Highlights of the President's Message

HERE ARE the highlights of President Truman's message to the people of the United States on Wednesday night of last week. Read them and keep them in mind.

The North Korean attack "was naked, deliberate, unprovoked aggression, without a shadow of justification". . . It was "a clear challenge to the basic principles of the United Nations Charter.'

5. On the military side, Mr. Truman urged immediate ending of statutory limitations on the size of the armed forces.

6. Immediate passage of the pending North Atlantic defense appropriation bill, with the announcement that increased amounts would be asked for later.

In the next category of "things to come," Mr. Truman announced that:

1. Just as soon as the necessary studies are completed he will send up a new tax bill. "The increase of taxes is our basic weapon in offsetting inflationary pressures," he declared, and added that "we must provide for a balanced system of taxation that will eliminate profiteer-
