Truth To A Free People

THIS WEEK, October 1-8, is National Newspaper Week. The slogan is: "Truth to a Free People."

It is a week when newspaper editors, publishers, and reporters take a look at themselves, as well as hold themselves up for others to see.

It gives us "newspaper people" an incentive to re-assess our own newspaper and to re-define it to the highest ideals of free journalism.

Under our front page masthead we carry the line, "Dedicated to the Progress of Statesboro and Bulloch County."

Every effort we make is directed to that end.

We have an abiding love and a strong faith in this community and its people. And we would be violating your confidence in us if, by any writing, we should stray from the "Truth to a Free People."

We in Statesboro, Bulloch county, take for granted the "Free Press." We read our weeklies, our dailies, and monthly magazines with a high degree of assurance that the reporting is accurate and according to the facts.

True, we do read in our newspapers accounts of prejudiced writing . . . but the fact that there is reported just such accounts attest to the vigilance and freedom of our press.

We are all too familiar with the "controlled press" of certain newspapers and publications behind the Iron Curtain.

A dramatic example of the great difference in your free newspapers and that of the Iron Curtain is told by a Statesboro woman.

She appeared here before the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce, and the Business and Professional Women's Club and told a compelling story.

That story, an account of what happened in Communist-dominated Poland, points up to Americans everywhere the importance of preserving the freedoms that only citizens of a democracy enjoy. Here is Miss Gabriel's story, as told to Statesboro citizens in an open, free meeting—which would have been impossible in Iron Curtain countries:

General Wiktor Groz, top minister of information for Poland, used every conceivable strategy to delay the press conference that had been freely held in every other country Miss Gabriel had visited. After three days, the conference was called and she asked General Groz and embarrassing question about where the $485,000,000 worth of UNRRA had vanished.

But let Miss Gabriel tell in her own words what happened next: "The color in his face turned quickly from red to purple and he sarcastically changed the subject by asking, 'I understand you were born and raised in Georgia, Miss Gabriel?'"

"I think it noble of you and America to be interested in our children, but don't you have a lot of dirty linen down in Georgia that needs washing, before washing the world's dirty linen?"

Then Miss Gabriel turned the tables on the Communist general by admitting that perhaps Georgia has some dirty linen and adding:

"However, in view of the fact that we have been dallying three days about a mere press conference, you insisting that your press is free and our is not, I am amused that in far away Poland you should know about our dirty linen in one of the 48 states. You see, the only way you could have known about it is because we have to wash our dirty linen in public through our free press."

The general then reversed his tactics and with profuse apologies called a new press conference the following day at which the reporters asked Miss Gabriel endless questions.

However, not one line about Miss Gabriel's visit or the conference appeared in Poland's so-called "free press."

How Do You Value Your Vote?

COME NOVEMBER 7, the weight of your vote will carry in our General Election will be determined.

You have every right to expect your vote to be of equal value to every other vote cast in any election in Georgia.

We are convinced that in a representative government the vote of one citizen should be equal to the vote of another.

We would like to know that when we cast our vote in our Democratic Primary that it would be worth as much as the vote of our editor-neighbor, Roy F. Chalker, of the Waynesboro True Citizen in Burke county. It's not that we think we are any better than Editor Chalker. It's just that we think our vote is just as good as his.

But the fact is, according to our present system, Neighbor Chalker's vote carries three times as much weight as our vote. It takes our vote, your vote and another vote to equal Mr. Chalker's one vote.

A vote cast in 1950 in Burke county—a four unit vote county—had approximately the same value as three cast in Bulloch.

Is that right?

In the 1948 and 1950 primaries, eighty-three two unit counties and eight four-unit counties in Georgia had an advantage over Bulloch county in the distribution of voting power under the present county unit system.

Bulloch's population equals the combined population of Georgia's eight smallest counties, with 16 units to our four. Bulloch's white population is a thousand greater than the combined white population of Chatham, Echols, Wilcox, and Wayne counties; and approximately three times that of Burke county. One vote cast in North, a four-unit county, was worth two cast in Bulloch. It required five Bulloch county votes to be worth as much as four cast in six-unit Troup, while one cast in Schley equalled four cast in Bulloch.

One vote cast in Chatham had a greater value than 12 cast in Bulloch.

And we think we are a fine county. We think our citizens are as good as there are in the state. And we're right.

Except when we step up to the polls to cast our vote!

Here's something for Governor Talmadge's friends to think about: In the 1950 primary for governor, there were cast in Glynn county 1,710 votes for Mr. Talmadge, and 3,869 votes for Mr. M. E. Thompson. Although the 1,710 votes given Mr. Talmadge in Glynn county were more than he received in Schley, Warren, and Webster counties combined—all of which he carried for a total of six county unit votes—his friends and supporters voting for him in Glynn county were, in effect, disfranchised.

That's our county unit system at work in our primary.

Now, there is the possibility that citizens of Georgia will be without equal voice in the General Election as well. The 1949 General Assembly adopted a Constitutional Amendment to make the county unit vote applicable to the General Election as well as the Primary.

However, this amendment, as is true of all amendments to the Constitution, must be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection. It is to be voted on in the General Election on November 7.

On the General Election ballots the amendment will be written in the affirmative and then in the negative.

When you vote on November 7 you must read both carefully. The affirmative reads: "FOR electing and nominating by political parties, United States Senator, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, the Attorney General, the State School Superintendent, the Comptroller General, the Treasurer, the Commissioner of Agriculture, and the Commissioner of Labor, Justices of the Supreme Court, and Judges of the Court of Appeals, by the people, ON A COUNTY UNIT BASIS."

The negative will begin: "AGAINST election, etc." as above.

If you wish your vote to be of equal value to every other vote cast in subsequent General Elections, then VOTE THE NEGATIVE!

If democratic government is right, then county unit government is wrong. If democratic government expresses the American ideal, county unit system subverts. If democratic government is good government, county unit government is bad.

TRUTH TO A FREE PEOPLE

The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first objective should be to keep that right. Here it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."—Thomas Jefferson.

Editor's Uneasy Chair

I AM YOUR EDITOR. I am your newspaper publisher. I am your newspaper reporter. And to be all these things is an old saying. There's no rest for the weary, which fits us.

That's just one page. Tuesday brings the country correspondent's copy in. Mrs. John Robertson, Mrs. Edna Brannen and Mrs. Zetterover. Mrs. Ernest Brannen begins getting in her society items. Short stories on meetings, publicity for this and that organization . . . all to be organized and set, ready for printing.

ALL'S FAIR

"MAMA, it's cold up here" was Barbara Ann Jones' complaint as she wrote her parents last week. You know exactly what that meant. Jimmie and Lois left Saturday for Mason and Wesleyan Conservatory, loaded with blankets. Baby mustn't catch cold.

TO YOU KNOW Albert Evans, out at the hospital. You certainly know his sister, Jean, who works at the College Pharmacy. Well, we learned recently how Albert became cook at the Bulloch County Hospital. Albert was once in a C.C. Camp where he was assigned to the kitchen crew. When he joined the army and applied for certain outfits he had like to get in, he was immediately told, "We have your record. You'll be cook."

Other officers include Don Flannery, vice president; Fayrene Sturges, treasurer; Jean Evans, librarian; Nancy Attaway, press reporter; Gayton McLendon will be the director.

The club will be made up of 75 members selected from a group of 100 students.

The new president states that the club hopes to enter the music convention to be held in Milledgeville in the spring of 1951.

Rites Held For Mrs. Molly Gould

Mrs. Mollie Gould Munroe, 50, died in a Montgomery, Ala., hospital on Saturday morning of last week after a long illness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10:30 in the Barnes Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. George Lovell officiating. Burial was in East Side Cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Master Sergeant Walter M. Munroe, Montgomery; one son, Lt. Virgil M. Burnett, Maxwell Field, Ala.; one sister, Mrs. Janie Oetgen, Atlanta; two half-sisters, Mrs. Lizzy Waters, Statesboro, and Mrs. Alice Dutton, Savannah; four brothers, D. L. Gould of Brunswick, E. P. Gould of California, James J. Gould of Augusta, and H. C. Gould of Montgomery, Ala.

You Still Have Time!

HAVE YOU enrolled as a member of the Statesboro Concert Association?

Dr. Roger Holland, president of the association, says a few memberships are still available for the 1950-51 season. Announcement already has been made that Madame Ampara Iturbi, famous pianist, and The Original Don Cosack Chorus and Dancers have been scheduled for the season. Dr. Holland says that a third attraction will be announced at a later date.

Here is an opportunity for citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county to enjoy the very best the nation has to offer in entertainment. It is being made possible through the Concert Association and the Georgia Teachers College. Because of the seating capacity of the college auditorium, only 300 memberships are being offered to citizens of the community.

With the first attraction scheduled for October 24, those interested in securing memberships are urged to do so immediately. They may be secured at the Favorite Shoe Store.

U.S. Highway 301— "All-Weather Route"

THE BOYS on U. S. 17 are getting on the ball. They have raised over $60,000 to publicize U. S. Highway 17, by way of Savannah.

Now, the tourists using U. S. 17 have learned a lesson. During the recent storm, U. S. 17 was a little rough, to put it mildly.

Our route, U. S. 301, can be called the "All-Weather Route." Tourists should be made aware of this.

And it takes money to tell them the facts. Our U. S. 301 Association has been active and has done a good job in taking care of Statesboro in its publicity, and if it is to continue doing a good job it must be supported.

WILDLIFE... new look

by Joe Stearns

Ding Dong Dingle Bill

MARK TWAIN once declared that the difference between a taxidermist and a tax collector is that the taxidermist takes only your skin. Fishermen might smile a bit at tax Georgia anglers.

The Fish & Wildlife Service is preparing to get the Warm Springs fish hatchery into full time operation at a cost of some $175,000. Warm water fish from this spot will greatly assist in the stocking of hundreds of farm ponds.

Sometimes in the near future another great Federal fish hatchery will get into full blast, when the Millen project is completed. The cost of this hatchery will run about $200,000 or more. Here again, thousands of ponds and lakes.

This news actually is cheering enough, but when you consider the Dingle Bill was inked by President Truman and now is law—you can shout with joy from the roof tops.

The Dingle operation will be patterned, after the Pittman-Robertson Act, with attention focused on various widespread improved fishing conditions in Georgia. It will be next July before the Dingle Bill goes into action. For each million dollars collected in excise tax on fishing equipment, Georgia will receive approximately $50,000.

Our prospects for a future fishing possibilities are tremendous. The State fisheries certainly will be expanded under the guiding hand of C. C. James and Fred Dickson, the capable biologist. Since our trout streams have been under the greatest pressure in history, with a staggering number of more than 5,000 permits sold this year, we must look ahead to heavier stocking of the mountain streams. To successfully perform this marvelous service for Mr. John Q. Public it will be necessary for the State to make available more holding ponds for rainbows, browns and brook trout. These were needed years ago.

Undoubtedly a fisheries expert will be assigned to research work on marine life on the coast. Georgia can ill afford to pass up those who like salt water angling. There are shrimp and oyster projects that should get attention. Perhaps a man will be placed on the trout streams to keep them healthy and productive. We might even have assistance in the work of the Game and Fish Commission in providing expert advice to those who own farm ponds. Many of these ponds are all out of balance and not providing decent fishing. All of this and more probably will mark the great, rapid strides anticipated under the new Dingle Bill. Many of us will keep a watchful eye on State Fisheries progress starting next July 1st.

Our Government Is Patient

Our Government is a patient one. How it can stomach grown men, who sleep so low as to use checking machines to slaughter fish and yet go right on planning bigger and better things for fishermen, is a mystery of the first water.

Robins devour about 68 worms per day. Ugh... The oak acient trees were used as food in Europe long before anyone ever heard of the grain we call corn... It has been estimated that if all the shrimp caught in one year were placed head to tail in a straight line, they would reach 70,847 miles or—if you prefer, around the world two and a half times.

Sign on gravestone, "Here lies Dentist Smith, filling his last cavity"... A bachelor is a man who never made the same mistake once and a fellow who horses around until he becomes a groom.

A.A.U.W. to Hold Meeting Oct. 10

The regular meeting of the American Association of University Women will be held at 7 p. m. on October 10 at the home of Mrs. George Watson, 56 Grand street. The hostesses for the meeting, which will be a supper meeting will be Dr. Watson, Miss Roxie Remler, Miss Bertha Freeman and Miss Edna Luke.

The A. A. U. W. has planned a year full of interest for university and college graduates and invites any interested women to contact Miss Hattie Maude McElveen with inquiries about membership.

Officers for 1950-51 term are: Dr. Georgia Watson, president; Mrs. Thomas Little, vice president; Miss Louise Bennett, recording secretary; Miss Marjorie Crouch, corresponding secretary; and Miss Margaret Strahlman, treasurer.

"Why I remember when that child was born. I read it in the paper"... Part of the fun of publishing a newspaper is recording those events which are so important in the life of any individual. That's why we like to write about weddings! We know that the account of the wedding goes into a scrap book, goes into the homes of people who are interested in the event... in other words, add to the gladness of the occasion. EDUCATIONAL DRIVE TO SAVE 200,000 GEORGIANS FROM NEEDLESS CANCER DEATH IS LAUNCHED

A year-round campaign to save the lives of 200,000 men, women and children now living in Georgia who will have cancer at some time during their lifetime has been launched by the Georgia Division, American Cancer Society, directing the program are, above, left to right, Rutherford L. Ellis of Atlanta, insurance executive and Chairman of the Division Finance Committee; Dr. Enoch Callaway of LaGrange (standing) the Division's newly elected President; Mrs. Doris Lockerman, associate editor of the Constitution and newly elected State Chairman; Lon Sullivan, Executive Vice President of the Division, and Dr. Elliott Scarborough of Emory Hospital, Chairman of the Division's Executive Committee. Business and Industrial firms will be asked to appoint an Educational Chairman who will distribute cancer facts to all workers. Cancer will strike 614,000 Georgians but 200,000 can be saved if treated early. Early cancer can usually be cured. Advanced cancer is usually fatal.

Another Dividend On N.S.L.I. Policies Coming Next Year

Plans are now being made to pay a second dividend to veterans of World War II who hold National Service Life Insurance, the Veterans Administration has advised William K. Barrett, director of the State Department of Veterans Service.

Checks on the second dividend will start going out in January. All current NSLI policyholders, whose policies were taken out during January of any year, will receive their checks during January of 1951. Dividends will be paid during the month in 1951 which corresponds with the month the policy was issued.

According to Barrett, it is not yet known whether policyholders will have to apply for their dividend. There is a possibility that payment will be automatic, providing the veteran has not moved from the address used when he applied for the earlier dividend.

The forthcoming dividend will be paid for the two-year period from the 1948 anniversary date of the policy until the 1950 anniversary date of the policy.

Approximately 7,000,000 veterans are eligible for this dividend. Over 16,000,000 received the first dividend, but many have dropped their policies.

The dividend will be paid at approximately the same rate as the first one, though possibly somewhat faster.

HADACOL NOW MAKES IT POSSIBLE TO RELIEVE THE CAUSE OF YOUR SICKNESS

Neuritis Pains, Stomach Disturbances, Indigestion, Gas, Constipation, Certain Nervous Disorders and a General Run-down Condition
When due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in your system!

Read How These Folks Benefited Who Had Such Deficiencies

Mr. Anthonatten, 4731 South 32nd West Ave., Tulsa 7, Oklahoma. I started taking HADACOL I had aches and pains of neuritis in my shoulders, my back and arms. I could hardly move without having those terrible pains. Then I heard about HADACOL. After taking the second bottle the pains and aches were about gone. I'm now starting my fourth bottle and am on top of the world. I eat anything I desire and positively have no trouble. HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it actually relieves the real cause of some stomach distress [gas pains, heartburn, indigestion after eating] due to such deficiencies. And continued use of this great HADACOL helps preventing such distress from returning.

THE BAND STAND

By ANN EVANS

The Statesboro High School Band has received recognition in the Lyons Band News and Kjos Music News, which is published at Chicago, Ill. The following is quoted from that paper:

"The Statesboro High School Band of Statesboro, Georgia, left the State Contests at Milledgeville on a cloud—having captured a first division rating in concert, marching and sight reading...

"Mr. McLenon had similar successes in his previous positions at Waycross and Blakely, Georgia, but the program at Statesboro is of such magnitude as to bring unstinted, complimentary remarks from competitive bandsmen over the entire state...

Mac Lockwood, superintendent of the Statesboro Recreation Department, announced this week that Mrs. Frank Wireman will conduct a nursery program at the Community Center this year.

Mother's interested in letting their children participate in the program are urged to bring them to the center Saturday morning for registration.

The group will meet from 9 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturdays. Children between the ages of three and six will be enrolled. The nursery program is part of the recreation program and is free to the mothers of these children.

Mrs. Wireman is the former Miss Claudia Hodges, well known as a youth worker, dance instructor, and musician.

An early patriot editor carried legal government notices in his newspaper free of charge, refusing to accept payment until finally George Washington thanked him for his generosity and insisted that he accept pay.

"Mac's program stems from fourth grade up, and includes his three children, Guyton Jr., who plays a mighty fine bass; Felicia on the flute, and Roger, who besides handling the rhythm section, does a first class job in the fried shrimp department.

The instrumental program has been 'sold solid' to the students and parents of Statesboro, and as a result the enthusiasm for band continues throughout the year at fever pitch. We wish Guyton continued success in keeping his hand on top."

Vaccinating against diseases was also a must on Dr. Dooley's recommendation. Hogs should be vaccinated when young to avoid serious trouble from weak hogs where they are attacked by round worms.

The specialist thought it best to vaccinate hogs from six to eight weeks of age, which would give protection all their life, be cheaper, and easier to handle. Then, too, worms do not bother hogs until they get about three or four months old. Quite often virus is put into what looks to be a healthy hog when, as a matter of fact, the hog is in a weakened condition due to worms, and a break from the virus occurs.

Mr. Dooley predicted hog farmers would use more vaccine in the future for hog cholera, which gives approximately 12 months protection against the disease.

Many hogs in this section die from causes other than cholera, according to Mr. Dooley. Necrotic enteritis kills lots of pigs under six months old. It may attack a pig at any age, and is caused by a bacterium due to worms, and a break from the virus occurs.

Mr. Dooley recommended that hogs with necrotic enteritis be isolated from hogs not sick, and given an injection of alkali solution and anti-hog cholera serum. Take them off feed for one day and give each hog two ounces of epsom salts. The second day, add one-quarter pound of alkaline powder to 100 pounds of whole oats, soak in 15 to 20 gallons of water for about 12 hours. Add to this mixture two pounds of a vitamin known as nicotinic acid. It is the deficiency of this vitamin which causes enteritis.

James Young, field man for McKesson and Robbins, accompanied the Globe Laboratories specialist here and assisted him with motion pictures shown at the meetings. Sidney Lanier, of the City Drug Co., procured these men for this series of meetings.

R. P. Mikell, county Farm Bureau president, met with each of these groups and outlined methods of procuring group hospitalization and renewing subscriptions to local papers through the Farm Bureau, at considerable savings to the members. Mr. Mikell cited several reasons why the Farm Bureau should be stronger in Bulloch county this year than ever before.

Brooklet served a roast pork supper Monday night. Their meeting was changed from the regular time so that Mr. Dooley could be with them.

Farm Bureau Livestock Disease Specialist Speaks At County Farm Bureau Meetings

An ounce of prevention in livestock diseases is worth more than a pound of cure, Frank Dooley, livestock disease specialist of Fort Worth, Texas, told the Farm Bureau members attending Brooklet, West Side, Sifton and Partial Farm Bureau meetings last week.

Mr. Dooley urged livestock farmers to make a stronger effort to keep their livestock free of internal and external parasites. He pointed out that drugs available for this work were relatively inexpensive and could be procured anywhere. Phenothiazine was the drug recommended for internal parasites.

The instrumental program has been 'sold solid' to the students and parents of Statesboro, and as a result the enthusiasm for band continues throughout the year at fever pitch. We wish Guyton continued success in keeping his hand on top."
