two sides in arithmetic, also. The names are Blue Birds and Red Birds. We don't know who is ahead in arithmetic.
We have a reading chart in the back of our room. Everybody is nearly to the top. We have a border of fruit in our room. It is in the back of the room. We have a border of turkeys also.

TENTH GRADE HOME ECONOMICS
In Home Economics the tenth grade girls have chosen the improvements of the sewing room as their next project. The cabinets have already been painted and we are planning to paint the tables and blackboard. The room already looks much better but we hope to have it looking still better as we complete our unit.

COTTON plays an important part in building CONCRETE ROADS
ABOUT ten million pounds of cotton is used annually by the cement industry for sacking cement. Heavy cotton mats are used now for curing freshly placed concrete, protecting it from the sun while hardening. 1,200,000 sq. yds. of these heavy mats have been used in the last few years. Concrete road construction offers a vast market for your cotton and besides concrete is the real low cost road, superior in durability, safety and economy. U. S. Route 80 through Statesboro needs to be modernized and paved with concrete. PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION Hunt Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

FOURTH GRADE
We are looking forward to Thanksgiving for we know when Thanksgiving comes Christmas is near. We read stories about the Pilgrims. We drew pictures of turkeys. After we thought about it we found we had many things to be thankful for. We are thankful for our parents, homes, food and clothes. We are very thankful our country is not at war.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

We have made the Pilgrims home on the sand table the Pilgrims. We drew pictures of turkeys. After we thought about it we found we had many things to be thankful for. STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS
The Student Council met Monday, November 20. When the by-laws of the council went into effect the results were startling. Members were brought throwing paper on the school before the council to be tried. Throwing paper on the school grounds and in the school building seems to be the rule broken most frequently. New deputies were elected to enforce these by-laws. All new deputies will have to be sworn in to hold office. Several new rules were made concerning the music room.

THE BUSY BEES CLUB
The Busy Bees held their regular club meeting Wednesday, November 15, in the Home Economics room. Misses Margaret Hodges and Ida Nevils entertained with showing the other members how to make little pine straw brushes. Hot chocolate and sweet crackers were served by Misses Minnie Lee McCallard and Ruby Lee Miller and we think everyone enjoyed themselves.

This Week's Sentence Sermon

He that follows the advice of reason has a mind that is elevated above the reach of injury; that sits above the clouds, in a calm and quiet ether, and with a brave indifference hears the rolling thunders grumble and burst under his feet.

HARVEST-HOME FESTIVAL.

Today will see a great crowd of people in Statesboro. They come to participate in the city and county's Harvest Home Festival.

Growth is completed. The fields are at rest and their green is bordered with russet and gold. The apple-trees are laden with fruit worthy of Eden and reminding one of the forfeited home of the fallen race.

And now man comes to celebrate in Festival the results of his year's work. Food for his soul, for his mind, and his heart will be furnished him.

We wish to congratulate those who are responsible for the success of the Festival. Dr. A. J. Mooney, general chairman, Rev. N. H. Williams, the moving spirit of the Festival. Bob Donaldson, who compiled figures showing the progress our city and county has made.

A Timely Prayer

MARK TWAIN-AND WHO SAID OF IT-I have told the whole truth in that, and only dead men can tell the whole truth in this world. It can be published after I am dead.

O Lord, our God, help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells; help us to cover their smiling fields with the pale forms of their patriot dead; help us to drown the thunder of the guns with the cries of the wounded, writhing in pain; help us to lay waste their humble homes with hurricane of fire; help us to wring their hearts' grief; help us to turn them out homeless, with their little children to wander unfriended through wastes of their desolated lands in rags and hunger and thirst, sport of the sun flames of summer and the icy winds of winter, broken in spirit, worn with travel, imploring Thee for the refuge of the grave and denied it-for our sakes, who adore Thee, Lord blast their hopes, blight their lives, protract their bitter pilgrimage, make heavy their steps, water their way with their tears, stain the white snow with blood of their wounded feet: We ask of One who is the spirit of love and who is the ever-faithful refuge and friend of all that are sore and need His aid with humble and contrite hearts. Grant our prayers, O Lord, and Thine shall be the praise and honor and glory now and ever. Amen.

Early Christmas

Tomorrow the two banks here in Statesboro will mail out Christmas Club checks approximating $10,000. This represents regular weekly savings by a large number of people who put the money away for the specific purpose of using it for their 1939 Christmas. Some will use it for other purposes, but it all will be used in Statesboro and Bulloch county.

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER

Today, Thursday, November 30, will be unsettled.

Friday, December 1, will be stormy.

Saturday, December 2, will be windy.

Sunday, December 3, will be the same (Moon in the last quarter).

Monday, December 4, will be windy.

Tuesday, December 5, will be windy.

Wednesday, December 6, will be unsettled.

BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC IS WRONG.

IT'S HARD, THIS sifting in our Chair today. Especially so commonplace column as one on politics and the sanctity of the ballot as we had in our our mind.

FOR IT IS really fall here in Bulloch county today, really fall, with maybe a hint of early winter.

WE TRY CONCENTRATING on such high sounding phrases as the "prerogatives of citizenships and the sacred duty of every voter" and the first thing we know our mind is drifting way off yonder on things in no way connected with politics at all.

"It was Autumn, and incessant Piped the qualls from shocks and sheaves, And, like living coals, the apples Buried among the withering leaves." AND IT'S CANE grinding time in Bulloch. Cane grinding and bird hunting and hog killing time.

CANE GRINDING time with our Briar Patch Philosopher's old mule "Jake" trodding the beaten circle attached to the cane mill sweep... the steady creaking of the slow moving mill... steam from the syrup boiler... neighbors in and out... youngsters yelling around... and yellow jackets hovering over the cane pummings...

HOG KILLING time with hogs hanging high, heads with cobs in their mouths staring at you... faces blackened by smoke over the lard boiler... cleaning the chitlin's and boiling the pig's feet to loosen the hoofs... long snakey sausages running from the spout of the sausage mill... cracklings... hams, backbones...

BIRD HUNTING TIME... cold ground crunching under your feet... old Spot out front covering territory... and the thrill of whirring wings as a covey of quail take off under your gun... THE WOODS THE loveliest we remember them ever being... the nights as clear as crystal and twice as beautiful...

WE WRITE an editorial. Not with our mind like this.

BESIDES WHAT good would anything we have to say do? It's been said before in a million different ways. Why is it that a very fool with a little space to fill up along about election time goes way back to the Revolution and works down trying to get you to remember what the ballot means to our freedom?

IF THIS FALL weather didn't have us and we were not so all-fired lazy, we'd maybe write an editorial this week about how you ought to vote for the man you think best qualified to hold office.

COURSE, YOU can smoke a feller's cigars, take his money, drink his whiskey, and tell him everything you hear is in his favor. But then, when you get in that booth, if you don't think he's qualified, give him hell on the ballot.

ALL THIS WOULD make a good editorial. It's a shame we haven't time to write.

BUT YOU SEE—we have a date to go out and kick some autumn leaves around, for fall is here, with maybe a hint of early winter and our mind is way off yonder somewhere.

CITY ELECTION

In our "IN THE NEWS" column this week we were struck with the political pot five years ago, ten years ago and thirty years ago. Five years ago there was an election for mayor and two councilmen, 48 votes were polled. Ten years ago there was an election for three councilmen without opposition. Thirty years ago 58 votes were polled to elect the mayor and two councilmen.

Saturday will see more than 600 votes polled to elect three councilmen. None of the three present councilmen are seeking re-election which leaves the field wide open. Six Candidates are qualified in the race. Barney Averitt, J. Gilbert Cone, John Everett, Dr. Glenn Jennings, Dr. J. C. Lane and B. B. Morris.

There is keen interest in this race and the citizen of Statesboro will come to the polls Saturday morning and name the ones they think best to serve them. MAY THE BEST MEN WIN.

Barbs Of The Briar Patch Philosopher . . .

Dear Editor:

Some time back you wrote a piece in your paper about rules for hunters. Well now that is all ok but there is something else about hunting that you ought to write about. Now a man go in a store and buys him a gun and some shells. He can get him a dog sommers. But if he ain't got some land somewhere or ain't got a friend with some land or a friend of a friend with some land he just can't go a hunting. But there are some people who don't let little things like that bother them. They just go hunting anyway; without thinking about who the land belongs to.

So why don't you write about hunters who don't own land but have to depend on other people's land for hunting territory. Ask them to respect us farmers and landowners. I saw some rules the other day I am sending to you. I believe if you will print them it will do some good. And if hunters will go by these rules we will all get along better.

1. Respect the property upon which you are hunting just as you would expect anyone to respect the property on your city lot or on your front porch.

2. Get the permission of the owner before hunting on his land. Most of the time this permission will be gladly granted.

3. Climb under, not over fences on the farm. Better still, find the gate.

4. The farm gates are there for a purpose. Do not leave them open. 5. Never cross a planted field. Go around it that leaves the ground.

6. Let your bird go rather than shoot in the direction of livestock. Many cows, horses, mules, pigs and other animals are killed and blinded each year by careless hunters.

7. Do not hunt near a farm house. 8. Be courteous to the farmer and landowner and to all those you meet on your hunt.

9. Be careful of fire. Forest fires kill much game each year.

10. Do not kill covies down to the last bird. A good rule to follow is: Always kill the fifth bird. 11. Do not shoot every bird or animal you see. Kill only game bird and animals in season.

12. If you see violations, report them to the landowner.

Now don't you think them are good rules. If all the hunters would go by them all us who have birds on our farms would be kinda reasonable when they ask us to let them hunt on our land.

Guess I'll be seeing you at the Harvest Home Festival in town Thursday. Me and Ma is planning on going. We want to hear the singing. As I wrote you sometime ago, we both are suckers for good singing and when you get that many singing all at one time and together, dern if I don't want to hear it. I tell Ma that I don't believe it. We have a hard enough time just keeping our congregation together when we sing at church and they ain't more'n 50 to 75 there.

Dorothy Darby Becomes Bride of Buford Knight in Jacksonville Friday

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Darby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whigmore Darby, formerly of Statesboro and granddaughter of Mrs. John Watson of this city, to Buford William Knight of Rome, Ga., was an event of Friday evening in the Riverside Baptist Church in Jacksonville, Fla.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. C. M. Coakson, former pastor of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Herschel W. Ford of the Southside Baptist Church.

The beauty of the church was enhanced by the effective use of candlelight, flowers and greenery. At the head of the aisle and just in front of the wrought iron grille-work were other candles interspersed in a background of greenery.

Smaller standard trees were used to mark the pews. The white flowers, blending with the cathedral tapers, formed a lovely setting for the wedding party.

Mrs. Chesley L. Bowden, organist played a program of nuptial music. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding gown a picturesque Victorian model of ivory faille taffeta. The bodice was made with a sweetheart neckline and a long fitted sleeves puffed at the shoulders.

The bouffant skirt terminated in a gracefully sweeping train. A design of flowers was applied in ivory velvet at the waistline. The same design was repeated in a border around the bottom of the skirt and train. The veil of ivory tulle was fastened to the hair with a cluster of miniature calla lilies arranged high on the head, and her bouquet was of calla lilies. Her only ornament was a diamond and pearl pendant.

The gift of the bride's father to her mother prior to their marriage, Miss Elizabeth Lisle of Wincheschester, Ky., the maid of honor, wore a dress of dusty rose faille taffeta, also Victorian in style. She wore a large bow of contrasting blue velvet in her hair and carried a muff of shaggy white chrysanthemums, edged with delicate pink and silver leaves.

The bridesmaid were Misses Louise Knight, sister of the bridegroom from Rome, Sara Remington, Mary Sue Akin, Gladys Thayer, and Bobbie Smith of this city, and Mrs. Richmond Cecil Ingram Jr. of Jacksonville. Their hyacinth blue faille taffeta dresses were made on the same lines as the maid of honor's dress and they carried similar bouquets. The ribbon bows in their hair were in dusty rose velvet.

Miss Lucy Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Watson, cousin of the bride acted as a junior bridesmaid wearing a quaint frock of ivory faille taffeta. Her dress was of blue ribbon and her flowers in the same motif as that of the bridesmaids.

Dr. James Edgar Knight of Rome was his brother's best man. The ushers were Hoyt Sessions of Jackson, Miss., Max Sessions of Winston-Salem, N. C. and the bride's two brothers, Jack Watson, Darby and Robert Fred Darby.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the brides parents in Villa Alexandria for the wedding party, relatives and out-of-town guests. White flowers were used in the rooms in which the guests assembled and the mantel was banked with chrysanthemums.

The bride's table was overlaid with a point de enise cloth. At one end was an arrangement of calla and valley lilies on a silver tray from which trailed calla lilies to the other end of the table where a handsome two tiered cake embossed with calla and valley lilies rested on a satin base with a white tulle ruffle.

Mrs. J. H. Watson of Jacksonville and Mrs. Devane Watson of Statesboro met the guests as they arrived. Statesboro girls assisting in serving were Sara Alice Bradley and Dorothy Remington.

Mrs. Darby wore for the occasion a gown of pale pink with bodice of silver lame. Three Hadley girls were worn as a shoulder spray.

Mrs. J. H. Watson, grandmother of the bride wore a hand-

TO THE CITIZENRY OF STATESBORO:

I hope to see you before the election of councilmen Saturday, but in case I should miss seeing you, I want you to know that I have, and always had, Statesboro's best interest at heart, and that your interest in our city is my interest.

I had my best lesson, on public needs, the year I came to locate here. I opened office here several months before my family came, during this time, my child was taken sick, and as a doctor was called from Statesboro, and it took him nearly a half a day to get to my patient in Coopersville, over from Dover. He had to drive over bad roads to the Ogeechee River. There was no bridge, he had to walk the trestle, and some one met him on the other side, and from there they hurriedly carried him to walk the trestle back to the Bulloch side, and again over those terrible roads to Statesboro. Before this I was blind to public needs. The thought came to my mind, who should we wait until things happen before we see them? that the public should have for its best good? I realized then and there, that I was not going through life blind to public needs, and that I would contribute my share to make the town in which I had just located, a better place in which to live.

The first thing that I did was to talk the matter of bridges over with the business men of Statesboro, and the public spirited citizens. They all agree with me, or at least a majority, and we took the bridge project up with the road commissioners, and to make the story short, we soon had a bridge at Dover, and one opened up to the public at Ogeechee crossing and repairs made on the bridge at Rockyford.

If I am honored by you, to the membership of our city's council, I shall strive to honorably fill the position. I am not unmindful of the important needs of our city, I wish to make this mention, even though I feel that you know it, that I love children, and that I am interested in the best welfare of our young people—their health, their education, and for the best environment for our future citizens. Statesboro High holds much sentiment for me, due to the fact, that I finished there, and both of my sons, from start to finish.

To The People of Bulloch County

The date of the Primary is so near at hand that I shall not be able to see every voter in person. I am, therefore, making this appeal to you through the papers.

I have been Sheriff since January 1,
1937, and I am now serving my First Term. I respectfully invite your consideration of my record and management of the office.

Before my election as Sheriff, I served several years as Deputy Sheriff thereby gaining valuable experience which means much to the people and to me in carrying on the work in this office.

I am now running for election for a second term which I hope the people will consider as an endorsement term for me, such having been customary, with few exceptions, in the past, in reference to officers in this County.

I hope to serve you now and in the future promptly, courteously, and effectually in the Sheriff's office.

This November 28, 1939.

Respectfully,

L. M. Mallard

Since I will be unable to see each voter personally, I want to take this method of advising that I am a Candidate for City Council in the election to be held on Saturday, December 2nd.

If elected, I expect to try to discharge the duties of a Councilman to the very best of my ability for the best interest of the public as a whole.

If you think that I am capable of handling these duties for you, your vote and influence will be appreciated.

Respectfully, J. B. (Barney) Averitt.

No Need for Danger Signs on A MODERN CONCRETE ROAD

Concrete pavements, built to the standards developed by highway engineers of this state, are the last word in safety. Yet they actually cost the public less than so-called "cheap" pavements. Concrete is safe because it provides a better "track" for vehicles. From your own experience you know that its even, gritty surface reduces skidding, wet weather or dry. Freedom from bumps, ruts and chuckholes gives you better control at the wheel. Concrete's light gray color and high reflection factor help you see better at night. Yet, with all these advantages, concrete is actually the cheapest road to have. First, because it costs less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity. Second, because concrete costs less to maintain — saves hundreds of dollars per mile, every year, compared with less enduring surfaces.

Urge public officials to build your roads with safe and saving concrete. U. S. Route 80 through Statesboro needs to be modernized and paved with concrete.
