Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brannen left Thursday for Asheville, N. C., where they will spend several weeks in the mountains.

Mr. Ben Womack sold 20 bales of short cotton on Saturday and got 10-16 for it. The 26 bales brought him over $1200.00. He had held this cotton since he was offered six cents for it. When it went to seven cents his friends said "turn loose the cotton," but Mr. Womack backed his judgment and stood out for ten cents, and he got it and a little more. He says he saved about two hundred and fifty dollars by holding the past thirty days. Mr. Womack remembered his county paper and came around and renewed for another twelve months.

ERASTUS BRANNEN WAS COMMITTED.

The preliminary trial of Erastus Brannen was concluded Tuesday night, lasting all day, as was predicted by the News Tuesday morning. The evidence was all in by two o'clock, and the balance of the day was taken up with the arguments. Cols. Anderson and Oliver spoke for the state and Cols. Moore, Deal and Brannen for the defense.

The defense never put up a single witness on the stand, preferring to reserve its testimony for the future trial. The defendant himself went on the stand and made a statement. His side of the story is about as follows:

It is contended that there was an old grudge between the parties to the tragedy. Brannen had whipped Ellis a short time before, and on Sunday afternoon those boys, viz: Ellis, Barnes and Olliff, went to Mr. Hollingsworth's and waited till the Brannen boys passed along. Barnes was in the piazza talking to Mr. Hollingsworth's daughter, while Olliff and Ellis were standing at the gate watching to see who passed. As soon as the Brannen passed they the three jumped in a buggy, loaded and armed, and over took them, and wheeling half around commenced to fire on Erastus Brannen who was in the rear buggy; Brannen was also armed and fired in defense of himself, and the result is, Ellis is dead.

The position taken by the state seems to be about as follows: The Brannen boys had made it a practice to bulldoze that entire community. Erastus Brannen not satisfied with having whipped young Ellis some time before, had determined to kill him, and he and his brother were out on the afternoon of the killing looking for him. Passing Mr. Hollingsworth's they saw him there, and knowing that he would have to pass the scene where the shooting was done, drove to the point where the roads cross near Mr. Edmund Brannen's gin house and blocked the road with their buggies and stood by the side of the road and waited for the other boys to drive up, which they did half an hour later. As soon as they drove into the buggies, the Brannens opened fire, or that Erastus did, striking both Barnes and Ellis in the side. They contended that had they fired from the front and had not been waylaying by the side of the road, all the bullets would not have struck Ellis and Barnes in the side.

The above seems to be about the position taken by both sides, and the matter will occupy the attention of our courts for some time to come.

After the arguments were all in Judges Holland and Trappell announced that they would commit the defendant to jail, subject to the action of the next grand jury. It is understood that Judge Rawlings will be asked to issue an order allowing bail for Brannen.

Will Run Special for Reunion
The Savannah & Statesboro railway will run a special train from Savannah to Statesboro on the 20th, for the annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans Association. The fare will be one fare for the round trip from Savannah and all points along the line. The train will leave Savannah at 7 o'clock and arrive in Statesboro at 9:15. Capt. R. M. Hitch, of Savannah, who will be the orator of the day, will arrive on this train as well as a large number of veterans of Savannah and along the route.

Williams-Kirkland.
On Sunday, July 2nd, Mr. Jno. M. Williams, of near Register, and Miss Mamie Kirkland were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Judge Trappell officiating.

The bride is the accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Kirkland, of Pulaski. Mr. Williams is one of Bulloch's prosperous young farmers and their many friends wish for them a long, happy and prosperous voyage over life's sea.

Re-union Next Thursday

Maj. J. S. Cone, Commander of the Confederate Veterans Association of Bulloch county, informs us that every thing is in shape for a great re-union here next Thursday. He says that he has assurances that Statesboro will do its share by the vets as she has done in the past, and he asks the good people of the county to come out with well filled baskets.

There will be a large crowd here, Bulloch and surrounding counties will be out in great numbers, and he desires that nothing be left untuned that will go to make the occasion pleasant for all. He says that it is quite probable that the Screven camp of veterans will attend in a body.

Captain R. M. Hitch will be the orator of the day. It is probable, so Major Cone informs us, that there will be no other addresses delivered than the one by Captain Hitch. The people will want to hear one speech and then the day will be turned over to the pursuit of other pleasures.

Eight New Counties

Atlanta, Monday.—In the scramble for the creation of new counties it is becoming plain that a number are of no strong and winning merits. The proposals that are strongest are coming out of the bunch and being named so generally as to indicate that the new counties committees of senate and house will have easy work in naming the favorites. Those that occupy first position today are the following:

Tift county, with the court house at Tifton.
Towhee county, with county seat at Lyons, now in Tatnall county.

Cromatie county, with its capital at Hazlehurst.
Grady county, with its court house at Cairo in Thomas county, near the Decatur county line.

James county, with the county seat at Adrian, now in Emanuel county.
Jeff Davis county, with its capital at Barnesville.

Stephens county, with the court house at Windsor.
Bleckley county, with the county seat at Toococa.

The fierce division of sentiment in Decol county and of the representation from the county will very likely defeat Crisp county.

Dixie county, around Millen, and Turner county, around Ashburn, also seem to be losing probability and strength because of local antagonisms.

All the other contestants appear to be out of the race.

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

The canals on Mars have been photographed, but there are no signs of life as yet.

They may not be able to speak in six languages, as reported, but there seems to be no doubt that he is able to fight it six.

You can stop an automobile almost instantly, but when you try to stop a horse you are liable to throw him down and almost certain to strain him to the permanent injury.

The 120 marriageable young women who drew homesteads on the Rosebud Indian reservation in South Dakota have received proposals from 10,000 men. Most of them have come by mail, from men who never saw the young women and know nothing about them except that among the charms of each is a 160-acre tract of good land. It would look as if these 10,000 men and perhaps many more still remaining to be heard from would like to marry the 120 acres, without much regard for the nature of the female incumbent, thinks the Atlanta Journal.

You read every day of horses being frightened by automobiles, but you never hear of an automobile being frightened by a horse. That simple statement settles the question of the permanency of the automobile's advent, asserts the Hartford Courant. The mechanical way is sure than any which trusts to an animal. You can drive an automobile for hours as fast as the law allows and even faster than that, and it will be even a bit better fitted to go on doing more than when you started; but treat a horse in that way and the humane Society would be after you.

Year by year for the last two decades Brassey's Naval Annual has recorded the pretty steady rise of the United States from an all but negligible place to a leading and commanding status among the naval powers of the world, and the latest issue of that invaluable handbook, just received from the Griffiths, at Portsmouth, makes in our behalf the most impressive showing of all, declares the New York Tribune. It was a very few years ago that the United States was contending with Italy, Japan and Russia for fifth, sixth or seventh place in the list. This year it far outclasses these powers and even France and contends with Great Britain for second place, with an assured prospect of winning that contention in the near future. If, indeed, it has not already done so.

The announcement from London is startling that during the five months ended with April the mortality in India from the bubonic plague amounted to 750,000. However, the figures are those communicated to the House of Commons by Mr. Brodick, Secretary for India. In 1903 the deaths in India from this cause were 533,000; in 1904 they were 1,000,000. Facts like these should be understood as emphasizing the neglected duty of the British Government to do what is exigently demanded to improve the sanitary condition of its Indian dependencies. Such a responsibility cannot be neglected without involving a vast waste of the power of government over a conquered and subject people. A plague mortality in the Punjab alone of 20,000 in one week should shock the English people to a recognition of the fact that the national duty to the native has not been intelligently performed by those upon whom it has devolved.

Pain is a soul tonic. Sorrow often brings out the best there is in us. Happiness does not develop character. It gives it surface brightness and decks it with prismatic bubbles. It takes the deep reaching arm of misfortune to trouble the depths and bring out the pearls that lie there. The most magnetic faces are lined by thought and noble care. Strong, unselfish love, even if misplaced and unappreciated, enables the lover, continues Medical Talk. It is the drive, the very heart of the matter that gives character and makes faces insignificant. To fall in high aim after earnest and honest effort is not failure. The gain it brings in strength and discipline will appear in other directions. Misfortune has often in the history of the world been the means of making a poet, orator, philanthropist, scientist or statesman out of a person whose career, but for the misfortune or physical disability, would have been commonplace and unimportant limited.

Weld Held on Larceny Charge.
Lacey D. Weld, formerly a lieutenant in one of the local military companies, was arrested in Savannah a few days ago for larceny after trust and committed to jail.

Meil Alleged to be Short about $100 in his accounts with the firm of S. Sheffer & Bro., for which he was city drummer.

Full Dividends to Be Paid.
The earnings of the Central railway for the year just closed indicate that full dividends will be paid on all the income bonds, and that there will be something left to pay a small dividend on the stock or to pass up to the reserve fund, as the board of directors may see fit.

Hitch Will Deliver Address.
Hon. Robert M. Hitch of Savannah, who was in command of the troops at Statesboro last summer when they were overpowered by a mob and the two negroes who were afterwards burned at the stake, Read and Cato, were taken from him, has been invited to deliver an address to the people of Statesboro on July 20. He was invited by the Confederate veterans.

Favor State Road.
In response to a call published in The Carversville News, a number of leading business and professional men of Carversville and Hartow county met to consider the question of the proposed road from Carversville to the state road. The sentiment of the town and county is practically unanimous for the sale. The matter attracted much attention and exciting widespread interest in Georgia.

"Jim Crow" Bill in Senate.
Among a number of bills which have been introduced in the senate is a "jim crow" law, which, if passed, will require street car companies in the state to provide separate compartments or cars for negroes.

Handsome Gift From Peabody.
The largest individual gift to the new Mumfords School hall has been donated by Manager J. R. Gunn from George Foster Peabody for $600. The response of this well known benefactor is highly appreciated and this gift is one of many valuable donations to the cause.

Governor Sells His Cotton.
Governor Joseph M. Terrell has sold his cotton crop, which was gathered in on the McIntosh county plantation, to the House of Commons by Mr. Brodick, Secretary for India. In 1903 the deaths in India from this cause were 533,000; in 1904 they were 1,000,000. Facts like these should be understood as emphasizing the neglected duty of the British Government to do what is exigently demanded to improve the sanitary condition of its Indian dependencies. Such a responsibility cannot be neglected without involving a vast waste of the power of government over a conquered and subject people. A plague mortality in the Punjab alone of 20,000 in one week should shock the English people to a recognition of the fact that the national duty to the native has not been intelligently performed by those upon whom it has devolved.

New Express Company Proposed.
A charter will probably be applied for within the next few days for "The People's Express Company," with headquarters in Atlanta.

Reunion of Veterans October 24-25.
The veterans, sons of veterans, sons of sons, and the Georgia fair association and chamber of commerce met with the executive committee of the Georgia division of Confederate veterans; the past week and decided that October 24 and 25 would be suitable dates for holding the Georgia reunion at Macon next fall.

Three Men Blown to Bits by Cross Carriage of a Fireman.
By the carelessness of a fireman, three men are dead and Cato's saw mill at Goughly, Ala. is a total wreck. The engine was blown 75 yards, and every drop of water in a well 8 feet deep was drawn out. Wagon wheels were demolished, two oxen killed and lumber and timber scattered in every direction.

Threat of Well Known Cotton Broker to Resent Accusations Will Be Ignored—Holmes May Yet Be Prosecuted.

That Secretary Wilson intends to take no step backward in his report on the cotton leak investigation was evidenced Monday by the statement that he was not afraid of any libel suit which might be filed against him by Theodore Price or other brokers mentioned in the report; in fact, he said, he would welcome such action, because it might be the means of developing such facts not already uncovered, and which it was desirable to know.

"This is a quarrel among gamblers," he said, "brought about by the dissatisfaction of some of them in not getting what they thought was their share of the report; in fact, he said, he would welcome such action, because it might be the means of developing such facts not already uncovered, and which it was desirable to know."

Whereas, all the interests with which we have to deal are compactly organized and the commercial bodies remain separate and not infrequently antagonizing each other, defeating benefits which would be reached by co-operation, and constant misunderstandings would be alleviated by conference and discussion on common ground.

In view of the opinion by the United States district attorney, a criminal prosecution against Holmes would not be. Secretary Wilson intimated that he would suggest to President Roosevelt a recommendation to congress that legislation be enacted to cover cases of similar character involving a breach of trust.

Roosevelt to Take Action.

It is regarded, according to a dispatch from Oyster Bay, as not unlikely that criminal prosecution may result from the investigation of the cotton report leak in the department of agriculture. The subject has not yet been presented to the president in a formal way, although he is familiar with most of the details of the inquiry.

The Statesboro News

(INCORPORATED.)

Statesboro, Ga. Friday, July 14, 1906

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Hoke Smith After South Georgia Organ.

A special from Brunswick states that a party of Hoke Smith's friends have been in Brunswick negotiating for one of Brunswick's newspapers.

It seems that Mr. Smith is desirous of having a south Georgia newspaper support him, and about the only way he is able to get the kind of support seems to be to buy out the plant and run the paper. As far as our information goes, Smith is rather shy of newspaper support in south Georgia. They are few and a long way apart. It is not the single one that is supporting him in the First congressional district we have failed to see it. This condition prevails to a large extent, all over the state.

The Atlanta Journal and a few small weeklies seem to have a monopoly on the Hoke Smith bar wagon so far. The Georgia newspapers are not much given to supporting a man for the office of governor of the great state of Georgia who can see only one issue.

Banker Finn, of Dublin, has developed into a figure with a state reputation lately. It came about this way: Mr. Finn, who is the cashier of one of the Dublin banks, assisted in the formation of the Hoke Smith club, but after reading about that $50,000 transaction of Hoke Smith and Samuel Spencer, decided to change base and announced his intention to support Clark Howell. The Atlanta Constitution gives him a half page write up and the Atlanta Journal is on to him with both feet. The Constitution thinks Finn is a patriot and one of the most influential men in the state, while the Journal is pouring out the vials of its wrath on said Finn. They think he is awfully mean.

Cotton still advances, though several back sets have been reported during the past few days. October cotton is now quoted at 11 1/2. The recent rains will damage the growing weed and it would not be surprising if the fleecy staple did not go a good deal higher than the present quotations.

A Little Whiskey in Hers.

Hudson Tuttle, the Ohio lecturer, made an address recently wherein he described the pitfalls of the lecture platform, says the Philadelphia Record.

"A temperance lecturer wished to prove to his audience the deadly power of whiskey."

"Accordingly he caused a drop of water to be magnified and thrown upon a magic lantern screen."

"Watch, friends," he said, "watch the whiskey's effect."

"The effect was marvelous. The liquor killed all those ferocious horrors instantly. Their vast claws and tentacles and feelers stiffened. All became peaceful and still."

"An old lady in the front row whispered hoarsely in her husband's ear:

"Wall, Jabez, that settles me. I'll never drink water again 'thout putting some whiskey in it."

"The pills that act as a tonic, and not as a drastic purge, are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure headache, constipation, biliousness, etc. Early Risers are small, easy to take, safe pills. Mack Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: 'Two bottles of these Famous Little Pills cured me of chronic constipation.' Good for children or adults. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Why we have been thinking it over—and give me a never disposed to while we are never disposed to give nor ask quarter when the time comes for real fighting—we have about come to the conclusion that all of us have allowed ourselves to become excited too early in the game.

We repeat, the campaign seems to have been pitched in the wrong key. Of course, we shall all maintain that the other side is responsible for that—but let's lower the tone before we split our throats.

In any event, there is no sense in losing our temper about a mere governorship. Let's wait until next year to do that—and let's not do it then if we can help it.

The state of Georgia is not going to the devil in the meantime. Peter McMichael and Sam Steele are still in the State House—and theirs are going along just as pretty much the same as we have gone along since these two faithful public servants connected themselves with the state government some twenty odd years ago.

There have been many changes of administration since then; one political faction after another has been on top; ever and anon somebody has come forward to "save the state"; but Peter and Sam have, with admirable diplomacy, invariably adjusted their political convictions to whichever faction was in power—and they haven't noticed the difference.

The railroads can hardly make off with the state before next year—and there will then be still plenty of time to "save" her.

Hoke has paid back that $50,000, to secure which they say he hypothecated his convictions—and has taken his opinions out of "soak."

Clark is growing better every day—and he was a mighty good fellow to start with.

Farmer Jim has yet to pick and market his cotton—and lay by something more for a "rainy day."

Col. Estill still has his ear glued to the ground—and says he'll be hanged (we think that was the word) if he can't yet hear a sound.

Our old friend Joe Hill Hall has the legislature on his hands, and can't take time just now to go out and "save the state" a while on his own hook.

Dick Russell hasn't yet been able to adjust his lightning rod to his satisfaction, and is, moreover, busily engaged in trying to have a new county formed for the town of Winder, instead of leaving it located in three counties—and with his chicken-coop in one county, his barn in another and his bedroom on the border-line of all of them.

Tappan's yet certain that a "divine call" won't be handed down to him.

It was with deep regret that many of our citizens learned of the death of Mr. Elias A. Weil which occurred at Atlantic City a few days ago.

Mr. Weil was a personal friend of a large number of our oldest citizens. He traveled Bulloch county with a pack on his back before the war, and it was here that he laid the foundation of his great fortune. He enlisted for war at Statesboro and went to the front as a Bulloch county citizen. He made a brave soldier, and to his death held a warm place in the hearts of the men who went with him through the great conflict. He often visited us, but the past few years had not stirred about very much, hence our people had not seen much of him.

He has come to join the great silent majority who have preceded him to the Unknown Beyond.

Respectfully submitted, Committee.

Mr. Weil was a personal friend of a large number of our oldest citizens. He traveled Bulloch county with a pack on his back before the war, and it was here that he laid the foundation of his great fortune. He enlisted for war at Statesboro and went to the front as a Bulloch county citizen. He made a brave soldier, and to his death held a warm place in the hearts of the men who went with him through the great conflict. He often visited us, but the past few years had not stirred about very much, hence our people had not seen much of him.

He has come to join the great silent majority who have preceded him to the Unknown Beyond.

Let's All Summer-Down A Bit.

(Augusta Chronicle.)

Really, now hasn't our premature gubernatorial campaign been pitched in too high a key?

How can the candidates and their "organs"—as we have all been pleased to call each other—hope to keep tuned-up to the present pitch for a full twelve months?

It is fatiguing—both to the combatants, and we have no doubt, to the public.

Let's all summer-down a bit before the political pot boils over. It is not well to grow too excited during this sort of weather. And, besides, summer has just begun.

It may be cooler next summer—and that will be time enough for the fire-works.

We are all too proud—we candidates and "organs"—to go back today just a little harder than we were hit yesterday. And this sort of thing is exhausting.

Why not make it merely a good natured sparring match for the next nine or ten months—then we will still have at least two or three months in which to get down to business and administer the knock-out blow.

Why work ourselves into a frenzy, frazzle ourselves out fighting to no purpose nearly a year ahead of time?

We have been thinking it over—and give me a never disposed to while we are never disposed to give nor ask quarter when the time comes for real fighting—we have about come to the conclusion that all of us have allowed ourselves to become excited too early in the game.

We repeat, the campaign seems to have been pitched in the wrong key. Of course, we shall all maintain that the other side is responsible for that—but let's lower the tone before we split our throats.

In any event, there is no sense in losing our temper about a mere governorship. Let's wait until next year to do that—and let's not do it then if we can help it.

The state of Georgia is not going to the devil in the meantime. Peter McMichael and Sam Steele are still in the State House—and theirs are going along just as pretty much the same as we have gone along since these two faithful public servants connected themselves with the state government some twenty odd years ago.

There have been many changes of administration since then; one political faction after another has been on top; ever and anon somebody has come forward to "save the state"; but Peter and Sam have, with admirable diplomacy, invariably adjusted their political convictions to whichever faction was in power—and they haven't noticed the difference.

The railroads can hardly make off with the state before next year—and there will then be still plenty of time to "save" her.

Hoke has paid back that $50,000, to secure which they say he hypothecated his convictions—and has taken his opinions out of "soak."

Clark is growing better every day—and he was a mighty good fellow to start with.

Farmer Jim has yet to pick and market his cotton—and lay by something more for a "rainy day."

Col. Estill still has his ear glued to the ground—and says he'll be hanged (we think that was the word) if he can't yet hear a sound.

Our old friend Joe Hill Hall has the legislature on his hands, and can't take time just now to go out and "save the state" a while on his own hook.

Dick Russell hasn't yet been able to adjust his lightning rod to his satisfaction, and is, moreover, busily engaged in trying to have a new county formed for the town of Winder, instead of leaving it located in three counties—and with his chicken-coop in one county, his barn in another and his bedroom on the border-line of all of them.

Tappan's yet certain that a "divine call" won't be handed down to him.

And the "dark horses," realizing that the fodder is so far away, haven't yet begun to neigh.

So, we say again, what's the use getting up a preparation so far ahead of time?

Particularly when the weather is so hot—and getting hotter. Let's slow-up a bit. The gait we are now going is too "wearin'."

Do You want Strength?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to the body and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. The Scourge of God.

Lo! the savage darkness deepens.

And the rain is falling fast; Will this storm be ever raging? Will this gloom forever last? Is there no forgetful curtain To be drawn across the past?

Shall this dark wave of rebellion Ever lash my weary soul, As the dark Atlantic billows Hounding madly ever on?

Round the cold volcanic mountains In the dark climes of the pole? Shall this keen, revengeful feeling— This wild longing for the "test"— Ever sleep within my bosom, With compunction and unrest, As the hot flames of destruction Slumber in the mountain's breast?

I will never see the ending Of this dark night, so it seems; There's a wide and mighty river Which, with dark pollution streams, And lies there just between me And my heart's most loathly dreams.

Have I sinned against my Maker? Is this will to wield the rod? O! I fear, I've lost the pathway, And the saintly pilgrims trod, And this darkness is the anger, And this pain the scourge of God.

W. R. Smith

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the home often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. In Memoriam.
The angel visited the home of Mr. Charlie Miller and carried away his loving companion. Mrs. Lillie Miller, nee Hodges, died June 30, 1905. Just as the clock was striking seven the angel carried her away from this world of sin and sorrow to a better world than this where she now enjoys the bliss of that fair and happy land with loved ones gone before.

She was born in Bulloch in 1865, making her stay on earth twenty years. She was married to Charlie Miller in 1908, being married only eighteen months at her death. She was a loving wife and daughter. It is so sad for one to be taken away from such a good husband, but we will say to him—weep not—he is basking with the angel where sorrow is no more. We all know she is at rest. She was too good to stay with us; it is God's way. His will be done, not our will.

She was such a good and moral girl, loved by all who knew her. Every body was always glad to meet Lillie. She was buried at DeLoach cemetery, Elder H. B. Wilkinson conducted the funeral. She leaves behind a loving husband, father, mother, three sisters and four brothers to mourn her loss, but our loss is her eternal gain.

She is missed so much it looks like we cannot give her up, but we know we must. Her voice is silent, her eyes are closed in death, she lies silent and cold in the tomb. We cannot look and see her coming again. Oh, dear Jesus, come and help us to bear our troubles. She must have been warned of her death, for she told her sister a few days before she died that she was not going to live and she called her husband and told him she was going to die.

Oh, it looks like we can't give her up, but dear father and mother don't grieve over your loving daughter, reconcile your mind by knowing she is far better off than on this earth. To the husband we would say: wipe your weeping eyes, and say farewell dear Lillie, you are happy while I will try to meet you. Oh how sad and heart-breaking it was to give her up, yet the Good Lord saw fit to take this dear one from us.

All that medical skill and loving hands could do was done, yet none could save her. Oh, how sad it is to think of leaving this world and be laid on the clay and be forgotten, but the Good Lord knows His duty, and let's all try to be prepared to go when the summons comes, because we know not what minute the Good Lord is going to call us and let's make up our minds and content ourselves to know that dear Lillie is at rest; of course, we can think of ten thousand things she said and done but we must let it go and make ourselves contented.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber, Peaceful in thy grave, let us know. Thou no more our joy shall number. Come my friends and mourn with me in my afflicted state, I'm bereaved as you may see Of my dear loving mate.

Her heart was bound with mine by love God's work for to maintain, But she is gone to Christ above, Forever there to reign.

My loss is great to lose my mate, I'll go alone and sigh and mourn My dear and absent love.

But we will say weep not, the Good Lord says unto me—children, But remember her husband, forget her not; your best friend is gone and you will never find another as Lillie.

There is a fountain filled with blood, Drawn from a Man's vein, And sinners plunge beneath thy food, Lose all their guilty stains.

Written by Miss Julia Nesmith, Groveland, Ga. R. F. Nesmith.

To Citizens of Bulloch.
Statesboro has been selected as the place and July 20th as the day for the annual reunion of the veterans of Bulloch county. The object of these reunions is to preserve in the dearest, tenderest recesses of our hearts, the memory of our dead comrades and to draw closer the ties of brotherhood between the survivors.

Statesboro has promised to again open her liberal hand and we feel that in so laudable a cause all our people who can ought to bring well-filled baskets to help feed our veterans and their visiting comrades from adjoining counties.

We bring as our orator no hired mercenary, but the son of one of the wiregrass comrades, who, during the days of blood, bore his share of the hardships and whose son, by his sacrifices for us has placed our people under a debt of gratitude which can never repay. We bring a type of purest southern blood—Captain R. M. Hitch.

With an abiding faith in the liberality of our people, we respectfully submit.
