Miss Fashion Plate of the nation is our own Gwen West.

We knew her style and beauty would eclipse all the rest....

YOU HAVE no idea how thrilling it is to be Jane and stick your foot in the door like a brush salesman and snop to your heart's delight. In Gwen's case, I was really bowled over. I had no idea that practically overnight she would outrank Cinderella. To share with my public, I give you this:

First, Gwen shopped at Davidson's with her gift certificate, and she bought a bottle of smelling salts as she left, saying, "Better take this along. You may need it...."

We add that Miss So-and-so is sponsored by the House of Revlon.

MIKE KENNEDY and HARRY JOHNSON JR., who lighted the candles at the Johnson-Leggett wedding, distressed the directors at the rehearsal Saturday evening by their contact shoving. But when it came to the real event they almost stole the show from the bride and groom.

BONNIE and SARA MORRIS got up one Sunday morning and said, "Let's go somewhere to—"

As ever, JANE.

at "House of Revlon" for two days and, if she can be made more stunning looking, Helene Rubenstein will get the credit, because she will give our Gwen a thorough going over.

Our comment is that she'll find no hay in Gwen's hair.

Irene Castle will be her official chaperone. (She's old enough to be acceptable—Jane had an Irene Castle frock in her trousseau 26 ago....)

Gwen will be seen on television and radio shows. She will be the "Glamour Girl of the Week" on Jack Higgins show Wednesday evening.

John Powers will give her an interview.

She will be a guest at both the "Stork Club" and "21," and has tickets to the leading Broadway hits.

I think Berta Sue, Gwen's sister, will truly inspired when she handed Gwen a bottle of smelling salts as she left, saying, "Better take this along. You may need it...."

GRANDFATHER'S BIBLE CARRIED AT WEDDING

With a dainty handkerchief used by her aunt, Mrs. Julian Brooks, at her wedding 18 years ago, tucked into her grandfather's Bible, Miss Helen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, was married Sunday to W. R. Leggett, of Habira, at an afternoon ceremony solemnized at the First Methodist Church. Rev. John Lough officiated in one of the most beautiful weddings of the season.

The arch over the altar was covered with smilax and graceful background greenery, combined stately palms with plumosa and Oregon ferns. Lacy plumosa veiled the prayer rails. Tall white standards filled with white gladioli and white chrysanthemums were interspersed with cathedral candles in seven branched candelabra. An urn filled with gladioli and chrysanthemums with wide white satin ribbon cascading from it, marked the center of the altar design. Low white pottery bowls of white flowers were used at each end of the altar railing.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Roger Holland, organist, presented a program of nuptial music, Billy and Bobby Holland sang duet arrangements of "Thine Alone" and "Because."

Ushers were Bill Brigman, of Habira, and Fred Darley, Groomsman were Horace Downing, of Deland, Fla., brother-in-law of the groom; Ralph Huff of Darien, George Riley and Johnny Brannen, R. F. Leggett was his son's best man. Mike Kennedy and Harry Johnson Jr., brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

Miss Lila Brady, the bride's maid of honor, wore a turquoise satin with a yoke of sheer nylon extended down the back from the yoke to the hipline. Her nylon bonnet was trimmed with matching ostrich tips. She wore long satin gauntlets.

Her bouquet was of rose asters with puffs of delicate pink lacinon and tied with pennier and delicate pink satin ribbon. The bridesmaids, Misses Myrtice Prosser and Jessie Carol Leggett, sister of the groom, wore melon pink, satin frocks fashioned like that worn by the maid of honor with matching matching bouquets and gauntlets. Their bouquets were purple and lavender asters with puffs of lavender lacinon tied with purple and lavender ribbons.

The petite brunette bride, given in marriage by her father, wore with her wedding gown of pearl-toned duchess satin and chantilly lace, a tiered veil of illusion at attached to a Mary Queen of Scots cap bordered with matching chantilly lace. Satin-covered buttons extended down the back from the yoke to the hipline.

The fitted sleeves were buttoned to the wrist and formed points over the hands. The bodice was attached to the nylon net yoke by a heavy satin fold bordered with chantilly lace. The full skirt extended to form a court train. She carried her grandfather's Bible, satin-covered, and caught with a white purple-throated orchid showered with tube roses.

The bride's mother chose, for her daughter's wedding, a mulberry and lilac tissue faille with an orchid corsage. Her summer-felt hat with double-rim effect was lilac with a mulberry veil. The groom's mother was gowned in brown crepe and satin with brown hat and accessories. Mrs. W. B. Johnson, paternal grandmother of the bride, wore black sheer crepe with black accessories. Mrs. J. S. Cowart, of Garfield, maternal grandmother, wore navy crepe with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Formal Reception
Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Alfred Dorman and introduced to the receiving line formed in the living room. A bridal motif of green and white prevailed in the decorations throughout the home.

Crysal candelabra with lighted tapers were used on each end of the mantel in the living room and reflected in the mirror was a central arrangement of gladioli, asters, and daisy chrysanthemums. Crystal candelabras with crystal pheasants were used on the piano.

The bride's table, overlaid with a handmade linen cutwork cloth, was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake beautifully embossed and topped with the miniature bride and groom posed before wedding bells, flanked by five-branched silver candelabra holding lighted candles.

Wedding napkins were handed out by Mike Kennedy, Harry Johnson Jr., Linda Pound and Diano Brannen. Serving block ice cream and individual cakes in the dining room were Misses Patsy Hagan, Polly Hodges, Agnes Blitch, Barbara Franklin, Marjorie Claxton and Mrs. C. E. Turner. Serving mints were Fay Hagan and Mary Weldon Hendricks.

Mrs. Cliff Bradley directed the guests to the gift rooms where Mrs. Don Brannen and Mrs. R. J. Kennedy Jr. presided. Mrs. Fred Darley kept the bride's book. Punch was served on the lawn tended by Misses Elizabeth Thomas, Jane Richardson, Lila Ann Canuetto, and Sybil Griner. Assisting in serving were Mrs. T. W. Rowe, Mrs. Cecil Canuetto, Mrs. Ruby Darden, and Mrs. Grady Smith.

Greeting and entertaining the guests on the lawn were Mrs. J. W. Brooks, Mrs. John Grapp, Mrs. M. B. Hendricks and Mrs. Paul Sauve.

Mr. and Mrs. Leggett left during the afternoon for wedding trip to the mountains in North Carolina. Upon their return they will occupy an apartment with Mrs. W. W. Edge on Zetterower avenue. The bride traveled in a powder blue gingham suit with a white satin blouse and brown accessories. She wore her orchid as a lapel corsage.

Out-of-Town Guests
Among guests coming from a distance were Mrs. Joseph W. Smith, B. B. Watkins, of Reidsville; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Toole and daughter, Marcelline, of Garfield; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Leggett, Miss Ruth Huff, Earl Leggett, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Downing of Deland, Fla.; Mrs. Sam Page of Alken, S. C.; Mrs. J. S. Cowart and sons, Ben and Andrew, and Mrs. Sara Cowart of Garfield; Mr. and Mrs. John Cowart and daughter, Sue, of Millen; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Youngblood, of Jessup; Miss June Collins, B. C. DeLoach; Brooks, Panama City, Fla.; Mrs. G. M. Riley and Walter Riley of Rutherford, N. J.

LUNCHEON AT DINNER BELL
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson were hosts Sunday at a luncheon at the Dinner Bell. Covers were laid for Miss Helen Johnson, W. R. Leggett, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Leggett, Miss Jessie Carol Leggett, Bill Brigman of Habira, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Downing of Deland, Fla., Ralph Huff of Darien, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson.

PARTIES CONTINUE FOR BRIDE-ELECT
Miss Helen Johnson, whose marriage took place at a beautiful ceremony, was the central figure at a bridge party Wednesday afternoon at her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, entertained at her home with a lovely bridge party.

Mixed summer flowers were used in the decorations. The hostess served a frozen salad course. Her gift to Miss Johnson was a blanket.

For high score, Mrs. Zach Smith was awarded a dainty tea apron. A linen handkerchief went to Miss Polly Hodges for low.

Guests were invited for four tables.

(MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON)

THOMPSON-BRANNEN
The marriage of Miss Betty Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Thompson, of Oliver, and William Amason Brannen, son of Mrs. Shell Brannen and the late Mr. Brannen, of Stillson, took place at New Hope Methodist Church at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, August 31, with Rev. J. B. Hutchinson, former pastor of the Brooklet-New Hope charge, officiating. The nuptial feast was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Thompson, of Oliver, with a background of palms flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli between four seven-branched candelabra with burning tapers.

The pretty bride entered with her father and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Donald Brown.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt flared into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet centered with a purple orchid.

Mrs. A. E. Nesmith, sister of the bride, wore a white dress and carried a bouquet of asters and stephanotis. Little Janelle Knight, the flower girl, wore a black silk crepe dress and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. George Kelly gave a program of wedding music and Mrs. Joe Ingram sang.

The ushers were Billy Dan Thompson, Archie Nesmith Jr., John F. Brannen and W. S. Hanson in two places Saturday afternoon while adjusting a belt at the gin. He was carried to the Bulloch County Hospital and the broken bones were set.

Mrs. W. D. Lee visited relatives at Hinesville last week.

Raymond Pous and daughter, Patsy, visited relatives at Union Point and Athens Sunday.

Miss Mary Agnes Flake, of Savannah, spent the week end here with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson entertained with a reception on the lawn at their home.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Brannen left for a short wedding trip, the bride traveling in a dark green gabardine suit with champagne tan accessories. When they return, Mrs. Brannen will resume her teaching in the Stillson High School, and Mr. Brannen will continue his college work at Abraham Baldwin College and the University of Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Waters and little daughter, of Memphis, Tenn., are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Edwards, of Savannah, and Mrs. J. D. Lanier, of Dublin, spent the week end at Savannah Beach.

Mrs. Rubene Johnson and Miss Myrona Hendrix, of Savannah, were week end guests of Mrs. H. F. Hendrix.

Mrs. W. B. Parrish, president of the W.S.C.S. of the Savannah district, will leave Monday for Macon to attend a study course at the Pastor's School in session at Wesleyan College.

Miss Bessie Moore, of Atlanta, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Moore.

Misses Jenene and Joan Johnson have returned to their home here after spending the summer with relatives in Savannah and Shelman Bluff.

A meeting of the Prayer Circle was held at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon in charge of Mrs. C. S. Cromley and Mrs. W. B. Parrish.

DENMARK

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Griffin and little daughter were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jones Sunday.

Miss Sylvia Zetterower spent last week as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McElveen in Statesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lamb and Emory and Miss Margaret Neill motored to Charlotte, N. C. last Friday for the day.

FARM BUREAU

MIDDLEGROUND

Bulloch county cotton farmers are urged to plow up or disc under all cotton stalks when the 1949 crop is gathered.

The Middleground Farm Bureau was very strong for such action at its meeting Thursday night. L. Herbert Deal expressed the belief that cotton farmers could do themselves more good by destroying all hibernating places for the boll weevil than through any other action they could take.

Many of those at the meeting believe there will be the largest number of weevils in the fields when the cotton is picked than has ever been left after harvest.

John Olliff, president of the Middleground bureau, said that it would take community and county-wide action to accomplish any worthwhile results.

The Middleground group began its 1950 membership renewal campaign and expressed the belief it would have more members next year than in 1949.

ly are at loggerheads with the world, but also are at odds with themselves.

In a Ladies Home Journal last year, I read that no happy person is ever unkind, and I truly believe it is a law of life that wretchedness of spirit emanates from wretchedly unhappy folks, just as joy and peace are radiated by those who are on good terms with themselves.

And if we never behave unselfishly or cruelly with others—if we respect the feelings and rights of others—we're just about sure to keep our own self-respect, and get all the rights were entitled to.

Being here day after day with Beth in this cute little house while Ellis is at work, I have time for some long, long thoughts. Especially while engaged in jobs that require no mental concentration—and I've come to the solemn conclusion that I need to be more and more thankful to par-

Week Set Aside For Conservation

Next week, September 11-18, will be of special interest to Bulloch county farmers. For next week is Georgia Soil Conservation Week and all over the state farmers are being called on to recognize Georgia's stake in a statewide conservation program. They are being asked to observe the week by putting better conservation methods into practice.

This special event has three objectives:

- (1) To call to the attention of all Georgia people, both on the farms and in the towns and cities, the need to conserve, improve and develop the state's soil, water, forest, and wildlife resources.
- (2) To encourage farmers, with help from their soil conservation districts and local state and federal agencies, to apply timely measures as parts of complete conservation programs. Georgia farmers have organized 25 soil conservation districts that cover 97 percent of the state's farmland.
- (3) To make Georgia a state with more green grazing and cover crops this winter.

In February of next year the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts will meet in Macon, Ga. Because, if she has that, she'll always be able to live happily with herself.

So, as you see, I'm in agreement with Caroline Duer. But wait!—Wait a minute and let's look again at that paragraph about men's consciences being tenderer or nearer the surface than women's. Do you believe deal unselfishly with others... that?

The Bulloch Herald, Thursday, September 8, 1949

Atlanta, bringing more than 1,000 leading farmers and ranchers from over the nation to the state. It is hoped that they will be impressed with the progress made in green cover crops that is expected to take this winter.

A significant phase in the expansion of soil-building and soil-conserving crops in the state is noted in the progress of lespedeza. The acreage has almost doubled since 1940, an increase which has been closely associated with the increase in small grains.

FOLKS take a look at those bumper-guard grilles—built as a unit and proof against "locking horns"—and say "Himm! Nice!"

They sweep their eyes over tapering fenders, with a suggestion of jet-power in their after contours—and say, "That's for me!"

They eye-measure windshields that are 48% bigger and rear windows with 56% more area—and know without being told they can see the road up closer, both fore and aft.

So they say—"That's for me—IF!"

"What does it cost me to get this handy-sized dandy with the roomiest interiors ever found on a Buick Special?"

"What do I pay for high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power from a big Buick straight-eight engine?"

"What's the tag on that swell Buick ride, with coil springing, extra-wide rims, seats between the axles and all that?"

"And what about Dynaflo Drive—" understand I can have that at extra cost—how much?"

Well, sir, the news is good. Plenty good. Because this honey's priced well under your expectations. It's a straight-eight that's priced under a lot of sixes—over the years your investment will be no more than for any other car.

So better not stop with looking. Better price it too—delivered at your door. Your Buick dealer will give you the figures; even demonstrate.

After which you'll do as others are doing—you'll get a firm order in.

HELPFUL HINT FOR A CHAMPION HOME TOWN

Encourage new service stores and shops

When folks can find in town the things they want to buy, they won't go to big cities to do their shopping. This keeps money circulating in town, and everybody in town benefits!

A Champion Home Town recognizes the fact that service establishments provide jobs and incomes, just as small industries do.

So check your service stores and shops—shoe repair, overnight laundries, dry cleaners, barber shops, freeter-lockers, auto repair, etc. Make sure your town offers enough of these important facilities for its size and needs.

'BLUE BABY'

other places throughout the "Costal Empire."
The average contribution was $3.89.

One of the most unusual aspects of the fight to give tiny Barbara June the operation she so desperately needed was this: A goal of $1,500 to cover the bare necessities of the trip and the operation — had been set. Saturday, September 3, was set as the day to turn the money over to Mr. Smith. They planned to leave Monday, Labor Day, and the banks would be closed. At noon on Saturday the contributions totaled $1,500.10 — exactly ten cents more than the goal set. No one knew until just a moment before what the total was.

The money came by mail. It said they realized she had made every sacrifice to care for Barbara June during these three trying years and now that money was available to make Barbara June well again, they wanted her to have the privilege of buying a new dress or spending the money for something "personal."

Money is not all that is being given to the Smith family. The Farm Bureau, of which they are a member, has undertaken the task of tending the Smith farm while they are away with Barbara June. This week a group will rack the peanuts on his farm and will see that the farm animals are taken care of.

Anyone still wishing to contribute is asked to contribute directly, rather than through the Statesboro banks. A final accounting has been made of the funds contributed to this moment.

Long weeks and months of recuperation will be necessary following the delicate operation on Barbara June. It will be many months before she can run and play as other children do. But the operation, wrote: "We saw the announcement in the paper... our deepest sympathy and prayers go out to these parents and precious baby and we trust that our little donations will be a help in restoring Barbara June to perfect health."

But her parents know. To say they appreciate it is to put it mildly.

Others know, too.

And, certainly, we feel, the Lord must know, in the Good Book itself we find that He said, in effect, that "even as ye have done it unto the least of these ye have done it unto me."

Another said: "It is only a dollar, but I'll say a prayer each night that God will let the goal be reached and the child be made well."

A letter said: "Please find one or two dollars — just the widow's mite. I wish it could be more. May God help you raise all that is needed?"

Another writer wrote: "I know what that is to be a mother. I had a son who was a 'blue-baby.' There was no operation known at that time."

One couple, sending in a donation, wrote: "I know what that is to be a mother. I had a son who was a 'blue-baby.' There was no operation known at that time."

Meet 'Miss Fashion Plate'

LET US INTRODUCE Miss Gwen West of Statesboro, who has recently been named "Miss Fashion Plate of 1949" in a nationwide contest. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West, Gwen is senior at the University of Georgia. She was "Miss Statesboro" and "Miss Georgia" before this.

Right now she's in New York City where she's being entertained during a two-week stay. The trip, as guest of a cosmetic company, came as a result of winning this contest, conducted in more than 100 colleges and universities across the nation.

ABOVE, GWEN MODELS a black velvet poke bonnet. The veil is velvet-dotted, and a velvet cord ties under the chin.

RIGHT, A BLACK bengaline suit dress that will wear well on many occasions—a good basic dress in a dark color.

These pictures were made in Atlanta where Gwen went to shop before flying to New York. (Cuts courtesy The Atlanta Journal)

Large Enrollment Expected With College Ready To Begin New Term

Georgia Teachers College will get its fall session underway Monday with an orientation program for incoming freshmen, Dr. Z. S. Henderson, college president, announced this week.

All freshmen, both day and boarding students, are expected to be present in the college auditorium at 9 o'clock Monday morning to receive instructions regarding the week's program. A scheduled list of activities includes conferences with faculty advisers, English and psychological tests, physical examinations, various social events, and registration on Wednesday.

Underclassmen are scheduled to report to the college on Wednesday and will register Thursday. Classes start Friday. The school's first official assembly will be on Monday, September 26, at 10 a.m. College officials state that a definite increase in enrollment over last year is expected.

Drive for USO Underway Today

A drive for USO funds gets underway here this week according to Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, general chairman for the drive. A quota of $1,078 has been set for Bulloch county.

Mrs. Hamilton says no door-to-door or store-to-store canvases will be made unless it becomes necessary. She is appealing to the people of the county to send unsolicited contributions for USO.

The chairman said donations may be sent to Harrison Olliff, Statesboro; Francis Trappell, Statesboro; Clarence Brack, Fort; or Gerald Brown, Silston. The drive will continue until October 10, Mrs. Hamilton said, and if the money has not been raised at that time, a canvass will be made.

Mrs. Hamilton pointed out that most of the money will be used to provide recreation and entertainment for hospitalized veterans who cannot leave their beds. She said that more than 42,000 Georgians are still in service and that 298 of these are from Bulloch county.

President Truman himself asked for the reactivation of USO.

This Week's Herald Is Dedicated To Soil Conservation Week

Your Herald is larger than normal this week. The reason is, it's Soil Conservation Week and we're joining soil conservation experts in trying to "Keep Bulloch Green."

We would like to give special credit to J. E. Kelly and Jack Storey, Ogeechee District Soil Conservation supervisors. They have given much valuable time and work to this project.

The Herald Editors hope you enjoy this special edition. We hope you will "Keep Bulloch Green."

Quarterback Club To Meet October 3

The Statesboro Quarterback Club will become active again this year with their first meeting on Monday night, October 3, according to Captain Everett Williams.

Mr. Williams says a fine series of programs is being arranged. He hopes to have a noted sports writer to appear before the organization at the first meeting. In addition, a film of an important game played last year will be shown.

Other noted speakers and films are being lined up for the remainder of the season. No definite meeting place has been announced but Mr. Williams says he hopes to complete these arrangements this week. Thirteen sessions will be held, with a final party at the close of the season.

Dr. Fielding Russell is club quarterback.

'Good Season' Is Seen For SHS '49 Blue Devils

Coach James Hall, of the Statesboro High football squad, said prospects looked "good" this week for winning quite a large percentage of the ten games his team is scheduled to play this year.

Coach Hall addressed the Jaycees at their regular meeting yesterday at Forest Heights Country Club.

He told the group that he had a good many letters returning this year and that they had the average weight-gains of 15 pounds each. This will give the team an overall average of almost 165 pounds, he said.

Mr. Hall said the team had been completely outfitted this season in new equipment and new uniforms. The "Blue Devils" will take the field for their first game in outfits almost identical with those of the Duke University team.

They will wear white jerseys, white helmets, royal blue pants, and white socks. The Statesboro Quarterback Club has given the team a group of caps which will help considerably during cold and rainy football nights.

Last year the team took eight out of the ten games they played. They open this season with a game against Waynesboro, there, Friday night, September 23.

The remainder of the schedule follows: September 30, Baxley, here; October 7, open; October 14, Metter, there; October 21, Sylva, here; October 28, Vidalia, here; November 4, Miller, there; November 11, Claxton, here; November 18, Swainsboro, here; and November 24, the Thanksgiving game, E.C.I., here.

Plans Approved For Legion Home

Blueprints are now being drawn for the new American Legion clubhouse, scheduled to be built during the fall at the airport, according to Legion officials. The city has given the Dexter Allen Post No. 90 of the Legion a five-acre tract at the airport on which the clubhouse will be constructed.

The post approved tentative plans for the structure at a recent meeting and architects are now at work on the final blueprints. Legion officials hope the building will be ready for use by Christmas. This will be a permanent home and meeting place for the post. It will culminate a long campaign to raise funds for construction of such a building.

LEGION MEETS TONIGHT

The Dexter Allen Post No. 90 will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the clubroom on North Main. An important business session will be held and every member is urged to be present. Refreshments will be served and another interesting movie, obtained from the Department of the Army will be shown.

BPOE Lodge 1788 Organized Here

Statesboro Lodge No. 1788, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was organized officially last week. Representatives from 12 of Georgia's 32 lodges attended the organizational meeting.

Grand Exalted Ruler Emmett T. Anderson officiated at the celebration and officers of Savannah Lodge No. 183 initiated the new members.

The lodge has opened a lodge room in the Rushing Hotel.

Officers named for the new organization are: Exalted Ruler, Raymond Summerlin; Esteemed Leading Knight, Lonnie Young; Esteemed Loyal Knight, R. Y. Ellis; Esteemed Lecturing Knight, Sam Strauss; Secretary, Kermit Carr; Treasurer, Hunter M. Robertson; Inner Guard, M. E. Alderman Jr.; Tyler, Cohen Anderson; Chaplain, Logan Hagan; Trustees, W. H. Burke, B. W. Knight, and J. B. Rushing; Esquire, Eugene Martin.

PLAYTIME TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 19

"Sue's Kindergarten" director, Mrs. W. L. Jones, announced this week that she will resume "Playtime" beginning Monday afternoon, September 19. It will be open from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

GOOD FISHING HERE—Fred Blitch proves that good conservation practices pays off—with fish ponds, too. This photo shows Fred dipping his hook in his pond, which he built under a soil conservation plan. You can read the full story of how Fred has achieved success on his

Bulloch County Fair To Begin Here On Monday

Get your tickets ready! Get set for the time of your life, folks! It's the big Bulloch County Fair, opening on Monday! You can't afford to miss it.

Blood Donors Are Still Badly Needed

Blood donors still are badly needed, according to Al Sutherland, chairman of the Red Cross Blood Donor Recruitment Drive in Statesboro and Bulloch county.

The first visit of the bloodmobile will be made soon and Statesboro and Bulloch county are lacking their quota of recruits. Chairman Sutherland pointed out that it was not necessary for a person to be called on, and those who have not been contacted are urged to volunteer.

Statesboro and Bulloch county are fortunate in having this blood program brought here, and the only requirement for local people is that enough citizens volunteer to donate blood. The blood recruitment program has been in progress more than two weeks and the necessary number of donors has not been signed up.

This week the Statesboro Woman's Club is setting up a booth in the downtown business section where anyone between the ages of 21 and 60, weighing 110 pounds or more, may sign up.

You are urged to sign up today.

Barbara June To Come Home Oct. 1

Barbara June is doing fine! That's the latest word this week from Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md., where the tiny three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josh Smith Jr., is recuperating from the "blue-baby" operation which she underwent last Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith say that Barbara June's color has changed from blue to pink and that it is just "wonderful" to see how much improvement she has already made. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are staying with Barbara June and they expect to be home about October 1.

The "Barbara June Fund," generously given by the people of southeastern Georgia so that she might have the operation, this week reached a final total of $1,908.71.

JOE NEVILLE JOINS FATHER IN LAW PRACTICE HERE

Joe Neville, recent graduate of Mercer University School of Law, has moved to Statesboro and will join his father, Gesmon Neville, in the practice of law here.

Officers of the fair this year, in addition to Mr. Allen, Cecil Kennedy, co-chairman, and Rufus G. Brannen, secretary and treasurer. The exhibit committee is composed of Mrs. J. B. Fields, Mrs. A. L. Roughton, and Mrs. Rufus Brannen.

The finance committee is composed of the officers and Mrs. R. L. Lanier.

Concessions and carnival committee includes Mrs. Cecil Kennedy, Mrs. Billy Simmons and Mrs. Delores Rushing. They have arranged for the Royal Exposition Shows to provide midway attractions again this year.

All articles to be exhibited are to be in place by 6 p.m. Monday. Mr. Allen pointed out any article of an agricultural or educational nature that is grown, made, cooked, or canned in Bulloch county may be entered in the displays. They will be judged about the middle of the week on the basis of quality of product, educational value, and variety.

Approximately $1,200.00 have been set up for prizes this year. First-place exhibit will be worth $100 to the winning club, second place $75; and the other 12 clubs putting on creditable exhibits will receive $50 each. The prizes for the Negro group range from $75 to $25 each.

School children will be admitted free on Thursday. Colored school children will be admitted free on Friday.

matic renumbering would not affect many residences or business houses but it would be a very effective means of straightening out a tangled situation.

The club hopes to get action on the project within a few weeks.

Jaycees Call For New Street Numbering Plan

A plan for complete reorganization of the city's house numbering system was given official backing yesterday by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The group heard details of the plan from Committee Chairman Gene Curry and gave unanimous approval to the idea.

Briefly, the plan calls for a complete survey of the city, reassigning numbers in cases where numbers differ from a standard numbering plan. Each block will be numbered and houses in that block will all bear the block number as the initial numeral.

City law requires that each house have a suitable number and the Jaycees are seeking a plan whereby they can provide few metal numbers to those not having them. The numbers would be posted in a standardized position on the dwelling or business house.

The committee, in reporting to the Jaycee group, emphasized that tourists, new residents, visitors to the city, delivery boys, fire and police officials, and others had a difficult time in Statesboro locating houses that either were numbered incorrectly, or were not numbered at all.

In approving the idea, Jaycee officials pointed out that a systematic renumbering would not affect many residences or business houses but it would be a very effective means of straightening out a tangled situation.

The club hopes to get action on the project within a few weeks.

Representatives of the organization will present details of the plan to city officials at the next council meeting.

Grand Exalted Ruler Emmett T. Anderson officiated at the celebration and officers of Savannah Lodge No. 183 initiated the new members.

Officers named for the new organization are: Exalted Ruler, Raymond Summerlin; Esteemed Leading Knight, Lonnie Young; Esteemed Loyal Knight, R. Y.
