ELEVEN CENTS THE SLOGAN

Southern Cotton Planters Set the Minimum Price at Which They Are Willing to Part With This Year's Crop.

The fact that the southern cotton planter, the man who has a monopoly upon the business of producing that which furnishes the raw material of that which is used to clothe the world's nakedness, has had the cheek to say at what price he is willing to part with the fruits of his toil has staggered the army of speculators who have grown rich off of the hard earnings of other people.

On Wednesday last the national executive committee of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association met in the sun parlor of Kennilworth Inn at Asheville, N. C. Meeting in the sun parlor was considered appropriate for the reason that they were accustomed to the full benefit of the burning rays of "old Sol."

The writer was numbered among those who gathered there to grapple with cotton situation. There being only twenty-five members of the committee from twelve states, when they were all there, therefore we rather expected a sort of a tame affair, but, on the contrary, we found assemble there two or three hundred men interested in cotton. The New York cotton speculators were either there in person or represented by trusted men; the cotton spinner was also there, all bent on getting in touch with the boys from between the cotton rows. Then, there was present numerous large cotton growers of the south and southwestern cotton states.

A committee of three was appointed to receive and tabulate the 15,000 reports from the farms of twelve cotton growing states. This took up thirty-six hours and on this condition of the crop was placed at 78.10, counting 10c as being perfect. The average having reduced 18 per cent from last year then the question of estimating the probable yield of the present crop was undertaken. This was found to be 9,588,388 bales, based on the information at hand.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by All Drugists.

The next job before the convention then was to fix the minimum price of what the farmer should get for this year's crop. The writer was honored with the position as the member from the state

VOL. 5, NO. 27

Brannen to Oppose Lester In Race for Congress.

Swainsboro, Sept. 8.—Letters have been received in Swainsboro from Hon. J. A. Brannen, of Statesboro, stating that he will most positively be in the race for congress from the First district to succeed Hon. Rufus E. Lester, who has represented this district for the past sixteen years. Mr. Brannen, it will be remembered opposed Mr. Lester last year and was only defeated in the convention, which met at Reidsville, by two votes. Bryan county, Mr. Brannen's old home, only went for Lester by about fifteen votes in the primary, and Liberty gave Lester a very small majority. It is now said that conditions in those counties are much more favorable for Mr. Brannen than they were. Besides the addition of Jenkins and Toombs counties, each of which will have two votes in the congressional convention and both of which are in the list termed as "country counties" to the first district, gives Mr. Brannen, who is from the country county of Bulloch, an additional advantage in that the new counties are not in Savannah's sphere of influence.

As Mr. Brannen was formerly a resident of Swainsboro, and is well known and much admired by these people, he will very probably carry Emanuel county. This county went for Brannen in the race last year. While Hon. Alf. Horrington, who is at present solicitor general of the Middle circuit, has been prominently mentioned as a probable candidate against Mr. Lester, he states that he would not oppose Mr. Brannen for the place.

The reports on which this is based shows that the present crop throughout the cotton belt will be the shortest in years. The reports from Arkansas, Louisiana, Alabama and a large portion of Texas is that the hot scorching winds have stripped the cotton of its fruit equal to a scourge of fire. In the Mississippi valley the low lands have been flooded until late in the year, those lands were planted late and chopped out in August. At the present time it is growing nicely, but it is acknowledged that a frost any time by November the first will catch it and ruin it. The Georgia crop is off 27 per cent.

It was acknowledged by the spinners and speculators that they expect to see cotton go to fifteen cents by January. So it is only a question of how many will have the backbone to hold their cotton and obtain a price that will justify them in parting with it.

Negro Consigned To

Flary Death

Waxahachie, Tex. September 7.—Steve Davis, a young negro, who confessed to outraging Mrs. S. P. Norris, age 20, last Saturday night, was burned tonight.

A mob consisting of 8,500 persons tied the negro to a piece of gas pipe that had been set in the ground, piled faggots around him and set the mass on fire. The sufferings of the negro were of short duration, owing to the fierceness of the fire, which was fanned by a gale of wind which blew across the prairie.

The husband of the woman is said to have set the match to the tinder and started the blaze that consumed the negro.

Davis was arrested last Tuesday and taken before the woman, who at that time was not sure it was he. She had been desperately ill from her ordeal. Today he was again taken before the woman, who, on sight of him fainted.

When she revived she identified him, and his fate was sealed. The negro finally confessed, detailing the crime.

This is the third negro that has been burned in this section of Texas within a short time. One of these was lynched at Sulphur Springs and another at Waco.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former life. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." W. H. Ellis, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

New Trial for the Rawlings.

Thomasville, Ga. Sept. 8.—The motion for a new trial in the case of J. G. Rawlings and his sons, Milton, Jesse and Leonard, will be argued at the Thomasville court house before Superior Court Judge Robert G. Mitchell tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Attorney John R. Cooper arrived this afternoon from Macon and Solicitor Thomas will be here at midnight. Mr. Cooper will put up a hard fight and has a long list of reasons why the new trial should be granted. He seems hopeful of such a result, but the general opinion is that the matter will be carried to the supreme court. Judge Mitchell denying the motion.

There is a great interest here in the case, and the Thomasville people followed with interest the trial of the Rawlings, which resulted in their conviction for the murder of two children of Rev. W. A. Carter of Hahira.

RAWLINGS IS BLUE.

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 9.—The elder Rawlings is getting blue and dissatisfied with his prison life. He is getting used to the confinement, but his complaint is because his two youngest sons have been moved to another part of the jail, and because he is not allowed to sleep out in the cage at night, instead of being locked up in a cell. He also complains because he is not allowed to have a knife with which to eat cane and steak. He says that he has false teeth that are broken and that he cannot eat with them. He seems to think that the jailor

THE NEWS.

Nations, like individuals, are powerful in the degree that they command the sympathies of their neighbors, remarks our Dumb Animals.

The project of draining the Everglades is up again and it looks this time as if something would be done. It will give to Florida three million acres of rich and virgin soil, a gift of a principality and one not to be despised.

Gov. Stokes of New Jersey predicts that "Dill must become a name for corporations to fear, even as they have loved it in the past." Why not ask the New York World. A judge who has been a corporation lawyer and has no illusions as to the real merits of certain new-fangled "property rights" ought to be a very effective instrument for the administration of justice.

Big talk, it may not be denied, is an American characteristic, says the Philadelphia Record. Had our navy achieved such a wonderful success, say, under the command of Admiral Bob Evans, as Admiral Togo brought about the other day at Tsu straits, how should we have shouted and cavorted! We may learn something to our advantage by studying the self-contained restraint of the Japanese hero and his countrymen under great, angry, unexampled, victorious provocation.

A suggestion has its origin in Chicago, and it is said, will be brought to the attention of congress in December, that a national school of food, cookery and service shall be established at Washington, says the New York Tribune. The probability of success of any effort of the kind is small. Its advocates say that Germany has an institution of this sort, which does much that is useful and beneficial, but the United States contains vastly more than Germany, and cooking lessons are not usually considered in this country as belonging to the proper province of the federal government.

The magnitude of Japan's naval victory is making even the European press call pause, notes the San Francisco Argonaut. They have been so eager to see Russia humiliated and the authority receive a blow that they have taken no account of what victorious Japan may signify in world politics, and that the wonderful little brown bantam may necessitate an amalgamation of the forces of the white nations, which will throw all dreams of racial programmes and visions of social reconstruction into the shade for decades, perhaps forever. The Russian party in the French Chamber and Socialist par excellence, is driven to the gloomy reflection that there is as much cause for fear as for cheer in the result of the naval engagement.

The public lands of the United States still "embrace in area nearly one-third of the entire extent of the Union and are widely scattered, extending from the Gulf of Mexico, to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico, to the Arctic circle," asserts the New York Sun. Excluding Alaska, there are twenty-three states and three territories containing public land, of which a total area of 473,836,402 acres still remained on June 30, 1904. It is true that of these vacant lands the great bulk throughout the west are unsuitable for cultivation under present known conditions of agriculture; they are so situated that they cannot be reclaimed by irrigation. It is estimated that more than 300,000,000 acres are public grazing land, an area approximately equal to one-fifth of the extent of the United States proper. The agricultural possibilities of great areas of the public lands are almost unknown.

MOSQUITOES CAUSE DISCOMFORT

Great swarms in New Orleans, but they are the harmless breed. There was nothing of special interest in the fever situation at New Orleans Wednesday, beyond the small number of cases reported, and a few deaths. A heavy rain and a wind seems to have filled the city with mosquitoes, but they are not the sleep-sucking, though resembling them in many of the markings. They are causing much discomfort, but are not dangerous. The official report Wednesday was as follows: New cases, 31; total to date, 2,142; deaths Wednesday 4; total deaths 298; cases under treatment 317.

RIOTING IN TOKIO

Populace of Japanese Capital Resent Peace Terms.

DISAFFECTION GENERAL

Mob Had Several Clashes With Police With Result of Two Killed and Five Hundred Wounded in the Meles.

The first turbulence attendant on the popular anger over the terms of peace arranged with Russia took place in Tokio Tuesday. There were several clashes with the police, and it is estimated, two were killed and five hundred wounded. The rioting ceased at midnight. Police stations were the only property destroyed. A mass meeting to protest against the action of the government was called to take place at Hibya park, but the metropolitan police closed the gates and attempted to prevent the assembling of the people. The municipality protested against the action of the police, and finally the gates were thrown open and a large crowd gathered around the gates of Hibya park, declaring the terms upon which the treaty of peace was arranged. The crowd was serious in its conduct, rather than angry, and the police handled it discreetly. The gathering eventually dispersed in an orderly manner.

Later on, however, a crowd attempted to hold a meeting in the Shintomi theater, and the police dispersed it. A portion of the crowd proceeded to the office of Kokumin Shinbun, the government organ, and began looting. Three employees of the paper, armed with swords, appeared at the door of the building and checked the attack, and the police again dispersed the crowd. It was thought that the trouble had passed, when suddenly a portion of the crowd made a rush at the building, hurled stones and damaged some of the machinery.

Several persons were injured during the attack, but the police eventually cleared the streets of the crowd and arrested a number of the rioters. The disorder is not general, and the situation is not serious. Similar meetings have been held at Osaka and Nagoya, which in round terms denounced the government and asked them to resign. Under a vigorous defense by the conservative journals, supporting the government and a fiercer and better appreciation of the situation confronting the country, the public sentiment is showing some evidence of reaction. The argument that it is impossible for Japan to continue the bloody war merely for the purpose of securing indemnity is receiving effect. It is believed that when the government is free to explain fully the conditions of the settlement and the logic appertaining to them, the reaction of sentiment will largely increase.

The entire nation is keenly disappointed at the outcome. Nowhere throughout the empire has there been a step taken toward the celebration of the conclusion of peace. The radicals continue their campaign against the government, demanding the punishment of those responsible for the compromise. The forthcoming diet is certain to be turbulent, and it is predicted that the Katsura government will be forced from office. The declines in the market and the unsatisfactory crop conditions, coupled naturally with the heavy obligations of the government, have created a fountain of quarrels that a financial depression and unsatisfactory business conditions are impending. A prominent banker said that the Tokyo exchange was an intricate tangle of existing conditions, as lately the exchange transactions have been largely speculative. The August settlement was the largest in the history of the exchange. The recent decline, he said, was the result of conditions within the exchange and not correct reflection of general conditions.

Mr. Witte, the chief of the Russian plenipotentiaries, was the first to sign the treaty. After the ceremonies of the signing of the treaty, Baron Rosen delivered a short speech, pointing out the importance of the event, and the influence it will have in the relations between the two countries.

He ended by expressing the satisfaction he felt at the good relations which have characterized the work of the plenipotentiaries. Baron Rosen's speech was met with applause for the kind words addressed to himself and to the members of his mission.

Re-entering the hotel one of the chief members of the Japanese mission said: "The treaty signed today may be the most important historical feature of the twentieth century."

The peace treaty consists of seven articles, the first of which stipulates for the re-establishment of peace and for friendship between the sovereigns of the two empires and between the subjects of Russia and Japan respectively.

Article 2. His majesty, the emperor of Russia, recognizes the preponderant interest from political, military and economical points of view of Japan in the empire of Korea.

TREATY IS SIGNED

Work of Peace Envoys at Portsmouth is Finished.

A SUMMARY OF ARTICLES

HISTORY-MAKING COMPACT FORMULATED AND IT NOW ONLY AWAITS SIGNATURES OF THE MIKADO AND CZAR TO BECOME EFFECTIVE.

The treaty of peace between Russia and Japan was signed by the plenipotentiaries of the two empires Tuesday at 3:47 p. m. On the instant of the consummation of the great historic act, a salute was fired at the United States navy yard on Kittery Point.

Mr. Witte, accompanied by Baron Rosen and Mr. Francon, left the hotel for the navy yard at 2:30 p. m. The salute which had been falling in torrents for half an hour previously to this time, suddenly ceased and the sun which had not been visible for three days shone forth.

Baron Komura, Minister Takahira and Mr. Denison, the legal adviser of the Japanese envoys, left at 2:45 o'clock in an automobile for the guests of the hotel, gathered on the hotel veranda to witness their departure.

Baron Komura, pointing at the sun, said smilingly: "It is a good omen for peace."

Baron Komura had been preceded by another motor car, which carried Mr. Sato and the Japanese secretaries, taking their copy of the peace treaty to a large black leather portfolio. Both Russian and Japanese missions on their arrival at the navy yard were received at the entrance of the building by Admiral Moosh, while two companies of marines commanded by Major Mease, rendered military honors.

The copies of the treaty of peace brought to the navy yard had been carefully consigned by the secretaries of the two missions in order to avoid the necessity of reading them before the signing, at which personages extraneous to the negotiations of the plenipotentiaries had been permitted to witness the signing of the treaty.

The emperor has ordered all other officers who surrendered their vessels to be tried on their return to Russia.

TO DISCUSS COTTON.

Meeting of Southern Association is Held in Asheville--Important Work Mapped Out.

The establishment of a minimum price for the coming cotton crop, the compiling of accurate statistics direct from the grower, the enlargement of the association's scope, and the discussion of present conditions in the cotton world, were set down as the primary objects of the convention of Southern Cotton Growers' Association, in session at Asheville, N. C., Wednesday.

The meeting being called to order by President Jordan, proceeded at once with the discussion of resolutions passed by the Master Cotton Spinners of Great Britain on June 5 at the international congress of Master Cotton Spinners. These resolutions deal with the dumping of cotton and unsatisfactory methods of dealing. They were referred to the committee on resolutions.

A. L. Brook of Alabama read a letter from Sir William Tomkinson, member of the division, not to be recognized in which he stated that the United States has reached its limit of cotton production, and would soon need all that it produced. Sir William also stated the present supply of cotton, and the deficiency was growing at the rate of 400,000 bales a year. He favored the creation of a commission to take steps looking to increase in the production of cotton.

There was no definite action taken in connection with the Tomkinson letter, the sentiment of the convention seeming to be against the recommendation of a tariff on cotton.

After a lengthy discussion, in which most of the delegates took part, resolutions were adopted fixing the uniform "rate" of bales "bagging and ties" at thirty pounds per bale, this ruling to apply to all states.

The establishment of a newspaper as an official organ for the Cotton Growers' Association, a question which was carried over from the Memphis meeting, came up for discussion. Owing to the absence of the other members of the committee having the matter in charge, Mr. Moody of Alabama said he was unwilling to report.

There appears to be a decided sentiment against the establishment of such a paper, which was emphasized when A. L. Brook took the floor and spoke for an hour and a half against the proposal. Mr. Brook said there was no necessity for a cotton growers' organ, as the press of the south was doing all in its power to advance the interests of the southern cotton growers.

At the conclusion of Mr. Brook's speech a motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock Thursday was carried.

FEVER SITUATION IN PENNSYLVANIA

Number of New Cases Showed Decrease in Wednesday's Report. The number of new cases of yellow fever cases to develop in Pennsylvania, Wednesday, showed a decided decrease, although physicians are still investigating a number, which will no doubt be pronounced yellow fever later on.

Only one well developed case was reported, the patient being Herman Pinney, an operator of the Western Union, which office is located in the infected district.

A sensation was created Wednesday afternoon by the arrest of Dr. Gonzales upon the charge of opposing the state health authorities, and circulating false rumors.

TENNESSEE CENTRAL LEASED.

Report That Road is Taken Over by Southern and Illinois Central. It was semi-officially announced in Nashville Wednesday that the Tennessee Central railroad had been leased for a term of ninety-nine years to the Southern railway and Illinois Central, and that those roads would enter Nashville by that route within three months.

HALL IS QUARANTINED.

Bainbridge Shuts Gates Tight Against Bluff County Statesman. Hon. Joe Hill Hall of Macon arrived at West Bainbridge Tuesday night, and was detained by the quarantine officers on account of the fact that he had been in Atlanta during the past ten days.

Mr. Hall is employed in an important damage suit before the Bainbridge city court. He admitted to the quarantine officer just before reaching West Bainbridge that he had recently been in Atlanta, and the officer promptly denied him entrance.

Mr. Hall got connection with Mayor Willis over the telephone, where he was told that Mayor Willis had been informed of Mr. Hall's statement that "he was sorry," Mr. Hall intimated over the wire that the mayor was not as sorry as he pretended, and expressed very feelingly his opinion of Bainbridge's quarantine regulations expressing a desire that the mayor cross the river where he could use more emphatic language.

After a very heated conversation, Mayor Willis informed Mr. Hall that he intended to carry out the instructions of the city council, and that he could not enter the corporation limits of Bainbridge and would have to return.

PUBLIC PRINTER OUSTED.

President Resents Action of Palmer and Asks for His Resignation. A Washington special says: Public Printer W. Y. Palmer, practically has been ousted from office. It was learned authoritatively Tuesday that President Roosevelt had demanded Palmer's resignation, to take effect on the 15th instant.

The demand of the president for Palmer's resignation was due primarily for the latter's action in trying to force Oscar J. Ricketts, foreman of printing, and L. C. Hay, a foreman of the division, out of the government printing office. Mr. Palmer asked for the resignation of Ricketts and Hay on the ground that they had been insubordinate. The public printer had indicated a series of charges against the two men. These charges, it is known, were forwarded to Oyster Bay.

As soon as President Roosevelt learned of the situation that had developed, he directed Public Printer Palmer to forward to him his resignation to take effect in two weeks.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Palmer would not be reappointed to his present office. For several months before President Roosevelt left Washington for Oyster Bay he was casting about for a suitable man for the position of public printer.

The investigation made by the Keop commission into the letting of a contract for seventy-two Lanston typesetting machines for use in the government printing office disclosed a serious condition of affairs in the management of the office.

The Yellow Peril.

When the war between Japan and Russia began, the sympathy of the great majority of the people were with Japan. Russia had been regarded as a nation that imposed on her people, and she had excited the world against her. People lost sight of the fact, that it was a struggle between the white and yellow races for supremacy in Asia, and that the result of the war might have an important bearing on the future history of mankind.

No sooner was peace declared when Japan began to show her true colors in this great contest between the Anglo and the Mongol. Ten Christian churches were burned in the capital city of Tokio, and American citizens were stoned in the streets, and there was a general feeling and demonstration against foreigners throughout the empire of Japan.

In our judgement this is only the beginning of our troubles with the yellow race. Already the Chinese are in arms against us because we keep them from coming to our country, and we expect to see China and Japan join hands and close the open door of trade in the East and declare an embargo against other nations and their goods and wares. In other words those fellows will seize the trade of Asia, and attempt to drive out all other nations.

The time is coming when the sympathizers of Japan will be sorry that Russia did not win in this contest, because notwithstanding she has her internal troubles, yet she are white people, and belong to the Christian branch of modern civilization. In our judgement the negro question is a very small one compared with the "yellow peril," which now puffed up with its victory over Russia, will raise the red flag against the Christian world.

Bullock the Largest

Since the creation of the eight new counties, and the loss of territory by the large counties, Bullock stands at the head of the list, unless it be Clinch and Charlton, which is very largely composed of the Okefenokee swamp. Bullock, Decatur, Coffee, Emanuel and Tattnall, which had been regarded as the largest counties in the state, each lost more territory than Bullock, and put us at the top. We only lost sixty-seven white voters and about the same number of colored, when the upper part of our county was given to Jenkins county. We had about nine hundred and seventy miles of territory, and lost about fifty. We lost about seven hundred people. Bullock has about three times more white people than Burke now has. Bullock can now safely lay claim to being the biggest county in the state. In 1880 we had eight thousand people in the county, in 1890 we had thirteen thousand and in 1900 we had 21,977. At the same rate of increase we now have over 25,000.

In the making of the new counties it was wonderful how the people were attached to the old county, and nearly to a man opposed the formation of the new counties, and said they wanted to live and die in old Bullock.

The race for governor drags its weary way along, and still it is a long time before the people will get a lick at the business.

The marooners are no doubt delighted to see such a row in the state and they have nothing to lose by it.

The farmers are determined to hold their cotton for eleven cents, and with the crop cut off as it is, they ought to get it.

OLIVER'S BIG SALE.

On Saturday when the doors of the store of Mr. E. C. Oliver were thrown open to the trading public there was just such a rush of anxious buyers as has never been seen in Statesboro before.

The news of this great sale had been heralded to the public through these columns, and not only did the 2300 subscribers and their families of the News read it, but the News printed 80,000 large posters that were spread all over this section and the people came in droves.

The man who has persistently said that advertising didn't pay was staggered by the success of this deal. Advertising when done properly and through the proper medium pays, and all up-to-date live business men have begun to realize this fact; of course, it depends largely on the manner in which you do it, and especially in the medium used. In this matter the A. C. Davis Salvage Co. knew their business. They used the Statesboro News service and none other. The fact that our paper is read in 2800 homes twice-a-week, and at least five people to every subscriber reads it, means that we reach 25,000 people each and every week.

The above is not thrown out as a bait for advertising patronage for the News as it is a provable fact that before we were able to furnish the amount of space required to carry this advertisement our foreman made a canvass of the city and secured permission from a sufficient number of business men to leave their advertisements out of that issue to make room for it. Every patent medicine advertisement was side tracked and our news columns drawn on as far as we could afford, but the lesson is drawn that our space is worth the price, and our own people recognize this fact.

We understand that the result of Saturday's sale amounted to about $2,000. Twenty-three salaried men and ten cash boys were kept busy all day. The other merchants of the city claim that they, too, felt some of the benefits of this advertising on the part of one man. There was a large crowd in town and all the other stores did a good business. One of the largest firms in town informed us on Saturday afternoon that their firm had enjoyed the best day's trade of any day since the fall season had opened. Mr. Alexander who has charge of this sale is a clever gentleman and a man who knows his business.

Have Gone to Dublin.

Our people were very much surprised at the announcement that Prof. and Mrs. F. D. Seckinger would move to Dublin. Prof. Seckinger and family left yesterday afternoon for their new home where Prof. Seckinger will have one of the principal places in Dublin's public schools. While he regrets to leave Statesboro, he considers that he has a better offer at Dublin and has of course gone there. The people of Statesboro and vicinity regret very much to lose Prof. and Mrs. Seckinger.

The trustees of the school here have elected Prof. G. B. Franklin to take the place vacated by Prof. Seckinger.

Christian Churches Burned In Japan.

Tokio, Thursday, Sept. 7.—Church property was destroyed and damaged Wednesday and today. The Catholic church, school and priests' residence in Honjo were destroyed. Four small houses at Honjo were also burned, and the protestant church at Honjo, under the pastorate of Aubrey Armstrong, an American, and the latter's residence were burned. Three mission churches in the Asakusa district were partly wrecked.

At Hvyo the church people, anticipating an attack, removed their own fences and raised a white flag, with the result that the mob contented itself with destroying a few chairs and tables.

A mob attacked the Methodist church on Okachimachi street, wrecked the walls and fences, and carried part of the furniture into the streets and burned it. The Yonokura and Eamacho churches in Nihon Bashi were burned.

To the People of Meiler.

I take this method of informing the trustees, patrons and pupils of the Meiler high school that I expect to arrive at Meiler on the eve of Sept. 10, and will begin school on Monday September 18. The patrons are requested to get their children in school as early after school begins as possible as a late entrance is a detriment to progress of the pupils, and an embarrassment to the teachers. Miss Hollingsworth, who has charge of the primary department, needs no recommendation to the people of Meiler.

Three Jurors Cured

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Colbourne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." CALLS ANSWERED PROMPTLY

Day and Night

Birthday Dinner.

On Sunday at the home of Mrs. Lafayette Kingery, in the upper part of the county there gathered the children of Mrs. Kingery, twelve in number, to celebrate the passing of the 60th mile stone in the career of their mother. There was present twelve children and about 40 grand children, besides a large number of friends and other relatives of the family. A sumptuous dinner was spread and was partaken of with appropriate ceremonies, and latter in the afternoon other refreshments in the way of Ice Cream and Cake was served to the large crowd present. It was indeed appropriate that some recognition should be made of the passing of the 60th post on life's road, when that life has been spent in a manner that has blessed the world in which it was spent, giving to posterity an example that tends to good and honorable citizenship. This good woman has not lived in vain; she leaves descendants numbered among the best we have.

Steam Laundry for Statesboro.

We understand that there is a well developed movement on foot to establish a steam laundry in Statesboro. The parties back of this enterprise are men of ample capital and experience. We learn that it is their intention to make the plant of sufficient magnitude to admit of power and variety work as well. A gentleman who is one of the prime movers in the enterprise stated to a News reporter yesterday that they expected to put at least $20,000 into the deal. This will fill a long felt want in Statesboro. It will solve the washerwoman problem at once and leave room for that class of labor to be used in other work. It is being backed by both local and outside capital.

Can You Eat

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Christman, Tex., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures, effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles, I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health."

County Politics Shaping Up.

While Bulloch has so far had little doing in the way of local politics other counties in this immediate section have out a good many of their candidates.

In this connection we have heard only one name mentioned so far in connection with our next year's primary. It is a pretty well understood that Mr. S. O. Allen will be in the race for tax collector. When approached by a News reporter some days ago in regard to the rumor that he may be a candidate, Mr. Allen stated that it was true that he had the matter under consideration, he had been encouraged by numerous friends throughout the county who have assured him of their support in the event that he should enter the race, and while it was too early to make any announcement as yet, but after talking with Mr. Allen we were convinced that he would undoubtedly be in the race.

Mr. Allen will make a strong candidate too. Sol Allen, as he is familiarly known, will make it hot for the man who goes up against him. He is plain, clever and deservedly popular. His friends say that he is a winner.

It was indeed an occasion that called for rejoicing and the offering of thanks that this good woman had been spared to live and bless the community in which her life had been spent to such a ripe old age.

Mrs. Anderson is hale and hearty and bids good to be with her numerous friends and relatives for many more celebrations of the kind.

Horses Have Glanders.

Ordinary S. L. Moore had received complaint that the horses and mules were dying with some disease in Hagins district and he sent for a veterinary surgeon, and Dr. James of Savannah came up, and he and the Ordinary went down and investigated. Mr. Aaron Clark had lost an animal, and Mr. Lawson Hagins had lost two, and had another sick with the disease and Dr. James pronounced the disease to be glanders.

The Doctor says it is a very dangerous and contagious disease and is sure death. It is not only dangerous to horses and mules, but to people also. The carcasses ought to be burned, and the stables fumigated with some disinfectant.

Everybody should attend the concert. Those who attend will be highly entertained and besides they will be helping a worthy cause, as the entire proceeds go toward the support of the home. The Home has no endowment, no money ahead, no state or denominational aid, but is dependent solely upon voluntary charity and the Boys' Band. Don't miss hearing them.

WM. Field School Election.

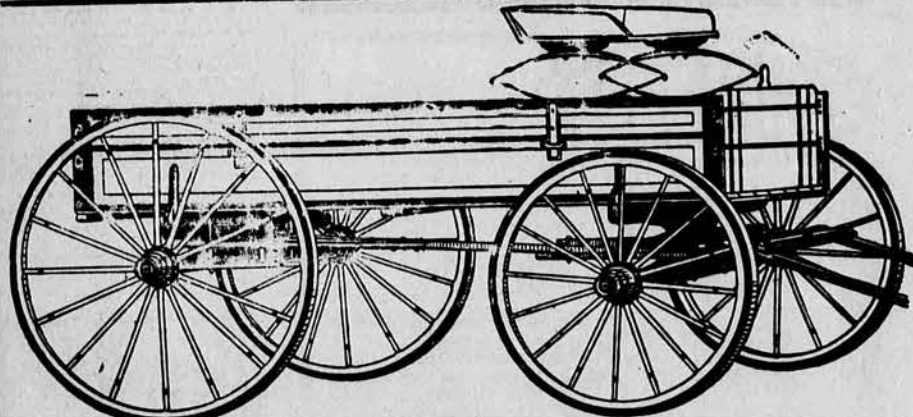

As will be seen by notice of a call for an election printed in another column in this issue, the voters of Statesboro will be called to cast their ballots for or against a public school system for the city of Statesboro on the 10th of October.

This action was decided upon as a result of the public meeting held at the court house Monday night. There was a large crowd out, and the matter was pretty thoroughly discussed, and when the proposition was put to a vote to call an election it looked as if nearly everybody was of one mind, to put in force in Statesboro a free school system. While there seems to be considerable opposition to it on the outside, yet very little of it showed its head at the meeting Monday night.
