BLUE DEVIL NEWS

FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1937 G. C. COLEMAN, JR., EDITOR

Perhaps you are wondering about the decrease in the size of this section of The Herald, known as "The Blue Devil News." In explanation we wish to say that beginning with the next issue, perhaps with the next issue if possible, we intend to make this page and section, not only a high school news section but also a section to carry the news, activities and interests of all the schools in the county.

The editor of the school page in conferring with the editor of The Herald suggested, in accordance with his policy of making the Herald a county paper as well as a Statesboro paper, that we extend the scope of the school page to include all the schools of the county. He heartily agreed. We wish to help the entire county school system by giving each school space on our page to report its activities and news.

High School In Literary Meet

The Statesboro High School Literary contestants are in Adrian today to compete with the other schools of the First District in an effort to win first place in the literary meet. The students that are representing the high school have been working extremely hard for the last few weeks in an effort to become able to meet the first class competition of the other schools entered.

Music Students Win Recognition

CAROL BEASLEY AND DOROTHY HODGES AND ROGER HOLLAND WIN PLACES. At the State Musical Festival, held in Savannah last week, students of the high school carried off three of the prizes. Carol Beasley won first place in cornet, Dorothy Hodges won first place in xylophone and Roger Holland won second place in trombone.

It is a community affair and all from the age of 15 up are urged to attend. It promises to turn you away from all your troubles and cares and bring a lightness of feeling in to your being. Refreshments will be served and there is to be no admission.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS MENTION IN ONE-ACT PLAY

The high school, in Sylvania last Tuesday night, won first honorable mention in the one-act play event of the First District Literary meet. The play was produced by the members of the dramatic club under the direction of Miss Thayer. Those taking parts were: J. Brantley Johnson, Margaret Ann Johnson, Margaret Brown, George Hitt and G. C. Coleman, Jr. The title of the play was "A Portrait From the Past."

Blue Devil Life

(By The Devil)

Hoary—we don't have to line any more, and we don't even have to go around to the back door to move. Maybe the "dead line" will be taken off the boys soon.

Dean Dickey seems to be getting quite a man now. He seems to those around with a forearm too.

Have any of you heard Al Braswell's new nickname? Well it (a certain girl gave it to him) is "Minnie Pooch-Pooch. Pippi Eh What?"

Most popular question on the campus—"Have you got a date for the Freshman-Sophomore Prom" or Junior-Senior Banquet?"

Saw Ennies in one of those comeppies again. What is the matter Ennies, no belt?

Girls you might get run over that street. Maybe Mr. Wollet will let you play baseball with the boys. What about it Mr. Wollet.

Answer to last week's question—Guess Who?—Ann Newsome.

Wista, how are you and Mr. Montgomery getting along these days. He has taken you into the office for running around in the halls anymore, has he?

Seems as though Kleet isn't pleased with his physical features. Hear he put hair tonic on his chest.

Hear that "Fletch" passed out at Frances Deala. Like to hear more about this. How about you giving up a story "Fletch."

ALL'S FAIR

Languorous breezes and balmy days are here and my but it's hard to peck on an typewriter when one might be digging in a garden. Guess we all had better get some sassafras roots and take a tonic of some kind.

I'm a young and timid thing. Ain't been out so awful much. But I heard them in the Court House.

So I gathered up my courage. And up the stairs I goes. To see how Deal and Renfro. Argued about these and those.

And when we reached the scene of action, a negro was being tried for stealing a bicycle. After the negro was convicted and sentenced the Judge asked, "This is the second time you have been convicted for stealing a bicycle, isn't it?"

"No, suh, no suh boss," declared the negro.

But the records show that you were convicted and that you served on the chain gang," the Judge insisted.

"No, suh, boss, I ain't never been convicted befoah. Yo' see I pled guilty dat first time."

A bouquet to Judge Cowart for his snappy remark: "No, suh, you are going to sell liquor and come to my court and brag about it."

For the information of young men who aspire to become lawyers. You need to do more than merely study your Blackstone. We understand that it is very important to know what to do when a fair client or witness faints. The technique of applying restoratives and how a lady should be supported until she regains her consciousness is equally important.

TO THE LADIES

WE ARE PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE AN ADDITIONAL SERVICE — We are now in a position to furnish COLD STORAGE SERVICE for the finest furs through one of the most reliable, and most convenient, cleaners in this section. Overnight delivery of furs possible if needed.

John M. Hendrix's 100 Acres of Oats Finest In County. Pearl Thomas to Train at Walter S. Reed Hospital.

John M. Hendrix's 100 acres of oats in the county may be found in a demonstration carried on this season by John M. Hendrix, well known farmer of the Aaron community. One field of the 100 acres of oats Mr. Hendrix has planted contains 78 acres. The oats on this field are about "shoulder high," very thick on the ground and have a good long head. Probably the largest yield per acre will be harvested from this 78 acres of oats the county has ever known.

Miss Pearl Thomas, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Thomas, of the Clito Community, is the first student at the Battle Creek College, Battle Creek, Michigan, ever to be accepted for student training at the "Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

The Bulloch County Council of the Parent Teacher Association met with the Middle Ground local unit of the P. T. A. on Saturday, April 24.

The meeting began at 10:30 o'clock. Miss Eunie Lester of Statesboro was in charge of the program which was most inspirational and helpful to those who aspire to be of service to their communities.

OATS IN BULLOCH RUST INFESTED

BYRON DYER CALLS CROP SPECIALIST E. D. ALEXANDER REGARDING LOCAL CROP. County Agent Byron Dyer this week stated that there is an unusually heavy infestation of rust in the oats in Bulloch county and there seems to be very little that the local farmers can do about it.

According to Mr. Alexander there seems to be very little that the local farmer can do about it. In an effort to secure information as to how to combat the situation the county agent called E. D. Alexander, extension farm crops specialist.

John M. Hendrix's 100 Acres of Oats Finest In County

John M. Hendrix's 100 acres of oats in the county may be found in a demonstration carried on this season by John M. Hendrix, well known farmer of the Aaron community. One field of the 100 acres of oats Mr. Hendrix has planted contains 78 acres. The oats on this field are about "shoulder high," very thick on the ground and have a good long head.

When questioned relative to the production of the crop Mr. Hendrix stated that he turned under in 1936 a hay crop that would have yielded more than a ton of hay per acre. Every other hole in the drill was closed in seeding the oats in the early fall. Mr. Hendrix put about 200 pounds of mixed fertilizer, containing 100 pounds of nitrate of soda, and 100 pounds of 20 percent potash per acre. Mr. Hendrix was asked if he thought he did the wise thing by turning under the unusually good hay crop in 1936. He replied, "I got two dollars per acre under the soil conservation program to turn them and then increased the yield in my oats. You know oats are a soil depleting crop and I thought it wise to return something back to the soil after harvesting a heavy crop of oats in 1936. The yield this year over that of 1936 will more than offset the value of the hay the pea vines would have made."

The program at the church was opened with music directed by Mrs. Roger Holland, followed by the professional. After the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, Mayor J. L. Renfro delivered the invocation. The welcome was made by Mrs. W. H. Blitch, president of the U. D. C., and greeting was extended from the Camp U. C. V. by Mrs. Julian C. Lane. Mrs. Lane presented the original certificate issued to the Cone Camp, which was named for Major William Cone.

The principal speaker was Hon. John B. Spivey, of Swainsboro, presiding officer. The speaker was introduced by Dr. R. J. DeLoach. The young State President paid tribute to the Veterans of the Confederacy, their widows and to those who have been carrying on. He contrasted and showed the liberality of the Democracy of today.

Following the address by Mr. Spivey the group sang "Dirge." Mrs. J. O. Johnston read the Memorial service. Since no Veteran or widows of veterans have died since the last Memorial exercises, Mrs. Johnston's Memorial was to the Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. Lily Collins, and Mrs. Anna Potter. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. H. L. Sneed.

After the program at the church the local chapter of the U. D. C. gave a luncheon at the Tea Pot Grill, with Mr. and Mrs. Spivey and Veteran William Jasper Brown as the guests of honor.

The Fashion Shop Opens Mon. May 3

NEW LADIES READY-TO-WEAR SHOP TO OPEN IN BUILDING NEXT TO GA. POWER CO. In an announcement made this week it was learned that A. M. Seligman will open his new shop on Monday, May 3. The new shop will be known as The Fashion Shop and will carry an exclusive and complete line of ladies ready-to-wear, featuring style and quality. The Fashion Shop will occupy the building vacated by The Outlet Store. It has been completely renovated and furnished to allow Mr. Seligman's merchandise to be displayed to its best advantage.

Mr. Seligman returned from New York last week where he spent considerable time in selecting his stock. Mr. Seligman stated that in his selecting his merchandise exclusiveness was the keynote of his purchases. He further stated that he will present his fashion show on Friday night, May 7th at the Georgia Theatre. His intentions were to present the fashion show prior to its opening date but some of the merchandise purchased has been delayed in shipment. With his stock about complete he decided to open on Monday and hold his fashion show Friday night following the grand opening.

Women who are registered for the first time after January 1, 1936, and those who become 21 years of age after the same date are an exception to the provision. The Bulloch County Board of Registrars is composed of S. D. Alderman, J. W. Cannon and L. E. Brannen. Mr. Brannen moved to Jacksonville, Fla. last week and the voters lists were revised by Mr. Alderman and Mr. Cannon.

Movie Previews

A list of forthcoming films should convince the varied pessimist that motion pictures are no longer of doubtful value, but that they are becoming indispensable and possess quality that constitutes a definite cultural and educational asset in the experience of everyone.

needs a hanger and surely with the nation as air-minded as it is that within a short time we will be able to have one.
We have not been very much aware of the work that has been progressing on this project, yet it has been steadily going on under the supervision of the county, city and the WPA. The greatest cooperation possible has existed among these and it is because of this that we have an airport that is equal to any in Georgia.

WHERE WILL THEY GO SWIMMING THIS SUMMER?

With summer coming on the thoughts of boys and girls turn to "Where will we go swimming this summer?" They remember when they could go to Dorman's pool and swim to their heart's content. They remember shouting to each other, daring each other to jump in when the water was cold, the swimming races with nothing proven, the hot days when nothing but a plunge in cool clean water would satisfy them.

For two years the children of Statesboro, and a great number of us who are not children, have not had a place to go swimming, except to the creeks. They go out to Sand Hill Ford, to Sunberry, and other places where we cannot be sure of their safety. Go swimming they will and do. And if no place is provided they find a place, without thinking or caring of the danger that might lie in such places as they find.

It would not be such a burden on our city or ourselves to make available a place for these youngsters to go swimming. Provide for them a clean pool with water to be changed at regular intervals. Provide a life guard to be with them constantly in case of emergency. We have boys here in Statesboro with Junior and Senior Red Cross Life Saving certificates who could serve as life guards. We then know where the kids are when they go swimming. We then have the satisfaction of knowing that they are being watched and will be safe. This satisfaction should offset any cost that might be attached to the building a city pool or the conditioning the one already here, if it were available.

THE LORD'S ACRE

The Lord's Acre Plan, a method of financing country churches being sponsored by the Farmers Federation of Asheville, N. C., is a religious movement so successful it is sure to spread. Says The Progressive Farmer:

"The Lord's Acre Plan is putting the people in the church, young and old, creatively to work, developing a working church spirit. It is making it clear through actual demonstration that only a working church can be fully receptive to the great teachings of the Bible and exercise a strong Christian influence on the individual home, and community. As President James G. K. McClure, Jr., of the Farmers Federation puts it, 'The country church, in the opinion of many people the most valuable institution in American, has been the nursery of most constructive movements of the past 500 years. It needs better support for its task of building Christian character and a Christian civilization. The farmer cannot subscribe much cash to his church but he can subscribe an acre of corn or an acre of potatoes. His wife can subscribe a hen and raise a flock of chickens. Every child in the family can undertake some project in this way we may quadruple the country church income.'"

Today we not only can have glass houses, we can fill those houses with shimmering glass furniture; we not only eat our meals from glass but cook them in glass; we not only build our walls with glass bricks but we can curtain our glass windows with textiles woven of glass; our ladies not only wear glass bracelets, but they can wear glass dresses. Recently research chemists have succeeded in producing tiny glass fibers—one and one-half ten-thousandths of an inch in diameter—which can be spun into yarn, which in turn can be woven into cloth of great fineness and beauty, imperishable color and almost endless durability. Besides, this textile is absolutely fire-proof—it might melt, but it will not burn.

Me might try it: The Asheville Times uses carrier pigeons to send new subscriptions to its office.

Cliponreka Cullings

By Your Roaming Reporter

Ruminations while roving... the first sunrise we've seen this summer; like a huge fireball rising out of the Atlantic to call us to another day of labor and life and love. What is more beautiful than the morning light, after a night during which sweet sleep has "kissed the revelled soul of care," while at our window the orchestral music of birds of the sweetness of human existence. Has it ever occurred to you that pleasure and contentment are where we create them out of the warp and weof of the garment of Time, not something in the far distance for us to fret ourselves about? No human being seems to have a corner on contentment, but it does seem that we who live next to Nature and talk and walk with nature's God can attain it with less effort than most. What stands between you and the happiness that should be yours? Is it a barrier you have created?

Driving to Brooklet this week someone pointed out the house that is owned by Bud Prestorius in which Adam Garrett and family lived last year, an old man it was the oldest house in the county. Not doubting that it is very old I was filled with curiosity as to its age. Can someone tell us of its history? Right now, the oldest house I can find is the old home of Ira Perkins, which Ira affirms is considerably more than 100 years old. According to him it belonged to the late Sam Williams, the father of Miss Inez, and was bought from him by Ira's father. I did not understand who was the builder, but the first location was much nearer the river, Mr. Perkins having moved it to its present location on fifty or sixty years ago. Along with the house, he moved the log barn which is still in use, the the ravages of time are beginning to leave their mark. The carpentry evident in the log-joining is worth riding miles to behold.

From the conversation I can gather from a conversation with Ophelia Hodges (Mrs. W. C.) it appears that Union Methodist church, which is about a couple of miles beyond her home, is the oldest organized church in the county, dating back to the Spring of 1790. However, our Primitive brethren were pushing the Methodist for first place even then, as they point with pride to their Nevils Creek church, organized in the fall of the same year. Anything older than that?

About the best yarn of the week concerns your Roaming Reporter, who was on a journey into the far country while the hail was covering certain sections of the county Tuesday afternoon. Arriving home early in the evening to learn that a hail had passed his ancestral acres, he rushed pell-mell to the farm, only to be assured by Carol & Lloyd Dixton, while a small amount of hail did actually fall there was no damage to the crops. Whereupon he slept soundly and rising with the

THE LIQUOR QUESTION
Editor Bulloch Herald:
Now, as always, we are facing the question of good and evil but made by modern conditions. Yet, since the Garden of Eden episode men have had to choose actively or passively. Inactivity or failure to choose between right and wrong accounts virtually to a choice of wrong.

In considering the above question, and after all it is not a proper classification, we hope with your kind permission, Mr. Editor, to discuss in coming issues of The Herald such aspects of the liquor situation as: "Fifty Years of Observation," "Does it Pay," "Is it Right," "Stand for the Right," "Who Will Win" and finally, "Wine is a Mockery, Strong Drink is Raging and Whosoever is Deceiver thereby is not Wise."

ALL'S FAIR

Haven't we had a good time this week going to all the openings? We felt quite metropolitan as we went to Lily's, a new shop evidently designed to keep pace with the exacting demands of our women. And so to Renette's, where adorable frocks for the street, and lovely costumes for evening made Jane look for an elastic bank account.

And lastly there was that superlative event—the formal opening of the Woman's Club Home. There was the spark of achievement was in their eyes—the excitement of dreams come true heightened the color in their cheeks, and the joy of accomplishment was manifested in the hospitable greetings extended to everyone.

We particularly enjoyed Annie Ramsey's modest words of appreciation—Ruby Deal's impromptu praise for Mrs. Ramsey as her 'chief'—You can always count on Ruby to flip a little humor into her remarks—and Sara Ellis's stirring interpretation of Kitty Clyde, the actress.

Who of you has failed to notice the lonely grave down on the Savannah road just below the old Warnock home? It was on the right as you drive toward Savannah, about midway between the Warnock home and the R. L. Graham place. Several years ago I first found it and at that time I stopped long enough to read the name, date and etc., on the marble stone marking the last resting place of this long gone son of Dixie. The name, as I recall was Ellabee, and he was about 22 or 23 years old, being buried about 1864. Many were the questions of curiosity that filled our mind as we wondered if he was some soldier who fell fighting for a cause he knew scarcely anything about. Who were his loved ones? Some mother went "down into the valley for him"; who was it? Some loved one marked his grave—who was it? Why all these years of contented slumber should some highway board dispute his ownership of the narrow spot in God's acre? Last week we couldn't find the tomb or the markers or even the grave. We did find a sunken spot of earth about where we remembered the grave as having been and with a lightwood knot at each end, but if this was the grave what has become of the marble tombstones some loved one erected.

Did you know that Howell Sewell lost five pounds in one afternoon last week. It seems that he has become a badminton enthusiast. Badminton as you may know is a game similar to tennis. The badminton is lighter than a tennis racket, and instead of a ball you use a bird constructed of cork and feathers. The game originated in 1873 when guests at an English dinner party began striking goose quills in champagne cups and began battling them across the table. The game now flourishes in our own little city. Brooks Grimes, Roy Green and Howell Sewell are among our residents who have badminton courts. Aren't we getting ritz?

Uncle Hezzy, who lives across the creek, says a cauliflower is nothing but a cabbage with a college education. And that's about all from your Roaming Reporter.

WORK SHOP SET UP AT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL
SPONSORED BY WPA
In a story carried in the Herald last week it was reported that an industrial arts shop had been set up by the N. Y. A.

A correction shows that the new shop is a W. P. A. project and has no connection with the N. Y. A. Through the Statesboro Recreation Committee of the W. P. A. funds were secured for the establishment of the shop which is located in the Statesboro High School building. The local committee is composed of Alfred Dorman, D. B. Turner, Karmitt Carr, J. R. Vanant, Mrs. C. M. Deatler, Mrs. J. O. Johnston, Mrs. W. E. Floyd and C. E. Wollett.

The shop, opened last week, is under the supervision of G. D. Wynn, a WPA leader. The shop is open to all children interested in the work. It is understood that members of the department of industrial arts at the Teachers College will come in once or twice each week and give instructions in the various fields.

The visitor further stated that wherever he went he always managed to stop over in some town or city in time for Sunday School. Mr. Sampson appeared to be about 50 years old.

PEANUT SHELLING On last Friday afternoon Mrs. Cohen Lanier entertained with a peanut shelling. About twenty-five guests were present and shell approximately 300 pounds of peanuts. Two prizes were given and were by Miss Euella Waters, first prize and Mrs. O. H. Hodges took second prize. Lead lemon and individual cakes and candy were served. Miss Madeline Lee NeSmith and Mrs. Donald Martin assisted Mrs. Lanier in serving.

PEANUTS BEING PLANTED The farmers of this section are very busy planting the most of their crop over this week. It seems that a good bit of faulty peanuts that perhaps took the second growth before they were gathered, was sold to them. This burdened the farmers very much to have the extra work of planting the seed twice as well as an added expense. They are now paying 8 1/2 cents per pound for peanuts while they only made three cents for their first lot. But probably "a bad beginning will be a good ending," and we shall all be repaid in the fall during harvest time.

National farm loan associations in Bryan, Bulloch, Chatham, Effingham, Evans, Liberty, Long and McIntosh counties have adopted a joint management plan whereby these associations will employ jointly the services of a full time secretary-treasurer with headquarters at Statesboro. The plan became effective April 1, 1937, and Mr. T. W. Rowse has been named Secretary and Treasurer.

The associations which have entered into the joint management plan are: Bulloch County National Farm Loan Association operating in Bulloch county; Effingham County National Farm Loan Association, operating in Effingham county; Evans County National Farm Loan Association, operating in Evans county; Eldora National Farm Loan Association, operating in Bryan, Effingham, Evans and Bulloch counties; Hinesville National Farm Loan Association, operating in Liberty, McIntosh and Long counties and Ludowick National Farm Loan Association, operating in Liberty, McIntosh and Long counties.

Under the joint management plan the associations have agreed to cooperate in the employment of a secretary-treasurer, who will devote his full time to the several associations employing him. While his headquarters will be at Statesboro he will make regular visits to all of the counties in the joint management set-up so that he will be available to all members of the associations.

The national farm loan associations through which the farmers of this section may secure long-term farm mortgage loans from the Federal Land Bank of Columbia. The associations represented in the set-up have loans outstanding of approximately $950,000. Farmers of this section desirous of securing long-term farm mortgage loans may secure all information about same from Mr. Rowse.
