Teachers Defeats Douglas 25-6 T. C. Drubs Douglas In First Night Game Before Large Crowd

Before a crowd of 2200 people the South Georgia Teachers defeated Douglas by the score of 25-6. The game was the first to be played under lights here in Statesboro and it was played under the newly lighted Municipal Playground before the largest crowd ever to witness a football game in Statesboro.

Both teams scored in the first quarter. Goals scored by the Teachers and Ramsy scored for the visitors. Each team's try for the extra point failed. The two eleven backs evenly for the remainder of the first half.

In the second half the Professors opened up early in the third quarter pass to Jeff Stewart who carried it the rest of the distance. This put the Teachers out in front by a touch-down. Later in the half two more touchdowns were chalked up, one being made on an end run by Stewart and the other came from manother pass from Battle, who passed to Rigby. This made the score 25-6 and it remained this way until the final whistle.

The Teachers outplayed the visitors from start to finish. They made more first downs, gained more yards, completed more passes and intercepted four of the Douglas passes. The Douglas kicker had the edge on the Teachers with an average of thirty-five yards to thirty.

High Blue Devils Are Defeated By Inspired Millen Eleven 8 to 0

Showing the poorest exhibition of offensive football this season, the Statesboro High Blue Devils were defeated by the Millen High Red Raiders last Friday afternoon on the Millen grid-iron by the score of 8-0.

Millen completely outplayed the Blue Devils after the first quarter, and the Millen boys stopped all attempts of the Statesborians in trying to cross the glory mark. The offensive playing of the Blue Devils seemed to be at a standstill throughout the game from the beginning until about three minutes of time left and out of a clear blue sky the Blue Devils backs seemed to have awakened from a slumber. In three plays the Blue Devils aimed about 40 yards and seemed certain they would have the final whistle blow during they reached their destination. During the first quarter the Blue Devils did some wonderful playing. They played Millen at bay and did considerable yardage, but early in the second quarter Millen got a break as he cashed in on this break and made it good for a touchdown. At the end of the Millen team led by a 6-0 score. At the beginning of the second half the Statesboro fans were hoping that the boys would dig in and go to work to overcome that six point margin. But instead, Millen evidently decided to increase their lead and go to work. The Blue Devils stiffened though, and the Statesboro fans were hoping that the ball became the possession of the Blue Devils. On the first play, Cone in punt formation, the ball was passed over his head from center and this increased their lead, 8-0. After the Blue Devils seemed to fall apart they could gain no ground at all. Late in the fourth quarter the Blue Devils began to pick up a little. It was too late to do any damage.

Millen gained 87 yards from scrimmage. Statesboro 100. Millen completed six out of thirteen passes for seventy yards. Statesboro, three out of thirteen for 21 yards. Statesboro lost fifty-four yards from scrimmage while Millen lost only twenty-seven. The Blue Devils made four first downs and was penalized fifteen yards. Millen made 7 first downs and was penalized 10 yards.

J. L. Renfro Appointed To Judgeship Of City Court Until An Election Is Held

Three Candidates For City Court Judgeship Are Being Mentioned

JUDGE LEROY COWART ACCEPTS STATE POSITION AND MAYOR J. L. RENFRO APPOINTED TO SERVE AS JUDGE OF CITY COURT

Statesboro's Mayor is Judge of the City Court, former Judge Leroy Cowart is state disbursing officer for the Georgia National Guards, and now who will be Statesboro's next Mayor? Mayor J. L. Renfro has accepted an appointment from Governor E. D. Rivers to serve as Judge of the City Court of Statesboro until an election can be called and a successor to Judge Cowart selected. Judge Renfro presided over the November term of City Court here Monday. Only pleas and uncontested matters were heard at the November term and no jury was called.

Former Judge Cowart was appointed to the office of disbursing officer of the Georgia National Guard to succeed Phil Brewer, who became head of the newly organized State Highway Patrol. Mayor Cowart has been in his office in Atlanta now for more than a week.

Three candidates for the Judgeship have been prominently mentioned here. It is definitely known that Linton G. Lanier will seek the office. Mr. Lanier is a native of Bulloch county, has a large family connection here and has practiced law in Statesboro for the past fifteen years. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia Law School. It is also assured that Judge Renfro will be a candidate for the office.

Mayor Renfro has served the position of Mayor for two and one-half terms. He has one more year to serve on his present term. Mr. Renfro is also attorney for Bulloch County and the City of Statesboro. A third probable candidate is Col. D. C. Jones, prominent Statesboro lawyer. Col. Jones served as solicitor of the City of Statesboro for six years. Though he has not made a definite announcement that he will run, it is believed he will be a candidate.

According to the state laws the Ordinary of Bulloch County must call a special election to fill the office of a county officer who has resigned. Just when this election will be called is not known. The present term of office of the Judge of the City Court expires after one more year and next year would be election year. At the same time county commissioners are elected in the primary. There are some citizens here who have suggested that the primary be held early in the year and that no special election be called, thereby eliminating the expense of holding a special election.

Now the question arises, "Who will be Statesboro's next Mayor?" There is no answer to that question since no names have been mentioned as a successor to Mayor Renfro. It is understood that Mayor Renfro will resign his post with the city as soon as the special election for Judge is called.

Frank Zetzerover of Dublin was elected president of the freshman class at the Teachers College, Wednesday. Two students from Statesboro were also given posts by the first year students.

All class officers, with the exception of the freshmen, are elected in the spring. The freshmen election is not held until mid term the first quarter in order to give the newcomers time to get acquainted with their classmates.

Zetzerover defeated Pat Colquitt of Cedarturn in a run-off 92 to 78. After the run-off of the election of vice-president ended in a tie between Brantley Johnson of Statesboro and D. R. Barber of Bainbridge. Another run-off will be held later. Earl Byrd class secretary and T. A. Bacon, Jr. of Patterson was an easy winner for of Manassas was elected class treasurer. In an election where there were six candidates, Ennis Call of Statesboro defeated Joe Joyner of Scriven in a run-over 86 to 78 for representative on the student council.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Yesterday marked the first day of the annual Red Cross Roll Call, which extends to Thanksgiving Day.

In considering the good that your answer to this Call will do let's look at last year's record of service given by the Red Cross:

More than a million persons, flooded out of homes and livelihood by the nation's greatest flood catastrophe in Ohio-Mississippi Valleys, were rescued, fed, housed, clothed and given medical care.

Red Cross public health nurses made more than a million visits to persons ill in their homes last year, assisted with the health inspection of hundreds of thousands of school children, held well-baby conferences and instructed mothers and girls in home care of the sick. Working chiefly in rural areas, where medical and nursing facilities are at a minimum, these nurses went to their patients' besides by car, on foot, on horseback, or by goat to give the trained care so helpful to recovery.

1,600 Emergency First Aid stations were established on highways to cut motor accident tolls.

7,000,000 homes and farms were self-checked for accident hazards and 8,000,000 boys and girls were enrolled in the Junior Red Cross and numerous other services rendered which were made possible by the Red Cross.

You can have a share in the fine work of the Red Cross by enrolling as a member during the Roll Call now being made.

MAKING GOOD

In Saturday's Savannah Evening Press there appeared the following editorial pointing out the Bulloch county men who have attained positions of prominence in the state: "Savannah's enterprising neighbor, Statesboro, the metropolis of Bulloch county, seems to be coming very strongly into statewide limelight through the naming of its citizens to positions of trust. It has become a sort of habit up in Atlanta for the news agencies to flash the appointment of a Statesboro man to some job of Statewide interest and corresponding responsibility.

"The latest information of this character came in Friday when it was announced that Maj. Leroy Cowart and Judge J. L. Renfro had been chosen to places of interest and importance by the Governor. The former is to be purchasing and disbursing officer of the Georgia military department. The latter is to serve as judge of the City Court of Statesboro. This is the place held for some time by Judge Cowart, who now takes up other duties.

"Those who are acquainted with Leroy Cowart and Judge Renfro are convinced the executive had made no mistake in attaching them to his official force. They are thoroughly equipped to attend to the duties of the offices to which they have been chosen.

"Statesboro, as has been suggested, is furnishing its share of public servants in the state's activities at the moment. Not so long ago Dr. R. J. Kennedy of Statesboro was named a member of the State Board of Education. He is doing fine work in that capacity.

"There are other Bulloch county residents, too, who have been called to perform a service for the state. And they are all making good."

These are all men who are living with us and have been all their lives. Their services are at home. There are other men who are also Bulloch county men who are making good in positions out of the state. Rupert L. Rackley, eldest son of W. J. Rackley, last week was made president of the Realty Board of Miami, Fla., the largest organization of its kind south of Philadelphia. Though Mr. Rackley has been away from Statesboro since 1925 he is still thought of as a Bulloch county man. We add him to our list of Bulloch countians who have made good. Congratulations to them all.

WHO'S AHEAD IN CHINA?

Newspaper accounts make it difficult for the average observer to know who has the best chances in the Sino-Japanese conflict. If we believe what we read from day to day we, like the music, down and round and come out here. The Current History magazine notes this difference: Both Chinese and Japanese soldiers are well armed; have excellent rifles and carry 50 rounds of ammunition. Suppose two of these soldiers were to fire these 50 rounds at each other, thus exhausting their immediate ammunition. At once the Japanese soldier would receive an issue of new ammunition. At best, the Chinese soldier would have to wait 24 hours, and under the circumstances would have to retire or be killed. Such is the efficiency of Japanese industry which lies in the hands of fifteen interests who control 70 per cent of it. But, that is in the present. Japan's industrial structure is one in which she buys other people's raw material and manufactures them for other people's needs. Even the Japs agree that her lack of raw materials is overwhelming. The biggest surprise to Japan is the new nationalism of the Chinese people, an iron will to survive. This stiffening of the Chinese people has riddled the strategy of Nipponese militarists. So long as Chiang Kai-shek's Government continues resistance and gets the support of the people, there can be no peace for Japan. The war has spread over more fronts with more resistance than Japan thought possible. Cutting off overseas contacts is bound to plunge Japan into more international complications than mere campaigns against North China would do.

Americans eat on an average of 18 pounds of butter a year. Our Canadian neighbors and the Australians consume 29 pounds.

During the current year American manufacturers will spend some $70,000,000 for chain radio advertising. More than 25 per cent of this outlay will be accounted for by manufacturers of drugs, toiletries, and soaps. And this does not include the coast of talent to use on the programs.

The Egyptian first estimate of 1937 cotton production is placed at 2,264,000 bales of 478 pounds net compared with 1,887,000 bales for 1936.

The government cotton estimate released November 8 is not going to make things any easier for the government leaders when they meet in an attempt to shape a new farm program for the special session of Congress.

The new estate sets the 1937 cotton crop at 18,243,000 bales which is 670,000 males above the estimate a month ago. If the government estimators are correct the 1937 crop had been the largest in history. The largest to date being in 1926 with a crop of 17,978,000 bales.

An average American is a man who works hard all winter to fill his home with comforts and conveniences, and spends his summer in trailers, tourist camps, fishing boats and mountain shacks getting along nicely without comforts and conveniences.

A NEW START

I will start anew this morning with a higher, fairer creed;
I will cease to stand complaining of my ruthless neighbor's greed;
I will cease to sit repining while my duty's call is clear;
I will waste no moment whining, and heart shall know no fear.

I will look sometimes about me for the things that merit praise;
I will search for hidden beauties that elude the grumbler's gaze.
I will try to find contentment in the paths that I must tread;
I will cease to have resentment if another moves ahead.

I will not be shamed by envy when my rival's strength is shown;
I will not deny his merit, but I'll strive to prove my own;
I will try to see the beauty spread before me rain or shine;
I will cease to preach your duty, and be more concerned with mine.

Cliponreka Cullings

By Your Roaming Reporter

Dear Patient Congregation:
Your one-time Roamer comes this morning like a penitent to the altar and begs that you extend to him your love, affection and consolation in his latest bereavement. When the tax authorities and the loan man (Tom Rouse, dem him-!) finally decided that they had milked old Betsy dry as the proverbial bone and found no personal interest in his case, when various and sundry bank collectors and officials found no further interest in what was supposed to be his bank account (now long dead), when the ravages of Time and the encroachment of Old Age had left their telling marks upon his decaying carcass . . . when it seemed that all that was left of him settled upon his feeble frame and certain he would be of no further service to mankind, womankind or even the lower brutes (of whom there remaineth quite a crop) . . . it was then and there, immediately and forthwith (not to mention moreover) that one certain Head Cold did, with malice aforethought, set upon and claim for his very own this certain Roaming Reporter and did then and there with said evil intent sear his very soul, poison his disposition and cast him up like a torment bound soul upon the sands of infinity. Using double sheets for handkerchiefs, this penitent has found a good but losing fight and it seems now that the next trip will be to Eternity, and he wishes to say for that kind of travel. Even last night we caught Ben Deal, M.D., and impounded him for kindly aid and free advice, only to find that Ben was probably worse off than you truly, and decided if Ben could not do Ben any more good than that, he certainly wouldn't exhaust his medical skill on a charity patient in the free ward. There was one fleeting moment when we thought of that fine hospital, those charming nurses and that awful good looking Miss Zittrouer (did we get that right, Naomi?) and we did lead ourselves to believe that if we could get a rest cure in one of those Beauty Rest mattresses, a diet from that snow-white kitchen, a twice-daily alcohol rub from smooth and tender hands we'd begin improving in no time . . . but the other nine-ninths of this Reporter business killed all that mental meandering by asking in that "who's-a-you-manner" "How are you going to pay for all that hospitalization?" And you know that had a sort of quieting effect and so we drag out the passing rays, aching, snarling, biting and snapping. A kind friend confided to us that when we get this way we're meaner than forty hells . . . and this don't doubt it. It is entirely possible we're even meaner than that.

Along in the month of October a former Statesboro girl found herself right kerfah in the middle of one of the hottest wars of the century and Mary Lee Crumrine (nee Jones) showed up in a letter, this girl, who was none other than Mamie He, but who's name I don't recall. The letter, which was written from Hongkong, China, where Mamie had fled from her Shanghai home reads: October 4, 1937, Gloucester Hotel, Hongkong. Dear Mr. Pawley: Many thanks for your letter of August, which has just reached me. It was a long time, reaching Shanghai and then had to be forwarded on to me here. I am still sitting down here, but hoping to get back to Shanghai before much longer, although Mr. Pawley (my boss) and Jimmie (her husband) will probably insist on my staying here. There is no telling what might happen at any time in Shanghai and they'll probably order me to sit here and shut up about wanting to go back home, though I've written letters begging to go back.

Mr. Pawley is on his way out from Europe now and will reach Hongkong on the 15th and maybe then I shall learn whether I am to stay in this inferno or go back to Shanghai and her bombs. Any hot weather we ever had in Shanghai was just a gentle zephyr, when compared to the terrible heat we have had here during September. In addition, we have had a cholera epidemic and even though I'm a milking in the best hotel here, I have to be most careful about what I eat and drink and in fact everything we touch. Right after I got here they had the worst typhoid since 1906 and one seems to be compelled to speak in superlatives during this year of grace 1937. What a year! We were just settling down well in Shanghai and business was plenty good . . . in fact that's why the dog-gone Japs started this dirty war . . . which seems destined to blow up everything. How don't know, as the property loss and the terrible loss of human life is too awful to contemplate. Until I die I'll apiece for all who drove the car will never forget the undesirable sight of human suffering. It is so terrible one wishes they could wipe it from their memory forever, if that were possible.

Except for the heat I am comfortable and safe enough here and am more than thankful for having some work to do. Of course the great worry with me is leaving Jimmie in Shanghai. He says he is OK but terribly lonely but I worry because I fear the cook will not boil the water properly and that he may not be careful enough about his food. There is so much sickness and disease everywhere that I only wish I could be there to look after him. I am really having a good time meeting all the aviation people who are coming and going through Hong Kong. Jimmie has been selling planes to the Chinese war forces since the outbreak. I have a small office next to my bedroom and it is a gathering place for the flock, most of whom are oozing with stories of amazing experiences in all different places in the world. There is one interesting fellow just arrived from the Spanish war, who before that was in Abyssinia, to which he had been sent in 1932 trouble here.

Jimmie and I would have cabled sooner but we were both in Mokanshan and we couldn't so much as reach Shanghai by telegraph, much less the radio. I wish Jimmie's sister was sitting listening to the radio when the news was flashed that more than 1000 people had been killed by bombs dropped in Avenue Edward VII. She knew that our apartment was at the corner of Avenue Edward VII and the Bund and when that news flashed she promptly fainted. I had not thought of that way as the bombs dropped a bout a mile from here and the one on Nanking road was at least a half a mile away. However, there was one bomb dropped back of Hamilton House and had it exploded it would most certainly have been a widow for it dropped right near Jimmie. My office is just two blocks to where the August was moored and we were watching from the windows when the American soldier was killed. I'll tell you we have had a ringside seat at one war and that's enough to last me for one lifetime . . . believe it or not. I wish here and now to enter my solemn protest against the implication of that kind of pothe. Jesus spent almost all of the time of his ministry trying to make the world ethical in human relationships. How about the parable of the good Samaritan, the description from his own lips of the last Judgment, and the golden rule?

Jesus morning we shall extend this whole city grieves over the departure of Brother Rainey and his fine family. This church will attend his funeral service at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
C. M. Coalsen, Minister

Loyalty to the gospel of the Son of God is more than the ability to repeat the old shibboleths of the creed today as the teachings of the scriptures is in reality the teaching of Dante, Bunyon, St. Augustine and other theological writers. If we are to be loyal to the gospel we must go back and find out what the gospel is.

The gospel is news concerning a way of life. It is so easy to substitute mental fluff for actual service and men sometimes do so without being really conscious of it. Even many ministers are deceived by the fallacious idea that believing something can take the place of helping the world into a place where the will of God is done. Sanctimoniousness is easily put in the place of real active piety.

How often we hear this advice given to ministers: "Preach the gospel and do not be meddling with social and political problems. The church is not a legislative institution. Its business is to prepare for heaven and not deal with problems of this life."

I wish here and now to enter my solemn protest against the implication of that kind of pothe. Jesus spent almost all of the time of his ministry trying to make the world ethical in human relationships. How about the parable of the good Samaritan, the description from his own lips of the last Judgment, and the golden rule?

Post Office To Take Census Of The County's Unemployed

POSTMASTER GEO. GROOVER EXPLAINS WHO SHOULD AND WHO SHOULD NOT REGISTER FOR UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS

In a statement made this week by Geo. T. Groover, postmaster, it was learned that during the period from November 16 to 20, the Post Office Department is to take a national census of the unemployed and the partly employed.

On Tuesday, November 16, stated Mr. Groover, the Statesboro post office will deliver an Unemployment Report Card to each of four thousand dwellings served by this office in Statesboro.

The return of the report cards is voluntary on the part of the worker. In his statement, Mr. Groover said that if anyone is unemployed and wants to work, that that one should register, since this is the only way in which the President and the Congress can secure information upon which to formulate a program to give the people of the United States unemployment relief.

PERSONS WHO SHOULD REGISTER

Mr. Groover stated that all persons who are totally unemployed, able to work and want work, should register. Included in this group are the following:

- (1) Persons who have worked for pay, who are able to work, and still want work.
(2) Persons who formerly had their own business, farm, or professional practice, and no longer work at it, but who are able to work, and want work.
(3) Persons who have never worked but are now looking for their first jobs.
(4) Persons working part-time at regular jobs, who are able to do work and want more work.
(5) Persons employed part-time on irregular jobs, who are able to do more work, and want more work.
(6) Persons working on any project, which is considered emergency work, and is supported by public funds, either National, State or Local.

PERSONS WHO SHOULD NOT REGISTER

Mr. Groover in explaining who should not register stated that the following groups of employed persons should not fill in and return unemployment cards.

- (1) Persons who are working full time for wages, commissions, or who devote full time to their own business, farm, or professional practice.
(2) Persons who are working part-time, except on emergency work projects which are supported by public funds, and who do not want more work.
(3) Persons who are on a strike unless they are actively seeking another job.
(4) Persons who are temporarily sick or disabled but have a full time job to which they will return as soon as they get well.
(5) Persons who are on vacation or taking time off from job to which they will return.
(6) Administrative employees of agencies which are conducting emergency work projects which are supported by public funds.
(7) Persons who are unable to work because of permanent disability or chronic illness.
(8) Persons who have retired or do not want to work.
(9) Young persons who are excluded from work because of state child labor laws or local ordinances.

Postmaster Groover cautioned that before all report cards are returned to the post office to be sure all questions are answered correctly. The name at the top of the card should be printed clearly and distinctly. Give the first name, middle name or initial, and last name. Don't give information on the card that is not asked for. If you do not know how to fill in the card, or can't write plainly, get someone to help you.

Any further information as to who should, or should not register, or the manner in which report cards should be filled in, may be secured at the post office or from any mail carrier, said Mr. Groover.

D. C. Banks' idea of utilizing the labor saving as well as the economy features of a manure spreader would also work on farms where cattle are being fed.

Large country homes become mansions when a fresh coat of paint is applied. H. V. Franklin proved that it is hoped that there will be no entrance fee. Mr. Macon states that it is hoped that there will be no entrance fee.

Cash prizes will be offered. Music will be furnished by Carl Collins and his new orchestra.

Blue Devils Turn Sylvania Game Into Track Meet To Score 47 Points

Displaying tremendous power and bullet-like speed the Statesboro Blue Devils gave the 1200 people that were at the game last Friday night proof that they still have one of the best teams in the district and that if they can get those tough Millen boys back over here in their backyard they will do the same thing to them that they did to the Sylvania boys Friday night. The Sylvania boys were doped to beat the Blue Devils at least one touch-down, but the boys in blue upset the bucket and trampled the Sylvania team by the lopsided score of 47-6.

Sylvania started out as though they were going to kick the home boys by scoring in the opening minutes of the play. Bell made enough yardage in four plays to account for the first two downs. Mobley then dropped back and passed to Brandt who ran the remaining five yards to score. The try for extra point failed. The Statesboro boys seemed to have been caught napping. But six points took them up and on the kick-off Gene Hodges took the ball on the thirty-five yard line and behind perfect interference ran sixty-five yards to score. The extra point failed. After this the Blue Shirts had all the fun.

In the second period they completed three drives that netted three touch-downs and two extra points. Robert Hodges, Skeet Kennon and Davis Barnes doing most of the ground gaining. The second line came after a twenty yard run by Robert Hodges, fifteen yards by Kennon and Barnes bucking it over. Barnes made the extra point also. The third came after a fifteen yard run by Hodges and a nice thirty yard sprint by Cone which carried the ball over. Barnes again bucked the line for the extra point. The fourth came after Kennon sliced off fifteen yards around end and successive line gains by Cone and Barnes. Barnes finally bucked through the center of the line for the score.

In the third quarter the Blue Shirts scored once, Barnes scoring after Hodges made several gains to put the ball in scoring territory. In the final period we more touch-downs were made one resulting from a beautiful run of six yards by Robert Hodges, who took the ball on his own goal line and ripped off sixty yards. Barnes scored after this run and Hodges scored again. The final score being 47-6 in favor of the underdog, Statesboro High.

Judge J. E. McCran, Ordinary, who recently issued a call for a special election for December 8, this week has asked Dr. C. E. Stapleton, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, to call his committee in session and meet with the Ordinary and the prospective candidates for the Judgeship. It had been rumored that the special election may be postponed and held at the same time of the regular primary of next year. It was for this reason that the get-together was called.

IN THE meeting Wednesday it developed that the candidates favored the special election as called by the Ordinary, for December 8. The three men who will participate in the three-cornered race for the Judgeship are the former solicitor D. C. Jones, L. G. Lanier, Statesboro lawyer, and Judge J. L. Renteau, who is now serving as Judge of the Court under an appointment from Governor E. D. Rivers.
