Ninette Sturgis Makes US Colleges' Who's Who

Miss Ninette Sturgis, of Statesboro, is one of 12 seniors at Georgia Teachers College selected for representation in the annual publication, "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

Nominations were made by the junior and senior classes and the faculty. Qualifications included scholarship, leadership, cooperation, citizenship, and promise of future usefulness.

Each student will receive a certificate of recognition in a chapel ceremony.

Miss Sturgis is the daughter of Mrs. Nina D. Sturgis, of 13 Inman street, Statesboro. She is majoring in state science.

The following students have been elected to "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges for the year 1950-51:

Jefferson Davis Corbitt Jr., Mary Maxine Corbitt, Irwinton, Ga.; Margaret Moore Harrison, Hialeah, Fla.; H. Eugene Kendrick, Jonesboro, Ga.; Betty Jean Lewis, Quitman, Ga.; Wilbur Harold Peacock, Morrow, Ga.; William Leonard Pharis Jr., Columbus, Ga.; Betty Reagan, Wadley, Ga.; Earle McCurdy Reynolds, Ardmore, Pa.; John Wilbur Stone, Wrens, Ga.; Ninette Sturgis, Statesboro, Ga.; Blair Gordon Wells, Guyton, Ga.

Each of these twelve students is a candidate for graduation in June, 1951.

Scholarship, leadership and cooperation in educational and extracurricular activities, general citizenship and promise of future usefulness were considered in making the nominations. Nominations were made by the junior and senior classes and members of the faculty and administration.

These students will receive without cost a certificate of recognition and presented at Georgia Teachers College; recognition in the annual publication in the form of a write-up of his college and personal record; benefits of the Student Placement Service provided by the organization if he needs assistance in making employment contacts or supplying other recommendations.

"Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges" was started as a means of giving national basis of recognition for college students.

The Claxton Tigers can boast of having at least 18 or 19 men back from last season, including last year's first string. These include John Perkins, the state's leading high school scorer, with an average better than three touchdowns per game for seven games; Danny Crumpton, one of the region's best passers; Benny Hodges, extra point specialist; and Hughey Glasgow, Tiger end, termed a good college prospect. That is somewhat better than most teams have in this region, but it doesn't mean they can't be defeated, because, after a quick glance at their schedule, you will find that they haven't had a too tough one.

Confidence is a good thing for any team to have, but overconfidence and the Blue Devils might mean defeat for the Tigers in their own den Friday night.

At 8:15 Friday night, the scene might well be that of a Georgia-Georgia Tech battle—not in number, but in spirit. It will be as good a game as there is anywhere, but, of course, someone will have to lose. It could just as easily be the Tigers of Claxton as the Blue Devils of Statesboro.

Let's all go with the Blue Devils to Claxton Friday night and prove that we're behind them 100 per cent.

Read next week's Herald for a play-by-play description of this game.

Farm Bureau D. L. Alderman Jr. Named President Of Brooklet Farm Bureau, 1950-51

D. L. Alderman Jr. will head the Brooklet Farm Bureau next year.

The group held its election last week when it met with the Lee-Field P.T.A. Mr. Alderman replaces F. C. Rozier, who stated that two years was enough for him to serve as president.

John Rushing Jr. was named vice president and John C. Cromley was named secretary and treasurer for another year.

Previously, the ladies had named Mrs. J. C. Pretorius as president of the Associated Women. Mrs. Felix Parisi was named vice president, Mrs. Harold Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Acquilla Warnock treasurer.

Approximately 100 were present at the annual meeting with the Lee-Field group. Miss Nellie Lee, Ted Tucker and Miss Gloria Braun provided the music for the program. Mrs. Myrtle Edenfield, REA home economist, met with the ladies.

R. P. Mikell, county Farm Bureau president, predicted that the county would have about as many members this year as last year. He pointed out that farmers who followed the action of the Farm Bureau when efforts were made to dump surplus farm commodities on the market at 90 per cent of their value would have about as many as they had in 1949, which was 152.

Bulloch County H. D. Council Holds Meeting

One of the fall highlights of the Bulloch County Home Demonstration Council came last Friday night, when the group held their annual banquet at the Jaekel Hotel. Mrs. Earl Lester, president, was master of ceremonies.

The program opened with a devotional by Mrs. Z. S. Henderson, with the aid of several musical instruments.

New project leaders who had to be elected since the present council officers were installed were Mrs. Hudson Allen, Mrs. Herman Nesmith, Miss Lela White, Mrs. Cecil Canette, and Mrs. Dan Lee. Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, assistant home demonstration agent, lighted the candles of these new leaders and presented them with a challenge for better leadership.

Mrs. Billy Simmons, past council president, gave the history of "America the Beautiful," after which the group sang this song.

Pins bearing the home demonstration symbol were awarded by Mrs. Lester to club members who had done outstanding club work during the year. Receiving numerical guard No. 2 and chain for two years of outstanding service were:

Mrs. H. V. Franklin, Mrs. Howard Christian, Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. Cecil Canette, and Mrs. Carter Deal.

Receiving pins for one year of service were: Mrs. Arthur Riggs, Mrs. Emitt Scott, Mrs. Alton Brannen, Mrs. Ethel Ellis, Miss Mary Jo Moore, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. DeJana Rushing, Mrs. Comer Bird, Mrs. E. L. Womack, Mrs. Dan Lee, Mrs. John Rushing Jr., Mrs. Ivey Wynn, Mrs. Jesse Atkins, and Mrs. H. A. Nesmith.

The climax of the banquet came when Mrs. Lester presented her inspiring challenge to the 151 leaders of Bulloch county's Home Demonstration Council of fifteen clubs. In this challenge, Mrs. Lester stressed the importance of the place a home demonstration club has in building a better community in which to live. She stated she believed the home improvement activities of club members, such as living room and kitchen contests, is having a very definite influence on our community development. She continued by saying, "The road to success in community development isn't an easy one for rural people. It may be full of detours and pied pipers, but we can't expect a free ride. So, let your home demonstration club be your vehicle for your ride to achievement."

The Choice of Champions - DODGE "Job-Rated" TRUCKS

49 out of 86 champion truck drivers choose Dodge!

Champion drivers know champion trucks! The nation's state champions... with proved reputations for safety records and driving skill... competed recently in New York at the National Truck Roadshow. Given the privilege of driving any make truck, these champions selected Dodge for national competition by more than 2 to 1 over all other makes combined!

In the events in which Dodge trucks participated, 6 out of 9 national winners drove Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks.

The champions selected Dodge for these tough tests because of "extra visibility," its great maneuverability, good braking, and ease of handling. So, take a tip from the men who know: drive a Dodge "Job-Rated" Truck!

FIRST TROPHY in the Tractor, Tandem-Axle Semi-Trailer Class was won by O. E. Chapman, Pacific Intermountain Express, Oakland, Calif. Chapman, Colorado State Champion, drove a Dodge YA-142 4-ton "Job-Rated" Truck.

Gov. Proclaims Week of Nov. 12-18 F.H.A. Week

Governor Herman Talmadge issued a proclamation this week declaring the week of November 12-18 Future Homemakers Week in Georgia. National Homemakers Georgia. National Future Homemakers Week is being observed at the same time throughout the nation and in the territories of Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Thousands of Georgia girls who are members of the chapters in the high schools of the state will observe the week in their communities. The seven-day program will open on Sunday with the church day. Many chapters will put red roses, their national flower, in altars of their churches, and Georgia ministers will preach on the spiritual values of homemaking.

Statesboro Wins Third Place In Champion Hometown Contest

The people of Statesboro, with an impressive plan, plenty of determination, and the hard work necessary to get the job done, have won third prize of $500 in the 5,000 to 20,000 population group of the 1950 Georgia Champion Home Town Contest.

This announcement was made today by Charles A. Collier, vice president of the Georgia Power Company. First prize of $1,000 and second prize of $750 in this group will go to Gainesville and Toccoa, respectively.

In the under 1,000 population group, winners of the top three awards were Franklin, Nichols and Avera. In the towns between 1,000 and 5,000 population, Dawson, Arlington and Sylvania led the field in that order. The prizes in these two groups are the same as in Statesboro's group.

There were 250 towns in this year's contest. Under Statesboro's plan of improvement, the court house was remodelled and the city hall, including the fire and police stations, was repaired. More than $80,000 was spent on terminals and railroads inside the city to improve both service and appearance.

And 6,000 azalea bushes were planted throughout the city along with dozens of magnolia, dogwood and holly trees. City parks were cleaned and had their landscaping improved. 10, 135 feet of sewers were added (4, 915 feet in colored sections), and 175 hard surface tennis courts were built.

A new Catholic church was built and additions and improvements were made to existing churches. Approximately 60 new homes were built and many others were repaired or remodeled. Extensive school modernization programs were carried out including the purchase of new school buildings, purchased new farm machinery and built 200 farm fish ponds. The tobacco market sold a record two and one-half million pounds this year, and the average farm income was raised to $2,900.

In addition to the top prize winners, honorable mention awards of $100 each went to Allentown, Chipley, Clarksville, Elmdale, Dalton, Ellijay, Villa Rica, Winder, Americus, Dalton, Dublin, and Newnan.

Certificates of achievement were awarded to Cleveland, Darville, Funston, Greenville, Jasper, Ludoville, Blakely, Calhoun, Dallas, Church, Hogansville, Sylvester, Brunswick, East Point, Elberton, Griffin, Hapeville and Trifton.

Judges in the contest were Dr. Francis Scott, associate professor at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., and a trustee of the National Council for Community Improvement; Charles Murchison, chairman of the board of directors of Capitol Air Lines, Atlanta; and James H. Gray, editor and publisher of the Albany Herald.

William Youngblood and S. Deal on same ship. The U. S. Navy announced this week that William R. Youngblood, seaman apprentice, USN, 115 East Main Street, is aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Newman K. Perry and is now in the Mediterranean Sea.

James Deal, son of Col. and Mrs. A. M. Deal, is also aboard the Newman K. Perry.

Blue Devils Lose 13-9 To Claxton High Tigers

Playing inspired football, the Statesboro High School Blue Devils lost 13 to 9 to the undefeated, high scoring Claxton High School Tigers in the "game of the year" in Claxton last Friday night.

Before a crowd estimated to be between 2,500 and 3,000, the Blue Devils played the best football of the year during the first half, when Claxton succeeded in scoring only late in the second quarter.

Late in the game the Blue Devils began a rally which was staved off by the Tigers. Included in the lineup was Joe Ben Cassidy, who was a member of the National Guard when it was mobilized. He received his discharge on Thursday of last week and was declared eligible for the Claxton game.

A native of Barnesville, the bachelor player received the assurance that the meat offered by these firms is properly inspected and sold under approved requirements.

Mr. Moyer is the choice of the senior class, which makes the dedication of the new building at the University of Iowa, Duke University, and George Peabody College for Teachers. He served in Monroe county as one of the first Georgia school supervisors and has taught at Gordon Military College, Norman College, and Middle Georgia College.

Earle M. Reynolds of Ardmore, Pa., is editor of the yearbook, and Gene C. Henderson of Collegeboro is business manager.

Miss Spears was present and gave the club their record books and a demonstration on flower arrangements. Kathleen Barnwell is the reporter.

The annual Thanksgiving poultry sale will be held at the Statesboro-Ginny on West Main street on November 18, from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. Ralph E. Moore, local poultry dealer, was high bidder for this sale with a bid of 25 cents per pound on colored hens, 23 cents on fryers, 20 cents on geese, and 15 cents on roosters.

The only teachers college in the state now has a chapter of the Future Teachers of America. President of the new organization at Georgia Teachers College is Earle M. Reynolds, a Shelby Monroe is sponsor.

At a meeting at the Community Center this week the newly organized Adult Council on Teenage Recreation made extensive plans for a complete program for teenage youths of Statesboro.

To be known as the "Drag On Inn Club," it received the complete approval of more than 500 high school boys and girls when presented to them in chapel at Statesboro high school this week.

Plans include square dancing, formal dances, parties, movies, skating parties, and hay rides. All youth in their teens are eligible, regardless of what grade they are in school. Meetings will be held each Friday evening with the first meeting called for Friday, November 24, just after Thanksgiving.

The first meeting will be given over to organization, followed by a square dance, and refreshments. The council is made up of ten parents who are interested in the welfare of the youth of this community.

An invitation is issued to all youth in their teens to attend the first meeting and become members of the Drag On Inn Club.

153 Pints Blood Used In October

October was a bloody month at the Bulloch County Hospital. According to figures released this week, the Bulloch County Hospital used 153.5 pints of whole blood and eight units of blood plasma during the month of October.

This is the largest amount of blood used in any one month in the hospital from not only from Bulloch county but also from all the neighboring counties.

According to their report, the following markets comply with all sanitary requirements of the health department and are approved markets:

The Bergin Corner, Roberts Grocery and Market, Bryant's Grocery and Market, Moore's Grocery, Hendrix Self Service, Hodges and Deal, Oliff and Smith, Nesmith's Grocery, Colonial Stores, Aldred Brothers, Logan Hagan, Community Grocery, B. Morris, H. & M. Grocery, A. & R. Grocery, Johnson's Grocery, Cason's Grocery, Waters' Grocery, Northside Grocery, Kelly's Grocery and Market, and M. Waters' Grocery.

Citizens of Statesboro who trade with these grocers and meat markets have the health department's assurance that the meat offered by these firms is properly inspected and sold under approved requirements.

Mr. Moyer is the choice of the senior class, which makes the dedication of the new building at the University of Iowa, Duke University, and George Peabody College for Teachers. Stores to Close Next Thursday

Announcement is made by the Statesboro Merchants Council that stores will remain closed Thursday, November 23, in observance of Thanksgiving.

On Wednesday, November 22, stores will remain open all day until 6 p. m., and will continue to remain open all day Wednesday until after Christmas.

Rev. John S. Lough, pastor, will preach at the 11:30 Sunday morning service on "The Virtue of a Grateful Heart." The children's church will be conducted by Rev. J. D. Corbit at the same hour. Sunday School is at 10:15. At the 7:30 evening revival Rev. Lough will preach on "The Power to Be- come."

The membership drive will conclude on November 24 when local Legionnaires from Georgia and the nearby states will gather in Dawson, Ga., to celebrate the homecoming of Eric Coker Jr., recently elected national commander of the legion.

Post Commander Woodcock said that the local post which helped to push Coker's candidacy for the Top Legion job during the past two years, is aiming at having at least 60 percent of its quota of 240 members for 1950 signed in advance by the homecoming day.

Veterans eligible for Legion membership may obtain an application blank, additional information on Legion programs, and join the local post by contacting Mr. Woodcock, at 14 West Main Street, or at 24 North Main Street, or Dr. Ed Smart at 11 West Main Street.
