COURT MARTIAL.

Atlanta, Sept. 13.—Governor Terrell today ordered a general court-martial to convene in Savannah on September 29 for the trial of Captain Robert M. Hitch, First Lieutenant C. E. Cone, and George A. Mell, Assistant Surgeon A. A. Morrison and Second Lieutenant H. L. Griner on the charges of dereliction of duty on account of their failure to prevent the lynching by a mob of Reed and Cato, the negroes convicted at Statesboro of the murder of the Hodges family.

This decision was reached today by Gov. Terrell shortly after the report of the court of inquiry had been presented to him by Col. W. E. Wooten, its president. The court reaches the conclusion that all of the officers named were guilty of neglect of duty, holding that the force of troops under command of Captain Hitch was sufficient to have prevented the lynching had it been properly handled.

Surgeon Morrison is held accountable for a failure to give proper notice with regard to the need of reinforcements at the court house and also with interfering with Lieut. McIntire in the discharge of his duty.

The court finds that Lieut. McIntire and the men under his command discharged their full duty.

The report of the court and the action of the governor in ordering a court-martial is no surprise in military circles here. In fact, it has been the general belief all along that the matter would take this course. Governor Terrell had stated, too, that if the report of the court indicated the necessity for it, he would order a court-martial rather than take summary action himself, which he is allowed to do under the military law.

Following is the court appointed by the governor today to meet in Savannah on Sept. 29 for the trial of these officers on the charges set forth in the report of the court of inquiry:

The Railroads.

It seems that we are destined to have two new railroads now. The people of Swainsboro and Summit have obtained a charter for a road from Swainsboro to Statesboro, and the people of Statesboro are obtaining a charter for the Statesboro Northern railway. There was talk of consolidation, but it seems now that there will be none. The people of Statesboro are interested in getting an extension of the Savannah and Statesboro railway on through the upper section of the county, and it is likely they will build this fall. There is a large section of Bulloch without railroad facilities, all tributary to our town, and it is to accommodate these people that the promoters are after. As to where they will go depends upon subsequent events. They may go to Millen, via Garfield, or it may yet turn out that they will go to Summit and Swainsboro. All of this depends on the help and subscriptions to be obtained. Our people are looking to Mr. Cecil Gabbett, now president of the Savannah & Statesboro railway, to pilot the enterprise and to obtain the siting of a road to construct the line. He has had large experience as a railroad builder and manager and the people have confidence in his judgement and ability. The line has already been surveyed and if the people through that section be to be traversed will give right of ways and subscriptions, we believe they will get a railroad from Statesboro. All of the expected arrangements between the two proposed lines are now off and each party will take care of themselves.

The Railroad Wreckers

Dublin Times.
The Central railroad wrecks at Rocky Ford and Ogechee, in Screven county, were so evidently the work of the same parties, that the natural inference is that the negroes of that section of the state have inaugurated, or rather are determined to continue, the blood feud which began with the murder of the defenseless Hodges family. The scene of the wrecks is near the line of Bulloch county, and that fact leads to the almost irresistible conclusion that the so-called "Before Day Clubs," announced by the Statesboro horror, seek to destroy both life and property without discrimination, to gratify their desire for revenge.

The Times is not an alarmist, neither would we do injustice to worthy colored citizens. We believe that there are many such in every county, and their lives and property should be protected by every legal method. At the same time, all good citizens, both white and black, should do all they can to ferret out negro oath-bound organizations, it matters not under whatever name, that seek to instill race hatred and teach murder as a fundamental principle. It is especially incumbent upon upright colored people to do this, for they will suffer should race conflict be engendered by the lawless element of negroes who are creating a reign of terror throughout wiregrass Georgia.

There can be no doubt that such negro organizations exist. The white people of Johnson have unearthed one, and are making preparations to give these night murderers doses from Winchester rifles, should they start their dread work. It is believed that such organizations exist in Laurens county also, and the demand for the arms was never so great as at the present time.

We sincerely hope that the

THE PART OF THE CHURCHES

Atlanta Constitution.

The action of the Methodist church at Statesboro in calling for the resignation of those of its members—if there be any—who participated in the recent mob outbreak or that they make public expression of penitence, has called forth expressions of hearty approval on all sides.

For instance, The New York Evening Post, which is one of the strongest critics of the lynching evil wherever it may show its head, makes this comment:

From Statesboro itself comes news as encouraging in one aspect as it is grotesque in its general implications. The Methodist Episcopal church of the town has called upon all its members who participated in the lynching to resign their membership or make public expression of penitence. Such an action powerfully reinforces on the spot the outcry that the best element of the south has raised against the late horrors. In the long run this evil must be cured locally, each neighborhood dealing with its own cruel and lawless population. The Rev. Mr. Langston, in inspiring his flock to show the courage and the indignation that befits Christians confronted with a Godless and inhuman act, has probably done more to redeem Statesboro than all the criticism of the press or all the possible intervention by the executive or judiciary. One man in this fiber is as ten thousand in the wider regions where the wilder passions of the mob are threatening the very fabric of society.

What The Post says of Mr. Langston and his part in bringing about this result is highly deserved. He represents the true spirit of the church. That it is possible for professing Christians to willingly take part in the overthrow of the law and of civilization may be a little difficult to understand, but so long as that is possible, certainly the church has no higher duty than to keep alive the anti-lynching crusade in season and out of season.

In other words, ministers of the gospel should not wait until there has been an outbreak, but they should all the time be impressing upon their people the vital necessity of upholding the law. As the law is the outgrowth of civilization so can there be no civilization worthy the name without respect for the law.

Justice will not enflame race prejudice by the commission of any overt act. To do so would be to invite gravest disaster to a struggling, inferior race, who will always find the southern whites their best friends, if they act as they should law-abiding citizens. It is to be hoped that the railroad wreckers will be captured and legally punished. Let there be no more "Statesboro horrors." At the same time, let criminals, white and colored, understand that they cannot escape the penalty of their wrong-doing. All the ends of justice should be brought to bear to accomplish that necessary object.

MILITARY RETURNS.

The military boys who went to Manassas, Virginia, to attend the regular army maneuver, returned home on Wednesday morning. Statesboro sent seventeen soldier boys to the tented field in old Virginia and all the boys reported a splendid time during that stay. They were glad, however, to get back home in old Georgia, and return to private life, for peace hath her victories, but less returned than war.

Wolves in Laurens County.

Dublin, Ga., Sept. 13.—It has been discovered that there are wolves in Laurens county. A few days ago several gentlemen went hunting in the Burch district and captured a wolf. The wolf was chased for about two hours and was chased into a gopher hole by the dogs. It was a young wolf, perhaps not more than six months old. Where the wolf came from is a mystery. There are doubtless others here or there would not be young ones in this section. It is said that there are a number of wolves in the river swamp where the Oconee and the Ocmulgee come together and form the Altamaha and it is probable that this one wandered up the river swamp of the Oconee and reached Laurens.

UNJUST LAWS.

Enal, Ga. Sep. 15, 1904. Mr. Editor:—I see in the Statesboro News where Mr. D. L. Kennedy wants the stock law. Now Mr. Kennedy we would ask that poor people have a little chance. They have to pay taxes the same as the rich man. In war the poor man is invited to help, when there is any public work to do the poor man is invited to help. We have unjust laws already in the county, which cut the poor man out. Poor people are human the same as the rich fellow. Citizens.

Mail Uniform.

The rural carriers are now dressed in regular military attire. They are in the employ of Uncle Sam, and with their uniforms make quite a display. Statesboro has four rural routes, and the mail goes every day to north, east, south and west, and the farmers are as close the news of the world as is the town man. Messrs. A. E. Price Geo. S. Blackburn, Dan Davis and Allen Morris are the four carriers who go out from here every day. Each one covers about twenty-five miles a day, and makes it in about six hours.

Source Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, our stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Eat five hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating take Chamberlain's Stomach and Bowel Tablets and the next morning you will find relief. For more information see the book "The Source of Stomach Trouble."

THE NEWS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co

Another giant tree has been found in California, and the gleeful discoverer announces that he will turn it into lumber. Probably he will. There are such people. Some have no hesitancy in looting a temple.

Although London is agitating the question of imposing a tax of half a crown per annum per capita on cats, it is not supposed that a fashionable female commission will be allowed to designate the cats.

In the Rhodesian Government Gazette is published a proclamation prohibiting the practice of sorcery throughout the territory, including the throwing of bones, the use of charms, any manner of conjuration, and trial by ordeal.

And then, too, when all those pretty girls selected to represent the various cities of the country at the St. Louis Fair take a look at one another a verbatim report of their privately expressed opinions would no doubt make very entertaining reading, the Indianapolis News comments.

A Japanese infantryperson's "kit" is said to weigh fifty pounds, states the Youth's Companion. It includes the rifle, a pair of boots, blanket, overcoat, water bottle, two days' emergency ration and a toothbrush. The toothbrush is the lightest article in the lot, yet it adds considerable weight to the soldier's character and reputation.

A young Russian Jew was obliged to go to the war in Manchuria. At first his father got letters from him regularly, but presently they ceased. One day the father was called to police headquarters, where he was told there was a telegram regarding his son, but that he would have to pay twenty rubles to get it. He did not have the money and it took him some time to collect it from his friends. When he finally opened the telegram, he was surprised at the announcement of his son's death. Is this a sample of Russian ways of doing things?

The first medical library in the United States was founded in 1700; for a century thereafter it had few successors. About the time of the Civil War, however, medical libraries began to increase, until at present there are 215 of them in the United States, with 2,000,000 volumes on their shelves. But these libraries are not distributed wisely. Some places have too many, and there are large sections of the country wholly without medical library resources. The library movement, however, has taken root in the United States, and the fauna now noted in its development will undoubtedly be corrected in no long time.

If brevity be the soul of wit, then the Rev. Charles H. Yarnall has a first mortgage on the distinction of being the witliest preacher in America. On an Occident Avenue audience the doctrine he announced in his text, said, "Don't worry; it's wicked," and—sat down. Good advice, too, the New York Herald comments, particularly if you are not a candidate for President; if you are, "worry" means that you are "wretched," or if you have money to burn and cannot find a match, the fear that some one will try to make it hot for this cool headed preacher, and if this should come to pass, remember: "Don't worry; it's wicked."

Harold Bole, in the Booklovers' Magazine, says: "The Chinaman is the embodiment of the business spirit, and the established principles of traffic commerce even the soldier ranks. The march of China's insidious military power in recent years is that the rank and file had not been paid. The Chinaman's willing position for business disappeared itself in the war with Japan. General in the Japanese Army told us that after the first fire from his regiment of infantry, the Chinese never arrayed against him displayed a list. Not long thereafter they appeared in the rear of his army, retreating vegetables to his soldiers. Nevertheless, he was confident there was no lack of bravery among these shifty devils. Inquiry developed that they had not been paid for wages, and that they lived in no condition that their miserable cash pay as heroes would ever come to them. When they could coin no more money into profit, the alternative was to fight, the alternative being to starve naturally failed to kindly end."

GEORGIA NEWS.

Epitomized Items of Interest Gathered at Random.

Rawls Charged With Shortage. Harry S. Rawls, son of State Representative Rawls, of Effingham county, has been arrested at Savannah, charged with being short $1,200 in his accounts at the bank. He has given bond and the shortage, it is said, will be made good.

Quiet Reigns at Pavo. The anticipated trouble with the negro lodge men at Pavo failed to materialize. It is believed that all danger is passed and excitement is subsiding. The whites are still on guard, but negroes, as a rule, have returned to their work.

Major Ryan's Loss Leg. Major C. M. Ryan, one of the most widely known men in Georgia, had his left leg amputated in the Savannah hospital a few days ago. He has been suffering from diabetes. The operation was successful, and Major Ryan's chances for recovery are now regarded as bright.

Cashier Walters Under Charge. William H. Walters, Cashier of the Bank of Waynesboro, has been put under arrest by the bank authorities for a shortage of about $3,000. Walters claims that there is no real shortage, but a mistake in bookkeeping. W. L. McMurray has been elected cashier in Walters' place. The bank's books are in the hands of expert accountants. Major Wilkins, president of the bank, says the matter is in course of adjustment.

Costly Blaze in Quitman. Quitman was the scene of a disastrous fire last Sunday morning, in which three stores and contents were up in smoke and considerable damage done to as many more, and it was only by heroic work on the part of the fire company that a whole block was not wiped out.

The fire was discovered in the upper story of the store of Lazarus Brothers, and it quickly spread to the adjoining buildings, occupied by C. C. Joyner, J. B. Finck & Co. and W. T. Thompson. The first three stores were completely destroyed and considerable damage done to the fourth. The contents that were saved were ruined by fire and water. The loss is nearly $100,000, with less than $100,000 insurance.

Ready to Collect Gordon Fund. W. L. Calhoun, president of the Gordon Monument Association, has instructed the Confederate organizations and committees appointed on the Gordon Monument fund that all the subscriptions to the Gordon fund should be collected during the month of November.

It is the intention of the association to erect an equestrian statue to General John B. Gordon, at the cost of $20,000. This must be raised by popular subscription, and the officers of the association see no reason why the money should not be subscribed. Up to the present time between $5,000 and $6,000 has been received, and checks are being received every day from all parts of the South. This $5,000 already subscribed is due in November.

Kick on Increased Tax. The tax rate of Cobb county has recently been raised from $2 to $5 a thousand and the whole county is said to be thoroughly aroused and indignant and a protest will be made. It is claimed by prominent citizens that the tax rate has been almost doubled without any apparent cause and up to the present time the fact that the raise has been made has not been printed. The citizens, however, have learned of the action of the grand jury and the ordinary.

The reason given for the enormous raise, it is said, is that improvements have been made in the country roads. According to the citizens the work on the roads is not sufficient to warrant any such increase in the tax rate and they want to know what is to be done with the money.

Governor Back from Manassas. Governor Joseph M. Terrell and the party of distinguished Georgians who accompanied him to Manassas to witness the maneuvers at the guest of General Corbin, returned to Atlanta Sunday afternoon, reporting a very pleasant visit.

The members of the party besides the governor were General W. A. Wright, Colonel W. L. Peel and Major Emmett Irwin, military secretary to the governor, all of Atlanta, and Colonel Peter Meldrum, of Savannah.

There were many prominent men from both military and civil life at the great Manassas maneuvers, but Governor Terrell and his party were none the less paid most distinguished.

attention and were given most prominent places among the visitors. At the big review of Saturday the governor was escorted by a troop of Georgia cavalry and during his stay at Manassas received hundreds of callers, military officers from Georgia, other states and from the regular army. In fact, he was kept quite busy receiving these visitors.

Coffey's Bond is Increased. The bond of P. S. Coffey, one of the alleged five counterfeitters, whose arrest in Atlanta created such a sensation about three weeks ago, has had his bond increased from $5,000 to $10,000. This was done three or four days ago at the request of the United States district attorney, Judge Newman, in increasing the bond, stated he would hear from the defense, if called upon to do so, and it is likely there will be a move made to have the bond made less than the last amount named.

Coffey was arrested with J. N. Little, C. W. Rebb, Will Wynn and O. L. McMichael. He was charged and sold the bogus plates and with him to Little and Coffey, who gave printed the spurious money in a Joe office in Atlanta. Rebb passed some of the money, and when caught made a full confession. Subsequently Little, Coffey, McMichael and Wynne made confessions.

When arraigned for a preliminary trial, all waived a hearing and the bonds were fixed as follows: Coffey and Little, $5,000 each; Rebb and McMichael, $3,000 each; Wynne was given a hearing in St. Louis, where he was arrested, and his bond was $5,000.

There has been some talk about Coffey, who lives in the country, and is reputed to have some money, making bond, and this may have been one cause for his bond being raised to $10,000.

Express Penitence or Withdrawal. The Methodist Church of Statesboro has considered the lynching of the negroes, Reid and Cato, in a strong act of resolutions, in which the request is made that members who participated in the affair, if any, should at once withdraw from the church. This resolution is in the following language: "We regard the act of any member who participated in this deplorable act as being inimical to the best interests of our church and we recommend that such of our members as participated therein, if any, be hereby notified of their delinquency and withdrawal from our communion and fellowship, unless a public confession of wrong be made with expression of penitence and contrition."

Professional Education. One of the significant factors relating to education is the rapid growth of the professional schools and departments of our universities. The following statistics from the exhibit of the government at the St. Louis fair shows this increase in number of students:

Table with 2 columns: Profession, Number of Students. Theology 1890, 1902; Medicine 5,242, 7,343; Law 11,929, 26,251; Dentistry 5,154, 13,912; Pharmacy 1,447, 4,627; Nurse Training 323, 18,323; Technical 6,765, 28,141.

WORK OF WRECKERS. Frightful Disaster Overtakes Train on Seaboard. Four People Killed and Thirty-five Hurt—Engine and Caboose Following Gave Behind, Crashed into the First Wreck. A special train from Portsmouth, Va., says: Shortly after 1 o'clock Friday morning train No. 41, on the Seaboard Air Line railroad, consisting of an express car, a mail car, two day coaches and a Pullman sleeper, was derailed and went through a trestle just south of the Catawba river, South Carolina, and 25 miles southwest of Monroe, N. C., followed by the wreck of a freight engine and caboose some ten minutes later, which tumbled in on the wrecking before it could be fagged, resulting in the death of four persons and the injuring of thirty-five others.

President Barr's Statement. "Train No. 41 was in charge of Com. J. M. Barr, president of the road, and had there was evidence of a malicious attempt to wreck the train, a number of rail joints having been found disconnected. He gave the following details:

"The wrecked train was running about 40 miles an hour when the trestle, which is about 200 feet long, spanned a meadow near the Catawba river, gave way. The engine and cars passed over, but were drawn backward into the abyss and upon the other cars, the light engine and caboose, which was falling, piling in on top of the train of wreckage.

Gaston Mooren, the engineer of the passenger train, escaped with some bruises and a painful scalp wound. He said that just before the engine had swept entirely clear of the trestle he felt it sinking, but the impetus carried the engine and cars except the front-end passenger car and the Pullman, clear of the yawning gulf which was left when half the bridge collapsed, but the engine and cars were awayed from their course to the right, tearing the rail loose from its fastenings and hurling the entire train upside down over an embankment to the meadow, about 30 feet below.

A scene horrible beyond description ensued. The accounts of the survivors are terrible. When the train went crashing over the embankment, every head went against the sides of the coaches, breaking and bruised.

As the scrambling and shouting went on in the dark, above the noise, a brakeman, with his head half way out a window, was heard to shout: "My God! The freight train is coming upon us!"

In less than a minute the freight engine and caboose came whizzing along the tracks, struck the open space where the bridge had fallen and plunged its way through the passenger cars.

People of Leon County, Fla., determined to suppress them. The public meeting held at the court house in Tallahassee has resulted in largely quelling the people of Leon county. The whole county is now governed by commissioners appointed by Mayor Moore, chairman of the meeting, and the trouble is anticipated from any quarter.

Engine Leaves Track and Turns Over. Engineer and Brakeman Killed. Two men were killed and another seriously injured in a freight wreck on the Southern between Daywood and Wilton, on the Birmingham and Selma division Friday afternoon.

It seems that the train was running at thirty miles an hour when the engine jumped the track and struck the crosses, turning completely over, crushing the engineer beneath it. A colored brakeman was also killed.

Engine Leaves Track and Turns Over. Burglers Get In Their Work in Murphy, N. C., Unmolested. The Bank of Murphy, N. C., was burglarized Friday night. The vault and safe were almost completely wrecked by explosives and all the cash taken, amounting to $4,000, only a few people having been in the bank at the time.

The Unemployed
The lengthening of the "bread line" in New York city has been noted with a very great deal of interest. Where free bread to the poor is offered those who come to apply for it constantly increase. It is made clear from inspection of the applicants for this charity that most of them are men and women and children who are willing to work. Is it not a melancholy circumstance that in a country of such illuminable natural resources, these conditions should exist. It would be a great thing if arrangements could be made whereby the man who is worthy could always find a demand for his service and whereby talent inborn could always find its opportunity for exercise. Perhaps this labor could be brought into a more amicable relation.

At any rate there ought to be no such thing as a "bread line" in America. Doubtless one reason for its existence, if not the most paramount one, is that people reared in the cities hesitate to go to the fields, the woods, and the mines. A young man reared in the tenement district of New York may have little conception of what lies beyond the boundaries of his city. He should be informed and shown the way to the region where the wind blows free, and where population is not congested. Sociologists might do well to direct their thought to that end.

Notice Advertisers.
Owing to the fact that we have to go to press the first thing Tuesday and Friday mornings it is very necessary that we inaugurate a rule requiring all advertisers and correspondents to have their copy in this office before noon on the preceding day of the paper in which your advertisement is to appear. We trust you will remember this and have your copy sent in according to the rule.

Forces of Evil.

Now and then in the life of nations and peoples, it seems that the forces of evil let themselves loose, and crime runs rampant. In this country, where the citizen is free to do as he pleases, the criminal is disposed to take the advantage of too much liberty and freedom and do all manner of crime. It seems that it breaks loose by spell and seasons, and the murderer, rapist, robber, train wreck and the balance of the criminals do their best to tear down every bulwark of safety. What will be the result? It will be a stronger and firmer government, with liberty curtailed and less freedom of action. Organized society cannot stand the assaults of anarchy and will not do it. It has been said that a people rivet their own chains of slavery, and it is true.

From 128 To 92 Pounds.

One of the most remarkable cases of cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by W. H. Ellis.

The Court Martial.

A court martial has been ordered to convene in Savannah on Sept. 29 to try Capt. Hitch and Co. and Lieutenants Mell, Griner and Morrison. They will decide what punishment, if any, shall be inflicted on the officers for the part they took, on the day of the lynching of Reid and Oato.

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. De Witt & Co., of Chicago, Ill., discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for piles. Back From the World's Fair.

Statesboro, Ga., Sept. 12, 1904
After a delightful trip to the World's Fair we are back at Statesboro, safe and sound, though we ran a narrow risk in the wreck at Rocky Ford on September 10.
Mr. Editor: I will offer a few more dots, if you will kindly publish them. I desire to speak of some more of the prominent buildings on the fair ground. The Palace of Transportation is a magnificent structure; its size is 525 by 1,300 feet and cost $700,000.00. This building is a structure of grandeur, both exterior and interior. The Palace of Manufactures is a masterpiece of architecture; its size is 525 by 1,000 feet. The front of this grand building is laid off in lovely squares and walks. The palace of varied industries caught the eye of the writer. Its size is 525 by 1,200 feet. Its towering domes, colonial front and proud structure carried me back to the Holy City, when Jerusalem was in her highest. This building cost $404,000.
We saw the Boer war on Labor Day. About 10,000 persons witnessed the performance that we attended. We saw the British storm two Boer forts. This was the battle in which General Cronje was captured. I will say to the young folks, these were real men and real horses. A real river flowed by the forts. The horses, as well as the soldiers, were trained to fall dead while the British were storming the forts. We saw the white flags run up above the forts; we saw General Cronje surrender. I waived him with my handkerchief, that the brave old hero, while being robbed of his country, may out live it all. The Boer structure cost $100,000.00.
We attended the Centenary Methodist church on Sunday morning, Sept. 4, Rev. W. F. McMurry, pastor. When the usher seated us I noticed at the top of the church program: "The pews in this church free." "The rich and poor meet together."

As the writer belonged to the latter class I felt myself at home. Shaw's botanical garden is located about two miles southeast of the World's Fair. It is only open two Sundays in the year, the first Sunday in June and the first Sunday in September, so we paid this garden a visit in the afternoon. It contains 80 acres and has a brick wall around it ten feet high. Every known plant on earth is growing in this garden. The same afternoon we attended a sacred concert in Tower Grove. This park is contiguous to Shaw's garden. It contains 207 acres, and is the driving park of the city. A sacred concert was rendered by Weits' band, composed of about 60 musicians. Among many pieces rendered was "Jesus Our Lord" and "The Heavens Are Telling."

Mr. Shaw died some years ago. He gave both the park and garden to the city, valued at $400,000.00.
On September 6th we took a ride on the great excursion steamer that runs from Eado Bridge to Jefferson barracks, 15 miles down the river. The view was lovely, and we felt elated to enjoy a boat ride on the "Father of Waters." We visited the Simmons Hardware company, and the writer purchased a paring knife to have a relic from the largest hardware store on the globe.
We paid a visit to the Myers Bro. drug house. This is the largest of its kind in the world. I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. M. F. Lucas, a brother of my husband. Mr. Lucas has been connected with this house for the past fifteen years. He and wife had only returned from California the day before I met him. Mr. Lucas is a thorough business man. He extended to myself and guests every degree of hospitality. I divided my stay while in the city with Mrs. A. V. Ross, a sister of my husband, and Mr. Caterton our nephew, who is ticket agent at the World's Fair station on the Wabash Valley railway. I visited the Pennsylvania building and placed my hand on the old Liberty Bell.

I saw the big cheese that weighed two tons, and the butter statue of pure butter that contained 8,000 pounds of butter. Also the great clock dial, 100 feet in diameter. I ascended the wireless telegraph tower, 800 feet high, and saw Prof. DeForest send dispatches. A reporter interviewed us while there and I answered for Georgia among eleven other states.
St. Louis is about 18 miles up and down the Mississippi river, of north and south—and about ten miles wide. It has a population of 750,000, and has many handsome streets and lovely avenues.
Yours very respectfully,
Mrs. L. G. Lucas.

CALLIE.
Cotton picking is the chief amusement in this corner of the woods nowadays and if seasons continue favorable a few weeks longer the bulk of the short cotton crop will be housed, if labor can be obtained to gather it. The demand for cotton pickers was never greater than now and the supply never shorter.
The latest for our quiet community is the talk of a telephone from Callie to Clito, and some folks along the route have already expressed themselves as being highly in favor of such a prospect. Eureka will very likely reach out and lend a helping hand.
We understand that the homes along the proposed route will be visited some time in the near future and some expression ascertained as to the number of phones that could be put in.
We trust that such a thing will be heartily indorsed and encouraged by those good folks, and we think it will after due consideration.
Many people drive a distance of ten or twelve miles and some times further just to talk five minutes talking on some business, when if they had a phone they could save that trouble. "Isn't that so?" Then let the good work go on.
