BULLOCH FARMERS FIGHTING THE BOLL WEEVIL

Bulloch county cotton farmers are taking advantage of the dry weather to fight the boll weevil. They have infested boll weevils. It looks like some 75 per cent. of the farmers are mopping their cotton with a mixture of 1 per cent. calcium arsenate, 1 gallon of water and 1 gallon of molasses. Small children may be seen in practically all of the cotton fields with a mop made of sacks on the end of a stick.

The late summer rains in 1940 stimulated new growth in cotton. The leaf worm did not affect the cotton as usual. A mild winter coupled with these two factors caused the boll weevil infestation to be considerably heavier than usual at this season. Several fields are now being dusted, particularly the Sea Island cotton.

H. R. Christian Named On Secretary Association Board

H. R. Christian, secretary of the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce, was elected to the board of directors of the Georgia Commercial Secretaries' association, convention at Albany last week.

Mr. Christian represented the local organization at the convention held at Albany last week. Other officers elected were Mrs. Henrietta Carlisle, of Griffin, president; Roy Ulrich, vice-president; Henry W. Fyne, of Rome, secretary-treasurer; and the following board of directors: M. Simmons, of Dublin; C. Dewey Norwood, of Thomasville; A. E. Runnels, of Albany; Christy Summers, of Valdosta; and H. R. Christian, of Statesboro. Tickets may be secured from Jean Smith or Bobbie Smith.

Produce Market Not To Open Here This Season

The Statesboro Produce Market will not be open for this season. Albert Green, general chairman for the market, advised Mr. Green stated that it was due to adverse weather conditions that the quantity of truck crops would not permit opening a new market. Physical materials and arrangements for marketing agencies had been arranged for. Mr. Green stated that these factors will be available for next season if farmers growing truck crops wanted the market.

Boost Statesboro and Bulloch County

At a meeting held in Reidsville Thursday night of last week, Boy Scout executives of this area changed the name from Chatham Area Council to the Coastal Empire Council.

Attending the meeting from the Bulloch district were Chairman H. R. Christian, Harry Dodd, Byron Dyer, Paul Franklin, Jr., and Leodel Coleman.

Jack Jones, of Savannah, chairman of the Coastal Empire Council, presided at the meeting of more than thirty council members from this section.

District chairman made reports and plans were discussed for the presentation of a Boy Scout Circuit some time in the future.

Mr. Christian, in his report, stated that the Bulloch district had recently reorganized and that plans are now going forward for the promotion of the Boy Scout movement in the county. He offered that the district had recently reorganized and that plans are now going forward for the promotion of the Boy Scout movement in the county.

The members of the recently organized district committee are: H. R. Christian, chairman; Everett Williams, vice-chairman; Byron Dyer, commissioner; C. D. DeLoach, finance; Leodel Coleman, organization; Dr. C. M. Coalsen, advancement; Z. S. Henderson, leadership training; Paul Franklin, Jr., camping activity; and Harry Dodd, health and safety.

The Lions club is sponsor of the Boy Scout movement in this district.

Mr. Lanier, in announcing the drive, points out that the Bulloch County Hospital Service, Inc. offers a plan that enables one to pay one's hospital bills.

Mr. Lanier pointed out that the Bulloch county home demonstration council will be held Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The Bulloch county home demonstration council will be held Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Each member, when he joins, receives an identification card with membership with instructions printed on it for the doctor and the hospital. Your doctor determines when you have to enter the hospital. You present your identification card. The hospital will send the bill to the Bulloch County Hospital Service, Inc. for services covered by your membership. No money, no fuss, no red tape.

Mr. Lanier pointed out that the cost of the membership is less than two and one-quarter cents a day, and that it includes twenty-one days hospital care each year for each person insured, meals and dietary service, general nursing care, use of operating room, maternity care after the contract has been in force for twelve months, ordinary drugs and dressings, routine laboratory service, ordinary X-ray, out-of-city emergency, accident and other care in other than member hospitals.

The officers are Zach S. Henderson, president; Harry S. Aiken, secretary-treasurer; Directors: Harry Aiken, Hoke Brunson, C. M. Desler, A. S. Henderson, J. L. Johnson, Harry Knight, Allen Lanier, J. Edgar Parrish, Delmas Rushing, and Allen Lanier, executive director.

Army's Newest Bomber Comes Out of the Clouds

DEARBORN, Mich.—This big aerial dreadnaught coming out of the clouds for a landing at Ford Airport is the new Consolidated B-24. It is regarded by the U.S. Army as the world's most formidable bomber. The Ford Motor Company, under government contract to produce sub-assemblies and parts for five complete B-24 bombers a day, is erecting an $18,000,000 plant for the job, 25 miles from here.

Henry Ford examined this huge bomber when it visited Dearborn recently. It weighs 36,000 pounds and carries four tons of bombs at a speed of 300 miles an hour. The ship has a cruising range of 1,600 miles.

The close-up photo (right) of one of the plane's main landing struts indicates its great size. This gear which folds into the wing is one of the intricate sub-assembly projects Ford will handle.

J. W. Chester Claims First Cotton Boll Of 1941 Season

Last week we reported what was believed to be the first cotton bloom in Bulloch county. It was produced by Homer Smith on the Cain farm, two and one-half miles south of Statesboro.

This week we have what is believed to be the first cotton boll. It was brought in Monday morning by John Wesley Chester and was produced on the old Cain farm operated by S. Edwin Grover. The stem contained two bolls, each about one-half inch in diameter.

Dr. R. L. Cone, charged with the administration of the department of agriculture's crop loan programs, has announced that producers will be paid "any amounts by which the redemption cost of their notes exceeds their principal, interest and carrying charges on the date of the cotton at the time." Fair value would be determined by the secretary of agriculture on the basis of the then prevailing average market prices for different grades of cotton, staple lengths and locations. This should net producers a minimum of 13.5 cents a pound, less interest and carrying charges.

With this assurance from the CCC, T. R. Bredford, Georgia administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, said this week, "there is no need for any farmer to sell his equities in a Dublin last year."

All the home demonstration clubs in the county are included in the work Miss Spears is doing.

Dr. Pittman Says He Will Answer All Questions Asked

"I will answer any questions that the board of regents wish to ask me," Dr. Marvin S. Pittman told The Herald Tuesday morning.

Dr. Pittman stated that he will be present at the public hearing to be held in Atlanta Monday morning of next week before the board of regents to answer any questions arising from the charges made by Gov. Eugene Talmadge precipitating in the board of regents' refusal to reappoint Dr. Pittman president of the Georgia Teachers college.

It was learned here Tuesday morning that motorcade which is expected to be made up of more than one hundred persons from the section will leave the courthouse square Monday morning about 5 o'clock to go to Atlanta to attend the hearing. The meeting is scheduled for 10 o'clock at the state capitol.

It is said that the motorcade will be made up of representatives of the chamber of commerce, the Rotary club

A Sentence Sermon

In vain do science and philosophy pose as the arbiters of the human mind, of which they are in fact only the servants. Religion has provided a conception of life, and science travels in the beaten path. Religion reveals the meaning of life, and science only applies this meaning to the course of circumstances.—Tolstol.

For Our Young People

LAST THURSDAY night five men from Statesboro drove to Reidsville, Georgia, and met with thirty other men from a number of counties in the Coastal Empire including one county in South Carolina. These men met there prompted by a single idea—that of giving purpose to a wholesome living for the boys in communities in this area—the Boy Scout movement.

Seated around a long table they planned the summer camp at which Boy Scouts receive the tops in training; they planned a Coastal Empire Boy Scout Circuit, with every troop in every district in the area taking part; they took of plans for advancement, of aims, ideals, all with one goal and that of making our youth of today the leaders of tomorrow.

Men were at that meeting who had never been given the advantages of scouting, since their boyhood anti-dated the Boy Scout movement. They were the most enthusiastic in their participation in the plans.

Statesboro and Bulloch County have been indifferent to the Boy Scout movement over a great many years. Troops have been organized and died because of lack of enthusiastic leadership and community interest. The boys want scouting. This is proven by the fact that more than sixty kids are now following one scoutmaster because no more scoutmasters can be found who will give the time. (The scout organization allows only thirty-two boys to a troop, under one leader.)

The Bulloch County district has recently undergone a reorganization under the chairmanship of Howard Christian. He has succeeded in organizing what can become an excellent district committee to promote scouting in this district.

But a committee's success depends on community interest. Let's get in and push the committee and its work among our boys. Let's show them that we can do that much for the county's youth.

What It Costs

EVERY DAY we pick up a newspaper and see where new defense contracts are let. Every day we read where so many billions of dollars in defense contracts are being held up by strikes and we ask ourselves, "What does it cost?" Last week the Office of Emergency Management released a bulletin which gives an inkling as to what our national defense is costing us.

We don't have to be told that armament for defense costs money—lots of it! The total program by mid-May called for expenditures of approximately forty billion dollars (U. S. and British orders), almost all of it in 1941 and 1942. That is a big bunch of money—$310 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Yet we are told that even this will not be enough. The security and freedom of America cannot be measured in billions of dollars.

There are three major steps in the translation of the taxpayer's dollar into weapons of war. Congress appropriates it. The Army and Navy, with the advice of civilian defense agencies, award contracts. And the Treasury pays the bill. Appropriations and contract authorizations amounted to $7.3 billion dollars on May 17. British orders, which also are being filled by American industry, add another 3.7 billions. An idea of how the 37.3 billion dollars will be

Table with 2 columns: Billions of Dollars, Items. Includes Airplanes and accessories (6.5), Ordnance (guns, power, etc) (7.2), Ships, motor and rail equipment (8.8), New industrial facilities (3.8), Military posts, depots, fortifications and defense housing (3.3), Other Army and Navy equipment (1.8), Miscellaneous (pay, food, reserve materials, etc) (5.9).

We ask ourselves, "What makes a defense program so expensive?" A 35,000-ton battleship, such as the recently launched U.S.S. NORTH CAROLINA, costs 70 million dollars. It takes 50 million to build an aircraft carrier, 20 to 30 million for a cruiser, 8 million for a destroyer, and 6 millions for a submarine.

And even after these wartime fortresses are built they are expensive to maintain. Aircraft is not so expensive, but it takes more planes than ships to arm the United States. Yet a four-engine bomber, complete with spare parts, costs close to half a million.

Tanks are less expensive, but the prices are many times the cost of the family auto. The Army pays, from $27,000 for a light tank to $67,000 for a medium tank and $114,000 for a heavy tank, not including the cost of the guns.

Out of the 37.3 billions, the Army will get 13.1, the Navy 13.1 and Lease-Lend 7. Other United States defense agencies will share 2.3 billion, while Government lending agencies will distribute 1.8 billions. Contract awards on May 1 amounted to 15.2 billions. The Army and Navy accounted for 13.6 billions. Other defense agencies for 1.6 billions. British orders of 3.7 billions brought total orders to 18.9 billions. Cash payments amounted to only 5.1 billion dollars on the same date.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Naval ships ($621,000,000), Aircraft ($65,000,000), Ordnance ($51,000,000), TOTAL ($1,727,000,000), Stations, bases, fortifications, etc. ($1,104,000,000), Industrial facilities ($305,000,000), Other materials, equipment and construction ($1,100,000,000), Payrolls ($84,000,000), TOTAL ($3,373,000,000), GRAND TOTAL ($3,100,000,000).

We, too, wake up in the middle of the night with these figures buzzing around in our head and wonder where it is all leading us. Note: Here is how 40 billion dollars looks written out in figures—$40,000,000,000.00.

A Bride's Prayer

RECENTLY Dr. Kyle Yates concluded the third series of protracted meetings at Druid Hills Church in Atlanta. One evening he preached on "The Sanctity of Marriage," in the course of which he read a prayer composed by a young woman on her wedding day.

Copies of the prayer were requested and on the following night were distributed at the doors of the meeting house. Believing that many of our young people readers will be pleased with it, we are happy to publish it herewith: "O Father, my heart is filled with a happiness so wonderful that I am almost afraid. This is my wedding day, and I pray that the beautiful joy of the morning may never grow dim. Father, may its memories become more precious and tender with each passing anniversary. Thou hast sent me one who seems altogether worthy of my deepest regards. Grant unto me the power to keep him ever true and loving as now. May I prove a true helpmate, a sweetheart, a friend, among all the temptations that beset the impulsive hearts of men. Grant me the skill to make the home the best-loved place of all. Help me to make its lights shine farther than any glow that might dim its radiance. Let me, I pray Thee, meet the little misunderstandings and cares of our new life bravely. Be with me as I start on my mission of womanhood, and stay with me, my path from failure. All the way, walk Thou with me, even unto the end of the journey. O Father, bless our wedding day. Sanctify my motherhood, for Thou seemest fit to grant me that privilege. And when our youthful dreams are realized, let the ripening years hallow our companionship. And so, may we walk hand in hand down the highway of life, even to the 'Sunset and Evening Star.' And this I ask in the Name of Jesus and for His sake. Amen."—Exchange.

Summer Memo

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

Table with 3 columns: 1941, JUNE, 1941. Shows dates from 1 to 30.

We haven't found our thermometer yet. But we can tell it's hot without looking at it. So we'll just forget it. We like the way Cecil Anderson cooks that straw hat over on the side of his head. If the mulligatawny ever catch hold of you go and talk with Cecil for a while—he's a good cook and you'll save a doctor's fee.

Recently we went a-visitng. Our advertising director, Jim, and we drifted all the way down to the publisher to visit the editors and publishers of the Quitman Free Press. Mrs. Edna Cain Daniel and Mrs. Betty Williams Powers. Grand folks, living in a great town. We loved the wide double-lane streets in Quitman with parks down the center running through the business section of the town. Trees and flowers—growing at random and in formal gardens. We liked the county for putting on their court house "REBUILT IN 1892," and for painting it white a few years ago. Looks more becoming to a town to have a white court house than the conventional redbrick affairs we see in most towns. We loved the swimming pool in which we went washing twice in fifteen hours. Except that it would have been childish we would have stayed in the whole twenty-four hours we were there—for we know that we wouldn't get to go in swimming when we got back home.

A Farmer Says To a City Dude

Along about the last of May the farmer's grief has gone away. And after that it's rest and fun. Because corn plantin's all been done!—New York Register. Those city dudes who write farm verse. Should take a ride inside a hearse! I bet that city guy don't know a Hampshire barrow from a crow! He never plowed a field of corn. Beginning with the sun at morning. He never shocked a field of oats. Or fed the steers or colts or shoats. He never dug post-holes all day. When Sol just shooting heat his way. He never combined wheat or rye. When temperature was super-hot. He never worked up on the stack. A-forkin' chaffed oats straw back. He never worked a single day. Up in the mow a-squibin' hay. He never shoveled wheat up in an elevated granary bin. He never pushed a scythe, im-mense. A-movin' weeds along the fence. He never ran a small-grain binder. A cultivator or a spreader. He never rose at 3 a.m. To drive the horses from the corn. To never even hood tomatoes. Or built a bridge, or bugged potatoes. He never walked behind a plow.

He never spent a lot of time A-sprinkin' phosphorus or lime; He never spent a day or so A-walkin' corn fields, row by row, And droppin' corn where corn was not. For squirrels the other corn had got; He never trimmed hedge with a knife, Or cooked for seven when his wife Was filled to town to help Aunt Sue. Who had a slight attack of flu. In fact, this city dude, I bet, Had his first farm to visit yet; And he would need help from his mater To drive the ducks down to the water! E. S. W., Pub. Aux.

Family Health Chat

By Dr. O. F. WHITMAN Selective Service Rejections For Physical Reasons. High in Georgia. Brig-Gen Sion B. Hawkins, state director of Selective Service, said last week that the number of Selective Service rejections for physical reason in the state of Georgia constitute a challenge to public and private health agencies and also to the public at large. Referring to a statement of Brig-Gen Lewis B. Hershey, deputy director of Selective Service, that the general physical condition of the country's youth, as revealed by Selective Service tests, is something of which "we nationally should be through ashamed," State Director Hawkins pointed out that the national condition is reflected to a certain extent in every state, and he emphasized the need for vigorous action by all citizens to improve the general health.

Director Hawkins, using the nation at large as an example, pointed out that out of one million Selective Service registrants who have been given physical examination, 380,000 have been found unfit for general military service, or considerably more than one-third. "Looking into the cause of the rejections," Director Hawkins said, "we find that nutritional deficiencies are directly or indirectly responsible for one-third of the rejections. This is a condition that is dangerous and it calls for action—concerted action, immediate action, vigorous action."

In Georgia out of approximately 25,000 men physically examined by local board physicians and about 10,000 men examined at army induction stations, Director Hawkins reported that only 46.5 per cent have passed both of these examinations.

Director Hawkins also pointed out that the physical condition of local board doctors are fit for military service and are placed in Class I-B, while the other half are physically unfit for military service and are placed in Class IV-F. This is also the average for the country as a whole. "That means," he added, "that we are confronted with the necessity for rehabilitation in cases where it is possible to better physical condition. And we should strive to find a place in the national defense picture for those with uncorrectable disabilities."

Director Hawkins subdivided the correctable disability group into: (1) Those who will attempt to correct their disabilities without urging; (2) those who will be content to remain as they are.

He declared he believed the responsibility for rehabilitating those in the last group should be a direct responsibility of the government. "The smaller the income the more important it is to select nutritive food at a minimum cost. When low income families spend large amounts for food, they do so at the expense of other items and when most of the food supply is purchased diets seldom include as much of the protective foods as when a well-planned food production and conservation program was in operation.

"The larger the family the more necessary it becomes to produce and conserve an adequate food supply for the farm home. Speaking in general terms, a dollar's worth of home produced and home conserved food yields a higher nutritive return than a dollar spent to purchase this food.

"Knowledge of proper food selection is essential. Many families spend enough to buy an adequate diet but have too little knowledge of its essential. The minimum amount of the importance of good nutrition to select foods that are nutritional and high in vitamins.

"To enable the farm family to have plenty of foods during the non-producing season, a food preparation budget has been prepared. Here is the minimum amount of canned food recommended for one person: Tomatoes, 20 quarts; other vegetables, 40 quarts; fruits, 25 quarts, and meats, 25 quarts. To determine the budget requirements for the entire family, multiply this amount by the number in the family. Also it might be well to can a few extra jars for company, plus some pickles, jams, jellies, preserves and marmalades."

Home gardening and canning is something more than a hobby for the women and children in the family. It is actually one of the chief crops on the farm, an integral part of the farm and home plan, says Home Demonstration Agent Miss Irma Spears. "It is very imperative that fam-

Just give it Air - and it'll give you Action

MAYBE you didn't know that an efficient gas mixture for your car has about 9,000 parts of air by volume for every one part of gasoline.

That being so, you can see how important air-handling capacity is to your power plant.

Take this stunning Buick FIREBALL straight-eight, with Compound Carburetion! stepping up its horsepower.

Ordinarily, this engine purrs along sweetly with only one of its two carburetors functioning.

But step down on the gas treacle and what happens? A second carburetor opens up. Doubles the air-handling capacity. Steps up power, lift, life, action. You

For that matter—why get less room, less style, less comfort, less value than Buick offers at such little prices? See your nearest Buick dealer now—and at least get the delivered figures.

$930 for the Business Coupe (illustrated above) including Compound Carburetion, delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

AN IDEAL FARM... An ideal farm is one where a person can hear the lullaby of a cheery whistle; chatter of birds glancing insects from the crops; rattle of motors in the trees; coo of doves; 'grumph' of bullfrogs; whirr of a fishline when a fish strikes; and the bay of dogs treating a possum or coon—all contributing a sense of well being, of food, feed, and pleasure at hand.

FIREFSTONE TIRES WIN AGAIN IN 500-MILE INDIANAPOLIS RACE... MAURI ROSE, Co-Winner With Paul Davis in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race May 30th, Averaged 115.17 Miles per Hour on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires Without a Tire Change or Tire Trouble of Any Kind.

FLASHING down the straightaways at speeds as high as 160 miles per hour, Mauri Rose streaked to victory in the 1941 Indianapolis Sweepstakes without a tire change. 500 miles of grinding, pounding, torturing speed — and not one tire failed! Here's proof of safety — proof of blizzard protection — proof of endurance — proof of superiority backed not merely by claims, but by PERFORMANCE! For 22 consecutive years all the winning drivers in this great classic of speed and endurance have driven to victory on Firestone Tires. Why? Because race drivers know that their very lives depend upon the safety of their tires. They have made it their business to know how tires are built. And they know that the patented construction features found only in Firestone Tires provide the extra strength and durability necessary to safety and victory!

The same super-safety and dependability that are built into Firestone Tires for the speedway are also built into the new Safi-Sured Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tires for the highway. Both are Safi-Sured against blowouts by the patented Safi-Lock Gum-Dipped cord body. Both are Safi-Sured for longer wear by the exclusive new Viamic rubber compound. Profit by the experience of famous race drivers. Equip your car today with a set of these new Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tires — the world's first and only tires that are Safi-Sured.
