This Week's Sentence Sermon

Take your duty, and be strong in it, as God will make you strong. The harder it is, the stronger in fact you will be.

Last week in our Register School news we found a place written by Carolyn Bowen of the seventh grade.

"There are a number of things which I can do to become a school citizen, such as: being obedient respect others, obey the school rules and teachers, take part in school activities if it doesn't interfere with my studies, attend school every day if possible, and be a good citizen in playing games."

"I do these things I can become a better school citizen."

Georgia state troopers haven't a grudge against Dan Cupid but they won't cooperate when it comes to closing their eyes to those "petters" who weave down the middle-of-the-road or park after dark.

Cash income of American farmers for August was 13 percent greater than that of July, according to an estimate made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

With the street signs up we would now like to see the homes and business houses numbered.

Letterwriter's paving is about completed. It makes a very pretty street.

There is no season when such pleasant and sunny days may be lighted on and produce so pleasant an effect on the feelings, as now in October.

The Baptists of Statesboro are planning a big day Sunday. This Rally Day is an annual event which brings together more than six hundred people to hear Edwin S. Preston a speaker noted for his understanding of the problems of youth.

The Parent-Teachers Association is putting on a drive for new members next week. Governor Rivers has proclaimed that week a state-wide PTA week, and too much emphasis cannot be placed on the value of the work done by this organization.

From our exchanges we gleaned the following. "The words of the old song, "If you haven't any money you needn't come around," have been literally put into effect by two physicians in Royce City, Texas.

"To whom this may concern: "If you are expecting the stork to visit your home this year, and he has to come by the way of Royce City, he will have to bring a check book to pay his bill before delivery, as the undersigned doctors delivered many babies during 1937 and over half of them have not been paid for."

"We do not need the experience and if you can not pay the bill, please do not call us, as you have had nine months to prepare for this."

"To those who have not paid their 1937 bill in full or made satisfactory arrangements, do like the stork-be sure to bring your check book, when you call again."-Medical Pocket Quarterly.

THE ALMANIC SAYS THE WEATHER

Today, October 5, will be fair. (The Moon is in the last quarter.) Friday, October 6, will be fair. Saturday, October 7, will be fair. Sunday, October 8, will be windy. Monday, October 9, unsettled. Tuesday, October 10, will be windy. Wednesday, October 11, will be unsettled.

But Don't Blame Us If The Almanac Is Wrong

JURY WILLIAMS, gentleman of color, and Minkovitz's delivery man, came by his name by virtue of being the twelfth in his mother and father's family. Upon Jury's arrival his father announced: "Well you're the twelfth, that completes the jury. Come into the box" and so the twelfth child was named "Jury".

REMEMBER PETE DONALDSON? Sure you do. Statesboro's leading promoter. If you wanted a hundred dollars raised, it was Pete to whom you went; wanted someone to lead the singing it was Pete to whom you went; wanted someone to make a speech, it was Pete to whom you went; "Jack of all trades was Pete" and then he became a school teacher and is now one of the finest in the state.

LAST WEEK WE WERE reading our exchanges and lo! we hit Pete's trail. He was writing to the Thomasville Enterprise. He sent that paper a clipping he found somewhere about teachers and here it is. When you read it you see Pete popping out in every line.

AUNT HET ON TEACHING school-teacher but I talked her out of it. "Teachin' school is too much like bein' a preacher's wife. It's a high callin' but the people expect you to give more'n they pay for." "YOU TAKE THE TEACHERS here in Georgia. The only difference between them and Christian martyrs is the date and lack of a bonfire."

THEY ARE HIRED TO teach an' they do it. They teach the youngsters that can learn, and entertain the ones that fell on their heads when they were little. But that ain't enough. They're supposed to make obedient little angels out o' spoiled brats that never mind nobody, and wet nurse little wildcats, so their mothers can rest, an' make geniuses out o' children that couldn't have no sense with the parents they've got.

BUT THAT AIN'T the worst. They've got to get up plays an' things to work the school out of debt, an' sing in the choir, an' teach a Sunday school class, an' when they ain't doing nothin' else they're supposed to be a good example.

THEN THEY DON'T get no pay for six months an' can't pay their board and buy decent clothes an' on top of everything else they can't hold hands comin' home from a prayer meetin' without some pious old sister with a "dry mind startin' a scandal on 'em."

JUST AS SOON be a plow mule. A mule works just as hard but he can relieve his soul by kickin' up his heels after quittin' 'time without startin' any talk.-Robert Quillen.

Barbs Of The Brair Patch Philosopher . . .

I WAS IN TO TOWN last week to court and I was a setting out there in the court house yard on the bench where Mr. Cartledge generally sits. I just set there and watched the people come and go. I got to thinkin' (you know I've been doing a right smart of thinkin' since I been writing in to you. I kinda like the feeling) but to get on with what I was thinkin'. I was thinking about Statesboro. Have you ever set down and figured out about Statesboro? I got it figured out this way. Just a small town where the people can't brag about their faiths, hopes or charaties, where reputation and character means the same thing, where front is a great part of a building, where you stand up for your rights instead of sitting down for them where the neighborhood is 100 miles long and neighborliness is 100 miles deep, where a friend indeed don't sit and wait for your need, where the telephone book is your "Who's Who", where the U. S. Census is your Social Register, where the Mayor and the town bum know each other by their first names, where they don't carve anything on your tombstone that they wouldn't say to your face; where they go out with their own wives and like it; where a stranger's a stranger only because he wants to be; where a ham is something you serve with chicken, where the sheriff asks about your family as he takes you to jail; the judge will loan you 20 dollars to pay your fine (mabe) and the neighbors are glad to see you back when you get out; where you don't have to tip your barber for cutting what little hair you got left on your head, and where people like me can come to town and set here on the court house square and say what I think. IT'S A GREAT PLACE, is Statesboro. Sometime I tell Mama that we oughta move but Seldom says not. He says there's a great future to farming. But I don't know. Last week some young squirt came out to our place selling some magazine like he said would tell me how to improve my farming one hundred per cent, I told him 'twant no use cause I don't farm half as good as I know how now. YOU KNOW THAT bunch down in the Bay District really started something didn't they. They got a sensible argument too. But likely they won't ever give up to Bryan. The politicians that figure that they the Bay in the bag won't let 'em and imagine the Bay getting all hot and bothered over politics in Bryan county. They ain't no politics like we have in Bulloch. Loose Screws In The News---

Henry Fort Dunham of Ludowici, who will round off his eighteenth year in March, believes that he is the oldest regular Sunday School goer in the state. Dunham started his lengthy Sunday School career at the age of six, and according to the octogenarian, he liked it so well that he has hardly missed a Sunday since. The Ludowician may be found at all times with a lesson book in his pocket, and is often consulted as to the next week's lesson. An obliging victim of a bicycle theft, Lee M. Prussia of Alma made the amazing statement recently that if the culprit would call by his home he might receive the stand and horn which went with the vehicle. "I have no further use for them now," Prussia remarked. Sagas of Vidalia have predicted "frost within ten days" and few residents have ventured to doubt that their prognostication is authentic. For hayfever sufferers have discovered that the "dog fennel" is in full bloom. According to the weather prophets, the first frost is sure to follow within at least two weeks. Numbers of these books have had additional circulation since they were checked out by teachers and used by several pupils in the grade. These statistics do not include of the Mayor and Council of the said City Council of Statesboro, this 8th day of August 1939.

We laid a Flock of Millions on the line! Not a six but an EIGHT for $895. In every 1940 Buick you get the skilled engineering and sturdy quality traditional to Buick - enriched by all the extra values which General Motors science and Buick workmanship can provide. No, you couldn't do what we wanted to do, and do it cheap. You couldn't set out to top the field, focusing on how much you could put in rather than take out - and with accustomed equipment keep costs down. You couldn't micro-balance engines, heavy-y frames and running gear, strengthen bodies, enrich upholstery and fittings, improve performance, better the value per inch, per pound and per dollar - and do it with last year's methods. YOUR NEWSPAPER

... Good light to read it by

Formerly you may have glanced only at the newspaper headlines. Now, with the world at war, you are delving deep into finer print for the details, for fuller interpretation of a fast-changing scene. Keeping the public informed is the newspaper's year 'round job, but in times like these we appreciate and read them more.

Be sure that you have good light for your reading. Give your eyes good working conditions with good light—light that is free from glare, light that is uniform, light that is scientifically correct, in quality as well as quantity. The kind of lighting, in short, that is provided by the New I. E. S. floor or table lamps—especially designed for reading.

"Free Electricity" Will Help

Electricity is now so cheap there is no reason for any home to be without good lighting. In fact, 90,000 Georgia homes can add at least one of the new I. E. S. Lamps—without adding one cent to their monthly electric bills. That is because of the "FREE ELECTRICITY" feature of the new electric rates. But even if you are already using your "FREE ELECTRICITY," the current for an I. E. S. Lamp costs only about a penny a day or less.

Give a thought to your family's eyes—be sure they get good treatment, for they can never be replaced. Ask about I. E. S. Lamps at our store, or buy them from any of our employes.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

"For Instance!"

This handsome lamp, approved for scientific correctness by the Illuminating Engineering Society, can be yours, on terms, for $4.00 down and $1 a month.
