THE BULLOCH HERALD DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1951

Services Continue At Local Primitive Baptist Church

The Annual Week's Meeting which began at the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church on Monday evening of this week continues through Sunday evening.

The guest preacher, Elder W. C. Chandler, pastor of the Savannah Primitive Baptist Church, began his series of sermons Monday evening on the general theme of the meeting which is "The Cloud of Witnesses in the Christian Race" from Hebrews 12:1-3.

Services are held daily at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m., except on Sunday morning when a usual hour of 11:30 will be observed.

Bible Study and Youth Fellowship services will be held at the usual hours.

Wesley V. P. Agan, pastor of the church, invites the public to attend these meetings, saying, "Worship with us in these services. We have a great appreciation for the large circle of Christian brethren and sisters who often meet with us. We extend a cordial invitation to all denominations to come to the front and join in the good singing."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH Regular Sunday school will be at 10:15. Morning worship at 11:30. Training union at 6:45 and evening worship at 8 o'clock. Prayer meetings are held each Wednesday evening at 8 at the church. Visual aids on the course on the Bible from Genesis to Revelations on Friday evening at 8 at the church.

METHODIST CHURCH The pastor, Rev. John S. Lough, will preach on "Motherhood at Its Best" at the 11:30 morning worship. The evening worship hour has been called off to give the people another opportunity to attend the concluding revival services at the Primitive Baptist Church. Sunday school is at 10:15 a. m. Children's Church at 11:30 and Youth Fellowship at 7:30.

A Case Or Two And A Stiff Fine

A CITIZEN of Statesboro and the parent of a school child is worried.

He sits on the front porch of his home on North College street and sees that street turned into a race track.

He tells of fast-moving traffic endangering the lives of school children on their way to and from school. He tells of the many citizens who use College street as a traffic lane to and from the school. And he worries.

He's concerned for the safety of those children who must walk to and from the school.

He's concerned for the pre-school children who never realizing the danger of playing along the sidewalks of that street.

He's concerned with the general flaunting of speed limits along that street, not only in the mornings and afternoons, but at all hours of the day.

He's concerned because the chances of accidents happening on that street are higher than local police authorities should allow them to become.

And we agree with him. We observed traffic on both North and South College streets. And this citizen and parent has a case.

College street has become a race track. We know that during morning school hours and afternoon school hours police are stationed at the intersection of South College street and Grady street. And we concede the necessity of maintaining police there.

But we believe that a closer study of traffic on North and South College should be made and an attempt be made to slow it down before it's too late.

We believe the first step would be to change the blinking light at the intersection of West Main and College streets. It is nothing but a hazard. If it were observed—if drivers would come to a full stop before crossing, as the light directs, it would work. But an observer is quickly aware that very, very few ever take the time to stop for the light.

We believe that if our police force were instructed to spend more time in the control and direction of traffic, with particular attention to the main residential street, than to the checking of parking meters, there would be an overall reduction in the hazards created by speeding traffic.

We believe that a few cases made against those violating our speed laws and stiff fines imposed upon them—then let the word get around—would result in a fast slowdown on the part of these race track drivers.

rate "excellent" in band circles, and the band is thought of as one of the best in the country in schools the size of our college.

Mr. King and his bandmen have been invited to appear on a television show this winter and to make a tour of upper sections of the state.

Take time out and go to the Teachers College band concert Friday evening. You will enjoy it.

Things are beginning to happen. Something nearly every night.

First in the series of school-end events will be the Statesboro High School Blue Devils Band concert on Tuesday evening of next week.

The Statesboro high school band has made wonderful strides under the director, Guyton McLendon. Those who heard previous concerts will remember their amazement and pleasure at the improvement of the band since its coming under the direction of Mr. McLendon.

The Statesboro continues to be on the progressive list. We would like to see her progress in two more respects. First, the banks become members of the Federal Reserve System. (There would be no exchange on checks cashed in Statesboro given by out-of-town banks.) Second, the telephone company and Western Union join hands as they do elsewhere, so that one may call a wire from home or have place of business, and the wire be charged on the phone bill. What an advantage both these small things would be!

Active members of the senior scouts are: Ronnie Brown, Billy Bland, Smith Banks, Cliff Cannon, Guy Freeman, Glenn Jennings Jr., Gene Newton, L. M. Smith, William Russell, and Steve Sewell.

Stationsboro continues to be on the progressive list. We would like to see her progress in two more respects. First, the banks become members of the Federal Reserve System. (There would be no exchange on checks cashed in Statesboro given by out-of-town banks.) Second, the telephone company and Western Union join hands as they do elsewhere, so that one may call a wire from home or have place of business, and the wire be charged on the phone bill. What an advantage both these small things would be!

As this is being written the band is in Valdosta, participating in the State Music Festival. We believe it will perform with credit to its members and to Statesboro and Bulloch county.

We know that you who have a son or daughter in the band will be present. So, this is addressed to those who love band music, to those who love to see the youth of the community displaying its talents, to those who would question the value of a high school band, and to those who are just plain curious. We say, go hear these young people perform.

You'll be highly repaid—in pleasure and satisfaction, and a feeling of community pride.

Up She Goes!

THIS WEEK we toss our hat high in the air and say, "Well done, and congratulations."

For two of our high school newspapers have been recognized by the Georgia Scholastic Press Association, which met in Athens last week.

The Statesboro High School's "Hi-Owl" won the trophy for outstanding community service, together with a certificate of distinction.

Remer Tyson is editor-in-chief of the Little George-Anne and Ann Evans is editor-in-chief of the Hi-Owl.

These two high school newspapers are a credit to our community and we join the press of Georgia in congratulating them on their outstanding achievements.

So, up goes our hat—high, wide, and handsome.

Our Boy Scouts Are Worthy Of Our Best Salute

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

IF YOU thought you were pretty good at identifying uniforms but suddenly a very strange one appeared on the streets of Statesboro and you decided you weren't so good after all—well, don't give up—maybe that outfit you saw was a senior scout uniform.

From the activities of painting helmet liners white and bleaching leggings white one gathers that these boys are about ready for action.

Perhaps you may have noticed some of these boys, not in uniform, at the Red Cross first aid classes, or on Tuesday nights in someone's yard push-ups, or in less serious moods on a hayride with their girls' friends.

Anyhow, these senior scouts are worthy of our best salute. They are seriously studying and are attempting to learn what they can do for their fellow-citizens in case of disaster, and they are doing it. It is cause — A-bomb or tornado.

Here are some of the qualifications for becoming a senior scout:

The boys must be 14 years old and a first class scout; he must have a merit badge of public health and first aid, as well as badges in firmness, personal health, pathfinding, lifesaving, and athletics.

Mr. Zack Smith is the scout leader and is doing an excellent job of developing these boys physically, mentally, and personally. He has every boy's deepest respect, although they speak of him as "Zack." One mother asked her son if he shouldn't address his scout leader as Mr. Smith. The son replied, "Ah, Mamma, how could we call him Mr. Smith when he's just Zack?"

The other day was a senior scout explaining how he'd use certain equipment for this trouble and that, in case we were bombed with the atom bomb. I innocently asked how he knew the equipment would be intact in case of a bombing? Now, the next project in that particular scout's mind is that of building a bomb shelter, for the equipment, at least.

It is rather hard to visualize these boys thinking in such serious terms when the mothers can hardly realize they are anything except "little boys." However, these boys are more mature than we know—they are in earnest about their program and they can prove a great help to their country.

On Mother's Day I long to wear a lovely red, red rose. Because she's closer still to me than anybody knows. When I crocheted a bit of lace, a baby shoe or mat. I stand in pride before my work. "My mother taught me that." When I prepare a simple meal, I feel my work is art. For Mamma thought the smallest chore came from an overflowing heart.

And when it comes to writing, I wish I had the gift. To add so much to little things: the humblest soil uplift. Her column, "Old Fashioned Mother," so down to earth and true—How I wish I had the talent to pass it on to you.

After writing the above I received a birth announcement. "Hello," I just thought I'd call and tell you that we all are doing fine. Guess I'd better ring off now for we have a busy line!"

On the tiny garments fluttering on the line, we read the following: "My name is Jane Dixon. I arrived April 29, I weighed 7 lbs. and 5 oz. My parents are Hank and Dot, Hollingsworth. Hank is the son of

Editor's Uneasy Chair

OUR FRIEND is BACK

OUR FRIEND, Mr. Sutherland, of Brookton, Mass., father of Al Sutherland, of Statesboro, is back for a visit with his son Mr. Sutherland flew to Statesboro to attend the performance of "The Mikado," in which Al played a leading role at the college recently.

Mr. Sutherland is a man to whom we tie our affection. When he comes in to see us the place lights up, and we, as well as our co-workers in the backshop, feel the brightness and warmth of his presence. He brings in sunshine, cheerfulness, and kind words for all. Regardless of what we are doing, we break it off to talk with him. When he leaves us, he leaves us with a refreshed feeling and a new zest for what we are doing.

Oh that there could be more of more people like the "Little Scotchman," as we fondly refer to him. He's no stranger in Statesboro. He walks the streets, speaking to us. We're glad he's back with us for a spell.

Recently we made a talk to the students of the college at one of their chapel assemblies. We quoted a thing called "Why Country Newspaper Editors Call Them-selves 'We.'" We picked it up from the American Press Association magazine and it is accredited to Carl R. Keeler.

It goes like this: "A Country Editor—Is one who reads newspapers, selects miscellany, writes articles on all subjects sets type, reads proof, folds papers, and sometimes carries out, prints jobs, runs errands, patiently receives blame for a thousand things that never were his."

"Little Girl—"Daddy, why do editors call themselves 'we'?"

"Daddy—"To fool the readers into thinking there are too many of them to beat up."

WORK REPORT

We finally got our screen porch painted. Well, it's not exactly finished. There's one little three-foot square area on which we still have to put a second coat. And there are some spots we've got to go back over. But for the sake of the record, the job's finished.

And now we're back in our yard.

Mexico, Los Angeles, Hot Springs National Park, Ark., and Alexandria, Va. The far western car came from Ulna Smith and Cora Williams who traveled by plane accompanied by their husbands. We left Savannah, stopped over for a quick sight-seeing tour of New Orleans and on to Mexico and Los Angeles. We flew home from San Francisco in one day. "Pretty girls on those planes," added Frank.

"Even straightened my pillow for me as our seats were adjusted for sleeping." "Where was Cora?" I asked. "Oh, she was right there," he replied quickly. "How did you feel when the plane would hit the bumps?" I inquired. "Not so bad," I asked the girl what was the matter? and she said, "Oh, we just hit Georgia."

The one from Peoria came from Harvey and Nita Brannen. We are having the nicest trip. In Chicago for the MacArthur parade last Thursday. Went to Davenport, Iowa, yesterday. The scenery is beautiful up here. Our friends are really showing us around in grand fashion."

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hollingsworth, of Sylvania, Ga. was formerly Dorothy Stubbs, of Millhaven. They are now living in Nashville, Tenn. "So we'll have to yield to Hansel and Dot. They are remembering MOTHER with a little namesake."

Proving that Statesboro citizens are trip-happy we have the evidence in cards from Washington, D. C., Peoria, Ill., Ciudad Juarez,

Rabbit Trouble Again

FOR the past several weeks we have been noticing a rabbit in our front yard. We had set out some azaleas plants and we got our deer under when we saw that rabbit.

But our soft heart would not let us go any further than flinging our hands out and shouting "no!"

Then one day recently we noticed a tiny baby rabbit in our back yard. We were so glad to see it that we thought how nice to catch it and take it to "Sissy" Summerlin, six-year-old neighbor. So, we set about trying to catch the baby rabbit. If you're fortunate, you're catching a baby bunny. The shot of our attempt was the finding of a rabbit's nest in which two more baby rabbits were lying—right in our bulb bed, just under our kitchen window.

Did we scream? Here we were, harboring a whole family of rabbits—and our azaleas their food supply.

Well, the things were so blamable that we were helpless to do anything. So, there they stayed until they became old enough to get out on their own. And now we'll be fighting them the rest of the summer trying to keep them out of our flowers.

Miss Virginia Lanier Bride of Dight Olliff

Of sincere interest to their many friends in Statesboro and Bulloch county is the marriage of Miss Virginia Lanier, daughter of Mrs. Houston D. Lanier of Denmark, to Dight Bruce Olliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Olliff of Statesboro.

The ceremony was performed Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Elder Henry Waters officiated in an impressive double ring service in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride was lovely in a white summer wool gabardine suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was pink roses.

Mrs. Lanier wore a pink crepe dress with a corsage of white pom-pom chrysanthemums. The groom's mother wore an aqua suit with black and white accessories and her corsage was of red roses.

The bride is a graduate of the Brooklet High School and for several years has been employed in the bookkeeping department of the Bulloch County Bank.

The groom is a graduate of the Statesboro High School and received his B. S. degree from Georgia Teachers College. He is an employee of Donaldson-Smith Clothing Company.

"Street Scene" At T.C. Thursday Night, May 17

No Hollywood talent scout has been scouring the highways and byways of Statesboro for potential actors and actresses, but the lure of grease paint and footlights has drawn some of this city's quiet citizens to the world of make-believe. Georgia Teachers College students who are in the cast welcome these newcomers to their ranks.

Not only townspeople have succumbed, but also members of the Georgia Teachers College faculty are following in the wake of Sarah Bernhardt, the Barrymores, and Charlie McCarthy. You may see these new stars on the stage for the first time in the Maquers' production of "Street Scene," to be presented in the college auditorium on May 17.

The leading roles in the play are portrayed by June Carr and Dan Biggers. Miss Carr, the daughter of Mr. Kermit Carr, vice president of the Sea Island Bank, is a freshman at Statesboro High School. Mr. Biggers, a junior student at the college, is well known for his roles in other Maquers' productions. Other townspeople in the cast include: Henry J. McCormick, director of the Bulloch County Hospital; Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, who is an active member of the Junior Woman's Club and has appeared in several of its productions; Mrs. Hamilton's two children, Buddy and Nancy Hamilton; Shirley Gullledge, daughter of Lt. Cmdr. A. M. Gullledge, Sixth Naval District, Charleston, S. C.; Betty Ann Sherman, daughter of S. H. Sherman, superintendent of the Statesboro city school system; and William and Dick Russell, sons of Dr. Fielding Russell of Georgia Teachers College faculty.

Members of Georgia Teachers College faculty and administration are members of the cast are: William B. Moye, professor of mathematics; Nettie B. Johnson, house mother of East Hall; Frieda Germain, professor of fine arts; Don McDougald, assistant controller; Tully Pennington, professor of biology; Elia Johnson, professor of English; Dr. Fielding Russell, head of the English department; and Z. L. Strange, Collegeboro postmaster.

"Street Scene," Pulitzer prize winner of 1928, is a moving story of life on the darker side of New York City. It is here, in the great "melting pot" of the United States, that one finds the great variety of characters that make the play one of the most realistic and touching dramas of the modern age.

The production is one of the most tremendous ever undertaken by Maquers. The cast includes 55 characters and the intricate set, a New York tenement house, is being built by the Industrial Arts Department of the college.

THANKS Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Adams of Athens, Georgia, who were hurt recently in an automobile accident in Statesboro, and confined to the Bulloch County Hospital, wish to take this means of expressing their appreciation to the hospital staff and to the good people of Statesboro for their kindness during this time.

Outstanding Georgia high school graduates in 1951 who have made good records with livestock projects may apply to the College of Agriculture, Athens, for scholarships.

Faculty Dames Hold Annual Luncheon At TC Cafeteria

The Faculty Dames used as the theme for their annual May luncheon Lewis Carroll's "Mad Hatter"—a Mad Hatter luncheon. Hedda Hopper would have felt right at home Wednesday at the college cafeteria as each woman present wore a hat of her own design.

Mrs. Jack Broucek won the prize for her hat, an unusual creation suggesting the theme of "April Showers Bring May Flowers." A plastic duck on the crown carried an umbrella and was nestled in flowers. To anchor the cardboard brim, Mrs. Broucek used a ribbon that tied under her chin.

Mrs. Tom Little covered a beanie with tin foil, playing cards forming the upstanding crown. Mrs. Tom Alexander wore with dignity and grace a band of pitcher plants. Mrs. Paul Carroll went sweet and sentimental with a bonnet of eyelet embroidery arranged to frame her face. Mrs. Marvin Pittman managed to remain dignified wearing a straw hat with a bill. A red scarf draped the crown and hung down the front. Mrs. J. B. Seacree was beautiful at a distance of about ten feet. A cardboard hat holder, polished black, was covered with red flowers in wild abandon on the brim, and the whole was caught with black net. Mrs. John Erickson wore a really lovely hat fashioned from a nylon parachute, the handsome tassel being the "chute's" ripcord. Mrs. Taylor Scott wore a saucy frilly dolly with flowers on top. Miss Frieda Gernant, guest of honor, because she had made the covers for the yearbook, displayed her artistic talent with Carmen Miranda accent. She wore an inverted bread box from which rose a palm tree with a coconut. She tried to find a monkey to complete the tropical idea.

On this occasion each wife whose husband was leaving the college for work on doctorates revealed their plans.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Thomas Alexander, Mrs. H. L. Ashmore, Mrs. Jack Broucek, Mrs. Paul Carroll, Mrs. J. I. Clements, Mrs. Buford Dye, Mrs. John Erickson, Mrs. J. P. Foides, Miss Frieda Gernant, Mrs. Warren Houck, Mrs. D. L. Thomas, Mrs. Don Hackett, Mrs. W. S. Why a "Job-Rated" truck is your safest investment

A "Job-Rated" truck is engineered at the factory to fit a specific job... save you money... last longer. Every unit from engine to rear axle is "Job-Rated"—engineered to haul a specific load over the roads you travel and at the speeds you require.

Every unit that SUPPORTS the load—frame, axles, springs, wheels, tires and others—is engineered right to provide the strength and capacity needed.

Every unit that MOVES the load—engine, clutch, transmission, propeller shaft, rear axle and others—is engineered right to meet a particular operating condition.

Safer stops with "Job-Rated" brakes

Step on the brakes of your Dodge "Job-Rated" truck and you're sure of smooth stopping action far in excess of normal requirements. You get long-lasting Cyclebond "no-rivet" brake lining—with lining area increased as G.V.W. rating goes up!

And now, on all models 1½-ton and up, except air brake models, you get another Dodge "first"—new Tapered, Molded Cyclebond brake lining. It's longer-lasting and extra quiet.

Safer visibility with "Pilot-House" cabs

When you drive a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck you look through the biggest windshield of any popular truck! You have a clear close-up of the road, made possible by a new, lower hood line. For even greater all-round visibility, you can get DeLuxe and Custom cabs with wide-view rear quarter windows.

"Pilot-House" cabs provide extra safety, too. All-steel construction with top, floor and sides welded—not bolted! No wonder owners agree that Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are the safest on the road!

Dean Drewery Will Red Cross Offers Speak Here May 14 Graduates Jobs Journalism Clinic

Monday, May 14, will be "Journalism Day" at Teachers College. Dean John E. Drewery of the Henry Grady School of Journalism, University of Georgia, will speak at a chapel assembly at 10 a. m. and afterwards, with his Grady School assistants, will conduct a clinic for the college and laboratory high school newspaper and yearbook staffs. Worth McDougald of Statesboro, an assistant professor in the journalism school, is expected to be a member of the clinic staff.

Statesboro will figure in afternoon activities, with Dean Drewery addressing the Rotary Club at its noon luncheon.

Dean Drewery is nationally known as a teacher, administrator, author and editor. Educated at his own University and at Columbia, he has been teaching journalism at the University since 1922. Each year he directs four outstanding press and radio institutes, which reach practitioners of all levels. He is the organizer of the Georgia Scholastic Press Association and the Georgia Collegiate Press Association.

In New York City last week Dean Drewery introduced winners of the George Peabody Awards, the "oscar" of radio and television administered by the Georgia Journalism School. He has been president of the American Teachers of Journalism, a local Rotary Club president, president of the University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, a newspaper reporter and news editor, and a Baptist Sunday School teacher.

His syndicated weekly column, "New Books News," appears in the Atlanta Constitution and other newspapers. Some of his better known books are "Some Magazines and Magazine Makers," "Concerning the Fourth Estate," "Contemporary American Magazines," "Post Biographies of Famous Journalists," "Book Reviewing," "More Post Biographies," and "Journalism at the Mid-Century."

Plans For Pool Opening About Complete As Tickets Go On Sale

PLANS FOR POOL OPENING ABOUT COMPLETE. Plans for the opening of Memorial Park Swimming Pool are almost complete. The swimming meet has been cancelled since Savannah could not enter a team. Plans now include a swimming exhibition show with all ages competing. The show will get underway at 3 p. m. instead of the previously announced hour. Seven girls have been selected to view the show which will be staged in their honor. These include Betty Womack, Ann Evans, Kay Lough, Jo Attaway, Nancy Attaway, Liz Thomas and Juanita Street. The full program for the show will be announced next week. Again this year a fish will be placed in the pool on opening day and the person catching the fish will be given a season ticket free.

SEASON TICKETS ON SALE. Sometime this week you will be asked to buy your season ticket for the 1951 season. These tickets will be sold by members of the various clubs and organizations in the community and they will be competing for cash prizes. This will be a wonderful opportunity for you to get your ticket and insure a happy swimming season. A special offer has been made by the Bulloch Herald which means a six months subscription to the Bulloch Herald free with each season ticket purchased. If you already subscribe to the Herald your subscription will be extended for six more months. Don't miss out on this opportunity.

JUNIOR LEAGUE ALL STARS TO PLAY SAVANNAH. The Junior League All Stars will journey to Savannah this Saturday to return the game played here last week, when the Juniors defeated the Panthers of Savannah behind the one hit shut-out pitching of Robert Stockdale. The Juniors will leave the center at 9 a. m. and the plans include a trip to the beach, a picnic lunch and a chance to see the Indians play Columbus following the game at 3 p. m.

DRAG ON INN CLUB. The Drag on Inn Club this week is planning to have a big outdoor affair out at the Martins country place and everyone will carry along a swimming suit to get into the swim. Plans for fishing, swimming, boating, softball, horse shoes and eats have been made. The members will leave the center at 3 p. m. and will arrive back at 3 p. m.

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING

The difference goes more than Skin-Deep

Nobody wonders what you're driving when you roll by in this one. In the 1951 line-up, its brand-new front-end styling stands out with a beauty all its own. You're the proud owner of a Buick—and the whole world knows it. But you—at the wheel—enjoy a long list of differences that go far deeper than looks. The ride is different—level and true. You sit the road with special assurance—because Buick's torque-tube drive keeps rear wheels firmly aligned—soft coil springs on all four wheels soak up the bumps and bobbles—honest weight keeps you on a steady keel.

The power is different—eager and sure. Buick's high-compression Fireball engine does wonders with fuel—and no matter what you demand in emergency, there's horsepower to spare. Handling is different—this car seems to steer itself on straightaway or curve—and swings lightly into parking spots inches shorter than you'd think you need. Capping it all, there's the silent versatility of Dynaflow Drive,* that takes all the tenseness out of driving—responds to your slightest wish with a surging swoop of power. No doubt about it, what you get in a Buick is far more than just a new car—it's a whole new experience in getting pleasantly from here to there. So why not explore this difference? Come, take a Buick over and find out how very much satisfaction smart money can buy.

A CHAMPION HOME TOWN is a CLEAN town

Annual, or semi-annual, "clean-up" weeks are fine—but Champion Home Towns keep clean, every day all the year through.

Champion Home Town citizens know that first impressions are lasting ones—that travelers can only judge by what they see. A spic-and-span town attracts—it attracts tourists with money to spend, it attracts energetic, wide-awake citizens, it attracts manufacturers looking for plant sites!

So help your town to be a Champion—make it clean, inviting, progressive-looking. And keep it that way!

Blood Bank Program Is Explained To Brooklet FB by John C. Cromley

By MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON

The Farm Bureau and the Associated Women held the May meeting last Wednesday night. The men met in the Community building and their committee served fish supper.

The president, D. L. Alderman, conducted the business meeting. John C. Cromley made a talk pertaining to the Blood Bank.

The Associated Women held their meeting in the home-making department of the high school. A delightful supper was served by the hostesses for May, Mrs. Joe Ingram, Mrs. Ben Joiner, Mrs. Ruth Rogers, Mrs. Len McElveen, Mrs. J. H. Hinton, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Mrs. Felix Parrish, and Miss Mamie Lou Anderson.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Bob Mikell, and Mrs. J. C. Pycroft conducted the business session.

Both groups then assembled in the school auditorium where Byron Dyer, county agent, showed a film, "The Old Dirt Dauber's Garden for a Year."

The closing phase of the program was the selection of a Farm Bureau Queen. Contestants were Jane Brown, Jo Ann Denmark, Ann Atkins, Gloria McElveen, and Stella Comer.

Gloria McElveen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee McElveen, was chosen and will compete in Statesboro with guests who have been selected from other Farm Bureaus in the county.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday night, June 6, and Mrs. W. C. Cromley will be chairman of hostesses for the Associated Women.

Last Friday at chapel period, Mrs. A. C. Watts, teacher of the Brooklet school's first grade, presented her "tiny tots" in a unique program. Nancy Parrish was the announcer, "Words of Welcome," Kay Ann Hendrix, Bible verses, Terry Robertson, "The Dolly Show," Patsy Posa, Vivian Rocker, Rebecca Brannen, Jane Lanier, Kay Ann Hendrix, Lanier, Baker, Joann Collins, Linda Lanier, Caroline Harbhill, and Nancy Parrish. Judge of the "babies" was Jack Dickerson, who awarded a prize to each "contestant." Song in costume, "Sunbonnet Sally and Over-all Jim," Vivian Rocker and Terry Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parrish, Mrs. Felix Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. William Clifford and three children, and Miss Betty Parrish of Teachers College spent Sunday in Guyton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Parrish and assisted with a birthday dinner for Mr. W. D. Parrish, who has been in poor health for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Posa and two children, and Miss Jimmie Lou Williams of Teachers College spent Sunday at Register as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Banks.

Mrs. W. M. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradford and little son, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ryals, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zetterover and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kemple Jones and three children, and Barbara Jones of Teachers College spent Sunday at Eastman with Mrs. W. M. Jones' only sister, who was celebrating her birthday.

Denmark Farm Bureau Invites Church To Take Part In Program

Denmark Farm Bureau tried a new type of program Tuesday night of last week when it held "church night." Each of the three churches in the community were invited to participate in the program, climaxed by a short talk by the Rev. T. L. Harnerberg.

Rev. L. W. Ellery, pastor of Harville Baptist Church, started the program off with some timely and urgent suggestions on the need for cooperation and working as a unit—especially by farm people. He pointed out that farmers lived closer to their Creator day in and day out than any other group.

Elder Henry Waters of Black Creek Church followed with a strong plea for united effort by all the people in a community on all undertakings. He reviewed his working knowledge of railroad organizations and stated that until those groups organized to work together, very little progress was made by the laborers of the companies. Elder Waters went back and discussed progress in agriculture in the same light, showing the group that they had profited materially by their own organization.

The Rev. R. L. Moore of Emitt Grove Church followed with the statement that the Farm Bureau is one of the greatest organizations in existence today. Emitt Grove led the entire group in a song and then brought up a quartet composed of W. W. Jones, Dan R. Groover, Mrs. A. G. Rocker and Mrs. Emily Buyer. The young people from Emitt Grove followed with several songs.

Rev. Harnerberg discussed the system of farming in the parts of Asia with which he is acquainted, pointing out very forcibly the advantages of the system under communism. There is no freedom under their kind of government.

Two motion pictures, "Better Home Gardens" and "A Year In the Old Dirt Dobbers Garden," were a part of the program. A fish supper was served to the group.

BROOKLET BUREAU NAMES GLORIA McELVEEN AS QUEEN

Miss Gloria McElveen was named Farm Bureau queen of Brooklet Wednesday night. Miss Marie Wood and Mrs. Edgar Wynn, of Georgia Teachers College faculty, were judges in the contest.

Two motion pictures, "Better Home Gardens" and "A Year In the Old Dirt Dobbers Garden," were a part of the program. A fish supper was served to the group.
