IMPROVING THE CHILD'S READING
Miss Jane Franceth is doing a great work in the county schools. We give below a recent report of the reading improvements made by the county schools, which indicate her influence here:
"An intensive program in Bulloch County schools to improve the children's ability to read has produced encouraging results. Standard tests were given in the fall and again after six months of school for the purpose of measuring growth. According to the findings, as measured by these tests, the children of Bulloch County have exceeded the national average in reading growth by an average of three months. The growth shown during the six months of school was nine months.

"Though Bulloch County's children still rank below the national average, if the rate of growth continues to exceed the national average as much as it has done this year, our children will reach the national average within a period of approximately four or five years. The children in the first and second grades, on the average, are already very near to the national average.
"Though the high school students in Bulloch County are farther below the national average for their grades than any other group, they showed the most improvement in reading this year. Their average growth in the county during the six months of school was almost twelve months.
"Though some schools made more gain than others, all except one school exceeded the national average in growth. One school showed a growth of 10.8 months during six months of school.
"The amount of improvement in children's abilities to read can no doubt be attributed to many factors. A few of these are as follows: (1) Methods in teaching reading in the Bulloch county schools have been improved. Emphasis has been placed by almost all of the Bulloch County teachers on reading as a thought getting process. Mere word calling does not suffice. Much emphasis has been placed on stimulating purposes in reading through centers of interest especially in the field of social science. Emphasis is being placed on reading many references to satisfy assignments. Reading from one text does not suffice. Much effort has been placed on making available, books ranging in difficulty from easy to hard in every grade so that each child may be challenged to his limit regardless of the limits of the average for his grade.
"It is interesting to note that, with some exceptions, teachers who have put forth the greatest efforts to provide opportunities like the above seem to have been able to show the most improvement in reading, if standard test measurements are reliable.
"Another factor which has no doubt affected the reading growth has been the availability of reading material made possible by the Bulloch County Library. No one school is financially able, by itself, to supply sufficient reading material for its children, but the circulating library makes it possible for each school to use at least nine times as much material as it could if each school had to work alone.

(3) Another factor which no doubt contributed to the reading growth in Bulloch County was the effective use of the new state text books. Due to the State Adoption of many good texts, distributed free the children have been provided with many more excellent reading materials than they have ever had before.
"Another factor which no doubt contributed to the reading growth in Bulloch County was the effective use of the new state text books. Due to the State Adoption of many good texts, distributed free the children have been provided with many more excellent reading materials than they have ever had before.
"The Rosenwald helpers from South Georgia Teachers College have contributed much to the increased efficiency of the schools. In the field of reading, alone, they have given special help to children without outstanding difficulties, taught demonstration lessons, helped teachers to secure suitable materials to fit individual needs, aroused interest in reading books, and in many other ways have helped the schools accomplish their objectives.
"Plans are under way at the present time to provide opportunities for children and for adults to read books from the county and local school libraries during the summer. In some districts it will be possible to secure W. P. A. help in the circulation of books. It is hoped that growth in children's abilities to read will continue during the summer months as it has during the year. Any district wishing to continue library facilities during the summer should see Mrs. Edith Jones.
"Plans are under way to buy new books for the local and county libraries. The State is giving Bulloch county $1000 if it can be matched by the county for the purpose of buying books. The Bulloch County Library is prepared to match half of this at the present time. The other half will be matched by the local libraries during the summer or early fall. Half of the books will circulate through the Bulloch County Library, the other half will remain in the local school libraries."

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The folks in the Warnock community are smart. Their auditorium-dedication exercises were such a success that they want to thank every one who had a part in it. Mrs. L. S. Faircloth of the Warnock P.-T. A. writes to this department and states that everyone was so wonderful about the whole thing that she cannot think of anyway to thank them all. Now when folk like that fill up to the extent that they just choke up when they try to thank people for being so nice, they have to get someone to do it for them. We feel sure that everyone who had anything to do with dedicating the new auditorium did so with enjoyment and we believe that everyone knows it was appreciated. So know that the people of the Warnock community appreciate it all.
If Congress adjourns by June 1 each Senator and Representative will receive $454.50 per week for their actual time of legislative service since January 1, 1938. Each one will have worked 100 hours a month—25 hours a week—$20.00 per hour. The Constitution of the U. S. fixes the salary of Representatives and Senators at $10,000 a year plus allowances for stationery, clerical assistance and traveling expenses to and from the sessions of Congress.
And now comes the information that the Senate recently approved a travel allowance for all members of both houses, whether they traveled or not. They will get $222,000. We are inclined to agree with the Morning News—"The mileage grab vote legalizes this wasteful expenditure of the taxpayers' money, but the fellow who robs a hen roost also gets something for nothing—and goes to prison if he is caught at it."
Stunt Nite! It is now an institution, like the Junior-Senior Banquet, like the Criterion—is it a part of graduation. We venture to say that 90 per cent of the audience that will be there tomorrow night will not see it as a current Stunt Nite but as a repetition of the Stunt Nite they were in when they were a Senior. The skits may be different but it is still Stunt Nite!
"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." What a world of memories that title conjures in our minds. Grimm's Fairy Tales. They came to life beginning tomorrow. Seeing Walt Disney's characters one loses sight of the fact that they are only fantasies in an artist's mind given form by pen and ink. We congratulate Hal Macon on bringing this picture to Statesboro and we know that every kid seeing it will thank him with us.

12.7 BALES ON 5 ACRES

SOUTH CAROLINA CHAMPION TOP-DRESSES WITH POTASH

WALLACE L. MARTIN, Gray Court, S. C., was awarded first prize in the 1937 five-acre cotton contest by Clemson College. His five-acre yield was 6,075 pounds of lint with a staple length of 1 1/8 inches. His seed were W. W. Wamamaker's Wonder Will strain 7. Mr. Martin says: "At planting I gave each acre 900 pounds of fertilizer analyzing 6 1/2% nitrogen, 8% phosphoric acid and 7 1/2% potash. I later gave each acre 160 pounds of top-dresser analyzing 10% nitrogen and 15% potash. I had given the land high-potash mixtures for the last five years. Potash helped to mature my cotton and prevented rust."
It will pay you to get the extra yields and extra quality that extra potash adds to your crop. Top-dress with 100 pounds of NV MURIATE per acre, 200 pounds of NV KAINIT, or use a mixed-goods top-dresser containing plenty of genuine NV POTASH. All of these are on sale by your fertilizer man.

TOP-DRESS WITH NV POTASH

NORTH CAROLINA EXPERIMENT STATION
recommends top-dressing cotton with 125 to 250 pounds of KAINIT or 50 to 100 pounds of MURIATE per acre on fields which rested in the past and where the fertilizer contains only 3% potash.

SOUTH CAROLINA EXPERIMENT STATION found that 120 pounds of MURIATE per acre increased the yield by 486 pounds of seed cotton per acre. In these tests fertilizer was used at 600 pounds per acre. 5-10-8 produced 857 pounds of seed cotton. 5-10-3 produced 1,015 pounds and 3-10-10 produced 1,843 pounds. The potash was equally effective applied at planting or as a top-dressing.

GEORGIA COASTAL PLAIN EXPERIMENT STATION produced 1,083 pounds of seed cotton per acre with 800 pounds of 3-8-3 fertilizer. By adding 50 pounds of MURIATE top-dressing the yield was increased to 1,163 pounds with 150 pounds of MURIATE the yield was 1,281 pounds. With 150 pounds of MURIATE the yield was 1,211 pounds and with 200 pounds of MURIATE the yield was 1,403 pounds.

Hospitalization Plan

can be issued only to citizens of those counties whose county medical societies have approved the plan. The group hospitalization corporation is authorized to contract with hospitals for services and with members guaranteeing these services in return for dues. The hospital under contract, however, must first be recommended by one of four authorities. These are the State Board of Health, or the Medical Association of Georgia, or the Georgia Hospital Association, or the county medical society. One of these must recommend the hospitals concerned as being properly equipped and staffed to render the hospital services contracted. The recommendation must be made to the State Department of Public Welfare which shall certify and approve the hospital recommended. It is empowered to advise the hospitals operated under group hospitalization plans and it may withdraw its approval of a hospital. The plan of operation, the schedule of salaries and overhead expenses, together with the schedule of dues and amount of hospital service to be rendered must be approved by the State Insurance Commissioner before the group hospital corporation can begin business. The rates paid to the hospitals for services rendered to members must also be approved by the Insurance Commissioner. Hospitals under contract to render these services must guarantee their performance. The certificate of membership issued to members of the corporation must set forth the contract between it and the member, the period and kinds of hospital services guaranteed to the member as well as the rates per day or week payable to the hospital by the corporation. The treasurer of the corporation must furnish a fidelity bond with corporate security for the proper handling of its funds. No payments can be made to hospitals until the services promised to members have actually been rendered. Annual financial reports must be made to the Insurance Commissioner and the books of the Corporation must be open to annual examination by him. As a charitable and benevolent organization the group hospitalization corporation is exempt from taxes.

Essentials of An Acceptable Plan
The essentials of criteria for an acceptable plan of hospital care insurance are as follows: (1) emphasis on public welfare; (2) non-profit sponsorship and control; (3) enlistment of professional and public interest; (4) free choice of physicians and hospital; (5) economic and actuarial soundness; (6) limitation to hospital services; (7) dignified promotion and administration.
Emphasis On Public Welfare
Group hospitalization is intended primarily for the general public who use the hospitals. It is a method of assisting employed persons to budget hospital bills rather than a plan for providing revenue to hospitals.
Non-Profit Sponsorship And Control
Representative groups in the community should sponsor and control hospital service plans rather than private investors who are primarily concerned with personal gain. No individual or group should be allowed to assume the risk of financial gain or loss, although employed persons should receive reasonable income for necessary services. Financial gains from operation of the plan should accrue to the subscribers, either through reduction of subscriptions or increase in hospital benefits, or both.

Enlistment Of Professional And Public Interest
Advice and counsel should be enlisted from the medical profession, hospital trustees and other qualified persons or groups interested in the health of the people such as social workers, nurses, lawyers, and insurance men.
Free Choice Of Physician And Hospital
Subscribers should be free to select among several hospitals at the time of illness, and no provisions should interfere with the subscribers' choice of physician or surgeon. Subscribers should be hospitalized only while attended by a physician and upon a physician's recommendation. The policies in each institution with regard to open and closed staff privileges need not be changed. Existing medical staff regulations and hospital rules should not be affected by group hospitalization.
Limitation To Hospital Service
The council of the American Hospital Association approves plans which cover services provided by hospitals only, and do not include the services of private physicians or nurses rendered to subscribers during hospitalization.
(The Council of the American Hospital Association approves plans which cover services provided by hospitals only, and do not include the services of private physicians or nurses rendered to subscribers during hospitalization.)
SEE SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS. (Continued Next Week)

tion. The personal relations between physician and patient or physician and hospital should not be destroyed.
Economic And Actuarial Soundness
Expert judgment and opinion should be utilized and each plan should be economically sound with regard to subscription rates, benefits, payments to hospitals, eligibility of subscribers and accumulation of reserve. Compliance with legal requirements of each state is essential. During the experimental stage of any plan the provisions should be subject to change on reasonable notice in order that most subscribers and hospitals may be protected from conditions that would be detrimental if unchecked.
Dignified Promotion And Administration
The plans should be introduced in a dignified manner in keeping with the professional ideals of hospital service. The cost of administration should be as low as consistent with efficient control and all public relations should emphasize the advantages of group budgeting rather than the merits of individual hospitals.

DRESSED IN LIGHT CLOTHES FOUND BY POLICEMEN AND CARRIED TO BULLOCH COUNTY HOSPITAL
Statesboro's night policeman R. W. Akins and J. Wilson, played nurse to a wandering child found on the streets of Statesboro Friday morning about 1 o'clock.
A nineteen-month old girl was found standing in front of John Everett's store. Policeman Akins and Wilson were stumped for a moment but decided to call Mayor Renfro to learn if it would be OK to take the girl to the hospital. Upon receiving the Mayor's OK they carried the youngster to the Bulloch county hospital and turned it over to the night nurse who gave it some orange juice and put it to bed in the doctor's dressing room.
About 4:30 in the morning the girls mother, Mrs. Carl Woodcock, reported missing the child to Officer Wilcox, who told her that the child was being well cared for at the hospital. Mrs. Woodcock told the police that the child slipped out of bed where they were sleeping and made her way down the stairs of the two-story home where they live.
When the police found the child it was dressed in very light clothes and was shivering from the effects of the night air.
