STATESBORO PAYS HIGHER PRICES

The tobacco grower watches sales on various markets closely, and he is hard to fool when it comes to prices. When he realizes one market is selling tobacco higher; than another he begins to patronize the higher market. Statesboro is a growing market. A growing market is a high market. Statesboro pays higher prices.

Statesboro leads the State in Average Per Pound for All Tobacco Sold on All Markets in Georgia last week.

This is because Statesboro has the most progressive, and efficient set of warehouse men in the state, the Fastest set of auctioneers in the state, a keen set of buyers who know their tobacco and The Greatest Group of Tobacco Growers in the World.

The Virginia Tobacco Market

The East coast is the center of the tobacco market in Statesboro and 400,000 bales of tobacco. The tobacco market was well attended for the first time selling days on the Statesboro market. The market sold very well and the tobacco market, in somewhat of a dry market, which indicates the mood with which the tobacco market is handled around the State with the need for a dry market. We are told that three customers are buying the best tobacco and that we will not need another market.

SHEPPARD’S WAREHOUSE
STATESBORO, GEORGIA

Leads the State in Average Per Pound For All Tobacco Sold Last Week. Statesboro Led ALL Markets in Georgia in Average and Sheppard Led Statesboro.

Sheppard Sold 669,044 pounds for $182,987.82, making a grand average of $27.29, which leads all other warehouses in Georgia. (These figures are absolutely correct for they were taken direct from the government report figures).

All growers that sell with Sheppard are adding more dollars to their checks. You have worked hard to make your tobacco crop, why not sell it with Sheppard who works equally as hard, for your interest, selling it. That is why he gets you more money for your tobacco. It will pay you to sell the remainder of your crop with "Bob" Sheppard, Hardest Working Sales Manager in Georgia.
