EGYPT.

The Foy Manufacturing Company is cutting some fine lumber and shingles here.

The farmers of Effingham are shipping a lot of fine Irish potatoes and beans.

We are glad to report that Mr. C. C. Cowart, of Bulloch county is able to visit his brother and friends at Egypt.

The young people of Egypt had some nice singing at the home of Mr. Robert Hendrix, among those were: Messrs. C. C. Cowart and I. J. Hendrix, of Bulloch.

Billious Bill was getting bloated, and his tongue was much coated. Patent "foetus" wouldn't cure him. Companies would not insure him. All his friends were badly frightened. But their spirits soon were lightened. For Bill said—and they believed him, EARLY RISEN pills relieved him. Sold by W. H. Ellis, druggist.

LETTER TO B. B. SORRIER.

Statesboro, Ga.

Dear Sir: Two years ago, Mr. Grant Smith, Erie, Pa., painted three frame houses, and the woodwork of a brick house.

The painter estimated $119.50 for the paint, lead and oil.

He bought Devco $67.40 and returned $11.50. Saved $41.00 on the paint.

Don't know the cost of the work. By the rule, the saving of labor would be from $60 to $80.

On all, from $60 to $130. This is the tale, as it comes from Messrs. W. F. Nick & Son, our agents there for 40 years.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devco & Co.

REV. CRAWFORD JACKSON

Lectured Wednesday Evening at Methodist Church.

The Rev. Crawford Jackson, of Atlanta, presented to an audience at the Statesboro Methodist church last Wednesday evening, an interesting and instructive discourse, the theme being, "A state reformatory for juvenile criminals." It was in every sense, a grand effort in behalf of the young and rising generation. He drew several imaginary portraits of our young criminals being placed in prisons with hard and debased characters, where the influence of such hardened criminals wrought these young lives. Under these circumstances there is little hope of ever reclaiming and bringing them back to the path of right and rectitude.

Rev. Jackson has seen the necessity of such an institution in our state and is spending his time and talent in putting it before the people in its purity and simplicity. There were several preachers, who made short, but telling speeches in behalf of an institution of this kind, and will, in all probability, take up the work which will protect our young boys, who, heretofore have fallen into the hands of wickedness and vice.

The plan designated was to establish in each county juvenile courts to convene at such time and place as necessity demands and try these young criminals and if convicted, send to the reformatory, instead of being sent off with a class that would send them farther down into degradation.

The following petition was unanimously adopted:

"To the General Assembly of the State of Georgia:

"The undersigned citizens of said State, respectfully petition your Honorable Body and earnestly urge you to enact such laws as shall protect juvenile delinquents from the moral contamination resulting from the present method of treating them as ordinary criminals; your petitioners humbly pray, therefore, that you will establish a State Reformatory, and, wherever practicable, in larger cities, a Juvenile Court with the Probation System so that youthful offenders may be submitted to such conditions and treatment as shall most conduce to their reformation."

The following committee was appointed to solicit names to the above petition:

G. S. JOHNSTON.
F. C. WALLIS.
J. A. McDONALD.

A Good Suggestion

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufacturer that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by All Druggists.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL.

Notice is hereby given of an intention to apply at the next session of the General Assembly, for the passage of a local bill, of which the following shall be the title: "An Act to create a charter for the town of Pulaski, in Bulloch county, Ga., and a municipal government for said town of Pulaski, to define its boundary lines; to provide for the election of a mayor and council and other officers, and to define their powers and duties, and for other purposes." This May 28th, 1905.

To Change Divorce Law.

Hon. George W. Williams, one of the members of the legislature from Laurens county, will introduce three companion bills in the legislature, which, if passed, will materially change the divorce laws in Georgia. His bills will make, if passed, the following the only grounds for a total divorce:

Interruption by persons within the prohibited degree of consanguinity and affinity.

Mental incapacity at the time of the marriage.

Impotency at the time of the marriage.

Delicate state of wife at the time of the marriage unknown to the husband.

Adultery in either party after marriage.

The following reasons are allowed for partial divorce only:

"Wilful and continued desertion by either of the parties for the term of three years; the conviction of either for an offense involving moral turpitude, and under which he or she is sentenced to the penitentiary for the term of two years or longer, or in case of cruel treatment, or habitual intoxication by either party."

Mr. Williams is one of the best lawyers in that section, and is a very forceful speaker and ready debater. He will be heard on all questions of importance which come up before the legislature. In the passage of his divorce bill and other remedial legislation he will be assisted by Hon. David J. Clark, the other representative from Laurens county.—Macon News.

RUSSIAN FLEET IS ANNIHILATED.

Greatest Naval Battle in World's History Sends Twelve Russian Battle Ships to the Bottom

Rumored that Admiral Rojestvensky Went Down With His Flagship--Russian People are in Great State of Excitement, and Revolution is Expected to Break out in St. Petersburg--Nicholas' Throne Totters Under the Terrible Strain.

Up to the hour of going to press the latest that could be had over the wires is to the effect that the entire Russian fleet has been annihilated, that in trying to force a passage through the Korean straits Admiral Rojestvensky and his fleet were intercepted by the Japanese fleet and forced to battle with the most disastrous results suffered by the Russians. It is reported that the Russian admiral went down with his flagship and that there was practically no losses on the Japanese side. The latest dispatches only go to confirm the early news which is printed below:

Tokio, May 29, 2:15 p. m.—It is officially announced that Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet has been practically annihilated. Twelve warships have been sunk or captured, and two transports and two torpedo boat destroyers have been sunk. Washington, May 28.—From information which has been received in Washington today, it is believed that two of the Russian ships reported to have been sunk in the Korean straits by the Japanese are the Orel and her sister ship, the Borodino. They are battleships of 18,000 tons.

Three other vessels reported sunk are believed to have been cruisers, the remaining one being a repair ship.

SIX SHIPS HAVE GONE DOWN
Washington, May 28.—The American consul at Nagasaki called the state department today that the Japanese have sunk a Russian battleship, four other warships and a repair ship in the straits of Korea.

FIGHTING BEGAN AT NIGHT.
St. Petersburg, May 28, 7:45 p. m.—A dispatch to a news agency from Chefoo says that private advices have been received by the Japanese consul there stating that the main portion of the Russian Baltic fleet engaged the Japanese squadron in the straits of Korea last night.

CENSORSHIP COMPLETE AT TOKIO.
Tokio, May 29, 7:45 p. m.—Absolutely no news concerning the operations of the Japanese and Russian fleets was obtainable here today. Newspapers are held under absolute leash, and all telegraphs and cables are closed to press dispatches.

The following is the text of the Nagasaki dispatch to the state department:

"Nagasaki, May 28.—Japanese sunk the Russian battleship Borodino and four more warships and a repair ship."

The other dispatch reads as follows:

"Tokio, May 28.—Japanese fleet engaged the Baltic squadron this afternoon in the straits of Tsushima, which was held. Cannonading heard from shore.

Married Third Time.

Our readers have doubtless read of the domestic troubles of John Allen, his incarceration in jail here, charged with mistreating his family, etc. A suit for divorce and a division of the estate was also a feature in the proceedings, the division was made all right, and the suit for divorce is pending, but the latter suffered a setback one day this week, when Mr. and Mrs. Allen again joined their fortunes for good or for bad, and left for an extended bridal tour; extended we mean to say, because they left in the direction of Stillmore and other points up that way.

This is the third time that this family has been wrecked by dissensions and followed by a re-union.

Young Thief Nipped in Bud.

Jim, the 15-year-old boy of Jim Love, a well known negro living in South Statesboro, was nipped early yesterday morning with a lot of canned goods and a bicycle pump in his possession. Night Watchman Morgan spied the youngster about 4:30 with an arm full of these goods, and interrogated him as to where he obtained them. A number of lies were told as to where he got so many goods at such an unseasonable hour, but the officer would not shake off, and nabbed the kid while the dew was still on him. Later he made a confession and told where he obtained the stuff. The canned goods were obtained from Mr. O. H. Hamilton. They were in a warehouse back of the store, and by some reason the door had been left unlocked, and a prowling around saw his opportunity and laid hold of some of them. Passing by Mr. L. F. Davis' bicycle shop he saw a bright bicycle pump in the window and took it along too. He pleaded guilty before Judge Brannen and was given ten months for stealing the canned goods and four months for the bicycle pump.

The fines will amount to about $150. His father has a little piece of land in the edge of town and is making an effort to settle the fine and keep his boy out of the gang, but he is to the credit of the boy, this as he was, he asked that he be allowed to work it out in the gang rather than see his father's sacrifice his little home.

One of the greatest blessings a modest man can wish for is a good, reliable set of bowels. BIG FIRE AT ENAL

Elder A. J. Brown Has Much to Lose When He Loses of Barn and Stables.

On Saturday night the barn and stables of Elder A. J. Brown, at Enal, were destroyed by fire, together with two fine mules.

Mr. Brown and family were away from home at the time visiting at the home of Mr. Geo. A. Hart at Zoar, and knew nothing of the fire until late next day, when Messrs. R. and W. H. Simmons drove out and told him about the sad fate that had visited his home during his absence.

Mr. Brown had just harvested his entire oat crop, which was in the barn burned, and other feed stuff was consumed.

Two fine mules which he prized very highly were burned to death before they could be rescued from the flames. We did not learn the origin of this fire, in fact we understand that it is not known whether it was of an incendiary origin or not. This part of the affair will be investigated, however, and efforts made to bring the guilty party to justice, if it turns out that the deadly hand of an incendiary had anything to do with the fire.

CLARY, STATESBORO GA.

It has been estimated by Dr. John M. Clarke, New York State Geologist, that when $0,000 cubic feet of water per second have been taken away from the present flow "the Canadian channel will still be an interesting object, but the American Falls will be wholly gone." The reason why the American Falls will go first is that their sill is more elevated than that of the Canadian Falls, says the New York Times.

Human nature is much like it was centuries ago, when the poet wrote of the very rich of the Augustan era of Rome: "The covetous man is always in want." He is in want, he has the longing of the beggar, though he is the possessor of tens of millions. And thus did Horace, ignorant perhaps of the sermon on the Mount, picture in satire a trust magnate of the American republic of our day, relates the Washington Post. Solomon would have added some of our trusts to the things that "say not it is enough," if they had existed in his day.

An Austrian statistician publishes the results of curious examinations he has made as to the frequency of crime on the several days of the week. His investigations extended over several years and several provinces of the Austrian Empire. Of the 723 cases examined this is the result: Sunday, 254; Monday, 125; Tuesday, 69; Wednesday, 63; Thursday, 62; Friday, 48; Saturday, 103. On Sundays, continues the New York World, when public houses are most frequented and most alcohol is consumed, most crime occurs; on Monday people are still under the influence of their Sunday passions, and the number recedes until Saturday, which is pay day. Saturday does not reach the figures of Sunday because, the public houses are frequented only in the evening.

Contrary to the experience of Chicago and Buffalo after their expositions, St. Louis, to quote the Chicago Democrat, "has a building boom, a boom in postal receipts and a business boom generally." As one of the incidents of this booming spirit and the rejuvenation of the city by the big bridge, a Million club has been organized, whose object, as its name implies, is to increase the population of the city to the million mark, and the time limit set for this accomplishment is that of the next decennial census of the United States, says the New York Tribune. To achieve this aim, which seems a desirable thing to ambitious and enterprising St. Louis people, The Globe-Democrat says only two things are necessary: "Make the advantages of the city known and make the city worthy of its advantages."

Commandant Jan Louw, the Boer officer, who refused to lay down his arms when his fellow-countrymen surrendered to the British, and who fled to the Longberg mountains on the borders of German West Africa with his band of burgher fighters, has been successfully resisting the combined English and German forces in South Africa for more than two years. In June, 1902, when the Boer army capitulated, Louw fled with only about 300 men. Within the first year, however, this number was increased to 2000, and today he is said to have a combined force of 8000 sturdy warriors under his command. Many Boers still believe that their country can be reclaimed, and many of them look to Louw as the man who will start the next rebellion, the Argonaut states. There exists an understanding among the Boers and their sympathizers that the next uprising will be in 1906, and it is also stated that 15,000 men have agreed to respond to the commandant's call.

Stephens Also Took Shot at a Passing Milkman Before Exterminating Himself—No Cause for Tragedy Assigned.

Edwin Stephens, living at Ross Valley, Marin county, California, murdered his wife, shot his five children, three of whom died instantly, attempted to murder a passing milkman, and then ended his own life, Wednesday morning.

Stephens, who was 35 years old, was formerly a book agent, but later was said to be connected with a rubber goods house in San Francisco. The family also conducted a chicken ranch at their home in Ross Valley. Early Wednesday morning Stephens emerged from the house, revolver in hand, and fired upon a passing milkman. The milkman whipped up his horse and Stephens pursued him for two hundred yards, firing as he ran. Stephens then halted in the roadway, placed the revolver to his breast, discharged the weapon. The bullet did not end his life, and he sent a second fatal bullet through his brain.

When neighbors and neighbors entered the home of Stephens, they came upon a shocking scene. The members of the family, each with a revolver wound in the head, were found in their beds. The wife and three of the children were dead, while two wounded children died a few hours later at a hospital. The children ranged from one to eleven years of age.

There is no known reason for the tragedy, but the theory is advanced that Stephens became suddenly insane.

RUSSIAN PRINCE BLAIN.

Bomb Thrower Exterminates the Governor of Baku, Caucasus.

The governor of Baku, Caucasus, Prince Nakhichev, was assassinated Wednesday afternoon, by a bomb which was thrown at his carriage. A lieutenant, who was accompanying the governor, and a bystander were also killed by the explosion, and the coachman is believed to have been fatally injured.

Though no details of the assassination were received in St. Petersburg, it is thought that the outrage was the work of the Armenian revolutionary committee, in revenge, for the attitude taken by the prince during the racial war between Armenians and Tartars in February last, and is not attributed to the Russian terrorists, even though the latter are at present extremely active in many parts of the empire.

The Armenians laid the responsibility for the deaths of these slain in February at the door of Prince Nakhichev, and only Tuesday suit was begun against the prince before the senate tribunal at St. Petersburg in behalf of the children of Laidoff, a Baku millionaire, whose house was stormed and burned, and himself and wife and parents killed during the riot.

SECTIONS ARE UNITED

So Declared Governor of Ohio in a Speech Dedicating Federal Monuments in Vicksburg, Miss.

Forty monuments erected by the state of Ohio to its soldiers who fell in the siege of Vicksburg, Miss., were dedicated in the national military park in that city Monday. The services were largely attended. Governor Herrick and staff of Ohio with a party of 150 union veterans from Ohio and the first regiment of Ohio national guard, were cordially received. Governor Herrick and Governor Vandaman of Mississippi reviewed a procession of the Ohio and Mississippi national guard during the morning. Later, at the park, the dedicatory program was carried out. An address by Governor Herrick was listened to with marked attention and his reference to the "family quarrel" of those who wore the blue and the gray was loudly cheered.

The visiting Ohioans were tendered a barbecue Monday afternoon and a camp fire was held at night. At the dedication ceremonies, Governor Herrick said in part: "This family of states is too often the case with other families, became estranged because of divergent opinions in regard to something inherited from the fathers—the institution of slavery—but, family like, were finally brought together around the open graves of their loved ones."

"The prophecy of Lincoln, uttered while yet the terrible storm was brewing, displaying the provision of a seer, has been fulfilled: 'The warring chords of memory stretching from every battle field and patriot grave to every living heart and hearthstone all over this broad land will yet swell the chorus of the union, when age touched, as surely they will be, by the better angels of our nature.' Had Lincoln lived there can be no doubt that the readjustment would have come long before it did, and the mistakes of reconstruction policy, which were harder to bear for many than the war, would have never occurred. The reconciliation has been slow, but it is now happily complete."

"Many peoples have been working to obliterate the bitterness, hatred and distrust once existing between the sections. It remained for the policy pursued in connection with the Spanish-American war, when the last vestige of suspicion or hostility that lingered between the north and south. When President McKinley gave General Fitzhugh Lee and Joe Wheeler commissions in the army of the United States, he but expressed the confidence in the loyalty of the south which was held by the people of the north."

EDWARDS OFFERED GOOD JOB.

A Rumor in Washington Greatly Interests Local Georgia Colony.

The Georgia colony in Washington has been interested by a rumor which emanated from the vicinity of the white house Tuesday to the effect that the president has practically reached a solution of the difficulties with which the department has been confronted in the matter of the appointment of collector of internal revenue for the district of Georgia.

The rumor is to the effect that the president has practically decided to appoint a white republican to succeed Rucker, the incumbent at Atlanta, who has held the position for two successive terms, and whose failure of reappointment would be chargeable to no dereliction of duty on his part, but merely to the enforcement of the general policy established by the president in matters of this kind and as illustrated by his recent practice.

The rumor states, further, that it is the purpose of the president to tender the appointment to Mr. Harry Smith Edwards of Macon, Ga., who is known to be a close friend of the administration and who enjoys the personal confidence of the president. It is also stated that the appointment has not been solicited by Mr. Edwards.

MAYOR HAS NERVE

Philadelphia Chief Executive Forces Officials Out.

INSTALLS HIS OWN MEN

War Over Leasing of City Gas Plant Resolves an Interesting and Acute Stage—People Are With the Mayor in His Contention.

At Philadelphia Thursday Mayor Weaver took forcible possession of the offices of director of public safety and director of public works.

Neither Director Smyth nor Director Costello offered serious resistance. Four detectives are now on guard at the offices.

Accompanied by his counsel and four detectives, Mayor Weaver went to the office of Director of Public Safety Smyth. He informed that of fact that he had been dismissed and that his presence in the office was a trespass. Director Smyth withdrew from the office.

The mayor placed two detectives in charge, and then went to the office of Director of Public Works Costello, where the same ceremony was repeated.

Mr. Costello also quit his office and detectives were placed in charge.

Rumor was current that the republican organization leaders intend to impeach Mayor Weaver. With this end in view, it is said, a special meeting of selected council will be called for the purpose. Malfeasance in office is the ground upon which the impeachment proceedings will be based. The organization leaders claim they have the proof to sustain the charges.

A writ of special superadues was granted during the day by Chief Justice Mitchell and Justice Potter of the supreme court to former Judge Gordon, counsel for Mayor Weaver, in the injunction proceedings brought before Judge Ralston in the court of common pleas to prevent the mayor from removing from office Directors Smyth and Costello. The writ removes the injunction granted Wednesday and allows the directors to resume their duties without their salaries.

Acting on the writ of superadues, the new directors at once assumed charge of their offices.

In the meantime the supreme court investigated the case. A dramatic incident of the day was the ovation given Mayor Weaver by several thousand persons on his way from the city hall to the Union League for lunch. It was a sensational demonstration and looked upon by those opposed to the lease as an indication of the trend of popular sentiment.

Announcement is made by President J. A. Taylor of the National Cotton Ginners' Association that the organization will postpone the issuance of its acreage report.

ROY IS HUNTING TOGO

Such is Assertion Made at Russian Admiralty Department—High Official Talk of Situation.

A St. Petersburg special says: Admiral Avellan, head of the Russian admiralty department, confirms the dispatches saying Vice Admiral Rojestvensky is steaming north to give battle to Admiral Togo. He considers it possible that news to the effect that the two fleets have met may be received any day.

In an interesting interview Admiral Avellan confirmed the unofficial reports that Admiral Rojestvensky has broken down and asked to be relieved.

"Even before he left," said Avellan, "Rojestvensky was a sufferer from neuralgia trouble, but his health is now no worse."

"Do you anticipate a sea fight soon?" the admiral was asked. He replied: "Certainly. The Japanese cannot afford to allow Rojestvensky to reach Vladivostok without an engagement. I personally expect it to take place in the near future, though I admit the admiralty knows nothing of Rojestvensky's strategy. The emperor having accorded him complete freedom of action. Possibly it is his present purpose to seek Admiral Togo and force a fight, but it is more probable that Rojestvensky is bound for his base at Vladivostok. However, I can say nothing definite on this point."

In response to a suggestion that Togo might intentionally allow Rojestvensky to get to Vladivostok, contenting himself with torpedo attacks, and then try to bottle up Rojestvensky in Vladivostok, Admiral Avellan smiled and said:

"If Admiral Togo is not the kind of man to allow himself to be locked up in a port. If he gets to Vladivostok he will not rest on his laurels, but will seek an engagement. He will try to wrest the mastery of the sea from Togo. There are many ways of compelling Togo to accept battle. Rojestvensky will only have to bombard one of the coast cities to force Togo to appear in his defense."

Admiral Avellan repudiates the reports that a number of chartered colliers sent to Vladivostok were captured by the Japanese, owing to the compliance of their captains who arranged to receive half the price of their cargoes for betraying their route and time of departure. The admiral explains that the colliers were sent through delay in receipt of orders telegraphed to them by the admiralty to go to Vladivostok by way of La Perouse straits instead of through the straits of Korea. Two of these vessels which passed through the straits arrived safely at Vladivostok.

Admiral Birtle left St. Petersburg for Vladivostok Thursday by special train. All other trains will be sidetracked in order to enable his train to get to Vladivostok quickly. The admiral expects to make a record trip in order to reach his post before Rojestvensky arrives.

An admiral of high rank gave out the following: "We have known for some time that Rojestvensky would not attempt to pass through the straits of Formosa, where he would be in the shallow and could easily be mined ahead of his ships. Rojestvensky will undoubtedly keep far out to sea in order to avoid torpedo attacks. A wide drift will also make it difficult for the Japanese scouts to communicate with Togo. However, I expect news of a battle within ten days."

The evening papers got out extras on the report of Rojestvensky's victory and the newspapers cried the tidings on the Nevsky prospect were almost mobbed by the people in their eagerness to learn the details.

TAFT LAUNCHES HIS BOOM.

Was Hero of the Hour at Ohio Republican State Convention.

A special from Columbus, Ohio, says: The big secretary of war, in his keynote speech at Wednesday's republican convention, carefully refrained from saying anything bearing upon his own political future, he was in reality the hero of the hour, and his presidential boom may fairly be said to have been launched.

The republicans of Ohio were represented by more than 1,000 delegates when the state convention to nominate governor and other state officers was called to order.

CROP NEWS OF HYDE

Furnished by Reliable Farmers Throughout South.

AN ANSWER TO JORDAN

President of the Southern Cotton Association Asked for Co-Operation of Mr. Hyde and the Lumber.

A Washington special says: The attitude of the department of agriculture toward the Southern Cotton Association, organized at New Orleans last year for the purpose of bringing about a reduction in this year's cotton acreage, has been indicated in a letter sent to Harvie Jordan, president of the association, with headquarters at Atlanta, by John Hyde, chief of the bureau of statistics of the department.

In a letter to Mr. Hyde some days ago Mr. Jordan said that the Southern Cotton Association had undertaken to prepare full, complete and correct reports on the acreage. Requests for authoritative information had been sent to secretaries and correspondents throughout the belt, he said, and in many cases house to house canvasses had been made. Bankers, merchants, manufacturers, buyers and others, including a very large number of farmers, had been asked to furnish facts, and the presidents of state and territorial divisions have been asked to meet at New Orleans on May 30 to turn in their reports and have them consolidated and published. Mr. Jordan supposed, he says, that Mr. Hyde was busy getting information on which to base his report, so he issued June 22, and he impressed on the statistician the importance of obtaining a complete report as possible and having it as nearly correct as possible.

The association would gladly co-operate with the department, he said, and in turn, desired the department's co-operation and assistance. Farmers were going quietly about and reducing their acreage, he asserted, and he urged the statistician to get as much of his information as possible from the farmers themselves.

To this letter, Mr. Hyde sent the following reply: "I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, suggesting the co-operation of your association and this department in the work of ascertaining the newly planted acreage of the cotton in the southern states."

"You do not, however, suggest any means by which such co-operation could be rendered effective, and I note that the meeting of the presidents of the several state and territorial divisions of your association to be held at New Orleans for the consolidation of their reports and the preparation of the whole report for publication has been called for a date only three days in advance of that on which the publication of the report of this department."

"I may, perhaps, be permitted to remark, however, that in the public utterances of the officers of your association there has been a manifest disposition to prejudice the situation that is entirely incompatible with the spirit in which this department conducts its investigations."

"With regard to your suggestion that this department make use of the information as possible from people who are planting cotton, I beg leave to state that fully 80 per cent of the department's county and township correspondents are farmers, and I venture to express the opinion that if, notwithstanding its most earnest endeavors, it should fail in ascertaining the exact facts relative to the new acreage planted, whatever error is made will, as usual, be one favorable to the farmers."

JAIL AWAITS STRIKERS.

Heads of Labor Unions in Chicago Stand Chances of Being Imprisoned for Contempt of Court.

Final rejection of union teamsters' demands, especially those of the express drivers, was officially announced at Chicago Wednesday by the employers. The employers demand unconditional surrender. The employers sent their goods all over the city under police protection without encountering violence.

The strike in the lumber yards spread with great rapidity and nearly all lumber business is at a standstill. Some few lumber yards are still in operation, but their volume of business is small. A number of striking mill hands and log skidders will be compelled to close entirely if the supply of lumber is not largely increased. One cause for the lack of energy on the part of the strikers in the lumber yards during the day was that the city was unable to afford drivers police protection. Mayor Duane provided against this contingency by issuing a call for 1,000 extra police, who will be sworn in as soon as applications are filed by suitable men. This will be the second 1,000 extra policemen sworn in since the beginning of the strike. Sheriff Barrett also swore in several hundred deputies, the largest number at any one time since the strike began.

President C. P. Shea of the teamsters' union, James B. Barry, business agent of the express drivers' union, Bernard Mulligan, president of the express drivers' union, and John J. Donahue, a member of the express drivers' union, will appear before Judge Kohlsaat in the United States court. Attorney Mayer, acting for the employers' association, will ask that he be sent to jail on a charge of contempt of court in refusing to answer questions before Master in Chancery Sherman, which questions they had previously been ordered to answer by the court.

Twelve Indicted for Murder.

The grand jury indicted twelve men in connection with the death of Chas. Carleton, the member of the carriage makers' union, who died as the result of the beating he received at the hands of thugs, hired by the officials of the union, according to their own story.

The indicted men are George Melier, formerly president of the union; Henry J. Neuman, secretary; Chas. J. Casey, business agent; six members of the executive committee of the union, and Charles Githolow, Marcus Looney and Edward Feeley, three men who, it is alleged, were hired by the officials of the union to beat men who did not go on strike or took the strikers' places.

The indictments charge manslaughter and conspiracy to commit bodily injury. The autopsy showed that the death of Carleton was due directly to pneumonia. The physicians declared that the disease was probably the result of injuries he received, but it was not the direct cause of death, and the men could not, therefore, be charged with murder.

Meeting at Court House on Thursday
Night Makes It Plain That Dry
Wells Are Nuisances.

Now let the council close the dry wells at once, and the people will be satisfied.

Some of them seem to think your uncle Pope Brown will be lost in the Hokus shuffle, but this is very doubtful.

What profit is it to a man, if he gains the whole world, and loses the respect and esteem of his neighbors?

Let old Joe Hall run for Governor. He knows more about the mercenaries than any one else, and is not afraid of them.

The Savannah News pays a fine tribute to Bill Findlay of Gainesville, and he deserved it, for Bill was honest and true.

There seems to be plenty of recruits to the reformers of Georgia at this time, for the wise ones have been watching the direction of the wind.

Clark Howell seems to be anxious to cross swords with Hoke Smith, but we think destiny points to Pope Brown as his antagonist.

In the world to come, some people must remember that greenbacks will burn, and that gold and silver will melt.

Now let the Legislature have the manhood to call a constitutional convention to disfranchise the venal negro vote, and the people will ratify it. Now is the time while there are no divisions, and it will be a long step forward, and we will support the candidate for Governor, who stands that way. It must come some day, and why postpone it?

The Atlanta Journal is now setting up a great howl against the railway influence in our politics. We are afraid to trust the Journal, for only last year when Joe Hall and other anti-mercenaries had succeeded in getting the bill to make the Southern railway incorporate in Georgia, through the house, the Journal was on the other side, and joined hands with the mercenaries. But probably the Journal has come over, and if so we welcome this addition to our ranks.

Why Not Raise Timber?

This section is noted for its excellent pine timber, and the forest is rapidly disappearing before the saw mill and turpentine still. Yet if people will quit burning the woods, or be careful to burn in a wet season, the lands would soon be covered again with pine growth, which in a few years would make fine trees. Nature is always seeking to replenish the earth with trees, and would do so unless the young trees are destroyed. If every farmer who has vacant lands, that have been denuded of the timber would give some attention to their protection, this section of Georgia would soon have a new growth of fine yellow pine, and it will be worth money in the years to come.

A new growth of turpentine trees will grow up in ten to fifteen years, and would bring wealth to our people in the years to come, and if they will only give some attention to the matter, nature will more than reward them for their time and attention.

Decorations Day

Why do we feel so lonesome—we old soldiers and all—when we see the old flag waving, and we hear the bugle call? What makes us feel so restless when they play upon the band some gay war tune we used to love and know and understand?

The shadows creep across the hill and vanish one by one; the blazing sun is in the sky, the weary night is done. The day comes forth with silent tread in brightest hues of May. Bright flags are waving in the sun—its Decorations Day.

The chiming morn with dewy lips and flowers sends sweet breath awake the sleeping silver bells, which chiming answereth. It calls: Awake! Oh birds, the night has flown away; Come blend thy voice in song—its Decorations Day!

O gallant sirs who lie at rest on fields of battle won, We honor you above all men that dwell beneath the sun! All honor to the beardless boys, who fearless fought and died! In this their land, their names shall be forever glorified.

O can't they see us coming from their camp beyond the trees, The old flag still a waving and a rippling in the breeze? O can't they hear us marching to the music or the band? Is there no way under heaven they can know and understand?

O dauntless men who bore the flag—the dear old Bonnie Blue—Upon a hundred battle fields, this day we raise to you Monument of honor which we swear shall never fall. Till Father Time shall fold his wings and death shall visit all.

The birds are making music and the girls are laughing gay, There where the boys are resting in their uniforms of gray. The morning bells are chiming over valley, hill and plain, A plaintive peal that sedens me, and turns the past to pain.

The old flag waves and ripples up between the earth and sky, It seems to softly rustle out some stifled battle cry. It floats above the grassy graves and softly sings to them. Some dear old song of sixty-one—some soothing requiem.

And yet it makes us lonesome—we old soldiers one and all, When we see the old flag waving and we hear the bugle call. It makes us long to join them round the camp across the way, When the bands are playing Dixie and it's Decorations Day.

He says he had terrible pain in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured. All the pupils acquitted themselves well, and the teachers are to be congratulated on the showing they made to the patrons and spectators last night. The way the program was carried out demonstrated the fact that the proper attention has been given them during the five month term now coming to a close.

There has been little or no bluster or brag about "Our School," yet in the school room the work has been done to the children who have attended. The attendance has been steady and has held up a high standard the school through.

At the examination on yesterday it was seen that about 250 pupils had attended the entire term without stopping scarcely a day. This is indeed a creditable showing, and the News on behalf of the city takes occasion to say that we have had a good service from Prof. Seckinger and his faithful corps of teachers.

This morning at 10:30 o'clock the graduating exercises will be held, and the following pupils who have already passed will be given diplomas: Misses Nellie Averitt, Leila Blith, Anna Hughes, Annie Hedleston, Annabelle Holland, Jessie Mikell, Ruth Proctor, Myrtle Smith and Gussie Lee.

Mr. Jack Lee has tendered his resignation as freight agent to take effect June 1st. We learn that Mr. Willie Robinson will be his successor. Mr. Lee has been agent for the S. & S. continuously since the road first began in operation. He will move the post office in the east waiting room of the depot for the present and will also continue as express agent.

The most prosperous and satisfactory school year has passed into history and the patrons and friends of the Brooklet school witnessed one of the best and prettiest exhibitions Thursday and Friday nights that have ever been presented in Bulloch county. The large auditorium was packed to its capacity both nights with orderly appreciative listeners and many beautiful expressions of commendation were made concerning both teachers and pupils in their untiring zeal in presenting new and attractive plays. The costumes were superbly arranged for each act, and the actors acquitted themselves becomingly. It was a grand success in every respect, as our school from beginning to end. For each of the pupils and patrons felt grateful to cur able, efficient teachers. At the close of the exercises the graduating class presented Mr. Lewis with a handsome present, and the primary pupils presented to Mrs. Proctor a beautiful present in appreciation of their loyalty, and love as teachers. At a meeting of the board of school trustees early in the week Prof. P. B. Lewis was again unanimously elected as principal for the next term. Mr. Lewis has the matter under consideration and will doubtless accept. He has taught here for four years and has been the prime factor in the building up the Brooklet school from a wee small school to something over 100 pupils. To accommodate the increasing patronage we find it necessary to add another room to our building as well as a music hall, and three teachers will be required to do justice to the pupils in the future. There is a strong sentiment in our community to incorporate and re-district our school. The patrons are making investigations to learn of the many advantages that may be had by incorporating and when they have the necessary information, a meeting of the patrons will be called for the purpose of discussing the advisability of the proposed union.

Miss Rosalie Corson of Hubert, was the guest of Mrs. Proctor Thursday and Friday nights and attended the closing exercises of the school.

Misses Thetia Robinson, Sara Wright and Evie Hagan were the guests of friends in Brooklet Thursday and Friday nights attending the school exhibition.

Miss Bryant and Lee of Calie, attended the school closing Friday night.

Miss Ophelia and Fred Beasley and Prof. Strickland of Brag, were guests of friends in Brooklet Friday afternoon and attended the school commencement.

Miss Janie Lee accompanied by her brothers William and Jim of Enal, attended the school closing in Brooklet Friday night.

The elite of Stillson turned en masse Friday night to our school closing.

A crowd of sixteen of Statesboro's pretty girls and handsome young men attended the musical Friday night in Brooklet.

The Sunday school will have a fish fry Tuesday at the river, a large crowd is expected.

A WORD TO THE TEACHERS OF BULLOCH.

It was my privilege on last Saturday at the teachers meeting to discuss the teaching of the principle and infinite. It has my intention to give a few suggestions in regard to the teaching of English generally, but lack of time prevented, so I take this opportunity to give them.

One of the most astonishing things in connection with the education of our country is the utter neglect to the study of English has suffered, and is now suffering. Few deny the importance of a thorough knowledge of their mother tongue, but are disposed to treat it with indifference simply because it happens to be a difficult subject. For this reason alone it should engage attention to say nothing of the value of a knowledge of English as an essential to all knowledge that is practically useful. One of the main reasons that the subject is neglected is because of the obvious ignorance of the teachers of our country upon this subject all teachers who happen to read this will pardon me for urging more thorough study of their mother tongue for no one can teach what he is not thoroughly acquainted with, nor is it possible to arouse an interest on the part of the pupils.

I might say that the secret of all success in teaching grammar is through analysis, the teacher being qualified for this work, as a matter of course, the mastering of all definitions necessary to analysis is the first step. These should be learned so that they can be repeated instantly, but these rules will be of no service if not applied to the sentence.

We must remember that English grammar is nothing more or less than "The science of the English sentence," and can be understood only through the sentence. No teacher should be bound to any one text book, or to any set of rules, for every rule he ever gives a child will banish sooner or later, but they are the starting point.

Stripped from my place at Statesboro one large black bull named about three weeks ago heavy with pig. Marked with crop and split under pig. In each ear, with her left ear nearly gnawed off by dogs. Any one that will take her up and notify me at Statesboro I will pay them for all trouble.

Rothschild, Great Banker,

Dies in Home in Paris.

Paris, May 26.—Baron Alphonse Rothschild, head of the great banking house of that name, died at 6 o'clock this morning as the result of a relapse yesterday.

On May 18 the baron was reported suffering merely with the gout and influenza, and that there was no cause for alarm. Despite this reassuring report rumors were circulated on the Bourse at that time that the financier was dying.

Advertisements in Statesboro News Pays.

Mr. Clary, the hustling merchant on North Main street, informs us that he sold at least $150 worth of goods on Saturday for the cash, that he thought was traceable directly to an advertisement in the Statesboro News inserted during the week. The News reaches all the people, and does it twice-a-week. It has a circulation not approached in this territory, and if you have something to sell and it has merit to it, it will be a dull day for you if you use these columns and get no returns.

Half Storm Did Heavy Damage.

Dublin, Ga., May 26.—Later reports from the half storm which swept over this county a few days ago indicate that damage was done to the extent of many thousands of dollars. Some farms were ruined completely, no cotton or corn being left standing. In some sections chickens, pigs and turkeys were killed, shingles were knocked from the roof of houses and window panes were broken.

The storm was accompanied by high wind. In one or two places in the county fences were blown down, trees felled and roofs damaged. Outhouses were blown almost entirely away. The down-pour of rain was tremendous. The main storm was about a half mile in width and crossed the county, going from northwest to southeast. The hail and wind reached further out than this, but the damage was slight in comparison with the damage done in the track of the storm, where the hail stones were as large as hen eggs, and fell so thick and fast as to completely cover the ground.

Samples of cotton and corn stalks have been brought here from the storm center, which contain not a leaf or a blade. It is said that entire fields of cotton and corn will have to be replanted.

Mr. Wilkes Beasom will replant his entire ten horse farm. Wm. Kea was damaged to the extent of $500 or $600; L. B. Linder suffered fully as much; Louis Parker suffered great loss, and other farmers report much damage done.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was a specter," writes Ralph F. Fernandes, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest of life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. No wonder was the effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at W. H. Ellis' drug store; price 50 cents.
