The customer desiring to sell, puts up similar margins, which he loses in the event of cotton rising a sufficient number of points to wipe them out. He thought it highly probable that in case of his resignation, that Col. Dale would be named by the Governor to fill the short term vacancy. Judge Evans is very much encouraged at his prospects in his race for a place on the Supreme Bench.

Cotton Suffers Big Slump.

During the past few days cotton has gone tumbling in the wrong direction, while at the present time prices are holding up fairly well in the Statesboro market, yet the outlook for the continuance of the present prices is not very encouraging to say the least of it. Sea Islands are selling at from 25 to 26 cents, which is a drop of about 1 cent on the pound within the past two days. Short cotton too is off about the same amount, good staple cotton though is bringing about 15 cents in the Staterboro market which really is not bad but the trouble is, no one expects these prices to continue. The declaration of war between Russia and Japah will have a tendency to still hammer down the price of cotton. Spots and futures have both been dropped in the mar-
