FOR MONFY

NE of the boldest things ever done was committed at the store of C. B. GRINER & CO. yesterday. While they were discussing their business affairs they decided to put an end to high prices of articles that come in their line, and immediately set to work buthering their prices down. Now you have an opportunity of buying anything in their store at a great discount.

We are not going out of business, neither are we going to humbug you, but we positively mean to sell you goods cheaper than ever before.

WHY pay 25 per cent. more for goods elsewhere ?

We have a small store and small expenses-hence small profit, Our store is fuller now than ever before, and more goods arriving daily. We need more room and if you will consider your own welfare we will be able to sell you everything you need in our line

Just a few prices below will convince the hardest man in the world to convince.

Gentlemen: In your issue of Tuesday there is a local item, calculated innocently on your part, to do us an injustice. You state that we had to stop making ice on account of some miscreant having filled the well wish sticks. You should not have stopped at that, however, as no doubt our competitor will use the article to convince the buying public that we are thereby not able to furnish ice, such not being the case, for on the contrary we are using three Carloads a week very much to our regret that we are forced by circumstances to do business this way as we know it cannot be as satisfactory to our trade as our own make of Ide, we could not let them sufficed to an endorment of my key court, to do so impartially and to render efficient service to the people. One of the modern schemes of physical development that has won favor is a systematic method of begathing.
A certain inquirer who was interested in the principles of this system recently wrote to one of its professors for a descriptive pamphlet. One of the rules on the first page read as follows:

"After the morning bath take a deep breath, retain it as long as possible, then slowly expire."

He decided not to try the system.
