The many friends of Mrs. Mattie Edge will regret to hear of her illness at her home in Madison. Mrs. Edge is well known here, having lived here two years, and has a host of friends who sympathize with her in her sad affliction. Who Ought to Be Taxed.

Jesus Christ came in a storm, and so poor, had not where to lay his head; nevertheless he submitted to tax without a murmur.

While we are living in a day of great advancement, and people so thoughtless that this generation is responsible for a greater flood of heavenly light than any people that ever lived, and yet wise in the affairs of natural life.

Men qualify themselves at great cost for various professions that they may live thereby, pay tax on their professions as well as the property accumulated thereby.

Men practice various professions under contract, becoming hirelings; have qualified themselves at their own expense in hope of reward.

But the first mentioned in this subject said: "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the son of man hath not where to lay his head." claimed no exemption to the custom on himself or his profession.

The lawyer pays his tax and practices his profession for the profit to himself and family. Physician and dentist the same: not only their profession taxed but the proceeds thereof.

Why not tax every profession that sends out its speculators allowed by their profession to practice and charge for it.

We see professional men walk the streets, and never know of them striking a lick of work who have been educated at the expense of the property holders who obtained their fortunes by the sweat of the brow and continue to bear the burden of taxation.

Paul labored with his own hands, besides used his own rented house to accomplish the purpose of his calling that he might not be chargeable to any.

Now those professional characters can with impunity look over the masses of the honest tillers of the soil, and claim a support for themselves and the education of their children.

"Go without money and without price," take off at least one coat for the gathering time is on.

"I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor the goats out of thy fold, for every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills. I know all the fowls of the mountains and the wild beasts of the fields are mine.

If I were hungry, I would not ask thee for the world is mine and the fullness thereof. Ps. 50: 10, 11, 12."

Yellow Fever Situation.

New Orleans, Aug. 9.—Public interest in the general yellow fever situation suffered a temporary eclipse today in the death of Archbishop Chapelle, the most distinguished victim of the present scourge. Although the prelate was a subject of scientific treatment and attention, his physique and fatigued condition on his return from a particularly irksome trip through the country counted against him. His death, while generally deplored, is not taken as a refutation of the medical fraternity's opinion that with good care and proper treatment the number of deaths is not likely to be large in proportion to the number of cases.

The day's record of new cases was again large, and there was an increase in the number of deaths. The daily number of new cases is swelling largely because federal control has overcome the disinclination of doctors to make known their cases.

Surgeon White returned to-day from Slidell and went to the originally infected region to survey conditions. He also visited the emergency hospital, which was taken over to-day by the Marine Hospital force.

Advice from Mississippi indicates that the people of the rural regions are growing restless under the severity of the quarantine, which have cut off supplies. Secretary Hunter of the Mississippi board of health, announces himself as utterly opposed to the shogun quarantine, and throughout Mississippi a saner spirit is manifesting itself since the federal government has taken charge of the situation.

Methodist Church.

At 8:15 p. m. Mr. Louis Alonzo, a young Cuban preacher, will deliver an address in the Spanish language, interpreted by Mr. Scoville. It is a rare treat to hear these young men so full of zeal and pathos.

The most interesting service of the recent district conference at Reidsville was the one conducted by these young preachers.

Come out and hear them tell of what God is doing to save the Cubans.

No Verdict in Sanford Case

Rome, Ga., Aug. 9.—The jury in the Sanford case is still out at 10 o'clock to-night, and there is no likelihood of its reaching a verdict. It is generally believed that a mistrial will be the result.

Judge Mose Wright this afternoon stated that he could not tell when he would call the jury in for an inquiry or whether he would declare a mistrial. He was certain, however, that no mistrial would be declared very soon unless his mind changed.

He further stated that he would like very much for the present jury to make a verdict, if possible.

Another trial would be quite expensive to the county, and a jury would be hard to get for the reason that so many citizens of the county had heard all or a part of the testimony in the present trial. It may be several days before there are any new developments in the case.

Fire At Enal

On Tuesday night the dwelling belonging to Mr. R. Simmons, on what is known as the Sasser place, was destroyed by fire. The place was occupied by a colored family and when they awoke the flames had completely enveloped the kitchen part of the house. They succeeded in saving their household furniture with the exception of that in the kitchen. The building was a substantial log structure, and was insured in The Bulloch County Insurance Co. for about $800.00. Tracks were found leading off from the house indicating that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and every effort will be made to apprehend the guilty party.

The Statesboro News

(INCORPORATED.)

Statesboro, Ga. Friday, Aug. 11, 1906

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Old Sol has been venting his heat on a suffering public for several days now.

The town council has set down on electric bitters, and other concoctions that will run a man crazy.

Wait till the winter is past before running for office, and the winter of your discontent, will not last so long.

We still insist that we want none of Ogden's money, or teachers, if the price is a surrender of southern sentiment.

Ti girl who now goes to college soon learns to say "YES" instead of yes mam, to her grand mother.

Save your money and buy a home, and when you get old you can sit beneath your vine and fig tree, and rest in contentment.

The man on the cotton bale, will soon be in evidence, and we trust Brown and Price will hold up the price, aided by your Uncle Harvey Jordan.

The way of the politician is a hard one. They have even found out that Hoke Smith borrowed money, and has an interest in a barroom.

No doubt the Russian and Japanese diplomats felt small, when they stood before the strenuous Roosevelt, the president of this great country, and yet shorn of kingly power.

Means Business.

By reference to the News' columns, will be seen the notice of the Statesboro Guano Company. The gentlemen back of the enterprise have put up twenty thousand dollars in cash, and will proceed at once to prepare for the making of commercial fertilizers this winter and be in time to supply the demand next spring.

Mr. Litchenstein has had extended experience in the business, and will be general manager, while Mr. S. F. Oliff will be president, and Mr. W. S. Prentiss will be secretary and treasurer.

A strong board of directors have been chosen, consisting of Messrs. S. J. Williams, David E. Bird, J. G. Blitch, R. Simmons, and D. A. Brannen, in addition to the three first named officers. This will be a great enterprise for the town and county.

Evan P. Howell.

Probably no man deserves more credit for the upbuilding of Georgia, than Evan P. Howell, who died last Sunday in Atlanta. For four years he followed the fortunes of the Confederacy, and was a brave and valiant soldier. He was generous to a fault, and the first thousand dollars he made after the war, running a sawmill, he loaned it to a friend without security and lost every dollar of it. He was a leader in the stormy days of reconstruction, and took an active part in all enterprises for the good and advancement of his state. He was the fearless lawyer, the brilliant editor and upright citizen.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys, Mary H. Waters, of 646 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months, I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed At W. H. Ellis' drug store; price 50c.

Cotton Growers to Meet

The Georgia division Southern Cotton Association, will hold a called meeting in Atlanta, Tuesday, August 22, at 10 o'clock, a. m. in the hall of the house of representatives.

The call for the meeting has been issued by President M. L. Johnson, and he urges that every county in the state send a representative. Important matters will be discussed, and it is deemed necessary that all who can possibly do so attend the meeting. Questions touching the future of the association, the work in Georgia, and an outline for the campaign for next year will be touched upon, and the eyes of the entire country will be directed toward Georgia during this meeting.

President Johnson's call for the meeting is as follows: "To the Georgia Division, Southern Cotton Association: A meeting of the Georgia division, Southern Cotton Association, is hereby called for Tuesday, August 22, at 10 o'clock, a. m., in the hall of the house of representatives. Important questions touching the future of yourself, your neighbor, your county, your state, and your southland and your country are to be discussed. The association will be called to order promptly at 10 o'clock, a. m., in the hall of the house of representatives, at the capitol in Atlanta. Respectfully,

M. L. Johnson, "President."

Sick Headache.
"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. Mr. Editor: I noticed an article in your issue of the 28th headed "About Good Roads." This gentleman says we tried the old plan for a hundred years and failed. Now I think he is mistaken, for I know when the new law was first passed a few years ago. It was a complete failure with plenty of money and our ordinary was called on to give an account of the money that had been paid, and he failed to show up but $10, then the old plan was put in force again.

I positively say the roads were worked and put in better condition than they are present, and the gentleman knows it. I will ask the gentleman if he thinks it is right to pass a law to force people to pay out their money and get no work done. I am in favor of good roads and want to see every public road in the county in good condition, and am ready to help all I can in that direction: but on the other hand when it is pay and pay and but little work done, and we don't know what the money is being used for, it is time to kick. He says if your overseer don't work, or is stealing the road money, report him. We have accused nobody of stealing, but will that we have paid about $90 on our road with the promise from our overseer that he would work back on that road and he sent back five or six days with from three to five hands and has quit, and says there is no more money.

I will ask the gentleman to tell where the money is; it has been in and has not been put on our road.

I will ask the gentleman if it is right for the county mules to be used on the farm and our roads unworked. This was done under the new law. Under the old law everybody plowed his own stock or he didn't plow for he didn't have the county furnish him one. I've been informed by the leading men of different sections of the county that they have paid their money and the roads are not worked. Why not work some of your new law is such a good one? Why does everybody complain with the exception of a few and they've good jobs or they would be kicking too.

The gentleman says don't kick to kicking. We are not kicking on law, it is the way it is managed. No law is any account unless it is enforced. The gentleman invites us to come and see the graded roads the chairman is making in his section. If he will let us know what day to come we will be there if he will go with us, for we would be glad to see one good road.

Respectfully,
Jas. L. Stubbs

A Warning to Mothers.
Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in case of cholera infantum. For sale by All Druggists.

Cotton Picking is now the order of the day. Very little sea island cotton has been picked as yet, but farmers are preparing to go into it next week in great shape.

Mr. Editor: Please allow me space in your valuable paper to reply to Mr. Hayseed.

I did not intend to hurt his feeling in my first letter, but only one mentioning the system of working the roads. He is so greedy for a fight—so full of the new system—I but if he were to unscrew his feet he would go up like a balloon. Mr. Hayseed, and everybody else, please sign your name to your articles, we will all be better satisfied. I will have Hayseed know that the people will rule out this kind of working the roads, and then you will have it by yourself if you wish one. Hayseed is no good where there is plenty of plows, and no other kind of grass seed. I know from the way you are no farmer. I presume you are some old time school teacher of preacher is the reason you want give name; but if you are getting $40 per month to work the roads fight for it, Hayseed. Don't get mad for you said the discussion of any subject does good. I believe when the limited time for this road law to be out it will be out soon enough, for the people will rule it out just the same as the dispensary in Statesboro, and the next time you shoot Rattlesnake John clean out your gun and load it with a few road machines and shoot heavenwardly and your shot may fall on the system and carry it down into the bottommost pit of eternity. I think if you would go back to your dormant state and stay a while you would be a wiser man on your return.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE

A Railway Official Says No Five Men Control Rates.

"It is untrue that the officials and owners of the railroads are 'stiff-necked' in their opposition to all public supervision of their rates or regulations, as it is that they favor and are building up gigantic combinations to the injury or exclusion of any of their customers, or that they have themselves become the greatest of all monopolies," says President Lucian Tufts of the Boston and Maine Railroad.

"This, with the collateral statement that five men in New York can now make the rates for 150,000 miles of railroad in this country, and appreciably control those of the remaining mileage, is a favorite argument of the professional railroad opponent; but as these statements are never accompanied by any sustaining proof, either general or specific, they should, I think, be received as having only doubtful value."

"I do not believe that there is among railroad officials anywhere any real or active opposition to a proper and reasonable public supervision of their tariffs or business methods. No five men or ten men in New York or elsewhere, or even one-tenth of the railroads of the country. The magnitude of the task of sectional, not to say national, rate-making is so well understood by those charged with the responsibilities of railroad management, and the difficulties of reducing the number of those engaged in it are so great, that I have in part to meet the well-versed railroad official who believes it possible to select any five, or any twenty men, no matter how able, honest or expert, to whom could be safely entrusted the power to supervise or prescribe, either in part or in whole, the transportation rates of this great country without risk of imminent and wide-spreading danger to every commercial interest."

"And this is a task so great that our most experienced railroad managers would shrink from its undertaking, what must we think of the probable result of a politically selected commission of, say, seven men (and we all know from practical experience what 'politically selected' may mean), in whose charge shall be placed not only the earnings, but the absolute capital, privately described and owned, and which derives its value wholly from expected earnings, of all the railroads of the country. What might not such a commission attempt in the months preceding a hotly contested national election, in which the railroads and their status might be one of the dominant issues?"

A Chicago professor announces the discovery that men were fish in prehistoric ages. Shouldn't wonder; there are many suckers among men in this age.

"A New Jersey Judge has decided that a woman is boss in the kitchen." An entirely unnecessary and superfluous decision, thinks the Richmond News-Leader.

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States Supreme Court, in a recent opinion on a stock gambling case, said that dealing in futures was the "self adjustment of society to the probable."

A Brooklyn magazine writer has reduced his weight from 210 pounds to 175 pounds in four-six days by eating nothing and drinking large quantities of hot lemonade. Other weighty people who are not hungry and who like hot lemonade may like to try his plan.

The American Bible Society has just received a gift of $300 from a man to whom forty years ago, while lying a wounded soldier in the hospital of Vicksburg, a New Testament was given. He wishes the money to be used as soon as possible in placing the gospel in the hands of wounded soldiers in Japanese hospitals.

Scientists have discovered that if England continues to tumble into the sea at the present rate the island will disappear in the year 12184. The fact that this terrible prospect has not caused the people of England to begin moving back to the hills only shows what a fearless lot they are.

When a friend expressed wonder at the unvarying graciousness with which her hostess welcomed callers and inquired, "How do you manage to do it?" the reply was, "I just make myself believe that the person I'm going to speak to is some one I like." This is a good rule to see those who are always glad to see those they like.

An Englishman in Canada writes home in considerable excitement as follows: "The majority of Canadians never read an English paper of any kind whatever; all their literature is American. All the bookstores' shelves are filled with American books, American reviews, American papers. And with what result? There can be only one result - Canadians will think 'Americanity.'"

Excuses, ever since Adam made the first, have been regarded with suspicion and have often been invalid. Sometimes, however, they contain elements of truth, and this, we think, be said of the excuse for automobile outrages which was put forward the other day by an owner and a chauffeur. The excuse was that the chauffeur took automobiles out without the knowledge or consent of his employer and ran them recklessly. It seems to be more easy for dishonest servants to do this with automobiles than with horses and carriages. Indeed, continued the New York Tribune, complaints of their doing so with the latter have seldom if ever been heard. We do not see why, in a well-managed household, it should be much easier or safer to do it with automobiles. The fact that it is done seems to be well established, and it ought to suggest the need of some pretty vigorous preventive or deterrent measures.

Some of the decisions in railroad damage cases have been calculated to fill the mind with awe, not unmixed with other emotions, but we do not recall any that rivals the one that is reported from Illinois, remarks the Pittsburgh Dispatch. In this case the parents of a young man killed in a railroad accident sued for damages. The evidence showed that the young man was a university student and an athlete, the trial judge dismissed the case. He held that the maintenance of a young man of that character is an expense to the parents and contributes nothing to their support. Therefore, as there had no pecuniary loss they had no claim for damages. This judicial utterance on the cash value of university students and athletes is striking, to say the least. Such a ruling on the measure of damages in the case of the parents of the young man who died in this case is a good deal of a surprise. It is a pity that this judicial tendency continues, parents of scholastic young men may be brought to an attitude of thankfulness, in the case of such accidents, to escape an assessment for benefits.

Epitomized Items of Interest Gathered at Random.

T. P. A. on the War Path.
At a meeting in Augusta of Post E, Travelers' Protective Association, a red-hot resolution, introduced by Captain P. H. Rice, demanding that the board of directors investigate the recent efforts of certain members to connect the order with state politics and citing as one of the parties guilty of the offense the state secretary, was passed. His name is not given in the resolution, but it is known to be Mr. Andrews of Atlanta.

Railroad Employes in Georgia.
Figures just compiled by the railroad commission of Georgia show that the various railroads in the state employ 21,563 men, including the officers of the road, while without the officers there are 21,341 employes.

Arrested Florida Health Agent.
On account of the arrest of Dr. Diggett, agent of the Florida state board of health, by the mayor of Folkston, State Health Officer Porter of Florida, instructed Dr. Diggett to move the detention camp from Folkston to Camp Perry, inside the Florida line.

To Hear Jack Bone Case.
The prison commission will take up the case of Jack Bone, who is under sentence to hang in Floyd county on August 25. The contention is made that Bone is still insane, and if the commission should find him to be so, and should find that he had probably been mentally deranged at the time he committed the killing for which he is to hang, they will make some recommendation to the governor that will probably result in saving Bone's neck from the hangman's noose.

Good Record of Supreme Court.
The supreme court of Georgia on Saturday finished its work for the spring term and adjourned until the first Monday in October. Since last fall the court has heard and determined approximately one thousand cases, which is far more than any other court of last resort in the United States has ever been called upon to decide in the same length of time. Many of these cases involved questions of vast importance, requiring the gravest consideration, and when it is considered that the Georgia decisions rank among the best in the country, it is a credit to the court.

Work of surveying the Central of Georgia railroad from Carrollton to wards Bowden and out through Cuthbert and Randolph counties. At present the best in the country, the regular surveying corps, headed by Mr. Shipley. They hope to have this line completed by February, 1906. It will open up a good section of country untraversed by railroads, and the Bowden, which has been so long secluded and deprived of a railroad, may soon be placed in connection with Carrollton.

Clerk Transferred to Atlanta.
The recording and clerical department of the United States circuit court of appeals of the fifth judicial circuit, located in New Orleans, since that court was abolished, has been transferred to Atlanta.

Charles H. Lednum, for years clerk of the United States court of appeals with offices in New Orleans, is now in the Gate City.

The judges of the various district and circuit courts within the territory of the court of appeals of the fifth circuit have been officially notified of the change. The prevalence of yellow fever in New Orleans, and the consequent quarantine restrictions are presumed to be the primary cause of the transfer.

Savannah's quarantine now applies to New Orleans alone, Health Officer W. F. Brunner having issued orders to that effect. It is probable the quarantine will be done away with eventually a few days after the federal authorities assume control of the situation in New Orleans, as it is believed that the detention camps will then protect the outside world.

The quarantine against New Orleans now, however, is being rigidly enforced, a special officer boarding every train, and putting off those who are unable to show that they have not been in New Orleans for five days. The city authorities have begun a sanitary campaign throughout the city and suburbs, and an active war on mosquitoes.

Hudson Assumes Official Duties.
Hon. Thomas G. Hudson is now commissioner of agriculture of the state of Georgia. He will hold the office until his successor is elected and qualified. All of the attaches of the department, R. F. Wright, who has ably served the department for the past eight years as assistant commissioner of agriculture, will be retained, as will Captain John Johnson of the fertilizer department. J. M. McCandless, the state chemist; Professor J. T. Derry, the historian and shipping clerk, and Dr. William Cullen Bryant, chief of inspection. Mr. Hudson announces that he will be a candidate for election at the next primary.

Hon. O. B. Stevens, the retiring commissioner.

Government of Mississippi is Suspicious of Memphis and Wires for Information as to Exact Conditions in the Tennessee City.

Based upon a report that yellow fever was in Memphis, and as a matter of expediency and to safeguard the interests of the state of Mississippi against the possible outbreak of yellow fever in the Tennessee city, Governor James K. Vardaman, Monday called up Dr. J. A. Crisler over the telephone to ascertain if possible the exact conditions existing in Memphis.

Dr. Crisler assured Governor Vardaman that he would investigate the matter, and later, after a full investigation, the following telegram, signed by Dr. Heber Jones, president of the board of health, and twenty-eight leading physicians of Memphis, was sent to the governor:

"Dear Sir: We, the undersigned physicians, practicing in the city of Memphis, and having been informed by Mrs. Hodder and Crisler that you had communicated with them today over the long distance telephone to the effect that a physician had informed you that yellow fever was already in Memphis, and the knowledge of its presence was being withheld by the board of health and physicians generally, beg to emphatically state to your excellency that no such conditions obtain here to the best of our knowledge and belief, and, moreover, solemnly pledge ourselves to report the first suspicious case that comes within our practice or knowledge."

A similar telegram of assurance was sent by the business exchanges. The following message in reply was received from Governor Vardaman: "Jackson, Miss., August 7.-J. T. Williams, President Business Men's League, and Others, Memphis: I have your message of today and accept your assurances that there is no yellow fever in Memphis implicitly. Should your city be so unfortunate as to be visited by this dread disease, we shall rely upon you to notify us at once. God grant that you may escape the pestilence."

A unique feature of the situation was presented when George R. James, a well known Memphis citizen, applied for a detention certificate to the board of health from interfering with the return to the city of his wife and daughters who are visiting in the state of Illinois.

Chancellor Heber granted a temporary injunction, but explained that he reserved the right to deny the petitioner's prayer; should members of the board of health come before him with evidence that the detention camp at Shreveport, La., Monday night, Dr. Goldsberger of the United States marine hospital service, gave out the following statement on conditions as he finds them at the detention camp at the city:

"(1) Barney Tracey, convalescing from yellow fever; (2) Ed Healt, post mortem examination shows yellow fever in life; (3) Ed Jones, malarial fever; (4) Albert Miller. This case was seen by me at a stage where diagnosis was impossible, in the opinion of the local authorities, a temporary injunction, but all the cases were of men who tried to enter the city from other points, but were stopped on the outskirts by the quarantine inspectors and conveyed under proper precautions to a detention camp and there carefully screened. There appears to be no danger of spread and no cases are known to be present in the city."

The negroes tired, from chopping cotton, had camped on the track, and thinking the train had passed, and were asleep when struck.

Based upon a report that yellow fever was in Memphis, and as a matter of expediency and to safeguard the interests of the state of Mississippi against the possible outbreak of yellow fever in the Tennessee city, Governor James K. Vardaman, Monday called up Dr. J. A. Crisler over the telephone to ascertain if possible the exact conditions existing in Memphis.

Dr. Crisler assured Governor Vardaman that he would investigate the matter, and later, after a full investigation, the following telegram, signed by Dr. Heber Jones, president of the board of health, and twenty-eight leading physicians of Memphis, was sent to the governor:

"Dear Sir: We, the undersigned physicians, practicing in the city of Memphis, and having been informed by Mrs. Hodder and Crisler that you had communicated with them today over the long distance telephone to the effect that a physician had informed you that yellow fever was already in Memphis, and the knowledge of its presence was being withheld by the board of health and physicians generally, beg to emphatically state to your excellency that no such conditions obtain here to the best of our knowledge and belief, and, moreover, solemnly pledge ourselves to report the first suspicious case that comes within our practice or knowledge."

A similar telegram of assurance was sent by the business exchanges. The following message in reply was received from Governor Vardaman: "Jackson, Miss., August 7.-J. T. Williams, President Business Men's League, and Others, Memphis: I have your message of today and accept your assurances that there is no yellow fever in Memphis implicitly. Should your city be so unfortunate as to be visited by this dread disease, we shall rely upon you to notify us at once. God grant that you may escape the pestilence."

A unique feature of the situation was presented when George R. James, a well known Memphis citizen, applied for a detention certificate to the board of health from interfering with the return to the city of his wife and daughters who are visiting in the state of Illinois.

Chancellor Heber granted a temporary injunction, but explained that he reserved the right to deny the petitioner's prayer; should members of the board of health come before him with evidence that the detention camp at Shreveport, La., Monday night, Dr. Goldsberger of the United States marine hospital service, gave out the following statement on conditions as he finds them at the detention camp at the city:

"(1) Barney Tracey, convalescing from yellow fever; (2) Ed Healt, post mortem examination shows yellow fever in life; (3) Ed Jones, malarial fever; (4) Albert Miller. This case was seen by me at a stage where diagnosis was impossible, in the opinion of the local authorities, a temporary injunction, but all the cases were of men who tried to enter the city from other points, but were stopped on the outskirts by the quarantine inspectors and conveyed under proper precautions to a detention camp and there carefully screened. There appears to be no danger of spread and no cases are known to be present in the city."

Mrs. B. A. Trapnell Passes Away.

On yesterday morning at two o'clock, at their home in East Statesboro, Mrs. Ada Trapnell, wife of Mr. B. A. Trapnell, breathed her last. She has been ill for several days and her death while a shock to the family and friends had been expected for the past two or three days. Her demise is a complication of causes. At the time of her death she was surrounded by her husband, mother, brother, sister and other relatives.

Mrs. Trapnell was a daughter of Mr. Jerry Coleman, one of the most prominent planters of Emanuel county, and a sister of Dr. E. T. Coleman and Mrs. Dennis Durden of Graymont.

The interment will be made at the Lake church, near Metter, this morning where the funeral will also be conducted.

The deceased leaves a large circle of friends in Statesboro to mourn her loss.

Dr. Wright Passes Away.

The many friends of Dr. W. F. Wright in Statesboro regret to learn of his death in Clayton, Ala. a few days ago. The cause of his death is said to have been Bright's disease. Dr. Wright was general superintendent of the Savannah & Statesboro railway at this place for quite a while and while here made many warm friends.

More Pumas Walking Around

The news from across Mill creek, in the neighborhood of the place where the two lions were seen some time ago, is somewhat disquieting. Mr. J. C. Dutton says that they have been in his field stepping around on the vegetation. There are apparently tracks of two very large animals of some kind, one very much larger than the other one. He is satisfied that these tracks are those of some wild beast of the forest. Mr. W. B. Hart was also in the city yesterday, and says that something that looked like a lion had been wallowing in his field. It may be possible that we may have more lions in our swamps than we are aware of.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. The present crop indicates a short yield compared with 1904, while the consumption of cotton will go forward unabated for the next eighteen months. Present prices for spot cotton are not high. They represent only a small profit to the producers.

If the fight must come it will be forced by the spinners and will be met by determined and effective opposition on the part of the producers. The crop of 1905 must not be sacrificed. Let every man measure up the highest standard of southern manhood and do his full duty. The mills have got to have our cotton, and if they want to stop buying at present prices we can stop selling and see whose corn crib and smoke house will last the longest. On the eve of the crisis which threatens the south the southern press is earnestly called upon to publish this article and comment upon it editorially.

Must Stand Firm.

The producers have just won a notable victory in the face of the largest crop ever produced in this county and by concert of action forced prices up from 6 cents in January to 10 cents on July 8th, encountering each day the most intense opposition.

Texas Mob Burns Negro Alive.

Sulphur Springs, Texas, Aug. 11.—Tom Williams, a mulatto negro, made an attempt to assault a young white girl in a pasture near this town about 6 o'clock this morning. Three hours later he was a blazing mass in the public square, at Sulphur Springs. The whole proceeding was as orderly as such proceedings ever are. There was no excitement and the lynching was participated in by several hundred people. In less than four hours after the assault, the tragedy had ended and the town had returned to its accustomed vocations, and the incident was over.

On a farm about two miles southwest of the town Mary Childs lives with her mother and sisters. About 6 o'clock this morning she started as was her wont to the pasture to drive up the cows to the milking lot. She had found the cows and was returning with them, when Williams accosted her. He took hold of the girl, and the latter realizing her predicament, told the negro he had better release her as her sisters were nearby. This evidently frightened the negro and the girl seeing that he hesitated set up a scream and Williams loosened his hold on her and ran off, as fast as he could. The girl made her way home and told what had happened. Officers and a posse started after the negro and he was soon caught about a mile and a half east of town. He was taken at once to the scene of the attempted assault and was fully identified by his intended victim who told in detail of her experience with him. As soon as the mob arrived at the public square, the tools of its trade were provided.

From his head to his heels the negro was saturated with oil. A match was applied to the feet and a blaze shot high in the air. The mob stood by and watched the flames devour the negro. The fire was kept going for a while, but it soon burned itself out and the body was cut down. Then more oil was poured on it and the blaze started afresh, the body was almost entirely incinerated. Then the mob dispersed and in half an hour no sign remained of the gruesome tragedy that had been enacted, nor of the victim whose death had been compassed so quickly after his crime.

Cotton Growers Take Up Gauge of Spinners

Atlanta, Aug. 11.—A recent meeting of the International Cotton Spinners held at London, Eng., on August 1, indicates very clearly that the producers are to be bitterly fought by the spinners during the next three months. At the above meeting foreign spinners were advised to buy no more cotton for 90 days except in such cases where the raw material was absolutely needed. The effort will be made to depress the cotton market here by reducing the demand for
