Psalm lvi 3

What time I am Afraid; I Will Trust In Thee

Surely none are so full of cares, or so poor in gifts, that to them also, waiting patiently and trustfully on God for His daily commands, He will not give direct ministry for Him, increasing according to their strength and their desire. There is so much to be set right in the world, there are so many to be led and helped and comforted, that we must continually come in contact with such in our daily life. Let us only take care, that by the glance being turned inward, or strained, or lost in vacant reverie, we do not miss our turn of service, and pass by those to whom we might have been sent on an errand straight from God.—Ellabeth Charles.

Elder Agan's inspirational for this week is: "This month shall be unto you the beginning of months; it shall be the first month of the year to you," said the Lord to old Israel when He led them out of Egypt's bondage.—Exodus, 12:2. To show the new models of the Chevrolet line, Mr. Franklin states that they will hold open house all day Saturday. 4,743 In Bulloch Filed '48 Ad Valorem Returns

A. S. Dodd Jr., one of Bulloch county's two representatives in the Georgia Legislature, told members of the Bulloch County League of Women Voters that of the approximately 13,000 citizens of Bulloch county over 21 years of age, only 4,743 made an ad valorem tax return in 1949.

Donald Kearney Is First '50 Baby

With whistles sounding and fireworks popping, young Ronald Wayne Kearney came into this world.

1950 was only five minutes old when young Ronald was born at the Bulloch County Hospital.

He is the first baby of 1950.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kearney, of 236 South College street. He tipped the scales at 7 pounds, 13 ounces when born. He and his family are doing well, thank you!

Speaking in an open forum at the Bulloch County Library Tuesday night of this week, Representative Dodd presented a dreary picture of the muddled state of the present tax system of Georgia.

He is a strong advocate of tax revision for the state.

In revealing the figures on the number of tax returns made by Bulloch county citizens he pointed out that of the approximately 7,900 white citizens in the county over 21 years of age, only 3,780 made an ad valorem tax return. Of the approximately 4,900 Negroes over 21, only 963 made ad valorem tax returns.

In Georgia, he stated that over 1,200,000 citizens do not file such a return. Of the state's 3,000,000 population approximately 2,000,000 are over 21 and, of this number, only 538,000 whites and 200,000 Negroes filed returns.

He scored the present method of tax assessment and the methods used in valuing property for tax purposes. "If you are a good horse-trader you can get along," he suggested. He pointed out that it would take one person, working full time, or several well trained persons, working full time, to properly check and inspect property in order to assess it on an equitable basis.

The present method of making tax returns, of making valuations, of assessing taxes is "unequitable and unfair in every respect," he said. His statement received the hearty applause of his listeners.

Open discussion followed Representative Dodd's general statement.

Representative A. J. Trapnell was also present at the meeting. Mrs. W. W. Edge presided.

Veterans May Still Ask for Dividend

Important information affecting all veterans who have applied for National Service Life Insurance and have not received acknowledgment cards from the bureau which has been set up in Washington to pay these dividends was released today by William K. Barrett, director of the State Department of Veterans Service.

Barrett's statement is quoted below:

"Veterans who have failed to receive their acknowledgment cards within 30 days after they mailed them, are advised to fill out and mail in another application. In so doing, they should write the word 'Duplicate' on each of the two sections of the card. Failure to receive an acknowledgment card from the V.A. could have been due either to the fact that the veteran failed to write his complete address on his application, or he moved after mailing it and failed to notify his post office of his new mailing address. It is possible also in some instances that his card became lost in handling or processing."

Barrett advised all veterans who did not receive acknowledgment cards to call at the local Veterans Service Office, where they will receive the necessary forms and will be aided in making re-application. The Veterans Service Office in this area is located at Statesboro, Ga.

Barrett advised all veterans who did not receive acknowledgment cards to call at the local Veterans Service Office, where they will receive the necessary forms and will be aided in making re-application. The Veterans Service Office in this area is located at Statesboro, Ga.

We'll Scream and Tear Out Our Hair!

LET'S FORGET, for a while, 1949—the income tax man won't let us forget it long, anyway. Let's go out on a limb on 1950. You can always crawl back if it looks as if it were going to break or if someone were going to saw it off between you and the tree. We just want to go on record on some of the things we are going to scream and tear our hair about during this new year. Their order here is no indication of the importance they hold in our book. We would like to see that meat inspection ordinance put on the city ordinance books. The reaction set up in the minds of many people of Statesboro following our editorial recently indicates that there is a definite desire on the part of the meat consumer for such an ordinance. Several said, "I don't believe I can ever eat another piece of meat." Our people deserve the protection afforded by such an ordinance. We fail to understand why it has been held up. If it be the cost of administration, the cost of the inspection, we feel sure that the consumer would pay an extra fraction of a cent per pound for the assurance of the top quality of his piece of meat.

We would like to see more protection for our business citizenry from plan handlers and hand-out specialists. Hardly a day passes but some person from out of the county goes in and out of the business houses in Statesboro begging... without a license. We would like to see it mandatory for a person begging to have to appear before the chief of police, or a committee of the Chamber of Commerce, or the City Council, and give reason why he should beg on the streets of Statesboro. A check should be made to see if the "begger" is receiving a pension or old age assistance or cripple assistance from state, federal, or county welfare agencies. If the "begger" is thought to be "worthy" then let him be issued a badge for which he pays a fee.

We would like to see our business houses protected from "finerant" businesses. People who blow into town, work it, and blow out of town taking local dollars. Street and hotel lobby photographers are an example. Door-to-door and telephone cosmetic salesmen representing lines competing with local drug stores which pay local taxes, and contribute to community progress. Citizens could cooperate with the city authorities by notifying the mayor or the chief of police when such "characters" solicit their business. City ordinance could make it mandatory that such "finerant" businesses obtain a license, or get out of town.

We would like to see a modern zoning law adopted, creating clear - cut areas which may be designated as business, industrial and residential, so that citizens, businessmen, and industry who contemplate purchase of property will know what they may build. We would like to see a report of "The State of the City and County" published annually that the citizens of our community will know "how we're getting along," in our progress march and on our financial status. We would like to see the minutes of our city council and county commissioners published, keeping our citizens informed of what goes on in their monthly meetings and special call meetings. We would like to see the city create a department to beautify the streets and park areas of Statesboro. This is now being carried on by individual property owners, in cooperation with the city engineer. But a department should work on long-range plans that there might be some order in the process of city-wide beautification.

We would like to see parking on only one side of the North Main and South Main streets in the business section of the city. With the U.S. 301 and U.S. 25 north-south traffic growing by leaps and bounds it is becoming a major problem along these two streets. Not just a parking problem, but also a traffic flow problem.

We would like to see the "right-turn on red light" at the traffic light in the center of town abandoned. It's a traffic hazard as it is now "not observed."

We would like to see the speed laws enforced, especially at the school zone at the intersection of South Main and Grady streets. A recent spot check there before the Christmas holidays revealed that as soon as Traffic Officer "Tuck" leaves his post there, traffic picks up its speed, with no regard to the school traffic sign standing in the middle of the street to protect the stragglers, late to school.

We would like to see a traffic control light located there at the intersection of South Main and Grady streets. Traffic on Grady street trying to get into the South Main traffic flow is now trapped.

We would like to see the city-county radio network put back into full operation. We would like to see a system of electing our city councilmen on a basis that all sections of the city be given representation. Our present council consists of two councilmen living across the street from each other on one street; two other councilmen living across the street from each other on another street in the same section of the city. This leaves the west and east sections with no representatives on the city council.

There are many other things we would like to see done in Statesboro and Bulloch county in 1950, and we'll scream and tear out hair about them from week to week. Year 1950 can be wonderful for Statesboro and Bulloch county.

We have no illusions about the fulfillment of our "would-likes." We are aware that Statesboro will get along just about as well in 1950 as she did in 1949. And in spite of every drag that is exerted in her March of Progress.

Here's to Statesboro, Bulloch county, "Where Nature Smiles and Progress Has the Right-of-Way."

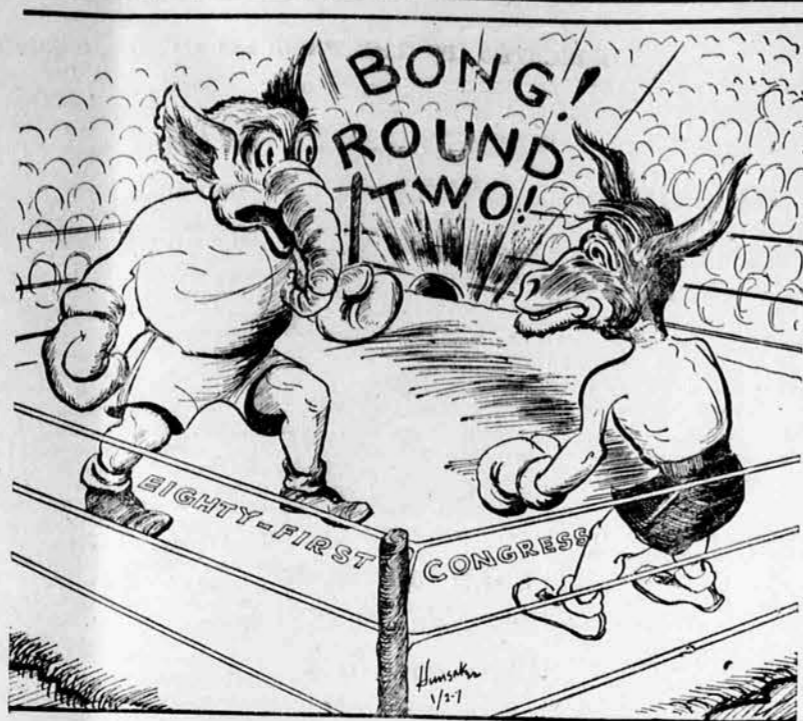

All's Fair - - - by Jane

From all accounts, everyone in going to look at the library's Statesboro enjoyed the holidays, both Christmas and New Year's. From the library comes news of young folks who are ardent supporters of our handsome Bulloch County Library and who are equally fond of the library employees. Phyllis Matz is one who fell in love with the Christmas tree. Each time she passed the library with her mother Ida Matz, Phyllis would insist that she go in. On one occasion Ida declared that she didn't have time (Phyllis usually enjoyed the tree and spent a great deal of time at the table where children's books are so attractively arranged). She finally agreed that if Phyllis would merely look at the tree and hurry back, she'd wait for her. So in goes Phyllis and stood before the tree. "No books today," she hurriedly explained. When she returned to the car she said to her mother, "Why can't I see just like I do the books?" ... Hal Roach Sr., accompanied by Hal Jr., Loretta and Carmen, were passing the library. When one of them saw Ruth Beaver's lovely tree, they called out, "Look at Mrs. Beaver's tree." Hal Jr. was loyal and replied, "Oh no, I'm not! I'm

Anne was lovely in a lace champagne-colored frock with matching stole all glittery with silver sequins. ... By the way Ruth Waters received a moving picture camera, projector and all for her Christmas gift. ... Gwen Griffin is one who believes staunchly in 13 as her lucky number. ... (formerly West) was born on the 13th, met her husband "Buck" Griffin on the 13th, was pinned on the 13th, received her ring on the 13th, and got their marriage license on the 13th. ... Jane, among other Statesboro friends, received a wonderful letter from Malvina Trussell. The letter is so packed with interesting news, that we wish to share it with our readers. So from now on we present Dr. Malvina Trussell. As Ever. JANE.

THE BEST LAID SCHEMES It was Bobbie Burns, the Scottish poet, who said: "The best laid schemes of mice and men gang aft a-gley," but I never thought of Burns while I planned and prepared for our first Christmas in our own home, complete with window wreaths, a lighted tree, a brass, be-ribboned door, and a big roast hen with all the trimmings. ... Beth, who will be three in March, is just at the age to enjoy a real Christmas and to understand about Santa Claus, so Ellis and I went straight ahead and were fairly bursting with the Yuletide spirit, and devoutly thankful that our respective parents were being unselfish and cooperative and weren't making us feel guilty for wanting to settle in and celebrate the big holiday all by ourselves in our little house on Alice street.

So I never thought of Bobbie Burns on the 13th of December, when my father in Thomasboro telephoned us in Waycross and shocked and surprised us with news that my mother had been sick for eight days and simply wasn't better. A had throat and a sinus infection had spread to the bronchial tubes and developed almost to the point of pneumonia, and Daddy needed help. The small Thomasboro clinic was crowded to the doors, and finding any kind of nurse was simply out of the question. He said Mom's friends and neighbors were doing all they could, and he had gotten a colored woman to put the house in order, but somebody extra-special was needed to nurse the sick and take over the management of the whole place.

So, of course, I got ready that night and Beth and I were at the station at 9:20 next morning to catch the train to Barnesville, which would take us within 16 miles of Thomasboro. Well, the train turned out to be two hours late. So we sat down. Cold mists were falling on Waycross and fog pressed against the waiting room windows. Beth, who had been all excited over a fresh ride, gradually lost her enthusiasm and resorted to her babyish trick of sucking the third and fourth fingers of her left hand. Both of had been spoiled by thrilling trips to Dover on the Nancy Hanka, which is never late. ... I got a degree of satisfaction out of knowing that we had at least made a start toward relieving those dear souls in Thomasboro, who never before had asked me to go home from anywhere or to help in any practical way.

After two hours, the train came, but the ride was a dismal endurance test. There was no diner, and food offered by vendors was inferior and insipid. ... But the long day passed, and after six and half hours, we pulled into Barnesville and were in Thomasboro by quarter of seven.

I am writing this on Christmas Eve and we are still here. The violent coughing (and maybe the powerful medicines) have left a heart reaction that is slowing up my mother's recovery. ... But she has shown a lot of improvement and was downstairs last evening to sit up and eat supper with us, and we expect her there tonight, and also to be in the parlor, when Christmas gifts are handed out. ... Then tomorrow, I shall roast the big turkey, which I am stuffing. Continued on Page 6

"Roots In The Soil"

Rochelle Hudson and Richard Travis share star billing in "Roots in the Soil" feature picture to be shown at the Georgia Theatre on Thursday, January 19. The movie headlines the FREE John Deere Day entertainment and educational program for farmers and their families which is being sponsored by the Bulloch Tractor Company.

"Roots in the Soil" is the story of a small-town bank cashier, (Richard Travis) who can't say "no" to anyone with a hard-luck story. His generosity affects the lives of his wife (Rochelle Hudson), his three children; in fact, the entire community, though it sometimes backfires. You and your family will enjoy every minute of this true-to-life story plus the beautiful singing of a chorus of nearly fifty voices.

In addition to "Roots in the Soil," several other new, all-talking pictures will be shown. "What's New in John Deere Farm Equipment"—a preview of new John Deere machines you'll want to know about. "Beyond the Price Tag"—the story of the new John Deere Model "MT" Two-Row General-Purpose Tractor with its working equipment for smaller acreages. "Farmer of the Year"—an informative dramatized picture on soil conservation. "First Choice of Farmers Everywhere"—the story of the John Deere No. 5 Power Mower as written by farmer-owners the country over.

According to The Bulloch Tractor Company, admission to the John Deere Day Program is by Ticket only. Any farmer who has not received his tickets or needs more can get them free at The Bulloch Tractor Company before the day of the show.

and trusting today, and we'll have the finest dinner I know how to cook. Already, I have prepared a mold of this congealed relish that combines ground cranberries, a ground oranges, celery, nuts and orange jello... and we have a gorgeous big fruitcake and crisp celery will be fluffy rice and crisp celery and candied yams and buttered onions and big fat green beans... When the afternoon is gone, and I begin to get drunk, Beth will turn on all the lighted wreaths and electric candles in seven of Mom's upstairs windows and light the red and white Christmas tree with glister and sparkle, and we'll get Mom back to bed and Beth into her warm crib... then maybe the four of us—Daddy, John, Ellis and I will have a good hot game of Canasta and end up the evening with delicious but indigestible sandwiches of whole wheat bread from Norwich, Connecticut, and Swiss cheese from Alliance, Ohio, washed down with beakers of orange juice from the crate Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beach sent from Fernandina, Florida.

Then Ellis will go to Eastman for a little interval of dove shooting and I shall stay on here for a few more days and try to bring back the roses to my mother's cheeks.

I never in my life have felt so important and so appreciated as during this 11 days in Thomaston... My Father believes that nobody should be given responsibility with authority, and he has given me free rein... series of steaming spoon-bread, pots of noodle soup, plates of cake and bread bowls of freshly-cooked turnip greens...

It's been a lot of fun and I have enjoyed the planning, the meals and buying of groceries... Last night for supper, I had beef steaks with plenty of vegetables and a double batch of corn sticks, and it would have done your heart good to see the guests with which that plain meal was attacked.

I'll admit I did feel a quick thrust of sadness when Ellis' special delivery letter came at 7:30 and I read that he had set up a Christmas tree in our Alice street parlor and had done his best to decorate it... It hurt me to think of Ellis' putting forth all that effort, when I knew that Beth and I just couldn't be there to enjoy it and that Ellis himself would have a dull holiday unless he had help and joyed in this direction.

It was then that I thought of Bobbie Burns and his classical couplet to the effect that "the best laid schemes o' mice and men gang aft a-gley." I said to myself that the best laid schemes of some women have also been known to gang a-gley... I looked back at the plans I'd made for our holiday in Waycross and realized that the handling of that entire undertaking had been lifted right out of my fingers... I simply hadn't been in my power to push through the Christmas project and force things to happen according to my plans... a combination of circumstances beyond my control had laid waste the entire structure of my schemes for a Christmas in my own little house.

But listen: I wouldn't for the world have missed this chance to be of service to my parents.

I can make it up to Ellis and Beth for everything they've been deprived of... I can spend the rest of my life in making merry at Waycross... but this may be the only time I'll ever be the means of creating a Merry Christmas for the people who gave me my start.

I'm glad I came here.
You couldn't have kept me away.
