Rotarians Tell Club Why They Are Thankful

Members of the Statesboro Rotary club this week heard seven Rotarians give reasons why they are thankful this Thanksgiving. The Thanksgiving dinner was in charge of Dr. Marvis Pittman. Dr. Pittman presented seven Rotarians who made brief statements of why they were thankful this year.

The first called upon was Everett Williams who expressed his thankfulness for the friends who come in his place to read the magazines and fannies. "It makes us appreciate children more and more; it brings us in closer contact with them," Mr. Williams said. He pointed out that he is thankful for the confidence that people have in all druggists. "I am thankful for the part we play in relieving people of their suffering."

A. B. McDougald, when called upon, said: "I am thankful for the non-rattling of gasoline that we in America have. It is a fact that the price is no higher than it is when I think of people in England paying as high as 45 cents a gallon. I am thankful that oil companies can give us high-grade gasoline to match the new cars that are being sold today. . . . I am thankful that I live in a place like the United States. Dr. Hitchcock's All-Vegetable Laxative Candy is an intestinal tonic-laxative—actually tones the bowels. It helps relieve that sluggish feeling. This is as directed on label. 15 doses for only 10 cents. Large family size 25 cents.

J. Mickel, secretary, Laymen's Missionary movement, Chicago, says of Dr. Smith, "No one has ever spoken under our auspices throughout the thirty years in which I have been identified with the laymen's missionary movement, who has been more effective in enlisting the interest of men in missions."

W.P.A. Spends $680,200 In Bulloch County Since 1935

Services and facilities that have benefitted every person in Bulloch county have resulted from a program of public improvements conducted during the past six years by local government officials in co-operation with the W.P.A., according to a report released today by Harry E. Harman, Jr., Georgia W.P.A. administrator.

This report shows the work in Bulloch county has consisted of a large amount of construction, such as streets, roads, schools, and similar facilities. In addition, many contributions have been made to the health and welfare of citizens generally, and particularly to those in the lower income brackets.

"This co-operative program has been one of the largest factors in the well-being of the county," Mr. Harman said. "It has been a program of infinite variety, designed primarily to give employment to jobless people, but the benefits generally, and particularly to those in the lower income brackets."

A total of $680,200 has been spent on W.P.A. projects and similar work since the program began. Of this amount, about 30 per cent. came from local public funds in the form of sponsor contributions. The remainder was federal allotments brought into the county by way of payment for materials. This has formed an important part of the local purchasing power for the past six years, providing for merchants, property owners, doctors and others in payment for needed services.

It is impossible to list all the accomplishments of the program, but a selected list of major results follows, including work done from July 1, 1935, through June 30, 1941.

Rotarians Tell Club Why They Are Thankful

Members of the Statesboro Rotary club this week heard seven Rotarians give reasons why they are thankful this Thanksgiving. The Thanksgiving dinner was in charge of Dr. Marvis

Entered as second-class matter, July 16, 1927, at the post office at Statesboro, Georgia, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

SENTENCE SERMON

How different the peace of God from that of the world! It calms the passions, preserves the purity of conscience, is inseparable from righteousness, unites us to God and strengthens us against temptations.

CHRISTMAS SEAL TIME

CHRISTMAS SEAL time is almost here. Everyone is familiar with the tiny gum seals we put on our mail around Christmas time—Christmas Seals for aiding the fight against tuberculosis.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

It is a fight in which we believe with all our hearts and the full force of our energies. It must be waged against because of the ignorance of those who are not aware of its dangers. It is always a fight against the poverty of those who are financially unable to care for themselves.

Real progress has been made in this fight. We know tuberculosis now as a curable disease. And this progress ought to be a challenge to increased efforts.

The Christmas Seal sale is a drive for funds to carry on this fight. It is an investment in a genuine form of "life-insurance." As the public comes to the full realization of this, there should be an increased appreciation of the value of the work, a rapid acceleration in the response to the Christmas Seal sale—as an investment in public and personal health.

WHAT GOES ON?

EVERY STRAIGHT-THINKING person in the state of Georgia must have wondered "what goes on?" when they read last week that seven members of the State Board of Regents rushed out to the Atlanta Airport at 1:30 o'clock in the morning to "snatch pajama-clad L. W. (Chip) Robert from a Mexico-bound sleeper plane and obtain his vote for a plan designed to save the accredited standing of the University of Georgia."

The seven members had already met and approved a resolution directing Chancellor S. V. Sanford regarding the election or discharge of personnel. The resolution when made public revealed that the chancellor and college presidents were authorized to offer re-employment to the discharged personnel.

And then Governor Talmadge issued an executive order declaring the meeting, at which the resolution was approved, "void" on the grounds that the meeting did not have a quorum.

There are sixteen members on the State Board of Regents, including the Governor of the state, and only eight of them attended a meeting at which the future of the educational system of Georgia was partly determined.

Here the people of Georgia find the future of their University System clouded and several men, in whose hands that future rests, find it impossible or inconvenient to accept the responsibility of attending a meeting at which an attempt is made to remove that cloud. Only eight of sixteen, and one of those eight only under extreme circumstances, felt the responsibility keen enough to be present. The others, well, who knows? Man has not yet learned to read other men's minds. But it's a sad state.

MISS COPE POINTED out that the more intelligent a person is the better he understands modern art.

AND NOW THE Statesboro High school is celebrating Home-coming. Today is the first Home-coming ever held at the home of the Blue Devils.

WE SAW SOME MODERN art Thursday afternoon of last week at the Woman's club. It was an exhibit of modern paintings by members of the Art class at the college.

WE LOOKED AT some of the paintings and we don't know. Reckon we just are not intelligent for we couldn't get it. Miss Ruth Cone, a student who had several paintings on exhibit, explained that

The cadet receives his first taste of flying after dark at basic school. He has had ten weeks flying when he reaches Basic, and after an additional 25 nettes or redheads—according to the recent post-war American sailors' pay is said to be the highest in the world.

He finds a new and strange world high above the deep shadows and flickering lights of the earth. The familiar horizon on which he has always depended for position is now gone. In its stead are his instruments cold and accurate before him under the instrument panel light. Also helpful are the red and green "position lights," which mark his wing tips.

Because of lack of perspective, he tends to over-

FAMILY Health Chat

Several days' rest in bed is advised for cold sufferers in the recent bulletin issued by the State Department of Public Health.

At the first signs of a cold, the Georgia public health bulletin urges immediate rest in bed, plenty of water, fruit juices, and a light diet of simple, nourishing foods.

If cold symptoms are severe or persist after several days' rest in bed, the bulletin suggests that a physician be consulted. This advice is of particular importance, because an influenza epidemic has been predicted for the coming winter.

To avoid catching a cold, the bulletin's advice is simple. Do not become unduly fatigued and stay away from persons who have a cold. Sufficient sleep, together with wholesome, protective foods are also necessary.

People with sufficient intake of vitamin A have less severe colds of shorter duration, according to the public health bulletin. Milk, eggs, fruits, green and yellow vegetables are listed as sources of the protective vitamins.

Foods who have recurrent colds are also urged to seek the advice of a physician. The bulletin suggests that a physician be consulted for the treatment of fish liver oils and concentrated vitamin supplements.

Colds are charged with the responsibility for more sickness and a greater loss of time from work or school than any other ailment, according to the Georgia public health bulletin.

In the hospital corps, an apprentice earns $36 a month, and if he devotes his efforts toward promotion his rating is advanced. After eight months he becomes a hospital apprentice, first-class, at $54 a month, and of course his food, clothing and housing are supplied free by the navy.

THINGS I NEVER KNEW TIL NOW ABOUT THE NAVY (Written in the USS NAVY Column, Some of the Sea.)

That no matter what you think about the superior officer who makes a command at you—you will never be troubled if you really understand the most important word in any tar's dictionary, to-wit: "Obedience."

Every officer or enlisted man has on the tip of his fangs, "Grow up, you may—but go you must!"

The navy never calls newcomers "rookies." They are called "Newbies."

The navy has fitted its long famous recruiting poster slogan, "Join the Navy and Serve Your Country!"

The reason they call a battleship "she": Because she carries a lot of paint to keep her appearance, she always has a crew of sailors around her, and she makes a heluva lotta noise in arguments.

Secretary of the Navy Knox, the 67-year-old first Seadog to inspect a submarine while it was submerged.

Our sailors like their women tall and willowy. They are not fun whether they are blondes, brunettes or redheads—according to the recent post-war American sailors' pay is said to be the highest in the world.

Some have heard that Brazer's flies are paid taller wages than any navy's. The navy code books are bound in lead covers so that in event of capture by the enemy they will be too heavy to toss overboard and sunk.

Sailors call naval reserve officers "matelmen" because "they have silver in their hair, gold on their sleeves and lead in their pants!" (Who, me?)

There are sixteen American Indians in the U. S. navy. The reason the navy is reluctant about accepting draftees is that it takes more than a year, sometimes two, to train landlubbers for naval warfare.

A recruit is given a outfit free. It costs the navy $118. After that outfit wears out, the sailor has to pay. The legend that sailors pay from 5 to 8 cents per pack for ciggies is true only when their ship is on the seas.

The over-age destroyers we gave England had the modern bunks instead of the old-fashioned hammocks. But the British put back the hammocks because the bunks made them seasick!

Navy Men Get Best Medical Care Available

Some mention has been made in recent weeks of the free medical and surgical care that young men receive in the U. S. Navy and Naval Reserve, but not enough, according to Dr. O. F. Whitman, of the Bulloch county department of health.

"The medical attention the men of the U. S. navy get is without doubt the world's finest," said Dr. Whitman. "I believe this should be re-examined by the State Department of Health, and its parents of prospective recruits will know that their sons' health will be in excellent hands."

"After recruits have received their physical examination following enlistment and are sent to one of the four navy training stations, they are re-examined by medical officers at regular intervals. The first signs of illness or disease are detected by this method. On board ship, sick call is held twice daily and if a man is not feeling well, he can see the doctors at these times. Of course, in case of sudden illness, he can call on the doctors at any time—day or night.

"Health is of prime importance to the navy," added Dr. Whitman. "The naval hospitals maintained ashore have the finest equipment available. All ships have modern medical departments and the USS Relief, the navy hospital ship, is fully staffed with doctors, surgeons and nurses and so finely equipped."

AGENTS SAYS LABELS SERVE AS GUIDE IN BUYING VEGETABLES

"Canned food labeled according to quality makes the food budget problem easier," Miss Irma Spears, county home demonstration agent, reminds home-makers.

"Cans without grade labels, particularly tin cans, may hide either good or poor quality. They hinder the shopper who tries to select the quality she needs, and for which she is willing to pay. Home-makers who have given serious thought to food buying realize that a lower quality, provided it is wholesome, is often sufficient good."

"Perfection in size, shape, and color in canned fruit or vegetables makes a great difference when appearance counts most. But, perfection in these qualities makes little difference if the product is mislabeled, or combined thoroughly with another food in the preparation of appetizing and healthful dishes. Buying lower quality for such use means a saving in money."

"Buying a quality suitable for its purpose, however, is difficult without grade labels. Problems arising from the use of so many different types of labels, with lack of uniformity, have brought about a keen interest in government grade labeling based on quality standards developed by the agricultural marketing service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture."

"Labels, according to these marketing experts, should carry a concise statement of quality in such simple terms as 'Grade A,' 'Grade B' or 'Grade C,' and also further descriptive information, pertaining, for instance, to the form of the product—whether whole, slices or pieces, the number of servings, and the sweetness of the syrup on fruit."

"This year, many more canners and distributors are using the

TWO QUESTIONS Question: What are production goals? Answer: Production goals are the suggested minimum increase which farmers need to make in food production in 1942.

Question: How will farmers be able to show what contributing they can make toward increasing food production in 1942? Answer: Every farmer in the county will be interviewed and given an opportunity to sign a statement showing what he intends to produce in 1942.

1941 YEARBOOK "Climate and Man," the 1941 Yearbook of Agriculture, is scheduled to be published late in November. It is the sixth in the series of yearly volumes started in 1936, each of which has covered a broad field of agricultural science and serves as a farm reference book. A major feature of the 1-200-page volume is a compilation of weather records state by state and county by county, probably the most complete weather record ever made available for ready reference by farmers in all parts of the country. Assistance by WPA workers made possible this comprehensive assembly.

In the business session, Miss Nellie Lee reported $40 collected by her and her committee in the recent Red Cross drive.

SQUINTING Along the Sidelines WITH THE EAGLE

EDITOR'S NOTE—These squints were made last week and the "Eagle" was caught out of bounds at the end of the half and did not get to print them last week. So the squints are this week's far-away looks.

WE WERE WRONG When we make a mistake everybody who reads this paper knows about it.

Two weeks ago we wrote in this column that Statesboro defeated ECI for the first time in seventeen years. That error has been hurled into your right—was wrong. It was the first time the Blue Devils had won since 1911. So it was ten years instead of seventeen.

What started our investigation was a letter from Bealy Smith, formerly a Statesboro lad, now general agent for Georgia for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, as follows:

"Guess you wonder why this all of a sudden conscientious streak (referring to an enclosed check for his subscription to The Herald). Well, nothing caused it except I have been thinking about it off and on for the past year and then I enjoyed reading in your past issue about Statesboro High and ECI game. How well I remember when Jim Coleman, Kime Tompkins, Gilbert Cone, Wilbur Woodcock, Dan Lester, 'Snag' Anderson, Henry Ellis and I and several others played ECI back in 1925 there in Statesboro when I believe they beat the living daylights out of us (please check this, Eagle). I think that it was the first and only time Jim Coleman ever got knocked out and Papa Coleman came running out on the field, referee or no referee, game or no game, to see what was wrong with his little 'bunch' the way they did. Seems that was a revenge for the game we lost. At any rate, must sign off. . . . Bealy."

Well, Bealy sent us off on a tangent—here we go again. We went down to see Miss Mary Lou Carmichael and her file of Criticisms. And a funny thing, some of these Criticisms are the very essence of our 1925 Criticism, writing about the season of 1924. It reads: "The next we met were Glennville, Waynesboro, ECI and Metter and they all fell before our vicious attacks," but does it say who won? No.

The game of which Bealy writes about was the one that bunched the way we did we did discover. In 1926 Statesboro defeated ECI, 14 to 0, and the 1927 Criticism reports that that was the first time Statesboro defeated ECI in the history of the two schools. The team was Bealy Smith, center; "Smoky" Anderson and Shave Tompkins, guards; Jim Coleman, Dekie Golf, tackles, Gilbert Cone, and Tom Ellis, ends; "Tobe" Anderson, fullback; Dan Lester, right half; Preston Waters, left half, and Will Woodcock, quarter.

The records we have show the following: 1921: S. H. S. 0; ECI, 12. 1922: SHS, 0; ECI, 12. 1923: SHS, 0; ECI, 12. 1924: No record. 1925: No record. 1926: SHS, 14; ECI, 0. 1927: No record. 1928: No record. 1929: No record. 1930: No record. 1931: No record.

If any of you old football fans can help us out on this record business, drop us a card and give us the dope.

Friday afternoon the Blue Devils seemed to have had a little trouble in getting up full steam but soon after the beginning of the quarter, the Statesboro fans saw a brand of football that would have done credit to any team, no matter how good they were supposed to be.

From—all reports, the 6-6 tie with Vidalia will not have any serious effect on the outcome of the contest. The Devils have two more games to play before it can be determined who will play in the championship playoff. Millen this week and Claxton next week. The outcome of these games will probably decide the outcome of the district playoff.

"WE JUST DON'T UNDERSTAND IT!" Although we're not a football expert, we still have never understood the ruling which was made as the game was in its closing minutes. Briefly, here was the situation: Statesboro had the ball on the 4-yard line. According to the timekeeper's watch, the ball was in the air a minute left to play. The Blue Devils called their signals and came down to their huddle. Just as they were coming out of the huddle, Vidalia sent in two substitutions and the Devils were forced to wait thirty or thirty-five seconds while these substitutions were being made. All during this time the timekeeper's watch was ticking away and Vidalia had finished substituting the Devil was still in motion the timekeeper blew his whistle and the game ended.

Had he penalized Vidalia for slowing up the game, this would have automatically taken the ball across the goal line. On the other hand, had he called a time out against Vidalia, this would have made a five-yard penalty against Vidalia for having too many times out. We do not doubt the sincerity of the actions of the referee nor are we arguing with his ruling, but as we said—"we just don't understand it!"

Our verbal first downs this week go to: Harold Hagins for a swell job of quarterbacking. When Harold called a play, it generally seemed to us to be the right one and it generally clicked. Aside from his quarterbacking, Harold played a creditable yard line. According to the timekeeper's watch, he will play a minute left to play. The Blue Devils called their signals and came down to their huddle. Just as they were coming out of the huddle, Vidalia sent in two substitutions and the Devils were forced to wait thirty or thirty-five seconds while these substitutions were being made. We do not doubt the sincerity of the actions of the referee nor are we arguing with his ruling, but as we said—"we just don't understand it!"

Our verbal first downs this week go to: Harold Hagins for a swell job of quarterbacking. When Harold called a play, it generally seemed to us to be the right one and it generally clicked. Aside from his quarterbacking, Harold played a creditable yard line. According to the timekeeper's watch, he will play a minute left to play. The Blue Devils called their signals and came down to their huddle. Just as they were coming out of the huddle, Vidalia sent in two substitutions and the Devils were forced to wait thirty or thirty-five seconds while these substitutions were being made. All during this time the timekeeper's watch was ticking away and Vidalia had finished substituting the Devil was still in motion the timekeeper blew his whistle and the game ended.

Had he penalized Vidalia for slowing up the game, this would have automatically taken the ball across the goal line. On the other hand, had he called a time out against Vidalia, this would have made a five-yard penalty against Vidalia for having too many times out. We do not doubt the sincerity of the actions of the referee nor are we arguing with his ruling, but as we said—"we just don't understand it!"

Red Cross Expands Services Says Chairman

"America's national defense efforts require a great expansion of all American Red Cross activities," Mrs. W. W. Edge, chairman of the twenty-fourth annual membership Roll Call, declared this membership drive in Red Cross history, now in progress and to continue to Nov. 27.

The county has been well organized and the city has already answered its Roll Call. The Junior Red Cross Roll Call has been made but there is much still to be done.

In commenting on some of the work of the Red Cross, the chairman said:

"The Red Cross has more than doubled the number of field directors and medical workers in its employ stationed at army and navy posts and hospitals. Red Cross staffs are at 185 stations and hospitals covering 900 points of military and naval service. Approximately 200 field directors and assistants are dealing with the able-bodied personnel of the army and navy, while another 140 workers, assigned to army and navy hospitals, render medical, social service and communication services for convalescent patients as well as plan medically-approved recreation."

To facilitate these within-camp activities, Mrs. Edge said, the Red Cross has under way a $1,250,000 construction program to erect Red Cross administration buildings at each of sixty-two army camps. These buildings will contain offices, consultation rooms, living quarters for the Red Cross staff, and reception room and lecture room for classes in Red Cross first-aid and home-nursing courses.

She added that the Red Cross also is completely furnishing and operating hospital recreation buildings constructed by the war department at sixty-five army stations and hospitals. The buildings will provide recreational services for convalescent patients, including current popular motion pictures, stage presentations and other entertainment. The program in these quarters will be conducted by a trained Red Cross staff aided by volunteer Gray Ladies, the motor corps and other volunteer units of nearby Red Cross chapters.

"It is essential for the complete functioning of this vital program that local chapters strengthen their home service departments," Mrs. Edge said. "These departments, with the field directors at the camps and hospitals, are the liaison between the military and civilian populations which is the duty of the American Red Cross year. Our own chapter must be prepared to bear its share of the load, but it can only do so with the wholehearted support of the entire community during Roll Call."

CAPTAIN'S INSPECTION ON BOARD ONE OF THE U.S. NAVY'S "COVERED WAGONS"

Members of the crew of the aircraft carrier U. S. S. SARATOGA are pictured as they line up for Captain's inspection. Aircraft carriers in the U. S. Navy are called "covered wagons" because their miniature outside funnels serve as the topside decks for their hangars beneath them.

At the present time the U. S. Navy has six carriers in operation from any one of whose decks as many as twenty-four planes can be launched in sixteen minutes and can be landed in slightly more than twice this time. In spite of their great height and length, these carriers are officially credited with designed speeds of from 29 to 34 knots, which is nearly that of the destroyer.

With new Navy ships of all descriptions being launched at the rate of at least one every ten days, the Navy and Naval Reserve need men and offer opportunities for any qualified young man to receive free specialized training worth hundreds of dollars while receiving excellent pay from the first day of enlistment.

Low-Income Farmer Has Place in National Defense, Says Wickard

The low-income farmer in Bulloch county has a place in national farm defense program, it was stated by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, no less than the large producer. It was stated today by William W. Moore, county farm supervisor of the Farm Security Administration.

"No matter how small the farm," said Mr. Moore, "it can be turned to the purposes of national defense, which means, in the case of agriculture, the production of more food for ourselves and for our friends overseas."

The minimum production to be urged by every FSA family in Bulloch county will be: wheat, three acres; a 12-month garden, one-third acre; Irish potatoes, one-fourth acre; sweet potatoes, one-half acre.

For feed crops, increases from 50 to 200 per cent, will be urged in every farm plan written, the better to assure larger production from live stock enterprises, with minimum goals as follows: Oats and barley, three acres; hay, six acres; grain sorghum, two acres; soil-building crops, five acres; improved pastures, one acre.

Every family's plan will include a minimum of 100 chickens, with egg production to be emphasized; two hogs for market, one hog for subsistence; four. Every item in the program involves increased over the figures for the present production. Mr. Moore pointed out that even if a farm too small to produce food or feed in amounts important to the national goals, the little farmer can do his part by raising produce for his own use, to avoid buying of stocks that will be necessary for shipment overseas.

Rush Week at Georgia Teachers College Marked by Series of Gay Social Affairs

The five sororities, Delta Lambda Delta, Epsilon Sigma Gamma, Delta Omicron, Sigma Gamma Delta, and Lambda Theta Chi, vied with each other as they made strong bids for the favor of the rushes on the campus during the past week.

Covers were laid for Agnes Denard, president; Madelyn Lamb, vice-president; Geraldine Keefe, secretary and treasurer; Edna Odom, Kathryn Ellison and Fay Lanier; new pledges, Martha Ann Mooney, Sylvia; Prueella Cromarrie, Statesboro, and Jeannette Walker, Jesup.

The Sigma Gamma began Rush week with a lovely tea from 4 to 6, at Lewis Hall. Their colors, green and white, were accentuated.

In the use of white chrysanthemums and ferns. The Sigma Gamma has been on the rampage in the past few days and has been over-laid with a handsome lace cover. Alice Jo Lane served. Donna Thigpen sang the theme song, "Night and Day." Sachets were given as favors. Music was furnished by a piano player. Twenty-two girls were invited.

Their second bid to the rushes was a treasure hunt trailing across a football field, down by the center, and across the highway to a steak supper. Fifty girls were invited.

The climax to Sigma Gamma entertainment came Sunday morning with a waffle breakfast at the Rushing hotel. The tables were decorated with white chrysanthemums and trailing ivy. Buttonieres of white chrysanthemums were at each place.

On Tuesday morning the L. T. C. were here at an outdoor breakfast down by Lake Wells. All of the food was prepared on the spot. The girls being served pigs in blankets, buttered toast, jelly, doughnuts and coffee. This event was at 6 a.m. Ho, hum!

Saturday night marked the end of the L. T. C.'s bids with a waffle supper at the Rushing hotel. Green and gold napkins and yellow candles on the table carried out the color scheme. Their flower, the sweetheart rose, was used in small bouquets tied with green and yellow ribbon and placed on each plate. L. T. C. pledges were Martha Coble, Pearl Anderson, Inez Barber, Carolyn Eames, Helen King, Ulma Wynn Zitner and Marward Pierce.

DUX DOMINA Dux Dominas just naturally had to take a pond for their first affair, so Wednesday afternoon found them quacking incessantly in the water.

Friday night the sorority went back to their raisin and ordered a turkey supper, or was it duck, at the Jaekel hotel. Candlelight and the light from the sorority shields furnished the sole illumination.

White candles and yellow chrysanthemums emphasized their colors. The favors marking each place were yellow and white ducks. Dinner was served in three courses. The theme song, "Gettin' Sentimental," was played during dinner. Covers were laid for twenty.

On Sunday morning festivities continued with breakfast at the Norris hotel. Yellow buttonieres were used as favors. The table cards were miniature Dux Domina shields with verses inscribed. The lighted shield was again used in the dining room.

Kermit Clifton Does O. K.

Kermit Clifton is the 4-H meat animal champion of Bulloch county. His first calf "went crazy" at the fat stock show but at the fat stock show he won...

During the seven years young Clifton has been in 4-H club work, he has had over sixty-nine steers which have produced him a labor income of $2,213. But he hasn't confined his live stock work to beef cattle. He has done some very effective work with hogs and made some money out of them.

Kermit had forty pigs for his project in 1941 and made a total profit of $320 from them. During the seven years he has been in 4-H club work in this county, Byron Dyer, Bulloch county agent, declared, "Not only is he an excellent practical 4-H club member, but he is a leader among the club boys and girls. Some day he is going to be a real leader in his community, too."

Saturday night marked the end of the L. T. C.'s bids with a waffle supper at the Rushing hotel. Green and gold napkins and yellow candles on the table carried out the color scheme. Their flower, the sweetheart rose, was used in small bouquets tied with green and yellow ribbon and placed on each plate.

Friday night the sorority went back to their raisin and ordered a turkey supper, or was it duck, at the Jaekel hotel. Candlelight and the light from the sorority shields furnished the sole illumination.

White candles and yellow chrysanthemums emphasized their colors. The favors marking each place were yellow and white ducks. Dinner was served in three courses. The theme song, "Gettin' Sentimental," was played during dinner.

The lighted shield was again used in the dining room. The new pledges are Margaret Helen Tillman, Catherine Rowse, Helen Rowse, Rosemary Wynn and Mary Virginia Groover. Clifford Lee, a former member present was Sylvius Bargon, of Sardis.

FARM & HOME NEWS

Bulloch County Farm Women in National Defense

Farm women of Bulloch county are definitely in the national defense now. Miss Frances Phillips, Farm Security Administration home supervisor for this county, pointed out today.

This is so, she said, because defense means food, as one of the most important things, and preservation of good for home use is no less important than its production.

In Bulloch county, said Miss Phillips, there are 228 families on the Farm Security Administration program that has pledged to produce eighty-five to 100 quarts of food for each person.

Two hundred twenty-six families have been asked to grow 12 per cent, over the amount canned last year. This, she said, will help to save the sugar and grain that are needed for the production of their production of eggs, milk and pork.

"This response is gratifying," said Miss Phillips, "It proves that there is a degree of warm patriotism among all groups of our people. At the same time it proves that the housewife of the low-income farm family has found her place in the nation's plan of defense and has accepted it."

"This housewife understands that America needs more of the food products which the department of agriculture has asked all farmers to raise, as well as Great Britain. And she has come to see that her efforts to build better food for a stronger people is just as important as our production of guns, tanks, planes and ships."

The FSA home supervisor estimated that 157,200 quarts of food will be preserved by FSA families in this county within the next year, which will be an increase of 25 per cent. over the amount canned last year. This, she said, will help to save the sugar and grain that are needed for the production of their production of eggs, milk and pork.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. W. C. T. U. of Brooklet, interested in the aims and objects of the Georgia W. C. T. U., and in those of all those interested in that program, submits the following excerpts from state president's address at the Atlanta convention held recently:

"We are grinding out history today as never before known. It is history, in fact, as we read the headlines there is much to suggest a new order of things as we as Christians conceive it."

"We, the Christian women, today as never before, hold in our hands the power to determine the trend of the future. We have all the splendid machinery of modern science, the missionary groups, the Red Cross, and the many other groups working for human betterment. We have the right to ask that we be defended from undue temptations, the temptations which liquor and its deadly ally, immorality, place before them."

"But in spite of an avalanche of letters that have gone into the government from every state in the Union, the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy have not yet taken any action. They dump 20,000 to 40,000 trainees down upon a little town and then bandily tell the community to protect itself and protect the soldiers. They know it cannot be done."

"It was not done in this way in the last World War. With Woodrow Wilson as president and supporting the action. Secretary of Navy Joseph Daniels and Secretary of Army Newton D. Baker wiped all alcoholic beverages from the navy and from the army canteens. Then safety zones were created around the cantonments, barring liquor and prostitution."

"Next, a wartime prohibition act was passed, and all of this before the Eighteenth amendment went into effect. Twenty-six of the states were legally dry at that time, and as far as possible all the camps were placed in dry states."

"Today, judging from the placements in Georgia, this situation has been reversed. There are still 120 legally dry counties in Georgia, and if the camps had been situated in those counties, the government would have been obliged to respect the laws of the state, but every camp has been located in a wet county, which enables the government to put the responsibility of the surrounding zones on the community, instead of where it belongs—on the government."

"There is a bill now pending before congress, introduced by the late lamented Senator Sheppard, of Texas, the long-time friend of prohibition, to do this very thing. Floods of letters and petitions have gone in begging its support."

"The crime bill fifteen billion, according to Edgar Hoover, much of it from routing liquor and liquor responsible for a large percentage of it; with gambling and vice taking a toll of six billion, while only a little more than half a billion goes for churches and charity; with two saloons for every church and a saloon for every two schools; with mild consumption at $12 per capita and liquor at $25 per capita; with a tremendous increase in the percentage of young men under 30 denied insurance on account of drinking habits. Little wonder that this program has been called the high price of living."

"The history we are making is as old as the human race—'wars and rumors of wars,' strutting dictatorship, sickening slaughter, to satisfy one man's or one nation's lust for power—and the wholesale destruction of the flower of the young manhood of every nation. Little wonder that war leaves us impotent. It takes our life."

"The Old Testament records the same old history—the textbooks are full of it, but as our little civilized civilization advances, it grows worse and worse. The same old human nature still in the saddle—or at the wheel—driving us to destruction. It is a frightful picture, but, thank God, it is not the whole picture."

"The conditions that surround us should be challenge enough. With tens of thousands of our fellow men starving in the world, with forty million in America inadequately fed, according to the vice-president of the United States, the American people are spending three and a half billion a year for liquor, and then paying out much more than that to take care of the wreckage."

VOLUME V Cotton Growers Vote on Quotas December 13

Fewer than 30 per cent. of the eligible Georgia cotton growers voted in last year's marketing quota referendum, J. H. Cromwell, county AAA administrative officer, reminded growers this week in urging an all-out vote in the referendum set for Saturday, Dec. 13.

"The man who has a right to vote and who stays at home," Mr. Cromwell asserted, "is playing with fire."

Of approximately 240,000 cotton farmers eligible to vote in quota referenda, Mr. Cromwell said, about 144,000, or 60 per cent., cast ballots in 1938. In 1939 the number dropped to 113,000, or 47 per cent., and in 1940 to 83,000, or about 34 per cent. Last year, only 70,658 eligible growers voted, which was only 29.4 per cent. of the eligible voters.

"This," he asserted, "is not only an unhealthy sign. It is a dangerous trend, especially in these war-torn times. The position of cotton is uncertain, and the fate of more than 10,000,000 persons rests largely on the result of the coming referendum."

"Farmers have merely to compare present loan-supporting cotton prices with those existing before quotas were voted in, and they have only to realize the defeat of quotas means the loss of loans, to visualize the importance of voting."

"It isn't the government that sets the price of cotton, nor the secretary of agriculture, nor the AAA. It is the farmer himself, casting his ballot, who most largely determines what will bring in the coming season. Thus it is to his interest—and to the interest of every cotton farmer—to vote."

Polls will be set up in every cotton-growing community of Bulloch county on Dec. 13, so that every eligible grower will have the opportunity to vote with a minimum loss of time from other duties.

Mr. Cromwell called attention, in connection with the referendum, to the drive, already begun, for the increased production of Food-for-Freedom in 1942. He urged that every farmer use the acreage taken out of cotton for food production and thus to share in improving the national diet and aiding Britain and other nations now resisting aggression.

Rites Held for Business License Fee Base Doubled

More than 360 businesses in Statesboro will pay approximately $5,000 more for their 1942 business licenses than in 1941, according to an announcement made this week by T. J. Morris, chairman of the finance committee of the city council of Statesboro.

Mr. Morris stated that the increase was authorized by an ordinance passed at the November meeting of the mayor and city council which doubled the base license of each business operating in Statesboro. The increase is earmarked to pay the city's share in the cost of the $350,000 airport which has been recently authorized for this city and county.

In explaining the increase, Mr. Morris pointed out that the city's finance committee studied every possible method of raising the funds to pay for the city's share of the cost of the airport and that the one adopted seems the most equitable for everyone. The members of the committee point out that only the base license is doubled. For instance, a grocery business in 1941 paid $10 for his basic license. In addition, he pays $5 to sell cigarettes, $5 to sell bottled cold drinks, etc. Under the new ordinance, only his basic license is doubled. His other special licenses remain the same. The members of the committee are anxious that this point be understood.

The highest license under the new ordinance is $350 and the lowest $75. In 1941 the city collected $8,922.64 from business licenses, and in 1942 it is expected that the new schedule will raise approximately $13,000.

The new increased license will remain in force until the obligations contracted for by the city in connection with the airport have been retired.

It is expected that work on the airport will begin about Jan. 1, 1942.
