Marey E. Grimes

Statesboro, Georgia.

Jeweler and Optometrist,
Expert Watch Repairing and Eye Examinations.

Diamonds,
Watches,
Fine Jewelry,
Cut Glass Etc.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that when you anticipate investing in a good watch, a diamond ring or any piece of jewelry that it will pay you to consult me before buying. As I have had good help I am better able to turn out repair work at short notice, and can devote more time to eye examinations.

Orders by mail or express will receive our prompt attention.

EGYPT.

There was an unusual large attendance at district court here last Saturday, there being several cases of importance to dispose of.

Huge Task.
It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ga., but Electro Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electro Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis drugist; price 50c."

Benediction.

Before closing for dinner the superintendent, Mr. Peter Brunson, and manager of the day, announced that there would be plenty of dinner on the ground and everybody was cordially invited to partake of the spread and enjoy themselves.

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know that this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than much water. Cuban diarrhoea is as mild as cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas:

"I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by Druggists.

Is Improving

Mr. Editor: We are pleased to say that Mr. Henry Polot, who is in Milldeville, is able to write home to his mother, and says he wants the Statesboro News sent to him.

Mrs. Pennie Polot.

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.
By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

Probably the most effective way of inducing men to go to church would be to charge admission and issue free passes on the quiet, suggests the Kansas City Journal.

Annual boat race between Oxford and Cambridge costs each university $3000, which, an English newspaper thinks, "makes it the most expensive contest of the kind in the world." But they know better at Harvard and Yale, repeats the New York Evening World.

Little deed of kindness by a school-marm to an old man ten years ago rewarded by a bequest of $5,000. Numerous instances in the news columns during the year of like substantial cash appreciation for small favors done in time of need indicate that the sense of gratitude is not wholly extinct.

Married women barred from the ladies' chorus of the Deutsche Liederkreis, chorus of Williamsburg, and fathers declared ineligible for membership in the Married Men's club of Chipewah Falls, Wis. Twentieth century children are coming into the world to run the gamut of strange social prejudices, the New York Evening World comments.

If a hole were drilled clean through the earth, passing through its centre, and a stone were allowed to fall down the hole, what would become of it? queries the New York Evening World. The astronomer says that "if there were no air resistance it would fall clear back to the opposite side and there back again, oscillating to and fro forever, like a pendulum."

"No woman ever looks up or even plain in a hansom," says the Country Gentleman. "She sits framed by the cab, looking out of an open window, and, while she can see most comfortably and completely from her seat can be seen by those who pass most charitably enshrouded." Gallery of living pictures so framed to be seen on the avenues of afterwards corroborates this opinion.

The German chancellor, Count von Bulow, sent an order to the governor of German East Africa on December 24 last, instructing him to announce that all children of slaves in that colony born after Dec. 31, 1905, would be free. "The chancellor quoted the laws adopted in 1880 and 1901 providing for gradual abolition of slavery in the colony. Germany's policy is prudent, wise and far-seeing, declares the New York Sun. The end of another generation will probably witness the end of slavery in this large part of Africa."

Marylanders are imitating the western campaign of education in corn growing. A train carrying experienced corn culturists will be sent throughout the corn-growing districts of the state, explaining to the growers through exhibitions and lectures the latest methods of selecting seeds and handling the crop. It is argued that these teachings that follow ought to result in an average increased yield of at least ten bushels per acre. If the corn special train could travel a little farther north it might find that the growers of the Middle states and New England were not beyond the need of instruction along this line, thinks the American Cultivator.

Director Chittenden, who has had charge of the Sheffield Scientific School dietary experiments, recently reported that the men under him grew stronger the less meat they ate. The men under investigation were kept at work in the Yale gymnasium while they were on a diet of less meat and more vegetables and fruit. The gymnasium tests show a growth of muscular development of 5 to 100 percent. Disposing of surplus meat food by the digestive apparatus is much more difficult than getting rid of the surplus of vegetables and fruit. Partly digested protein frequently develops toxic qualities which either cause disease or furnish a breeding place for it. The great increase of Bright's disease and other kidney and semi-nervous troubles is attributed to the excess of meat over the normal demand of the body. These studies and investigations are valuable, and the acceptance of their conclusions would be more profitable to most families than one of Mr. Garfield's investigations of the Beef Trust, thinks the New York World.

VETS REELECT LEE

And Name New Orleans as Next Place of Meeting.

BUSINESS IS COMPLETED

Action Taken to insure Truthful History of South's Status in Civil War — Many Notable Addresses Delivered.

The United Confederate Veterans in annual reunion at Louisville re-elected their old officers as follows: Commander-in-Chief — Lieutenant General Stephen D. Lee of Mississippi; Commander — General H. H. Buckwalter.

Commander of the Tennessee Department — General C. G. Evans, Georgia; Commander of the Northern Virginia Department — C. Irving Walker, South Carolina.

New Orleans had slight difficulty in securing the convention of 1906. Nashville made a fight, which was a surprise to the convention, but the sentiment was strongly in favor of the Crescent City.

The day was a strenuous one. Two sessions were held, and much business transacted. At noon an hour was devoted to the customary memorial service in honor of the distinguished dead of the year.

The annual address to the veterans was delivered by Captain N. E. Harris of Macon, Ga. For more than two hours he held the large audience captive. At the conclusion of his address he was given an ovation.

During the progress of the business of the day it was discovered that the name of a federal officer was on the committee on resolutions. This caused a commotion among the delegates. The officer in question was Colonel S. C. Russell of Indian Territory. Colonel Russell did not attend the convention and on the protest of a Texas member of the committee, General Lee substituted the name of J. J. Kendall of Indian Territory.

Fraternizing day were those of the state encampment of Grand Army of the Republic of Indiana in session at Madison.

Other interesting reports submitted during the day were those of the history committee and the battle abbey committee. The history committee reported gratifying progress in the matter of securing accurate histories for use in southern schools. As already mentioned, the committee was organized to collect and compile the history of the state of Tennessee. The committee was organized to collect and compile the history of the state of Tennessee.

The battle abbey is now assured. It will be built in Richmond, but the exact site in that city has not been decided. The gift for $10,000 commission collected by John C. Underwood for collecting funds for this project, is still in the hands of the committee. The committee has received assurances that $50,000 more can be collected if it is needed.

The report of the Davis Monument Association says that $69,000 is up in the bank, drawing interest, and the monument to the dead chieftain is therefore assured. The reading of the report caused prolonged cheering. South Carolina's sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Lumpkin, was given an ovation by the old men in gray at the conclusion of a remarkable address of greetings. This young woman possesses a splendid voice, and she swayed her audience alternately to tears and cheers.

The spectacular feature of the reunion was the parade of the remnants of the south's once great army took place Friday. The veterans had a good rest, and the number of men in line exceeded that of any recent reunion. The line of march covered a distance of nearly three miles. A conservative estimate of the number of veterans and visitors attending the reunion, based on figures given by railroad men of experience, is placed at or near the 40,000 mark.

RUSSIA AWAIT JAPAN'S ACTION.

Statement Summarizing Negotiations to Appear in Official Gazette. Instead of publishing the text of its official reply to the message from President Roosevelt regarding the Japanese peace negotiations, the Japanese government decided with the purpose of raising the public to its confidence regarding the prospects of peace, to issue a statement summarizing the status of negotiations, which will appear in the form of communication in the foreign office gazette.

MOTHER KILLS FIVE CHILDREN.

Wife of Ranchman Goes Suddenly Insane and Runs Amuck. Mrs. George Campbell, wife of a ranchman living four miles west of Tucuman, Neb., went suddenly insane Wednesday, and with a rifle chased her husband from home. The before he could return with help she killed her five children and ended her own life by shooting.

ATTIRE WAS TOO SPARE.

Pictures Taken on President's Western Trip Ordered Destroyed, Daring Girl "Spelled" Them.

A special from Denver, Col., says: The government has ordered that hundreds of snapshots of President Roosevelt's party, taken while it was returning from the hunting trip, be destroyed. The pictures were made by residents of Glenwood Springs, and one was a moving picture by H. H. Buckwalter.

A very pretty young lady joined the party as it was nearing the springs, and her presence has caused the government order to destroy all negatives in which she appeared.

The reason for the order restraining the photographers from using the picture was that the girl was 17 years old. The picture was not in accordance with the female attire of the president's party. She was a fair riding habit, the skirt of which looked many inches of touching the ground, and where the skirt really ought to be there were a pair of neatly turned ankles. A slouch hat, a bandana handkerchief around her neck, and her sleeves rolled up "washer woman" fashion was just how she looked. And she rode astride.

Gertrude Dunn, the young woman who caused all this fuss, lives in Glenwood Springs. When she heard of the plans to photograph the presidential party she drove out with John E. Monk, who represented The New York Sun with the party.

When they came up with the president she jumped out of the buggy, and, seeing a horse standing by without a rider, she vaulted herself into the saddle and rode up behind the president just as the photographer began to get busy. The first sheet got the girl while riding just between President Roosevelt and Secretary Loeb.

CHILDREN ASSASSINATED.

Dastardly Crime Committed as Result of Long-Standing Feud.

Last Thursday night in the Habira district, a few miles north of Valdivia, a man, an unknown assassin, shot to death two children of W. L. Carter and wounded a third.

About 9 o'clock the three children went into the yard to investigate into the cause of the continued barking of their dog. When they did not return, Carter, eager to investigate, but before he could leave the room, three reports rang out, and, on reaching the yard, he found that all three children had been shot. The 16-year-old girl was dead, lying at full length on the ground. The 12-year-old boy, in mortal pain, was crawling toward the house. The younger child was not seriously injured and revived on being taken inside.

It is said by many that the murders may have been the result of a family feud of long standing. It is known that two attempts had previously been made on the life of Mr. Carter and his children may have been the innocent victims of the deadly hatred felt toward their father.

The father, it is charged, was fired on several weeks ago by J. G. Rawlings, who is also a former minister. He has been arrested under the charge of assault with intent to murder. Tuesday morning Rawlings was arrested on a bench warrant and his bond was increased $2,000, making it $2,500 in all.

Rawlings spent Tuesday night in Valdivia, so it will be easy for him, his friends claim, to prove an alibi. Prior to the attempt on Carter's life the south's once great army took place Friday. The veterans had a good rest, and the number of men in line exceeded that of any recent reunion. The line of march covered a distance of nearly three miles. A conservative estimate of the number of veterans and visitors attending the reunion, based on figures given by railroad men of experience, is placed at or near the 40,000 mark.

BOYCOTT IS UNDER WAY.

Chinese Begin Revengeful Work of Barring American Goods. The boycotting of American goods by the Chinese guilds is daily assuming more serious proportions, according to advices from Tien Tsin. The guilds have quietly determined to carry the boycott through, and the aspect for American manufacturers is rather gloomy. The native newspapers are refusing advertisements of American goods. The boycott promises to prove especially disastrous to the cotton goods trade.

NO PROOF YET SECURED.

Agricultural Secretary is Still Probing Charge of a Leak. Secretary Wilson informed the president Tuesday that he was pressing his investigation of the charges filed with him that a leak had occurred in the cotton crop reports issued by the agricultural department, but he has yet been unable to develop proof to sustain the charges.

SPECIAL WEEKEND

Train Bearing Confederate Vets Goes Over Trestle.

THREE KILLED; 29 HURT

Accident Occurred on the Southern Railway at Golden Gate, Illinois. Train Was Going at the Speed of Fifty Miles an Hour.

Three persons were killed and 29 injured in the wreck on an eastbound passenger train on the Southern railway at Golden Gate, Ill., Tuesday. The train was a Cotton Belt special, carrying Confederate veterans to the reunion at Louisville, Ky. While running at a speed of 50 miles an hour, the engine struck a spread rail on a trestle 20 feet high, and the engine and four coaches were overturned and fell to the bottom of the ravine. The engine turned completely over.

The dead are: J. J. Thies, Greenway, Ark.; J. D. Johnson, Bremen, Princeton, Ind.; unidentified woman. The train consisted of three Pullmans and four coaches. Two of the sleepers were derailed, but did not go over the trestle. The third sleeper remained on the track. The most of the injured were taken to Louisville. The others were taken westward by way of Olney, Ill. J. J. Thies, who was killed, was a merchant at Greenway, Ark. The place where the wreck occurred was 12 miles east of Albion, Ill., and at a spot difficult to reach by wire.

GREEN PREMIER SLAIN.

Assassinated by Gambler Who Used Long-Barreled Dagger. Theodore P. Delany, the popular premier of Greece, was stabbed mortally wounded by a professional gambler named Gherakaris, at the main entrance of the chamber of deputies in Athens at 5 p. m. Tuesday. The premier died within three hours. The assassin, who was immediately arrested, said he committed the deed in revenge for the outrageous measures taken by Premier Delany against the gambling houses, all of which recently were closed.

The premier arrived at the entrance of the chamber of deputies. Gherakaris approached, saluted the premier and opened the carriage door. The premier was in the act of thanking Gherakaris for his courtesy when the gambler plunged a long dagger into Mr. Delany's abdomen, inflicting a frightful wound.

The murderer was immediately overpowered by the attendants. Medical assistance was quickly secured, and the wounded statesman was taken to a Red Cross station, where an operation was performed in an effort to stop the internal hemorrhage. This was unsuccessful, and Premier Delany died at 7:30 o'clock.

The news spread quickly and it would be impossible to describe the popular evidences of sorrow or the anger of the crowd, which attempted to lynch the assassin. This was prevented by the gendarmes, who rushed their prisoner from the building to prison.

A London dispatch says: Great Britain as one of the powers signatory to the Madrid convention of 1880, in answer to the request of the sultan of Morocco to join an international conference for the consideration of the Moroccan question, has announced that its preference is not to take any part in the conference unless such action would be satisfactory to France. The United States has taken the same stand, the two powers being in accord with France that such a conference would not be the best way of promoting urgent reforms in Morocco.

MUCH PESSIMISTIC TALK

THE SLAUGHTER OF Railroad Employees

By Frederick Upham Adams.

THE appalling slaughter of railway employees due to the reversion of the old-fashioned freight car couplers so resented public sentiment, years ago, that congress was forced into passing a law making obligatory the use of automatic devices. The railroad interests had figured it out, to their own satisfaction, that it was cheaper to keep on killing and maiming tens of thousands of their men than it was to buy new couplers. Every possible influence has been employed to delay and defeat the enforcement of this law, the aim being to pass a law making obligatory the use of automatic devices. The railroad interests had figured it out, to their own satisfaction, that it was cheaper to keep on killing and maiming tens of thousands of their men than it was to buy new couplers. Every possible influence has been employed to delay and defeat the enforcement of this law, the aim being to pass a law making obligatory the use of automatic devices.

A report recently issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that the total number of casualties to persons on railways in the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, was 55,120, comprising 2787 killed and 51,343 injured. This shows a large increase over any other year. It is a large total, and, in comparison, may be said to be similar to the complete destruction of any one of such cities as Salt Lake City, San Antonio, Texas; Kansas City, Mo.; Topeka, Kansas; Waterbury, Conn.; Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania; or Augusta, Georgia, neither of which has anything like 53,000 inhabitants. In both the American and British armies, September 19, and October 7, 11, and 12, 1877, in the series of fights and movements around Saratoga, and included by E. S. Cressy, in his "Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World," there were less than twenty thousand men; while the highest total given by C. K. Adams, in Johnson's "Cyclopaedia," of the killed, wounded, and missing on both sides at Waterloo, one of the greatest battles of all time, is 54,425 men—not so many by 700 as last year's total of United States railroad casualties. The number of collisions and derailments during the past year was 11,291, involving $9,283,077 in damages to rolling stock and roadbeds. This gives the astounding increase of 648 collisions and derailments over 1902—amounting but for the reduction of employees, in 1904, by 75,000—Success.

RESPECT TO PARENTS

By Beatrice Fairfax.

ACK of respect toward their elders is a deplorable characteristic of the young people of this country. Girls speak to their parents in a manner which both they and the parents should be heartily ashamed of. The parents are quite as much to blame as the child, for this lack of respect is the result of bad upbringing. If from infancy a child is allowed to break into all conversations, to have a voice in every decision and to thrust himself forward on all occasions, the chances are that it will grow self-assertive and domineering, and as it grows older come to think that it knows more than both its parents put together.

It is a boy who will patronize his father and call him the "governor" or "old man," if he will take precedence of his mother on all occasions, answering when the latter is spoken to and acting in a general way as though she—the daughter—were the one to be most considered.

If the girl who speaks disrespectfully to her mother only knew the impression she creates on outsiders, I am sure she would try and change her way of speaking. There is nothing that so prejudices people against a girl as seeing her by word, look or deed show the slightest disrespect to her parents. The false pride that makes a girl ashamed of the hard-working mother and father, who have toiled and sacrificed themselves in order that their children may have leisure and education, is the outcome of an ugly feeling that should be strangled at its birth.

Many girls who really love their parents grow into the habit of thinking them old-fashioned and ignorant. You often hear a girl say, "Oh, mother means all right, but she doesn't know," and then the daughter goes ahead and does some foolish thing that, had she consulted her mother's wiser judgment, she might have been saved from doing.

Nothing is more in vogue these days, than mothers always know best. Guided by the instinct of love and mature wisdom, they invariably choose what is best for their children.

Not long ago I overheard a delicate mother complain of not feeling well. "Oh, mother," cried her disrespectful daughter, "I'm tired hearing of sickness; you're always ill."

What do you think of that daughter's manner to her mother, and if any man who was thinking of marrying her had been there, don't you think he would have gone away in a very different mood?

One thing that leads to this state of affairs is the bad habit of many American parents of effacing themselves when their children have visitors. The result is that the young people get into the way of thinking that they can run things themselves and that the presence of their elders is only a nuisance.

The American girl is the best girl in the world, but she is just a trifle too independent and cavalier in her treatment of her elders.

A well brought up English girl would exclaim in horror at the free and easy way her American cousins have of speaking to their parents.

Nothing is more beautiful than the tender respect and deference shown by youth to age, and it is a great shame for the American girl to let her charms be marred by this one blot.—New York Journal.

CAUSES OF UNHAPPINESS

By H. B. La Rue.

MAN is a creature of his senses; woman of her ideals. And that is the main reason that woman can never understand why men do not and cannot love as women do. "A woman loves the man that honors her; he loves the woman that takes care of his comfort. Like a dog, he loves the hand that feeds him, and no other. He may claim to have the higher ideals and exalts on them, but he must be comfortable before he can exalt on anything.

Baking Watches.

Philadelphia Bulletin.

"I will be with you in a moment. I must finish the baking of this batch of watches first."

The speaker was a jeweler. He said as he worked:

"If suppose you are surprised at the idea of watch-baking. I will explain. The machinery of a watch is delicate, yet it must work the same in winter as in summer, the same in Russia as in Cairo, the same in the Sahara as in Iceland. There is only one way to accomplish this: the watch must be regulated to heat and cold."

"I am regulating these watches to heat. Afterward, in a refrigerator, I will regulate them to cold. Then when they go out in the world they won't disgrace themselves in any climate. Chronometers must be regulated more carefully than watches. They are often kept for weeks in temperatures that are now zero and now 120 degrees."

In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by W. H. New Orleans Selected

For Next Reunion

Louisville, Ky., June 10.—The large crowd of old soldiers and visitors in Louisville attending the United Confederate Veterans' reunion were augmented today by arrival in great numbers from many nearby towns who came to see today's feature—the parade of what is left of the men who fought for the Confederacy's cause.

Although Weather Official Wals forecasted showers for the day, the indications at ten o'clock were that they might be delayed long enough to permit the veterans to pass in review before the thousands which lined the streets. A privilege which was denied Louisville five years ago when the rain fell almost steadily during the three days of the reunion.

The hour set for the parade to move was 11:30 with the understanding that should rain occur the march would be attempted again at three o'clock.

An hour before the time set for the parade to move the streets were filled with the various commands marching to their positions, accompanied by bands of music. The sidewalks were jammed with people and windows along the line of march showed thousands of spectators ready to give the veterans a reception.

At his headquarters in the Galt house, General Lee, the commander in chief and his staff were donning their uniforms and making ready for the parade. The general, who has worked almost incessantly since his arrival Louisville, shows but little effects of the strain upon him.

Adjutant General Mickle has received the following telegram: "Borden Springs, Ala., June 10. 'Gen. Wm. E. Mickle, chief of staff: 'My most grateful acknowledgments to the convention for their very kind message which is a great comfort to me. I am happy to say my health improves and I have in the good Providence of God a fine prospect of recovery. My cordial, heartfelt greeting to the old soldiers. No truer men walk the earth. (Signed) 'Alexander P. Stewart.'"

"Greeting from Albert Sidney Johnson chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy of San Francisco, and a cordial invitation to attend convention on October 8. Annie B. Voorheis."

Weather conditions improved decidedly after 10 o'clock, and by 11:30 bright weather for the parade was assured. The temperature was high and humidity was present in the atmosphere to an oppressive degree.

The start was made a few minutes before 12. Commander-in-Chief Lee and his staff, all on superb mounts, being given a rousing cheer as they took positions at the head of the column.

The parade was in three grand divisions, comprising the Trans-Mississippi Department, the department of the army of northern Virginia and the department of the army of Tennessee. Col. Bennett H. Young, commander of the Kentucky division, U. C. V., was chief marshal, and the following were in command of the three divisions:

General W. L. Cabell, Texas, commanding the Trans-Mississippi department; General C. Irvine Walker, South Carolina, commanding the department of northern Virginia; General Clement A. Evans, commanding the department of Tennessee.

Huge floats gayly decorated were provided for the veterans who were unable to walk. The usual precautions looking to the safety of the old soldiers and to their care in case of illness had been taken by the medical department of the reunion committee, many ambulances and physicians and nurses being scattered along the line of march.

The Veterans' parade was nearly two hours in passing, the representation of the old soldiers being

SCOTT'S EMULSION

A WORD IN MOTHER'S EAR, WHEN NURSING AN INFANT, AND IN THE MOTHER'S THOUGHTS WHEN SHE FEARS FOR THE HEALTH OF BOTH MOTHER AND CHILD.

Many of the old men, marching with coats on arms and fanning vigorously, could not withstand the fierce rays of the sun and dropped out of the line long before the reviewing stand was reached. General Joe Wheeler and Jefferson Hays Davis had the places of honor in the parade as special guests of the chief marshal, General Young.

The North Carolina division, owing to a misunderstanding as to the place of meeting, was the last command of veterans in line, falling in after the long column from Kentucky had passed.

The Sons of Veterans, the new commander-in-chief, Thomas M. Owen, of Montgomery, in command, brought up the rear. The representation of the Sons was lamentably small.

There were probably 85 bands and drum corps in line and great enthusiasm greeted the veterans along the entire route of the parade.

The business section of the city was jammed with people, and street car service was almost totally abandoned during the parade.

LOST NOTE. Lost out of my pocket, either on my farm or elsewhere, some time during the early part of this year, one note for $300.00 payable to me, and due January 1st 1905; signed by J. D. Tillman with J. E. Anderson as security. This June the 5th 1905. Edmund Kennedy.

Dr. Benjamin Jordan, Pulaski, Ga. DAY AND NIGHT. CALLS ANSWERED PROMPTLY.

Planting Cotton in Georgia. TOM WATSON'S MAGAZINE. On such a day, such a cloudless, radiant, flower-wetted day, the horseman slackens the reins as he rides through lanes and quiet fields; and he dares to dream that the children of God once loved each other.

On such a day one may dream that the time might come when they would do so again.

Rein in and stop, here on this high hill! Look north, look east, where the sun rises, look South, look west where the sun sets—on all sides the scene is the same. In every field the steady mule, the steady plowman and the children dropping corn.

In these furrows lie the food of the republic: on these fields depend life and health and happiness.

Halt those children—and see how the cheek of the world would blanch at thought of famine!

Paralyze that plowman and see how national bankruptcy would shatter every city in the union.

Dropping corn! a simple thing, you say. And yet, as those white seeds rattle down to the sod and hide away for a season, it needs no peculiar strength of fancy to see a Jacob's ladder crowded with ascending blessings.

Scornfully the railroad king would glance at these small teams in each small field; yet check these corn droppers and his cars would rot on the road and rust would devour the engines in the round-house. The banker would ride through these fields thinking only of his hoarded millions, nor would he ever staid himself with the thought that his millions would melt away in mist were those tiny hands never more to be found dropping corn. The bondholder, proud in all the security of the untaxed receiver of other people's taxes, would see in these fields merely the industry from which he gathers tribute; it would never dawn on his mind that without the opening of those furrows and the hurrying army of children dropping corn his bond wouldn't be worth the paper it is written on.

Yet it is literally so. Feed the world, and it can live, work, produce and march on. Starve it and what becomes of railroads, banks, mills, mines, notes, mortgages and bonds?

How much of your gold can you eat? How many of your diamonds will answer the need of a loaf? But enough.

So with many an unspoken thought I ride homeward, thinking of those who plant the corn. And hard indeed would be the heart that, knowing what these people do and bear and suffer, yet would not fashion this prayer to the favored of the republic: "O rulers, law makers, soldiers, judges, bankers, merchants, editors, lawyers, doctors, preachers, bondholders! Be not so unkindful of the toil and misery of those who feed you!"

No Secret About It. It is no secret, that for cuts, burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklin's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at W. H. Ellis' drug store.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Great
Due to Uterine Disorders
Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can I describe the woman who knows that there is something wrong with her uterus?

How often do we hear our apprehensions, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep, I should like to," or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable. You are ill, but

The relation of the nervous system to the generative organs in women is so close that the health of the nervous system, procreation, nervous debility, the blues, apoplexism and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the system. The most common cause is the File of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the ovaries and the uterus, the head aches, the nervous dyspepsia. A tendency to cry at the least provocation. All this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve the distressing condition of the system, but the procreation and suffering so much as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 101 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced since I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, but now I feel like a new woman."

every night and I have dreamed and got no sleep, and life was a burden. I was able to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has worked wonders for me.
I had a cold which had become so all-gone and my friends say I look ten years younger."

Will not the volume of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, rather than get well when you can be so easily cured as other women.

Dogs Always Honest.

Houston Pose.

"There is one peculiar thing about dogs," remarked a well-known local fancier and humorist, "and that is you never saw one pant and wag his tail at the same time. A dog is not capable of a double emotion. He can't growl and wag his tail at the same time, for it is impossible for him to be mad at one end and glad at the other."

"If a dog is glad to see his master he will bark and wag his tail. If he wants to get into the house he will paw at the door, whine and wag his tail, but they are all symptoms of one and the same emotion. But if his master opens the door he will cease to show anxiety immediately by whining and will show pleasure only by the wagging of his tail."

"In order to get a man's temper one must watch his eyes, but for a dog's you have to watch his tail. The dog is likewise incapable of deceit, and hence he is nothing of a politician. He deceives none not even his master. If he is overjoyed every emotion is indicative of that fact, and his whole make-up gives ample testimony to it. If he is displeased or angered it is the same way."

Negotiations for Peace Are Now Under Way.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—The question of the place of the meeting of the Russian and Japanese representatives has been reopened and there is a possibility that The Hague instead of Washington may be selected. After the announcement that Washington had been selected, Russia expressed a desire to have the selection reconsidered and exchanges to that end are now proceeding before Foreign Minister Lamsdorf and Ambassador Meyer and Washington. Russia's preference for The Hague is based on the obvious advantages that it is entirely neutralized, the capital of a small state and the site of the arbitration court, and also by considerations of time, the representatives to whom Russia will probably entrust the negotiations being now in Europe, while it is pointed out that either the United States or Holland is equally accessible to plenipotentiaries coming from Japan. The influence of Russia's ally, France, is also for The Hague, which the foreign office announces is the only place under consideration aside from Washington.

Dispatches from the front are irreconcilable in tone. The correspondent with the Russian army in Manchuria telegraphs that the feeling there is against any but a most honorable peace, as the army is better in personnel, armament and equipment than ever before. THERE WERE EXCHANGES. Washington, June 17.—Subsequent to the designation of Washington as the seat of conference between the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan, some exchanges were had between the United States and Russia looking, on the part of Russia, to a re-opening of the place of the conference. The precise nature of the exchanges is not known but it is learned here officially that no change in the location of the conference is at all probable. Both the Russian and Japanese governments consented that the conference should be held in Washington after Japan had presented to President Roosevelt its objection to The Hague, or any other European capital. The official announcement of the selection of Washington is regarded as final, so far as the matter of location is concerned. No change could be made without the consent of Japan and her refusal to go to Europe is said to be final.

The authoritative statement was made at the Russian embassy late tonight that Washington was acceptable to Russia and would remain so.

Infant's Death.

Little Fannie Kate, the seven months old child of Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Alexander, of Collins, passed away on Monday the 19th, after a long and tedious illness. Its little spirit took its flight after a peaceful death, leaving its fond parents to mourn the loss of their only child. Physicians and friends exhausted all their skill in trying to restore to health the little one, but all in vain. Although her time was short on earth, the Master called her home, let us be submissive.

The parents have our sympathy and prayers in their sad bereavement.

Going to London.

Rev. J. S. McLemore the pastor of the Baptist church in Statesboro will leave for London, England on next Monday. He goes as a representative of the Baptist church to attend a world's convention of the Baptist which are soon to meet in that city. He will be absent nearly two months, and during that time will see several European cities, and the different countries of the old world. Mr. McLemore came to Statesboro several years ago from Kentucky, and is highly esteemed by his church and friends all of whom wish for him a safe and happy trip.

New Hotel Going Up.

Work is progressing on Statesboro's new brick hotel, and several thousand brick are already in place. Contractor Franklin hopes to have this fine building completed by the first of November, and then our town will have one of the best hotels in all those sections of country.

Mr. J. R. Miller and daughter, Beatie, will leave this morning for Cordele to take in the annual meeting of the Georgia Weekly Press Association. They will return Thursday morning.

The annual meeting of the Bulloch County Sunday School association will be held at this place on the 28th. It is expected that there will be a large crowd out.

The Savannah & Statesboro railway ran its Tybee special on yesterday and every car was loaded to its fullest capacity before reaching Oyster. The passengers were given a four days limit to return.

The Central Railroad's Tybee special on last Thursday carried about 250 passengers who report an enjoyable day spent at that popular seaside resort.

Orders by mail or express will receive our prompt attention.

Caught Escaped Convict.

Floyd Wallace and his brother brought in a negro yesterday and delivered to the sheriff, who is thought to be an escaped convict. He was working at a saw mill near Metter, and had told some one that he was an escaped convict, and Sheriff Kendrick found it out, and got on his trail, and as stated Wallace and his brother made the arrest later. When they got him they found a big pistol in his pocket, and a razor, and in addition the negro had on three suits of clothes, while the thermometer was ninety degrees. He says his name is Will Bell, but refuses to give much account of himself, but it is thought he will be landed back to his proper gang, and then Bulloch will get him for a year. These strange, mean negroes coming into the town and country, are the ones who do most of the devilment, and as we said when the Hodges family were murdered that a negro ought not to be allowed to stop in a community until he could show a previous good character.

Samuel F. Tarver, Barlow.

On Thursday the 15th inst. Hon. Samuel F. Tarver, one of Jefferson county's most honored citizens, was buried at his home, eight miles east of here, this week. He had for the last two or three years been a sufferer from rheumatism and Bright's disease. Mr. Tarver represented his county twice in the legislature. He leaves a wife, an aged mother, and several sons and daughters.

Mr. Tarver was the father of Mrs. J. E. McCroan of Statesboro, and Mrs. D. B. Franklin of Clito.

Abated The Dry Wells.

The mayor and council at their last meeting this week passed an ordinance preventing the building of so called dry wells, and will have those closed that are already built. This is the safe and proper thing to do.

Ortic Pride.

In another article we spoke of the importance of the farmers making their place attractive with trees and flowers, and we desire to speak a few words in behalf of public pride. The old court house square had got to be a public eyesore to all nice people, when the authorities decided to fix it up. They have done this by the erection of a nice stone fence, and had the lot set out in grass and a row of shrubbery, and in a few years could be made a pretty place. There is only one trouble. Too many people want to walk over the fence, grass and shrubbery and try to destroy what time and money has been spent on it. A man ought to remember that it is his property, and that he ought to preserve it, instead of destroy it. Let every citizen take a pride in it, and he will see beauty where before it was an eyesore. While on this line, it would be a fine thing for the churches over the county, and the school grounds all to be set in shade trees, and make inviting to the boys and girls who go to school, and the people who go to church. Suppose we wake up along these lines, and try to make the world and country more beautiful, and we all will feel better and do better in the days to come.

Base Ball Excursion to Stillmore.

The Statesboro base ball team will leave for Stillmore via the Savannah & Statesboro Ry., the Seaboard to Collins, and the Stillmore Air Line to Stillmore this morning. A rate of $1.16 for the round trip has been made. The train will leave as a part of the regular passenger train at 8:30 and return at 8:45 as a special. Stillmore is supposed to have raked around and got up an aggregation that will entertain the boys. A good many of the friends of the team will go along to whom em up.

Broover—Stapleton.

On yesterday morning at the residence of Rev. T. J. Cobb, Dr. C. E. Stapleton and Miss Eva Groover were united in marriage. The bride is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Groover of Enal, who has many friends in Statesboro and throughout the county. The bridegroom is one of Bulloch's rising young physicians who resides at Harville. The News extends its hearty congratulations to the newly wedded couple.

Legislature Meets.

On next Wednesday the Georgia legislature will convene in annual session at the capital in Atlanta. Hon. H. B. Strange, our senator, and Hon. Thomas B. Thorne and Julian Anderson our representatives, will all be on hand at the opening of that August body of statesmen.

Bulloch has no special legislation of consequence to come before that tribunal, only one or two local bills having been advertised. The session will last fifty days, and we prophesy that Bulloch's able trio of the people servants will hold up their end of the log alright.
