PULASKI.

Well as I hardly ever hear anything from our prosperous little town I will write a few dots as I like to hear from all over the county.

Pulaski is rushing now. We have a doctor, a new brick drug store and post office combined. Dr. Jordan is a fine doctor and is very much liked by the people.

Mr. Charlie Green is having a nice little brick store erected.

Prof. Bowen's school will close next Friday. Mr. Bowen has taught a very successful school and I think the scholars are all expecting a nice time at the close.

The crops in this section are looking fine considering the weather and the fight with General Green, but the farmers have a stout gained the victory.

Mr. J. L. Green has the first piece of cotton in this section. It is knee high and will soon be blossoming.

Mr. Rastus Braunen, who has been going to school at Pulaski, will return home Friday to attend Mr. Lemmie Mikell's school, who is teaching near Statesboro.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets Better than a Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Truett, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine. For sale by all Druggists.

The First Watermelon.

Mr. J. R. Miller, of the News, reports the first ripe watermelon of the season, and reporting it is about all he seems to have got out of it. He has a patch in town and did not know that he had a ripe melon until yesterday morning when some folks were passing the field found where some sneak thief had slipped in and stole one and out it is on the outside. Enough of the melon was left to tell that it was ripe. This is pretty aggravating. If the man or boy is caught who stole that one or the next one it will be made hot for him.

Along with the Daily Papers.

Our readers have doubtless noticed that when there is an important news item happening, it does not take a week to get it through these columns. Our Twice-a-week issue enables us to handle the news while it is fresh. For an example The News published an account of the big naval battle between Russia and Japan in its Tuesday's edition, right along with the daily papers. True some of them had partial accounts on Monday, but it was Tuesday before the full account came and it came out in the News along with the daily press.

Big Fish Fry in the 48th.

Miss Irene Beasley's school closed last Thursday and her patrons and friends gave her a fish fry on Friday at the Williams' landing. Miss Beasley has won the admiration of both the pupils and patrons of that neighborhood by her able and constant work.

Quite a number of communities were represented. Rev. T. J. Cobb, Sam Williams, Col. J. M. Murphy, Mal Atkins, J. E. Brannen and some others were from Statesboro. The whole place was completely filled with ladies and gentlemen, the relatives, friends and acquaintances of the pupils and the supporters and advocates of our excellent school system. The crowd was an unmistakable evidence of the interest felt in education.

The county school commissioner gave us a brief but pointed address, and I shall only say that those of us who listened to it felt that we were glad that we enjoyed the privilege of hearing it. Certainly his address was replete with good advice imparted in the most beautiful and chaste language.

A bountiful dinner was spread and there was plenty of good things to feed every body and plenty to spare.

That is a very prosperous community of good farmers, and they are now moving upward in the cause of education as well as in farming. How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood, and how dear to us too are the dear old friends of former days.

Some of them, Rev. W. O. Darsey and Dr. I. S. L. Miller among the number, seems to bid defiance to old father time and appear to have all the freshness and vigor of early years; upon other dear friends, however, time has left its impress in the frosted hair and furrowed cheek, but they only seem dearer to us as times ravages tell upon them.

An old lady said, speaking of secular papers that "Jim Miller is giving us the grandest paper in Georgia."

In our great contest with the corporations, the lobby, and the ring in the election of governor three years ago, every man whose name is now mentioned in connection with this office, with the single exception of the Hon. James M. Smith, of Oglethorpe county, was then actively engaged in the opposition to our candidate.

I felt and when we came to the parting at the river, for I had spent a pleasant day, but I must stop. More anon.

JOE HILL HALL FLAYS HOKE SMITH

Leader of Reform Movement in Georgia Refuses to Embrace Recent Convert as a Leader—Should Start in the Ranks and Work Up.

Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Hon. Joe Hill Hall will not support Hon. Hoke Smith for governor of Georgia.

For some days past reports have been freely circulated in various parts of the state to the effect that Mr. Hall, the recognized leader of the reformers in Georgia, was in line with Mr. Hoke Smith and would support him for governor.

No little stress was laid on this by the friends of the recently announced candidate and it was freely predicted that such report would help Mr. Smith considerably.

When these reports reached Macon a News reporter called on Mr. Hall and interviewed him as to the truth of the news being circulated in an effort to further the chances of the Atlanta lawyer in his efforts to land the gubernatorial plum.

The first words spoken by Mr. Hall in answer to the reporter's questions left no doubt as to the absurdity of the reports. In fact the Bibb legislator's language was emphatic on the subject.

In addition to denying the truth of the reports and announcing his intention of fighting Mr. Smith's candidacy, Mr. Hall made it plain that this paper fought reform legislation which passed the house but which was killed in the senate and he now calls on the editor of that paper to reproduce an editorial written at the time.

As a result of the interview between the reporter and Mr. Hall, the following signed communication was forwarded, which shows that Mr. Hall will not only not support Hon. Hoke Smith, but will fight him:

To the Friends of True Democratic Principles in Georgia:
It has come to me from two or three sources that the friends of one of the prominent candidates for governor, the Hon. Hoke Smith, are circulating a statement to the effect that the men who have, in the legislature and before the people, stood for true democratic principle, will support this gentleman for governor. I have been urged by many of the men who have been aligned with me in this fight for the rights of all the people to make at this time a public declaration of our position.

I believe that what I now say will meet with the approval of all the friends of this great principle in Georgia. I now say to our friends in Georgia that I am not for Mr. Hoke Smith, or Mr. Howell, or any other name mentioned for governor.

In our great contest with the corporations, the lobby, and the ring in the election of governor three years ago, every man whose name is now mentioned in connection with this office, with the single exception of the Hon. James M. Smith, of Oglethorpe county, was then actively engaged in the opposition to our candidate.

I make the exception of the Hon. J. M. Smith, because I do not know how he stood at that time.

The convention that nominated the present governor of Georgia in 1902 was thoroughly and completely dominated by the Southern railroad and its influences. Mr. Hoke Smith, my recollection is, represented Fulton county in that convention and was one of the delegates from that county that cast the six votes from Fulton against the Hon. Du Pont Gurrey, and for the Hon. J. M. Terrell. Mr. Hoke Smith was with the majority in that convention; why was his voice not then raised for the principles for which he now declares?

Mr. Smith now appeals to the friends of the Hon. Du Pont Gurrey to come to his support. Will he please explain to those friends why he failed to do so? Will he please explain to those friends why he failed to do so? Will he please explain to those friends why he failed to do so?

Mr. Smith demands that the law be passed that will prevent the bribery of legislators. He would have it, if he had ever taken the trouble to do so, very difficult to enact laws of this sort. The surest prevention of influences on legislators is the elect men to the legislature who can not be so influenced. Mr. Gurrey made his magnificent campaign in the interest of the people against the lobbyist, and declared on the stump that, if he was elected governor, the Southern railroad would have to move its headquarters from the capitol of the state. As a result of Mr. Gurrey's campaign, and of the open attack upon lobbyists upon the floor of the house by Mr. Overstreet, of Screven, the hall of the legislature have been relieved during its session, from the presence of these mercenary. Isn't Mr. Smith a little late?

He says that no measure that is opposed by these special interests can be passed by the legislature. This declaration is rather sweeping. As the result of Mr. Gurrey's campaign, at the time Mr. Smith was in opposition, the people elected a house of representative who could and did pass measures that were opposed by these corporations. The franchise tax bill became a law at the last legislature; the bill to take away power from the judges of the Supreme and superior courts also was passed; the bill to tax foreign capital engaged in business in this state passed the house at its session in 1902. In 1904 the bill providing for the assessment of the property of corporations, created by the state of Virginia, for taxation, was passed by the house. In 1906 there was introduced into the house of representatives a bill requiring all foreign railroads operating in this state to become incorporated under the laws of Georgia. It is well known to the people of the state that the Southern railroad had purchased at foreclosure sales a large part of the railroads of the state. That in violation of the laws of the state, these railroads had been merged into one corporation, created by the state of Virginia, and that this corporation was operating these railroads in this state without authority from the state and in open violation of the law. The great issue was joined between the people of the state and these corporations and trusts over the passage of this bill. These corporations fully realized that the enactment of this measure into law would forever and at once put an end to their power in the government of Georgia; and in the great principle that all the people would raise his voice against this power; and in the house of representatives only forty men could be found who would cast their votes independent of this influence.

I have on the floor of the house of representatives, on the platform, on the stump, all over Georgia for seven years past struggled to free the state from control of foreign corporations, for the corrupt influences of lobby, and to establish in this state a government of the people and by the people. When I commenced this campaign for the people in 1898 these corporations had so completely subjugated the state government, and were so thoroughly masters of the people, that there was not a public man in this state who would dare raise his voice against this power; and in the house of representatives only forty men could be found who would cast their votes independent of this influence.

I never had in all the time that this great struggle with these corporations has gone on, not even as much as one word of encouragement from any man whose name is now mentioned for the office of governor.

I protest most earnestly that these great principles are too important, too vital to the best interests of the people of this state, to be sacrificed by the petty rivalry of two men and two newspapers for the control of politics in Georgia.

I now state to those men who believe in true democratic principles, and who are seeking disinterestedly to break the present political power in Georgia, that the real and true friends will, at the proper time, put forward a declaration of principles, and will name a man who will represent these principles, in the democratic primary for governor in 1908.

Plenty of Cotton Blooms.

A week ago we reported the first cotton bloom of the season. It was picked from the farm of Mr. Edmund Kennedy, Jr., on May 31st. THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

No man is indispensable, not even an employer, declares Life.

It is thoroughly feminine that the young woman who loops the loop in an automobile should faint at sight of a mouse.

Mr. Rockefeller's salary from the Standard Oil Company is said to be but $20,000. There is a tidy difference in John's case, however, between salary and income, comments Puck.

The courts have declared that the owner had the right to place a wire fence around Stenoch, no doubt that worthy will go ahead and charge visiting Americans a fee for admission, says the New York Sun. The original Sun worshippers didn't know that they were providing a source of revenue for somebody in remote ages.

The hard-worked old newspaper folk about the seedless watermelon appears once more in some of the Western papers. The enterprising reporter probably argues that if the seedless apple has made such a sensation, why not other products; never stopping to think how the watermelon without seeds could be propagated, reminds the Massachusetts Ploughman.

Women injured in a bargain counter crash in Philadelphia, women seeking free souvenirs wreck a Stapleton store window, four newsmen killed in a frenzied struggle to obtain free tickets in Indianapolis. The desire to get something for nothing may be a delusion, but it's one which is hard to eradicate from the human mind, observes the New York Evening World.

"Here is the true, the final aristocracy which never can be dispensed with, but what he does for others will be the standard by which man is judged; wherein he has sacrificed himself; wherein he has benefited others," declared Andrew Carnegie at Northampton, Mass. An aristocracy of birth, not of the alliance of birth and wealth, but of moral worth is one that a nation should cherish and honor and hope to see extended, comments the New York Tribune. But has "the final aristocracy" arrived?

Collier's Weekly observes that ne cessities make style. The object which language is to accomplish frequently determines the form it takes. Governor Folk, of Missouri, has become a notable center of pointed sentences on moral principles. Even if he is reaffirming the Decalogue he is not flat. He writes aphorisms, not banalities. Bribery he described in New York as "the treason of peace, more dangerous than the treason of war." And he said that "the patriotism of the ballot is even more necessary in a free country than the patriotism of the bullet." "No government, city, state, or national was ever better than the people made it," he wrote in the Missouri. In the present state of the world, it is not to be expected that the patriot will be able to become. And is not this a summary and very neat description of corrupt politicians' scope? "They do not know good from bad; they know it is politics, but they do not know good politics from bad politics. They have been taught that hoodlums had politics in Missouri." Mr. Folk is able to say what he means in words that, circumstances favoring, may have long life.

A conference lately held in Boston to consider how a greater number of young men could be induced to enter the ministry was attended by two bishops, five heads of theological schools and colleges, and by clergymen, editors and others—eighteen persons in all. They agreed unanimously that so far as numbers went there were ministers enough, but that what the churches needed was able and more effective men in the ministry. In the present state of the Protestant ministry seems an extraordinary profession, in which the peace of mind, as well as the maintenance, of conscientious men is exposed to too many risks, comments Harper's Weekly. It does not surprise the thoughtful observer that in spite of its great attractions the ministry finds trouble in attracting the class of recruits it needs. One of the privileges that are dear to the American mind is that of amending the details of theology whenever he thinks he has got enough new light to warrant it. A layman may do that without embarrassment, but if a minister does it he must carry his congregation with him or prepare to be charged with breach of contract.

MOVE OR BE HELD

Russian Battleships Cannot Make Repairs at Manila.

REQUEST TURNED DOWN

Permission Granted by Admiral Train is Rescinded by Secretary Taft on Order of President Roosevelt.

A Washington special says: Admiral Enquist will not be allowed to repair his ships at Manila. This government has decided that as the injuries to the vessels were not caused either by sea or storm, they will be obliged to refuse permission for the vessels to be repaired there. Monday Secretary Taft cabled the following instructions to Governor Wright at Manila regarding the ships:

"Time causing the resignation of two members of the faculty be thoroughly investigated and the true situation ascertained. The President's decision. The president's decision regarding the disposition of the Russian vessels at Manila, that they shall intern or put to sea is, it is said, in Washington, in accordance with the best naval opinion, as in pursuance of the policy of strict neutrality followed by the Washington government from the beginning of the war. It is specifically declared that there is no intention to show the slightest favoritism in the matter and everything possible will be done for the comfort of the wounded Russians. The ships when interned will, of course, be allowed to be put in a habitable condition, and such repairs as are necessary to keep them afloat will be allowed.

The decision of the president was announced after conference with Secretaries Morton and Taft. Rear Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of navigation, personally took charge of the preparation of instructions to Rear Admiral Train, who is to be in supreme charge of the details of the internment, this being the practice followed when the ships were interned at San Francisco, and was interned under the direction of the commandant of the Mare Island navy yard.

Instructions to Train. The instructions to Admiral Train when completed will be approved by the secretary and cabled to Manila in the expectation that Admiral Enquist will forthwith decide to intern the ships of the bad condition of his vessels.

The Japanese minister at Washington having formally inquired of the department of state what action the United States government intends to take respecting the Russian vessels in Manila bay, Acting Secretary Loomis responded that these vessels would be interned provided they did not leave the harbor at once. This exchange has taken place in order to formally establish the responsibility of the United States for the detention of the vessels in Manila harbor until the end of hostilities.

Russia Leaves It to Enquist. A St. Petersburg dispatch says: Both the foreign office and the admiralty say the decision whether to disarm the three Russian cruisers at Manila or effect repairs there will be left to Admiral Enquist, to determine according to his best judgment. Little doubt was felt that the cruisers will be taken until the end of the war, as before the repairs which Enquist cables are imperative could be effected, a Japanese squadron would be off Corregidor Island, waiting to capture or sink the Russian boats.

The graduates of Mercer university for the past three years are circulating a petition among the members throughout the state which will be presented to the board of trustees at the meeting in Macon for the purpose of asking that the present board causing the resignation of two members of the faculty be thoroughly investigated and the true situation ascertained.

Building of Courthouse Stopped. The injunction to stop the building of the new courthouse in Madison by direct taxation was heard before Judge Gray Lewis in Greensboro. The injunction was sustained and the authority to tax was refused to refund the bonus to the contractors.

It is said that the people feel very much relieved, as it would have been quite a burden on them to have to pay the extra tax.

Lumber Rate Case Set.

Judge Emory Speer of the United States circuit court has set for a hearing on June 20th the celebrated "lumber rate case," wherein the members of the Georgia Sawmill Association have sought to enjoin thirty railroads from increasing the rate of lumber 2 cents a hundred.

The rates complained about, however, have been in effect for the past two years, a temporary restraining order having been returned by Judge Speer when they went into effect at the instance of the railroads.

Plant to Resume Operations.

The plant of the St. Francisville Manufacturing company has been sold and will be put in operation in a very short time. Mr. W. F. Robertson of Macon is the purchaser for himself or others. It is said the new owners are able to back the mill with a million dollars if necessary. It is understood that the price paid for the property is about $55,000.

The mill went into the hands of a receiver in December, 1901, and has since been in litigation, until it was sold some months ago to those holding its bonds.

Five Negro Children Cremated.

Last Friday night near Sylvester, the family of Albert McDonald visited the family of Isaac Pennell. They locked their children up in the house and went to church, as usual, and while at church the house caught fire, six of them escaped, and five as all were burned.

When they left to go to church they locked eleven children up in the house, and when the house caught fire, six of them escaped, and five as all were burned.

Hoke Smith in Race for Governor. Hon. Hoke Smith of Atlanta has formally entered the gubernatorial race. He issued his formal announcement Saturday night, and in it briefly outlined his platform and the principles which he proposes to advocate.

In his announcement, Mr. Smith states that his candidacy is based on opposition to corporate aggression. He mentions three particular reforms which he states he will favor. These are the enlargement of the powers of the railroad commission, the election of railroad commissioners by the people and the strenuous enforcement of laws against lobbying.

Georgia's Jamestown Commission.

Georgia's Jamestown exposition commissioners held their first meeting at the state capital a few days ago, organized for work and mapped out plans which they propose to pursue with a view to having the state well represented at the coming Virginia fair.

Hon. W. N. Mitchell of Atlanta, representative of the Railroad and Old railroad, was designated by Governor Terrell as president of the commission. Mr. Mitchell is a native of Virginia, and because of his interest in both states he will use his utmost efforts toward getting the best sort of representation from Georgia.

and lodged in the tower for safe-keeping.

Both men declined to make any statement. They will appeal their cases, a motion of this kind already having been made. On April 20, 1904, the Pattersons and Stewart in Franklin. If was election day and all the men were drinking. It appears that Stewart owed Mac Patterson money, and Burrell Patterson asked him for it. Stewart did not have it, and the men had a dispute. Burrell went to his father and told him that Stewart would not pay up, when the old man handed him a son a revolver and told him to kill Stewart. Burrell returned and shot Stewart, killing him almost instantly.

Georgia Cotton Acreage Reduction. Georgia's cotton acreage has been reduced 13 per cent, as compared with last year, while there has been a reduction of a little more than 14 per cent in the amount of fertilizers used under cotton, according to the report of the state department of agriculture, made public Saturday. This estimate is based on reports received from between 500 and 1,000 correspondents in all parts of the state, as many as six or eight reports each having been received from the more important agricultural counties.

Commissioner O. B. Stevens has had all of these reports carefully analyzed and tabulated, and his May crop report is an accurate summary of them.

Commissioner Stevens predicts a big slump in the yield of cotton in the state, as compared with last year, which he attributes quite as much to providential causes as to the reduction in the acreage. "If the present unfavorable weather conditions, coupled with the scarcity of labor, continue," Commissioner Stevens said, "Georgia will not make more than 1,000,000 bales of cotton this year, with the most favorable weather condition from now on, throughout the season, the state cannot, in my opinion, make more than 1,000,000 bales, as compared with the 1,200,000 bales of 1903. The indications are, as I see them, that there will be about a 25 per cent reduction in the yield in this state, even though the reduction in acreage was much smaller than that."

Colonel Stevens' Report.

The annual report of the department of agriculture, O. B. Stevens, commissioner, has just been issued from the press. This report contains a number of interesting facts regarding the work of this department with which, perhaps, the public is not generally familiar. The department maintains four cattle inspectors in Rabun, Towns, Union and Fannin counties, the only counties in Georgia in which cattle can be shipped under the United States quarantine laws to the markets of the north and west.

By careful economy the department has saved from the annual appropriation of $10,000, during the past four years, $4,000, which has been turned back into the state treasury, notwithstanding during that time it has issued and distributed 10,000 copies of the most comprehensive work on Georgia ever published. The department has also issued 4,000 copies of a comprehensive book on "Georgia's Resources and Advantages," some of which are distributed.

The department received during the year $92,177.97 from fertilizer inspection fees, of which $65,811.57 was turned into the state treasury for the school fund, the balance going to pay the expenses of inspection.

The department received $34,449.39 from the inspection of oils, of which $10,593.28 was turned into the state treasury for the school fund. State Chemist John R. McCandless reports the inspection of more than 700,000 tons of fertilizers during the year, which necessitated a larger number of chemical analyses than ever before in the history of the department.

The state entomologist, R. L. Smith, reports the inspection of 210 nurseries, to 178 of which certificates were issued. There were also inspected 163 orchards, in fifty-eight of which the San Jose scale was found. The boll weevil quarantine has been strictly enforced.

With Hoke Smith on his trail
Hamp McWhorter may take to the woods.

It seemed to have been a kind of Hoke-Smith feud between Brown and Smith.

Last year the Atlanta Journal stood with the railroads. The it is again them. Did the papers get cut off?

Others may enter the race for governor, and make things lively next year. There is no election this year.

It is likely that Clark Howell and Hoke Smith will have about the same platform, and if so, then it will be a question of personal choice.

We fear that your uncle Jimmie Smith sold his cotton most early to become a candidate. No doubt Hoke Smith still has his cotton crop on hand.

There are lots of reformers now.
In 1898 when old Joe Hall and others started the crusade, we never heard of some of the modern reformers, who now pose as perfection on that score.

Now that the Hon. Joe Hill Hall has passed on the Hon. Hoke Smith we would like to hear from the other side of the house. What does Dick Potts think of our new reform candidate? Is Hoke "one of our kind of folks?"

Editor Sam Small reports that Rojestvensky Smith had entered the Korean straits. In last account he was engaged in a running fight with the torpedo boat destroyer, Joe Hill Hall.

The Brunswick Journal furnishes several dispatches to the effect that Clark Howell is the only pebble on the beach in all the big counties in Georgia. Has Editor Small engaged a grape vine telephone service?

Farm Lands Sold at $30 an Acre.

One instance going to show the value of Bulloch county farm lands was shown at the court house at the legal sales on Tuesday. The Jas. J. Bowen farm, lying eight miles from town, in the Emu neighborhood, was sold at administrator's sale, one third cash, and the price that the 212 acres was knocked down at was $6,825.00, or nearly $800.00 per acre. The bidding was pretty lively; it was started at $3,000.00.
The second bid was made by Mr.
R. Simmons at $5,000.00. This fairly took the crowd off their feet, but the bidding was kept up until the sale price of $6,825.00 was reached. It was knocked off to Mr. S. F. Olliff. It was rumored that Mr. Olliff bid it in for another party. While this is a valuable piece of property there are a number of farms in the same neighborhood that are worth a good deal more than this one; in fact this farm is not considered more than an average piece of property in point of value. The sale price of this is an indication as to what you will have to do if you get land in that favorable section of Bulloch county.

Just What Everyone Should Do.

Mr. J. T. Barber of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I have used." Sold by all druggists.

Why Suffer?

With Headache and Neuralgia when you can be relieved by using "Neuralgine" which is a cure for all of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I have used." Sold by all druggists.

Smith-Groover.

On Wednesday evening at the home of the brides parents, Judge and Mrs. Caleb Smith of Reids-ville, Mr. B. H. Groover and Miss Mamie Smith were united in marriage. The young couple left immediately after the marriage for a bridal tour to Atlantic Beach, Fla.

Mr. Groover is the cashier of the Tattall bank, and a former citizen of this county. He is a son of Mrs. Ella Groover of this city.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret, that for cuts, burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklin's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L.
Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at W. H.
Ellis' drug store.

By reference to our advertising columns will be seen the application for charter for the above named concern. The incorporators are Messrs. J. G. Blith, P. E. Fields and W. H. Kennedy, three of Statesboro's most successful business men. It is said that a lease has been consummated for the Outland building.

Three Games of Ball Next Week.

There will be three games of ball on the Statesboro diamond next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Helena club will come down to show us a few pointers in playing ball. It is said that Daveport, who has been pitching for Statesboro, will pitch for the Helena club. Ladies will be admitted free on Monday.

PAID TO 1906.

Mr. J. W. Dutton, of Macon, Ga., sent us in a money order for two dollars this week, which marks up his subscription to Jan. 1st 1906. He had already paid to Jan. 1906, but in order to get in on the ground floor, while two papers each week is being sent out for a dollar a year (the price of one) he decided to place his date beyond that of any other on the books. We have quite a number who have paid up to some time in 1907, but so far Mr. Dutton is the only man who has 1908 marked opposite his name on our books.

way Mr. Dutton is an old

Obituary.

Rev. Henry Island Hamilton, who will be remembered by many in this and surrounding counties, died very suddenly in Statesboro, Ga., Saturday October 29th, 1904. He was born in Massachusetts January 17th 1838. Two years before the outbreak of the civil war he came to Savannah. The principle for which the south stood appealed to him and with the armies of the confederacy he spent four years of his manhood. He then went back for a year to the state of New York, but came south again and married Miss Cynthia Kennedy February 18th 1867.
Identifying himself with the Baptist church, of which he was already a member, connecting himself with the church at Hopeful where he was shortly afterwards ordained deacon and later ordained to preach. In 1881 he moved to Illinois and in 1888 came again to the home of his adoption where he spent his remaining years of good citizenship in Bryan county, Georgia.

Besides three brothers he leaves a devoted wife, three daughters and six sons to mourn his loss, rather his gain for when time shall be no more we shall know all and rejoice with our loved ones and friends, welcomed by them as we reach the Further Shore of the great dividing River, which separates time from eternity, which separates sickness and sorrow and death from joy and happiness and life.

We shall miss him in the church where his cheerful face and kind manners and words of exhortation were always welcome.

Realizing that in the death of our brother our church has sustained a heavy loss, therefore, he is humbly re-submitted to the will of God, knowing that He does all things well.

Second: That we tender to the believed family our warmest sympathies, praying God to comfort them in their grief.

Third: That this obituary be recorded on our minutes; that a copy be sent to the family and also to the county papers and the Christian Index for publication.

Done by order of the church in conference November 10th 1904.

Committee: Mrs. J. Q. Edwards
Mr. J. Q. Edwards
Mrs. A. E. Woodward.

Correspondent.

Mr. Editor, Statesboro News:

Dear Sir: We would like to have space in your paper. Route No. 1 broke post office, thence northeast rick's corner, east to J. Bacon's ner, northwest along the settlement road via Neen post office, to Hughes corner, west along the Swainsboro road to C. M. Lanier's corner, north and northwest to Eala post office, southwest by Iler's corner, northwest along Statesboro to Donaldson's corner, office.

Disconcerting.

"Yes, sir, when the enemy charged on our position and came right over the breastworks, you ought have seen me!" exclaimed the boastful veteran, according to the New Orleans Democrat.

"Yes, that's so!" drawled an old comrade, removing his pipe slowly.

"You was there yourself, wasn't you, Jonas?" inquired the boastful one, referring to him for support with a triumph look.

"I certainly was," said the old comrade, "and I thought at the time we oughter have seen you, but nobody ever go a look at you till ten days after the fight!"

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electro Bitters did it.
He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression.
In Electro Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis druggist; price 50c.

Brooklet.

The four-year old son of Mr.
C. R. DeLany fell into a tub of boiling water Saturday and died Sunday from the effects of the burn. Mrs. DeLany is a tenant on the farm of Mr. James Laseter near here.

Rev. A. B. Crumpler, of North Carolina, is holding a meeting at the Methodist church. Good crowds attend each service and are all rewarded by good, wholesome preaching. The meeting will continue through the week, closing, probably, with the Sunday night service.

Mr. James Laseter returned Monday from Savannah, whither he has been for several weeks in the hospital for an operation. His many friends are glad to learn of his recovery.

Rain is needed very much in our community.

Mr. Willie Robinson and sister, Miss Myrtle, enjoyed a horse back ride to Statesboro Wednesday.

Mr. H. M. Robinson informs us that he will ship a car load of melons by the 20.

Mr. Remor Warnock attended a fish fry at Hubert Tuesday.

Last Friday night it was our pleasure to attend the closing of Hubert High school, which has been so successfully taught by Mrs. Rosalie Carson of Virginia.
We never witnessed a prettier exercise nor saw a stage more beautifully decorated. The people of Hubert are to be congratulated upon having secured such an efficient teacher. While the school closed on Friday a fish fry and basket dinner was had at McEl-veen's landing on Tuesday in honor of Miss Carson and it like the school exhibition, was a complete success in every particular. Miss Carson left on Thursday morning's train for her Virginia home and carries with her the love of every pupil and good wishes of each patron and friend of the school.

Mr. Boulton will move his family to Brooklet this fall.

Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm.
Myers, of Carroll, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at W. H. Ellis drug store, price 50c and $1.00 bottle. Trial bottle free.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver

Tablets Better than a Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Trubart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from country was able to compound medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine. For sale

An Explosive.

To say that I was surprised to see Mr. St. Clair's place in reply to the one I wrote on the teaching of English would be but lightly expressing it. I am indeed sorry that he has put such an unjust construction upon it.
I speak the truth when I say that I wrote the article with the best intention, and without casting any reflection on any one.

Taking it for granted that I should have entertained such an opinion of the teachers of Bulloch county does he think I have departed so far from the honor of a gentleman to tell them of it through the columns of a newspaper for the public to comment?

When I spoke of the ignorance of our people upon the subject of English, I was using a very broad general term. I have the honor of the acquaintance of an educated Scotch gentleman. He says that the Americans do not speak a pure English—have an unlimited supply of dialect that never glows on any one.

Quite a number of college professors have made the assertion in our normal schools that the hindrances with college students is their lack of knowledge of English when they enter college.

Joseph Landon, of England, laments the neglect of the study of English both in England and Europe. I think you will find this to be the verdict of most of the educators of our country.

It was these facts that led me to say what I did, and I am sorry Mr. St.
Clair confined the subject, "Our Country" to Bulloch county. I am sure the teachers of Bulloch county are as progressive and wide awake as any teachers I ever saw. They seem to be making fast progress, and I think the people of Bulloch county are earnestly co-operating with them, but I do not think we can find them an exception to this rule. I believe they are with the average, and I am proud to be able to say this.

If the teachers of Bulloch county want to weaken the record I have made as teacher in the county, simply because I happened to be from South Carolina, it is a matter of small consequence to me. I think those of my many friends who are well acquainted with me do not join Mr. St. Clair in his severe criticisms. It may be that I did not make myself plain enough and thus caused the misconception.
However, I am willing for Mr. St.
Clair or any body else to attribute it to my ignorance, lack of courtesy, lack of respect, or a "gross injustice," just as he likes it. I am not here to be accepted, and my reputation as a teacher is injured I think they must try another point.

In conclusion I will say that the reason I say that no teacher should en-slave himself to any one book, because it is an accepted fact that good English is that which is used by the best writers and speakers, hence all teachers should be thoroughly acquainted along those lines. I grant Mr. St.
Clair the liberties of a free country, and ask him to let me have the same.

I now ask the honest reader to make an investigation in regard to the statements I made in regard to the neglect of the study of English and then challenge me.

With best wishes to all the teachers of Bulloch, I am,
Yours respectfully,
HAMLIN KETRIDGE.

STILSON

A crowd of jolly good fellows enjoyed a fish fry at Lane's landing on the banks of the Ogeechee last Wednesday night as guests of Messrs. Brown and Barnhill.

We are very glad to welcome Mr. Beasley as a citizen of our fast growing little city. He has purchased the pretty little cottage recently built by Mr. W. H. Proctor on Fourth street.

Miss Bessie Brown returned home from Forsythe last Thursday, where she was attending Mourner college. Miss Bessie is a very bright and charming girl, and is a daughter of Mr. Zack Brown.

Having such a large practice Dr. F. F. Floyd has associated with him Dr. Maxwell of Valdosta.

Who said Stilson was not an up-to-date, wide awake little town? We will soon have our streets lighted as well as most towns even larger than Stilson.

Miss Courtney was at home last Wednesday evening to a number of guests at a six o'clock tea. The pretty suburban home of Miss Courtney was filled with roses and pot plants. Miss Lizzie Burned, standing with Miss Courtney, received the guests into the dainty drawing room opening into the reception hall. Misses Nellie Proctor, Susie Proctor and Oma Burned assisted the hostess in entertaining.

The ball game Saturday between Stilson and Pretoria resulted in a 14 to 5 in favor of Stilson.

Our school will close Friday, June 8th. Every is cordially invited to attend.

The Angel of Death is ever busy in his work. He has claimed and borne away the spirit of another good servant, Eliza Campbell, which was born December 17, 1852.

He was married to Miss Sarah Morris February 9, 1872. Joined the church as a member July 1872, and was baptized by Rev. Jack Miller. He moved his membership to Friendship church August, 1878; he was one of the first members to help constitute the church; he remained a member there until about twelve months ago, he moved his membership to Blitch where he remained a member until his death, which occurred March 7, 1905; Blitch church having no pastor or conference by a request of one of the members of Blitch church that we write his memoirs.

He was a good, kind, industrious and God-fearing man, and his death has been a shock to all who knew him. His death had been expected for some time, he was killed by a mule about a year before his death; he took his bed and was never able to rise. His death was a sudden one, he was suddenly taken away into eternity.

All that loving hands and medical attention could not save him. He was a kind and affectionate husband, loving father and a good neighbor. He put his whole trust in Him who doeth all things well. We feel sure that he is gone from this frowning, unfriendly world to a Heaven of peace and rest.

After the toll and trouble, After the weary conflict, Peace on the Savior's breast; And the deep heart sorrow, End of every strife; After the daily crosses, A glorious crown of life.

How sad it is to give up our loved ones, but let us content ourselves in knowing that it was God's will to be done.

Therefore, he is resolved from Friendship church that has lost a true and faithful brother, his family a faithful husband and father, and the community one of its best citizens; that we extend sympathy to bereaved family. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and lived a faithful member until his death, was buried with the usual Masonic honors at Friendship church on March 9, 1905, Rev. T. J. Cobb conducted funeral services.
