Red Cross To Conduct Water Safety Course

Mr. Russell C. Nicholson, special field representative, Safety Service, southeastern area, American Red Cross, will conduct an instructors' course in water safety at Georgia Teachers College, beginning July 8, according to an announcement by Miss Irma Spears, chapter water safety chairman.

Coach J. B. Seacore Jr., requestor of this course, says "This year so many children have drowned, and it is a tragedy that a man can be as good as dead when he is in the water. As well as teaching them to swim, it is important to teach them to be safe in the water. Man is a home-making animal, and he marries his life if he is not loyal to home. He is a political animal, and he holds aloof from the church he serves and stunts the highest instincts of his nature."—Charles E. Jefferson.

Their Future Is Our Future

WE wanted to break down and cry! Then it made us a little mad. Then we got to wondering. And now we're seeking the reason.

Bulloch county lost 1,154 citizens during the 10-year period between 1940 and 1950.

That does not mean that we just lost that many citizens. It means that we lost nearly 5 per cent of the county human resources. It means that we are now losing an annual income of three-quarter a million dollars!

Here's how it figures. The per capita income in 1940 was $315. In 1948 it increased to $971. Averaged over the ten year period the per capita income comes to $643.

Of course we know that all the 1,154 people did not leave Bulloch County in one year, so assuming that 115 left each year during the ten year period, that figures a loss of $73,945 in 1941; $147,890 in 1942; $221,835 in 1943; $295,780 in 1944; $369,725 in 1945; $442,670 in 1946; $517,615 (over a half million dollars) in 1947; $591,561 in 1948; $665,507 in 1949; and $739,453 in 1950.

That totals $4,065,681 income lost to Statesboro and Bulloch County in the 1940-1950 decade.

And from now on out, unless we can begin to show gains, this community will lose an annual income of $739,453, nearly three quarters of a million dollars.

Statesboro and Bulloch County failed to hold 1,154 of its citizens.

Greener pastures attracted 1,154 of the citizens of this community.

1,154 citizens sought opportunities in other communities.

And if the trend continues there'll be more this year, and more next year and more the year after.

Statesboro and Bulloch County must awake to the fact that to hold its citizens it must provide them with the opportunity to make their homes here and work and live here and go to church and school here.

With the disappointment in losing 1,154 population in the county there is little consolation in the small increase in Statesboro's population of 1,061 from 1940's 5,026 to 1950's 6,089.

To keep our citizens in Statesboro and Bulloch County we must provide them with opportunity.

With the mechanization of the farm continuing, more and more people are seeking opportunities in the towns and cities.

If they don't find opportunity in Brooklet, they come to Statesboro. If they find no opportunity here they go to Savannah. If they find no opportunity there they go to Atlanta, and if they find no opportunity in Atlanta they are lost to Georgia forever.

Business leaders of this community must come to realize that we must become more and more aggressive in the fight to provide opportunities for the people of this community.

And opportunity comes only with the influx of more and more industry.

And one way to put Statesboro in the fight for industry is to give this community an alert, full time, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

For weeks a committee has been working with the idea. They met Tuesday of this week. As this is being written we do not know what the committee did.

But we do believe that part of the answer to providing new opportunities for the people of this community lies in securing additional industry here and that a full-time secretary is a key to securing new industry.

We can't afford to go on losing our citizens.

We must look to their future—at home—here in Statesboro and Bulloch County. For their future is our future!

for whom I am about to vote the one who will serve Georgia and Bulloch county, and Statesboro sincerely and honestly?

We know it to be difficult—if not impossible—to decide how to cast your ballot on the basis of issues. We can only say, "Make up your mind from the best information available, and VOTE."

If you do not vote on June 28, and don't urge others to vote, you can't complain legitimately about the way the state government is operated, nor the way your local representatives vote as they represent those who do vote.

Both the leading candidates in the governor's race have been in the chief executive's office. Mr. Talmadge and Mr. Thompson have had the opportunity to show what they can do. Past performances is one of the best and most certain ways of judging future performances. Promises made during a campaign—especially in the few days remaining—mean little or nothing.

Vote for your choice. Reconcile your vote with your firm convictions. But, by all means, VOTE!

In the case of the several state officers you may have to depend upon your friends in whom you have confidence to inform you for whom to vote.

You are more or less familiar with the candidates for the General Assembly from Bulloch county. By now you have talked to them personally about the things for which they stand. Judge these candidates face to face. Then vote for the ones you feel best qualified for the office.

Editor's Uneasy Chair

"Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. Man may be civilized in some degree without great progress in manufactures and with little commerce with his distant neighbors. But without the cultivation of the earth, he is, in all countries, a savage. Until he gives up the chase, and fixes himself in some place, and seeks a living from the earth, he is a roaming barbarian. When tillage begins, other arts follow. The farmers, therefore, are the founders of civilization."

That's the way Daniel Webster felt about the farming business. Now comes J. E. McCroan with a story about a man and the soil. It began more than 25 years ago when Mr. McCroan served on the Board of Trustees of the First District, A. & M. College—now our Georgia Teachers College. E. V. Hollis was president.

With Mr. McCroan served a citizen of Burke county, Hosea Blount, now deceased. Mr. Mac and Mr. Blount were interested in the farming and dairying activities at the A. & M. They hired a young man, P. L. Ivester, as farming supervisor—at $50 a month. These three put together the A. & M.'s first dairy herd.

Now Mr. Blount liked Mr. Ivester, for he was a good farmer. So he offered him a little more than the A. & M. was paying him. And so the A. & M. lost Mr. Ivester. And Mr. Hollis and Mr. Mac worried over their loss.

ALL'S FAIR

We find ourselves a'wishin' for the things beyond our reach Strawberry jam, blackberry jelly, or a good old Georgia peach. But if, perchance, we bite into a nice, red, ripe tomato, we discover soon we'd have been better off had it been potato. Our cheek goes red, our eyes inflame, our tongue gets thick, believe us—Then all we want is rest in bed with something to relieve us. Could be that all the other things we wish that we could do. Would be just another allergy and, in our case, taboo. So, maybe, we should be satisfied with our simple round of days. That offer happiness and love in a dozen different ways.

HERE'S A TALL ONE we heard from the Ed Foy's, Ed, Maud, and their son, Billy, bought a farm about 16 miles from Statesboro and it is their intention to build an up-to-date, modern motel. But right now they are living off the land. . . vegetables in market quantities are all over the place. Now Ed could dispose of cucumbers at the pickling plant, but they want them dry. According to Ed, when he starts down a row of small cucumbers they have grown eight inches by the time he gets to the other end. You have several conclusions. Ed is a slow picker, the rows are very, very long, or Ed—well, could be a cucumber story. You could still make your own bread and butter pickles.

HOUSES, HOUSES—going up all over. The George Johnstons are waiting on the papers. Lucy and Bob Donaldson are in the blueprint stage for a home neighborhood on the Bird Daniels. Next door to the George Johnstons the Grady Blands are planning to build . . .

Came the time when the A. & M. was in position to offer a little more for a farm supervisor. So Mr. Hollis and Mr. Mac went up to Burke county to see if Mr. Blount would let them have Mr. Ivester back.

But they learned that Mr. Ivester was no longer working with Mr. Blount. He had gone into business for himself—farming.

And so the A. & M. had to get someone else. Who they got is of no importance to this story. Mr. Mac and Mr. Hollis came back to Statesboro. Mr. Hollis moved with the years until he now holds one of the high positions in the field of education. Mr. Mac remained in Bulloch county to become one of the county's most beloved characters, with a great zest for living.

And they forgot Mr. Ivester. THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER THIS WEEK ON JUNE 22 (Today), will be close. FRIDAY, June 23, will be close. SATURDAY, June 24, will be close. SUNDAY, June 25, will be close. MONDAY, June 26, will be fair. TUESDAY, June 27, will be fair. WEDNESDAY, June 28, will be sultry.

BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC'S WRONG

and soon, houses will be going up by the dozens. Maybe they come cheaper by the dozen. We're so hot today we're about to melt. Feel like we musta slipped into the tropical belt. AND THINGS such as political pots should begin to boil. But, to keep this column cool, we followed to the lake with Miss Mae Kennedy, who turned in at the House of Beauty. Here a cool breeze rushes in the back door. By that time Mae had her hair down, and that's when we got our story. Did Mae enjoy her trip? She most certainly did. You remember Miss Mae Kennedy was one of the four-some touring the west. She declared that she wouldn't mind starting out again.

"What did you like best about your trip?" we inquired. She hesitated only a minute. The Painted Desert was wonderful. So was the Grand Canyon. But I have no adjective to describe the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. Now, we are supposed to be simply overflowing with adjectives, but somehow, we get settled down to lovely, beautiful, magnificent—all of them just plain worked to death. But when she went on about the stalagmites and stalactites and the columns—we brought up serie. That was wrong. We came nearer hitting pay dirt when we suggested awe-inspiring. Something like that is what Mae Kennedy felt when the guide turned of the lights and told them not to utter a sound. In complete darkness and silence, these beautiful formations were coming into being for thousands of years. The guide told Miss Kennedy the stalagmites grew at the rate of one cubic inch in 10,000 years. As their growth is computed by the lime deposit in a single drop of water and air currents, we wonder if these estimates are really accurate—for aren't there variables in nature. Let's stop right now, for Jane is utterly frivolous, and is not supposed to get involved with physics or metaphysics. We did reach for our encyclopedia and read that the Carlsbad Caverns were discovered in 1922 by a cowboy who was trying to find out where the bats went to hide during the day. The Carlsbad Cavern Expedition carried on extensive explorations and found these caverns to be the largest and oldest known. But deliver us from places where bats roost. Or have humans scared the daylight out of the bats? AT NO TIME do we want to overlook the accomplishments of our young people. With all those students at Tech, Wallis Cobb Jr. was among those graduated with honors. At the University of Georgia, Frank DeLoach, who served this past year as president of Sigma Chi fraternity on the university campus, was the chapter's delegate to the National Convention of Sigma Chi held in Columbus, Ohio, June 12, 13, and 14. From Emory University, the representative to the National Sigma Chi Convention was Sammy Tillman, son of Joe and Edna Tillman. Sammy is president-elect of the Emory chapter of Sigma Chi. Now think what it means for two Statesboro boys to rate such honors. . . Oh, we love to write things like that. And, another four-year-old, Bill Lovett, son of Dub and Joyce Lovett, was Grand State Mascot of the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star at their meeting in Atlanta last week. Bill's great aunt, Mrs. Lola Granada, of Augusta, was in-

SOME FACTS ABOUT Our Government

UP AND UP AND UP Federal expenditures have risen from $4 billion in 1930 to $39.3 billion in 1940 and $42 billion in 1950.

THEIR NUMBER IS LEGION The number of civilian employees on the Federal Government's payroll increased from 563,805 in December, 1932, to 1,981,156 in December, 1949. Total annual salaries and wages paid to these Federal employees have soared from $1 billion in 1932 to over $6 1/2 billion today.

THAT AIN'T HAY The Hoover Commission has reported that $140 million a year could be saved by modernizing the organization methods and equipment of the U. S. Post Office Department.

FOR SAFE KEEPING A House Appropriations Committee study disclosed in one year the Federal Bureau of Internal Revenue printed 594 million tax forms and 115 million instruction sheets to supply 47 million taxpayers. Hundreds of millions of such forms, long out-dated and no longer useful, were found in a leased building.

OFFICIAL HOARDING The extent to which surplus inventories of stock are built up by some Federal Agencies was recently pointed out to the House Appropriations Committee by Jess Larson, General Services Administrator. He said one agency had a supply of tracing cloth which would last them nine years, sufficient fluorescent tubes to last 93 years, sufficient ruled paper to last 168 years, and a stock of loose-leaf binders which would last for 247 years.

PRUDENT ADVICE Franklin D. Roosevelt (in 1932) —"Any government like any family, can for a year spend a little more than it earns. But you and I know that a continuance of that habit means the poorhouse."

stalled as Grand Worthy Matron of Georgia, so she invited Bill to act as Grand Mascot. Bill, in an off-white gabardine suit, loved every minute of the elaborate ceremonies and could bow with the best of them. And having a sweetheart, Lee Ann Brown of Vidalia, to march with him was not one whit embarrassing to the young cavalier. They were led to all the Star Points and Lee Ann sat in the East. Bill was conducted to the West, but he had other plans. He marched into the East and conducted her to his chair, where they both sat until about 11 o'clock, when both fell asleep. . .

THE WHITEHORSEST encountered trouble on their Westward trip to set up housekeeping in Portland, Oregon, where their daughter, Marianne, and husband, Bob, and son, Chris, have been living for several years. They reached Tupelo, Miss., the home of Anita Spiers, the first day on the road. Katherine Zell Loffie, who driving the truck with the trailer attached. He was about three hours behind Katherine. Several days later, Jean Poindexter received a card from Katherine, saying they had spent two days in Colorado, where they had unpacked and crated all their personal effects that were in the trailer and were expressing the stuff on to Portland. They didn't trust a swaying trailer over the mountains ahead of them. We hope they didn't encounter any more difficulties and have already arrived with Marianne and Bob Bill and their grandson, Chris, . . . to greet them.

As ever, JANE.

This Is The "Record" Of "Grumbling George" Hamilton

"Grumbling George" says that he is running on his record of 17 years in office. But, instead of bragging about it, he ought to be ashamed of these 17 years of political deceit and connivance against the people of Georgia to further his own political ambitions.

- LET'S LOOK AT HAMILTON'S "RECORD":
1. Came to Georgia from Pennsylvania as an "organizer" and later was appointed State Treasurer.
 2. Double-crossed the man who appointed him to the best job he ever had in his life.
 3. Bickered and fought with every Governor who has been in office.
 4. Schemed and connived to unseat Georgia's legal Democratic Executive Committee.
 5. Supported candidates for Governor who run with the FEPC crowd.
 6. Used his power over State bank deposits to help his personal political fortunes.
 7. Added useless employees to the State Housing Authority to help himself politically.
 8. Finally, fought constructive legislation in the General Assembly when such legislation benefitted the people instead of himself.

FOR STATE SENATOR
I hereby announce my candidacy for State Senator from the 49th Senatorial District of Georgia, composed of Bulloch, Candler and Evans counties, subject to the rules of the Democratic Primary to be held on June 28, 1950.

As one of your elected Representatives during the General Assembly during the past session, held in 1949, and during the special session last July, and during this session completed in January, it was my purpose to serve you in a manner that would further the best interests of all the people of Bulloch county. My record will show a consistent vote for the things that meant progress for our State and County, and it will likewise show a consistent vote against all measures that were introduced by anyone from a partisan political standpoint for his own interest and against the welfare of the people as a whole.

My record will show that I was one of the co-authors of the Minimum Foundation Program for Education, that I voted for this bill for the betterment of our educational system in Georgia as it would materially improve our school system and also our Georgia Teachers College, and, to go even further, I voted to finance this program as one without the other was mere politics.

I feel that my experience in the House of Representatives would add me in representing you in the State, where your best interests would be protected. My promises to you is my past record and my desire to serve you fairly, impartially and honestly in every matter that it would be my pleasure to have before me.

Your vote and influence in my behalf will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely
A. S. DODD, JR.

ELECT

George C. Gaissert
Commissioner of Agriculture
DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY JUNE 28, 1950
"A Department of Agriculture for the Farmers of Georgia" PLATFORM

1. If elected, I assure the people of Georgia that the Georgia Farmer's Market Bulletin will be published as it was originally intended—for the exclusive benefit of the farmers of Georgia. It will not be used as a political sounding board.
 2. I will cooperate with all existing agencies, such as Experiment Stations, Vocational Education Department, Colleges of Agriculture, Extension Service, Production and Marketing Administration, Soil Conservation Service, United States Department of Agriculture, the various poultry and livestock associations, and other groups of farmers, both organized and unorganized, for the betterment of agriculture and of Georgia as a whole.
 3. I will cooperate with the agencies both Federal and State and with both organized and unorganized groups of farmers to see that an effective disease eradication and control program is established for all livestock and poultry within the state.
 4. I will cooperate with the necessary fruit and vegetable agencies and growers of the state toward the development of a better system of FARMERS' MARKETS, including a complete system of grading of all fruits and produce. I believe that such a program will be beneficial not only to the farmers of the state but to the consumers of the products as well.
 5. Realizing that farmers were unable to avail themselves of the grain price support program because of lack to storage space, I will cooperate with all farm groups and with private enterprise, with a view toward the construction of adequate grain storage facilities where needed in the state.
 6. Realizing that the job as Commissioner of Agriculture of the State of Georgia is a big enough job in itself, I will, if elected, devote my entire time to the job and leave the settlement of international affairs to those better suited to the settlement of same.
 7. Realizing that there are unlimited possibilities for agriculture in Georgia, I reaffirm my belief in diversified farming. I believe that the economic future of Georgia lies in a well balanced program with industry and agriculture both playing an equally important part. I will do all I can to bring about the cooperation between industry and agriculture that is needed.
 8. I will make an honest effort to enforce all laws pertaining to the Department of Agriculture, and where rules and regulations of said laws are left to the discretion of the Department of agriculture, will see that they are reasonable and fair to all concerned.
 9. I will make an honest effort to see that existing Fertilizer and Seed Laws are enforced.
 10. I will make an intense effort to increase the market for Livestock and Dairy Products with an effort to bring into the state processing plants to help take care of the surplus.

Club boys and girls left for Camp Wahsega, 12 miles north of Dah-lonega, on Monday. They will remain at this camp for one week.
On the way they stopped at the University of Georgia for lunch, and proceeded to camp, reaching there in time for a swim before nightfall. They will return Friday by way of Toccoa, Elberton, and Augusta.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus G. Bran-nen and Mrs. C. P. Brunson, advisors, are with the clubbers, as well as the four farm and home agents.

Girls having reservations for the trip Monday morning were Mary Ann Akins, Margie Allen, Boots
Beasley, Annette Hollingsworth, Melva Creasy, Emma Louise Hush-
ing, Yvonne Margaret Anderson, Shirley Ann Groover, Levita Bran-ned, Janice Deal, Jacquelyn Waters, Jeanette Wilson, Mary Frances Monroe, June Stephens, Beverly Brannen, and Carol Groover.

Boys listed were Bobby Thompson, Richard Cowart, J. S. Glad-din, Jappy Akins, Franklin Akins, Donald Wayne Akins, Robert Chester, Earl Edensfield, Emitt Alford Jr., Edgar Deal, Jimmie Adams, Johnny George Deke, Sammy Nevils, Wilbur Akins, Billy Prosser, John Roger Akins, Kenneth Hollingsworth, Travis Smith, Kenneth Sowell, and Ronald Adams.

Hiking in the mountains, to gold mines and waterfalls, handicraft, rifle contests, games of all kinds, were listed as the recreational part of the program. Training in the many phases of the 4-H program, along with an eye examination for all the clubbers, will take up most of the program.

Farm Bureau Judge Renfro Speaks at Ogeechee F. B. Meeting Tuesday Night of Last Week

Bulloch county has several factors which help to make it a good agricultural county, one of which is the fact that most of the farmers are comparatively small operators who own their own land and live on it. Judge J. L. Renfro told the Ogeechee Farm Bureau
Tuesday night of last week.

Working together as closely as the farmers of Bulloch county do also help materially to make the county a good community in which to live, the judge pointed out.
However, farmers generally must work together in organizations such as the Farm Bureau or they will lose their price support program, Judge Renfro warned. He read an editorial from a recent farm journal stating that an organization had been developed for the purpose of killing all farm price support programs.

Through organization these supports have been procured, and, if they are to be maintained and improved upon, it will also have to be through organizations such as the Farm Bureau. Mr. Renfro dispraised the community and county.

The Warnock and Register farm groups met Wednesday and Thursday nights, respectively. Following the usual supper at a social hour, problems dealing with cotton dusting and spraying, insect control, and spraying peanuts for leaf spot, and brief reports on the recent pasture short course at Tifton were discussed.

Legislators, whether national or state representatives, are elected by the people to do the things the people want done. If this county is in danger of spending too much money for governmental projects and aids, it is simply because the people are demanding that these projects be carried on. Mr. Renfro observed. To help reduce national spending and to curtail the national budget, it will be necessary for people to curb their wants and demands on elected officials, according to Mr. Renfro.

WILDLIFE new look

by Joe Stearns

Nobody Wants More Tax, But—

There is a bill in Congress sponsored by the Representative from Massachusetts asking that the excise tax on arms and ammunition be lifted.

Mr. John Q. Citizen stands firmly by anybody who wants to abolish a tax of any kind. Mention the death of a tax and thousands lift their dulcet voices in a roar of deafening approval.

It's only fair to hear the other side. Not that I want to take a stand for any kind of tax, but let's be fair about this thing—sometimes certain tax benefits all of us.

If the excise tax on arms and ammunition goes—so goes the Pittman-Robertson Act which was passed September 2, 1937. All excise tax money collected on arms and ammunition goes back into a rebuilding program in wildlife. With the vanishing of the tax, so disappears Georgia's Pittman-Robertson Department.

Recently, I grabbed Tom Jones, coordinator, who heads Georgia's Federal Aid Program with a total of 31 personnel, and cut loose with a quick program. Tom fired back the answers.

We Just Didn't Know

It was soon evident that I was among thousands of sportsmen who had no earthly idea how and what made the Pittman-Robertson program click. It seems that Uncle Sam works with the State Game & Fish Commission, spending 75c out of every dollar in this vital state program.

Tom's personnel is made up of wildlife experts who are men trained and skilled in the job to be done. Last year about 4 million plants, all necessary to the health and feeding of wildlife, were distributed for planting throughout the State.

Consider also that 3,000 pounds of seed were distributed. Here briefly, the Federal Aid lads set the stage for the security and welfare of our future hunting.

There are 12 refuges under development that cover some 330,000 acres. These refuges, like the Chatahoochee National Forest, are wildlife sanctuaries. A round of applause isn't out of order for the Federal Aid boys who took on an extra large hunk of developing when they tackled 330,000 acres.

So that Georgia's Game & Fish Commission and the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service might know exactly what each county has to offer in the way of cover and food to sustain wildlife, Tom's crew already reports that one-half of the State has been surveyed and invaluable information secured. Imagine, if you can, the leg work in miles necessary for these technicians that they might get the right answers.

There has been an extensive study of Georgia waters. The P-R workers must determine the amount of food these waters offer migratory birds and also the effect various types of pollution might have on migrant birds. Thus, we lay the ground work for a better flyway and more ducks—with the result—better future duck hunting.

Trapping in Okefenokee

From the Okefenokee Swamp, the technicians trapped five black bear and released them in understocked areas in the North Georgia mountains. Here again, is a job not suitable for the timid nor for children.

Our largest and most desired game bird, the wild turkey, has been given attention. Fifty wild turkeys were trapped and later released in understocked areas. The results—last year's wild turkey crop in Georgia hit a new high.

On one development project, 288 raccoons were trapped. Some of the 'coons were examined, and the stomach contents revealed valuable information. It was learned that the 'coon is destructive, smashing many quail nests. A majority of the 'coons went into understocked areas.

Taxes provided the Federal Aid boys with 150 deer. These deer were tagged and released in understocked areas and 50 native deer were trapped in overstocked areas and released in areas where deer have not been seen in many years.

This is but a part of the Federal Aid activity. As these valuable benefits for Georgia hunters pile up, it is difficult to find an objective to paying a few cents more for a box of shells. Let's all hope that there are enough sportsmen in Congress to realize the value of the Pittman-Robertson Act, and that they will vote down that bill to eliminate such a wonderful work.

All fishermen and hunters are urgently requested by the Game & Fish Commission to return any tags that may be found on their kills. It is important in determining the population and movement of fish and wildlife.

The snapping turtle deserves his unsavory reputation. This predator is highly destructive, killing many adult ducks as well as ducklings. Destruction of snapping turtles benefits wildlife.

DID YOU KNOW it cost you, as a taxpayer, $175,000, plus your time, to go to the polls to vote for the man who "keeps his promises" to levy "no new taxes" on special statewide referendum. And 60 days after you voted "No, No, No" . . . Yes, you're right. You got 'em—$20,000,000 in NEW TAXES. Elect M. E. Thompson your next Governor. He voted against it too!

County School Board Adopts Action Requiring Proper Immunization

H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, announced this week that the county board of education has taken action on a measure which is important to the parents of children entering the first grade this fall in Bulloch county and Statesboro schools.

Mr. Womack states that all first grade students are required each year to be immunized against smallpox, typhoid, whooping cough and diphtheria.

He also stated that it shall be required that this group of children be given "booster" immunizations for all these diseases if it has been two years or more since the immunization was administered.

According to the action taken by the county school board, all immunization procedures are done in the manner approved by the Georgia State Medical Society, and Attic Fan Requirements For cooling an average house during very hot weather, an attic fan that will move from 5,000 to 10,000 cubic feet of air per minute is needed. Such a fan is more efficient if run late in the afternoon, at night or in the early morning when the outside air is cool.

Rural Electricity In 1935, only three percent of Georgia's farms, or 7,000 of them, had central station electric service. Fourteen years later, in June, 1949, 86 percent of Georgia's farm homes were electrified. At that time, there were 32,000 farms in Georgia still waiting for electricity.

Free Cotton Classing The deadline for filing application for free cotton classing and market news service for the 1950 season in Georgia is August 1, according to Production and Marketing Administration officials. More than 28,000 acres of cotton have already been signed up for this service.

Cotton growers in this state face the most serious boll weevil threat since the early 1920's, in the opinion of Home gardeners are advised to wait another year of two before trying out the new weed killing chemicals in garden plots.

The farmer of today can put electricity to work for him in more than 400 different ways.

"Waves of Green" is the title of a new educational motion picture which calls attention to the work land-grant colleges throughout the nation.

Around 90 percent of Georgia's farms now have central station electric service.

Time to Reaffirm Our Beliefs

New Gadgets Open New Motoring Experiences

Ever get trapped on a two-lane highway behind an elephantine truck inching along at a snail's pace? You want to pass but you dare not sally out around him to challenge oncoming traffic.

This vexatious predicament is eased by the "Passing-Eye," a new gadget that enables the driver to see around any object in front of him and is also helpful when approaching the crest of a hill.

It's all done with mirrors—two of them. Mounted on a single arm just outside the driver's window are two round flat mirrors, almost facing each other but at a slight angle.

One mirror is larger than the other. The large mirror faces forward, the small mirror looks to the rear. The driver, gazing into the small mirror sees there a broad view ahead reflected from the large mirror. Thus he gets a good picture of what is approaching in the opposite lane and can pass safely when the road is clear, without a preliminary series of hazardous sorties.

The "Passing-Eye" retails for about $3.40.

Endless Variety

There is an almost endless variety of accessories designed for automobile vacationing, each one seeming more indispensable than the one before.

If a single car were fully equipped with available gadgets, it is a question (A) whether there would be money enough left in the family vacation fund for a vacation, and (B) whether the car would be able to budge.

In addition to showing you just where you're going, mirrors show you where you've been, where you are sitting and what is approaching from the rear.

The "Wydvue" provides a rear view broad enough to see cars approaching on the right as well as the left side. This costs $3.79.

The "Nu-Look" is an interior convex mirror which gives not only a rear window view but affords a complete view of the entire interior of the car, plus a glimpse out the side windows. The price is $3.39.

For a transcontinental journey by auto, there is a luggage item called "Cross Country" which should take the sting out of traveling with five aboard.

It is a lightweight, portable chest that has five drawers. Each drawer when pulled out converts into a suitcase for overnight stops. The total weight is seven pounds and the cost is $5.98.

It is especially handy for traveling with children, each member of the family having his own drawer. The chest sits on the car floor and comes to the level of the window.

There are several handy clothes packs on the market for carrying about one-half inch thick the case suit stand dresses on hangers. They are made either of plastic or canvas and fold in the middle to suitcase dimensions. They sell anywhere from $3.50 to $11 depending on the number of garments they can accommodate. Manufacturers dust and wrinkles.

Turners claim they keep clothes

Because the Herald staff is on vacation you are getting a short paper this week.

Every year about this time we take ten days off that we all might relax from the weekly routine of putting out your paper.

Please forgive us for sending you this issue. You deserve better. We promise that your other 51 issues will be the best of which we and our staff and equipment are capable of producing.

Handy Dispenser.

A dispenser for 12 paper handkerchiefs fits on the inside of the sunvisor and stays out of sight when not in use. A dispenser plus four packages with 12 handkerchiefs each sells for 19 cents.

An auto-trouble-lite in a leather case has a cord 8 feet long which plugs into the automobile lighter and provides sufficient illumination for any emergency repairs.

The assorted jokes about refolding unwieldy road maps fly out the window with a roller map case that keeps the entire United States well in hand. Flat, rectangular and about one-half inch thick the case operates like a scroll, revealing the portion of the map desired, the rest held tightly in a roll on either side. A protective transparent plastic keeps the map clean, price: $5.50.

The Editor Remembers Life's Coolest Moments

Statesboro, June 22—We've voted. We've just put this week's paper in the post office, and when you read this we'll be at Bulloch County's favorite playground—Tybee.

It's hot as a fire popper here. A fan offers little comfort, unless you sit perfectly still, with the fan's full breeze blowing right on you. Any movement results in a rise in the temperature.

Before us we have the Georgia Power Company's booklet "Georgia On The March," which takes the reader on an arm-chair trip over the "Empire State",... it says here.

As hot as it is the booklet offers possibilities... seeing Georgia without the efforts of mechanical transportation.

We want peace, and quiet, and the cool feeling that comes with lying flat on your back in the shade of the mimosa tree, the cool that follows a summer shower just about sundown, the cool that comes to you sitting on a cottage porch in the North Georgia mountains, the cool that floods over you as you stand shoulder high in the waters of the great Atlantic at the beach, the cool that a tall glass of iced lemonade—we almost said that a frosted can of beer—brings while sitting on the back terrace in the late afternoon.

We remember some of our coolest moments—there was the plane trip from Guadalcanal to Pearl Harbor to San Francisco. At 10,000 feet the coolness was a great relief from the Canal's tropic heat.

The day we rearranged the frozen food locker in the locker bin at Jimmy Collin's freezer locker. The few moments spent in Moonshine's Cave at Chimney Rock, North Carolina.

The hours we spent in the bow of the Ocean Steamship Line's "City of Chattanooga" on our first trip to New York when we were still in our teens.

The night we went swimming in the spring at Magnolia Springs up near Millen.

The drive through the Green Mountains and White Mountains in Vermont and New Hampshire.

The night we spent in the air-conditioned room in the Roosevelt Hotel in Jacksonville.

The day we were in Chicago in the middle of February wearing only the khaki summer uniform of the Marine Corps before we were issued winter uniforms.

We sit here trying to capture these cool experiences.

And the psychiatrists who tell us that the "heat" is just a "state of the mind" is just plain "crazy with the heat", for trying with all our might—it's still as hot as a fire popper.

If we find it cool on our vacation, we'll not waste our efforts in thinking of you. We're just going to nurse that peace and quiet and coolness for the ten days we're gone.

We'll be back with you in our July 6th Herald. So long.

Four-H Club Family Sets Bulloch County Record

In Bulloch county near Statesboro at the end of a shady lane which leads through tall, slender pine trees is a spacious colonial house with a misleading sign in front of it. "Four-H Club member lives here," the sign reads. For this house, a more appropriate inscription would be this: "Four-H family lives here."

The sign that's there refers to Beverly Brannen, age 15, who has been a 4-H clubber four years. She's working on five projects this year, about average for Beverly, who is girls' vice president of the county council.

"My first project was sewing," Beverly remembers. "I made a little dish towel first, and since then I've been making more and bigger things." Beverly was wearing an attractive cotton dress which she made in connection with her cotton handicrafts project this year.

The Squirrel Instinct

Poking through a few old corners of the federal household, General Service Administrator Jess Larson had come across signs of bureaucratic hoarding that would put the squirrels to shame. Samples: one U. S. bureau had a 247-year reserve of looseleaf binders (but only 168 years' worth of filler paper for them); another had a nine-year supply of tracing paper; a third had stored away enough light bulbs to supply it for 93 years.
