Dr. B.A. Deal Gave Information On How To Deal With Rabies

Rabies in dogs is caused by a virus which attacks the nervous system. The dog may have a fever, a change in behavior, and difficulty swallowing. If untreated, the dog will die. To control the spread of rabies, dogs should be immunized by a veterinarian. There are several methods of immunization, but the most effective are the Pasteur and American Pasteur methods. Control of rabies in dogs is important for the protection of public health. If you suspect that a dog is rabid, call the police or your veterinarian for guidance. The police will take the dog to a public health agency where the animal will be quarantined and可能发生 rabies vaccinations.
OUR CHRISTMAS EMERALD WRITERS

By HAGERTY

Once a week comes to our office a box of emeralds, the rare and valuable gem, destined to make their way to the homes of the fortunate whose hands they find in fortune. Each of these stones, cut in the shape of a teardrop, will bring a smile to the face of the person who beholds it. They are of various sizes, from small to large, but all are of the finest quality. It is a pleasure to see them grace the homes of those who are fortunate enough to own them.

A PEA TO HELP RESERVE MILLY
With Christmas almost here we must think of the peacocks, the descriptions of our hens for the Christmas table. We must wrap up the blueberries in their leaves and send them to the market. It is a time for thought and for work.

MRS. BRET'T ENTERTAINS WITH INFORMAL DINNER PARTY

Mrs. J. H. Bret't was hostess on Friday evening at her apartment on North Main Street with an informal dinner party. Her events were enespescially hearty with buffalo, oxtails, and Christmas decorations. Dinner was served in four courses. After serving the guests gathered there to listen to two orchestras. The first,
"Christmas Revel in Duck," was sung by Mrs. Barney Arnett, who received a medal of worth. In the concert, Mrs.
Archer Turner played his superior knowledge of the old and new grand tabl. Mrs. Glen Smith received congratulations.

Amongst them was the charming information of the season, the guests sought entertainment according to their wishes. Some new and others pressed around the piano and sang old nibodices and Christmas carols, excusingly singing at a low key.

The guests included: Mr. and Mrs.
Cheryl Haze, Mrs. and Mrs.
Frank Williams, Mr. and Mrs.
A. M. Grimes, Mr. and Mrs.
William Smith, Mr. and Mrs.
E. P. Fox, Mrs. and Mr.
Barney Arnett, Mr. and Mrs.

BRILLIANT SOCIAL FUNCTION
TUESDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johnson; and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Deal.

Mrs. Johnson counted one of the jovial and gayest gatherings recently presented at the pretty little party which was attended by a large number.

The club room was most elaborately decorated for the season. Quantities of buffalos, pumpkins, colored hamburgers and relishes were used in the beautiful and spruce setting.

The finale was brought with battle
and conviviality broadcast at border of the room. "Old Christmas Carols"
were sung by the entire group.

Mrs. J. L. Gentry, president, and Mrs. Edna Spradlin, social committee chairman, received the guests at the door.

An exceptionally musical program
under the direction of Mrs. Edna Spradlin was presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raines and their daughter, Fay, spent the week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Frideman.

day dance and dinner.
