Savannah, Ga.

To Our Persecuted Friends of Excelsior.

Doubtless the readers of the News remember very distinctly a statement from our Excelsior friends in regard to the joint debate at Motter. It fell upon the ears of the people of Motter like a thunder burst upon a clear mid summer day. We acknowledge our defeat, for who could listen to those silver tongued orators without being completely overcome by the power of their eloquence wit and learning. We listen with breathless admiration and enthusiasm to those great orators, who existed so close to us, and were hitherto, unknown to us. Their speeches were wonderful pieces of consummate art, filled with the great principles of ethics, literature and religion. They expressed in beautiful language the wonderful laws of political economy, and even the great Daniel Webster would have acknowledged their superior knowledge of the constitution, and would have taken off his hat and resigned the fight for the union to them, and his adversary John C. Calhoun, would have retired to the hills of South Carolina and never entered the arena of politics again. Taking these facts into consideration we think it no discredit to acknowledge our defeat, we accept our defeat with the honor of true gentlemen, and ask our friends to cease to ridicule our weakness in debate, and to think of us in the future as their true friends, for their eloquence has won our hearts most sincere affection.

In behalf of the gentlemen of the committee who exhibited such dishonor and forfeited their claim to the name of gentlemen, we shall only say that they both made large fortunes in Motter, and are now living in luxury and plenty, while poor Excelsior is persecuted and victorious. Metter is honored throughout the length and breadth of our land.

As Metter alone appointed the judges, (we won) and Excelsior lost. We do not reply upon the principal that "a hit our will bow," but with the hopes that our friends will think less harshly of us since we have yielded to the inevitable. However, we are willing to meet them at another place, if they think we can debate well enough to interest them.

Yours in humility,
Affirmative Speakers.

A Tried and True Friend.

After trying a number of remedies to no avail, One Minute Cough Cure entirely cured me." Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Stevens Says Crop Is Good.

Atlanta, Ga., April 22.—Commissioner O. B. Stevens of the agricultural department has been scratching around among the fruit orchards in the vicinity of Cordale and Tifton, and reports that while the cold snap did some damage in that section of the state, the indications are that there will be a large crop of peaches and other fruit. He says that the damage was by no means extensive. As against this, however, he says that it is his opinion that the orchards of North Georgia were badly injured and that the crop will be very short in that section of the state.

In Memoriam.

When the Angel of Death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Allen he bore away, in the person of their daughter, Effie, aged fifteen years and seventeen days, one of the most lovable characters it has been the writer's pleasure to meet.

She had suffered long and painfully, but uncomplainingly, of that fell disease meningitis, and had come to rest upon death as a happy release from her almost unbearable agony.

Her was indeed a beautiful spirit—a loving and dutiful daughter, an affectionate and helpful sister, a docile intelligent and faithful student, and a merry and self-sacrificing friend to her young companions.

The influence of such a life, short tho its earthly pilgrimage was destined to be, cannot be easily estimated, and all of us may deduce from it lessons of duty and patience under affliction that will assuredly help us along life's vicissitudes until we, too, are called to that bourne from whence no traveler ever returns.

Her loved ones mourn not as they who have no hope, but are sustained by the precious hope that she has only passed through the gates of pearl and awaits them with outstretched arms in that Celestial City, not built by hands, where there is no more death.

"Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple."

And the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them and shall lead them unto living fountains of water: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."

May He who doeth all things well tempter this sorrow to the bereaved loved ones, and may they come to realize that such spirits as hers are only lent us for a little while to brighten life's rugged pathway, and to draw us closer together in bands of sympathy and love.

By her teacher and friend,
Jas. H. St. Clair.

STATESBORO DEFEATS

SAVANNAH Y. M. C. A.

Score of 11 to 2 in the Match Game
Wednesday Evening Showed
That the visiting Team, While
Made Up of Good Jolly Fellows, Didn't know How to Play Base Ball.

The first match game of ball between the Statesboro first nine and an outside team came off Wednesday afternoon on the Statesboro diamond between Statesboro and the Y. M. C. A. team of Savannah, and resulted in a walk over for the home team.

Savannah played a pretty game up to the fifth inning, when she started to tumble, and by the time the sixth inning had started disintegration had set in which showed their finish in a short time. Up to the fourth inning the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of Savannah, but when three of Statesboro's runners put their feet on the home plate in one inning, it completely rattled the friends from the city by the sea.

In the next inning, when, in the next inning, they were sawed out in the one, two and three fashion, and not a single visitor saw the first base. They were followed by Statesboro in the latter half of the same inning, running in four men making that many scores. This broke the backbone of their good hope, and a vigorous kick was put up by the Savannah team.

They began to draw on their jockeys and prepare to leave the grounds. Finally all differences were patched up by Statesboro canceling two of the runs made. About this time a dispute arose between one of the Savannah players and a Statesboro citizen which came near resulting in a fistfight, but friends interfered, and soon the game had started up again.

At this juncture the Savannah pitcher had caved in and pitchers were changed. The result from the change was disastrous to say the least of it. The Statesboro boys batted him just for the fun of the thing, and the ball boy was kept busy climbing the fence to get the balls that were batted out of the grounds, while the Statesboro boys almost belittled themselves running around the diamond. They scored so fast until it was almost impossible for the spectators to keep tab with it.

When Savannah had played its half of the ninth inning, resulting in three deaths at first base, the visitors threw up their hands and made a bee line for the train for home.

There was an attendance of about 400 people, and the gate receipts amounted to $75.00. The unfavorable weather had much to do with keeping the people from turning out. It is probable that the game was not a financial success.

FIRE ON COLLEGE STREET.

On Tuesday afternoon, the dwelling of Rev. L. E. Waters on College street was discovered to be in flames. A telephone message to the store of J. G. Blitch Co was the first news of it up town. Mr. Blitch's dray was standing in front of the store, he dispatched it to the callboose, where the water hose are kept, broke in the door before the marshall arrived with the key, placed several men on the dray and almost in the length of time it would take to tell of it, the dray was going in a sweeping run down South Main street towards the burning building. But the building was in a light blaze when reported, and when the department arrived the flames were licking the sides of the adjoining building and leaping far across the street toward the college. A hose pipe was attached to a water main nearby and a stream was soon on the building next door, which had by that time caught afire all on one side and the roof. So close were the two buildings together that no one could approach near the endangered structure, on account of the intense heat, by the use of a headstead head-board a sort of protection was afforded, and soon the other building was put out; this was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Powell. The water was then put on the burning structure and the fire was extinguished, leaving some of the weather boarding, post, etc., still standing.

Mr. Waters has recently purchased the place and paid for it. It was insured for $1,000 and the loss was about $1,500, and most of the household goods were destroyed, either by the fire or damage in removing. Inasmuch as the entire rear end of the building near the cook room was in a light blaze before the fire was discovered by Mrs. Waters, who was sewing in the house at the time. None of the furniture or fixtures in that part of the building was saved. While owing to the great distance from the center of the city and the progress the fire had made before discovery, it impossible for the fire department to save the burning building, yet they did some valuable work in stopping the further spread of the flames, which could not have been done without the use of the water works.

The damaged building is the property of Dr. Sample, and was insured. We understand that Mr. Waters will rebuild.

Wash Burns Comes Clear.

Our readers will remember that One Wash Burns, colored, was reported as being in jail some time ago, on a charge of setting fire to the house of Fannie Day one Saturday night. Wash has been languishing behind the bars since that time, but was relieved this week when the grand jury reported "no bill" in his case. It seems that the prosecution fell down in his case.

Saved By A Collar Button.

Augusta, April, 28.—It is probably due to a collar button that Manager Billy Earle of the Columbia baseball club is not a dead man.

While on the way from Charleston to Augusta this morning a malicious negro fired a pistol bullet through the train, striking Earle in the throat. Fortunately it had passed through the panel, instead of the glass, and landed on the manager's collar. A flesh wound was caused and the shock produced considerable swelling and soreness. He could hardly speak when he arrived here. He was attended by a physician before being able to go on to Macon, where his team plays tomorrow, but he will be unable, even if complications do not arrive, to play on the team for a week or more.

The accident occurred about thirty miles above Charleston. The negro who was with a crowd, all apparently drunk, was seen, but not recognized. The railroad authorities are endeavoring to apprehend him.

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

The policy of Chinese officials is getting to be more and more: "China for the Chinese."

The West has led in the movement, now gaining mass and speed, against the power of money to make and beat the law, asserts the editor of Collier's Weekly.

A Chicago professor says that in 8,000,000 years birds will rule the world. It's a little early yet to start an Audubon society for the preservation of man, the New York World comments.

Of course happiness is partly temperamental. Some are born optimistic, some pessimistic. It is largely a question of the sanguine or bilious temperament. To be born with an enthusiastic, hopeful temperament is a great gift, more to be desired than great riches, continues the Christian Register. The enthusiast lends wings to all causes, and retains youthfulness of spirit to the last, in spite of all life's buffetings. But even those naturally inclined to look on the dark side can overcome this tendency in large degree by resolute effort. Cheerfulness, like other virtues, can be cultivated, is in fact, a duty.

The railroads of the country are to be made ready for unprecedented business for the coming years by unprecedented expenditures for new equipment, states the Philadelphia Record. The builders of locomotives and cars are overrunning their orders, amounting in the aggregate to $200,000,000. It is the business of the great transportation companies to adjust the means of movement to demand upon the part of shippers, and this extraordinary expenditure is based upon the expectation of extraordinary business activity. If there shall be good crops there will be need to keep all the wheels turning for the coming season.

In England, where the use of electricity for the operation of street railways is more of a novelty than in the United States, the wisdom of the practice is occasionally challenged, remarks the New York Tribune. For instance, an engineering expert, writing to the London Times a few days ago, expressed the opinion that some of the smaller English cities which had authorized the construction of trolley lines might in time regret their "precipitation." He then proceeded to point out the merits of the self-propelled omnibus, which is probably more common in the streets of London than in New York or other American cities, although still too new to admit of a thoroughly satisfactory comparison with the electric car.

For bilious persons a chart of life published by Professor Boyd Laynard gives emphatic warning of dangerous rocks in the shape of sausages, pork, turtle and other commodities, says the St. James Gazette. Bels must not be eaten by brain workers, chilly persons should cultivate a taste for warmed while irritable persons should be warned away from ginger and the melancholy man must not touch bacon. Whitebait, it is suggested, is inadvisable for persons who are of an amorous nature, asparagus is forbidden to those who suffer from excitement, and languid persons are told to be careful when they indulge in peas, potatoes, arrowroot and macaroni. Duck, for some mysterious reason, is described as unsuitable for the beautiful, the brave, the pale, the drowsy and the inebriate.

Los Angeles has the most enviable provision in its municipal charter adopted two years ago, declares Town Topics. It is styled "the recall clause." Whenever twenty-five per cent. of the legal voters express their dissatisfaction with any official by a petition filed with the City Clerk, it is compulsory upon the City Council to order a special election to decide whether he shall be retained or to fill the vacancy if he take the hint and resign. This clause was recently tested in the case of a Councilman who had engineered the award of the city printing to a firm whose bid was three times as large as that of the lowest bidder. Twice the petition was thrown out upon technicalities, and twice the accused Councilman appealed to the courts to enjoin the proceedings; but the judges decided that "the recall clause" was constitutional, and the petition in due form, and that the special election must be held. The guilty Councilman was defeated by an almost unanimous vote.

As a memento of the flag of the state of Georgia has been presented to the University cadets by the ladies of Athens. The flag was manufactured especially for the purpose, and was presented to the students by the professor of romance languages in the University, had been largely instrumental in getting up the money from among the ladies of the city which the flag was purchased. The new flag is a perfect beauty, and is highly prized by the students.

Unexpected Hangings May Occur.
Attorney General Hart, in an opinion rendered the governor, a few days ago, holds that convicts convicted of capital offenses and sentenced to hang, now being treated at the state penitentiary, having become insane since conviction, must be resentence and executed, in the event they have recovered their sanity. As a result of the decision, it is likely that several unexpected execution will occur in Georgia within the next year, as several such cases have been puzzling the authorities for some time.

New Road Secures Charter.
The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad company, announced that of whose plans was made some weeks ago, has been granted a charter by Secretary of State Phil Cook. Through LaGrange, in Troup county, to Birmingham, Ala., a line making a through line from Brunswick on the Georgia coast to Birmingham, where connection will be established with some western line.

Meeting of Georgia G. A. R.
With an unusually large attendance, among those present being Commander-in-Chief Wilcox W. Blackman, the Georgia department of the Grand Army of the Republic held its annual encampment in Atlanta. General Blackman delivered an address which was received with great applause and enthusiasm and which will be remembered for years to come by those who were within the hall. Speaking first at Atlanta, he said he was not only delighted, but greatly surprised at the city and called it the "splendid imperial city of the south."

Not a word of bitterness pervaded his sentiments, not a remark which drew discredit on the south or its gallant defenders, the confederate veterans. He spoke of the magnificent reunion, and the valor with which it ought to be defended in times of need.

REV. JONES IN CLOSE QUARTERS.
Noted Evangelist Has Thrilling and Hair-Raising Experience.

Rev. Sam P. Jones had an experience in Montgomery, Ala., Thursday night, which he described as being with a demoniacal preacher, which he is not likely to soon forget. Mr. Jones was in Montgomery en route to Tuskegee, where he delivered a lecture to Booker Washington's school Thursday night. Sam H. Windham, a Methodist preacher, whose home is at Dothan, Ala., accosted him on the street and persuaded him to accompany Windham to the latter's room in a hotel.

No sooner were the two in Windham's room than the preacher turned to Mr. Jones, after first looking at the door and placing the key thereto in his pocket and said: "God has directed me to go to Do- moniacal, Ala., and get married and to take you with me to perform the ceremony. Then we are to conduct a meeting in Demopolis, after which we will return to Montgomery and conduct a meeting here."

At this moment a bell boy knocked at the door and informed Mr. Jones that he was wanted at the telephone. Suspecting himself, he managed to get out of the room, and needless to say did not return. He was later followed to the hotel, however, by Windham, who was arrested there.

Windham, who is a former inmate of an insane asylum, and who has been three times divorced from the woman he wished to wed again, was held at police barracks as a suspicious character.

SULLY LIKES SOUTH.

Talks of Our Great Progress
Since His Last Visit.

GIVES SNAPPY INTERVIEW

Noted Cotton Booster Comes to Have Conference with President Jordan of Cotton Association Regarding Building Warehouses.

There arrived in Atlanta Friday night D. J. Sully of New York, better known as Dan Sully, and still better known as Sully, the cotton king. The purpose of Mr. Sully's visit to Atlanta was to confer with President Jordan of the Southern Cotton Association, in regard to matters of general interest regarding that organization and particularly to talk over plans regarding the system of warehouses in which Mr. Sully is more especially interested.

Mr. Sully was seen at his hotel by a Constitution representative, and making that he had an appointment to meet President Jordan. In regard to anything further concerning the conference, Mr. Sully stated that there was nothing that could be said at this time which would not be premature.

But of the south and all things southern, Mr. Sully had some things to say in a quick, snappy vein. "I want to say something of the south," he began. "It is the most wonderful part of the country today. With the holding made possible by the meeting of the south and the great section has been brought into wonderful prominence in every part of the world. At first there were some in the north who laughed. 'It's a bluff,' they said. 'It's the real thing,' I said. Again they laughed and those on the other side of the ocean, they laughed. They didn't laugh now. 'What is the consequence?' Men from all parts of the country are not only looking to the south for investments. They are coming here to investigate for themselves. They are coming here with their goods, and they are selling them. They are seeing opportunities. They are improving. They are working. They are coming down south and through the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama I sat at the window of the car. The system is really wonderful."

"In New York I have always been called an optimist and certain of the marvelous resources of the south. I have them. Two weeks ago I came down south and through the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama I sat at the window of the car. The system is really wonderful."

"Where before I found straggling houses, I find settlements. I used to see dead stalks of cotton, part of last year's cotton. Now I see fields of green with verdure. Cotton? Yes, and everything else besides. Cotton mill? Yes. Sure. Of course. But furniture mills. Stacks of 'em. Other kind of mills as well. Marvelous. Honestly, the changes brought about in but little more than a year. Fine business."

"Met a man on the train. Man was a commissioner from Sweden. Looking over the south. Like it? Fine. Bringing families from Sweden to live in the south. Hardworkers, every one. Make fine Americans. Just the kind to develop the south."

"Met another man. Farmer from Iowa. Down south buying land. Found three or four New Yorkers. Here for their health? Never. All kinds of good things down here. They are coming fast now. But wait. Wise one first. You've got to smell these eight years down here to keep in business these days. Panama canal? Easy money, but there are more than enough things outside of that. You can't appreciate the south right now unless you leave it and then come back. Make you dizzy trying to meet changes."

MILL RAY

"Plant less cotton" is an old injunction. We all have heard it before. Very often it is a prelude to a bumper crop.

Miss Ada Miller, who has been teaching school at Marlow for a good long time, spent last Sunday with her parents.

Mr. Slater Hodges has a full school at New Hope church.

Miss Tillman, of Marlow, spent last week with relatives and friends around Mill Ray.

Last Saturday was a red letter day for Charlie Newton—a gal.

Bob Miller has just returned from the north, where he went on business.

Keller Hodges, who are glad to say, is improving, although he is still very feeble.

PARISH

Mr. E. M. Durden has gone to Mississippi on a business trip.

Miss Terah and Myrtle Turner visited Excelsior Sunday.

We are glad to report that Mrs. J. L. Floyd who has been sick several weeks is improving.

Mrs. E. M. Durden is visiting in Savannah this week.

The Durden Lumber Co. is moving their mill to Graymont.

Mr. Henry Stoue visited Coratia Sunday.

The Right Name is DeWitt.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures eczema and itchy skin, burns, boils, bruises, piles and all skin diseases. E. K. Zickelose, Adolph, W. Va. says: "My little daughter had white swelling so bad that piece after piece of bone worked out of her leg. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her." It is the most wonderful healing salve in the world. Beware of counterfeits. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

HUBERT

One of the most enjoyable features of the week was the candy pulling, given at the home of Mrs. J. F. Hagan on Wednesday night. Quite a large crowd of young people gathered early in the evening, and were entertained by the hostess in her usual hospitable manner. The event part of the evening was devoted to games and music, and then came the announcement that the candy was ready to be pulled, when there was a rush to the dining room. Soon it was all finished and then came the eating stage, which was by far the most interesting to some. The candy was quite a success, being both white and platable. More games were enjoyed and then the merry crowd dispersed, each with a package of candy.

The young people of this place attended a box supper at Stilson Friday night and had a fine time. Mrs. Young R. Porter, of Emerson, N. C., together with her daughter, Vivian, is spending some time with Mrs. E. H. Robertson at this place.

Mr. B. E. Procter, of Brooklet, was the guest of Mr. J. K. Forbes on Friday last.

Messrs. Barnhill, Brown and Procter, of Stilson, have been pleasant visitors in Hubert this week.

We are glad to report that Mrs. J. L. Floyd who has been sick several weeks is improving.

Mrs. E. M. Durden is visiting in Savannah this week.

The Durden Lumber Co. is moving their mill to Graymont.

Mr. Henry Stoue visited Coratia Sunday.

BROOKLET.

The Easter program rendered by the Sunday school classes at the Methodist church Sunday night was very appropriate for the occasion and entertaining to the large audience that filled the church.

Rev. Mr. Crumpler requests that we announce that on next Sunday, April 30, he will preach an Easter sermon at the M. E. church at Brooklet and earnestly request the entire community to be present.

Miss Myrtle Robinson entertained her friends Monday night with a delightful Easter program at home.

The Statesboro team was rather too strong for the Brooklet boys last Saturday; they defeated Brooklet by a score of 14 to 5.

One of the visitors' team sustained a severe sprained ankle, otherwise it was a pretty game throughout. It is very encouraging to players to have a good number of their friends accompany them, as did Statesboro last Saturday, and we were glad to welcome them to our young city.

Miss Mary Proctor entertained her little friends Saturday afternoon with an Easter egg hunt, after which refreshments were served.

Quite a number of Brookletites attended court this week, and while in the Hub took a look at the "Wolfling" in the Simmons Co. window.

Miss Bell Poor, of Enal, visited friends in Brooklet Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. C. W. Strickland, of Savannah, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Lee.

Miss Annie Faughan of Darien visited her mother and sister in Brooklet Sunday.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by all druggists.

CLITO

We are glad to report that the cool spell did but little damage to the crops.

We are glad to say Mrs. I. T. Newcome, who has been sick with pneumonia, is rapidly improving.

Miss Sophie Barr of Portal has been visiting in our community for the past week.

Mr. Bob Findley and mother of Pulaski visited friends here Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Parnell Emmitt was the guest of Miss Essie and Minnie Ford last week.

Mr. S. G. Steward has just completed a new store.

The Easter picking at Beaver Pond school, under the management of Miss Emmitt, was a success, and enjoyed very much by those present.

Miss Mary Ford of this place is conducting a flourishing school at this place.

Prim.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for lagrippe," say Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be produced for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all druggists.

WHY SUFFER?

Life's Tragedy is Told

By Note On River Bank.

"Most miserable man on earth, Launium. You will find my body in creek near bridge. Tell her she is the cause. Goodbye."

Atlanta, May 2.—At Bolton, where Peachtree creek empties into the Chattahoochee river, the above note was found on a stone, held in place by a small rock.

It is the only clew the police have to what they believe is another of life's tragedies.

So far there is no idea as to who the suicide is.

The note was handed to Captain Moon, of the Atlanta police force, by a man who found it at Bolton. The man could give Captain Moon no additional information.

What makes this untangling of the mystery more intricate for the police is the fact that while the suicide tells where to look for his body he did not indicate under which bridge to search for his corpse. There are two bridges at the place and both run across Peachtree creek near where it empties into the river.

SUGGESTS THE RACES.

On the back of the piece of paper on which the note is written appears the name "George Root, New Orleans, La.," printed in good size black type.

Below the name are spaces left blank opposite the printed words: "Amount,"

"Entry,"

"Name of horse."

At the bottom is printed these words:

"Two dollars will be charged for making all bets."

George Root's is one of the best known turf exchanges of the smaller class of New Orleans' gambling places. This place makes a specialty of placing bets on commission for turf followers.

The robbers hastily gathered up all the money exposed by the explosion and started on a run just as the first of the awakened villagers reached the scene. Other residents quickly came up, but in the meantime the invaders were making good their escape, firing as they went.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., "describing his fearful race with death, which was the result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest of life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was the effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis' drug store; price 50 cents.

Ice Cream Supper Tonight.

The Statesboro Athletic Club will give an ice cream supper in the Riflemen's armory tonight, to raise the means to install an up-to-date gymnasium and a library. Cake, cream and ambrosia will be served by the young ladies of Statesboro, who have kindly volunteered to help the boys.

This is one of Statesboro's new organizations and it is earnestly hoped that a large attendance will be out and our young men in this good cause.

To the Public.

"There is a time to keep silence and a time to speak."

It is now my time to speak.

There has been persistently circulated a false report to the effect that I have no right to do business in Statesboro.

I desire to say in the Open, that I have never received one cent from any man, for my right to do business in Statesboro; nor am I otherwise under obligation to any one to stay out of any kind of business in Statesboro whatever.

Contractor Franklin has begun work on the remodeling of the brick block belonging to Col. J. A. Brannen fronting the court house square.

Chinese Are Trying to Hold the Ships.

Washington, May 2.—China has informed the United States that she is using every effort to prevent the departure from her waters of the Russian cruiser Askold and the Russian torpedo boat destroyer now interned at Shanghai.

The communication from Pekin was transmitted to the State Department today by the Chinese minister, and will be communicated to the Japanese legation by Acting Secretary Loomis, to whom the Japanese minister expressed concern about the reported preparations for sea which were said to be in progress aboard the Russian warships.

Sad Death at Metter.

On last Saturday afternoon about three o'clock the friends and relatives of Mrs. W. T. Wright were shocked to learn of her sudden death which occurred at their home on Kennedy street.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. T. J. Cobb at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon where a large number of friends and relatives were out to pay their respect to her memory. The inter
