Mrs. B. A. Trapnell

Passes Away.

On yesterday morning at two o'clock, at their home in East Statesboro, Mrs. Ada Trapnell, wife of Mr. B. A. Trapnell, breathed her last. She has been ill for several days and her death while a shock to the family and friends had been expected for the past two or three days. Her demise is a complication of causes. At the time of her death she was surrounded by her husband, mother, brother, sister and other relatives.

Mrs. Trapnell was a daughter of Mr. Jerry Coleman, one of the most prominent planters of Emanuel county, and a sister of Dr. E. T. Coleman and Mrs. Dennis Durden of Graymont.

The interment will be made at the Lake church, near Metter, this morning where the funeral will also be conducted.

The deceased leaves a large circle of friends in Statesboro to mourn her loss.

Dr. Wright Passes Away.

The many friends of Dr. W. F. Wright in Statesboro regret to learn of his death in Clayton, Ala. a few days ago. The cause of his death is said to have been Bright's disease. Dr. Wright was general superintendent of the Savannah & Statesboro railway at this place for quite a while and while here made many warm friends.

More Pumas Walking Around

The news from across Mill creek, in the neighborhood of the place where the two lions were seen some time ago, is somewhat disquieting. Mr. J. C. Dutton says that they have been in his field stepping around on the vegetation. There are apparently tracks of two very large animals of some kind, one very much larger than the other one. He is satisfied that these tracks are those of some wild beast of the forest. Mr. W. B. Hart was also in the city yesterday, and says that something that looked like a lion had been wallowing in his field. It may be possible that we may have more lions in our swamps than we are aware of.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by All Druggists.

Cotton Growers Take

Up Gauge of Spinners

Atlanta, Aug. 11.—A recent meeting of the International Cotton Spinners held at London, Eng., on August 1, indicates very clearly that the producers are to be bitterly fought by the spinners during the next three months. At the above meeting foreign spinners were advised to buy no more cotton for 90 days except in such cases where the raw material was absolutely needed. The effort will be made to depress the cotton market here by reducing the demand for the raw material as far as possible in order to break down the present movement of the farmers to demand fair prices for their staple.

The present plan of the foreign spinners, it now appears, is to crush the Southern Cotton Association and its efforts at the opening of the fall season and force the farmers to sacrifice their cotton on a depressed market brought about by combination and concert of action among the spinners and "bear" speculators. Every imaginable device known to human ingenuity will be brought to bear to depress prices during the next four months.

ASSOCIATION TO FIX PRICE.

The Southern Cotton Association will meet at Asheville, N. C., September 6th and at that time will fix a minimum price on the present crop which will be fair and just to both producers and spinners, based upon a carefully prepared report on the condition of the crop up to August 25 and the estimated percentage of yield, as compared with 1904.

When this minimum price for spot cotton is fixed by the representatives of the different states on September 6th, every producer of cotton in the south will be called upon to stand by the action of the association and force the consuming world to pay a fair price for the staple. There will be no surplus of raw cotton from the crop of 1904. What is left over unconsumed on September 1 will be only a small reserve stock. The mills are now consuming 270,000 bales per week and the demand for cotton goods is enormous at high prices. The farmers are in good financial shape to protect their staple and if money is needed southern bankers are amply able and quite willing to finance the situation.

MUST STAND FIRM.

The producers have just won a notable victory in the face of the largest crop ever produced in this county and by concert of action forced prices up from 6 cents in January to 10 cents on July 8th, encountering each day the most intense opposition.

The present crop indicates a short yield compared with 1904, while the consumption of cotton will go forward unabated for the next eighteen months. Present prices for spot cotton are not high. They represent only a small profit to the producers.

If the fight must come it will be forced by the spinners and will be met by determined and effective opposition on the part of the producers. The crop of 1905 must not be sacrificed. Let every man measure up the highest standard of southern manhood and do his full duty. The mills have got to have our cotton, and if they want to stop buying at present prices we can stop selling and see whose corn crib and smoke house will last the longest. On the eve of the crisis which threatens the south the southern press is earnestly called upon to publish this article and comment upon it editorially.

Engines And Cars Thrown Down Bank

Cordele, Ga., Aug. 10.—The southbound "Shoo-fly" on the Georgia Southern & Florida railroad, due in Cordele at 7:45 p. m. stuck the rear of a freight train here this evening just north of the coal chute. The passenger engine was overturned and thrown down a twenty foot embankment as were four freight cars. The engine and cars are badly wrecked, but no one was injured seriously. Just before the passenger engine struck the rear of the freight, which was drilling a string of cars, the engineer and fireman jumped to the ground and were only jolted slightly. The passenger train was delayed several hours and was taken on to Valdosta by a yard engine.

Good School for Boys.

The Donald Fraser school for boys, Decatur, Ga., prepares boys and young men for college or the "Tech."

Prof. G. Holman Gardner, the principal, has recently been to Statesboro and has captured several of our boys. Messrs. J. G. Blitch, J. A. McDougald, W. B. Johnson, R. F. Lester, and J. B. Lee will have sons at the Donald Fraser school this year.

The school is well known in Georgia and has a reputation for doing fine work. It limits its boarding students to forty boys.

While giving many reasons why new trials should be granted, one there is especially which is unique and which Attorney Cooper thinks is enough in itself to give him another chance before the jury.

That reason is that it was brought in on Sunday. When the jury announced that the old man had been found guilty it was after midnight on Saturday night and consequently on Sunday morning.

"I have all kinds of grounds for new trials, grounds to spare and will get them."

Attorney Cooper declined to say whether or not he had cautioned old man Rawlings on talking too much, but it is known he is in constant communication with the prisoners.

Midnight Picnic.

One of the most delightful social events of the season was the straw ride and picnic Thursday afternoon and evening. About a dozen couples left town late in the afternoon and drove out to Roberts' mill. This picturesque old mill shows to its best advantage by moonlight and is well suited as a place for a picnic. The walks are fine, and the boating facilities very good. After enjoying the scenery of the place for awhile, lunch was spread and everyone did justice to the occasion.

The chaperones then announced that it was time to return to town, much to the regret of some of the crowd who rather enjoy the moonlight and the sentiments that the moonlight gives rise to.

Upon returning to town the crowd went to Griner's cafe where refreshments were served. The crowd then went home to dream of the pleasant evening they had spent.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Griner and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kennedy chaperoned the party.

Cotton Crop a Failure.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowen spent Sunday last very pleasantly with friends and relatives at Excelsior. Mr. Bowen observed that the cotton crop in that immediate section would be cut short from rust or some other disease, he did not know what. He brought to The News office a stalk of cotton from the field of Mr. S. G. DeLoach, which at one time was laden with fruit, but now is complete wreck, having thrown off the better portion of its fruit, and this is true of his entire cotton crop. Mr. W. R. Woodcock is suffering on account of the same pest.

Jerry Simpson Dying

(Atlanta News.)

Picturesque "Jerry" Simpson's days are numbered. The news of his death is anticipated daily. "Poor Jerry Simpson," will be almost the universal exclamation," declares the Washington Post, and there are few to dispute.

"A populist, he rode the frenzied wave in Kansas, to political honors and emoluments; but there was a brainy head on those shoulders," continues the Post. Certainly the opponent who felt the force of "Socks Jerry's" biting wrath would never deny the art of rough-and-tumble, catch-as-catch-can debate. He did not deal in euphonious figures of speech. He had a way of calling a spade a spade and a fool a fool, that was disconcerting but effective. As a member of the house his forte was witty speeches. While he was still a new member Simpson threw himself athwart the path of Representative Snodgrass, of Tennessee, who had attempted to belittle him, in a sarcastic vein, as the duke of the house, but who was promptly annihilated by Simpson. "I may have been accused lately of being 'the duke of the house,' but no gentleman has accused me of being the fool of the house. I wish I could say as much of the gentleman from Tennessee."

Probably the most humorous of all the episodes of the house in which Simpson figured occurred during the fifty-fifth congress, and was occasioned by a remark by Col. Hepburn, of Iowa, himself a humorist ever ready for an encounter. One day as the house was proceeding in a humdrum way, Hepburn intimated to Simpson that on looking inside the hat of Mr. Dingley, of Maine, he would probably find something to his advantage.

The silk hat had been deposited, crown down, upon one of the house desks, as was Mr. Dingley's custom on coming to the house for a few minutes. Mr. Simpson walked cautiously past it, peered within, saw that it bore a London label, walked back to his side of the house and propounded a query to "the gentleman from Maine."

There was an object lesson against protection, which Mr. Simpson made the most of. The chairman of the ways and means committee and author of the Dingley law was wearing a silk hat made in London. Mr. Simpson wanted to know why the chairman of protection and home markets did not wear a silk tile of American manufacture.

When Mr. Dingley replied that the hat was probably made in this country but given a London label to make it sell better, the Kansas only pointed him the harder for catering to that false sentiment. For the first time in his long career as a member of the house Mr. Dingley was plainly routed. The house was in high spirits that day. When the republican leader angrily denounced the discussion as "all rot" there was a shout of laughter.

After his retirement from the political arena, Simpson removed to New Mexico where he has lived in comparative obscurity, which leads the Tipoka Capital to declare: "Ten years ago Simpson was a national figure. He lies dying today in an obscure town, and a brief word in the dispatches expresses of which he is significant. How soon he are forgotten." Simpson's leadership has indeed passed, but it will be many a day before the picturesque personality of the man is forgotten.

Soon after beging to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed At W. H. Ellis' drug store; price 50c.

The Boy Who Works.

Do you feel, young fellow, that you have a hard time? Your hours are long. Your task is hard and the wages small. The contents of your weekly pay envelope will scarcely carry you over the week. Sometimes you must wear patched trousers or a frayed coat. Your employer expects a great deal from you. Other fellows dress well and always have money. They have coddling fathers and mothers while you toil six days a week to make a living.

Never mind, young man. You are ahead of the boy who has every luxury at home. You are getting experience that he must get some later on. Because, sooner or later, he must fight the real battle of life himself. And you have the advantage. While life has been made easy for him, he lacks drill and discipline which every life-soldier must go through. You are preparing yourself. He may go in without preparation and fail.

Work is a great blessing. You cannot see now, but someday you will say that you were fortunate in your boyhood days because you were compelled to work. Because you cannot get power to do things save by doing them. Look over the successful men you know. Get their history. Nearly every one was compelled to work in boyhood. They toughened their muscles by hard work and sharpened their brain by looking out for themselves.

Work makes men. Luck usually fails. Pluck never always wins. To succeed in anything one must overcome obstacles. Force and fire are built by hardships. Grit is as necessary in the making of a man as gumption. Hardships are not always hand-caps. Often they are helps. You will understand this better in twenty years. Meantime permit one who has lived that permit one who has lived to advise you in this. Hang on to your job until you are sure of a better one. Dependable boys are in demand. And no boy can be depended upon who does not finish the task he sets his hand to do. However disagreeable your work, do it thoroughly. Do it better than the average boy will do it. In that way you will come to be known as a dependable boy.

And mind you this: Men everywhere are looking for capable, honest, gritty, dependable boys. The sooner you let people know that you are that kind of a boy, the sooner you will get a better job. And don't be in a hurry to give up the work you already have. Be sure something better is offered. Wait awhile. Do your work well. Promotion will come. And do not envy the boy who has an easy time now, but someday he must "make good." With his flabby muscles and his easy habits and his many wants he stands a far poorer chance than you. Remember above all, young fellow, you are making a man out of yourself.

Public is Aroused. The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys. Mary H. ### In Memory of Miss Bertha Hodges

How sad and how strange to us that such a beautiful life, just in the full bloom and fragrance of sweet and noble womanhood should be taken from us, but while she is gone

She left her impress on the youthful mind. And shaped their natures in a mould refined; She look through nature up to nature's God, And pointed out the way that Christ had trod.

Early in life she gave herself back to God; she was ever loyal and devoted to her church and all its institutions, though quiet and unassuming. She was a zealous worker in the cause of missions, both at home and abroad. She was a bright scholar in Sunday school, and when she became teacher of her class she felt at home and delighted in explaining the lessons to an appreciative class.

In the history world she ranked as one of the first and best equipped lady teachers in the county, with a store house full of multitudes of intellectual warfare. At home she was an obedient, dutiful and loving child and sister. "The idol of a happy home" and "the heart of the household" were never idle, doing at all times cheerfully what her hands could find to do. Therefore, not only has her family lost a loving daughter and sister, her church a useful member, but the county has lost as a teacher one of the highest and finest types of womanhood.

Yes, the still dream of life is over, and our friend has passed into the Great Unknown whence returns to us no voice of the traveler. The lesson of life has ended on this side; no instruction can she give us—no warning. We can only stand and look through the gloomy shade that envelopes her and defies our vision and await our time.

The day hastens when we, too, must gather our garments about us and step into the same cold water and pass it to the shadow that rests on that distant shore. We can recall none there, nor do they answer if we call, though ever so heart-broken be our cries. But thank God we can commune with their memories. Their lives are our pattern, profession, and though it be sad, yet it is a pleasure to recall those lives, their habits and their association with them.

We repeat that great has been our loss. Whereas: In view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our dear friend, Miss Bertha, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those nearest and dearest to her, therefore, be resolved:

That it be a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting her removal from our midst we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard. Resolved: That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased on the separation with which it has pleased divine Providence to affect them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved: Also that hereafter the Sunday school at this place take notice and make record of the deaths of its members whenever such may occur. Respectfully,

Lyman P. Moore, Committee.

Read and adopted by New Hope Methodist Sunday school. This August 13th 1905.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in case of cholera infantum. For sale by All Druggists.

Dr. Benjamin Jordan,

CALLS ANSWERED PROMPTLY

Day and Night

New Counties Cause Great Speculation.

The fate of the new county bills passed Friday by the house and which are to pass the house Monday is hanging in the balance. There is considerable opposition to the measures in the senate, though it is believed that the ultimate outcome of the fight will be the passage of the same bills as passed by the house.

Chairman Crawford Wheatley of the senate committee on new counties is in favor of sustaining the action of the house and is working to that end. There are other senators whose senatorial districts are effected by the new county measures, and they say they are in doubt whether to support the action of the house.

There has been considerable work done on the new county measures since the house passed six of the measures, and every effort is being made to have the senate adopt the action of the house.

Senator Wheatley claims that seven of the counties adopted by the house committee were adopted by the senate committee in the informal session and he thinks if the house will agree to the seven counties selected by the senate he thinks it is only right and proper that the senate should stand by the house in its selection of only one county.

The senate committee will have a meeting Tuesday afternoon for considering the new county bills, and they will be reported to the house Wednesday. There will be a strong effort made to bring in a unanimous report of the senate committee and if this is done the chances are it will be adopted. If, however, there is a majority report there is a likelihood of a fight.

HARVILLE

Mr. Ivy Miller and Miss Ola Denmark were among those present at the school closing last Friday.

ZOAR

Mr. Editor:

Will you allow a few lines in your valuable paper from the best farming section in Bulloch.

We have just had a fine rain and everything is lovely. Corn is fine, cotton is poor; I think it is about one-third off.

Mr. C. H. Driggers is our best farmer. He has about twenty acres of the best cotton in the county, and his corn will average thirty bushels to the acre. I am glad to see a young man set a good example.

Cotton picking will be the go next week. Every farmer is in good shape.

Zoar is on a boom. We have two gineries, two saw mills, rice huller, grist mill, and we think a crate and basket factory will be next.

We hope the guano factory at Statesboro will put up all their guano in cotton seed sacks.

We must take the lead. We expect to bring something for the fair.

H. I. Waters.

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.

TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

With 3000 dentists about to be graduated it behooves all people with teeth unable to hang on to them, at monies to a Hartford Post.

The St. Louis Republican says the inventor of today is no longer invested with the riches of unrequited patience, but is the man of all others who leaps to eminence and fortune.

That agriculture is being considered a necessary part of school work is shown by the legislative action of several states. Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Nebraska have passed laws requiring agriculture to be taught in the schools.

A German statistician who estimated recently the amounts of money spent by tourists in Europe says Switzerland gathers in $300,000,000 a year from 3,000,000 visitors; Italy, the Riviera and Spain derive $60,000,000, and the chief capitals receive $25,000,000. Great sums pour into other quarters by lake, mountain and sea, reflects the New York World.

Missouri claims in its zinc and lead deposits more mineral wealth than the gold deposits of California or Colorado, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. While the $700,000,000 worth of these materials has been taken out, it is asserted that their development has only begun. The state's yield in these minerals alone is claimed to have been greater than the total product of Colorado.

For weeds, individual humanity is blamable. They can be cut down "ere sin can blight or sorrow fade." To neglect to do so is to inflict a grievance upon others. It is to offend society and the law. The municipality should take delight in enforcing in the case of weeds that measure of protection which is denied it, also, against the vagrant fly, concludes the Kansas City Star.

Economy can be overdone. A fellow who works hard all his life can die owing bread, stocks and bonds, notes and cash for heirs to quarrel over, declares the Farm Journal. He can go without the comforts of life, denying himself all luxuries, be roundly hated by all he deals with for his close, stingy ways, may choose dollars instead of friends, and never see a day of rest, amazing wealth for those who never cared for him and who have waited only for him to die out of the way to get the reward of his skimping and labors.

The annual report for the calendar year 1904 on emigration from Ireland shows that the total number of persons leaving Irish ports was 37,415, a decrease of 3241 from the number in 1903, states the Consular Reports. There were 17,994 males and 19,821 females who emigrated in 1904, and 88 per cent were between the ages of 15 and 35; the percentage over 35 years of age was 7.3, and of children under 15 years 8.3. The collection of statistics of Irish emigration was begun May 1, 1852, and in the 53 years since then the number of emigrants has been 3,997,913. The highest annual emigration was 190,322, in 1882, and the lowest was 32,241, in 1898.

It is impossible to say what form of the apple or crab apple was the original ancestor of our cultivated apples. Certain it is that the Siberian type of crab is very ancient, and it does not appear as though the characteristics of this crab are found in many of our cultivated apples. Then, again, archaeologists have discovered in the residences of the ancient lake dwellers of Switzerland petrified specimens of the apple, which are considerably smaller. It is true, then, that the average of our apples of today, but not as small as Lady and Pomme Grise, both kinds of which we grow and prize in this 20th century. In the last century a new race of crab hybrids has appeared in the United States. These all contain the characteristics of the crab, apparently to such a degree that their genealogy is readily recognized. Having these kinds, they do not strongly support the theory that the cultivated apple sprang from the crab, apples we know and cultivate today. Of course, it is possible that the crab which gave birth to the apple has long since disappeared. Whatever the original form was, it would hardly be recognizable in the greatly improved varieties of the present time.

By Duke Cuyler.

The Viscount of Darnley when aged ninety,

Began to regret that he hadn't a son

To inherit his title and keep it alive

When did you see the old man alive

Who said "I wish I were a little boy

With a mother's love and a father's pride

His hair was like mother's—a rich golden brown

Except for the bald spot that covered his crown

He enjoyed reading essays on subjects abstruse

But his mind was unable to grasp Mother's love

Soon after our hero had started to look

He was seized with a laudable longing

His chubby left leg gave a hop and a skip

And was of the dash at a terrible clip

But, the funniest thing 't would go

Though he used his right leg and his right eye

He followed his left from his father, no

THE BALLAD OF AGED INFANCY.

By Duke Cuyler.

The Viscount of Darnley when aged ninety,

Began to regret that he hadn't a son

To inherit his title and keep it alive

When did you see the old man alive

Who said "I wish I were a little boy

With a mother's love and a father's pride

His hair was like mother's—a rich golden brown

Except for the bald spot that covered his crown

He enjoyed reading essays on subjects abstruse

But his mind was unable to grasp Mother's love

Soon after our hero had started to look

He was seized with a laudable longing

His chubby left leg gave a hop and a skip

And was of the dash at a terrible clip

But, the funniest thing 't would go

He followed his left from his father, no

The consequence was, when he started to walk

(Since he used his right leg and his right eye

Jim Crow Cars

Republicans say the South-Townsend Bill will abolish them.

The Macon Telegraph, The Mail-Telegram of Fort Worth, Texas, and other representative southern newspapers have found a sure enough "nigger" in the "twopenny."

Former United States Senator Candler of New Hampshire, favors national control of the railroad because it would abolish Jim Crow cars in the south. Under the South-Townsend Bill, it becomes a law, a negro man can go on any car on any interstate train and take a seat with any passenger, a white lady or a white man. He could do it on trains between Atlanta and Birmingham, Atlanta and Chattanooga, Savannah or Macon and Jacksonville, American and Montgomery and so on.

Walker D. Hines of Kentucky and other able lawyers say that Senator Candler is certainly right in his construction of the law and that national control of the railroads will do away with separate cars on interstate trains.

Some of the papers are calling the attention of their congressmen to this feature.

Preparatory School for Boys.

The Donald Fraser school, Decatur, Ga., is one of the most well known schools for boys in the south. It takes forty boarding students, and gives much favorable attention to every boy. The home influence of the school is very fine. Prof. Gardner, the principal, prepares boys for all the leading colleges in the south. A handsome catalog will be sent on application to

Prof. G. Holman Gardner, Decatur, Ga.

The school of Prof. J. S. Cone came to a close last Friday at Gooding academy. There was a good size crowd out and the day was one of much pleasure to those who were present. Prof. Cone is spending some time with his daughter at Sylvania, after which he expects to take a trip to south Florida.

Some Facts About Yellow Fever.

An acute specific disease.

Restricted to certain geographical limits.

Characterized by a high fever of short duration, gastro-intestinal disturbances, hemorrhages into the skin and mucous membranes, and a yellow tint of the skin.

First definitely recognized in the West Indies in 1647.

It is infectious.

Prevails in the West Indies, west coast of Africa, Central America and southward along both coasts of South America and northward to the South Atlantic and Gulf states.

It has been brought to North Atlantic seaports by vessels.

The mosquito is blamed for the spread of the disease.

Prost stops yellow fever.

Survivors of one attack of yellow fever become immune from further attacks.

The yellow fever germ has not yet been discovered.

Yellow fever develops usually from three to four days after infection. Sometimes it takes seven days.

The attack comes on with severe chills or rigor, when it comes suddenly. It may come on more gradually with languor, headache and malaria symptoms. The temperature goes to 105 degrees, sometimes higher. The fever lasts from three to five days, attended with pain in the back, limbs and head. There is nausea and vomiting.

The yellow tint of the skin, from which the fever gets its name, begins on the second or third day.

In severe cases small hemorrhages take place into the skin and mucous membrane. The vomit is at first white. Later it becomes very dark and in appearance like coffee grounds, when it is known as "black vomit." There is bleeding at the nose, mouth and gums. Delirium usually follows, then unconsciousness and death.

Heat, moisture, bad drainage, uncleanliness and unhygienic conditions favor the disease, but the mosquito is most of all responsible.

Experts seem to agree that the first step to combat the spread of the fever is to attack the mosquito.

Complete rest and careful dieting constitute the principal treatment for yellow fever. Different drugs are used to help assist the body and organs toward a natural condition.

Fiendish Suffering

Is often caused by sores, ulcers and cancers, that eat away your skin. Wm. Bedell, of Flat Rock, Mich., says: "I have used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, for Ulcers, Sores and Cancers. It is the best healing dressing I ever found." Soothes and heals cuts, burns, scalds, etc. At W. H. Ellis' drug store; guaranteed.

Relentless Are the Jap Demands.

Portsmouth, Aug. 14.—The plenipotentiaries began their session at 9:30. The excessive heat wave which had almost driven the foreigners to distraction, is broken, and after a good night's rest the plenipotentiaries appeared bright and cheerful.

The discussion of conditions relating to the status of Korea, was resumed. Witte continued to urge that the language of the clause should explicitly show what he contended was true of the Japanese intention regarding the hermit kingdom—namely to make it a province of Japan.

It is evident that if there is to be a rupture as has been informed people believe there will be, each side will maneuver to place the responsibility on the other. It will be several days at the present rate of progress before either of the crucial points of difference are reached. The exact order of conditions is not known, but it is practically certain that the demand for reimbursement of expenses of the war precedes that for the cession of Sakhalin. Relentless method is behind the Japanese system in the peace negotiations as in their military and naval operations.

An official communication issued at 1:30, says that article first was disposed of and the plenipotentiaries proceeded with discussion of article two. The meeting adjourned at one o'clock, but it is understood to be Korea.

Article one as agreed to was modified to nearer meet the wishes of the Russians, but to what extent cannot be definitely stated. M. Witte had insisted that Japan's purpose was to make a dependency of Korea, and he wanted the language at least to show that Japan intended to establish a protectorate over Korea.

Jacob Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Oscar Strauss and Isaac Seligman, will arrive this afternoon for an interview already arranged with Witte, on the Jewish question in Russia. It is authoritatively stated that there is no question of a Russian loan involved.

Before leaving Mr. Blitch stated that it was his intention to visit all the leading trade and manufacturing centers in the north, and to secure such bargains as cash and a long experience in his line will procure. The fall season is at hand and this line will arrive here fresh from the factories, bought at close figures, and will be sold the same way.

Messrs. Blitch Co. also announce that they will be strictly in the cotton market this fall, and will see that you get all that is coming to you for your cotton. They are hustlers and will treat you right.

Smith Promised Says Guerry.

Dawson, Ga., Aug. 15.—Following up the declaration of Hon. Hoke Smith in Dawson Thursday, that the statement of any promised support from him to Hon. Dupont Guerry in the latter's campaign for governor was a lie, Hon. J. W. F. Lowery has made public a telegram from Mr. Guerry which is a veritable bombshell in the Smith camp in Terrell county.

Mr. Lowery expected to use the facts that he received from Mr. Guerry when Hon. Hoke Smith made his speech in Dawson, but at the time Mr. Lowery's request was made Mr. Guerry was absent from Macon, and his reply was not received in time to be used on that occasion.

Mr. Guerry's telegram to Mr. Lowery is an unequivocal declaration that Mr. Smith did hold out a promise of support, not only from himself but from the Atlanta Journal. It is as follows:

Macon, Ga., Aug. 10. "Hon. J. W. F. Lowery, Dawson, Ga.:

"Smith got mutual friends to visit me and request me to run, with the assurance that, Brown not running, he (Smith) and Journal would support me. My answer, though not positive, was satisfactory. Later I announced Brown retired. Smith supported Terrell, whom he (Smith) had said to me was a tool and candidate of corporations.

(Signed), "DUPONT GUERRY." There is no citizen in Dawson or Terrell county held in higher esteem than Mr. Lowery. He was formerly mayor of Dawson and is identified with all that is pure and progressive in county and city politics. His sterling character and high sense of honor are at all times referred to as unimpeachable. In giving out the Guerry telegram today he said:

"I was Mr. Guerry's supporter. I was anxious to know if he had been knifed by Mr. Smith. His telegram satisfied me. A vision of Smith, as he was working cheek-by-jowl by Hamp McWhorter, whom Smith would now have us believe is 'the most despicable character in Georgia,' as he was battling ardently for Joe Terrell, whom he doubted 'the tool and candidate of the corporations,' is sufficient, it seems to me, to make every loyal supporter of Guerry and hater of demagoguery turn his back on a pretender, if such as Mr. Smith has every appearance of being."

Birthday Party.

There was a reception Monday evening at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, at Adabelle, in honor of the twenty-first birthday of their son, Frank, and his friend, Mr. Cheely. About sixty were present to celebrate his natal day, and to rejoice with him on the attainment of the full leaf and flower of manhood.

There was a special train on the Register & Glennville road to bring those from Hagan and Claxton.

Games of various kinds were enjoyed the first part of the evening. Delightful refreshments were served on the spacious veranda, which was beautifully decorated with choice flowers to which the moonlight lent an added charm.

One of the most pleasant features of the occasion was the splendid music. Besides the piano there was an orchestra, and these combined did much to make the occasion one of the most brilliant social events of the season.
