NEW LIGHTS ERECTED BY GEORGIA POWER COMPANY IN BUSINESS SECTION Statesboro new whiteway was ready for use Thursday (yesterday) and the new lights have added much to the beauty of the business section. The new lights have a much stronger glow than the old fashioned street light and will give much more light. The new lights were erected by the Georgia Power Company and the job was completed Tuesday. The old street lights will be taken down at an early date. The new lighting system centers from the court house and extends three blocks on West Main to College street, two blocks on North Main to Hill street, two blocks on South Main to the Post Office and three blocks on East Main to Railroad street.

R. W. MacFarland Is Bulloch Sees 400 Sales Supervisor Cars of Melons Go Out From Here

FOR FIRST TIME STATESBORO MARKET HAS A SALES MANAGER. MR. MACFARLAND HAS MANY YEARS EXPERIENCE IN THIS LINE. The sales supervisor on Statesboro tobacco market this season is R. W. MacFarland, a man with many years experience in the business. For the first time since the market was opened here in 1928, the Statesboro market has a sales manager or supervisor. The duties of the supervisor is to see that the warehousemen follow the recently installed system of selling, to check the houses for the correct spacing of baskets, to check the time allowed each house for sales, to act as general publicity manager for the warehouses and many other similar duties. Mr. MacFarland, whose home is in Wilson, N. C., has been in the tobacco business practically all his life. He has been sales supervisor on the Wilson, Winston-Salem, and Henderson, N. C. markets. The first publicity ever given out on the great Wilson market was handled by Mr. MacFarland. He is no novice in the business and has years of experience on some of the largest markets in the world.

NEW TOBACCO SELLING SYSTEM MEETS GROWERS HEARTY APPROVAL A NUMBER OF CIRCUIT RIDERS AND THEIR COMPANIES SEEN ON FLOORS

Buying on the tobacco market here this week has been brisk and a partial reason for this is the fact that many circuit riders have visited the market here this week. Among the circuit riders and their companies seen on the local market this week were: James Thornton of the Imperial Tobacco Company, Thomas Lee of the Export Tobacco Company, Walter Henderson of the Liggett-Myers Company, Dick Stokes of the American Tobacco Company, Vandlandingham and Whalen of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, L. B. Jenkins of the Jenkins Tobacco Company, Kimbrough of the Taylor Tobacco Company, Webb of the International Tobacco Company, and Harpington of the P. Lorillard Tobacco Company. This system not only gives each of the three houses the same number of first sales, the same number of second sales, the same number of third sales, but permits the farmer to know, even before he leaves home, exactly the day and nearly the hour at which his tobacco will be sold at the house of his choice in Statesboro. As the warehouse floors have been lined off leaving an aisle between the rows, with the system of selling used, it places Statesboro in a class with all the major markets of the bright leaf belt of the world, regardless of the location. Naturally some days on account of light sales all three houses will sell, but regardless of this the sales next morning will revert to the sales card. WORK IS BEING PUSHED ON ALL PAVING PROJECTS IN STATESBORO

WORK STARTED ON SIDEWALKS ON SOUTH MAIN STREET. IT IS HOPED THAT GRADY ST. WILL BE FINISHED IN TIME FOR SCHOOL OPENING. Work is being pushed on the Vine street paving here with the hope that the street will be opened before the cotton marketing season arrives. The Grady street project is expected to be completed by the middle of September. Rains have delayed work on the Vine street paving but the top soil has been prepared and the street is ready for the paving to be poured. The Vine street project runs from the postoffice on South Main three blocks to Railroad street. The Grady street project from South Main to the High School building has required much time. Curb had to be placed and much excavation done before the top soil could be placed. Though Mayor J. L. Renfro is of the opinion that the street will not be ready by the time school opens this fall, it is hoped the street will be opened to traffic before the end of September. Work has also been started on sidewalks on the western side of South Main from Grady street to the business section. On the eastern side of South Main, which is already paved, new driveways will be constructed. On North Main sidewalks will be put down on both sides of the street from the Brooks Hotel to the Columns Tea Room on the western side and from the S. W. Lewis garage to the Baptist Church on the eastern side of the street. Mayor Renfro stated that the city also hopes to do some alley paving when these projects are completed. CIVIC CLUB OPPOSES BLACK-CONNERY BILL The Statesboro Chamber of Commerce at their twice-a-month meeting here Tuesday went on record as disapproving the Black-Connery Wage bill now pending in the National Congress and appointed a committee to express the disapproval of the organization. President Leroy Cowart appointed Hinton Booth, S. W. Lewis, and Alfred Dorman as a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to express the disapproval of the local club. The Chamber of Commerce also agreed not to take part in the Savannah Beach Beauty Contest. The Chamber of Commerce will send a letter to President Roosevelt, it was agreed, inviting him to the Slash Pine Festival to be held in Waycross. A book of such letters is being prepared by the Slash Pine Association. RATTLESNAKE KILLED The employees on the farm of L. C. Nesmith was busy about the duties of having tobacco last Friday and as one of the boys was bringing a sled of tobacco down the path that many people had previously thod

Herald's Tennis Tournery Date To Be On August 16

FIRST TOURNAMENT EVER HELD IN STATESBORO FOR THE YOUNG TENNIS FANS. HANDSOME TROPHIES ARE BEING OFFERED. As was announced in last weeks issue of the Herald the tennis tournament which was scheduled to take place on August 2 is postponed to August 16. The reason for this was the fact that the trophy for the winner of the boys singles division of the tournament has not been received. Quite a bit of enthusiasm is being raised over this tournament and if their is a larger number of boys to enter this tournament, the boys division will be divided up into two different ages and prizes will be given to the winners of each division. The Herald hopes that there will be a sufficient number so that this might be in order to give the younger boys a better chance, so far as winning a prize is concerned. The girls division will not be split up into different age limits. The girls seemed to be more interested in this tournament than the boys since more girl's entry blanks have been received than boy's entries. Everyone is looking forward to a big exciting time and the Herald sincerely wishes that everyone that can even swing a racket will enter this tournament, for we assure a big time. This is the first tennis tournament that has ever been held for the

The Nevils canning plant was operating only one day this week because Mr. G. C. Avery, the administrator, was in Moultrie on business. The plant will operate only one more week Tuesday and Thursday unless definite plans are made and the supply demands it. If you have late vegetables and fruits for canning it is advisable for you to see Mr. Avery in advance.

GA. POWER LINE

The Georgia Power force has now completed setting post to Nevils. We are expecting the line to be attached at a nearby date. Many people have already had their houses wired and Mr. Aycock is still busy at work. Within the next few days we are expecting every one to be able to press the button that floods their house with light and "Lo" the dreams come true.

Miss Evelyn Toole is visiting us and doing a splendid piece of work by advising the housewives before their wiring has been done.

TOBACCO SALES

Many farmers from here are visiting the tobacco market daily making sales of the weed that they have so attentively cared for throughout the season from ploughing and caring for the tender plants of the bed and trying to protect it from the cold blue mold and other diseases to the placing on the floor ready for the sale.

Practically every one seems to be making fairly satisfactory sales. Although we have had a small quantity of the weed transported to Vidalia we are just hoping the Statesboro market will continue to give us good sales. No price is too high to pay for tobacco, when time, trouble and expenses are considered. We are thankful to the Statesboro market for the fair prices they are now paying. We feel the proper officials are giving the farmers fair consideration in their sales.

BYRON DYER — ELVIE MAXWELL

One way to get a lawn in condition for seeding to grass is to plant it in cow peas, according to W. A. Groover.

C. M. Martin thinks that corn will not sell very well this fall. To market his corn at the highest possible price Mr. Martin is cutting it up in small fields and putting his hogs on it.

Getting the hogs off on the early fall market has been proving profitable during years past and may be the same way this fall, Says B. F. Deal, who has most of his 50 cow head to where they will be marketable in a short time.

During depression periods it is a common practice to try to live at home. Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Bailey evidently think that during fairly favorable conditions it is wise to improve the living conditions around the home and then continue to live there. Their home has about all the conveniences found in any urban home. Mrs. Bailey took the profits from her farm flock of poultry and put in a modern bath room. Mr. Bailey attached a ram to the good spring of water and thereby forced it in a tank to supply water for the house and farm. This made it possible to have running water in the kitchen and bath room. They also have lights in the home. Recently artificial refrigeration was added. Mrs. Bailey is now working to have a supply of hot water for the kitchen and bath.

W. H. Smith has been selected as one of 16 farmers to draft a plan of some form to recommend for 1938 farm program. These farmers will meet at Athens August 6 and 7. Before leaving for the conference Mr. Smith assembled some 15 local farmers and gathered from them various improvements to recommend on the present program, and changes that might be made.

D. C. Banks believes that surplus milk and other kitchen waste can be profitably marketed if fed to pigs.

MAIL MEN OF THE AIR

Monday morning at 7:30 a winged messenger of the sky, the air mail, will sweep over Statesboro and put down on our new air port, to demonstrate the need for and the feasibility of a plane mail pick-up service for the state.

This one-day air mail service for more than a dozen Georgia cities including Statesboro, which have not known the advantage of direct air mail service, will be the principal feature of this year's Georgia Air Mail Week.

It is expected that the volume of mail awaiting each of these planes at the scheduled stops will be so large that the postal service will see the advisability of permanent operation of such a pick-up service.

The benefit to business men here in Statesboro and Bulloch county from such a service is obvious. It would bring Atlanta only a little more than 2 hours from Statesboro. The banks would save a considerable time and money from such fast service.

Our merchants who transact business in Atlanta and Savannah would have fast service resulting in saving in time and money. It would link Statesboro with every Georgia city.

In a statement made on the preliminary flight last Monday Mr. Dick Hager, District Traffic Manager of the Eastern Air Lines, we learned that the landing field here in our county is one of the best in the state and that all it needs is to be made perfect.

Surely with the field already to use we can prove that Statesboro should be on such a proposed schedule for air mail between Savannah and Atlanta.

When we unfolded our little portable ROYAL just now we found it stuffed full of Editor Worth's copy for his Vol. 1 No. 2 copy of the Clito Clippings, a newspaper "published" according to the Editor "When possible at the Editor's office" which he states will have a "contributor box," where "news matter may be deposited," with this provision: "All news items MUST be signed with the names of the contributor."

Friday night the occupants of this Mountain Cabin were all bet up when Bill Sneed dropped by to tell us that Ruth, Roy and Jane (Beaver) were over in Black Mountain, camped in the trailer, after having looked for us at some length.

Charlie wouldn't mind our using them (Mama thinks that's about as far as she'll go).

But I couldn't stop here without telling you more of that unusual incident in a rail road accident in 1910, got well, changed his occupation and went on to own and operate his own ice factory, and became one of Black Mountain's first citizens. When I began asking him questions, which he answered with unfailing cheerfulness and courtesy, he told me a remarkable story. He is a handsome fellow, almost as stout as Brother Beaver, the not so tall, his name, which he wrote for me with a pencil he drew from a pencil rack, using the nippers of his left hand to hold and direct, is Cyril E. Huffman, and address is Black Mountain, N. C. I am keeping the card he wrote in a flowing, thoroughly legible hand as a souvenir of one of the most wonderful stories I ever heard. He had no formal education when he fell in front of a switching engine he was riding as brakeman in 1910. Later, when he was killed, they backed the engine off his prostrate body, expecting to find him dead, but he was still alive, completely severed, one a stub of a few inches from the shoulder while the other, the left, was severed just below the elbow. As that man sat there at his desk, took and set down in pencil orders as they came in over the telephone, ran to check deliveries of the wagons as they went out and smilingly assured us between smiles, that a "man may be down, but he's never out," we just wished it were possible for this growing world of "cry babies" to listen to his story, certainly the most thrilling tribute to determination, energy, faith and persistence we ever heard. He had run away from home at fifteen, and consequently had no family to fall back on, the one could easily see that one for long. He has traveled all over the United States, with the exception of New England state and Texas and many foreign countries. He was in London when the world war broke out, related how he had traveled to Glasgow to catch a boat home, when he found that the government had taken over the boat for a cruiser and he had to re-trace his steps back to London and start all over again. At that he stayed long enough in Scotland to come home with the impression that the people of Glasgow were "the best people on earth."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

C. M. Colson, Minister

What do you really think when you sit down at table? Is meal time the occasion of your dissecting the characters and reputations of your acquaintances? If it has been then learn a lesson from Jesus and His table talk. He spent the time at table speaking about things which were spiritually valuable.

For instance, as he sat, or rather reclined, at the table of a pharisee one day he was the object of their hatred and scorn of those who reclined with him. They had asked him in order to test him out and find something of which to accuse him. But in spite of the atmosphere Lord calmly talked with the other guests.

He told them that pride always precedes a fall. Have you heard that lesson yet? If you haven't your ing limited to the time man has to live on earth. In this limited time we cannot know God and become complete like Him. It will take eternity for His likeness to be made complete in us. Why will we neither marry nor be in marriage? There can be no complete home in heaven as we have it on earth. I am my mother's son, and I would belong to her family. At the same time I am my children's father and belong to my home. These and many other implications of the theme will be discussed by the pastor. 8:30 p. m. Evening worship and again the pastor will speak. Theme for this message is: Beginning Where We Are. Whatever we are physically, mentally and spiritually does not necessarily determine what we shall become but we must begin with what we are and have to build that future. We will never be younger than we are today, therefore we must begin in the here and now to build for the future.

11:30 a. m. Morning worship and preaching by the pastor using the theme: The Christian Home and Heaven. Question: Why do they neither marry nor are given in marriage? Do you believe in heaven? Many profess not to believe in a hell but you will go a long way to find a man who is not an ardent believer in heaven. What will heaven be? No one knows of course but Jesus said He would go prepare a place for us. You can trust Him. Where will heaven be? It will be where God, Jesus and redeemed people are. Why will there be a heaven? The Republic of Syria
The World war made many changes in the political map of Europe and Asia, and among the nations to arise was the Republic of Syria. This land was formerly a part of Turkey. During the war it was occupied by French troops, and the treaty of Versailles gave a mandate to France for governing Syria, but since a few years ago the territory was divided into two republics, known as Syria and Latakia formerly Lebanon.

PLAY SAFE WITH SILVERTOWNS
—The Only Tire That Gives You Golden Ply Blow-Out Protection

IT'S no time to gamble when you're sitting behind the wheel of your car. With human lives at stake, it's mighty risky to "bluff" with tires that aren't constructed to give you and your family real blow-out protection. Sooner or later you're bound to lose—and when you do, you may have to settle up for plenty.
That's why we say, "Come in now and let us equip your car with Goodrich Safety Silvertowns." Because no other tire will give you the marvelous protection of the Life-Saver Golden Ply—a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the terrific blow-out-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's high speeds.
Play safe. Silvertowns actually cost much less than other super-quality tires.
