J. M. GRAHAM, Chester, S. C. (above) says: "I learned about potash when I went to manage Rose Hill Plantation between Bishopville and Sumter in 1921. Those were the 2-8-2 (NPK) and 3-8-3 days. There were French spots or Rust in the cotton so we increased our potash in the fertilizer at planting to 7% and then used 100 pounds of NV KAINIT per acre with our nitrogen. We stopped Rust, increased yields, improved the staple and made better quality all the way around. In 1934 we made 904 bales on 774 acres.

"Here at the Chester Seed Farm we made 305 bales on 301 acres in 1936. Potash works the same here as it did in Lee County. We 305 bales on 301 acres in 1936. Potash works the same here as it did in Lee County. We used 3-9-7 (NPK) at planting and two applications of 12-0-20 top-dresser. With a bad season and boll weevil in 1937 we made 342 bales on 350 acres. Potash keeps cotton from giving back, reduces shedding, makes bigger bolls with better staple and the result is larger yields of better quality.

"In 1937 on four acres of wheat, planted after alfalfa and given three applications of nitrogen-potash top-dresser (325 pounds per scree). I threshed 161 bushels and had three big loads of hay from around the edge of the field."
