THE WELL READ MAN

From San Francisco Bulletin.
Let him who pretends to be a master of English letters say whether he has read the prose works of Milton and of Dryden.
Has he first-hand knowledge of the Elizabethan dramatists other than Shakespeare? Has he really perused all of Edmund Spenser's poetry.

What does he know, from his own reading, of the "Advancement of Learning?" Has he read of Sir Thomas Browne's prose and John Donne's poetry? And the great pulpit orators, Jeremy Taylor, Fuller, South and Barrow, has he mastered their sermons?

Can he truthfully testify that he knows all of Swift, Johnson and Burke, all of Bishop Berkeley, Daniel Defoe; the novels of Richardson, Fielding, Smollette
and Sterne; the histories of Hume, Robertson and Gibbon, and also Hume's philosophical essays; the prose of Coleridge, Wordsworth's
"Excursions," all of Shelly, Jane Austen's, Maria Eglesworth's and Dickens's novels? These are English classics, books which no gentleman's library should be without, and with the contents of which a well read man ought to be acquainted.

One would wonder much against little that the ordinary man who calls himself well read has not read 50 per cent. of the classics here enumerated.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. Jno. Sherman, 220 So. Pearl St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after overeating, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by all

No Notches On "Bats" Gun.
From the New York Sun.
Hot Springs, Ark.—"Bat" Masterson, who was appointed a deputy United States marshal for the district of New York, had occasion to secure a photograph of Jockey Wenrick a few days before the latter was killed. He spoke to the lad about the matter and the rider went to a "photograph gallery and sat for a picture.

The jockey brought it to the hotel where Masterston was stopping. Before the boy left Masterterston said:

"Can I do anything for you?"
Wenrick hesitated for a moment and replied:

"Mr. Masterston, I would like to see your pistol that has all the notches on it."

"Bat" was nearly taken off his feet by surprise. He led the way to his room, unlocked his trunk and from the bottom fished out a gun of old pattern, and handed it over to the youngster for examination. Wenrick, after a long scrutiny, looked up and inquired:

"Where are the notches?"
"There never were any, Eddie,
and they existed only in the minds of a lot of irresponsible people,"
was Masterston's reply.

$1.00 A YEAR.

STATESBORO, GA., FRIDAY MARCH 10, 1905.

VOL. 5, NO. 1

To Organize Fire Company

Steps have been taken to organize a volunteer fire company in Statesboro. Mr. C. M. Cummings, who is active in this particular,
has just returned from Denver where he was sent by the city government to look at their system and has recommended the purchase of a water reel like the one in use there.

A meeting will be called at the court house in a few days, to organize the company. Our young men will be given an opportunity to show what they can do in case of fire in town. Our water pressure has been tested and it is found that we have a 150 pressure, one that will throw a stream of water over the top of the steeple on the court house which is the tallest structure in the city. This will be convenient in case of fire.
You never need these things until some one has fire, then the chances are that you will need it mightily bad.

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

Coldness of feet and limbs is almost invariably an evidence of indigestion declares Dr. J. H. Vellozo, in Good Health.

King Edward's chief receives $8000 a year and does not have to get breakfast. This is enough to make the $2 a week hired girl feel envious.

Thousands of women handle the cash of individuals, firms and corporations, the Albany Times-Union comments. Seldom is there any delinquency. When one woman proves dishonest the thing arises to the dignity of big news.

The tendency of the two fiscal years is maintained in the present fiscal year, and the fact is plain that Russian immigration is steadily increasing, consisting in good part of Jews, who do not propose to fight for the benevolent who have long oppressed them.

It is announced that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will plant 800,000 young trees this year, with a view to meeting its future needs for cross ties. It has planted 208,520 seedling trees for this purpose already, says the Philadelphia Press. It takes about thirty years to make a good railroad tie out of a locust seedling.

Chief Campion, of Chicago's Fire Department, is aiding in the movement in that city for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July by urging proper restrictions upon the sale of fireworks. Chief Campion, classes fireworks as good and bad, and in the latter class he places dynamite caps, glass firecrackers, black cartridges, toy pistols and toy cannon. Any city that succeeds in banishing this class of fireworks from its Fourth of July celebration will be reasonably safe as regards fire and serious or fatal accidents, such as our present noisy Fourth usually entails, opines the New York Tribune.

So fully has the typewriter occupied the field that it seems almost incredible that it was practically unknown when Hayes was elected President, and that England did not take kindly to it until a dozen years ago, the New York World declares. To-day the typewriter is in every continent and country. It is fitted for fifty languages and a thousand dialects. One of its best markets is in what was Ceylon's Zulu land when it was invented. It lightens the labors of Arabian scribes and Persian money lenders. A modification of its familiar principle has been made to fit 4000 ideographic characters of China and Japan.

The casualties in the three days' battle of Lioryang are said to have been 16,000 killed and wounded on the Japanese and 60,000 on the Russian side, says the New York Evening Sun. The disparity seems incredible, especially as the offensive was assumed by the Japanese. Only incompetency and blundering by Russian officers and hopeless stupidity on the part of men untrained in the first principles of the soldier's trade could account for it, and we judge from a series of articles by an accomplished Italian correspondent with the Russian army in Manchuria that such is the explanation. "All the branches of the war department," he says, "are unfit for service, and the present war is naturally calculated to aggravate the chronic diseases which have been silently undermining the Russian army and have brought it to its present helpless condition."

Methuen, Mass., is being made so rich by the gifts of one of its townsmen that the citizens are finding it difficult to pay their taxes, the New York Tribune asserts. This queer state of affairs has been brought about by the gifts of Edward P. Seearles. Mr. Seearles is Methuen's richest man, and, being childless and without heirs, he has initiated on several occasions that he will leave his entire estate, amounting to many millions, to the town. In the meantime, merely as a forecast of his bounty, he has given the town, which has only eighty-five pupils in its schools, a $1,000,000 high school building and a library building costing $500,000. These buildings, of course, must be maintained, and it is said they burn more coal, for one item, than all the rest of the town combined. As one citizen rather ruefully expresses it, when the town receives all Mr. Seearles' fortune "we shall be so rich that we shall be poverty stricken for keep up appearances."

New Cotton Mill for Villa Rica.

Application for a charter has just been made for the Golden City Mill Company at Villa Rica. The men making petition are W. J. Nally, H. W. Nally and J. N. Weems. The capital stock is to be $60,000. The principal business will be manufacturing cotton yarns and goods. Villa Rica already has a cotton seed oil mill.

Burglars Rob Fivola Bank.

The vault of the Fivola bank was blown open with nitroglycerine on the night of about $4,000. The Fivola bank is owned by W. B. Dozier and Walter Ward is cashier. Insurance for protection was carried by a bank in a burglary insurance company.

Pension Fund Falls Short.

Pension Commissioner J. W. Lindsey has discovered that he has been mistaken in his calculations as to the deficit in the pension fund. He has concluded his part of the work of paying pensions, and instead of coming out almost clear with the $500,000 appropriation, he finds that he has an appropriation of $181,139. He has concluded his part of the work of paying pensions, and instead of coming out almost clear with the $500,000 appropriation, he finds that he has an appropriation of $181,139.

Rosser Indicted for Shortage.

The grand jury at Lafayette returned a true bill against J. E. Rosser for embezzlement of $1,100 and $1,200 school funds. Rosser has employed counsel and will fight the case. He claims that he can account for the shortage. The special committee appointed at last term of the court gave Rosser a week to explain matters, but on his failure to do so he was reported short.

By Direct Taxation.

Some weeks ago Morgan county held an election for bonds to build a new court house in Anderson, but through apathy on the part of the qualified voters of the county and the strong stand taken by some prominent citizens the bond issue was defeated. The commissioners of the county have now decided to build one by direct taxation. The cost of the new building will be $40,000. The plan has been accepted and bids for the work will be advertised at once.

Packing Houses Must Pay.

By decision of the United States supreme court, rendered a few days ago, packing houses must continue to pay to the state of Georgia the tax of $200 for each county in which they do business. Under this decision the state will retain possession of some $30,000 already paid in as taxes by agents of packing houses, or an amount equal to be paid back to the packing houses if the decision had been adverse to the state.

Fewer Fertilizer Tags Sold.

While Commissioner of Agriculture O. B. Stevens is not prepared just yet to give out a statement as to the sales of fertilizer tags for the month of January and February, 1905, it is learned on good authority that the sales of commercial fertilizers in Georgia during these two months have been 40 to 50 per cent less than they were during the same months of 1904. The figures given out by the railroads as to the amount of fertilizers transported bear out this statement as to the reduction.

Court Fight Won by Albany.

The president signed the Albany court bill, which measure provides for a new division of the southern district of Georgia, with headquarters at Albany.

It was introduced by Judge Griggs, who passed through both houses with the active aid of Mr. Brantley and Senator Bacon, who are members of the respective judiciary committees through which legislation of this kind comes.

After the bill was passed, Judge Emory Speer entered the Senate. That against the proposed division of his district, writing the president and the department of justice.

New County Contracts.

Interest in the eight new counties to be created by the legislature this year, in accordance with the act adopted by the general assembly at its last session, is again engaging the very active attention of a number of communities throughout the state, who have pushed forward their claims for new county organizations.

Among the cities of the state which are most aggressively at work in the effort to secure the designation of their towns as county sites are Milledgeville, Atlanta, Tifton, Hazlehurst, Cairo, Whitman, Ashburn, Winder, Villa Rica, Buford, Barnesville, Toccoa, and Corda. Quite a number of other places are also advancing their claims and pointing to geographical, economic and political reasons why they should be designated as county sites. With so many applicants in the field, the race promises to be a most interesting one.

Four Years Old

With this issue the News begins its fifth volume. There is rarely nothing for us to say in reference to this, except the bare fact that we are four years old.

We have repeatedly told of our prosperity and our woe; told of our good fortune and our trouble until we imagine the dear public have gotten them down pat.

The News is really in point of fact twelve years old. It succeeded the Star and the Herald. The Star was started back yonder in the stormy days of 1893, and if traveling over a rough road has anything to do with marking time and creating grey hairs on a newspaper, then we are really about 40 years old, but a learned physician has lately said that a man is no good after he is forty and ought to be behooved to retire.

We fear that this might be applied also to newspapers, and therefore will only make the modest claim of being a four-year-old yearling.

We desire to thank those who have been kind to us in the past, and hope to be able to record the passing of many more mile stones on our journalistic career before the final closing of the forms come to pass, and the last issue goes to press.

Augusta is getting better. She is making an effort to abolish a set of whiskey license on a technicality.

Nothing has been heard from Billie Osborne since Hamp McWhorter was seen in Macon coming south some two weeks ago.

We will be glad when the clouds roll away, and the gripe takes its departure for other fields, for this section has been sorely afflicted with that disease.

The farmer who works this year and makes plenty of corn, potatoes, hay, bacon, etc., will be the one that will not be worried about the price of cotton this fall.

Sam Small is making things hum on the Brunswick paper and bragging on the several candidates for governor.

Now for the new rail on I. We trust Mr. Gahbert may be able to begin work at an early day on that road to Athens, and then the county will have more and better transportation.

The odorous guano is now filling the air, and its perfume can be detected along the highways, but we still think that the farmers are going to buy less guano and plant less cotton than they did last year.

In the death of Hon. John H. Reagan, of Texas, which occurred this week the last of the surviving members of Jeff Davis' cabinet have gone to the Great Beyond.

The Dublin papers have opened fire on the new county of James and the Waynesboro True Citizen is trailing its guns on the new county of Dixie. Soon the smell of sulphur will be in the air.

The mercenaries are lying low and keeping quiet, and lying in wait for the green members from away back, when the legislature meets in June.

Roosevelt has appointed a negro as collector of customs of the Port of New York, the fattest job in the gift of the president. There is one consolation about this that is he is feeding the north out of the same spoon that he is in the south.

Distressingly Prosperous.

We have heard it said, as applied to a doctor, that "times were distressingly healthy." It that would fit them, the fact that there is no advertising of sheriff sales would mean to the official organ of a county that "times were distressingly prosperous."

The News had one small sheriff advertisement in February, and the case was settled before sales day that time; the fee on this was $3.00, and for March the great county of Bulloch can boast that not a single sheriff advertisement appears in the columns of the official organ for sale day, the first Tuesday in April.

This condition of affairs is not new. For the past year there has been very little property sold under the hammer at this place.

This shows that the county is prosperous and the people are paying their debts—a condition that does not exist in many other communities in Georgia, and has not always existed here. We have seen nearly three columns filled with these advertisements; however, this was when times were hard and the people were in financial straits.

Now that our county is free from this unfortunate condition is a fact that justifies every good citizen in congratulating the good name of his county on the fact that we have the most prosperous community in the state.

A Dinner Invitation

After a hearty meal of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will prevent an attack of indigestion. Kodol is a thorough digestant and a guaranteed cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, gas on the stomach, sour risings, bad breath and all stomach troubles. N. Watkins, Leesburg, Ky., says: "I can testify to the efficacy of Kodol in the cure of stomach troubles. I was afflicted with stomach troubles for fifteen years and have taken six bottles of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, when entirely cured me. The six bottles were worth $10.00 to me. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest any quantity of all the whole some food you want to eat and your stomach takes a rest—recuperates and grows strong. This wonderful preparation is justly entitled to all of its very remarkable cures. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Only to the initiated is the news of the reverse positively known at this time. Emperor Nicholas and high military officers, of course, were informed by Gen. Kuropatkin's telegram of Tuesday, stating tersely that Mukden must be abandoned, and they received details of the withdrawal as they appeared in excise portions of the official dispatches given out yesterday.

Last evening a newspaper contained a vague report of doubtful origin, credited to Chinese sources, but the first positive statement was derived from the Associated Press dispatches from Gen. Kuropatkin's headquarters, the contents of which was quickly telegraphed to many Liberals from friend abroad. The report probably will not be printed in this morning's papers, the government, true to its policy of breaking bad news gently, only preparing the way by authorizing the publication of a number of promontory telegrams. The news, however, is only what was expected, ultimate retirement having been discounted from the moment Oyama inaugurated his brilliant move westward.

The Congressional Situation

Word is again going the rounds that "your Uncle Rufe" has retired from the race for another term in congress. This seems to have had the effect of stirring up the boys in the different counties. We hear it rumored that there will be at least a half dozen entries for the next race, among them being the following well known gentlemen: Hon. E. K. Overstreet of Screven, Hon. Alf Herrington of Emanuel, Judge Paul E. Seabrook of Pierce, Col. Chas. G. Edwards, Capt. R. M. Hitch and Capt. P. W. Meldrum of Savannah, and last but not least Col. W. H. Davis of Waynesboro.

Now it is certain that all of these deserving young men will not be able to land, the trouble seems to be there is not office enough to go around. But all of these men are not going to run; if Seabrook runs, Hitch and Meldrum cannot afford to enter the race, and likewise if one of the others run all the others will have to step aside. It looks to us at present writing as a show down between Seabrook and Overstreet, while at the final round-up neither of these gentlemen may not enter.

It is a long way off, but the fields are being surveyed by the friends of the different gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in the foregoing. It is safe to say, however, that there will be something doing in the First District next spring.

BATTLE OF MUKDEN IS VICTORY FOR JAPS.

Kuropatkin Is Withdrawing His Forces Northward.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9, 8 a. m.—The battle of Mukden has resulted in a Russian defeat.

Field Marshal Oyama has once more proved himself one of the greatest masters of offensive strategy since Napoleon, while Gen. Kuropatkin is now engaged in endeavoring to defend his title as a master of successful retreats and bringing off his army, with its immense train, safely to Tia Pass, where a position was long ago prepared with this contingency in view.

The problem before the Russian commander-in-chief is more difficult than the one he met successfully at Liao Yang, since now he is threatened on both flanks, his left wing being entangled in a mountainous region far from the railroad.

Nevertheless, Russian military men here express a fair degree of confidence in Gen. Kuropatkin's ability once more to extricate his army and avoid a Russian Sedan. Besides his skill in rear guard action they base their hopes on the physical condition of the Japanese soldiers, who, though they are conceded to be the greatest marchers in the world, are well nigh exhausted by their strenuous endeavors of the last fortnight.

NEWS NOT GENERALLY KNOWN.
Only to the initiated is the news of the reverse positively known at this time. Emperor Nicholas and high military officers, of course, were informed by Gen. JUDGE JOHN H. REAGAN.

(Macon News.)

The death of Judge John H. Reagan, of Texas, removes the last member of the cabinet which guided the destinies of the confederacy.

It is like the beaking of the golden bowl and the loosening of the silver cord around which the dearest and tenderest memories of the passing generation cling.

He was in his eighty-sixth year and up to the very last retained all his splendid faculties unimpaired.

The veterans who had participated in the great civil conflict found a mingled pride and comfort in pointing to the sturdy old Texan who had been a member of the council of giants gathered around Jefferson Davis.

Judge Reagan was born in Tennessee, but at an early age he moved to what was then the young republic of Texas. He took up the study of law and within six years after being admitted to the bar he was appointed to the office of circuit judge. Almost continuously from that time to a very few years ago he has been in positions of public trust and no higher eulogy could be pronounced upon him in this hour when he passes into the shadows than to recall the high ability and scrupulous fidelity with which he discharged every duty devolving upon him in peace and war.

He possessed in marked degree that quality which is known as sagacity. Within a few years only it has become generally known that he strenuously advised against the invasion of Pennsylvania but urged as an alternative that thirty thousand men should be sent to Vicksburg. He was overborne by a close majority—one only vote, it is said—and thus resulted the disastrous battle of Gettysburg.

The course of history might have been changed indeed if his policy had been pursued at this critical moment.

The work to which his name will most definitely and permanently cling among the achievements of peace was his instrumentality in creating and sustaining the interstate commerce commission. He had fathered the bill which brought it into existence, and perhaps the latest of his utterances of marked importance was to deplore the fact that judicial decisions had emasculated the commission and deprived it of nearly all its real power and importance.

His interest in this work carried him a step further when he gave up his seat in the United States senate to become chairman of the state railroad commission in Texas.

So it is that his work in peace and war has erected to his memory a monument more enduring than brass. But in the south he will always be chiefly remembered by his intimate association with the "storm-crashed nation that fell." As the last surviving member of the Confederate cabinet he has been the object of the tenderest veneration and solicitude on the part of the southern people for a number of years.

His death marks out the final landmark and blot from active existence the assembly of great men who guided the destinies of the Confederate government.

"He has out-soared the shadow of our night,
From the contagion of the world's slow stain
He rests secure."
