Any kind of man can farm in some kind of way, but only the right man can farm in the right way. The farmer needs to be a scholar, and if he understands his occupation he will be a scholar in spite of himself.

All horses are born either right or left handed, so that every one of them has a preference for the foot that will prove most comfortable for him to use in leading out. It's found that the stronger side is the favorite one everytime.

Take off your hat to the man who says to the boys and the hired men, "We will talk down here in the stable just as we do up in the sitting room." That man knows where he is and what he is doing, but we must keep the milk pure.

Sour Stomach.
When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by All Druggists.

Can You Eat?
J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Charleston, S. C., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures, effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia cure, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles, I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Aids Nature.
Medicines that aid nature are always most effective. Chamberlain's cough remedy acts on this plan. It always the cough, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions, and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by All Druggists.

Filled the Bill.

It was in the country, says Tit Bits, and she was young and mischievous. They were sitting out on the veranda in the moonlight, and she grew cheerful. "Oh, how I love to sit out here in the moonlight," she cooed; "to be fanned, by the languorous perfumes of the roses and to be kissed by the soft airs from the south!" Then he kissed her and she grew indignant.
"How dare you?" she almost sobbed.
"Why, I'm a soft neir from the south," he replied, contritely.
She didn't say anything when he kissed her again.

Did you ever think that when cream comes to the top it brings all the impurities that were in the milk up with it? That being so, nobody can keep the impurities out of the butter when they get that far. So, if we want clean butter we must keep the milk pure.

Attacked By a Mob
and beaten, in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklin's Arnica salve, and was soon sound and well. "I use it in my family," writes G. J. Welch, of Tekonsha, Mich., "and find it perfect." Simply great for cuts and burns. Only 25c at W. H. Ellis, drug store.

Two of a Kind

In making editorial reference to The Statesboro News the other day The Constitution referred to it as the "only semi-weekly" paper published between Macon and Savannah. Just whether this was a slip of the pen or a slip of the geographical screw in the editorial head cannot now be determined, but this much is certain:

When we made this reference to our steering Bulloch contemporary we had no idea of overlooking The Dublin Courier-Dispatch, published within the territory referred to, which is unquestionably one of the strongest, ablest edited and most substantial newspapers in Georgia. The Courier-Dispatch, too, is a semi-weekly.

Georgia is dotted over with splendid weekly and semi-weekly papers, devoting themselves to the upbuilding of their counties and of the state. Both our Dublin and Statesboro contemporaries are models of the highest type of journalism, reflecting great credit upon their editors and upon the communities they represent.

Losing One's Character

In England no servant can get a really good situation—that is, a situation with a reputable, first-class family—without furnishing a "character" from her former employer, says The World to-day. The character does not consist in a letter written by a reputed mistress, but a personal interview between the lady who has been the girl's employer and the one who desires to be.

I shall never forget the way in which the tragic aspect of the "pious character" question was first brought to my notice. I had been asked by a friend who was suddenly called out, to see the applicants she expected that afternoon in answer to her advertisement for a parlor maid.

A very fine looking young woman of possibly twenty-eight, seemed to me to be in every respect what my friend needed, and so I kept her waiting, and in conversation. After I told her that I felt sure she would suit, she said in an embarrassed, halting sort of way: "But, madam, I must tell you that this is a very serious thing to be taken into consideration about me. I have lost my character."

"You see, madam," went on the young woman, "I gave me an excellent character when I left her. She did not like to part with me. The lady to whom she recommended me lived quite alone, and I became a maid to her. This lady died three months ago. Lady—now in some part of Australia, where I cannot reach her, or I would write her for a second character, which I am sure she would give me, although that is not customary, of course. Yet, even that would be a written one. I have been trying to get a situation for three months now, but it is so difficult when one has lost her character. The girl's eyes filled with tears. But it all ended happily. My friend engaged the girl mainly because I offered to stand sponsor for her in lieu of the "character" she ought to have had, and she still serves the mistress, whom she adores.

Property Introduced.
Margaret is a well brought-up little girl who has some knowledge of etiquette says the New York Times. She has been taken to the country this summer to a house where there is a large dog.
"Don't go near the dog, Margaret," said her mother; "he doesn't know you and he might bite."
But that did not suit Margaret and she knew how to arrange matters. Going to the dog she made a little courtesy such as she had been taught to make at dancing school and said politely:
"Doggie, I am Margaret Brown."
Then, the introduction having been made and the dog having no excuse for not knowing her, Margaret walked up and patted him, while he wagged his tail with much gracefulness.

Not a Single Fly.
A gentleman at Woodlawn, who has been traveling in Virginia, tells a story of a "fly-stung" experience in a boarding house near Wadesville.
"One day, while I was there brushing away flies," he said, "a lady from New York came out to engage board, but seemed determined to put up at a place where there was no flies. Our jolly landlord who was from the Emerald Isle, endeavored to secure her as a boarder and showed her the house. Before going to the dining room she said to him:
"You must know one thing; I would never board in a house where there is a single fly in the dining room."
"Never fear on that account, ma'am," retorted mine host, "all the flies in this house are married and have large families."

$1.00 A YEAR.

BRANNEN FOR CONGRESS

Has Assurances From Citizens Opposed to Him Last Year of Their Loyal Support.

The Times has it on authority that cannot be doubted that the Hon. J. A. Brannen will make the race for congress next year. He has been regarded since his phenomenal race against Mr. Lester last year, as the logical candidate of the country people in the coming campaign, but has never until now, given out his definite intention.

This decision on the part of Mr. Brannen will be hailed with genuine pleasure and satisfaction by his numerous friends over the district and entire state.

It will be remembered that Mr. Brannen was defeated before by only fourteen votes in Bryan county, and it is conceded now by even those who were opposed to him that he will be an easy winner over anyone who might oppose him. He has assurances from a great many citizens all over the district, who were actively opposed to him last year, that they will give him their loyal support in this race, particularly in this true in the counties of Liberty and Bryan which he lost to his opponent, only by small majorities in his first campaign.

The country portions of the First congressional district have reached that stage of development and advancement, that they demand recognition in sharing out this honor and have selected, all things being considered, the most available man in the district to lead them to victory in the person of J. A. Brannen.

SOME FACTS AND FIGURES ON THE LAST ELECTION FOR CONGRESS.

There were 10 counties in the first district to-wit: Bryan, Bulloch, Burke, Chatham, Effingham, Emanuel, Liberty, McIntosh, Screven and Tattnall. Two new counties have been added by the creation of Jenkins and Toombs. In the last primary about ten thousand votes were cast in the counties outside of Chatham, and of these Mr. Lester received about four thousand, while Mr. Brannen received about six thousand.

The counties carried by Mr. Lester had in round numbers about forty eight thousand white people, and this includes Chatham; and the counties carried by Mr. Brannen had in round numbers about forty six thousand white people.

Mr. Brannen lost Bryan by twenty six votes and Liberty by one hundred and fifty. A change of fourteen votes in Bryan county would have made the convention a tie. The last time the congressional convention had thirty two delegates where as the next time there will be thirty six delegates, as Jenkins will have two, and Toombs two.

There are twice as many delegates as there are representatives in the legislature, and under this arrangement, the list stands: Bryan, two; Bulloch, four; Burke, four; Chatham, six; Effingham, two; Emanuel, four; Liberty, two; McIntosh, two; Screven, two; Tattnall, four; Toombs, two; Jenkins, two. It will take a majority of the delegates to nominate.

Eloping Couple Arrested

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 5.—James Fleming Smith, 10 years old, and Myrtle Moore, 21 years old, had their dreams and romance rudely shattered this morning when they landed at the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company's wharf from the Savannah steamer and were taken into custody by Detective Summers and Vahle of the headquarters force.

"Why am I arrested?" exclaimed young Smith, while Miss Myrtle exclaimed in a rather faint voice, "heavens, the police," and clasped her hands despairingly.
Miss Moore accompanied her cavalier to headquarters, and there Marshal Farnan showed the young man two telegrams he had received. One was from Chief of Police Burney of Brunswick, Ga., and said, "Hold F. Smith and Wife. Left by Savannah boat Saturday." The other was addressed to the marshal and read, "Hold both of them. His mother, Mrs. E. Smith, Savannah, Ga."
"It was just a lark, that's all," said James Fleming Smith, while Miss Moore, who appeared to be better versed in the ways of the world than her youthful escort, teased her head and said, "I don't care. I'm 21 years old; I can do as I please, and I'll go to Washington and stay two weeks with my aunt and then go back to Savannah."

"Would you rather go back to Savannah on this evening's boat or go to a reformatory until your mother comes up here for you?" Marshal Farnan asked the youth in his sternest tone. "Savannah for me," replied Mr. James Fleming Smith, "and I'll take the evening boat."

So this evening the youth sailed homeward, unaccompanied by Myrtle Moore.

Man Held Here Not Bulloch Murderer.

Abe Watson, the negro arrested at police headquarters several days ago under suspicion of being the man wanted in Bulloch county for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Kennedy and Mr. Donaldson, was discharged yesterday morning after a number of citizens from Statesboro had made a minute survey of the prisoner.

Among those who stated positively that the prisoner held at the police station was not the Watson wanted in Bulloch was Mr. E. J. Kennedy, a brother to one of the murdered men. There were many ways in which Watson was identified as the wrong man. There were no scars on his hands, as there are on those of the man wanted, he is much taller than the murderer and is several shades lighter. When he was released Watson said he did not have any doubt that it would be found sooner or later that he was the wrong man and that he would be discharged. He claimed that he had never been in Statesboro in his life.—Savannah News.

Pears on Girl And She is Cremated

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Katherine Sullivan, daughter of wealthy parents, residents of this city, was burned to death early this morning.
From the condition of the room, it is supposed oil was thrown upon her while she slept, and that the man who had cause to get her out of his way set fire to the bed clothing and fled.
The girl was at one time society belle. She took up a life that caused her family to cast her off. The man who is supposed to have caused her downfall, and also of setting fire to her bed clothes, has been arrested and is held to await the action of the coroner's jury.

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

The Cleveland Leader says:—"United China, revived and great, may be John Hay's most imposing monument."

It seems hard to realize that Paul Jones was ever connected in any way with the Russian navy, thinks the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The London Express gives its word that among the latest inventions patented is a contrivance which, fitted to an ordinary sewing machine, will fan and massage the operator while she is working.

The author of "Isabel Carnaby" in London Mail says: "Writing is like firing; if you can't do it, nobody can teach you; and if you can do it, nobody can stop you." So says the heroine of a contemporary novel; and I am bound to say that I agree with her, remarks the New York World.

In the years from 1870 to the last one which has turned in its figures, American tropical and sub-tropical imports mounted up from, in round numbers, $150,000,000 to $500,000,000, more than a treble increase in a single generation. The last year's figures exceeded any previous record by more than $30,000,000.

In those communities where there is the greatest material prosperity there is the lowest birthrate, states the Philadelphia Record. Happily the rich cannot keep their wealth. Riches take wings. In the long run the get-richers are the get-richers of the poor. The children of the Frenchman earn money for the profligate Russian to spend.

Thinking it all over, thinking of the shame of it all, of the high standing of the men who are in the dock of the people's tribunal, of the awful extent of it, of the attitude and the practices of men whom we have counted among our best; a startling query naturally suggests itself. Is this an age of dishonesty? asks the Boston Herald.

Is there on your place a little stream that could be improved so as to furnish power? asks the Pathfinder. If so, set it to work. In selecting a rural home insist on having one where there is running water with enough to enter the Water Age, and in the next generation our water power, which is now literally running to waste, is going to be used to an extent little dreamed of at the present.

When Jules Verne wrote "Around the World in Eighty Days" he spent a great deal of time figuring out train and ship connections. And all the world took a great interest in the suppositions of Phileas Fogg. Were Mr. Fogg alive now he could make the journey in considerably less than two-thirds of eighty days, and make it more comfortably. But it is also true that in making this journey around the world he would take more chances of making a vastly longer journey in wonderfully less time. With our thirty-mile-an-hour trains and carless switchers the dangers of taking a journey into eternity in the fraction of a second have been materially increased, remarks the Commonwealth.

Richard T. Ely, in the International Quarterly, says: The recent methods in corn culture which are being introduced in the Central West are of striking interest. We have heard much about pedigreed stock and now are becoming familiar with pedigreed corn (maize). A bulletin published by the University of Illinois in August, 1905, gives an analysis of corn taken from forty ears, each of which represents seven generations of pedigreed corn which have been bred with reference to some particular quality. It is not enough to raise corn, but corn must be raised for special purposes in order to achieve the largest success. Stockfeeders want protein in corn, and by breeding it is easy to make a variation of 100 per cent. in protein. Manufacturers of starch and of glucose sugar want more starch and less protein in the corn. It is stated in an earlier bulletin, likewise of the University of Illinois, that "the yield or corn can be increased and the chemical composition of the kernel can be changed as may be desired either to increase or decrease the protein, the oil, or the starch." The purpose of this reference to pedigreed corn is to bring out clearly the significance of economic evolution with respect to the kind of man who is going to achieve the greatest success in agriculture.

ROAST FOR MAYOR.

Atlanta City Council Condemns Action of Woodward at Municipal League Meeting in Toledo.

In strong terms the general council of the city of Atlanta Friday afternoon condemned the conduct of Mayor Woodward when he was attending the convention of the League of American Municipalities at Toledo, Ohio. The resolutions adopted by the council, and which were reported from a committee of the whole are as follows:

"Whereas, Mayor James G. Woodward attended the League of American Municipalities, recently held at Toledo, Ohio, in his official capacity, and as the expense of the city of Atlanta, for the purpose of inviting the convention to hold its next session in Atlanta; and

"Whereas, the committee appointed by the city council to attend the session of the league has returned and made its report to the city council and the mayor has also made a statement to the council; and whereas, it appears from the press reports throughout the country and from other reliable sources, that the mayor, on the floor of the convention, and during its deliberations, was in a state of partial intoxication, and so conducted himself while in Toledo as to bring discredit upon Atlanta and humiliate to her people; and

"Whereas, by such conduct in his official capacity he has outraged the sentiment and spirit of our people; be it, therefore,

"Resolved, by the general council of the city of Atlanta as follows:

"1. That we deplore and condemn the conduct of the mayor of Atlanta on August 24 on the floor of the convention of the League of American Municipalities, and his conduct during his sojourn in Toledo.

"2. That the condition and conduct of Mayor Woodward on the occasion mentioned are in no wise typical of Atlanta, but meet with severe censure as to the body and the strongest condemnation of our people.

"3. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the mayor of Toledo, the officers of the League of American Municipalities, and through the Associated Press, to the leading journals throughout the country with the request that they give the same as prominent space in their columns as was given to their reports of the resolutions made by the mayor of Atlanta."

Mayor Woodward made a statement before the council, which had many sensational turns. He denied that he had acted in any way wrong, but admitted that he had taken a few beers. He declared he had done nothing for which he would apologize, and that if he should go off and drink some water somebody would tell lies on him.

The Statesboro News

(INCORPORATED.)
Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class matter.

Statesboro, Ga. Friday, Sept. 9, 1905

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

It is probable we shall hear something more about deep water now.

The war is settled and cotton ought to go up, but fickle cotton is hard to keep up with.

Remember the old folks at home, and don't forget the old fathers and mothers in their old age.

Why not raise some horses and mules in Bulloch? The present prices will justify home raised colts.

Gov. Terrell is looking over the emigrants landing at Castle Garden and says that he thinks they would make good laborers for the south.

The yellow fever is spreading all over the gulf coast and seems hard to check. The average citizen is slow to swallow that mosquito theory.

No doubt Russia will be very careful how she imposes on Japan next time. The big boy respects the little one when he discovers he will fight.

Last Monday was celebrated in the cities as Labor day. Thousands of toilers marched in procession and speeches were made lauding the laborer.

Besides a fair crop of cotton the labor of the farmers has been rewarded with plenty of corn, potatoes, peas, pinders, sugar cane, hay and other valuable products.

The dope habit is about as bad as the whiskey habit. Better let alone all such stuff as coca cola and other dope drinks for all of them are dangerous.

OAK GROVE

Mr. Editor, as I have not seen anything like news in your paper from this section in some time I will try and give a few dots.

Cotton picking, which is the order of the day here, is progressing somewhat slowly. This, however, is owing to the scarceness of hands. Cotton here is being damaged somewhat by the recent rains.

The Sunday school rally last Friday was certainly a success, notwithstanding the rain which came in the afternoon, cutting the program a little short. There was plenty of refreshments on hand, such as lemonade and ice water. The long table groined from end to end under the "goodies" placed thereon. It was a dinner that only Bulloch county women know how to prepare, and if anyone went away without a square meal it was his own fault and he knows it. I am glad to say that I saw none of the selfish spirit which prevailed at Statesboro during the convention at that place.

Miss Edith Hughes, of Brooklet, is visiting friends here this week.

Rev. Crumpler filled his regular appointment at New Hope Sunday and a large and attentive crowd was out to hear an interesting sermon. Among the visitors from any district were Mr. Frank Hughes and Mrs. H. K. Thayer, both of Brooklet.

Mr. L. B. Hagan had the misfortune to lose one of his best mules last week. This is the second mule Mr. Hagan has lost this year. Mr. Aaron Clark has also recently lost a valuable horse. It is alleged that all three of these animals died of the disease called "farcy." This thing should be looked into for the protection and safety of the community, for the horse book declares that farcy is the most dangerous malady that horses are subject to; that it is very contagious and absolutely incurable.

Miss Pauline Smith, of Oliver, accompanied by her two brothers, James and Lamar, were the guests of Miss Ida Mae Smith last Sunday.

A goodly crowd attended the ice cream party given at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Q. B. Grooms last Saturday evening, and the time was passed away very quietly and pleasantly for all.

Spending Millions

Work Of the Railroads in bringing in new industries.

In an article on the progress and prosperity of the South, the New York Sun says that $340,000,000 have been invested in new industrial enterprises in the Southern states the last three years. "Probably the greater part of this can be traced either directly or indirectly to the work of the land and industrial department of the railroads," says the Sun.

Every important road now has its industrial and immigration department with agents who are constantly on the lookout for new industries. Each road tries to get all the new mills, factories, colonies, farmers and truck growers it can. The agents hunt for the best locations, and do all they can to settle new people along their lines. The Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line started tobacco growing in the Carolinas. The old Florida and Western promoted watermelon raising in the middle part of the state. The Southern has paid special attention to the building of new cotton mills in the South just as the L & N has encouraged the opening of coal and iron mines and the building of turnpikes.

A railroad will spend thousands of dollars on side tracks and extensions to get a new industry located.

In Atlanta, the Southern is now spending $25,000 to put in new side tracks to a steel mill. A week or so ago this same company agreed to spend $250,000 on an extension to reach some mineral property which the owners want to develop. Other roads are doing the same things every week. Of course the roads expect to get a benefit from the new industries but it takes millions of money, which they are willing to spend, to develop and build up the country.

All the roads want active intelligent young men in their industrial departments, the demand being greater than the supply.

Southern Cotton Planters Set the Minimum Price at Which They Are Willing to Part With This Year's Crop.

The fact that the southern cotton planter, the man who has a monopoly upon the business of producing that which furnishes the raw material of that which is used to clothe the world's nakedness, has had the cheek to say at what price he is willing to part with the fruits of his toil has staggered the army of speculators who have grown rich off of the hard earnings of other people.

On Wednesday last the national executive committee of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association met in the sun parlor of Kennilworth Inn at Asheville, N. C. Meeting in the sun parlor was considered appropriate for the reason that they were accustomed to the full benefit of the burning rays of "old Sol."

The writer was numbered among those who gathered there to grapple with cotton situation. There being only twenty-five members of the committee from twelve states, when they were all there, therefore we rather expected a sort of a tame affair, but, on the contrary, we found assemble there two or three hundred men interested in cotton. The New York cotton speculators were either there in person or represented by trusted men; the cotton spinner was also there, all bent on getting in touch with the boys from between the cotton rows. Then, there was present numerous large cotton growers of the south and southwestern cotton states.

A committee of three was appointed to receive and tabulate the 15,000 reports from the farms of twelve cotton growing states. This took up thirty-six hours and on this condition of the crop was placed at 78.10, counting 10c as being perfect. The average having reduced 18 per cent from last year then the question of estimating the probable yield of the present crop was undertaken. This was found to be 9,588,388 bales, based on the information at hand.

Brannen to Oppose Lester In Race for Congress.

Swainsboro, Sept. 8.—Letters have been received in Swainsboro from Hon. J. A. Brannen, of Statesboro, stating that he will most positively be in the race for congress from the First district to succeed Hon. Rufus E. Lester, who has represented this district for the past sixteen years. Mr. Brannen, it will be remembered opposed Mr. Lester last year and was only defeated in the convention, which met at Reidsville, by two votes. Bryan county, Mr. Brannen's old home, only went for Lester by about fifteen votes in the primary, and Liberty gave Lester a very small majority. It is now said that conditions in those counties are much more favorable for Mr. Brannen than they were. Besides the addition of Jenkins and Toombs counties, each of which will have two votes in the congressional convention and both of which are in the list termed as "country counties" to the first district, gives Mr. Brannen, who is from the country county of Bulloch, an additional advantage in that the new counties are not in Savannah's sphere of influence.

As Mr. Brannen was formerly a resident of Swainsboro, and is well known and much admired by these people, he will very probably carry Emanuel county. This county went for Brannen in the race last year. While Hon. Alf. Horrington, who is at present solicitor general of the Middle circuit, has been prominently mentioned as a probable candidate against Mr. Lester, he states that he would not oppose Mr. Brannen for the place.

Negro Consigned To Fiery Death

Waxahachie, Tex. September 7.—Steve Davis, a young negro, who confessed to outraging Mrs. S. P. Norris, age 20, last Saturday night, was burned tonight.

A mob consisting of 8,500 persons tied the negro to a piece of gas pipe that had been set in the ground, piled faggots around him and set the mass on fire. The sufferings of the negro were of short duration, owing to the fierceness of the fire, which was fanned by a gale of wind which blew across the prairie.

The husband of the woman is said to have set the match to the tinder and started the blaze that consumed the negro.

Davis was arrested last Tuesday and taken before the woman, who at that time was not sure it was he. She had been desperately ill from her ordeal. Today he was again taken before the woman, who, on sight of him faints.

When she revived she identified him, and his fate was sealed. The negro finally confessed, detailing the crime.

This is the third negro that has been burned in this section of Texas within a short time. One of these was lynched at Sulphur Springs and another at Waco.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former life. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." W. H. Ellis, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

New Trial for the Rawlings.

Thomasville, Ga. Sept. 8.—The motion for a new trial in the case of J. G. Rawlings and his sons, Milton, Jesse and Leonard, will be argued at the Thomasville court house before Superior Court Judge Robert G. Mitchell tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Attorney John R. Cooper arrived this afternoon from Macon and Solicitor Thomas will be here at midnight.

Mr. Cooper will put up a hard fight and has a long list of reasons why the new trial should be granted. He seems hopeful of such a result, but the general opinion is that the matter will be carried to the supreme court, Judge Mitchell denying the motion.

There is a great interest here in the case, and the Thomasville people followed with interest the trial of the Rawlings, which resulted in their conviction for the murder of two children of Rev. W. A. Carter of Hahira.

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 9.—The elder Rawlings is getting blue and dissatisfied with his prison life. He is getting used to the confinement, but his complaint is because his two youngest sons have been moved to another part of the jail, and because he is not allowed to sleep out in the cage at night, instead of being locked up in a cell. He also complains because he is not allowed to have a knife with which to eat cane and steak. He says that he has false teeth that are broken and that he cannot eat with them. He seems to think that the jailor
