STATESBORO, GA., TUESDAY JULY 4, 1905.

VOL. 5.

Metter Getting Busy.

Col. Julian Anderson is back from Atlanta to spend the holidays at home, as there will be no session of the legislature until tomorrow. He says that the "new county" fight is warming up to the boiling over point. It lies with this legislature the power to create eight new counties, provided for by a vote of the people last fall. He says there are at least twenty-five towns asking to have a county cut off, and they made the county seat. Most of them have opened headquarters in "The Kimball," some or them are sporting some apartments elaborately furnished and provided with a stock of good things for the friendly legislator to slake his thirst with.

Col. Anderson says that both Millen and Metter are there asking among other things that each get a slice from Bulloch. Metter has a strong delegation there and seems to have some backing, though it is said that all the representatives and senators from her immediate section are opposing her. Both representatives and senator from Bulloch are reported as being against her in this fight, as well as those of Screven, Emanuel and Tattnall. Metter has in the way of a legal adviser and co-worker no less a personage than the Hon. Manning Youmans, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. Youmans is a man of prepossessing manners, and knows how to get there when it comes to getting close to a man who has a vote to bestow. If he had been lacking in this manner before his marriage, his advantage of being the son-in-law of State Commissioner of Agriculture O. B. Stevens would have fitted him up in this line. There is not a slicker politician in the state than your "Uncle Obe," unless it is his son-in-law. Mr. Youmans was over at Cordele at the meeting of the Georgia Weekly Press Association, in the interest of his clients and the man that thinks he ain't a slick one, don't know what he is talking about, that's all. While Col. Anderson does not believe that Metter will be one of the eight lucky ones, yet he is not certain. One thing certain, the boys at Metter are putting up a game fight, and if they don't land it won't be their fault.

The situation as regards that of Millen is different, it seems that the impression is abroad that Millen is a sure winner, and the authorities of the adjoining counties recognizing this fact, have deemed it wise to get together with Millen and agree on a line of division. This seems to simplify the Millen situation altogether. It is agreed so we understand for Millen to run her line out of the Ogeechee river at the mouth of Horse creek two miles above Rocky Ford, running a straight line across the Lockhart district, to the Emanuel county line, at a point where the Lockhart and Laston districts join. This line will go about two miles above Portal, through the Sanders' neighborhood, the John L. Clark water mill will be near the line, but probably left in Bulloch.

Metter proposes to come down the Central railroad to a point half way between Pulaski and Register, cutting straight south to the Canoochee river, taking in the town of Excelsior, from the railroad she wants to run in a north-westerly direction, through the Club House and Laston districts to the Emanuel county line near the home of Mr. Abb Turner.

A committee of eight or ten members will be appointed to investigate the claims of the various counties, and recommend to the legislature which eight shall be created. Then the fight will probably be had on the floor of the house and senate.

STOLE HORSE AND WOMAN.

C. T. Boykin Arrested On Complaint of Orangeburg. S. C. Authorities. Charged With Above Offense.

C. T. Boykin was arrested last Thursday evening by city Marshal Mitchel and Deputy Sheriff Kendrick on complaint sent here from Orangeburg, S. C. authorities. The charges on which he was arrested was the theft of a horse and the desertion of his wife and six children and taking up with another woman.

When placed under arrest, the man made a bold attempt to bulldoze the officers but his efforts in this line failed to work and he was placed behind the bars. The woman he had with him, and who passed as his wife, was loud in her protestations of the innocence of her husband, but on Friday afternoon she became despondent and made an effort to commit suicide at the Hearn House, where the couple has been for the past month or more since their arrival in Statesboro. Dr. Mathews was called and under first impression thought that she had taken strychnine, but on investigation decided that she was simply playing off.

A constable from Orangeburg came over Saturday afternoon and took Boykin back to his South Carolina home where he says that to his personal knowledge he has a wife and six children, whom he deserted last December, and who have been on the town dependent for support ever since. The woman accompanied him back. She claims to have married him six months ago. Her faith in him seemed not to be shaken in the least. She said that she would never believe that he had another wife until she met her face to face. If what the officer stated was true if she accompanied them to Orangeburg she will be fully accommodated along that line.

Boykin was a stranger here and carried on a sort of itinerant peddling business, in the way of polishing silverware, tuning pianos, training pointer dogs, buying and selling chickens and eggs and selling patent paint, receipts, and various other avocations too numerous to mention. When he was called to make a start for the train on Sunday morning, he kicked like a Texas steer, when Sheriff Kendrick presented him with a pair of handcuffs for his use on the trip back home. He swore he would not wear them, but he put them on just the same.

8 LYNCHED BY MOB

Jail At Watkinsville Emptied and One White Man and Seven Negroes Riddled With Bullets.

Last Thursday morning at two o'clock a mob of about two hundred men rode quietly into Watkinsville and called out the town marshal, overpowered him and secured the jail keys, went to the jail and emptied it of eight prisoners whom they marched a short distance, tied them to a fence and riddled their bodies with bullets, all falling in a heap. There was one white man and seven negroes. Part of them were charged with murder of a farmer and his wife some weeks ago, and one day last week the home of a lady in the outskirts of town was entered by another negro and attempt at assault was made. He was arrested and placed in jail. This infuriated the people and the result was a jail clearing.

One of the negroes shot, was under sentence for the murder of another, but the date of his execution had not been fixed. Two of the prisoners who were lynched were only charged with misdemeanor offenses, and there was no positive proof that the white man or the negroes charged were the guilty parties who murdered the old man and his wife.

The mob were all heavily armed and wore masks and no one seems to know who any of them were. Governor Terrell has offered the usual rewards for the guilty parties, and the preachers are all denouncing the mob as being red handed murderers. The northern newspapers are holding up their hands in holy horror and the Georgia legislature has put its seal of condemnation on "mob violence" generally, but the negroes, both white and colored are too dead to skin, and if there is anybody in Georgia looking for lynchmen to make reward money out of he will make himself awfully scarce in that neck of woods around Watkinsville. Most people are not hunting lynchmen wanting a lot of lynchmen to be hunting them.

SHEPPARD-PROOST

On Sunday afternoon at the home of Rev. T. J. Cobb, on South Main street, Mr. Raymond J. Proost and Miss Rebecca Sheppard were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Mr. Cobb officiating, only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties were present.

The groom is one of Statesboro well known young men who has positioned himself with Uncle Sam as a mail carrier on route No. 2. His bride is the daughter of the late J. W. S. Sheppard and has many friends who will congratulate her and wish her well in the coming years. Miss Sheppard held a position in the composing rooms of the Statesboro News for the past two years and from our acquaintance of her, we make no hesitations in congratulating Mr. Proost on his good fortune.

Newspapers hereabouts hardly mention the most outrageous, but when a picture of a man in a suit, with a mustache, is shown, then comment begins, relates the Mexican Herald.

Mr. James might have said that the apple was more to New England than the olive ever can be to Italy, thinks the Boston Transcript, for the apple has no peanut or cottonseed substitute.

The immigration record has been broken again, 12,000 in one day. Between race suicide and new immigration records New York is becoming more and more a foreign city. The second generation Americans rank fourth now and will soon be fifth, concludes the New York World.

The rich and historic city of Baltimore, Md., is taking a new and larger lease of life. The people of Baltimore, by voting to issue $10,000,000 of bonds for municipal improvements, have again demonstrated a public spirit and desire for progress that will vastly increase the population, wealth, and influence of their city.

Despite the shining example of Russia, says the Indianapolis News, who, at the age of eighty-nine, is able to retire and enjoy the fruits of old age and still shape up to a young man in this country go right ahead undertaking to pay for automobiles on the installment plan, without a thought of the day that is sure to come when they may not have a penny left in their names.

It is unfortunately true that the strong-willed, "self-made" man—the man who toffily proclaims that "we will be what we will be"—is all too often a "self-made" egoist who loves himself not wisely, but too well, and who has come to regard misfortune as an entirely preventable affliction and weakness as an unpardonable sin. If sympathy for the suffering class in the world is the highest of human virtues and the keynote of a lovable character, the average "self-made" man is assuredly one of life's most unlovable failures.

I notice many commission merchants who buy berries and other vegetables and also those that get consignments, complain very much about the poor quality of goods they get, says a writer in the National Fruit Grower. They say the goods are packed on top with the fancy, and after the top is taken off the rest of the goods are very poor quality. There should be some measure taken to stop false packing, and I think it would be well for every commission merchant who has buyers at various points to require their buyers to refuse to buy goods without the names of the growers on every package of goods.

London experience also seems to show that the motor omnibus has many advantages over the trolley car from the point of view of the passenger, observes the New York Times. It travels as fast, is less subject to delay, since it can go around obstacles, goes to the curb to take on or discharge passengers, is at all times independent of the vicissitudes of an electrical system, and while a vehicle of this character may break down, it does not impede in any way the movement of other vehicles. The success of the experiment is, of course, dependent upon good pavements. Our cities need these whether we have motor omnibuses or not.

The value of a thorough education fitting a young man for his life-work is no longer a debatable question, says the Scientific American. The recent reports of the United States Bureau of Education shows that a boy with a common-school education has practically one chance in 9,000 of general recognition as a successful man in some department of human endeavor and usefulness. A high-school education increases his chances of such success by about twenty-two times, while a college education gives a young man about ten times the probability of success and advancement possessed by the high-school graduate, or about two hundred times the opportunity open to a boy with only a common-school education.

The automobile will soon be in use as a war engine.

EIGHT SLAIN BY MOB

All Prisoners Taken From Watkinsville Jail and Killed With Bullets.

A MOST HORRIBLE AFFAIR

Victims Were Eight Negroes and One White Man, the Majority of Whom Were Charged With the Murder of the Holbrook—Alleged Rapist Precipitated Trouble.

A mob entered the jail at Watkinsville, Ga., at 2 o'clock Thursday morning and took therefrom nine prisoners, eight of whom were shot to death, and the ninth escaped only by being thought dead by the mob. The prisoners taken out and lynched were: Lou J. Aycock, white, charged with the murder of F. M. Holbrook and wife, of Oconee county, and seven negroes—Rich Robinson, Lewis Robinson, Claude Elder, charged with the murder of the Holbrook couple; Sandy Price, a young negro, charged with attempted assault upon the person of Mrs. Weldon Dooley; Rich Allen, a negro convicted of murder; and Bob Harris, a negro charged with shooting another negro.

The mob went quietly into Watkinsville a little before 2 o'clock in the morning. There were about fifty or seventy-five men in the crowd. All were heavily masked and no one knew whence they came or to what point they returned. They went at once to the house of Town Marshal H. H. Alken and quietly called him to the door. As he put his head out of the door he was seized and told that he must deliver the jail key. He refused, and the men put pistols into his face and overpowered him, he being a rather small man. Alken refused to deliver, but some of the party dressed him and carried him along. The mob next seized Courtney Elder, a blacksmith, and made him bring his tools along with him. On their way to the jail they were met by A. W. Ashford, a prominent citizen of Watkinsville, who had heard the noise at the marshal's house, and came down town as soon as he could dress. Mr. Ashford begged the men to desist and let the law take its course, especially pleading for Aycock, on the ground that the evidence had not been such as to warrant his conviction. He also begged them not to lynch those not charged with capital crimes. They told him that they were cool, sober, and determined, and that he might as well go back home and go to bed.

The jail was then opened by the town marshal under the cover of several pistols, and inside the jail the mob held up J. Crow and demanded the keys to the cells. He refused at first, but surrendered them after being menaced with guns. J. Crow begged hard for Aycock on the same ground that Mr. Ashford did, and also for the two negroes who were not charged with capital crimes. Members of the attacking party told him that they were cool, sober, and determined, and that he might as well go to bed, they said, and they were going to clear out the whole jail.

The mob got every prisoner in the jail, except Ed Thrasher, a negro, charged with gambling, who was in the midmeadow side of the prison, and was not noticed. The prisoners were carried to a point some hundred yards from the jail and tied to the fence posts by their necks.

Aycock protested his innocence to the last. He said they were killing an innocent man. While the general belief in Oconee county is that Aycock was guilty, still there were many who did not believe so. Rich Robinson said it was all right, so far as he was concerned, but that three more negroes were in the Holbrook murder. He named Sidney Norris, Jim Taylor and Willie Durham as the three implicated. These negroes had been in jail before on this charge, but were released on full investigation. The other prisoners did not open their mouths during their march to their doom.

After the prisoners had been tied to the fence posts the mob lined up and fired five volleys into their bodies. All died without a struggle, with the exception of one, a white man, who was shot several times in the body, but was alive after the mob left and will recover.

A special from Terre Haute, Ind., says: Though the first official announcement that the Vigo County National Bank placed Conman's shortage at $15,000, it is now reported all the way from $50,000 to $100,000. Late reports increase the amount of worthless paper held by the bank.

Because he had been whipped with a leather strap, two feet long and two inches broad, wielded by a muscular man, an employee of the Georgia Iron and Coal company, Thomas Bures, through attorneys, has filed suit in Atlanta against that corporation for $5,000.

REBELLION ON IN RUSSIA.

More Marines in Mutiny and Deadly Shells Continue to Rain Upon Flaming Town of Odessa.

DISPATCHES FROM ODESSA, UNDER DATE

of Thursday stated that the mutineers of the battleship Kniaz Potemkin still held the ship. A great fire is destroying the shipping in the harbor, and the buildings along the shore and in the streets a continuous rattle of small arms is heard. The military everywhere are shooting into the crowds, which are panic-stricken and madly rushing hither and thither for shelter. The number of victims is large. A state of siege has been declared in the city. The conflagration on and strikers refusing to permit attempts to extinguish the flames. Three insured ships of the Pan-Russian company have been destroyed.

A St. Petersburg special says: The emperor has issued the following decree addressed to the ruling senate: "In order to guarantee public safety and to terminate the disorders at Odessa and neighboring localities, we have found it necessary to declare a state of war in Odessa and district and to invest the commander of the troops of the military district of Odessa with the rights of military authority and special rights of civil administration for the purpose of order and public tranquility."

The crew of government transport, which arrived during the day from Nicolae, mutinied, seized the officers and joined the crew of the Kniaz Potemkin, to whom they turned over the captain and other officers of the transport. It is reported that the foreign consuls have applied to their respective governments to send warships to Odessa.

It is reported that the volunteer cruiser Saratoff has been burned at Odessa. Admiral Kruger's squadron is expected to arrive at Odessa every hour. His orders are to summon the Kniaz Potemkin to surrender, and upon her refusal to sink her, after which he is to assist in restoring order in the town.

The Russian government, although it has been almost paralyzed by the terrible events at Odessa and the news that the sailors at Lithau also have mutinied, is making desperate and even frantic efforts to meet the situation, and to stamp the flames of rebellion before they can spread to the army, which is now the last bulwark of the autocracy.

With Poland red with the spirit of revolt, the Caucasus already almost in a state of civil war, the whole country profoundly stirred and the intelligent classes solidly arrayed against the government, all conditions seem ripe for the long-deferred revolution.

Mob's Action Condemned.
The people of Watkinsville stand in dumb horror at the mob's action, and on all sides expressions of condemnation are heard, especially regarding the three of the negroes, who were charged with offenses less than the capital crime. Not a man in the mob was recognized as they all wore masks, and it is believed very firmly that all were from other counties.

So quietly was the whole affair carried out that very few people of Watkinsville knew anything about it until it was all over, and the few that did know about it were powerless to prevent it.

Sherry Overby, who had been out in the county Thursday afternoon, and who did not come from his home to the jail during the night, did not know of the occurrence until daylight.

GEORGIA STILL ADVANCING DEADLOCK IN THE SENATE

House Quickly Organized and Elected Speaker—Senate Proceeds Stalled Over Selection of President.

Deaths Set Fire to Buildings in the City and Vessels in Harbor, Besides Killing Many People on the Streets.

News was sent out to the world Wednesday from Odessa stating that the red flag of revolution is hoisted at the mast of the Kniaz Potemkin, Russia's most powerful battleship in the Black Sea, which now lies in the hands of mutineers.

The captain and most of the officers were murdered and thrown overboard in the open sea, and the ship is completely in the possession of the crew. A few officers who have thrown in their lot with the mutineers.

The guns of the Kniaz Potemkin command the city, and in the streets masses of striking workmen, who day before, had fled before the violence of the troops, are now inflamed by the spectacle of open revolt on board an imperial warship, and are making a bold front against the military.

All day long Wednesday firing was heard in many quarters of the city. A number of barricades have been erected and tumult and disorder reign. The main body of the Black Sea fleet, consisting of the battleships Georgia, Pobiedonosets (George the Victorious), Tri Sviatitsa, Rostislav and Ekaterina III, with two cruisers, are momentarily expected to arrive in regular naval battle in prospect.

The rioters are in a most defiant mood, and are not inclined to surrender without fighting. The statement that the mutiny, which occurred while the battleship was at sea, are difficult to obtain, as the mutineers refuse to allow communication with the shore, but it is said that a sailor who was presenting on behalf of the crew a complaint against bad food.

The torch is used.

A dispatch from Odessa to a London news agency, dated Wednesday night, says: "The whole of the quays and the buildings around the harbor, as well as much shipping, are in flames. Mob of incendiaries, by armfuls of dynamite, prevented the fire brigade from working. The troops are completely terrorized and are afraid to approach within range of the Kniaz Potemkin's gun bombardment."

The city is appallingly illuminated by burning buildings, and terror prevails everywhere. Sleep is impossible and the whole garrison has been requisitioned for patrol duty. It is thought that it may become necessary to summon foreign warships for the protection of the foreign colonies.

COTTON ON THE UP GRADE.

Staple Advances $2.50 a Bale on New York Market.

The New York cotton market was excited Wednesday and prices advanced approximately 50 points in the various options to January. This was equivalent to an advance of 25 cents in the futures market. The market opened on Tuesday's session and a previous advance in the last two or three weeks of nearly 1 cent a pound. Unusual excitement was also attended during the day. The market opened excited at an advance of 18 to 19 points against W. A. Wright, a heavy seller of up. The upward trend was steady and in the afternoon advances were equal to about $2.50 per bale. At that time July was up 45 points at 9.64, October 45 was up 45 points at 9.64, December 45 was up 45 points at 9.64. The cause for the rise was the development of the bull campaign and bullish crop news.

hard rows.

No doubt the new county movement has given a boost to real estate in many towns, that will never be a county site.

Some people have only recently found out that the country was in the hands of the "mercenaries".
Even the Clevelandites can see the point now.

Murphy Candler lost, but he gave the opposition something to think about, and now West can shake his finger at Osborne and say, I told you so.

Probably Harry Jordan feels vindicated after all, for cotton is now around 40 cents. If he can convince the people he done it, he can throw back at your uncle Obe.

The man who puts in six days in the week at his own business will soon find that the mercenaries are not in his way, and that he will be independent of such financial autocrats as Rockefeller and Morgan.

Now we insist that if "reform" is to be the slogan of this campaign, that Joe Hill Hall, who is the author of the reforms, should not be overshadowed by Hoke Smith, nor any other latter day reformer. Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.

Looks Like Howell Will Win.

Hon. Julian Anderson, who is back from Atlanta where he has been in attendance on the opening session of the Georgia legislature, says that there is already considerable discussion about the gubernatorial race. Hon. Hoke Smith's early entrance upon a vigorous campaign has developed sentiment, even at this stage.

Col. Anderson thinks that there is no doubt but what the overwhelming sentiment among the members of the legislature and politicians in Atlanta is that Clark Howell will be an easy winner over Hoke Smith. The Georgia legislature is a representative body, and that is a straw going pretty well to show which way the wind is blowing.

At Cordele, a short time ago, does not the Georgia Weekly Press of the "association in session, it dependent upon a very large majority were under the impression that Howell was a winner. The boys of the weekly press are pretty close to the voters, and while they may get fooled sometime but it doesn't happen that way all the time. Our information is that there are only two daily papers in the state supporting Hoke Smith, viz: The Atlanta Journal and the Augusta Evening Herald. There may be others but we haven't seen them.

West Defeats Candler.

One of the hardest fought contests in the state in a long time was that between Hous. W. S.
West and Murphy Candler for the presidency of the state senate.
The fight lasted all day on Wednesday and part of the day on Thursday, when, on the 31st ballot, West arranged to get the seven votes controlled by Senator Miller of Columbus and landed.
As soon as the vote was shown on the first ballot it was a foregone conclusion that West would win.
The personnel of the men backing Miller was "kind of folks." Strange of this district and Foy of the adjointing one supported Candler all the way through, and they being the losers in the fight will, of course, fair rather slim in the division of the spoils falling to the "faithful." It will be few committee chairmanships that they will ever swell while Bill West is president of the senate.

The Statesboro News supported the losing candidate in that fight.
Candler's record as a member of the legislature was clean on all the measures affecting the welfare of the people, while that of West was rather spotted along that line.
The time has not arrived when the mercenaries can be defeated in Georgia. They are square in the saddle. They have whipped the only fight that has been decided this year. While Messrs. Strange and Foy may not stand well in with the kind of folks who are running things in Georgia, yet they did their duty, and stood by a man whose record was clean on all the questions that affect the people, and the News congratulates them both on having stood un-swervingly till the last vote was cast and counted.

There is one feature, and only one in this result, that the people of this section of the state have reason to congratulate themselves over, and that is the fact that West's election lays out a little political boss, in the person of Col. "Billie Osborne" of Savannah. While it is true that Osborne is West's "kind of folks," and started out to support him, but a little row in the family caused Osborne to be cast aside by West, and the statesman from Savannah decided to get even with him by having him defeated. He naturally loaded down Candler's band wagon himself, bag and baggage, and had Candler been elected he would have at once claimed credit for the victory entirely to himself. In that event, it would have been impossible to have picked up a Savannah paper without seeing in box car letters that "Col. Osborne Did It." You could not have stepped off a train in the city of Savannah without having some fellow jab you in the short ribs, telling you that "Osborne and Herman Myers did it all. These two self-appointed bosses would have confiscated every inch of credit for the whole thing, and set out at once to conquer new political fields. They would have actually got the fool notion in their heads that they could influence votes over the Ogeechee canal, and the people of this section would have to have set on their schemes in the approaching campaign.

In our opinion the support of Osborne and the letters he wrote against West is what defeated Candler. People actually thought a good deal more of West after he shook Osborne than they did before.

Child not expected to live from one Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N.
Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for

Will Build Modern School Building.

By reference to our advertising columns will be seen that the people in the neighborhood of the 1576th court ground intend to erect a modern school building. It will be known as Middleground school and will be one of the best in the county outside of States-boro. A large building with all modern improvements will be erected and furnished. It is pro-there is no reason why the Middle-

Do You Want Strength?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

CALLS ANSWERED PROMPTLY
Day and Night

Communicated.

Savannah, Ga. June 29, 1905.
To all churches and kind friends with whom I have recently been permitted to meet:

I truly thank you for all the love and kindness manifested to me. To many of you "I was a stranger and you took me in," I went among you under a burden, a great responsibility; earnestly desiring to know nothing among you, but Jesus and the crucifixion, Jesus and the resurrection, and when with you at church, or at your homes, the everlasting love of God was the theme uppermost in my heart and mind; my prayer to God and my earnest desire was, and is now, that all of God's people will be saved; be saved from confusion, be saved from disunion and that they humble themselves under the mighty power of their Heavenly Father and that they be as little children united in peace and love.

My dear brother preachers:
You are surely under great responsibility. What a strict account you will have to give in regard to the use made of your talents; how very careful, and O, how truly prayerful you ought to be, that you do not lead some poor little humble child astray.

In all the world, there is no man more responsible; O no, not even as much in responsibility to the great Creator, as the true minister of the everlasting gospel, no president or king can compare with him. This office is the highest office in the world, and if he fights a good fight under the banner of Jesus in due time, in God's own time, he will be exalted, exalted far above principalities, and all earthly powers to a place already prepared for God's true and faithful servants, "a building of God, a house not made with hands eternal in heaven."

My dear brother preachers: Since my afflictions—since the dreadful condition of darkness, that I was in for so long a time, seems to me that I am living a new life, a life of love, I have not the least envy or hatred towards any human creature, because I know all are God's creatures, and when it is His will to do so, he can cause the poor thief or the poor drunkard, who seems to care more for intoxicating liquors than he does for his poor wife and pitiful little children, to live a different life, to render testimony to His Almighty power, to His everlasting love. You, my brother preachers, are the servants of the churches, not their rulers; Christ alone is the ruler, and if you are not very careful and prayerful, two or three of you, can cause more trouble and confusion and strife and disunion than several whole churches combined.

May God help you to be identity of the spirit, and bonds of peace. May He help you to let brotherly love continue in my humble prayer.

And now dear brethren and sisters, you who are keeping house for God:

How careful ought you to be,
With what devoted fear, Who such a strict acc't must give For your behavior here.

Follow in the footsteps of Him who was as a lamb slain from be-sisters, if you are of humble hearts, in peace and love with each other, you can see His footprints all along the way while in agony, in suffering, in prayer to His Father for you, follow Him dear children of God—follow Jesus.

If the preachers try to lead you, don't follow them a single step further than they follow Christ.
You know my dear brethren and sisters, that very nearly all the trouble in the churches originates with the preachers. Christ alone is your great ruler, the preachers are, or should be, your servants.
If you read your bibles and pray always, pray around your fireside, pray at the house of God, pray at your place and hoe handles, pray in the country, pray in your bed room. If you pray always and don't faint; you will know at once just as soon as your brother departs from that straight and narrow path that Jesus traveled in sorrow here. Now to one and all preachers, may God be your wisdom and strength, may you realize "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," your most lovely friend, your friend who exceeds all other friends in truthfulness because God is love and Jesus is the way, the truth and the life.

FRIENDSHIP, LOVE AND TRUTH.
These angel spirits be with you,
Your guides wherever you go;
If you follow where they lead, You need not fear the foe.
They smile upon the little child, They bless the heart of youth, And age is nourished by these three,
By friendship, love and youth.
May these angel spirits evermore Guard you in your way.
Then if you follow where they lead,
You cannot go astray.
For God has given them alike,
To childhood and to youth, Old age is nourished by these three,
By friendship, love and youth.

Atlanta for Madison.

When the hour for departure from the Atlanta depot arrived the crowd was so slim that seven of the coaches had to be dropped in the depot; three were taken along carrying a brass band of nine pieces, eight newspaper reporters and twenty-one other passengers to Madison. It is reported that the crowd going down had all the room they wanted—had five seats to every passenger—room to play leap frog or base ball.

Thus the wind was knocked out of a lot of thunder, going to show that the railroad was afraid to haul the people to Madison to hear Hoke Smith tell about their corrupt methods. It was even suggested that it may turn out that they would refuse to haul Hoke Smith at all, but when the hour came they had the equipment to haul all who came. With all their short comings the railroads believe in hauling people, especially if they pay their way—three cents a mile, as they did going to Madison last Thursday.

Smith's speech was along the line of others who have advocated the measures incorporated in his platform along those of Dupont Guerry when he lectured in States-boro four years ago. He advocated the domesticating of the Southern railway, the passage of the anti-free pass bill and other things along the line of reform.
He explained his recent conversion to the doctrine of disfranchising the negro on the ground that he had only recently seen the light. He stated that it was true that when he ran the Atlanta Journal he opposed the things he now advocates, but recent events had caused him to reflect, see the error of his way and face about in the other direction.

About the only "recent event" that seems to have occurred is that Mr. Smith is now a candidate for office and thinks these things have grown popular.

Guerry and Hall and others who have fought for years for Smith say that after their fight Smith steps up and makes an effort to snatch from them the fruits of their labor.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

"and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful!"

Mr. W. H. Kennedy has bought from Mr. Edmond Kennedy his forty acre farm south of the city. The price paid was $4000.00 or $100.00 per acre. This is a point going to show the value of Bulloch county farm lands. $100.00 per acre is a record that few communities in Georgia can boast on for farming lands.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Griner are spending a few days on the coast.

BROOKLET.

Our part of the county was well represented at the Sunday School Convention, and voted it a grand success in every particular. It was indeed a union, except the dinner part. Each family seemed to hide themselves to a spread of their own, and some few modest strangers had to resort to the hotels or boarding houses for this feast, whilst several baskets, boxes and trunks were heavily loaded on the homeward trip. In the future if it is to be a Union Sunday School Convention, let us have a union table also and not be so selfish with our grub. Of course, some of the fastidious ones will prefer to have their viands spread at home and have a few friends to partake, to them we give this privilege, but all who spread on the ground let it be a union table or none.

Mr. J. A. Warnock who has been suffering several weeks from facial erysipelas is much improved to the delight of his many friends.

It has been our pleasure to travel in each district in Bulloch county recently and we find such beautiful crops that we could but think of the historical old Egypt, whose farmers furnished food for a devastated country around, and we are more convinced than ever that Bulloch county is truly the Egypt of Georgia.

It is to the credit of our young men who are just out of school that each of them have secured work, some of them at the shingle mill, others with the Telephone Co., and others at the plow. Not a single loafer is to be found on our streets. Such boys are sure to succeed in life and will be credit to their name.

If Hoke Smith can deliver the goods, he is our choice for governor, but there is likely to be a How(e) among the candidates that may turn a few of the Smith's another direction.

Independence Day.

Today is Independence day, and while the average Georgia weekly is taking a week off, the Statesboro News goes to its readers, carrying the latest news just the same as if there was no holiday on at all. We have grown to the proportions that our time is not our own. We are wrapped up with other people's business to the extent that there is no place where we can stop and take a day off. Business before pleasure you know. We will be with you as usual on Friday.

HOWELL REPLIES

TO HOKE SMITH.

(From the Atlanta Constitution.)
And now comes the man who boldly proclaimed, in his opening address at Madison, that he based his candidacy for governor upon a "Divine Call," with the tardy admission that he has been "caught in the act" in the matter of his Wall street loan of Fifty Thousand Dollars, obtained through the instrumentality of, and on the endorsement of, Mr. Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern Railway Company!

"But," says Mr. Hoke Smith, "I put up collateral worth three times the loan." Then, why was the personal endorsement of President Samuel Spencer necessary, and why was this large loan, on such valuable collateral security, not negotiated in the banks of Atlanta, a half dozen of which would, no doubt, would have gladly taken it, if the security were adequate?

And why, pray, did Mr. Dowie II—the Divinely Inspired candidate—go to the very bowels of Wall street for this loan and to the president of a railroad company which had been the object of bitter attack from the new Mr. Dowie's newspaper—the Atlanta Journal?

And why was it that, concurrent with this loan of Fifty Thousand Dollars, on the endorsement of President Samuel Spencer, there was an immediate cessation of the attacks on the railroads, in the columns of Mr. Smith's newspaper which became strangely silent from that day until the paper was sold by Mr. Smith?

If Mr. Smith denies this, let him show from his files one attack like those preceding this loan! And why was it that during the intervening period of several years Attorney Smith, and Proprietor Smith, of the Journal, became the paid champion of the railroads in litigation having in view the breaking up of the very non-competitive iniquities against which Mr. Smith's newspaper had protested so violently up to the time of this Fifty Thousand dollar loan? From his fees in these cases alone, and in the disruption of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, in which hundreds of women and children of Macon and South Georgia became penniless, while the Southern was enabled to secure this splendid independent line, Attorney Smith obtained far more than enough money to pay back his Fifty Thousand Dollar loan—with interest, which he proudly proclaimed he has done!

Who, in Georgia, or any other state, could not have paid a loan under these conditions!

But how many lawyers, or newspaper men have put themselves in the position of sacrificing honest convictions for ten times the money? No wonder the manhood of the Georgia bar resents the suggestion that such conduct can be cloaked or condoned by the argument of "professional regularity!" It will not do for Mr. Smith to plead for time in the suggestion that he is willing to debate the question on July 25th at Camilla—nearly a month off—with any other candidate who wants to discuss it with him. He has already entered a plea of guilty, without discussion!

The gubernatorial primary is more than a year ahead, as the last state convention unanimously instructed the executive committee not to order it before July 10th of next year. So there is plenty of time to discuss these and all other issues in debate, and in this Mr. Smith will be accommodated to his heart's content.

But in the meantime we have presented to the public gaze a so-called "Reform Dowie"—a self-styled Divine Inspiration, who has been forced to admit that when he needed money a few years ago he went to the president of the Southern Railway Company, and obtained Fifty Thousand Dollars of Wall street funds on his endorsement!

Alas! that the very thought of such conduct did not burn the coals of his heart when in August last fall Mr. Smith—always ready to attack the character of someone else, and to besmear the good name of his adopted state—fiercely assailed Tom Watson on the charge that the latter's candidacy for the presidency was the result of republican corruption money!

"No position taken by me in any of my professional work conflicts with the views I am now urging," said Mr. Smith in his Madison address.

Let us see about that!

We have already shown from the records that since the Fifty Thousand dollar loan Mr. Smith has appeared for the railroads in numerous instances, to argue:

(1) For the validity of the sale of the Macon and Northern railway company to the Central, which was attacked on the ground that it was violative of the non-competitive clause of the state constitution. And in this case the records of the supreme court show that he did not even give the name of his client, volunteering his address to the court on the ground that his nameless client was "interested in the result."

If, later on, it becomes necessary to do so, The Constitution will establish the connection between this "nameless client" and the Fifty Thousand Dollar loan! But perhaps Mr. Smith will not admit that?

(2) The Dunlap & Co. injunction case of Macon, in which it was sought to prevent railroad consolidations in Georgia, was argued for the railroads by Mr. Smith (fee $5,000), notwithstanding the fact that up to that good hour, and before the Fifty Thousand Dollar loan, Mr. Smith's newspaper, The Atlanta Journal, was most vigorously attacking these very consolidations, and arguing their unconstitutionality.

(3) The very essence of the Sherman anti-trust law came up before the federal court in Atlanta on the conspiracy charges brought by the Atlanta merchants. Who was there to defend the railroads, at a fee of $2,000, but Mr. Smith?

And so it goes!

Recently The Constitution and other business houses of Atlanta were called upon to raise a fund for the protection of Atlanta against unjust freight rates. Mr. Smith was engaged, among other attorneys—and The Constitution—always ready to respond to the call for the public good—contributed handsomely to the payment of his fee.

And yet, today this same Mr. Smith holds that The Constitution, which is helping to pay his charges for defending the city of Atlanta, is not as safe as he is when it comes to caring for the interest of the city.

God forbid!

Report a Pleasant Trip

Messrs. J. G. Brannen and D. Olliff, who are just back from a trip to White Springs, Fla. and other points in the Land of Flowers, state that their trip was one of pleasure as well as benefit.

While at the springs they made a number of side trips to visit relatives in that section of the state. Among those they met were the following gentlemen who had moved from Georgia to that section years ago, all of whom are doing well. Mr. C. B. Olliff, one of the leading business men of Welbourne, a flourishing Florida city, is an old resident of Georgia and has been in Florida thirty years, and during that time he has amassed a fortune. He conducts a large department store and has numerous other interests besides. He is a relative of the Olliffs in Bulloch, and displayed considerable interest in asking about the welfare of our people.

Mr. W. M. Ogden, one of the successful farmers in that favored section, also placed these gentlemen under many obligations to him by the numerous courtesies shown them while in that section.

Among others they met were the Hodge brothers, viz: Messrs. Samuel W. and H. N. They were given a good time and their visit made a source of continued pleasure. There are a number of others they say who contributed no little to the pleasure of their stay, and they hope that no far distant date is to be able to return the same by having an opportunity to inspect some of the gentlemen who expressed an intention to visit Bulloch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clary will leave this morning for Toronto, Canada, Niagara Falls, New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. They will accompany the Ellis delegation from Augusta and will be away about three weeks. While north they will purchase their fall and winter line of dress goods and fashionable millinery, which will be made a leading feature on the business at "Clary's" this fall.

Mr. C. W. Eames and Miss Lula Butler will have charge of the store during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Clary.

R. F. S. Carriers Have No Meeting.

The rural mail carriers held their state convention at Atlanta on Tuesday, Mr. Geo. DeBrosse of route No. 8, represented the Bulloch organization at the meeting. He was elected one of the vice presidents of the state organization, representing the first district in the organization.

Mr. DeBrosse returned on Wednesday afternoon and reports a big time. The convention was addressed by Postmaster Blodgett of Atlanta, Mayor Woodward and Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution. An old fashioned barbeque was served by the Fulton county rural carriers, and all the delegates were given a good time generally.
