And heaven and nature sing

Child of Prophecy

By Dottie Hargrove

This is my mother's favorite Christmas reading, which she has composed and compiled over a period of years, and which she recites against a background of organ music by her friend, Mrs. Paul McLarty, who has woven together an accompaniment which includes "Silent Night," "Star of the East," "Away in a Manger," and Chopin's "Seventh Prelude."

CHILD OF PROPHECY

By BIRDIE BLANK
I stood in ancient Palestine beside an ancient well
And listened to the tolling of a distant temple bell;
I saw an ivory palace against a sunset sky,
And watched a bearded prophet in black robes, going by.
I could not have been dreaming; my eyes were open wide,
As I fell in with that prophet, and paced him, stride for stride.
I said, "Why look so wistful? Why bend your head so low?
Why should you be so pensive, as on your way you go?
The old man sobbed in anguish, and I saw with quick surprise
That tears of grief had risen to his black and mournful eyes.
"'Tis Israel," he faltered, "God's chosen race of old—
The precious sons of Zion have wandered from His fold.
Jehovah's heart is breaking for a world that's lost in sin—
He has sent me to beseech men to return and enter in."
I pondered who this prophet was, but could not well inquire,
For those great dark eyes were on me, and I felt their searching fire.
Then I heard his voice lamenting—crying, wailing, deep with woe,
And I knew 'twas Jeremiah, dead long centuries ago.
And I sought to touch his garment, but he vanished quite away,
Though I tried in vain to find him, in the fading light of day.
Then the ivory palace faded, and the bell no longer tolled,
And I shivered in the dimness, for the air was growing cold.
But I knew my eyes had seen him—long, gray beard, and long gray hair—
Long black robe and long black ear-rings, and a face of black despair.
—Oh, I never could have dreamed it; I was wide awake, I know.
When I listened in the sunset to that man of long ago,
And I'm sure I heard distinctly, with these wondering ears of mine,
Jeremiah's lamentations, by a well in Palestine.
Then later, when a crescent moon had sent down her silvery light—
I met another prophet in the starlit hall of night—
His beard was short and tawny, like strands of golden rope,
His radiant face was beaming, and his eyes were wells of hope.
His voice was clear and resonant; he cried, "Oh, hear ye, now!—
A virgin shall conceive and bear, and every knee shall bow—
For unto us a Babe shall come, an holy child be given—
The Lord of Hosts, to save the world, will send His Son from Heaven
To preach good tidings to the meek—to comfort those who mourn,
To liberate the captives and bring joy to the forlorn—
The Lord God hath anointed Him the broken hearts to mend,
And to His reign upon this earth, there shall not be an end.
And He shall feed His sheep, and lift the young lambs in His arms.
There, warm and safe, they shall abide—secure from all alarms."
And He shall be called Wonderful and Counsellor and Prince,
And when He stands before the court, He shall not weep nor wince
—Beneath the whip His back is bowed—He doth not scream aloud—
But as a sheep is mute and dumb, when shearing season now is come—
So openeth He not His lips, nor makes reply to jesting quips—
For our transgressions He is bruised, and wounded for our sins.
He beareth mankind's griefs and mankind's pardon shall He win."
"O, prophet of the radiant face, what is thy name?" I said—
He answered back, "'Isaiah," then through the night he fled.
The constant stars were shining still; the moon was riding high,
The wind was in the olive trees, and pale clouds hurried by.
I knew I had not dreamed it,—one doesn't dream that way—

One has to be awake to hear the words of the prophet say.
I mused a lengthy moment in that weird, uncertain light,
For I knew I'd met Isaiah in the starlit hall of night.
But years rolled by and centuries passed, and still no Savior came;
No Son of God was sent from Heaven to glorify His name!
This world was lost in sorrow and pain were deep in sin,
There seemed no time, there seemed no place for Christ to enter in.
No blessed Babe was born to rule, no Holy Child appeared;
Until a king sat on the throne, whom all the people feared,
—A king who studied cruel ways to bring men to their knees—
Who, from his stony palaces, sent out his bold decrees.
"For it came as pain to those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all in the world should be taxed, and all went to be taxed—every one to his own city, and Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, to be taxed with Mary, his espoused wife, being great with child.—And so it was that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered, and she brought forth her first born Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger, for there was no room for them in the inn."
A manger,—cold and rough and dim,
Was all they had to shelter Him.
No fleecy blankets, warm and neat,
No wool to wrap His baby feet,
No candles burning, tall and straight
No cozy fire in a grate.
The mystery and majesty that came with Christ to earth,
Hung in the air, like angels fair, the night that gave Him birth.
That stable was a sacred place, deep peace shone in the Mother's face,
And round the Babe's manger-bed, the radiance of God was shed.
It seemed the world was standing still, no cattle moving on the hill,
No noising tread of camels' feet, no people walking in the street;
There came no sighing of the breeze, no wild wind through the olive trees.
The snow had laid white carpet down, the moon was beaming on the town,
And wintry stars, like crystals bright, shone through the silent, Holy night.
"and there, in the same country, shepherds, abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night,—and lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid, but the angel said unto them, "Fear not, for I bring you good tidings of exceeding great joy, which shall be to all people,—for unto us is born this day in the City of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord,—and this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger."
"and suddenly, there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, goodwill toward men"—and it came to pass when the angels were gone away from them into heaven that the shepherds said, one to another, "Let us now go, even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us,"—and they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the young child lying in a manger.
"and now, when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the King, behold there came wise men from the East, saying, "Where is He that is born King of the Jews, for we have seen His star in the East and are come to worship Him.—And lo, the star which they saw in the East went before them, until it came and stood over the place where the young child was.—And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."
In heavenly peace, the baby rests—oblivious of his shepherd guards,
Oblivious of the Wise Men Three, at ease, as only babes can be—
And something in His cherub pose reminds us of a glowing rose.
A rose whose charm pervades the room, a rose which evermore shall bloom.
And when the East was pink with dawn, the Wise Men and the shepherds gone,
The angels came once more to sing of glory to the new-born King.
Thus came the Child of Prophecy, the promised Prince of Peace.
The Holy Son of Holy God, whose reign shall never cease.
The Child of whom Isaiah talked as in the starlit night he walked,
The Child that Jeremiah said would wear a crown upon His head.
The Gentle Christ of Nazareth, who preached by Galilee, who stretched forth loving arms and said, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. . . . Take my yoke upon you and learn of Me, for I am meek and lowly of heart, and ye shall find rest on duty on "Santa Claus Lane," on the third floor of the store, is the most popular spot in town. For the small-tray, that is. There he is on his red leather throne. Passing out gifts to one and all who come to him to leave their orders for Christmas morning. He gets some odd ones, and, with the assurance of the true Christmas spirit, he tells them all that he will fill all orders.

OVERHEARD on a street corner as Santa Claus sauntered down West Main street: Said a local citizen: "It might be well to bear in mind that when Uncle Sam plays Santa Claus, it's the taxpayer who holds the bag."
THIS WEEK we have turned over our entire editorial columns to Dottie. We commend what is there to you at this Christmas time.
TWO FORMER Statesboro citizens hit M. L. St. John's column in The Atlantic Constitution last Sunday. Grady Simmons, recently appointed special investigator for the Revenue Department, and Francis Allen, aide to Governor Herman Talbot.
St. John writes that "the investigating work for the liquor probes is being done by Lark Bragg, auditor, under supervision of Assistant Attorney General GRADY SIMMONS. Bragg, an income tax specialist, will turn his attention more and more to income tax crackdowns as the liquor situation clears up. Revenue Commissioner Charlie Redwine says that the major conspirators in the illicit liquor trade have been put out of business. The department's regular liquor unit, headed by B. I. Gilbert, is assuming more of the duties of summoning liquor dealers to hearings on charges of violating the laws."

There is a story in this week's Herald about Grady's appointment as special investigator to succeed Claude Shaw, who resigned the job to accept a Fulton Superior Court judgeship.
St. John writes of Francis, "Assistant State Purchasing Agent 'Buddy' Pearlman, of Americus, quite a prankster himself, had to do a bit of fast thinking when Governor's aide FRANCIS ALLEN, of Statesboro, entrapped him. Allen summoned newsmen to a meeting in a tightly sealed box marked 'Highly Confidential.' He tipped them that the Governor's office was sending this information to Pearlman in the Purchasing Agent's office, and that they might be able to get a hot story from Pearlman when he received it. "Buddy" tore open the package. To his chagrin, he found it contained only a few pamphlets entitled, "How to Control Beetles, Etc." Hiding the contents from view, he assumed an air of importance and told newsmen: "This story is not ready for publication."

All's Fair --- by Jane

"Jingle Bells" and Santa Claus, give us little time to pause for dancing merrily and gifts galore; holly wreaths on every door.
'Tis the nicest time of all the year, packed with loads of fun and Christmas cheer.
PROBABLY never before has every one entered so heartily into decorating homes for Christmas. Lullie Smith probably leads the list as one who lavishly decorates throughout the whole house, followed by Bill Carr, who clings to a blue color motif. Dot Knight's Christmas tree is pink. She used a gallon of paint in a "Fill" gun and is a little dubious about the result. But with the color and the other greenery are also pink. Her house, which may be classified as ultra-modern in architecture, combines beauty with comfort and coziness in any body's house, has a triangular sort of fireplace jutting out in the room. Burning logs gave just the right note of cheeriness needed on dark days, even though you have heat—and, speaking of heat . . . well that modern, too, and with my limited knowledge of physics, etc. I make this plain statement: A deep unto your souls. . . . Peace I leave with you, My peace, I give unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."
So ring the bells of earth tonight, strike up the harps of Heaven,
For unto us at Bethlehem, this precious Christ is given,
Let tongues awake, let mortals sing, let banners be unfurled,
Peal forth the Song of Peace on Earth, and Joy to all the World.

Miss Mattie's Playhouse Has Party
On Friday morning of last week members of Miss Mattie's playhouse had their Christmas exercises. They dramatized the stories of the birth of Christ; stories of the trip to Bethlehem and the Babe in the manger; and shepherds and the Wise Men.
Miss Mattie Lively was the narrator as the scenes were played by the light of the "star" and the light in the "manger."
Following the exercises gifts were exchanged at the Christmas tree.

Entered as second-class matter January 31, 1946, at the post office at Statesboro, Ga., under Act of March 3rd, 1879.

Churches of Statesboro will observe Christmas Day with their regular services, with most of them combining Sunday School with the morning worship hour.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
The First Presbyterian Church will hold the Christmas morning service at 10 a.m. The Sunday School and church service will be combined from 10 to 11 o'clock. Pastor T. L. Harmerberg states that "our service will unite in singing Christmas hymns, anthems by the choir, Scripture readings, and meditation, rejoicing in the coming of the Savior of the World. We have found the Messiah, which is Christ the Lord."

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Pastor John Lough announces only one service at the Methodist Church. He states that "the service will begin at 11 o'clock and last for one hour. It is hoped that the families of the church will make this service a part of their Christmas devotions." 9:11 p.m. there will be a brief Christmas devotion.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST CHURCH
Pastor V. F. Agan, of Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church, announces the regular Sunday School schedule, 10:15 Bible Study; 11:30 a.m. and morning worship. He quotes from Matthew 2:11 "And when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts." He adds, "So may we present to Him our bodies a living sacrifice in service. A cordial welcome to all."

LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. Paul G. Langer, of Savannah, who is serving as pastor for the recently established Lutheran church here, announces the Lutheran Christmas Day services for 6 p.m. at the First Presbyterian

"TATER" RUCKER has a new version of "Knock, knock, who's there."

One day last week "Tater" heard a rapping at his front door. Mrs. Rucker, the head of the house, answered the door. No one there. The rapping continued.

Looking about she saw there on the front porch a red-headed woodpecker shelling pecan. Then she saw him fly with them to a high location on the porch where he stored them for his Christmas. That's what "Tater" loves.

Troop 40 Has Christmas Party

A joyous occasion was the Troop 40 Boy Scouts of America Christmas party Monday night in the basement of the Statesboro Baptist Church.

A Sunday school class of 10-year-old boys were special guests. Gifts were exchanged and were handed out from a lovely Christmas tree.

MISS VERA RICHARDSON IS BRIDE OF EDGAR WYNN

Miss Vera Jeanette Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zuna B. Richardson, of LaFayette, Ga., became the bride of Edgar Harry Wynn, of Portal, at 5 o'clock, December 20.

The bride was attractively attired in a navy suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was a purple-throated orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining room, where a tiered wedding cake was featured on the lace-covered table.

The bride is a graduate of LaFayette High School, West Georgia Teachers College, Statesboro, and has done graduate work at Georgia Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

After a short wedding trip the couple will reside in Statesboro, where Mr. Wynn is engaged in farming.

MISS ANDERSON Miss Jerona Anderson whose marriage to Loid Glenn Morris will take place at an early date, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Felton Neville.

Serving as hostesses with Mrs. Neville were the bride-elect's aunts, Mrs. Homer Holland and Mrs. Lee Holland.

Christmas decorations of red, green, and silver were used throughout the home.

In bingo games, prizes were won by Mrs. Ernest Rackley, Mrs. Gordon Mays, Mrs. Cliff Bradley, Mrs. H. I. Anderson and Miss Anderson.

A delicious salad course with coffee was served. About 25 guests were present.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER A lovely event of Wednesday evening was a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Jerona Anderson, a bride-elect, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Pyle.

The living room was decorated with poinsettia and pyracantha berries in the dining room where the many beautiful gifts were displayed.

The table cover was a hand-crocheted table cloth made by the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Nolon Trahan of Houma, La. The decoration was a small Christmas tree.

Sandwiches, pound cake and Coca Colas were served. Those assisting Mrs. Pyle were Mrs. D. G. White, Miss Jiney Allen and Mrs. J. H. Hulst.

50 guests called during the evening.

The Second Verse Was Better When The Band Played a Christmas Concert

As Band Presents Xmas Concert. The first verse came as a surprise to Statesboro High School Band Director Guyton McLendon. The second verse came as a surprise to the auditorium - filled with music lovers and friends of the members of the band. The annual Christmas concert of the Blue Devils band last Sunday in the grammar school auditorium was about over. The brass choir had played "O Come All Ye Faithful" and had sounded its "A" before beginning "O Town of Bethlehem." When they had completed the selection Director McLendon, in his surprise, announced to the audience that "that was the first verse," now we'll play the second verse.

The 'Santa Express' Runs On Time, Says Lannie Simmons, 'President'

The Santa Claus Express is back on schedule this year, according to Lannie F. Simmons, president of the "Christmas Railway Company," and Chief Engineer Horace McDougald. The program included "The Golden Bears," by Yoder; "The Prince and the Pea" by Taylor; "Under the Big Top" by Yoder; "Military Escort" by Bennett; drum solo by Donald Flanders; "Rolling Accents" by Buggart; "Russian Chorus" by Tchaikovsky; and a group of Christmas carols. Supt. S. H. Sherman greeted the audience and commended the band on its excellent progress this year. This train operates in three sections, with all three sections going all the time—except when Engineer McDougald is on strike and President Simmons will not meet his wage increase, and pension plan demands.

All children in this community are invited to watch Santa Claus Express as it whizzes by the station. When it stops, an unknown, who has been hired by President Simmons, sounds off, "All aboard for New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, and all points West." (The writer's private opinion is that the voice is fouled up.) The illusion is perfect. Engineer McDougald sits in a comfortable seat and operates all three trains. He blows the whistles, puffs the smoke, operates the ferris wheel, switches the trains. And all the kids have a wonderful time.

Banks, 1st Federal Play Santa Claus

Three of Statesboro's financial institutions, the Bulloch County Bank, the Sea Island Bank, and the First Federal Savings & Loan Association played Santa Claus to the citizens of this community this and last week.

The Bulloch County Bank issued check dividends of 10 per cent on their capital stock on December 17. Notice will be given later of the annual stockholders meeting. The Sea Island Bank declared a 10 per cent dividend payable as of record on December 15. The annual stockholders meeting of this bank will be held tomorrow, December 23, at a dinner meeting at the Norris Hotel.

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association held its directors meeting last Friday. They had already declared a three per cent per annum dividend and checks went out on Monday of this week. The annual meeting of the association's members will be held on January 18.

The warmth of spirit that accompanies every Christmas season is with us again in 1949. Our wish is that you can participate to the fullest in a universal MERRY CHRISTMAS

POWER OF ATTORNEY
GEORGIA, Bulloch County. Know All Men by These Presents: That I, Mrs. W. S. Prestorius, have constituted, made and appointed and by these presents do make, constitute and appoint Fred T. Lanier, Sr., of Statesboro, Georgia, said county, my true and lawful attorney in fact, for me and in my name to do, execute and perform, as largely and amply, to all intents and purposes, as I might or could do if I were personally present; hereby ratifying and confirming all that Fred T. Lanier, Sr., said attorney or substitute shall lawfully do by virtue hereof.

I further authorize the said Fred T. Lanier, Sr., as attorney for me to sue for, and receive all debts, notes, securities for money, goods, chattels, legacies, or other personal property to which I am now or may hereafter become entitled, or which are now or may become due, owing, or payable to me from any person or persons whatsoever, and in my name to give effectual receipts and discharges for the same.

I further authorize and appoint my said attorney to pay or deposit monies in my name, or otherwise, with any bank, banker, broker, or other agent, to draw out such monies from time to time, and to apply the same as my attorney shall deem best, or from time to time to sell, vary and dispose of such investments, and to apply the purchase-moneys in any manner whatsoever to the discretion of my said attorney.

Said attorney is further authorized to execute vouchers in my behalf for any and all allowances made and for any and all amounts received by him from the collection of notes, accounts, checks, rents, security deeds, or any other evidence of debt of any and all kind.

Nothing is to be sold or charged to me in my name unless authorized by me in person and approved by my said attorney in fact.

In the exercise of power of attorney herein given no checks on any bank or fund are to be paid except upon the endorsement and approval of said power of attorney and no payment of any money that might now or hereafter be due me is to be paid to any other person except attorney above named and all parties indebted to me in any manner whatever are hereby authorized and directed to make payment to the said Fred T. Lanier, Sr., as my attorney in fact.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 19th day of December, 1949.

Judge Cunningham and I were discussing this and that over a friendly glass of beer and we touched on my pet peeve—censorship. "I hate censorship in any form," I say. "It's a threat to freedom." But the Judge shook his head. "There's one form of censorship you approve," he said, "and that's self-censorship—playing fair when the referee isn't looking. The biggest threat to freedom is simply the misuse of it."

The Judge was right. Take the Brewer's Program of Self-Regulation. The Brewers and tavern keepers themselves co-operate in seeing that taverns are kept clean and law-abiding. They know that the only real threat to our freedom—and right—to enjoy a friendly glass of temperate beer when and if we choose, will come simply from any abuse of the privilege.

From where I sit, it never pays to start talking to many liberties with our rights and liberties. It does pay, though, to use a little "common censorship."

FARM BUREAU

There will be no drastic changes recommended in the national farm legislation in 1950 if the resolutions passed last week in Chicago at the national Farm Bureau meeting can be used as a guide. H. L. Wingate, Georgia president, was president of the resolution committee that he would continue to fight for a full 90 percent support program on the floor of Congress during the next session and that he had lots of support from other southern states for such legislation.

Some 8,000 farmers from every section of the United States attended the thirty-first annual meet last week. There were 13 from Bulloch county in Chicago for the week. Outstanding speakers, or the ones most enjoyed by the Bulloch county group, were Congressman Gore of Tennessee, Eric Johnston, president of Motion Picture Association, Congressman Monroney of Oklahoma, Senator Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, and Paul G. Hoffman, ECA administrator.

The weather ranged from a degree below zero to about 14 degrees above all week. This kept the local group close by the Stevens Hotel, the world's largest, with more than 3,000 rooms. One group from the county, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Rushing, drew the twenty-fourth floor. They had no elevator troubles, though, since there were 15 serving the hotel. These elevators move too fast for most of the

DINNER PARTY GIVEN FOR MINKOVITZ EMPLOYEES

The firm members of H. Minkovitz and Sons were hosts at a dinner Wednesday night at Sewell House. Beautiful decorations were used on the table and in the rooms thrown together for the occasion. All employees and their husbands and wives were present.

Guests were served a bounteous dinner of turkey and cranberries, peas and asparagus en casserole, hot rolls, fruitcake, and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Minkovitz, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. H. Minkovitz, of Savannah; and Mr. and Mrs. The Minkovitz were firm members present.

STATESBORO SWINGS, SWAYS

On Friday evening the Rhythm Club Dance Club held their annual holiday dance, with each member inviting a guest for the occasion, making sixty couples in all. Yuletide scenes and Christmas greetings gave a festive appearance to the Country Club. Presiding at the coffee services were Mrs. Charles Cluff Jr. and Mrs. Hugh Arundel Tomala, assisted by Misses Sallie and Pennie Allen.

On Tuesday evening the Dutch Club claimed the Country Club for a brilliant Christmas dinner. Mrs. group from here to enjoy the ride.

The Bulloch county group visited many museums in Chicago, the stock yards, the grain exchange, the many large department stores, saw the Bears and Cards football game, packing plants, the breakfast club where Mr. R. P. Mikel interviewed on why Chicago didn't serve grits, and other points of interest, including major theatres and night clubs.

R. P. Mikel was named one of Georgia's six voting delegates to replace Mr. Wingate, who had to return a day early. Miss Henrietta Hall and Mrs. Mikel were voting delegates in the Associated Women's meetings.

The 1950 convention will be in Dallas, Texas, and Bulloch county will be well represented there.

OGEECHEE

E. Shaw was renamed president of the Ogeechee Farm Bureau for next year, along with other officers who served during 1949. V. Simmons, vice president, and D. B. Franklin Jr., secretary.

H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, and A. S. Dodd, one of the county representatives, met with the Ogeechee group and discussed the many phases of the county's educational program and problems.

REGISTER

The Register Farm Bureau voted to organize an associated women's chapter in connection with their Farm Bureau, planning to follow almost the same system as is used at Brooklet, where the men and women generally hold separate meetings.

The ladies of the Brooklet organization meet and dine with the men only for special programs, two or three times yearly. Most chapters have the men and women together for their suppers and hold separate sessions for business and programs.

EUSELIAN S. S. CLASS HAS SUNDAY SCHOOL PARTY

The lovely home of Mrs. E. A. Smith, teacher of the Euzelian Class of the Baptist Church Sunday School, was the scene of an elaborate Christmas party Thursday evening. Ninety-seven were present.

Mrs. Kermit Carr is the class president.

A color motif of red and white was adhered to throughout the home, which was enlivened by the annual party. Red and white magnolia leaves, legumin berries and Christmas bells and wreaths tied with red satin bows, combined beautifully over windows and mantels. The table in the dining room had a centerpiece of red and white carnations in a silver bowl placed on a reflector on which camellias were arranged. Red ribbon streamers extended from the central decoration and formed bows at each corner of the table. The guests enjoyed a bounteous dinner and later gathered around the Christmas tree in the living room, where gifts were exchanged.

Rev. John Burch, of Claxton, acted as Santa Claus and Mrs. John Burch played the piano as the party ended with the singing of Christmas carols.

BROOKLET

By Mrs. John A. Robertson

MCCORMICK-SMITH

The marriage of Miss Ethel McCormick and Harry Smith took place last Sunday morning, December 18, at 9 o'clock at the parsonage of the Bull Street Baptist Church in Savannah, Rev. Searcy S. Garrison, D.D., performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride was dressed in a navy going-away suit, with pink and navy accessories. Her corsage was a purple-throated orchid. Immediately after, the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to various points in Florida.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. McCormick Sr. and the late Mr. McCormick. For a number of years she has been a member of the Brooklet High School faculty.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Joshua Smith and the late Mr. Smith. For some time he has been an employee at Phebus Motor Co. Upon their return from Florida they will continue to make their home in Brooklet.

Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCormick Sr. and the late Mr. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith and Miss Annie Laurie McElveen of Brooklet.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Alderman and Miss Eugenia Alderman of Atlanta will spend this week end in Albany with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodall.

Mrs. H. F. Hendrix and Harry McCormick left Wednesday for Knoxville, Tenn., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hendrix.

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Watkins left Sunday for Ellijay to spend a few days with Dr. and Mrs. Ed Watkins. From Ellijay they will go to Athens, Tenn., to spend the holidays with Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cromley and Miss Ann Cromley will visit Mr. and Mrs. David Jeffords in Sylvester during the holidays.

Mrs. F. C. Rozier entertained the little boys and girls of her Sunday School Class at her home Wednesday afternoon. After playing games, Mrs. Rozier served the group party refreshments.

Members of the Young Adult Class of the Baptist Sunday School enjoyed a pre-Christmas party on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. W. O. Denmark. The teacher of the class is Mrs. W. W. Mann. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served.

Miss Jill Bryant, of Fairmont-Casements, Ormond Beach, Fla., Jack Bryan of Teachers College; and James Bryan of Medical College, Augusta, are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Warnock left today (Thursday) for Atlanta to spend several days at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Murray Warnock. They will be joined there by their children, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Watson of Lithonia, and William Warnock, New York.

The following town officers have been elected to serve as town officers for 1950: Mayor, H. M. Robertson; Councilmen, H. G. Parrish, T. E. Evans, J. L. Minick, D. R. Lee, and D. L. Alderman.

Mr. and Mrs. William McElveen of Savannah were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McElveen. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilkins are spending several days with relatives in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenwood McElveen and baby will spend the holidays with relatives in Atlanta.

Friday afternoon Mrs. A. H. Morris, Mrs. M. S. Brannen, and Mrs. Paul Lanier entertained with a lovely miscellaneous dinner in honor of Mrs. James Rogers, a recent bride, at the home of Mrs. Morris. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Morris who introduced them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Brannen, Mrs. James Rogers, Mrs. Hershal Lee and Mrs. Russ Rogers. The hostess in the dining room was Mrs. H. R. Rising of New York.

A salad course, with coffee, arranged by Mrs. John C. Barnes and Mrs. Ben Joyner, was served by Misses Barbara Griffith, Betty Snider, Bertie Mae Barnes and Jene Joyner. The hostesses in the gift room were Mrs. Moore. The bride's register was in charge of Mrs. John Belcher.

Friday night members of the Mayfield Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church had a lovely Christmas party at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hinton. The rooms were decorated with holly and other Christmas greens.

John A. Robertson, teacher of the class, read the Christmas Story, which was interspersed with the singing of Christmas carols by the group, under the direction of Mrs. W. D. Lee and Mrs. Joe Ingram. Christmas games were in charge of Mrs. Lee. Gifts were exchanged and Mrs. W. R. Wilkins, class president, presented a lovely gift from the entire class to the teacher, Mrs. Robertson. Fruitcake, hot tea, and candies were served by Mrs. Jesse Grooms, Mrs. Wilkins, and Mrs. H. H. Ryals. Others present were Mrs. W. B. Parrish, Mrs. J. N. Rushing, Mrs. Lester Bland, Mrs. Raymond Post, Mrs. J. H. Griffith, Mrs. E. C. Watkins, Mrs. R. R. Brisenidine, Mrs. A. C. Wallis, Mrs. Lee Rowe, Mrs. C. E. Williams, Mrs. L. C. Dr. John Mooney Is 1950 Commerce Head

Dr. John Mooney is the 1950 president of the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce.

He was elected at the regular meeting of that civic organization on Tuesday of last week. He will assume office on January 1.

To serve with him, M. E. Alderman was named first vice president; L. A. Waters, second vice president; H. J. Ellis, third vice president, and Byron Dyer was re-elected secretary.

Dr. Mooney is an active member of the Chamber of Commerce, having served as a vice president during the past three years. He announced at the last meeting that he would have his committee ready to name at the first meeting in go the year on January 3.

Walter Aldred, retiring president, reviewed the activities of the Chamber of Commerce during 1949 and asked the club's cooperation with the new officers. He will serve during 1950 as chairman of the steering committee.

Rites Held Wed. For Hamp Lester

Hamilton Potter Ester, beloved Statesboro citizen, died at a local hospital here Monday afternoon following a lengthy illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church with Rev. T. L. Harnberger, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial was in the East Side Cemetery.

Hamp Lester was a native of Statesboro, the son of the late R. F. and Talulah Everett Lester. He was known for his kindness and fine character and it has been said of him that he never uttered an unkind word about anyone or anything.

Mr. Lester is survived by four sisters, Mrs. L. C. Mason of Durham, N. C., Miss Eunice Lester of Statesboro, Mrs. E. L. McLeod of Orlando, Fla., and Mrs. L. B. Sewell of Atlanta; four brothers, Dan B. Lester of Statesboro, Hugh Lester of Charlotte, N. C., Mack B. Lester of Statesboro, and Fleming Lester of Amite, La. Pallbearers were James R. Mason of Florence, S. C., Ray Fraser of Atlanta, Dan Lester Jr. of Augusta, Frank B. Lester of Macon, Everett Williams and R. J. Kennedy Jr.

Mr. Lester was one of the first in Bulloch county to help develop a Farm Bureau and was his own community's first president. He was a member of his board of education for 10 years and served as a member of the County A. A. A. committee for a number of years. He was instrumental in helping to extend rural telephone service to his community.

Mr. Holloway was sponsored by the Dexter Allen Post No. 90 of the American Legion.

George C. Hagins was elected warden; Otis Garvin, junior warden; Frank Smith, treasurer; Josh T. Nesmith, secretary. L. P. Moore, Tyler; Maurice Brannen, senior deacon; Roy Smith, junior deacon; Hughie McCormick, senior steward; H. C. Helmly, junior steward.

B. B. Morris, past worshipful master, installed the new officers.

One By One They March In Precision

It's like watching some new and fascinating toy. But there the illusion ends.

For it fills one corner of a large building here in Statesboro and its cost puts it out of the toy class.

It is the new bottling equipment at the Statesboro Coca-Cola Bottling Company on South Main Street.

Recently completed, it is one of the most modern bottling plants in the nation, according to J. P. Harbour, manager.

From the second the empty, dirty bottles are removed from the crates until the filled bottles are created, no human hand touches the operation. Every fifteen minutes 1,200 dirty bottles go through three special washing solutions varying from 105 to 160 degrees. While in the washing machine, a spray of hot water under a pressure of 30 pounds is forced into

Foremost Dairies Name J. W. Brown

Announcement is made this week by H. P. Quillian, Savannah manager of the Foremost Dairies, that Joe W. Brown, of Statesboro, has been appointed distributor for the Statesboro, Swainsboro, Metter and Milledgeville areas for that company.

Mr. Brown's dairy experience is wide and he comes here with many years with the Foremost Dairies.

"His appointment here as a distributor," said Mr. Quillian, "means greater distribution and expanded services to the citizens of this section."

Mr. Brown states that the full line of Foremost products, in the new, modern, sanitary paper containers, will be distributed in this territory. The line includes the milk, both homogenized and pasteurized; butter, milk, whipping cream, coffee cream, and the "Green Spot" orange drink.

Mr. Brown and Mrs. Brown live on College Boulevard.

Mr. Arthur H. Blount, of the Foremost Distributing Company, together with his family, live on North College Street.

STATESBORO CHURCHES TO OBSERVE New Year at Regular Services

A New Year is upon us, with new duties, new conflicts, new trials, new opportunities. Start on the journey with Jesus—to walk with Him, win souls for Him. Let it be a year of freedom from sin, of service, of trust in God, and it will be a happy one. To these ends it is important that we feel our dependence upon Him.

The Statesboro churches, with the exception of the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church, plan special New Year's services for Sunday.

Elder V. F. Agan will be serving his church in Metter on that day but the church will observe its regular Bible study service at 10:15 New Year's morning. The Youth Fellowship Hour will be at 6:30 p.m.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Pastor George Loyell, of the First Baptist Church, announces a Watch Night Service at the church New Year's Eve, beginning at 9 o'clock. From 9:00 to 9:45 there will be a baptismal service; 9:45 to 10:30, hymn fest and testimonial service (department heads presenting plans for coming year); 10:30 to 10:45, organ meditations by Jack Averitt; 10:45 to 11:00, devotional services by the pastor.

In addition to the new sanctuary, plans call for the expansion of the educational departments.

The church holds an option and expects to purchase this week a lot on West Main in anticipation of the beginning of a Bible School program for the citizens in the western section of Statesboro.

EVERETT WILLIAMS has been appointed a member of the Georgia Citizens Committee to study the problems of education in the state. He was named by Dr. O. C. Williams, president of the Georgia Education Association. Others in the First District named with Mr. Williams are R. M. Ryan, Hinesville; Mrs. Samuel Varredon, Savannah; J. Henry Howard, Sylvester; Jim L. Olin Jr., Soperton; Burton Franklin, Metter; and O. G. Price, Swainsboro.

W. H. SMITH JR., member of the Board of Directors of the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation has been notified of the board's first meeting in 1950 to be held in Macon, Georgia, January 3 and 4.

Dr. Stubbs states that boys from 8 years to 11 are invited to join Cub Pack 32, and from from 11 to 15 are invited to join Troop 32.
