Blue Devils Whip Brooklet Quintet In "Block and Tackle" Cage Game

Will Play Savannah High Tonight In Armory At 7:30; Metter Saturday Night

Last Wednesday night Statesboro defeated Brooklet for the second straight time in a return game with them here. The two teams played a good brand of football, consisting of the fact that they played on a hardwood floor and without the usual football regalia.

STATESBORO TO PLAY

METTER HIGH SCHOOL. Next Friday night, January 14, Statesboro High School will resume their athletic activities with Metter High School.

The Blue Devils completely outplayed Brooklet. Their defense was much tighter and their shooting completely over-shadowed that of Brooklet's. Although Thomas Hill and Bule of Brooklet were breaking up a good many passes that the Blue Devils were throwing.

John Smith, playing superbly throughout the entire game until he was put out on fouls, was the spark plug of the Statesboro squad. Smith repeatedly sank long shots and time and after time was snatching the ball away from the Brooklet boys' hands.

Both teams' defense were much better than their offense. Brooklet tried to break in towards the goal consistently, but Statesboro was always there to stop them. In the first half Statesboro, besides shooting long shots and with John Smith and Street Kenyon doing most of the shooting, gained a comfortable lead at the half.

But in the second half the offense changed. Statesboro began breaking towards the basket with Robert Hodges and Emerson Anderson breaking in the clear, under the basket several times. Big Federick "Drake" Rowley could not find the basket in the first half but in the second half he found the range and was backing up shots consistently.

STATESBORO TO PLAY

SAVANNAH TONIGHT. The Statesboro Blue Devils will step in deep water tonight when they take the hardwood floor against the Savannah High School Varsity basketball team. There can be no predictions as to the outcome of the game for it is rather hard to

SHAVING MUGS.

Joe dropped Mr. Raines' mug and broke the handle. Joe paid Mr. Raines the purchase price and became the owner. Joe still uses it. It shows a scene in a hardware store, Mr. Raines' business at that time. W. G. Raines is written in large gold letters on the top and once proudly stood in its place with 34 other cups.

Mr. Frank Grimes has and will uses his. It pictures a railway locomotive with tender, which might have been one of the old S. & S. engines. Mr. Grimes stated that he bought his mug about the time the Savannah and Statesboro railroad was built.

When asked if he could name the owners of the other mugs, Gus stated that it's been so long that he can not remember all of them. However he did name several. Besides Mr. Raines and Mr. Grimes Gus stated that Dr. R. J. Kennedy, Dr. A. W. Quattlebaum, W. L. Hall (who operated the old Hall Hotel which stood where the Bank of Statesboro building now stands), Dr. L. J. McLean, Dr. J. C. White, and Dr. M. M. Holland.

In talking to some of those who did have mugs with Gus they recalled men who, they felt sure, had mugs also. Those mentioned were: W. H. Ellis, W. T. Smith, J. A. McDonald, W. H. Simmons, H. B. Davis, J. W. Wilson, J. G. Blitch, John Olliff, Henry Olliff and Emit Anderson. All of those named are deceased.

There seems to be no records of how and when shaving mugs were first used. Two encyclopedias fail to reveal any information on their origin. During the middle ages the Romans smoothed down their faces with pumice stone and oil. This mixture may have been the basis of shaving soap, although the use of a special soap as a part of the parapanathalia of shaving is comparatively modern.

And with the advent of the electric razor the era of shaving mugs in all their glory, stacked row on row against the walls of Gus' miscellaneous shop seems a far way.

Surprise was expressed by a number of the Rotary club when they saw the completeness of the equipment in the hospital. They were told that there is no hospital in this section of the country so well equipped as the one here in Statesboro. Every piece of equipment is of the very best of its type and is such that it meets every emergency that might arise in a modern hospital.

Miss Zittrover was praised highly for the efficient manner in which the hospital is being operated.

Before the meeting was turned over to the chairman of the program committee, President S. W. Lewis congratulated the club on its excellent attendance record for the last month, announcing that the Statesboro club was second high in the state. He also read a letter from past district governor, Joel C. Harris, Jr., commending the club on its fine record.

Dr. Byrd Daniels of Claxton was a guest of the club.

Monday night the Statesboro Rotary Club held its regular weekly meeting at the Bulloch County Hospital with Miss Naomi Zittrover, superintendent of the hospital as the hostess.

Meeting with the Rotary club were the members of the board of managers of the hospital. This board is made up of Dr. A. Temples, Delmas Rushing, J. L. Johnson, Ulmer Knight and D. Percy Averitt.

Z. S. Henderson, chairman of the program committee for the club, introduced Mr. Fred W. Hodges, chairman of the county commissioners, who gave a brief history of the hospital from the time it was conceived until its completion. Each member of the board of managers was introduced to the club.

Dr. A. J. Mooney as president of the hospital staff, told the members of the Rotary club of the staff's ambition to have the Bulloch County Hospital placed on the list of approved hospitals which would mean that it would be recognized over the entire United States.

At the completion of the meeting Miss Zittrover conducted the members of the club on a tour of the hospital showing them just what the people of Bulloch have.

Surprise was expressed by a number of the Rotary club when they saw the completeness of the equipment in the hospital. Bulloch Leads State With Most Hogs For 1937

SHOWS 80,000 HOGS AND 20,000 HEAD OF CATTLE IN COUNTY. PREDICTS 40,000 ACRES FOR COTTON IN 1938.

The annual report made by Byron Dyer, county agent, shows that Bulloch county can claim the leadership in diversification in the state. Highlights of the report include a hog and cattle census showing 80,000 hogs and 20,000 head of cattle in the county today, despite the sale of more than 30,000 hogs and 2,500 head of cattle during the past year.

Mr. Dyer's predictions for 1938, based on a county-wide survey, indicated approximately 40,000 acres will be planted to cotton this year, a reduction of 6,000 acres from the 1937 total.

2,000,000 POUNDS OF TOBACCO. The 1937 annual report shows that 45,000 acres were planted in cotton, 2,000,000 pounds of tobacco were made, 2,000 acres of sweet potatoes were planted, 3,000 acres of soybeans, 200 acres of sweet potatoes planted for the market, 1,500 acres were planted in commercial vegetables, 500 acres of corn, besides the other crops such as sugar cane, watermelons, strawberries and pears. 150 farmers planted peanuts for the market.

There are 427,500 acres in Bulloch county with 3,293 farms. The average farm contains 108 acres with about 40 acres in cultivation. The report discloses that though tractors are fast taking the place of mules in the county, there are still 5,900 mules in Bulloch.

About 25,000 acres in the county have been put into permanent pastures and the county agent is working on a program which calls for 75,000 acres for permanent pastures. During the past year 15,000 acres were set out in pine seedlings. The report shows that 25 farmers sold pulp wood and that about 300 long cords were cut. Over 800 trees and shrubs were planted on school campuses and community centers.

4-H CLUB WORK. The report of the 4-H Club work was an item in the report. Of the 286 boys starting out on projects 120 finished. Beef cattle projects cleared more money than any other 4-H club project, with 354 animals selling for $32,000.

There are 12-4-H Clubs actively operating. The plans for Bulloch county for 1938 indicate that there will be 40,000 acres of cotton, 2,000,000 pounds of tobacco, 2,000 acres of soybeans, 200 acres of sweet potatoes, 22,000 beef cattle, and 15,000 dairy cattle as the big crops along with the many other cash crops and the crops grown for home use.

E. L. Donaldson, Bulloch County Farmer Dies. The funeral of E. L. Donaldson, Bulloch county farmer, who died in Savannah hospital Saturday morning after a brief illness, took place at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the Savannah residence, 818 East Thirty-fourth street, and at 3 o'clock at the Red Hill cemetery near Pembroke. Burial was held at the church cemetery.

Mr. Donaldson was a native of Bulloch county, and for many years operated a farm near Neville. He came to Savannah to undergo treatment for his fatal illness. Honorary pallbearers were Dr. C. E. Stapleton, Allen Proctor, J. E. Futch, Olin Nesmith and A. L. Davis.

Mr. Fred W. Hodges, chairman of the county board of commissioners, this week received forms for filling Bulloch's application for consideration of the judges. He, together with a number of others are considering the various advancements made by the county in its government, and steps made by the county which have been taken for the benefit of its citizens.

Word has been received from The Atlanta Constitution that more than 100 counties of the state are already preparing their applications for submission to the Constitution before midnight January 25.

On December 27 of 1937 The Constitution announced its $7,500 Progressive Government Awards for 1937. The cash awards are offered to the 13 Georgia counties making the greatest improvements in their governments for the year 1937. The purpose of the awards is to extend and intensify progress in better government, to stimulate state-wide interest on the part of the public in governmental affairs and to give recognition to improvements in county governmental conditions in the state's 150 counties.

According to the plans for the awards 13 counties will share the prizes. The first award will be $3,000; second, $1,000; third, $500, and in addition there will be a $250 award to a county in each of the state's 10 congressional districts.

Sole basis for the competition is improvement in county government bringing the greatest benefits to the citizens of the county for 1937, and no matter how small a county or how modest its income, every county is on an equal footing.

In addition to receiving the cash awards, winning counties will get state-wide and national advertising for having the best governments in Georgia for the year 1937.

Backed by civic organizations, leading citizens and county officials, the commissioners are busy compiling lists of accomplishments of their governments.

GEORGIA CONSUMPTION OF FERTILIZER IS LARGER

Georgia farmers used 181,838 tons more of fertilizer in 1937 than in 1936, the State Department of Agriculture revealed. In 1937 866,380 tons were bought, compared to 684,542 tons the previous year.

The 1937 sales were the largest the state has had since 1925, when 928,000 tons were sold. They also eclipsed every year since 1925 with the exception of 1928, 1929 and 1930.

Work is already underway on two projects on the college campus, a residence hall for women costing $60,000, which was begun before Christmas, and a waterworks system costing $15,000. Is It Worth A Nickel?

If every person in Georgia contributed one five-cent piece to the National Foundation for Fighting Infantile Paralysis, this state's quota would be filled in full. The quota has been set to be raised on January 29, President Roosevelt's birthday. There will be parties and entertainments all over the state on that day, with all proceeds going to the fund. The Georgia Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday is directing the campaign in this state.

The money raised during the President's Birthday celebration, all over the country, will all go to the new national foundation, with the hope and belief that sufficient funds will be raised to properly equip it and to assure continuance of its important work against the dread disease of infantile paralysis.

The Foundation program has been broadly divided under four divisions. The first is concerned with scientific research, with the hope of discovering preventative and cure for the disease which has, so far, proved one of the most puzzling problems in the history of medical science.

The second effort of the new foundation will be by reaching out to all communities where the disease appears, with the purpose of checking its spread before it reaches epidemic proportions.

Thirdly, the foundation will see that proper treatment and care is provided for all sufferers from the disease. The fourth purpose is to furnish money to maintain orthopedic centers, hospitals and clinics which are striving to restore health and strength to paralyzed victims.

It is estimated that there are today 600,000 victims of infantile paralysis in the United States, and crippled, in greater or less degree, for life. This number is constantly increasing. It is the belief of scientists that this increase in the disease will continue unless an organization such as the proposed new national foundation can bring it under control.

President Roosevelt has dedicated his birthday, in perpetuity, to aid the new foundation. Through these annual birthday parties the people of America may join in the fight against the disease, by providing the needed funds for the national foundation.

By concentrating all funds in this one organization it is believed the work against the disease may be more efficiently and more successfully carried on.

There are, of course, people in Georgia who will not have opportunity to contribute even as much as one nickel to the splendid cause. But others will give much more, each according to financial ability, and thus it is believed there will be more than enough to complete the state's quota when the night of January 29.

In addition to the parties on the birthday night, there will be a "button" contest sponsored by the Warm Springs Foundation has saved many lives and brought new hope to hundreds of men, women and children who have contracted the disease.

Georgia is President Roosevelt's "second home." It was at Warm Springs, where the "Little White House" is located, that organized war against infantile paralysis received its first momentum. The Warm Springs Foundation has saved many lives and brought new hope to hundreds of men, women and children who have contracted the disease.

Georgia, by all logic, should show the way to the rest of the nation in raising the President's Birthday Fund for the financing of the new national foundation, and it is estimated that there are today 600,000 victims of infantile paralysis in the United States, and crippled, in greater or less degree, for life. ### REAL COOPERATION

More and better hogs will be raised in Georgia this year through the cooperation of the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service and the Georgia Banker's Association. The plan was recently announced at the University of Georgia.

The announcement of the cooperative effort is contained in a special edition of a bulletin entitled "Growing Hogs in Georgia." The banker's share in the program will take the form of loans to establish farmers with good credit records who will purchase good swine stock and agree to breed and feed them according to methods recommended by the Agricultural Extension Service.

This will not be the first instance of the encouragement by Georgia Bankers of farmers desiring to get away from the one-crop system. The banks have financed thousands of boys and girls raising cattle and hogs. In several South Georgia counties especially the market improvement in agricultural conditions can be traced to the friendly cooperation of local bankers.

To assist the farmers in scientific hog-raising the Extension Service has published a booklet, "Growing Hogs in Georgia," which give sound advice about choice of breeding stock, feeding and other care. It will be available to all farmers interested in producing pork for their own use or for market.

Bulloch county ranks first in the state in the production of hogs and Georgia ranks ninth in the United States in the production of swine. The state has increased its production 33 percent since 1930. A recent census reveals that only 70 percent of the farms in the state have hogs.

A good motto to hang up in a farm home which will mean more dollars in the farmer's pocket is "one more brood sow permanently on our farm and that every acre subtracted from cotton shall add more shots to our farm."

That there is profit in growing hogs in Georgia is shown by the records of sales. During 1937 there were more than 20,000 hogs sold on the local livestock markets. Packing houses are ready to buy them. And then too, it is a mighty comfortable feeling to know that the smokehouse is full of meat.

According to an announcement by Major Phil Brewster, commissioner of public safety, time for obtaining drivers' licenses without examination has been extended to February 1. If this keeps up it will soon be time to get a new license.

In the annual report filed by Byron Dyer, county agent, Bulloch claims leadership in farm diversification. 50,000 hogs, nearly two hogs for every man, woman and child in the county. 20,000 head of cattle, nearly one cow apiece for everybody in the county. But we all can't have a hog or a cow. But everyone of the 3,293 farms can have a hog and a cow and more.

With the livestock marketing facilities here in Bulloch county and the recently announced cooperation of the Georgia Bankers' Association and the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service, there is no reason at all for the farmer remaining under the yoke of cotton as a cash crop.

WORKING FOR THE GOV'TMENT

Unless the federal government frankly admits its bluff has been called, several hundred employees of utilities will have their names transferred to federal payrolls, if they are lucky enough to retain positions in the transfer of property.

Wendell L. Wilkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern, proposed last week that the TVA buy existing privately-owned power facilities in this region. His motive in making the offer, he explained, was to protect investors before further inroads by government competition impaired security values. A highly placed government power official said Saturday his reaction to the proposal would be favorable if the offer proved practicable. Representative Rankin, spokesman for a public power bloc in the House, said he would be willing to see the government buy the corporation's "tangible property" provided the price was not "based on inflated values."

Chairman Way of the House military committee opposed the purchase "at any price," contending it would mean the beginning of "state socialism and the destruction of democracy." Senator Norris of Nebraska said he would favor government purchase of private utility property in the TVA area only where a purchase would avoid duplication of transmission lines or other equipment.

The TVA long ago lost its meaning as a mere yardstick for the measurement of fair rates. Its executives, as leaders of a virtually independent corporation free of taxes, were originally given a yard. They've taken a mile. Newest development and probable occasion for President Wilkie's offer to sell out, was the demand that municipalities be allowed to buy just what facilities they desired, with a complete disregard of parallel investment and small-town facilities.

There can be no doubt that such an enforced transaction could bode no good for the utilities. Quite possibly the whole system of public service would collapse, since service to less profitable sections is often practical only in cooperation with central cities or other large users.

There can be no doubt that security values would fall. Chance for recovery of initial investment would be slim indeed.

The Interstate Commerce Commission and common sense have long dictated against the duplication of facilities, where regulation other than competition was possible. Now the Senator from Nebraska admits, by implication, that TVA has duplicated existing facilities, and recommends the purchase of those remaining private lines which have not yet been paralleled.

Chairman Way errs only slightly when he says the purchase would mean the beginning of state socialism. It would mean continuing, not beginning, state socialism.

Along with business in general, we are looking forward to the day when private enterprise will not be subjected to the constant danger of crack-pot assassins who have had "greatness" thrust upon them.

"ADVERTISE GEORGIA"

An "Advertise Georgia" campaign that will cost the state very little and develop wide scope was proposed Friday in a resolution introduced in the House by Representatives Hill of Screven, Sams of DeKalb, Fowler of Treutlen, Coleman of Lowndes and Harrell of Brooks.

It was proposed that envelopes used by every state department and agency carry pertinent facts about Georgia printed on the back, so that official correspondence might be the means of disseminating favorable publicity concerning the state.

Samples of envelopes bearing suggested information were distributed Friday to all members of the Senate and House. These envelopes, which are now being used by an Atlanta business concern, have printed conspicuously on the back information concerning Georgia's climate, agricultural and industrial opportunities, timber resources, educational, facilities and transportation advantages.

If adopted by both Senate and House, the resolution would require all state agencies to use the "Advertise Georgia" information on envelopes mailed out on official business.

The post-office, it was pointed out, has inspected the sample envelopes carrying Georgia advertising on the back and has issued its approval of the procedure. The samples proclaim the following statement:

Georgia leads the world in production of pecans.

Georgia's soil will grow almost any edible American plant.

Georgia produces 75 percent of America's tire and cord fabric.

Georgia boasts the world's first chartered woman's college.

Georgia has an abundance of low-cost electric power.

Georgia has 12 percent of the nation's active cotton spindles.

Georgia has 23,750,000 acres of timber land.

Georgia has 4,700 miles of paved state roads.

Georgia is first in the production of watermelons and peanuts.

IVANHOE COMMUNITY CLUB MAKES STUDY OF LANDSCAPING

Ivanhoe community club made a study of landscaping at the January meeting under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mann.

Mr. Mann urged the members to use plants growing around them to do their landscaping work. He pointed out that it was possible to grow most any affect with native shrubs that would cost them only a little labor.

He recommended that they use a few varieties of shrubs, massed, each variety by itself so that there may be banks of color as each blossoms varieties make the place look patchy.

It is much better to take small plants rather than large when transplanting from the woods. Smaller plants are easier to dig, as the roots are small, and easier to set in the new location. However, the desired affect from the landscaping will be delayed a year or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann carried a group of the various shrubs they have in their yard that can be procured from the woods.

Following the business hour dinner, cooked on the grounds, was served.

all's fair

Let us state at the outset that all is not fair for Jane this week—A note from the Editor reminds us to have our 'colium' in earlier—Of course we felt flattered that an anxious public was waiting for our candid remarks, but we've had no time to listen in on romance or dilly dally on the court house square where sooner or later all news of momentous magnitude is released... Nova Bean is getting a sample of what the rest of us busy mothers have had to happen to us in times past. Nova entertained her club Friday—the first party she's had since Linda entered into Life's tugsy pattern—and you guessed it, the cook didn't come... Now we understand why only superlative students make the Beta Club. After that chapel program put on by the new pledges we know that you've got to be clever and intelligent plus, to make the grade... The old pledges stipulated that for their initiation the new pledges must give a program of such merit that the eligibility would be unquestioned, and further—more, Jack Averitt and Janice Arundel must sing a duet. In the program presented by them, Prusanna Sneed was master of ceremonies—Myrtle Swinson (Miss Primrose Peabody) represented the Striped Ink Co., especially useful in making cross word puzzles... Dorothy Wilson was from the A. B. C. Reducing Co. and appeared in baggy clothing bearing a pair of scales in her hand... Marjorie Prosser (Miss Loving Peanut) represented the Sweet Pea Perfume Co. and used an atomizer promiscuously... Jack Averitt (Obey Drinkwater) represented the new Dr. Pinketers and was unusually lively in evening dress and a big picture hat... Sara Howell (Miss Giggle's Newell) represented the Out-of-Tune Piano Co. carried a little piano and disported musically over stage... Janice Arundel (Miss Iza Whinnies) appeared in the interest of the Steam Heated Ice Company wearing a lovely ensemble of several coats and sweaters, a late model fascinator was twined about her head and she fanned industriously. She wore one white shoe and one black shoe... Alice Jo Lane won the ward... Miss U. Tellems Gossip. She wore for the occasion a short black frock with high-heeled shoes. She really could do things with her gum and her crowning glory was an antique piece of millinery belonging to Mrs. Wyley DeLoach... Frances Hayslip (Miss Sittum Davenport) appearing for the One Story Elevator Co. was demure in an old fashioned bathing suit with stockings... Harold Waters representing the old pledges caused much comment in a clinging red jersey frock with a pink garment which modestly prohibits our mentioning here, showing—it must have been one of those bias affairs... (He says the ones he sells ain't like that)... Any way the whole thing was cute—if you get what we mean... What young men are planning to build a log cabin out too far from town—just commencing distance... Maybe it ought to be looked into...

WHAT IS TIRE RETREADING?

There has opened in Statesboro a place of business known as the Economy Tire Company. They retread and vulcanize tires. Everybody knows what tire vulcanizing is but there are some to whom "tire retreading" may be something new.

In an interview with Mr. W. A. Dobbs, who does tire retreading and vulcanizing for the Economy Tire Company it was learned that a retreaded tire can be made to give an extra two-thirds additional wear. In explaining the process Mr. Dobbs said: "We take a tire 'carcass', a tire from which all the old rubber has been cleaned from the cord fabric, and completely rebuild it with new gum rubber. It is then placed in a mold under 125 pounds pressure at 300 degrees F. In this mold the new rubber is completely baked and when done the tire comes out with a complete, brand new tread which is non-skid and safe. The tire is then dressed and is ready for many new miles." Mr. Dobbs has been in the tire business since 1910. Mr. Arthur L. Reed is the manager of the new business.

GREEN VEGETABLES FOR IRON AND VITAMIN A

When leafy vegetables are green, they contain more iron and vitamin A. If the leaves are blanched, they are poorer in these two dietary essentials.

Turnip greens, for instance, are much more nutritious than head lettuce. Beet tops, collards, Swiss chard, dandelion greens, mustard, turnip greens, tender green and water cress are all rich in iron and vitamin A.

A good way to ward off colds is to eat plenty of green vegetables. During this season of the year when colds are so common, every person should have at least one green or yellow vegetable a day.

Greens have a liberal amount of calcium and iron and both of these are often lighted in the American diet. Vitamin A is especially present

Steer Clear of Trouble

In abundance and many of the greens are excellent sources of vitamin C, good sources of vitamin B, and good sources of iron. In order to conserve as much of the vitamins and minerals as possible. For this reason, greens should be cooked for only a short time, as heat is an enemy of both color and vitamin C. They should be cooked in just enough water to keep them from scorching, because some of the mineral salts are easily dissolved in water.

Blue Devils Defeated Decisively By Savannah High Blue Jackets 46-31

Coach Johnson's Cage Squad To Play Stillson Thursday Night On Armory Floor, Play Reidsville Here Friday Night

Displaying beautiful passwork and a perfect defense, the Savannah High cage team defeated the Statesboro quintet by the score of 46-31 last Friday night on the armory floor.

The Blue Devils were completely outclassed in all departments of the game. The Savannahians crack marksmanship, their smooth passwork and a man to man defense kept the Blue Devils on the tail end of the score throughout the last three quarters.

The game was rather a rough and tumble affair, with five men being put out via the foul route. Two of the Savannah squad and three of the Blue Devils.

Score 138 Points In Three Games Against Opponents' 33 Points

Any basketball team that can check up a total of 138 points in three games against its opponents total of 33 must be admitted a good team. This is just what Statesboro High Industrial School's basketball team has done.

This negro team, coached by Thomas Hardy, a teacher in the English department, completely smothered a Metter negro team last Friday night in defeating them by the one-sided score of 42 to 8. This is just one of the games they defeated.

Statesboro Will Play Thursday Night And Again Friday Night

Statesboro will play Stillson high tonight (tomorrow night) at 7:30 p. m. The game was originally scheduled for Wednesday night but due to a conflicting engagement was moved up to Thursday night. The girls will also play.

In an interview with Coach Hardy who came to Statesboro from Hampton Institute of Hampton, Virginia, he stated that his boys will get better as the season progresses.

ATHLETIC PLANS

Should this plan be adopted and carried out it would eliminate the division of the teams into sections and would give all the teams a wide variety of opponents. The eligibility of the teams would be decided by a committee. The committee would use the record of each team in determining the eligibility of each team to compete in the playoff.
