BROOKLET.

The citizens of Brooklet were highly entertained Friday afternoon by the rendition of a splendidly arranged program on the beautiful theme of "Mother." The large auditorium of the academy was filled to its capacity with patrons and pupils. Appropriate songs and recitations were well rendered by the pupils. It was a grand success in every particular and deserves the praise of the entire community for the painstaking of our worthy teachers. In the last issue of the News can be found an essay read by Miss Lula Warnock upon this occasion.

Rev. P. H. Crumpler requests us to announce the following appointments for the Brooklet circuit: New Hope church, first Sunday and Saturday before at eleven o'clock; Sunday school at ten o'clock a. m.; Brooklet, second Sunday at eleven o'clock a. m. and 7:45 p. m.; Sunday school four p. m.; Harmony church, Saturday before the second Sunday at eleven a. m. and four p. m. on the second Sunday; McDonald church, at Hubert, Saturday before the third Sunday and third Sunday at eleven a. m.; Sunday school four p. m.; Harville church, at Hubert, Saturday before the third Sunday and third Sunday at eleven a. m.; Trinity church, fourth Sunday at four p. m., Sunday school 3:30 p. m.

There will be special services at Harmony church Friday at 11 a. m. before the fifth Sunday in April, continuing through Saturday and Sunday.

We are requested to announce that Elder E. W. Powell will preach at Lane church the first Sunday in May, and at Brooklet at four p. m.

One of the best sermons that has been our privilege to hear in Brooklet was delivered by Mr. Crumpler Sunday.

Mrs. Prentiss, of Pretoria, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warnock Sunday.

Miss Belle Poor, of Eual, was the guest of Mrs. B. E. Procter Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. B. E. Procter, our hustling insurance man, left Monday morning for a several days trip through the northern part of the county.

Mrs. Minnie Robertson, formerly of Gayton, has bought a residence in Brooklet and will have erected a handsome cottage in the near future.

Mr. R. W. Rustin's new residence opposite the academy is nearing completion, and the wise ones say that a bride and groom will occupy it.

Mr. Louis Hutchinson, of Arcola, was shaking hands with friends in Brooklet Friday.

Prof. Alderman was a pleasant caller Saturday to Brooklet friends.

Dr. McIlveen and J. C. Denmark, of Harville, were Trading in Brooklet Friday.

If the Statesboro base ball club wants a practice game and wants it on the a la Savannah vs Boston style just let them come down and cross bats with the Brooklet invincibles.

YOURS TRULY,

THE WHAT NOT.

Dr. L. M. Nichols Dead.

We regret very much to learn of the death of Dr. L. M. Nichols, of Vandevoot, Ark. Dr. Nichols is well known in Bulloch county where he was born and raised to noble manhood. He was one of the first families of the county and has several brothers and sisters who survive him, among whom are Mr. J. M. Nichols, Mrs. J. O. Deal and Mrs. J. Q. Hendrix of this county, Mr. G. W. Nichols of DeQueen, Ark. The latter was with him when he died. He leaves a sorrowing wife to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

A Reporter.

Letter to J. L. Ollitt
Statesboro, Ga.

Dear Sir: Some think we take a good deal of risk in inviting complaints of Devoe lead-and-zinc—we authorize our agent to sell it under this guarantee:

"If you have any fault to find with this paint, either now in putting it on, or hereafter in the wear, tell your dealer about it."

"We authorize him to do what is right at our expense."

The following story tells how little the risk is:

S. H. Asher & Co., hardware dealers Rhinebeck, N. Y., have sold Devoe from '78 to now; have sold thousands of gallons and have just one complaint in all this time.

Three sides of a house were perfect; the fourth was as bad as the three were good.

Explanation—It rained the night before the fourth side was painted; and the painters didn't wait for the wood to dry.

What is done in such a case? What ever the dealer, who sold the paint, considers is fair to do. We leave it to him. He may not do exactly what we should do if we were there; but we are not there. The best we can do is to leave it to him.

Yours Truly,

F. W. Devoe & Co.

MURDER NEAR STILLMORE.

News reaches here from Stillmore of the killing of Jim Lee, an old colored man, near that place on Tuesday night. Clayton Warren, a prominent young white man has been committed to jail, charged with the crime.

It is said that the old negro had been paid $100.00 for some crosses the day before, and it is the impression that robbery was the motive that caused the murder. The old negro was a harmless citizen and the only reason that could be assigned for the crime is that of robbery.

Warren has been committed to jail and the Emanuel county grand jury will look into the case next week.

STATESBORO, GA., TUESDAY APRIL 18, 1905.

VOL. 5, NO. 6

Daniel R. Groover Joins the Silent Majority.

After an illness of only a few days, Col. D. R. Groover died at his home in Statesboro on Saturday last. He had been ill only a few days and it was not until Friday evening that his family and friends became alarmed at his condition. He had started to some of his friends that he expected to die, and he had only recently gotten out of bed from the effects of a carbuncle, which had depleted his constitution. At midnight his heart ceased to beat, and his soul passed from time to an unbounded eternity. When the final moment came he was surrounded by family and friends.

Colonel Groover was born in Bulloch county fifty-four years ago, and had spent his life in the town and county he loved so well. He was the oldest and one of the leading lawyers of the county, and had been an active factor in the progress and development of his town and section.

He had the happy faculty of making friends, and his taking off will be deplored by those whom he had known for years, and who knew him as a candid honest man. He was the pastor of the Statesboro bar, and had long enjoyed a large practice as a member of the firm of Groover & Johnston, and in addition was the president of the Bank of Statesboro, and interested in other enterprises. He married Miss Lula Rawls, who with four children survive him. They are Miss Annie, Daniel R. Jr., George and Frank, all about grown.

Several brothers and sisters,

Old Wave Damages the Early Vegetables.

The cold wave which set in on Sunday morning has done considerable damage to early vegetables and melons in this section. While none of the crops are reported as killed throughout, yet the leaves of beans and potatoes are pretty well bitten; especially so where they were planted on new land. From the best reports we can get from the melon section along the line of the Savannah & Statesboro Ry., the young vines escaped the cold Sunday night, and what happened to them last night can not be ascertained yet. The cold weather will serve to throw all vegetables and melons nearly a week later than they would have been had the weather continued favorable.

The reports from other sections are to the effect that snow was falling in North Carolina and that the vegetable fields around Charleston had suffered materially.

Entertainment at Metter.

The pupils of Metter high school will give an entertainment on next Friday evening, April 21, at 7:30 o'clock, after which there will be a box supper. It will be held for the benefit of the new library. Hon. J. E. Brannen will be present and deliver an address. We expect every patron and friend of the school to be present and extend a cordial invitation to all to come.

While wintering in Savannah two baby camels were borned to the show; one of them was named Savannah and the other one named Georgia. A full account of the show will appear in our two issues of next week.

Russia Expects Togo Will Be Annihilated.

St. Petersburg, April 15.—11:20 p. m.—The week closes with the government's eyes and hopes centered on Vice Admiral Rojensky and gradually something like grave enthusiasm has been aroused by the Russian admiral's hardihood in sailing straight for a combat with the Japanese.

There are many naval officers who do not believe that Vice admiral Togo will accept this challenge. In their opinion the Japanese will be too prudent in such a crisis to risk the destruction of their fleet. They believe that Togo's tactics will be to avoid an open sea fight and that he will launch a series of desperate night torpedo attacks in the hope of throwing the Russian fleet into confusion, scattering the line of ships and giving his faster battleships and cruisers an opportunity to surround and destroy them individually and if some of Rojensky's ships escape to Vladivostok to bottle them up there.

For the moment the conservative councils of the peace party, which offers reassurance that the military situation will be utterly hopeless if Rojensky's fleet is completely destroyed and considered best to open negotiations before the issue is put to a test, are rudely thrust aside.

The admiralty clamors for a chance to retrieve its reputation and the war party generally seems to be convinced that the emperor's position will not be worse if the battle is lost while the destruction of Togo's fleet would spell ruin for Japan. The emperor himself it is understood, expresses great confidence in victory and should victory come he will undoubtedly fix the imperial seal to the big naval program prepared by the admiralty.

North Fleets Not Located.

London, April 17.—There is as yet no news of a naval battle in the far east, or of the whereabouts of the rival fleets.

The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail sends a rumor of a small engagement, but there is no confirmation of this report. Details regarding the Russian ships in Kamranh bay Coochin China, are too meager to be instructive. According to the Daily Mail's Singapore correspondent, the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich saw five battleships and six cruisers in the bay, but the dispatches to other London morning papers are not so precise.

The presence of the Russian squadron off the Annam coast is raising keen interest here, in view of the possibility of their infringing Chinese neutrality and of the likelihood of Rojensky's having had to split his squadron.

Mr. Ellarben Daugherty, one of the hunting farmers of the Port neighborhood, was in town on Saturday and brought in a 88 pound ham. He also paid his respect to the News by setting up the date of his subscription another year. The ham he brought in will be one of the attractions in the Bulloch county exhibit at the state fair this fall.

May Fight Near the Pescadores.

St. Petersburg, April 17.—No information from Vice Admiral Rojensky's squadron, but the admiralty would not be surprised to learn of skirmishing between scout ships today or tomorrow, and the inauguration of torpedo boat warfare is not unexpected.

The naval organ here expresses the opinion that Togo was taken completely by surprise when Rojensky suddenly appeared at the entrance of the China sea and is now concentrating his widely scattered fleet near the Pescadores where it is believed a sea fight properly will occur.

Decoration Day.

In a few days the people of the South will gather around the places where sleep the heroes of the civil war and place
upon the graves of the Confederate soldiers, garlands of roses and flowers. Eminent speakers will proclaim in eloquent tones the virtues of the brave men who followed the fortunes of the Stars and Bars, and laid down their lives upon the bloody fields. As a sacrifice for Southern principles and Southern rights. From the Photomac to the Rio Grande the patriotic sons and daughters of the old South will pay this loving devotion to the boys that wore the gray.

While forty years have passed since the immortal Lee and his tattered Veterans laid down their arms at Appomattox, and furled
their flags forever, yet the memory of their heroic struggle, their bravery and patriotism will never die in the hearts of their sons and daughters, and as each recurring spring time puts forth the fragrant flowers, their graves will be covered with these emblems of love and adoration.

No More to Room.

(M. R. Smith, Halcynondale, Ga.)

Are you wandering, sailor, and doubting the meek
Are you lost in the darkness and mist
of the sea?
Let us flee from the billows and treacherous foam,
Let us seek for the beautiful harbor
of Home.

O home, sweet home,
No more to roam
Over the seas of blinding foam—
No more to roam
Far away on yonder waters, O whispering
tide,
Far away o'er the ocean so misty and
wide,
O bear me away on your bosom of foam
To the beautiful islands—the islands
of Home.

O home, sweet home,
No more to roam
Over the seas of blinding foam—
No more to roam
Salvor, when shall this tiresome voyage
be o'er?
Salvor, when will we anchor to wander
no more,
And the billows and storming and
tollings shall cease,
And our hearts, like the waters, be mingled with peace?
At home, sweet home,
No more to roam
Over the seas of blinding foam—
No more to roam.

A Mustache One Yard Long.

Ivan Dossan, an immigrant from Croatia, who arrived at Locust
Point, near Baltimore, yesterday, and who announced his intention of taking up his residence, at No.
1081 Second street, northeast, in this city, attracted much attention
by the fact that he wore a mustache one yard in length.

Dossan told Assistant Commissioner Stump that he was about 42 years old, but had never shaved his upper lip, but had taken great pride in the length of his musta-
che. He had been informed, however, before leaving for this country, that he would have to cut it off, as he expected to get employment in a machine shop
and was afraid that it might get caught in the machinery.

The mustache had become so much in the way and had attracted so much attention that he would it around his neck, with the ends tucked together under his hat, giving him the appearance of wearing a hairy necktie.

A Song of Thanks.

We thank The O Father for all that is bright,
The gleam of the days, the stars of the night;
The moon as it smiles on our pathway
to shine,
For all of these wonderful glories are thine.

We thank The O Father for all that is dear,
For friend and home and the love that
is there:
For youth and for health and for
wine,
For Father, these comforting gifts
are all thine.

Resolutions—Dover Lodge.

To the worshipful master, wardens and brethren of Dover Lodge No. 888 F. & A. M.: We, your committee appointed, draft suitable resolutions on the death of Brother Elisha Campbell believe to submit the following:

Again we are reminded of the uncertainty of life, and again we are admonished to prepare for death, seeing that in the midst of life we are in death. Our ranks have again been visited by the Monster, Death, and our beloved brother, Elisha Campbell, is no more.

Therefore be it resolved: First:
That in his death the fraternity
has lost a true and faithful brother;
his family a faithful husband and father, and the community
one of its best citizens.

Second: That we extend sympathy and aid to the bereaved family.

Third: That one page on our lodge record be dedicated to his memory and these resolutions
transcribed thereon.

Fourth: That the Bulloch county lodges be requested to publish these resolutions and send a copy
to the family of the deceased brother.

Brother Campbell was made a Mason in Dover Lodge on September 20, 1899, and lived a faithful member until death. He was one man that did not aspire to any high station but was content to live an humble useful life.

He was buried with the usual
Masonic honors at Friendship chapel, in Bulloch county, on March 8, 1906, all of which is respectfully submitted.

Committee: Wm. M. Howard

Laugh It Off.

(M. R. Smith, Halcynondale, Ga.)
If yer feel inclined ter laugh,
Laugh it off;
If yer tear comes ter yer eye,
Laugh it off.

If yer heart is full er care—
Full er woe an' black despair—
If yer's trouble in de air,
Laugh it off.

If yer git in moods ter row,
Laugh it off;
If yer frown comes ter yer brow,
Laugh it off.

If yer feel disposed to doubt,
Er perchance ter stan' an' pout,
Look up ter the skies an' shout—
Laugh it off.

If yer loose while others win,
Laugh it off.
If yer git in moods ter fuss—

THE ROAD QUESTION.

If I was the "Boss," and put a price on the farmer's labor I would make his road tax ten dollars or ten days work; I would not pick up a few loafers who have no interest in the roads or anything else, and put them in a wagon and a pair of mules that the farmers had to buy and haul them along the road and pay them a dollar a day to jump out and throw in a few shovels of dirt in a bog hole
and jump back in the wagon and send the collector around at the busiest time of the year with the farmers, with a paper that says you must appear at a certain place for the purpose of working the road for five consecutive work days or pay $1.50 per day, or appear before the court on a certain day to answer for default, all on the same piece of paper.

That is putting the farmers who have to travel over the roads and haul their fertilizer and farm products over the roads at thirty cents a day and board themselves and furnish their own tools to work with.

I will do the work that this ten or twelve thousand dollars a year that is being collected out of the farmers and farmer's sons that are over sixteen years of age every lick that it has done on our section of the road in the past twelve months, for three dollars.

The $1.50 or five days work or before the court, looks very much like it is the money that somebody wants instead of the road worked, otherwise they would think a farmer's work worth more than thirty cents per day and board himself.

No brother, we are not looking for anything on the road out of that money, and if the roads are ever worked we expect to have to do it, we thirty cent fellows, I mean, that the collector don't haul with his mules and wagon. It is like the man that went up the tree after the coon and fell out and the dogs jumped on the old man;
his boys caught them on, and said bear it daddy, it's the very making of the puppies. So hand it out boys, it's the very making of the puppies.

The woman who makes a paradise of a little home, devotes herself to lovable children and a decent husband, who looks tenderly after her family and is beloved for her task, reaches pretty close to the angel mark. She can do all these things without entirely neglecting the inside of her head.

A Daredevil Ride
Often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklin's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Phylleas were helpless, but Bucklin's Arnica Salve quickly cured it." Soothe and heal burning magic. 25c at W. H. Ellis' drug-

A Tried and True Friend.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug,
it has been curing coughs, colds, croup
and whooping cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who use it.
Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., says: "Coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 145 to 92 pounds. After trying a number of remedies to no avail, One Minute Cough Cure entirely cured me." Sold by W. H. Ellis.

It appears as if most men's money could spend itself it there was nothing to spend it on.

A girl is more foolish about a man after she is married to him
than he is about her before.

A woman regulates her calendar by wash day and the children's Saturday holiday from school.

The way not to get beaten in an argument with your wife about the children is to agree with her.

to pose as a hero when there is nobody looking.

The Truth of H.

Georgia, Bulloch County:
I, John Ellis, do certify that about the latter part of September or the 1st of October 1904, J. W. Whitaker came to me and tried to sell me some hogs.
I told him I had no money to pay him for the hogs. He said that he could tell me how I could pay for the hogs:
just weigh out of the widow's cotton enough to pay for the hogs and I will pay you the money for your part of the cotton; put the cotton in sacks and place it where I can get it, and I will bring you the hogs tonight and get the cotton as I go back. I can sell the cotton to W. T. Warnock, W. H. Blitch or W. B. Marsh, either one, and if the widow charges you up with anything
just pay it and say no more about it.
If I ever die by the point of a knife
or the muzzle of a gun, it is the truth
and the holy truth.

Personally came before me, R. F.
Stringer, a Justice of the Peace, and for said county, John Ellis, who being duly sworn, says the above is a true statement of the words used to him by J. W. Whitaker.

box supper on Friday night before Easter and we will also sell a few cakes. We will have recitations and music. Mr. J. E. Bran-nen has graciously promised to be with us and give us an interesting talk. The proceeds will go to buy a new library for the school.

tie Brown and Lizzie Hunsford;
Messrs. P. D. Stamps, Horace
Night, Morgan Brown, W. H.
Pruitt, T. B. Thorne and Prof.
W. W. Waters, chairman.

The question of establishing a bank at this place is still being agitated, and we hope that in the near future it will be a reality.

There is reason to believe one would pay as there is a good business in other lines being carried on in and around here.

The school at this place is progressing nicely under the management of Prof. W. W. Waters.

The average for the third month
was nearly 40.

Messrs. H. C. Barnhill and W. H.
Proctor's houses are about ready for occupancy. We learn that Mr. Barnhill expects to move in this week.

Among those that attended

Rails of the Mexican Gulf railroad are laid on mahogany ties, and the bridges are built of white marble. In west Mexico is a line with ebony sleepers and ballast of silver ore drawn from the mines besides the track, as engineers constructing these railways had no material on hand and deemed it cheaper to use these seeming extravaganzas than to import ordinary material.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

The Best and Most Popular

"Mothers buy it for their children, railroad men buy it for their engines, and elderly people buy it for their lungs," says Moore, of Elm, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but that this medicine is the best that can be produced for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all druggists.

Fear of poverty and hardship never stands in the way of an engaged couple who are honestly satisfied with each other. The passion for each other's society strengthens mind and will, and such obstacles as lack of means and misty prospects instantly vanish.

There are many ways to make money and to make it honestly, but there is but one way to save it, and that is to spend less than you make.

Rails of the Mexican Gulf railroad are laid on mahogany ties, and the bridges are built of white marble. In west Mexico is a line with ebony sleepers and ballast of silver ore drawn from the mines besides the track, as engineers constructing these railways had no material on hand and deemed it cheaper to use these seeming extravaganzas than to import ordinary material.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"Mothers buy it for their children, railroad men buy it for their engines, and elderly people buy it for their lungs," says Moore, of Elm, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but that this medicine is the best that can be produced for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all druggists.

Fear of poverty and hardship never stands in the way of an engaged couple who are honestly satisfied with each other. The passion for each other's society strengthens mind and will, and such obstacles as lack of means and misty prospects instantly vanish.

RAISED A RIOT AT CHURCH

Now Marshall Copeland And His Boy Are In Lots of Trouble.

COLEMAN PRESIDENT; GROOVER CASHIER.

On Sunday things were pretty lively over at Thomas Grove church, one of the colored churches in the suburbs of Statesboro. It seems that a twenty year old boy of Marshall Copeland, who lives near the city, had come into town heeled with a pistol in his back pocket, and was bent on making an impression among the other "niggers" in the community. Soon the row was picked up with one of Sam Robinson's boys, and no sooner had an opportunity presented itself than the handy gun was flourished; but it seems that young Copeland was not an expert with the use of his weapon, and soon it was in the hands of Deacons Joe Little and Lewis Thomas who refused to give it up for further use and disturbance on the church grounds.

Went of his weapon of offense and defense, young Copeland made a bee line for home to tell his daddy how he had been imposed upon by the "biggy niggers in town." Enraged at the disarmament of his eldest son, whom he looked upon with much joy and pride in his rising young manhood, so the fact that "Young America" had been defeated in his poor efforts with gun and razor, the elder Copeland loaded himself to the breach with a Winchester and got in the middle of the road. He paraded all that section north of the city, better known among the colored population as Whitesville. He foamed and cursed to his heart's content; flourishing his Winchester in the faces of frightened negroes in that neighborhood until getting frightened became a common thing with them. He paraded the road in front of the house of Rev. Wm. Glendon, where the Robinson boy was said to be hiding, calling for him to come out and receive his dose of Winchester ball; until he actually tried the sport. All the negroes both male and female were terrified and abused by the irate father of the son, who had been disarmed of his gun on the church grounds that day.

But there is always a reckoning for this kind of sport; its fun while it lasts, but the trouble is, it don't last always. The son is now languishing behind the bars of the county jail, and the grand jury is liable to take the fathers troubles into consideration early next week.

The Lion Comes Back.

The famous Lotte Creek lion has arrived in Statesboro after a sojourn in Savannah for a few weeks where a taxidermist has put it in good shape. It has been stuffed to look as natural as he did when it faced Mr. Dave Beasley down on Lotte Creek that afternoon. It will be on exhibition in the show windows of The Simmons Company during the next week.

Business Firms Consolidate.

The firms of J. W. Holland & Co. and the Register Trading Co. at Register have consolidated. Messrs. Holland & Co. are moving their stock into the building with the Register Trading Co., who will absorb the same. Mr. Holland becomes a member of the Register Trading Co. and will be with that firm hereafter.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bank of Statesboro on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. J. L. Coleman was elected president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Col. D. R. Groover, and Mr. S. C. Groover was elected cashier to fill the vacancy created by the advancement of Mr. Coleman to the office of president.

The News is free to say that no better selections could have been made to fill these positions; both gentlemen are thoroughly conversant with the bank's affairs, and are eminently competent to fill the offices of trust their associates have selected them for.

Mr. Coleman has filled the position of cashier along with Col. Groover as president ever since the organization of the bank several years ago, and Mr. S. C. Groover has filled the position of assistant cashier for the past two years. The bank and its friends are to be congratulated upon the selections made at Wednesday's meeting.

A SURPRISE MARRIAGE.

One of the latest surprises that has overtaken Statesboro society, was the marriage of Mr. Cecil Brannen, and Miss Allie Olliff, on Tuesday evening. While it was known that the young couple were sweethearts, yet no one, even the nearest friends, expected a marriage so soon.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. G. N. Macdonell at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Brannen is one of Statesboro's most popular young men and has lots of friends both here and through the county. He is a son of Col. J. A. Brannen, and holds a responsible position with the Savannah & Statesboro railway. The bride is one of Statesboro's pretty young women, and a favorite in Statesboro society. She is very popular here and elsewhere where she is known. She is a daughter of the late W. W. Olliff.

WILLIAMS-WALLACE.

One of the important events in local society is the approaching marriage of Mr. W. B. Wallace of Hagan, and Miss Maggie Williams of Adabelle. The wedding will take place next Tuesday afternoon at six o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. J. W. Williams of Adabelle. Rev. T. J. Cobb will officiate.

Immediately after the marriage the young couple will leave for Savannah, and will take a bridal tour to New York and other northern points. They will be away about ten days or two weeks.

SASSER BOUND OVER.

Hold For The Murder of Parker in Screven County.

Sylvania, Ga., April 18.—Sylvester Sasser, who is charged with the murder of M. L. Parker, near Woodliff, in this county, on the night of April 8, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice A. L. Potter here to-day. A large number of witnesses were summoned on both sides, and the court house was crowded when the case was called. Boykin & Evans represented the prosecution and E. K. Overstreet appeared for the defense.

The prosecution put up a number of witnesses to prove the bad feeling existing between the murdered man and the accused, and also other testimony with reference to the tracks leading to and from the house. The defense introduced no testimony, the defendant only making a statement.

Justice Potter thought the evidence was sufficient to bind the prisoner over and he was committed for trial.

After the judges had taken seats, two of the gentlemen asked me: "who are you going to give to to?" This was before the speeches were even made. Also the chairman of the committee intimated afterwards that Excelsior really won, but he hated to go against Metter.

I trust that my friends at both places will understand the case, inasmuch as one was a drummer who wished to sell goods in Metter and the other a newspaperman who did not object to getting more subscribers.

With harshness to none and good will to all. Respectfully, WILLIAM WALLACE.

Canning Factory for Metter.

One of the new enterprises that will soon be started in Metter, we understand, is an up-to-date canning factory. The citizens have been discussing the advantages of such an enterprise, and have decided to put one up.

A gentleman largely interested in canning factories at other points is expected within the next few days, and then it is expected that the matter will take definite shape. There is no doubt but what an enterprise of this kind could be made to pay, as well as furnish the farmers and truckers with a home market for their truck and fruit.

Will Dedicate Church.

On the fifth Sunday in this month, the Baptist church at Metter will be dedicated. Rev. J. B. J. Graham will be on hand and will preach the dedication sermon.

This will also be the occasion of the Union Meeting of the Bulloch County Baptist Association which will convene with the church at Metter on Sunday the 30th and Friday and Saturday before.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by all druggists.

Some experts say we ought to rest after our meals. There's a lot of us who would like to rest before and after but the chance doesn't come. The only followers of the advice are the big, happy tramps. And they enjoy good health.
