Mr. Dorsey Writes

Mr. Editor:

In your issue of last Friday there appeared an editorial which casts reflection upon myself and nine tenths of the people of the county. You accuse all who oppose the present system of working the public roads as kickers against good roads. This is a mistake. There isn't a man in the county opposed to good roads. Every man who writes about it is clamoring for better roads, but they are kicking because they don't get them. It is wrong to brand a fellow as a chronic kicker because he clamors for the roads to be worked.

You, in substance, tell us to point out a better way or submit proof to the authorities that the roads are not worked and they will attend to the matter. This has been done time and again through the press, and the "authorities" have been invited to come and see, but as yet I have not heard of one of them making an inspection. No, not one. If you or the "authorities" would visit and inspect many roads that I have seen, you certainly would not blame the people for clamoring for the roads to be worked. But under the present plan it is not likely that the roads will be worked in the next twenty-five years. I know of many places in the county where the public roads are impassable and the authorities do seem to care enough to investigate. The people have to go through the woods.

You say that we must work under the old law and are opposed to the new law. Bless your life, I have done more work on the public roads than you editors or any one of the "authorities" have ever done, and a good deal of it before some of them were born.

You say that the old law was a failure. Not so, my dear bud; as I have already said, no law is good unless carried out. There is no law upon the statute books that has failed to be enforced, but that is no reason they are failures. In Liberty, my native county, where I did most of my road duty, we kept the roads in a first class condition and that under the new law. Everybody knows this to be true. Let us take the 48th district of this county. There are something like 400 hands subject to road duty in the district. These hands, if properly managed, could put every section of the roads in good condition in one week, but as things move on now it will take several years—if ever done at all. We have already admitted that in some few places the roads have been improved, but no one man with a half dozen hands can keep the roads in good fix. Some of the best places of road in the county were put so by the county convicts a few years ago, and we are glad that they have been put back on the public roads and hope they will give county better roads.

It is this humbug of a law that the people complain of and nothing else. But when a person condemns an evil there is always some one ready to jump on him.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys, Mary H. Waters, of 545 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months, I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after getting to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed At W. H. Ellis' drug store; price 50c.

We will send for this as far as possible, and as we have always done, will either return it or give you its value.

Mr. Miller has a one hundred acre farm this year and much of the exhibit has been raised on this farm, but he expects to put up an individual exhibit, and besides on one farm will produce the articles making up an exhibit that would be creditable to a great county like Bullock.

If you have anything that you can let us have let us know. Mr. Miller or Mr. R. H. Donaldson will see you. Mr. Donaldson is now making a tour of the county in a buggy and anything that you may do for him will be appreciated.

Use Hunt Ends in Failure.

The big lion hunt on last Monday in the swamps of Mill Creek resulted in a failure as far as lions are concerned, but the boys rounded up a good deal of other game. As far as we have been able to ascertain the following is about what they bagged: 117 rabbits, 9 pole cats, 2 possums, 1 coon, 8 joint snakes and one watermelon patch ruined. No sign of any lion was scented, but last accounts the negro who claimed to have seen him had not been lynched.

The Fever Situation.

Despite all the claims of the health board of New Orleans the fever situation in that city is steadily growing worse. It seems to have been there since June, and the fact that yellow fever prevailed there was disclosed by outside physicians.

The fever has appeared in Shreveport, La. and Montgomery, Ala. The latter city only reporting one case, but the other cities and towns are quarantining against her, and it would not be surprising to see it pop out in other cities.

Atlanta has opened her doors wide to the refugees and Savannah has declared a quarantine, but in our opinion the quarantine ought to prevail against Atlanta. If the refugees are already there and pouring in by the thousands, as reported, it is as dangerous as New Orleans.

It will be too late to take these steps after the plague takes a hold in your city.

Railway Rates and Pay.

Employees and Boards of Trade Oppose the E. C. Townsend Bill. From the Railroad Record.

It would take a cotton crop of fifteen and a half million bales at 10 cents a pound to pay all the railroad employees of the United States their wages for one year. The roads have a million four hundred thousand employees in the whole country.

In Georgia they have 27,500 employees and within 200 of the same number in Alabama. The wages in each state amount to just about one million dollars a month or twelve million a year.

They spend three million more for fuel, oil and taxes in Georgia. They have spent four million dollars in and around Atlanta on permanent improvements in the last eighteen months. One road is spending two million dollars to build a new line through North Georgia. Other roads are spending enormous sums on side tracks, cutting down grades and increasing their facilities.

The average pay of railway employees in the United States is $1.31 per day as against 71 cents in England, 57 cents in Germany and 52 in France. In Germany and France the governments own most of the roads.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Trainmen all over the country are petitioning Congress not to give any Commission power to fix rates. A great many Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade and shippers are doing the same thing.

Both the employees and shippers object on the ground that the roads would be so hampered by red tape and cost iron rules that they could not continue to develop and grow as they will do if left free to deal with the shippers like any other business.

It is the policy of American roads to help the producer reach distant markets, whether he be a cotton planter, manufacturer, a western grain farmer, a lumberman or anybody else.

This policy aids the development of all parts of the country.

For example, the Southern Lumberman, cotton and fruit farmer and manufacturers could not begin to sell their products in their home markets. They have to ship long distances and they have to get lower rates proportionately on long hauls than on short ones. When governments make rates they have to make their rates according to distance.

There was a large crowd at the ice cream supper at Mr. I. T. Newsome's last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Eulalie Seibles spent last week with Misses Lula and Leonora Newsome.

Mr. L. L. Newsome returned to Savannah this week after spending a few days with friends and relatives.

We would be very glad if the overseas would look after our roads. We have paid our money for that purpose and can hardly travel there.

With best wishes to the News.

Chewing the Rag.

Mr. Editor: As it has become a custom with a great many people to chew the rag about the road question, I have decided to gnaw it a little as I have found one corner that hasn't been chewed yet.

Some one come out last week, asking for a better plan for working the roads. Here it is in a nut shell:

One tax collector, three road machines, the mules we already have, three bosses of judgement, six guards, two with each camp, one day and one night, three sets of convicts well pushed to the front, and you will soon see a county of good roads and a satisfied people, but they will never be satisfied with present conditions; how can they be?

The overseer in the 1890th district under the name of Hayseed is making a vigorous defense of the present system, but what I have to say is this: If a bunch of ten year old boys could not form a plan that would give more work for the money paid out they ought to have their heads uncappped and the empty places in their skulls filled with frog brains.

Mr. Hayseed would have you believe that the roads in the 1890th district were in good shape, but some of my nearest neighbors live in that district, and I have heard them complaining about the roads not being worked, and I know, personally, that the road from Newton & Jones' still to Mr. Jas. Parish's has never been worked under the new system. The road known as the No. Six road has had no attention whatever.

We people who lie in the shade and tell tales had them in such good shape that they are still passable without work. If we are going to quit the old way, let's be up-to-date in the new. Don't have the folks at home mad with us and those abroad making fun of us; do better or quit.

In conclusion I will ask you good folks to sign your name if you are not ashamed. We don't

Another Guano Factory.

When it rains it pours. This is an old saying, one that always proves true in Statesboro.

In our issue of last Tuesday we gave notice of an intention on the part of certain gentlemen to start up a guano factory. We were congratulating our town on the fact that we were to get one guano factory, never dreaming for a single moment that we were to get two, but it seems that there will be guano factories here galore if this thing keeps up.

Mr. J. W. Wilson informs us that he was in Savannah Friday and has perfected arrangements by which he will start the erection of a large plant in the very near future.

Mr. Wilson has back of him plenty of capital and men with a life time experience in the business in which they propose to embark.

It is their intention to put in a thirty thousand dollar plant at first and then enlarge it from time to time as the business would justify.

Arrangements have been made with the Bulloch oil mill for a tract of land near the oil mill, and while the two plants will be run much in sympathy with each other, yet they will be separate. All together Mr. Wilson is a business man of wide experience and enjoys the confidence of men with means. He says at the proper time the books of the new company will be open for the sale of stock to such as may want to invest.

Communicated.

Dear Mr. Editor:

In the editorial column of last Tuesday's paper I note a short article which seems to ignore the state normal school at Athens.

In reply I wish to say I am quite sure that its author had a peep at the Love McDaniel circular which has been floating around for the last two or three weeks and is entirely ignorant of the school. The circular is false. I desire further to say that I have attended the school nearly ever since the lady, of whom you speak of loving the negro so much, has been there, and I do not remember to have ever heard her utter a word in regard to the negro that I could not heartily endorse. She is not a "yankee," a southern woman of the most able type.

Last year this same association, in regard to her sentiments of the negro, was made by the same two or three former students of the school, whose characters proved too reckless for them to remain there.

The faculty and trustees of the school took up the matter and after hearing all evidence that could be gathered together pronounced the accusation as unfounded.

I do not believe that there is another school in the state that is doing so much good for the state of Georgia as the State Normal school is doing—a school where the faculty are trying so hard to make it a great and good school. The school has the highest endorsement of the state school commissioner and of the best educated men and women, not only of Georgia but those of other states, who have visited the school.

I feel safe in saying that it is unsurpassed in discipline and management. It seems that it was not until three or four years ago that the state authorities realized what the school really means to the state. Up to that time it was supported almost wholly by private gift. Among the latter was Mr. Ogden, to whom you refer.

I think now, Mr. Editor, if you will consult the state school commissioner's annual report or the directors of the school that you will find the editorial article uncalled for.

Respectfully

C. A. Warnock.

May Create Only Three.

A dispatch from Atlanta states that there is a strong probability that only three new counties will be created at the present session of the legislature. The counties over which there seems to be no sort of doubt as to their winning are: Jenkins county at Millen, Tift county at Tifton, and Toombs county at Lyons. The next in order as now believed are the following: Northern county at Fitzgerald, Turner county at Ashburn, Jeff Davis county at Barnesville, Cromatie county at Hazlehurst, and Stephens county at Winder. Though the committee not having filed their report there is no one that can tell what will be the result.

Looks Bad for New Counties

There is a great deal of speculation in regard to the new county proposition which now confronts the legislature. Many people are of the opinion that the legislature will be unable to come to any agreement at this session and that it will be necessary to continue the matter until next year.

As yet the new county committee has not made a report on numerous bills which are now pending. The committee is to get together some time Monday for this purpose and hopes to have a report ready by Thursday.

There are twenty-four applications for new counties. Only eight are to be selected.

Every place desiring a new county has made a personal campaign with the members of the legislature and whether there is a favorable report or not an effort is going to be made to get a county. There will be numerous motions to disagree to one report of the committee, and with the exception of two counties it seems there will be a fight on the others which will be favorably reported. There is practically no opposition to Jenkins county, with Millen as the county site, and to Tift county, with Tifton as the county site; but all the others have raised a storm of protests from the sections which are affected by any proposed change.

New county delegations have been coming in Atlanta since long before the legislature met. Additional delegations are coming in for the last two weeks of the fight, every move that can be made by the new county people will be made, and from present indications the liveliest scrambling ever witnessed in the legislature will occur after the report of the committee is made.

It may be that the eight counties getting a favorable report will band together so as to present a solid front and to rally all the strength possible.

The senate committee may make a different report from the house committee. And this will bring on another row. All the bills creating new counties have been introduced in both the house and the senate and a blanket bill covering all the counties will be introduced in the house in a few days. When a report of the house committee is made the blank spaces will be filled in with the names of the counties which have received a favorable report from the committee and an effort will be made to get this bill through.

Chairman Crawford Wheatley of the senate committee on new counties is of the opinion that there is plenty of time for the legislature to act on the new county question. Senator W. C. Bunn, who is also a member of the same committee expresses the same opinion.

It is possible, however, that some plan can be agreed upon upon which the matter can be hurried through but there are hundreds who think that the new county question will have to go over to the next session.

Get a Health Certificate

If you are traveling you had better provide yourself with a health certificate. Nearly all the cities in this section are quarantining against the fever infected territory and it will be necessary for you to show that you have not been exposed to it before you can either get into Savannah or Augusta. The railroads have withdrawn all of their excursion or round trip tickets and some of the roads leading into Savannah will not sell you a ticket at any price unless you have a health certificate.
