Statesboro Tobacco Market Sells 3,524,140 Pounds First Six Days

At the end of the first six sales days, ending today (Thursday), the Statesboro tobacco market sold 1,150,404 pounds more tobacco than for the first six days of the 1950 market, official figures released today reveal.

According to the figures, the local market sold 3,574,140 pounds of tobacco for $1,545,810.22 as compared with 2,423,736 pounds for $1,036,288.87 for the first six days of 1950.

A spokesman for the local market states that the warehouses here have had full sales days all six days this year and that after the first day last year there were two days when the sales were short.

He added, "Despite that fact that we are selling only five bushels each day as compared with five and one-half hours last year, we are one bushel of the week daily this year as compared with 4,000 bushels of the week daily this year as compared with 4,400 last season."

It is believed that the growers are piling their tobacco higher on each basket, this year to account for the difference.

Each day's total sales, with the dollars, follow: Thursday, July 19 (opening day) - 558,382 pounds for $226,335.98; Friday, July 20 - 558,098 pounds for $226,622.88; Monday, July 23 - 635,712 pounds for $276,970.44; Tuesday, July 24 - 600,820 pounds for $260,443.26; Wednesday, July 25 - 631,202 pounds for $268,200.74; Thursday (today) July 26 - 587,226 pounds for $247,929.12.

Total sales for the six days were 3,574,140 pounds for $1,545,810.22.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Ophelia Hodges of Statesboro; four daughters, Mrs. Eugene Fitts of Hampton, Va.; Mrs. Dick Barr of Rittman, Ohio; and Mrs. Eddie Rauhing of Statesboro; three sons, Julian Hodges of Statesboro, W. C. Hodges of Statesboro, and Li Robert Hodges of the U. S. Navy, Washington, D. C.; three sisters, Mrs. Lulu Coleman of Statesboro, Mrs. Julia Porter of Statesboro, and Mrs. Mamie Morgan of Springfield.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. from the residence, with the Rev. John Lough officiating, assisted by the Rev. F. J. Jordan. Burial was in East Side Cemetery.

Palbearers were Byron Dyer, E. L. Anderson, J. G. Tillman, A. C. Bradley, F. T. Lanier, C. P. M. Young and William D. Sepp, all of Claxton; Vernon Mercer of Stillmore; Russell G. Brown of Metter; Zimford Scott and Walter Scott Jr., both of Graymont.

These men will take their basic training at Lackland Air Force in San Antonio, Texas.

Sam Foss Picks First Cotton Boll

Sam Foss of the Denmark community believes he has picked the first boll of cotton in the county. On Wednesday morning he stalked six full-blown bolls from a picked acre on which he had planted cotton for the first time early in April. He used no nitrate of soda, nor did he poison the cotton. He expects to begin picking cotton from that field in about two weeks.

Penton Rimes Now With Minkovitz

Ike Minkovitz of H. Minkovitz & Sons department store announced this week that Penton Rimes of Statesboro has been named assistant office manager and assistant credit manager for the three stores located in Statesboro, Sylvania and Douglas.

Mr. Rimes will use the central offices in the Statesboro store as his headquarters. He was mobilized this week. Mr. Rimes is a veteran of World War II. He was called up for service with the mobilization of the same convention. He was a member of the board of county commissioners of Bulloch county from 1905 to 1908, a member of the county board of education from 1909 to 1915, and county attorney for more than 40 years.

He took a leading part in securing the location and the successful establishment at Statesboro of the First District Agricultural and Mechanical School, now the Georgia Teachers College.

On July 10, 1901, he was married to Azalia Strickland, daughter of W. J. Strickland, of the same community, and they reared a family of five children, four sons, Roscoe, Stothard, William, and James, and one daughter, Ruby Anne, wife of W. P. Pickett, all of whom survive him.

While a student at Washington and Lee University, he joined the Presbyterian Church and became a member of the state legislature in 1897 to 1900. He was solicitor of the county court. For four years, 1900 to 1904, he was a member of the state legislature representative from Bulloch county, and again, after an interval of thirty years, 1935-1938, he served another four-year period in

No Place Like Home

KNOW THIS. There is not a town, big or small, the length of the Statesboro-New York highway via Columbia, S. C., Charlotte, N. C., Roanoke, Va., Lancaster, Pa., Newark, N. Y., that can touch Statesboro, Ga.

There is not a town, big or small, the length of the New York-Statesboro highway via U. S. 1 from New York to Baltimore, and U. S. 301 from Baltimore to Statesboro, that can touch Statesboro, Ga.

When we left Statesboro on Thursday morning, July 12, for our trip to New York City, we deliberately put ourselves in the role of a tourist.

All along the way we studied the countryside, the towns, the cities, the hotels, the motels, the tourist courts, the restaurants, the attitudes, the reactions... we were just plain "Joe Country" on a trip.

And there's no place, no people, to touch Statesboro and our people.

We found friendliness, not like that we find here.

We found nice motels, tourist courts, but none better than the ones here. We found good restaurants, but none better, and only a few as good as the ones here.

We saw farms, beautiful ones, but none more beautiful than the ones in Bulloch county.

We saw fine cattle, Herefords, Aberdeen-Angus, but no any better than the same breed herds here in our county.

We did see finer dairy cattle than we have here, but we were in dairying country then and we in Bulloch county can't yet claim to be a dairying community.

We saw hills, mountains, meadows, valleys, but none was as beautiful to us as the flatlands of Bulloch county and South Georgia.

We saw and talked to fine people, friendly people—but not one any finer or more friendly than those we have in our own neighborhood.

And that's as it should be, for our heart is at home.

And there's no place like home.

Warning to the Ladies

THIS IS the sort of summer editorial subject one would expect from an editor just back from a vacation.

Our authority on this subject is Martha Smith, who writes for the Atlanta Constitution, and her authority is Dr. W. M. Cone of the Georgia Association of Chiropractors.

"Take it slow and easy when you're climbing back on high heels for autumn months... especially if you've been wearing flat summer playshoes," the doctor says.

According to the warning, you strain a muscle if you make the change too abruptly—flats to high heels—just like that.

The proper conditioning for the change is rough on the shoe budget.

Improper condition for change makes for pains in the neck or lower back.

But the man says you must go from your barefoot sandals to low heel shoes, to medium low heels, to medium high heels before you graduate to your high heels.

So, if you're smart and want to avoid pains in the neck, start your foot conditioning now.

Our Hat Goes Up

WE take off our hat and throw it high into the air for the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Statesboro tobacco warehousemen.

It was a fine thing they did for our community last Thursday.

More than a thousand people gathered at the Recreation Center in Memorial Park for the "Welcome to Statesboro" day which began at 10 a. m. and continued until almost midnight.

The day included movies, a watermelon cutting, a barbecue, swimming, dancing, and all-round good-timing all day—and all free.

It was a wonderful gesture by our young businessmen and the warehousemen on behalf of the farmers and their families.

It makes for better understanding and a closer feeling of cooperation within our community that is Bulloch county.

New Face In Town

THE State Theatre has a new face. And we like it.

We congratulate Hal Macon on the work he has done to make the State Theatre on West Main street look better. He has painted the front, put down new floors in the lobby, re-worked the doors, and painted the walls in the entrance.

It makes for a better looking place, and adds to the improvement of our community.

Have You Paved Yourself a Road?

To Down Below?

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

HAVE YOU paved yourself a road to the place below? You know the old saying, "The road to hell is paved with good intentions."

As much to my sorrow, my road is not only paved but planted with evergreens and ever-blooming and gorgeous flowers. In fact, no one on well-meaning planning which justifiably indicates me because it is never put into effect.

A friend and I were discussing this very subject. She confessed that she was guilty of excessive intentions, too, but just didn't fulfill them. During the progress of our discussion we found ourselves trying to solve the problem, ultimately arriving at the conclusion that our main trouble in the creation of intentions which, because of an over-flourish of design, were impractical. We both had thought of a friend who was in the hospital, but we had thought of her in terms of a five or six dollar bouquet. When all the time a visit would have been far more thoughtful and just as welcomed. We were being merely thinkers of good deeds rather than the substantial doers.

As we talked, our conversation came around to a real personality who, we both agreed, put her kind and sweet thoughtfulness into reality almost before the intention was conceived.

We could well recall Mrs. Joe Watson's little visits to us in times of well-being, in times of sickness and sorrow. She, we accused each other, didn't wait until we had budgeted for an expensive gift. She came bringing whatever she had at the time. Maybe it was a single beautiful rose or a carnation, or a small box of candy. And somehow their beauty was magnified because the spirit of giving herself was brought along with the gift. It was almost as if sixteen years ago she brought me a few cookies because I was in the hospital and unable to attend to the party that she and my family would attend. There was her sweet way of saying that she would miss me. It did me more good than two shads of pecan pie or three pills would have done.

Mrs. Joe Watson is not the only thoughtful, giving person in this grand town. It would take a whole column to list them. But she is a beautiful example, particularly for the young folks to fashion after. Those, that is, who are interested in learning the art of spreading genuinely good cheer. One man acquaintance of ours said he was going to write Mrs. Watson up as his "My Most Unforgettable Character."

She has mapped her road in the right direction, and it is a beautiful highway. She makes me determined to change the direction of my road.

Retracing your steps through a corridor you reach the living room directly in the middle of the house and the most important, well, I'll back up on that statement—a kitchen is actually the most important. ### VACATION JOURNAL

Editor's Note—We're back home, and glad. This journal takes up the account of our trip where we left off last week in Charlottesville, Va.

July 14 (Saturday), Charlottesville, Va.—Up at 7:30 and breakfast in the big, high-ceilinged dining room of the Hotel Monticello, where we had our bacon and eggs in an atmosphere of the "Old South, sub."

Then out to Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, where the past closes in around one and 1851 is only in the clothes on one's back.

The approach to the house is by a winding mountain road through stately trees. And the sight of mansion there on top of that small mountain halts you as you try to take it in.

There's none like it in the world. It is a product of Thomas Jefferson's mind and hand. He drew the plans, he designed every room, the draperies, the furniture, the brick work, the garden, the stables. Many of the gadgets he invented are there now. There's his drafting desk, a tricky affair; his easy chair, designed for comfortable working. There's his bed which is in a wide hall between his bedroom and his work room. The bed was designed so that Jefferson could pull it in to the ceiling, thus making his bedroom and workroom one large room.

It was completed in 1772—more than 80 years after it was begun. We drove back into the present

Local Farm Bureau Presidents Lead In Discussions On Roll Back of Prices

The Farm Bureau's attitude toward the price roll back proposal was thoroughly discussed at Neville yesterday night and at Register Monday night.

Robert Cox, Neville president, and V. Franklin, Register president, led the discussions. It was pointed out to the members present that the Farm Bureau wanted all prices rolled back by an effort going to be made to roll back farm prices. The reports coming from the people indicate that only the price of farm products are to be rolled back.

Local Farm Bureau Presidents Lead In Discussions On Roll Back of Prices

The Farm Bureau's attitude toward the price roll back proposal was thoroughly discussed at Neville yesterday night and at Register Monday night.

Robert Cox, Neville president, and V. Franklin, Register president, led the discussions. It was pointed out to the members present that the Farm Bureau wanted all prices rolled back by an effort going to be made to roll back farm prices. The reports coming from the people indicate that only the price of farm products are to be rolled back.

Phosphate Rocks Yield Vital Uranium, Commission Reports

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A new process of extracting bomb-making uranium from phosphate rocks as a by-product of fertilizer production was announced recently by the atomic energy commission.

With the new development, uranium in phosphate deposits "can be extracted economically in the production of highly refined fertilizer known as triple superphosphate," the commission said.

It has been known for some time that uranium occurs "as a very minor component" in the phosphate deposits in the northwest and in Florida.

"Considerable research work has been done to develop a process whereby uranium can be extracted economically from these very low-grade sources," the A.E.C. said.

"It is hoped that the new process will open up this new source of uranium. The process is classified secret and cannot be described."

Mary Jane Carroll, Gary Douglas, Grant Wilder, Joseph Polk, Hazel M. Lee, Eulice Holloway, Vaneria Polk, Dorothy Andrews, Lavonia Bennett, East McCray, Wm. McCray, Shirley M. Jones and David Lee, Jacqueline Jackson, Mrs. Cortez Cowart, adviser, and county agent M. M. Martin accompanied these club members to this meeting.

A WARNING TO MERCHANTS

In view of many complaints that have been received from Newspapers, the Georgia Press Association has issued a warning to merchants to check with their local newspaper before purchasing any advertising service.

Complaints from merchants vary, but primarily they deal with misstatement of facts by salesmen, one of which is that the cost of the service includes the cost of advertising space in the local newspaper.

This newspaper, a member of the Georgia Press Association, does not endorse and is not a party to such contracts. Please consult us before you sign.

90,000 People Killed in U.S. During Past Year

CHICAGO, Ill. — The National Safety Council reported 90,000 people were killed in accidents during 1950. 8,000,000 were injured, with a total cost to the public amounting to $7,500,000,000.

Huge as the toll was, it represented a saving of 1,000 lives from the 1949 total—a reduction of one per cent.

Motor vehicle accidents led the list as the nation's number one killer, with home accidents second.

The darkest part of the accident picture for 1950 was the failure to hold the line against motor vehicle deaths, the council reported. The increase in auto production and soaring travel sent traffic deaths up 11 per cent to the highest toll since 1941.

Americans Safer

But away from the wheels of their cars, Americans generally were safer in 1950. Although occupational deaths went up slightly as a result of greater employment, home accident deaths and those occurring in public places not involving a motor vehicle decreased more than enough to offset the rise in traffic deaths.

The 1950 all-accident death rate was 39.9 per hundred thousand population. This is the lowest rate on record, bettering the previous record low rate of 61.2 in 1949.

Nevertheless, one out of every 17 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury in 1950.

The estimated economic loss of $7,500,000,000 from accidents in 1950 covers both fatal and non-fatal accidents and includes wage losses, medical expense and overhead costs of insurance for all accidents, production delays, damage to equipment in occupational accidents and property damage from traffic accidents and fires.

Aged persons 65 years and older made up the only age group to show a decrease—11 per cent. Deaths of children under 15 were about the same in 1950 as in 1949. There were 6 per cent more deaths in the 15-24 year group and 5 per cent more among persons 25-44 years of age. The 45-64 year group has a 1 per cent increase.

Love Story Ends When Romeo Is Sent to Prison

Costa said he had loved Tassoula from afar for years, but that blood between the families had made it impossible to ask her father for her hand. She said she had not loved Costa at first, but that his daring and boldness impressed her and "my love developed as I was with him in the mountains."

"Above all," she said, "his behavior and respect were beyond reproach."

In his final argument, the chief defense attorney stressed that kidnapping a prospective bride was not a new practice.

"Here in Crete, Sparta and the ancient Greek land," he said, "is a common practice and tradition for strong men to steal their brides."

"There is no appeal from the court's verdict, given under an emergency Greek law."

Finder Returns Pocketbook And Gets Watch in Return

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Strange things happen to many people, Mrs. Fred Huff, Sr., for instance, was parking her car recently when she found a pocketbook containing $45 lying beside a parking meter.

She watched the lost-and-found columns and noticed an advertisement by Mrs. Eunice Baugh, saying she had lost her pocketbook.

The two women met and Mrs. Baugh identified her pocketbook.

She thanked Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Baugh remarked:

"You don't happen to know of anybody who has lost a wrist watch, do you?"

After she missed her billfold, Mrs. Baugh related, she retraced her steps and, nearing the parking meter, discovered a wrist watch.

The surprised Mrs. Huff said she had lost hers, explaining that a link in the watch band was faulty.

"I guess it dropped off when I reached down for the billfold," she added.

The women thanked one another and parted.

Doris Hagin Weds M. J. Newsome

Taking place Saturday at a lovely ceremony at the Pinecroft Church was the marriage of Doris Hagin to M. J. Newsome, son of Statesboro. The Rev. William Kitchens of Soperton presided at the ceremony in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

White gladioli filled the vases on the altar and standards of gladioli, palms and double branched candelabras were on either side of a large wedding cake. The bride wore pink carnations on her aqua nylon dress with white accessories. A blue sheer dress was worn by Mrs. W. R. Newsome, mother of the groom, with a corsage of pink carnations. The wedding music was played by Miss Frances Chadwick, and Miss Martha Jean Reason of Redville were bridesmaids.

Mrs. William D. Hagin, was matron of honor in blue organza and a shirred bandeau. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of summer flowers surrounded with blue carnations.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Jessie McElveen, dressed in green; Mrs. Edwin Lewis in lavender; and Mrs. Thomas Newsome in pink. Their dresses were identical to the matron of honor as were their handbags and nosegays. Little Jennifer Cameron served as flower girl wearing pink organza with matching bandeau and basket. Jerry O'Neal was ring bearer.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, James D. Hagin, was lovely in her gown of imported chintilly lace over white bridal satin. The fitted bodice had a scalloped neckline, and scalloped sleeves that met on lace gloves forming points over her hands. The full skirt of lace was scalloped. The bride's only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her veil of illusion was caught with a coronet of orange and lilacs of the valley and centered with a white orchid.

Thomas R. Newsome served as his brother's best man, and the ushers were Jackie Newsome, brother of the groom, William and Durelle Hagin, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Hagin, mother of the bride, wore pink carnations on her aqua nylon dress with white accessories. A blue sheer dress was worn by Mrs. W. R. Georgia Banks Supports Farmers In Inflation Fight

One of the most effective ways to fight inflation is to increase the production of basic commodities such as food, feed, and fiber, according to W. G. Cobb, executive vice-president of the Bulloch County Bank, who represents the Georgia Bankers Association as Bulloch County Key Banker. An accurate gauge of production levels is a comparison of farm marketing income. During the five years ending December 31, 1950, Mr. Cobb noted, cash income of Georgia farmers advanced 28 percent from $384,309,000 to $492,617,000. This substantial increase in agricultural income is indicative of the greater farm production of Georgia, was the guest speaker at the Statesboro Rotary Club Monday. He was presented by Cliff Bradley, program chairman for the day. Mr. Bird used as his subject "The Law." He defined "the law" as "the collective organization of the individual's rights to lawful defense." "But," he went on to say, "unfortunately law sometimes by no means confines itself to its proper functions. In these cases the law has acted in direct opposition to its own purpose. It has been applied to annihilating the justice that it was supposed to maintain; to limiting and destroying the rights which its real purpose was to respect."

Richard E. Bird Is Rotary Speaker

Richard E. Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy T. Bird of Portia, and honor graduate of the University of Georgia, was the guest speaker at the Statesboro Rotary Club Monday. He was presented by Cliff Bradley, program chairman for the day. Mr. Bird used as his subject "The Law." He defined "the law" as "the collective organization of the individual's rights to lawful defense." "But," he went on to say, "unfortunately law sometimes by no means confines itself to its proper functions. In these cases the law has acted in direct opposition to its own purpose. It has been applied to annihilating the justice that it was supposed to maintain; to limiting and destroying the rights which its real purpose was to respect."

Burial was in the church cemetery. Survivors are six sons, Dr. L. V. Strickland of Cobbtown, Dr. W. Strickland of Claxton, John M. Strickland, J. Strickland, G. E. Strickland, and Register, and W. Two FFA Boys At State Convention

When the Georgia Association of Future Farmers of America met in convention in Atlanta this week, Ed Hotchkiss and Emil Alford were present to represent the FFA boys of Bulloch county. In addition to the business sessions, time was set aside for recreation. W. J. Webb and Ed Hotchkiss represented the young farmers last year at the 1950 convention.

LADIES' CIRCLE MEETING

The Ladies' Circle of the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Ora Key is hostess.

Mrs. Roger Holland returned Wednesday from a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. B. Baker, of Tifton.

George's 4-H Club pasture establishment project was won this year by a 13-year-old Laurens county boy, J. B. Thompson. He received $250 from the Standard Oil of Kentucky. Jim Williams, Sumter county, won second place and $150, with Billy Lewis, Folk county taking third and $50.

The increased cost of production to the individual farmer is shown by the rise in the average production loan from $682 in 1949 to $911 in 1950. The average agricultural real estate loan in 1950 was $1,925. The total of bank-held agricultural debt outstanding in Georgia on January 1 of this year was $44,274,000, excluding CCC loans," Mr. Cobb said.

Mr. Bird said that a man may live and satisfy his wants by the easiest application of his faculties to natural resources. This process is the origin of property. But it is also true that a man may live and satisfy his wants by the easiest application of his faculties to the products of the labor of others. This is the process of plunder," he said. Mr. Bird said there are three systems of plunder: protectionism, socialism, and communism, and that these are basically the same plan in three different stages of its growth.

In closing he pleaded: "Let us brush away the dust and get down again to the firm bedrock of principles of government upon which our forefathers founded and built this great nation with their own independent hands."

Before Mr. Bird spoke, young Tupper Saussey of Tampa, Fla., entertained the Rotarians at the piano.
