It Costs Nothing To See

WE HAVE USED the slogan so often we have about reached the point at which we expect it to operate of its own accord, under its own power.

"Statesboro, Where Nature Smiles and Progress Has the Right-of-Way."

Of course, there is little we can do about the part, "Where Nature Smiles." Our Maker was good to this section, so we claim little credit for that part of the slogan.

But that part... "Where Progress Has the Right-of-Way"... is another matter. Progress does have the right-of-way, but progress stalls and comes to a standstill unless a moving force is constantly applied, giving it a forward motion.

Every day someone comes in our office wishing to see our "For Rent" ads... looking for a home in which to live, looking for a house, an apartment, rooms. People who see in Statesboro a desirable place in which to settle and rear their families, send their children to school and college, and attend church, and spend their leisure time in clean recreation.

And we are helpless. Once in a while there is an ad offering a two or three room apartment, but sometimes with the restriction, "couples only."

There's an answer. And some will shy away from it and begin talking regimentation, too much control, and argue, "It's not for us."

But that's no argument to the family who is looking for a home here.

Public housing, with between 100 and 150 units.

Waynesboro has it, with between 100 and 150 units.

Statesboro can have it.

Hats Off to 'Blue Devils'

TWO Georgia teams showed 'em last week end.

The Statesboro High School Blue Devils defeated a strong Waynesboro High School team, 12 to 0.

The University of Georgia Bulldogs whipped a powerful University of Maryland team, in Athens on Saturday afternoon, 27 to 7.

The Waynesboro team was supposed to lick the socks off the Blue Devils. It had defeated Metter the Friday before, 26 to 0, and came to Statesboro last Friday night all primed and cocked—and when they fired it was only a pop-gun affair. The Blue Devils showed up the better coached, better trained, better conditioned team, and they gave Statesboro fans a promise of what's to come the remainder of the season.

Maryland came to Athens with the game already in the bag—that is, according to statistics. But the boys in red and black hadn't read the statistics, and romped up and down Sanford Field to win.

We take off our hat and toss it high for the Blue Devils.

We join the Georgia boys in their joy over the Bulldog victory.

But among us Tech boys there is much walling and gnashing of teeth. Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Texas, defeated the Golden Tornado 33 to 13. The Texas boys just had too much experiences with tornadoes.

So, You Want a Telephone?

A MAN we know has a legitimate complaint. His wife has been ill for a long time. Sometimes, she becomes desperately ill and must have a doctor.

But, unlike you, and you, and you, who have your phones, he has to ride mule-back to town—three miles—to get the doctor.

He wants a telephone.

And he can't get one, because he lives in the country. He has applied to the local telephone company but gets no encouragement.

But there is a way he can get a 'phone. There's a way his neighbors, and most rural residents of Bulloch county might secure telephones.

They did it in Jenkins county, in Burke county. And for the past year newspapers have carried accounts of many rural communities now having telephone service.

Recently, Congress passed a Rural Telephone Bill. It provides for the organization of a rural cooperative telephone line,

But Statesboro is asleep. Congress has set up funds for public housing.

And Statesboro can still secure a portion of it with which to build homes here. And it's really a simple matter.

And there's no doubt about Statesboro's qualifying for the funds with which to complete a housing project such as those in our neighboring towns, Waynesboro, Lyons, and Jesup.

The initiative is with our city council. According to legislation providing for public housing, the city council creates a Housing Authority. That's the first step. The Federal Government will approve a loan to plan the project. Then they will provide the loan with which to construct the project.

Now comes the hurdle... For every new home constructed, an undesirable one must be torn down within a period of five years.

We can hear now voices of those who own low-rent places without running water, flush-type toilets, without screens.

We talk a big conversation about inviting new industries to Statesboro. One of the things new industry is interested in is "housing."

We talk big conversation about a healthy community. One of the things health requires is clean, livable homes.

We talk big conversation about "Progress Has the Right-of-Way."

Progress with the right-of-way demands attractive homes, in which happy people live and rear their children.

Before we overwork our slogan, let's go into this matter of public housing.

We believe it to be a wonderful thing for this community.

We believe there is no question as to qualifying. And it costs nothing to see. We commend it to our city fathers.

and only last week President Truman talked to the first subscriber on a rural cooperative 'phone line.

Citizens desiring a rural telephone service go about it exactly like citizens who have secured electric power lines and service—they form a cooperative.

However, the legislation providing for this rural 'phone service gives existing telephone companies the right to provide the service and will loan the company the funds with which to build the line.

If the local company does not exercise its right to provide the service, then a cooperative can be formed and money with which to build the lines can be secured from the Rural Electrical Administration.

Citizens living in rural communities have the same right to expect, and deserve, telephone service that we in Statesboro have.

Like all movements for progress, someone must take the initiative. Someone who is willing to work for the welfare of his neighbor; someone who is willing to be the target of those who would frustrate him and his efforts to better his community.

We believe Statesboro civic groups, businessmen, and other organizations would applaud and aid their friends and neighbors who live in the country—who are just as much a part of Statesboro as their across-town friends.

MEMBERS of the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce are looking at what we've got.

Last week, many Statesboro businessmen visited the Standard Processing Co. and saw how turpentine and rosin is processed. Sometime ago they visited the Robbins Packing Co. to watch the process of finishing meat for the market.

This is a healthy practice, designed to create local interest in local industries, and promote better relations in our community.

We hope other industries in our community will invite the businessmen of Statesboro to visit them.

Autumn Hits Our Locale
SUNDAY AFTERNOON autumn touched Statesboro and Bulloch county.

The moon, big and mellow, rose almost full. A cool, fall feeling breeze suggested sugar cane grindings, hay rides, bulb plantings, falling leaves.

It's Up to the Safety Man!

ALL'S FAIR

By Jane

Eunice Ellis, recognized by her ear bobs! Now we've been acquainted with such markings as two crops in one ear and a slit on the lower left ear when we were a little girl on a big farm. And if I could have some of the twenty or more of those animals we used to see strung up on an icy morning we could live out the duration on ham alone. But before Eunice thinks we are writing tripe, we'll get on to the story.

Among veterans attending T. C. this year, and living in one of the apartments provided for them, is Jack Jarrard and his wife, Evelyn. They came here from Eastman with their little son, who now has a little brother at the Bulloch County Hospital. Evelyn Jarrard was walking down West Main one day and looking in a furniture store she saw a nice looking woman, her face was most familiar, but for a minute she couldn't remember who the lady was. Finally, she saw her ear bobs, large ones and unusually pretty. Then everything was clear. It was Eunice Ellis. She remembered seeing her many many times with Mrs. Hargrove in Eastman and she always wore beautiful ear bobs. So Eunice and her distinctive ear bobs have an impression. Check up on yourself. Have you a positive characteristic or style which enables people to recognize you in a split second?

Children and beauty—Such a wonderful thought these women had and their thoughts and ideas are being translated into action.

Statesboro has the distinction of being the only town in the state or any state that has a girl student in the Southern Technological Institute at the Naval Air Base at Chamblee. There was one girl who finished there and is now employed at Rich's. Elizabeth finished Statesboro High School with honors and has made excellent grades for two years at T. C.

We asked Sara Melton what sort of course her daughter was taking and was amazed when she said "Construction Engineering." We had a picture of Elizabeth swinging from place to place, climbing ladders welding a saw, poring over a blue print. She'll probably learn about the functional uses of all sorts of machines used in building, but the drawing board and blue prints etc., will describe her work more correctly. When she saw the houses and caught on to the idea of what the work was like, she came in with eyes beaming and out of breath she said to her sister, Mrs. Ross Arnold (Willa Thackston before her marriage): "This is it." Elizabeth started classes Monday 24th. We believe we'll be having another Statesboro notable to talk about if we follow her career.

As ever, JANE.

Not Just A Cow Coliseum—An Idea

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

LAST WEEK the farmers were promised a description of the "cow" coliseum that is under construction in Montgomery, Alabama.

While in Montgomery we left a request for information with the Agricultural Center Board. A lengthy description has been received and it is more wonderful than we even imagined. However, at the end of this paragraph: "In closing let me impress upon you that this is NOT a 'cow' coliseum or a bull pen. It is not being built for the purebred associations nor will it be usurped by any set or clique in the State. On the contrary, it will be the intention of the board to operate this facility for the good of all and attempt to reach every phase of agriculture, industry, sports, religion and politics and afford them a better place to meet and mingle, get acquainted and know each other better." So, here are some of the facts concerning the Coliseum, minus the cow:

The coliseum is the most unusual-looking object we have ever seen. At the time of our visit the building was almost completed. The opening was scheduled for the fall. The building is absolutely round and the roof was reinforced concrete and hung from the spans something like a suspension bridge. The glass had not been put in but the exposed walls were to be glassed in.

Can you imagine an arena 130 by 200 feet with overall diameter of 310 feet? There are 286 feet of clear, open space, with not a single post. From the arena floor to the dome the distance is 100 feet; 1,400 tons of steel have been used and between 14 and 15 thousand yards of concrete.

A large number of people can be seated in this fantastic place. There are 9,200 permanent, comfortable chairs. Up to 5,000 can be seated when seats are placed in.

BROOKLET POSTOFFICE IS BADLY DAMAGED

Saturday afternoon at 4:30, just as the Highway Postoffice bus played by Miss Elizabeth Buckshaw, C. Lecroy was soist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her gown of white slipper satin with a fitted bodice and full skirt ending in train. The fingertip veil of illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid and showered with white satin streamers.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Ella Nona Parrish, of Green Cove Springs, Fla., dressed in blue taffeta, was matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. Dan V. West was best man and the ushers were R. L. Lowe, Fred Skinner, Lester Lowe, and Ben Cavin.

After their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Savannah.

LEE MOORE WATERS DIES IN HOSPITAL IN ALABAMA

Lee Moore Waters, of Opp, Ala., former Brooklet citizen, died in an Alabama hospital following a lingering illness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Robbie Robertson Waters; two sons, Edward Waters and William Waters, both of Dothan, Ala.; his mother, Mrs. P. C. Waters, of Savannah; one sister, Mrs. Mamie Lou Turner, of Lakeland, Fla.; three brothers, Leon Waters of Savannah Beach, Griner Waters of Lakeland, Fla., and Charley Waters of Sylvania; and four grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cromley and Mrs. J. N. Shearouse have returned from Georgiana, Ala., where they attended funeral services of their brother-in-law, Lee Moore Waters.

Miss Elliot Ruth Belcher, of Columbus, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Belcher.

J. M. Kennedy, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kennedy, who enlisted in the Marines in May for a period of four years, has been promoted to the rank of private first class, following completion of "boot camp" at Parris Island, S. C. Private First Class Kennedy was the "expert" medal when he fired a score of 221 out of a possible 250 during weapons instruction. Young Kennedy graduated from Brooklet High School in the class of 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shearouse of Savannah, spent Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Watkins.

Rev. Austin Turner and Mrs. Turner, of Social Circle, visited Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Daves this week. Rev. Turner conducted prayer meeting services Tuesday night at the Baptist Church.

The damaged building is the property of J. W. Robertson Sr. As is customary on Saturday afternoons, many people were in town from the rural section, doing their weekly shopping, and it is almost a miracle that many persons were not injured. The crash was heard all over the community.

For the present, the space around the postoffice is roped off as a safety precaution.

Farm Bureau
H. L. Wingate Tells Register F. B. Cotton Quotas May Be Suspended

Cotton quotas will probably be suspended for 1951, H. L. Wingate, Georgia Farm Bureau president, stated today to the some 400 people at Register Thursday night. Register Farm Bureau and Associated Workers men held their annual ladies night last Thursday and invited the officers from all the other chapters in the county to meet with them to hear Mr. Wingate.

Mr. Wingate said that about 16,800,000 bales of cotton would be needed in 1951, which would call for 30,000,000 acres of cotton, or three million more acres than were planted in 1949.

Cotton growers were urged to plant the cotton as a patriotic duty and then, Mr. Wingate thinks, there should be some money in the crop for them. He stated that they had asked for a floor of 35 cents on cotton for 1951. Farmers in this section of the country will plant the cotton because they have never let down a war effort and because they are the kind of people that want to see the American way of life survive, Mr. Wingate observed.

He went on to say that the Farm Bureau was the best large organization today that was fighting to retain the kind of democracy America was founded on. Mr. Wingate praised Bulloch county for building a strong and working Farm Bureau, and stated that he hoped every county in Georgia would develop such a program.

H. V. Franklin, Jr., president of the Register Farm Bureau, presided over the supper meeting in the school's gym. P. Mikell, county president, presented Mr. Wingate and the community presidents. Every community in the county was represented at Register and the presidents assured Mr. Wingate that they would have as many if not more members this fall as they did last year.

Prior to the meeting at Register Thursday night, Mr. Wingate and C. H. Stone, supervisor of the Georgia Extension Service workers in Georgia, talked with the leaders from every community in the county, about 200 of them, at the William James High School. These negro leaders assured Mr. Wingate they would have 750 members this year as against the 346 they had last fall. Director Stone advised them that every one living in an agricultural community such as Bulloch county should join the Farm Bureau, because it added to the income of everyone. He urged the negro leaders to get all their people in the Farm Bureau.

W. G. COBB AT ESLSA

W. G. Cobb, executive vice-president of the Bulloch County Bank and Mr. Mikell met with the Farm Bureau at EsLSa Tuesday night of last week. Mr. Cobb asked those present to make a sincere effort to grow their own tobacco plants.

Tire Rubber Economy Never Possible Before

Into the national achievement record has gone this phenomenal tire rubber economy—never known or possible before!

Now an ounce of wasted rubber yet each tire can give every owner years, instead of miles, of safety and service—his one tire investment for years to come.

With local communities solidly backed by extensive dealer investments in service and maintenance equipment, all of the original safety mileage of these unique tires is continuously renewed and renewable—when other tires are giving up their lives.

They are tires that work and serve at the very heart and core of the national economy in normal times, and in every possible rubber emergency.

They have set up entirely new standards of safety and mileage by which other tires are now being judged and measured, everywhere in the United States.

Whether with black, or with whitewalls, they provide their exclusive Frigitice Curbguard, their new Royalite Tread and Traction, and they deliver up to 60% more safe mileage.

They have resulted from many years of continuous research, experience and U. S. Rubber investment. They are the only such tires in the world, priced as low as life and safety permit.

They are the tires that now roll and serve with the nation, with the rubber economy never known before, remaining fresh and new in safety when other tires are giving up their lives.

It's A Woman's World

Miss Marjorie Claxton Weds R. H. Everett Jr.

As Mrs. Jim Moore played "To A Wild Rose", Miss Marjorie Ellen Claxton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Claxton, and Russell Hardy Everett, Jr., spoke their marriage vows in a lovely ceremony performed Sunday afternoon, Sept. 17 at the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church with Elder V. F. Agan using the double ring ritual.

As a background for the bridal scene, huckleberry, Coontie fern trees and palms were used. Silhouetted against the greenery were three beautiful arrangements of gladioli, chrysanthemum, and dahlias. Candelabra and burning candles were interspersed throughout the bride and groom. The bride wore a lovely dress of white tulle with green accents in perfect harmony with the classic beauty of the church.

The reserved pews were marked with white satin ribbons, daisies and clusters of valley lilies.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Moore presented traditional wedding music and Miss Ninette Sturges sang "I Love Thee" and "O Promise Me."

Mrs. Raymond Lanier, matron of honor, and sister of the groom, wore American beauty satin and carried a nosegay of deep bronze chrysanthemums. Mrs. Fred McLendon, bridesmaid, wore blue satin and her nosegay was yellow, tied with tulle ribbon. Both wore clusters of yellow chrysanthemums in their hair.

Mr. Everett's best man was his father, Russell Everett Sr. The ushers were Raymond Lanier, C. P. Claxton, Jr., Fred McLendon Dock Brannen, Johnny Brannen and Thomas Swinson.

Miss Claxton was given in marriage by her father. Her vivacious blonde was accented by her bridal gown of white satin. A pertha of chantilly lace with off-shoulder effect was attached to a marquisette yoke. The full skirt extended to form a graceful train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to her hair with pearlized orange blossoms and her bouquet was of white carnations and lilies of the valley carried on white prayer book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Claxton wore aqua crepe with black accessories. Both wore purple orchids.

A reception followed in the new church annex which was beautifully decorated with gladioli, dahlias, and chrysanthemums. The bride's table was centered with the beautifully embossed wedding cake, embedded in white carnations, lilies of the valley, and satin ribbons. Bouquets of similar flowers were placed on opposite corners of the table covered table.

The guests were met by Mrs. Milton Hendricks and Mrs. Donald Dickerson, who introduced them to the reception. Miss Helen Brannen, Mrs. C. P. Claxton, Mrs. Russell Everett Sr., the bride and groom, Mrs. Raymond Lanier, and Mrs. Fred McLendon. The bride's book was kept by Misses Betty Sherman and Anne Waters. Mrs. Evelyn Wendell and Miss Helen Brannen were at the bride's table. Assisting in serving were Misses Betty Mitchell, Jane Blanton, Jackie Waters, Lois Stockdale, Mrs. Fuller Huncutt, and Mrs. Fred Darley. Kay Minkovitz and Jane Richardson passed the nuts, and the nuptials were passed by Jane Richardson.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Matt Hendricks, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Math Alderman, Mrs. Sula Freeman, Mrs. M. C. Cowart, Mrs. Ernest Mickell, Mrs. Allen Lanier, and Mrs. Inman Foy.

The bride traveled in a brown faille suit with gold accessories. Her corsage was of bronze and white orchids. They will make a short trip to Florida.

Until the groom has to report to the armed forces at Ft. Hood, Texas, they will be with the groom's parents.

DEBARK-BAILEY
Miss Catherine Denmark, daughter of Mrs. L. T. Denmark, of Statesboro, and the late Mr. Denmark, became the bride of Ralph W. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bailey, at a ceremony held Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. LeRoy G. Cleverdon officiating.

Palms formed a background for lighted tapers in branched candelabra and standards of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. The pews were marked with nylon net and satin ribbon bows. Dwight Bruce, organist, played the wedding music and Miss Edith Bennett sang.

Given in marriage by her brother...

er, John E. Denmark, the bride was lovely in a gown of winter pink lace and net with a matching cape. The fitted bodice was of lace and the full ankle-length skirt of net. Her shoulder length veil held to a lace crown. She carried a handkerchief, owned by her grandmother, and a white prayer book on which was a white orchid bouquet.

Mrs. W. S. Rogers, who was her sister's matron of honor, wore an ankle-length dress of ice blue marquisette and carried pink roses. The flower girls, Linda Rogers and Angela Denmark, nieces of the bride wore ice blue net ankle-length dresses and carried baskets filled with pink rose petals.

On Sept. 14 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Waters. The ceremony was performed in the living room in the presence of members of the immediate families.

The arena. But the more unbelievable is the fact that 90 percent of the seats are outside seats. The reason for this is that there are three concourses which will be served by 21 entrances. On the outside there will be a series of ramps which will make possible the evacuation of a capacity crowd in from three to four minutes. Adjacent to the building it is expected there will be parking lots to accommodate approximately 4,000 cars. There will also be bus lands and taxi stands to serve those without cars.

At 8 o'clock Friday night the band assembled in the band section of the bleachers, waiting for their first support to the team. Until the half the band played peppy songs and marches.

At half-time we formed on the field and went through our maneuvers. After the game the crowd, happy over the Blue Devil win, was invited to a reception at the Community Center.

Looking for honest-to-goodness COMFORT?

Better Buy Buick!

You've probably heard a lot of talk about comfort in 1950 cars. But we'd like to offer one suggestion, which is—let a Buick speak for itself. We'd like to have you settle yourself (your family too, if you have one) on a Buick's soft, deep, comfort-angled cushions, and see how restful they are.

More than this, we'd like you to sample that comfort in motion. Slip your fingers around that slender steering wheel, touch toe to treadle and take off in the smooth, unbroken surge of power that Dynaflow Drive delivers.

We'd like to have you hunt out some of the less-smooth streets or back roads that never seem to get fixed—and put Buick's soft coil springing and solid underpinning to tough and practical test.

This whole experience is bound to make you want a Buick—and when you ask "how much" you'll get a second pleasant surprise in the low delivered prices your dealer is quoting—prices that start at a level that is actually lower than you'd pay for some sixes.

Your Buick dealer is the man to see and this is the best of all times to see him. Drop in, won't you, to see about getting an order signed!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Duke's No Longer "Going Straight"

— I was darn sure I wanted to try it myself. From where I sit, any "improvement plan" will grow if one man demonstrates advantages to his neighbors. Like the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry, under this voluntary program, retailers selling beer co-operate by keeping their places of business clean, bright, and orderly. One retailer sees how the Program helps the others—then he's quick to join up too.
