Phone us for what you want in groceries, Goulds Grocery

Mr. Horace Wilson, of Jimp, was among the visitors to the city this week.

If you want your groceries delivered promptly, phone Goulds Grocery.

Mr. A. J. Miller, of Port, had the misfortune to lose his barn with corn and fodder, and two valuable mules by fire a few days ago. Mr. Miller offers a reward of one hundred dollars, for the arrest and proof to convict the party who burned it. This is the second time he has been burned out, as last year he lost his dwelling and contents, and he believes that some evil person set the fire.

Sick headache results from a disordered stomach and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by All Druggists.

Dr. R. J. Kennedy spent several days last week in Atlanta, where he was in attendance upon the regular annual meeting of the State Dental Association. Mrs. Kennedy spent the time visiting at the home of her father, Mr. J. S. Franklin, of Port, during the absence of her husband. The convention will meet in Savannah next year.

Fish every day, fresh meat every Saturday. Goulds Grocery

Mr. A. J. Clary, one of Bulloch's leading business men sent us in a large cucumber and a corn tassel from his farm yesterday. Mr. Clary cannot be classed as strictly a farmer, he is more of what might be termed an "Agri-culturist" inasmuch as his farm consist only in a small garden at the rear of his residence in the business section of the city. But he has some of the finest corn in the county, as tall as a man's head, provided the man is not too tall.

Mr. H. I. Waters has the finest field of corn in the county.

Bring me your produce. Goulds Grocery

Editor M. E. Carter, of Pembroke, was a pleasant caller at this office last Saturday.

Mr. J. W. Olliff left on yesterday for Hot Springs, N. C., where he will spend sometime for the benefit of his health.

Mr. D. F. McCoy has been at White Springs, Fla., for the past week for the benefit of his health.

We understand that Mr. C. E. Broughton and a company of gentlemen intend putting in a first class brick plant at Cuyler, at the junction of the S. & S. and S. A. L. railways. It is said that the clay at that point is especially adapted to the manufacture of first class brick, and that a large plant will be put in.

Mr. Richard Brannen who recently returned from New York, is doing short hand word in the city.

Rev. J. S. McLeone has been confined to a sick room for the past few days, being unable to fill his place at the Baptist church on Sunday morning. We are glad to see him able to be out again.

Time Tried And Merit Proven

One Minute cough cure is right on time when it comes to curing coughs, croup, whooping cough, etc. It is perfectly harmless, pleasant to take and is the children's favorite cough syrup sold by W. H. Ellis.

Mr. Henry Mathews, of Pearson, spent the past two or three days in the city.

Miss Stella Sample came down from College Park one day last week and is visiting in the city.

Mr. M. C. Smith, one of the best farmers of the county was here yesterday.

Saved By Dynamite

Sometimes a flaming city is saved by dynamiting space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray of Calumet, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very bad cough, which kept her awake at night. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and lagrippe. At W. H. Ellis' drug store, price 50c and 41c guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Revenge of a Small Boy.

I was taking luncheon with a friend the other day who has a little boy about three years old, writes T. P. A., in Harper's Magazine. As a very special favor, and to please me, his mother allowed him to come to the table, telling me that she could not promise that he would behave in the proper manner, as she had never tried him before.

The bright little fellow behaved very well through the first part of the lunch, and his mother was felling quite proud of him. When the desert came on the table, and proved to be ice cream, his favorite, the small boy wanted a second help. This his mother would not allow him.

"If you don't give me some," he said, "I'll tell on you."

His mother still refused, and the youngster called out: "If you don't give it to me before I count ten, I'll tell."

He began, one, two, three, and so on up to ten.

His mother still paid no attention to him, and he shouted out: "My pants are made out of the window curtain."

NEW COUNTY SCHEME WAS SAT DOWN ON.

Rousing Meeting of Citizens of Statesboro, Resolute On the New County Scheme.

In response to a hand bill circulated with the signatures of Messrs. G. S. Johnston, W. C. Parler and R. Lee Moore, a large crowd assembled in the court house on Wednesday afternoon to look after business of importance to the town, or in other words, do things for "the good of the order."

Mayor G. S. Johnston was elected chairman, and Col. J. M. Murphy secretary of the meeting. It didn't take long to develop the fact that it was the Metter new county proposition whose scalp was to be taken. A set of resolutions were adopted condemning the efforts to cut any part of the county to furnish territory for the Metter county, the meeting seemed to be all of one mind on the matter of preventing Metter from seceding from the union, but when the question of Millen was sprung, it could be easily seen that there was division. After considerable debate both pro and con, a set of resolutions were adopted which are published below. It was asserted in the meeting by men who claimed to know what they were talking about, that there was much division on the Metter move by the people in the territory to be cut off. Judge S. L. Moore stated that he had prepared a number of petitions for people to circulate, asking not to be cut off, and one man had told him that out of 152 men approached on it 143 men had signed asking to be left in Bulloch, and another had the signature of about forty good substantial citizens in the territory effected.

There were those in the meeting hot against conceding any territory for any new county, and there were those there committed to allowing Millen a portion of the Lockhart district, so it will be seen that the resolutions which were finally passed was a compromise affair. In fact had it not been for the reasoning of the advocates of giving Millen territory, there would have been a set of resolutions railroaded through by a big majority against any territory. The reasoning of the gentlemen referred to was along this line:

To start with they thought that Millen was entitled to a county seat.

Second. The state of Georgia had voted by a constitutional majority to create eight new counties in the state, and it was conceded from one end of the state to the other, that Millen was to be one of these eight, and it would be impossible to create a county at Millen without the territory from Bulloch.

And, whereas, the taking of the above large portion will leave it irregular in shape, and would take a prosperous popular section;

And, whereas, a large majority, at least three-fourths of the people, are openly and strongly opposed to any division of our county;

And, whereas, the proposed division would impose additional and unnecessary burdens both on the section taken and on the section that would remain;

Wherefore, be it resolved: First. That we, the people assembled at this mass meeting, do condemn, in unmeasured terms, this effort to divide the county, as it is unjust, and unnecessary, and would work great irreparable damage to all the people.

Second. That we appeal to the members of the general assembly and to their patriotism, and sense of fairness, not to cut up our county, but to leave us alone.

Third. That we appeal to every citizen of our county to use every and all honorable effort to defeat the movement.

Fourth. That we call upon our representatives, Messrs. J. E. Anderson and T. B. Thorne, and our state senator, H. B. Strange, to use their influence to defeat the movement.

Mr. R. Simmons made an eloquent speech in opposition to the new county.

Judge Brannen made a motion that we concede to the proposed county of Bulloch from a point two miles north of Big Horse creek, running a straight line to where the Moore road crosses the Ennals county line, provided a majority of the people residing in that part of the territory are willing. The motion was carried.

A committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions. The committee is composed of Judge Brannen, R. Lee Moore, J. G. Blitch and Chairman G. S. Johnston.

COL. HERRINGTON TO LECTURE.

One of the treats in store for Statesboro is the lecture of Hon. Alf. Herrington, which will be given for the benefit of the Statesboro Y. M. C. A. on the evening of Tuesday, May 23rd, at the auditorium.

Col. Herrington will deliver his famous lecture, "The Negro in the South." This lecture has been given both north and south, and is regarded as one of the best that is going.

Col. Herrington's ability as an orator is not questioned in sections where he has been heard. We are sure that he will be greeted by a large audience upon his appearance here on the evening of the 23rd. Popular prices will be charged for admission.

TO THE PUBLIC.

At the request of mutual friends I withhold from this issue of the News any reply to Mr. C. B. Griner's article which appeared in the issue of the 9th instant.

Respectfully,

L. C. GLISSON.

Puts In Appearance When Sought By Police.

Omaha, Neb., May 9.—Pat Crowe, the alleged kidnapper of Edward Cudaby, son of the millionaire packer of Omaha, and for whose arrest rewards aggregating $50,000 have at different times been offered, walked into the office of the World-Herald this morning, accompanied by Thomas O'Brien, proprietor of the Henshaw hotel.

While there have been rumors of Crowe's being in the vicinity of Omaha for several days, Chief of Police Donahoe, having any knowledge of his presence in the city and rumors were taken by the public in a manner similar to former reports of his having been seen. Crowe telephoned the World-Herald office at midnight of his presence in the city and said he would call at the newspaper office. A short time afterward he appeared in company with O'Brien.

Crowe and a representative of The World-Herald were closeted for an hour, during which time Crowe told of his wanderings since he left Omaha four years ago. Crowe said he had served in the Boer war, fighting with the Boers. He returned to this country after the war and had lived continually, according to his statement, quietly in a South side flat in Chicago. He said he had been in Chicago nearly three years and that he has visited Omaha on three occasions. He said that he had been negotiating for several years for immunity from punishment and in case he should surrender himself to the authorities though he declined to say with whom the negotiations were held. He said that he was tired of living in isolation and wished to reform and get into business. He declared that he would ask for immunity from the penitentiary.

As to the Cudaby kidnapping he declined to deny or admit his guilt.

Primitive Baptist Meeting.

The annual week's meeting of the Primitive Baptist church at the church in East Statesboro. The meeting started on Sunday and the attendance has been good all the week.

Elders A. V. Simms of Valdosta, and H. Bussey of Columbus, are here and have done most of the preaching. They are assisted by Elders Stubbs, Patterson and Powell. There has been much interest manifested in the meeting and several additions have been made to the church. Elders Simms and Bussey are two of the most able ministers in the Primitive Baptist denomination.

They rank in point of ability with the very best in the country of any denomination, and those who have heard them are well paid for their trouble in going out to the services. The services will continue both morning and evening during the balance of the week, and it may be that they may continue into next week.

TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

Mr. Gilbert says, "When everybody is somebody, then no one is anybody."

Dr. Charles Eastman, who is a full-blooded Sioux Indian, thinks that the total number of Indians in the United States is now as great as it was when Columbus discovered America.

The Philadelphia Record says that "an expert who has investigated the subject of good advertising" finds that not over seven per cent. of the advertising in a representative group of publications deal with food products. And yet the readers of these publications "spend for food about forty per cent. of their total earnings." The Record's conclusion is that "excepting the breakfast food firms—those whose business it is to appease the national hunger are not fully aware to the opportunities public offers."

The Australian native who thought a photograph of himself represented either a ship or a kangaroo, and the habit of Van Pelt's Land who stopped his car at the first strains of a violin, were, it we judge them by the latest theory of aesthetics, both right. It would, however, be reassuring to be informed that even the taste for decorative art was really aesthetic, the New York Evening Post continues, and was not that more primitive desire for extravagant display which is satisfied by the beating of a tom-tom or the monstrous features of an aboriginal idol.

The corolla apple, which is also seedless, is the result of twelve years' experimentation, states the New York Times. As it is borne on a blossoming tree, the grower has little fear of the late spring frosts that kill fruit in bloom, and on the rudimentary stems that emerge from the ground there is no harborage for the eggs and grubs of the robbing moth. The new apple is grublike as well as seedless. It possesses one-fourth more solid flesh than the seedling apple of like proportions, and resembles the seedless orange in having a slightly hardened substance at the navel end, which is being obliterated by culture.

In at least one respect the omnibus is distinctly superior to its rival, the trolley. The New York Tribune. In extremely narrow streets where the trolley is obstructed by drays, cabs and private carriages and is less liable to be delayed by a blockade than a vehicle which must follow a line of rails. The first cost of a motor omnibus is estimated by a correspondent of the Times as about the same as that of the trolley car, but the latter requires an additional investment of capital for track, overhead wire or conduit and power house. An omnibus line, then, calls for a smaller outlay to begin with. On the other hand, less power is needed to move a car than a carriage which runs on the ordinary pavement of a street. It is a fact that the trolley car, by its use of the street, facilitates movement by reducing friction.

Let us see how far the parallel runs between the conditions in Russia today and in France at the time of the jacquerie. The Christian Register reflects. First, Russia today is feudal as France then was feudal. In France there was the peasant and his lord; in Russia there is the poor tiller of the soil and the noble land proprietor. Between the two there is a great gulf fixed. The poverty of the peasant is pitiable. The noble lives luxuriously. The rural laborer earns, on the average, fourteen cents a day; the day is from fifteen to seventeen hours; a Russian peasant family's annual expenditure is about thirty-four dollars; the peasant is constantly underfed; between eighty and ninety per cent. of the people are illiterate; even in St. Petersburg, for thirty-three per cent. of the population cannot read; the burden of taxation is constantly greater than the service peasant can bear, and now is laid upon his back the expense of a great foreign war. Are these conditions much different from those of the French of the Middle Ages? True, the Russian peasant does not suffer military arson, rape and pillage in internecine struggles, but famine constantly starves him in the face. Of this fact, ignorant, immobile mass of servile humans there are 100,000,000. Think of it—twenty millions more of these human cattle than there are people in the whole of this vast country of ours. We talk of their "redemption" a "constitutional government"—these peasants know not the meaning of the word "constitution." Imagine a people ninety per cent. illiterate with the right of universal suffrage!

Editorial Items of Interest Gathered at Random.

New Road is "Cinched."

At a second meeting of the citizens of Bowden and vicinity last Saturday $30,000 was subscribed to the capital stock of the Bremen and Southwestern Railway company. This practically insures the building of this road from Bremen to Bowden this year.

Great Interest in New Road.

The people of Sanderville and surrounding country are very much interested in the proposed construction of a railroad from Sparta to Sanderville. This road would traverse one of the richest agricultural sections of the state.

The Incorporators are all well known in business circles. It is expected that this line will be in operation soon.

New Road is Enjoined.

The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, an organization recently incorporated under the laws of Georgia, Atlanta and New York, Ala., being objective points, has been temporarily enjoined from condemning lands for a right of way or for any other purpose within the city of Lawrenceville, Ga. The injunction was issued upon the application of the Atlanta and West Point railway company.

Judge Little Begins Work.

Judge W. A. Little, the new judge of the Chattahoochee circuit, held his first meeting with the lawyers of Columbus Friday. Cases were set for the first week of court. The first case set was that of William Aprie vs. Mrs. J. T. Edwards, a dispute over land, which has caused three law suits and a double tragedy, as a result of which young Bartow Nix is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for killing John and Jon Edwards.

The Stevens-Jordan Controversy Ends.

Hon. Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Association, does not believe the card of Commissioner O. B. Stevens, wherein the latter replied to the statements made by President Jordan agent fertilizer tags. In a reply made Saturday morning, President Jordan says Mr. Stevens' reply is characteristic of the ward politician, and that as Stevens has dodged the issue, he will not carry the matter any further.

Big Decrease in Seaboard Returns.

The annual tax return of the Seaboard Air Line railroad has been received by the New York Tribune. In extremely narrow streets where the trolley is obstructed by drays, cabs and private carriages and is less liable to be delayed by a blockade than a vehicle which must follow a line of rails. The first cost of a motor omnibus is estimated by a correspondent of the Times as about the same as that of the trolley car, but the latter requires an additional investment of capital for track, overhead wire or conduit and power house. Smith Sells Two Thousand Bales.

Within the past few days, Hon. James M. Smith of Oglethorpe has disposed of about 2,000 bales of cotton at the present market price. The transaction is understood to have netted Colonel Smith something over $72,000. The details of the transaction are not definitely known, but it is understood that Colonel Smith disposed of his holdings at about 7 1/4 cents a pound.

Editors to Meet in Cordele.

The editors of Georgia weeklies will meet in annual convention at Cordele, June 20 and 21, and the delegates will all go from the convention to the coast for a week's outing. President W. S. Coleman is arranging an interesting program for the convention and a fine time is promised the visitors by the citizens of Cordele. The excursion to Atlantic Beach which will follow the meetings in Cordele will be a delightful one. The Georgia Southern and the Florida East Coast railroads have tendered special cars and Mr. Coleman will be in charge of the trip and see that everyone has a royal good time. The Georgia editors are looking forward to the Cordele meeting and the outing which is to follow it with the greatest interest.

Detective Goes After Potter.

Requisition papers for Mare S. Potter, former cashier of the Dabovisor bank, who is charged with defaulting with $24,000 of the funds of that institution, were issued a few days ago by Governor Terrell. Thomas Hewitt, a detective of Savannah, whose work located Potter at a "black eye" to the re-regulation bill which passed the house at the last session of congress, but held up in the senate.

BLANCHARD AFTER MOB

Governor of Louisiana Offers Reward for Members of Mob Who Shot Graingerhead in Jail Cell.

Governor Blanchard of Louisiana has made an offer of rewards aggregating $1,500 to secure the arrest and conviction of members of the mob which on April 26 entered the parish jail at Houma, La., and shot to death Dick Craighead, awaiting a trial for the murder of Mrs. McKee and child.

Fifteen hundred dollars is offered for the identification and conviction of the entire mob, twenty-five in number; $1,000 for the conviction of any five or more; or $500 for the conviction of any one person who was a member of it. The offer of rewards is to remain in effect for a year.

The governor issued an address to the people of Claiborne parish, denouncing the assassination of Craighead.

"This resort to mob law greatly injures the good name of the state and tends greatly to impede her progress. Especially does it work harm to the community in which it took place. Whether Craighead was innocent or guilty of the double murder with which he stood charged has nothing to do with it. In the eyes of the law the parties who aided the mob are as much subject to condemnation if Craighead were guilty as they would be if he were innocent.

"To incite to respect for law and order, and to the knowledge that in Louisiana law and property are protected. We must make the law a terror to those who defy it, and this mob did defy it outrageously."

"All good citizens owe it to the state, to the community in which they live, to range themselves on the side of the officers of the law in the effort to bring to trial those who formed the mob."

"I appeal to the good people of the parish to uphold the cause of law and order. The executive department will render every assistance in its power to bring the guilty parties to answer at the bar of justice for their crime."

Valdosta Raids Licenses.

The Valdosta city council raised the license for retailing liquors, in Valdosta from $600 to $1,000 a year, and placed a tax of $2,000 a year on agents who sell spirituous liquors, but carry no stock. The license for auctioneers was placed at $200, bucket shops or dealers in futures of any kind $100 and trading stamp companies at $200. The tax on a number of other businesses was also materially increased. There are now ten saloons in the city, and it is not believed that any of them will quit business on account of the increased license. The new license schedule on saloons will go into effect in November.

President Johnson Issues Circular.

Every means possible is being exhausted by President M. L. Johnson of the Georgia Division Southern Cotton Association, to improve upon the cotton growers and business interests of the state the necessity of becoming members of the association, and aiding in the work at hand. In a circular letter addressed to the members of the association, Johnson points out in graphic style and forceful manner the present plans and future purposes of the association, and calls upon every patriotic citizen to lend a hand and help save the south from her worst enemies. He urges every county official to see that his county is more thoroughly organized, that the objects of the association be placed squarely before the cotton grower and that every eligible man be brought into the fold.

President Johnson says:

"Every man in this state should be a member, in good standing, wearing our badge. We strive for all. All should help us. It is a common cause and a common good we serve. I, therefore, appeal to each citizen, patriot, lover of family and home, lover of fellowman and lastly to his self love. It is best for all and best for him. It is the bulwark of the law, the self defense of the state, the solid rocks of home supplies, diversified crops, reduction of acreage and fertilizers (already done) few purchases on time, slowly marketing our cotton, stable prices for same, raising other money crops, opening wider and more markets for cotton through out the nations of the world; we will be independent of and defy every trust. A trust in self-defense, for each and all, doing good work for all for the individual. It is for this work, and to this end I ask the aid every Georgian."

Valdosta Raids Licenses.

The selfish man can see nothing but his own interest, and his talk is all in that direction.

Green and Gaylor who stole the money appropriated to the Savannah river are making a fight to stay in Canada.

The president is now enroute home from the west, and is receiving a great welcome along the route.

Our advice to the boys is not to fight out their troubles in the papers but to try some other remedy.

The United States Supreme court have decided that future contracts are not illegal and void, and so people can proceed to try their hand at cotton futures and other like business.

The Savannah Press insists that it is wrong to legislate against evil but to counteract them by teaching. In other words it thinks that it is alright for a few people to destroy boys with cigarette and liquor, and then let society fight the evil.

Big hotels are important of course, but the protection of the young men and boys from liquor and cigarettes is more important, and we might safely add the protection of the health of the citizens is of much greater importance also. But in this money age, questions of health, sanitation, good roads, etc., have to give way to lesser questions.

That Fore Day Club joke we got off in the paper on Mr. Miller last week has had the effect to give the more ignorant element of the negroes a scare. It is reported that a few miles out two or three men came riding along side of a grassy cotton field that a negro was plowing; he saw them, and thought they were the "Fore Day Club" coming after him. He loosed his mule and dashed to the swamp and remained in hiding all day. He was looked up and told that it was only two or three of his white neighbors riding along the road with no intention whatever of molesting him. It don't take too much talk about "Fore Day" and "All Night Clubs" around here to get a move on things.

Help Your Town.

What is the best way to help your town? Patronize home people, and buy your goods from home merchants, and get home men to do your work. When you help a home enterprise, you help yourself and family. If you send to Savannah for what you use in your home or business, you are an enemy to your town and people. Help home people, and patronize them, and you will see the town build up.

STILSON ROUTE 1.

Warm weather has set in in earnest along with a lot of rain which makes the grass grow with a rash.

The school at Ivanhoe under the care of Miss Mattie Cone closes next Friday.

Mr. Allison Deal has the best corn in this section.

There was quite a wind about Mr. U. M. Davis' last Sunday. The wind covered only a narrow space and its nature was very much like a cyclone. One tree was blown across the shop of U. M. Davis; a lot of fencing torn up and trees taken up by the roots. We have heard of no other serious damage.

It was our pleasure to visit Olive Branch church on last Sunday which we greatly enjoyed. It being preaching day Rev. B. F. Hogan filled the stand. After preaching a fine dinner was spread, but no way near consumed by the great crowd that surrounded the table. The afternoon was spent in social singing.

Letter to John F. Brannen, Statesboro, Ga.

Dear Sir: The late president of the Croton River bank, at Brewsters, N. Y., built the finest house in that region in 1884, and painted it with lead and oil at a cost of $400—the house cost $31,000.

In 1887—three years—he repainted it with Devco at a cost of $300. In 1897 this paint was in good condition. Lead-and-oil, $400, three years. Devco $300, ten years.

Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co.

BROOKLET.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Prestorions visited the family of Mr. J. A. Warnock Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. P. C. Waters of Harville, and his brother Tom of day, were pleasant callers Tuesday in our town. Mr. P. C. Waters will build and move to Brooklet this fall, so we are reliably informed.

Dr. McElveen and others began the erection of a telephone line from Brooklet to Harville Tuesday. The line will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible and will connect with the present line, which will give the Harville people direct communication with Statesboro and Savannah. A few experimental wireless messages were exchanged between Dr. Lane of Brooklet and Mr. Cone Waters of Harville Tuesday. The doctor said he could distinctly understand Mr. Water's answer to the question: "How is the grass out your way?"

It has been hinted that the "fore day club" has been inspecting ye scribbles' garden, and unless General Green is soon divorced from Lady Peas a committee will wait upon us. If each of the committee will bring a hoe or plow we will hail their visit with pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beasley of Brag, visited friends in Brooklet Sunday and heard Elder E. W. Powell in one of his able sermons at the M. E. church.

The rural route from Brooklet will start Monday the 15th. The patrons along the route should have their boxes up if they wish to enjoy the service of the carrier.

HUBERT

The general topic of conversation is grass. Our farmers meet and consult each other by comparing size, amount, and the rapidity with which it grows. It seems rather strange that the same sun, same rain, and same soil produces so much more luxurious grass than corn, but such seems the case. The superabundance of grass keeps the men plows, hoes, etc., in the fields all day, and we understand some times until late at night.

The Junior Union of Fellowship church held its annual examination recently, and the officers feel quite hopeful, as there were seventy-two papers sent in. This was a fine per cent as the membership is not very large. Much interest is being manifested by the girls and boys of the union, which is very encouraging to the church in general. Much credit is due to some of the girls, who did very efficient work in influencing others to try the examination, and in assisting them in their studies.

Mr. Doak C. Procter and his little sister, Mary, were visitors in Hubert last Saturday. Mr. Procter had his kodak along and was taking some fine pictures, but he didn't have quite the inposing attitudes that he fixed up before.

Messrs. Julius Wood, A. B. Siasell and Master Hermon Stansell, of Harville, visited relatives here this week.

Mr. R. H. Cone and son spent Tuesday in Savannah.

Mr. J. H. Colliers, of this place, left Saturday for Weistown, Ga. where he will be at work for some time.

Mr. Malcom Sohnsou and his sister, Miss Leola, spent Wednesday in Statesboro.

Chambelain's Cough Remedy The Very Best. "I have been using Chambelain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by All Drugists.

METTER

Miss Ruth Olliff, of Statesboro, spent a few days of last week visiting Miss Lula Bowen.

Mr. Taylor DeLoach, of Bloys, spent Wednesday in our midst.

Mrs. P. H. Perkins has been spending some time with relatives at Paschal.

Mr. T. E. McKibben, the popular book-keeper for the bank of Metter, left Monday for Guyton where he went to act in the same capacity but returned on the second day.

Mrs. Abby Kennedy spent a few days of this week in Statesboro where she attended the big meeting.

Mrs. Macyann Lanier, of Statesboro, spent a few days of this week here visiting the family of M. J. Bowen.

Miss Maggie Lou Jones, of Statesboro has been spending some time with friends and relatives here.

The merchants have all agreed to close their place of business at seven o'clock.

The lumber has been put on the ground for the erection of a nice Methodist church, and plans are being made for the work to begin at an early date. When completed it will give us four nice little churches, something that not many towns of this size can boast of.

Churches and schools are stimulating to any growing town, such we have. Our school has reached an enrollment of about 150 pupils; made an average of 126 for the month of April. It has been necessary to put on more force, so the fourth teacher was added to the faculty a few weeks ago, and things are now moving along nicely.

Rev. S. W. DuBois was unable to be at his regular meeting last fourth Sunday on account of the serious illness of his mother in Atlanta, but he filled his appointment here Tuesday night.

Messrs. W. B. Trappell and Lemmon Williams, of Adabelle, spent Sunday with home folks here.

Petition For Charter.

Georgia Bulloch County: To the Superior Court of said County: The petition of Wayne Parish, W. B. Martin, Benj. E. Procter, and Geo. R. Beasley, all of said state and county, respectfully shew:

First: That they desire for themselves, their associates and successors, to become incorporated as a fraternal beneficiary order or association under the name and style of the Home Fraternity with a supreme council at Statesboro Georgia.

Second: The term for which petitioners ask to be incorporated is twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the end of this time.

Third: The sole object of the proposed order or association is for social, beneficial, and benevolent purposes and to insure at small cost the lives of its members, and to do and perform such other act and to be clothed with all rights and privileges and immunities, and made subject to all the restrictions and liabilities fixed by law, and especially keeping within the provision of the act of the general assembly of Georgia approved December 17th 1900.

4: Wherefore petitioners pray for themselves and their legal successors to be made one body complete and perfect.

G. S. Johnston Attorney for Petitioners.

Georgia Bulloch County: I, R. F. Lester, clerk of the superior court of Georgia, do certify that the foregoing application for charter is a true copy of the original of file in this office. This May 4th, 1903. R. F. Lester, Clerk.

Installing Handsome Soda Fountain.

A representative of The News was shown the handsome fountain, now being installed in the store of Messrs. Turner-Gilson Co. on yesterday morning, which is a beauty.

It is finished with a French plate glass mirror, sixteen feet long and reaches nearly to the ceiling. The fountain was built especially to the order of Messrs. Turner-Gilson Co. and adapted especially to the needs of a first class soda water trade. The tables are marble plated and were, built to the order of the owners. The fountain is constructed so that the extracts are all visible, so that if anything gets in the syrups it would not only be discernable to the clerks behind the counter, but to the customer as well. It is fitted with a system of re-carbonating the water, which makes it the best in this section.

Farmer Smith and His Cotton.

Atlanta, May 9.—The announcement that comes from Athens, that within the last few days Col. James M. Smith had disposed of his entire cotton crop, 2,000, at the prevailing price, 7 1/2 cents, has created a sensation here among people interested in the cotton situation, and the fight being waged by the Cotton Growers' Association in the interest of securing a better price for the staple.

Col. Smith was a delegate from Oglethorpe county to the cotton growers convention which met in Atlanta nearly three months ago. His well known prominence as a farmer, in all probability the largest in the state, and his commanding figure made him one of the most picturesque members of that body. In addition to this, the fact that he had made an immense fortune out of the red clay hills of Georgia caused him to be looked upon as a safe leader for the farmers of Georgia to follow.

During a temporary lull in the proceedings, while the convention was waiting upon a committee to make a report, Col. Smith was loudly called for, and responded, making one of the best speeches of the day. He indorsed the movement inaugurated to cut the acreage and reduce the amount of fertilizers used; also told the delegates that the farmers could whip the fight if they stood together and held their cotton. He announced that he had not sold his cotton and intended holding it until the staple was worth 10 cents at the ports. He favored the withdrawing from the market of 2,000,000 bales, and after making a strong speech on this line subscribed $100 to the movement.

Col. Smith's speech was strong and to the point, and many were the compliments passed upon it.

Now, in view of the above, the people here are surprised at the announcement that Col. Smith had disposed of his entire crop of cotton. They are asking the question as to what effect the sale will have on the market. Col. Smith being a man of considerable wealth, and able to hold his cotton until he got ready to sell it, suggests the belief that he sold for the reason that he either felt satisfied that he was getting all it was worth, or else that cotton was as high as it was going for many months to come. People here are asking the question as to what effect Col. Smith's action in this matter will have on thousands of farmers in Georgia who own from one to a hundred bales of cotton. This class, believing as they do that Col. Smith was an aptly able to hold his cotton as long as he wanted to do so, and still be able enough off to have three meals a day, may construe the action of the big cotton planter as meaning that now is the time to sell, and act accordingly. The sale of any small planter in the state of fifty or a hundred bales of cotton would not attract much attention, but when it comes to a sale of 2,000 bales by the largest cotton planter in the state, and one of the most successful men in that line of business in Georgia, people get to thinking and want to know what it all means.

Saved By Dynamite

Sometimes a flaming city is saved by dynamiting space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake at night. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and laryngitis. At W. H. Ellis' drug store, price 50c and 85c; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita, Kan., and St. Louis, Mo., was one with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured. 1862. Baldwin 1905.

44 Years of Progress Crowned By
The World's Highest Honors.

The recent victories of the house of Baldwin at the Paris Exposition give to its products a value and prestige not possessed by any other American piano.

The grand Prix awarded the Baldwin Piano is an honor coveted by all the manufacturers of the world, but which has never been bestowed upon any American piano except the Baldwin.

The Silver Medal awarded the Hamilton pianos and organs shows the estimate of the International Jury of these standard instruments.

The fifteen other awards (Gold, Silver and Bronze medals, and honorable mentions) serve to emphasize the GREAT ONE, and show the high value placed upon the details of construction and the inventiveness embodied in these instruments.

8,000 Pianos ANNUAL CAPACITY OF THE FACTORIES 5,000 Organs

We have unsurpassed facilities for the production and distribution of pianos and organs, and can offer to the trade inducements worthy of attention in instruments of the highest artistic excellence, as well as those of medium grades. Why Suffer From Rheumatism

Why suffer from rheumatism when an application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost.

Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent.

Mrs. V. H. Legett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. A. writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism. One morning I was unable to get out of bed. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by all Druggists.
