INSTINCTS OF PLANTS.

Some instances in which it seems to be equal to that of animals. As an observer, in my long life I have noticed a number of instances of the roots of plants and especially of forest trees.

Some years since I was making a road through a pasture, I came across a green root half an inch in diameter. I looked about to see where there was a tree. In looking up a steep hill, about fifty feet away, I saw a tall tree about eight inches in diameter and from this tree the root came. I did not trace this root to its end as I should have done, but knowing the distance to the water on lower land below me, and the size of the root where I cut it in two, I estimated the root must have been twenty-five feet long, making some five feet in all the root must have traveled to obtain water.

Vines, including all that grow in gardens, such as grapes, squashes, pumpkins, also cucumbers and melons, in their natural state, climb where they have a chance. I have had squashes climb high in trees and bear good sized squashes, so that it would have been impossible for them to get to maturity. Market gardeners say that a squash running along on the ground in coming under the limb of an apple tree will be killed by the tree, but if it is kept under support, and then fall back again, they say that if we place a dish of water to the right or left of the terminal part of a vine and a little forward the vine will go for the water in whatever direction the water may be.

I have known butternut and elm trees to send their roots thirty or forty feet down a steep hill to a running brook of water. It has been recorded that a well was dug twenty-five feet from a tree and the well with cement, and the well covered. The water was conveyed to the house in a wooden pipe. In the pipe there was a knothole and in the time the water began to fall, the well was found to be empty. On investigation it was found that the well was partially filled with the roots of the tree. A root found the knothole and went five feet away and so found the water at last.

A tree in California sent out a root foraging for water, so it followed the line of a fence and reached a high brick wall. In several feet up there was a small hole leading to the other side. The root made for this hole, passing through it, then it ran down the other side, finding the water sought.

Some years ago I read of a case where there was a wall on one side of a house and a willow tree on the other side. In the course of time the tree sent a root under the cellar bottom to the other side of the house and cellar, reaching the water at last. In my own case, many years ago I conveyed water from a spring to a farm buildings in what we called pump logs. The logs getting somewhat decayed, the root of a maple tree, standing some ten or twelve feet away and a little down hill found its way into the logs and filled them to such an extent that the water at the buildings was raised. On exploring, we found the trouble as related.

Mysterious are many of the works of nature. How do the roots and vines know how to find water? Is it a vegetable instinct? If it is, even then it is mysterious—Timothy Wheeler in the New York Tribune.

Came Near Finding Out. Among examples of American humor, recently given in the Nineteenth Century and After, is a story which is a bright ornament of the English bench is said to have told more than once.

A speaker in a Western town had started out to show that there might be great differences between men and the local reputation. He had said, "A man can't always tell what his neighbors think of him," when he was interrupted by one of his hearers.

"I came tonight," said the man, with a tempestuous voice, "to show the man with a tempestuous voice, but the jury disagreed."

HOME ART. "Now isn't that a perfect poem?" asked Mrs. Nooned. "I should say rather a study in burnt leather," replied her unfeeling husband, glancing smiling at the air.

NOTICED IT. A young lady from New Jersey put her wit to work. "Coffee gave me terrible spells of indigestion which, coming on every week or so, made my life wretched until some one told me that the coffee was drunk was to blame. That seemed nonsense, but I noticed those attacks would come on shortly after eating and were accompanied by a burning, stinging pain in the pit of the stomach that I could only find relief by loosening my clothing and lying down. It was circumstances made it impossible for me to lie down I spent hours in great misery."

I refused to really believe it was the coffee until finally I thought a trial would at least do no harm, so I quit coffee in 1901 and began on Postum. My troubles left entirely and convinced me I was sane.

"Postum brought no discomfort, nor did indigestion follow its use. I have had no return of the trouble since I began to drink Postum. It has built me up, restored my health and given me a new interest in life. It certainly is a joy to be well again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Insurance People Formed Pool to Influence Solons. HAMILTON WAS THE CHIEF

Schiff Says Equitable Finance Committee Was Simply 'All Hyde, All Hyde and Alexander' and No Others.

When the legislative committee on the insurance investigation adjourned at New York Friday night Wednesday, October 4, it concludes a week in which greater progress has been made than in any week since the investigation was begun. At Friday's session, when Alfred W. Mahto, an associate auditor of the Equitable Assurance Society, was called to the stand it was disclosed that the Equitable Life and the Mutual Life and the New York Life companies had formed a pool to look after legislation before the various state legislatures.

Andrew Hamilton, to whom President McCall of the New York Life has given several checks, was one of the chief members of the legal staff for these companies and was employed and received money for services from the Equitable amounting to $65,000 in eight years.

Edward L. Devlin, the real estate manager of the New York Life and the United States and Canada, testified as to the cost of the building in Paris. It was brought out that the building was carried on the books of the company at a valuation of $1,020,640, whereas with the original cost and improvements on the building, actual money to the amount of $2,335,194 was paid.

"I was troubled with a severe scalp humor, and loss of hair that gave me great deal of annoyance. After unsuccessful efforts with many remedies and so-called hair restorers, I procured Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The humor was cured in a short time, my hair was restored, and I feel like a new man."

A SPECIFIC PLASMA. "Kissling is a sure cure for freckles. I have used it many times. It is a free preventative. NOT EMBELLEMENT. "I hear your hair is in trouble," said the first bank president. "Yes," said the second bank president, "he's charged with stealing."

SUFFERINGS UNTOLD. A Kansas City Woman's Terrible Experience With Kidney Sickens.

Third Magnate—Sure, why I'll bet that fellow has spent considerable time in the United States Treasury.

PACKERS TURNED DOWN.

Lost Contentment in Court Through Judge's Decision Against Their Plea in Abatement.

At Chicago, Friday, Federal Judge Otis J. Humphrey sustained the demurrer filed by United States District Attorney Morrison to the plea in abatement made by packers to have indictments for alleged restraint declared void. Judge Humphrey said he made his decision on broad grounds without taking into consideration technicalities which the government advanced against the plea in abatement.

It is likely that the jury for the trial will be drawn about the middle of October.

After the decision had been given the defending attorneys tried to amend the fourth plea by the insertion of the word "for." This met with resistance from the district attorney, but the court granted it.

Big Bull Pool Has Millions of Ready Cash.

Monied Men to Stand With Cotton Growers of South in Raising the Price—Condition of the Crop Shows Decline.

Frank B. Hayne, the noted cotton bull operator, returning to New Orleans Sunday, after a three months' absence on the floor of the New York cotton exchange, declared that the bull pool now operating to raise the price of cotton is the richest pool ever organized in America, and is amply able to do what it has set out to accomplish.

Hayne's statements regarding the pool have broken the mystery which surrounded the new aggregation which expects to put cotton at the top notch of the market.

Ovation to Roosevelt.

President's Departure from Oyster Bay and Arrival in Washington on Occasions of Lovable Scenes.

With the cheers and good wishes of his neighbors and friends following him, President Roosevelt, his vacation ended, left Oyster Bay at 10 o'clock Saturday morning for Washington.

The farewell given the president by the residents of his home town was notable. Throughout the village, residences and business buildings were decorated and Audrey avenue, over which the president passed to the railroad station, was hung with large American flags at intervals of twenty feet. At the railroad, a white contrivance to the waiting room, a white contrivance to the waiting room, a white contrivance to the waiting room.

THE PULPIT.

A BRILLIANT PULPIT SERMON BY THE REV. W. M. BURGIN.

Subject: Sowing and Reaping.

His text was chosen from Galatians 6:7-8: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap. For he that sows to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that sows to the spirit shall of the spirit reap life everlasting." Mr. Burgh said:

Mr. Editor: My interruptions and engagements are so numerous as to leave me little time for recreation and still less for the less imperative duties of correspondence. I enjoy good health, good spirits and a variety of excellent company: farmers, metaphysicians, wise, theologians, etc., etc. The pressure of business upon me has been so mighty for two or three weeks that my system has been considerably deranged in its bodily as well as mental parts.

When I speak of business I do not mean to convey to you the impression that my farm work has been the only absorbent of my time, but my time has been harassed by a multitude of questions in daily agitation; questions from which I could not, in justice to myself, turn away my attention. They have eaten up my vacant hours.

I have just received a letter from Hoke Smith, I am not for him. South Georgia has a number of men who would fill the gubernatorial chair with credit to themselves and honor to the state. I am in favor of running a south Georgia man if he is best. Let us keep up our lightning rod until thunder strikes us. We must have a candidate, and if we go in to the convention shoulder to shoulder and with our force well organized we can nominate a south Georgia man or we can say who the nominee shall be. We are certainly to blame for lack of proper recognition by the balance of Georgia. We surely have been wanting in co-operation and concentration. We all know that south Georgia has been divided, while middle and north Georgia have clung together.

I was going to say, just when the unruly quill took the bit in his own mouth and ran away with me, that our Atlanta Constitution man amused me when he sent me a little book giving the history of his life; he puffed it up like a hog's bladder and pointed it like a butterfly and even American vanity could not keep up the bubble.

I did not expect, when I began to write you a few lines, that I would take up two sheets, but I am proverbially garrulous. I entertain lively anticipations with regards to the results of Hon. J. A. Brannen running for congress. I believe he will come forth from the den of lions, unscathed as Daniel. Brannen commands my highest respect. It requires no great independence of soul to think him a good, safe and worthy man for congress.

I am far from wishing to obtrude my own notions upon any one. I do not wish to cram my hortations down any man's throat but I do wish to say that I believe that Brannen should be our next congressman. Controversy, however, has never resulted in my own change of opinion, and I am confident that I never convinced another. Pride is too strong to suffer candor to have its perfect work. We only need facts.

PETITION FOR CHARTER

GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To the Superior court of said county:
The petition of W. S. Proctor and S. P. Olliff, shew that they desire for themselves, successors and associates, to be incorporated under the name of The Statesboro Marble & Granite Co. The particular business that they propose to carry on is the manufacture of monuments and other stone and granite work, to buy and sell marble, granite, stone, tiling, piping and other materials in the district connected with such business.

3. The amount of capital stock actually paid into said business is the sum of three thousand dollars, but petitioners desire the privilege of increasing the same at any time to an amount not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars.

4. The principal place of business will be at Statesboro, in said county, but petitioners desire the right to establish such branch offices or places of business as they may desire.

5. Wherefore they pray that they be incorporated as aforesaid with all the rights, privileges and immunities allowed by law and subject to all the penalties prescribed by law.

Attorneys for Petitioners
GEORGIA, Bulloch County
I, R. V. Lester, clerk of the Superior court of said county do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the petition of The Statesboro Marble & Granite Company, this day filed in my office. This Oct. 5th, 1905.

R. V. Lester, C. C. & B. C.

For Judge of Middle Circuit.

To the Voters of the Middle Circuit:
I think it proper at this time to announce the fact that I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Judge of the Circuit. For eight years I served the people of the Circuit as Solicitor General, endeavoring at all times to discharge the duties of that office with fairness, impartiality and courtesy. Upon the promotion of Judge Even to the bench of our Supreme Court I was an unopposed candidate before the people for the Judgeship to fill out his unexpired term of two years. My unanimous election to this office necessitated a complete abandonment of my law practice. I submit that I am fairly entitled to at least a full term, if in your judgment I have made an efficient and impartial Judge. On that subject of course I can say nothing on my own behalf, except that I have labored earnestly in presiding over your courts, to do so impartially and to render efficient service to the people. Whether I have succeeded or not others must say. If so, I am fairly entitled to an endorsement of my administration and of my record.

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

Tuberculosis kills one victim in England and Wales every five minutes, states the London Telegraph.

John Jacob Astor says the automobile will be succeeded by the air ship. And still the horse has not gone.

No, the name of Pullman has not died with the death of the last Pullman, remarks the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The Pullman porter will keep it fresh in the memory of all mankind.

Modest men may not always be courageous, but courageous men are always modest. It is a great blunder in the pursuit of happiness not to know when we have got it—that is, not to be content with a reasonable and possible measure for it.

The Russian government has ordered Sienkiewicz, the Polish novelist, to leave his home on pain of arrest and imprisonment for having criticized the Russian Polish schools. And this is Russia's idea of promoting civilization, says the Buffalo Courier.

A New Jersey clergyman says that the young men are responsible for the decrease in marriages. Many a man, he continues, puts off marriage until he's so old he would otherwise have to hire a trained nurse to take care of him during his declining years.

Philadelphia, profiting by New York's subway experience, has installed a system of electric fans in its new subway, with the result, according to the Public Ledger, that on the hottest days the temperature in the subway was about thirty-five degrees.

Twenty-one articles, or groups of articles, having each a total value of $100,000 or over, were imported into the United States from Germany in the last fiscal year, and twenty articles, having a total value of $100,000 or over each, were exported to Germany during the same period.

Farmers, it will pay you to spend whatever spare time you have in studying your soil. You will find it very interesting and will be a great benefit to you. It is a good plan if you own anything to know just what it is. This applies to your land as well as any stock that you may own, remarks the New York Witness.

The prosperity and extension of Southern cotton are noteworthy, says the New York Sun. The lumber industry of Virginia and the Carolina is now in the greatest period of activity in its history. The building activity throughout the Southern States is great, and also the development of every kind of business enterprise.

"Literary man wants to buy or borrow old love letters; no names used." This cold-blooded advertisement has appeared in the Sydney Morning Herald. What does he want them for? Presumably he is writing an amatory novel, and wants the palpitating letter. The records of Australian breach of promise cases would furnish him with an abundance of material, but perhaps he is anxious to have his love letters absolutely fresh. No twice cooked omelette for him.

Speed mania is getting to have scientific recognition. The medical superintendent of the Montrose Asylum mentions motoring as the latest addition to the list of predisposing causes tending toward insanity. He reports two victims of the new "motor mania" at his institution. "He gives no details to enable us," says the Hospital, "to determine what form the crime assumed, or whether the tendency was homicidal, suicidal or of a less personal character. But in any case the new menace to mental stability is disquieting."

So many precautions have already been taken in thoroughly civilized communities to prevent the spread of tuberculosis that it would not seem possible that any of importance had been neglected. Still, American Medicine notes one that deserves the attention of family physicians who have consumptives under their care. If handkerchiefs used by the patients were boiled or disinfected with chemical before going to the laundress, the chance that she would acquire tuberculosis would be diminished. Statistics show that a larger mortality from that cause occurs among washerwomen than among other women of the same station in life.

YOUNG FORGER IN TOILS.

Mystery of Robbery of $350,000 Worth of Securities Cleared Up.

By the confession of Henry A. Leonard, a young clerk in the employ of Hall & Stetitz Co., No. 30 Broad street, New York, Monday, the mystery of the recent robbery of $350,000 worth of securities from the National City bank, was cleared up.

Leonard, who lives with his parents at No. 556 East One Hundred and Thirty-third street, was arrested Sunday and kept in close confinement while the detectives continued their search for the missing securities, every dollar of which was recovered Monday.

The prisoner, who is only 24 years of age, and had previously borne the reputation of an indolent and thoroughly reliable clerk, made the astounding statement in his confession that he had planned and carried out his scheme of forgery and robbery, not from any criminal motive, but solely to show by what a simple device the elaborate safeguards of New York banks could be set at naught. That this statement is true, is in a measure corroborated by the facts in the case and is the belief of the young man's employers by whom he was highly estimated.

Soon after the theft Leonard mailed a package containing $300,000 in securities to the residence of Dyer Pearl, a senior member of the firm of Pearl & Co. by whom they were owned. The package was received by Mr. Pearl Sunday.

Monday Leonard's father turned over to the police the remainder, $50,000, in stocks and bonds, which, he said, had been found in a wardrobe in his house where his son had said, after his arrest, he had secreted them.

ALL BURIED IN ONE GRAVE.

Mother and Children, Murder Victims, Laid to Rest Together.

The bodies of Mrs. A. J. Condit, her 13-year-old daughter and her son, who were murdered near Elma, Texas, by a negro, were interred in a single grave.

The discovery of a bloody site with which the crime was committed, a bundle of discarded clothing found by bloodhounds a short distance from the scene of the tragedy are the only clues left by the murderer. However, when the 17-year-old negro boy who was working in a nearby field, and who gave the first alarm, his home was searched and a tablecloth with a bundle of bloody clothing was found concealed beneath the covers of a bed.

HOLMES AGAIN INDICTED.

Grand Jury Makes Case Stronger Against Ex-Statistician.

The federal grand jury at Washington, Monday, reported new indictments in the action against Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., former assistant statistician of the agricultural department, Edwin A. Peckham and Moses Hans, of New York.

They cover the same ground as the other indictments, but are believed to be more specific and have been prepared with greater care.

BULLOCH AT THE FAIR.

It will, perhaps, be interesting to the readers of the News to know the situation of the county exhibit at the state fair. Sunday night, the night previous to the opening of the biggest fair the state has ever seen, leaves Bulloch well in the lead. It is the general opinion of everybody that we are a winner for first prize, though the people in charge of the exhibits of Cobb and Gwinnett counties rushed home Saturday night and it is rumored that they secured their respective counties Sunday, they being located near Atlanta.

The Bulloch exhibit is fully twice as large as anything at the big fair, and there are some of the finest displays there I have ever seen. All the exhibits are late. Up to this, Sunday night, a good many of them have not put a thing in their space. Bulloch's exhibit is far from being ready for inspection, hope to have it ready by Tuesday morning.

I firmly believe that we have got the fight whipped for first prize. It has cost lots of money and an endless amount of labor to place before the people of Georgia what we have promised to do, viz: The most magnificent county agricultural exhibit ever seen in the state of Georgia. Those who will see it will say that we have come pretty nearly fulfilling our promise.

We are informed by the Gwinnett county people that Gwinnett county authorities gave those who got up the exhibit $500.00 out of the county treasure, and to the county of Laurens $250.00. It is unnecessary to say they hate to be licked, especially so by a south Georgia county, a display gotten up by a country newspaper editor without a nickel donated by anybody, but that is the problem that confronts them. We have them put to the test now, and unless they can rally we will keep them that way.

The famous Bulloch county lion is attracting the attention of everybody and a million questions have already been answered about him. A funny thing happened in connection with him on Saturday night. The night watchman in charge of the building where the county displays are placed came on duty at dark and had not seen the lion. He was plundering around during the night with his lantern in our exhibit, probably looking for a fine stalk of sugar cane, a pomegranate or a few of those fine apples for which Bulloch is noted, when he found himself face to face very suddenly with a genuine lion. He reported to the authorities outside in short order that there were wild beasts in the building, and would not enter it again until he was assured that the lion was perfectly tame and harmless. Just what he did when he met the lion and just how fast he ran in getting out of the building can be imagined.

Everybody who possibly can ought to come to the big fair. The little amount of money that it will take will be well spent.

Respectfully,
J. R. MILLER.

The Lower Canoochee Association convened last Friday with the Fellowship church near Stillson in its 57th annual session. Elder M. F. Stubbs was elected moderator and Mr. J. A. on Franklin clerk. Delegates were present from the several churches, and several ministers were present. Among them were Elders J. L. Smith, H. B. Wilkinson, F. M. Donaldson, Draughn, Head, Mattox, Sikes, Powell and others. Services were held morning, and afternoon on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Large crowds were present each day, especially on Sunday. Visitors were entertained by the splendid farmers of the community, and all report a good meeting and a pleasant time. Those who went from Statesboro and elsewhere on the trains were met at Stillson and conveyed to and from the churches.

The association will meet next year at Upper Lotte creek.

School Election

The election on the school question occurs today in Statesboro. It will take a two-thirds majority to carry the election in favor of a free school for our town. All the progressive towns are adopting this method, and counties and country districts are doing so. Let us move forward with the procession and place Statesboro on the front row.

The cost to us will be small, and it will insure a better school and better teachers. Let your ballot read "For Free School."

Two Women Wanted By Angry Mob

Fort Scott, Kan., Oct. 5.—The county jail here was surrounded last night by men who insist that Mrs. Belle Riggins, her daughter, Clara Shaw, aged 14, years and her husband, George Riggins, held by the coroner's jury for the death of Riggins son by a former wife, should be lynched.

The sheriff, expecting an assault on the jail, has, it is reported, fled with the prisoners. The jail is strongly guarded. That the little boy was starved and tortured to death is specifically charged by the coroner's jury.

The boy's sister was cruelly treated, and is at the point of death in a hospital here. While Mrs. Riggins own children were well fed and treated kindly, the two step children, according to the evidence presented to the coroner's jury, were literally starved.

For several weeks, it is charged, Mrs. Riggins and Miss Shaw have been starving, whipping and otherwise abusing Mrs. Riggins two step children, a boy and a girl aged 7 and 14 years respectively. Testimony was brought out at the coroner's hearing that the children had eaten from swill barrels in alleys, and had been horribly whipped.

Negro Lynched By Negro Mob

Bainbridge, Ga., Oct. 8.—News has just reached Bainbridge of the lynching of a negro to-day, eight miles west of here, by a mob of his own race.

The negro had criminally assaulted a negro girl and had attempted to assault another, who out him in the breast. He was arrested by Deputies Jim Ivey Murkerson, who were bringing him to Bainbridge when they were stopped by a mob of negroes, who they got him and forced the deputies to go away on another road.

The negro was strung up to a tree and riddled with bullets. None of the mob was apprehended. The negro's name cannot be learned.

Urges Farmers to Hold Their Cotton

Atlanta, Oct. 6.—President Harris Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, today issued an open letter to the farmers of the south in which he urges them to hold their cotton for at least two weeks. He states that if the south stand together for two weeks they will win the fight against those who are endeavoring to depress the price of the staple.

In his letter President Jordan refers to the advice of former Vice President Peters of Texas to sell cotton. He reminds the farmers of the south of the fact that the resignation of Mr. Peters as vice president of the Southern Cotton association was demanded by the executive committee Sept. 8, contending that Mr. Peters is no longer vice president of the association, and has no right to sign himself as such.

President Jordan closes his letter to the farmers with an appeal to "stand together and resist to the last every attempt to break the present organized effort of the producers to secure fair prices for their staple."

PETERS ADVISES FARMERS.
Dallas, Tex., Oct. 6.—Col. E. S. Peters, vice president of the Southern Cotton association, has issued a letter to farmers advising them to sell their cotton.

This letter is expected to arouse criticism in the Southern Cotton association as the officers of that organization, supported by the farmers union, have advised the farmers to hold their cotton for 11 cents.

Col. Peters says he believes that cotton will not go any higher and he predicts a big drop.

GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To the Superior Court of said county:
The petition of the stock holders of The Simmons Co., a corporation named by the Superior Court of said county on the 24th day of April 1900, and whose principal office and place of doing business is in said county, desire an amendment to the charter of said corporation as follows.

Petitioners desire that section of the charter of said corporation which provides for a capital stock of only Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars shall be repealed and revised and in lieu thereof the following inserted: Section Five: The capital stock of said corporation, shall be Forty Five Thousand ($45,000.00) Dollars, divided into one hundred dollars each; and petitioners desire the right to at any time to increase said capital stock to an amount not to exceed One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars and to decrease the capital stock to an amount not less than Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars.

Petitioners show that the full amount of the capital stock of Forty Five Thousand ($45,000.00) Dollars has been paid in.

Wherefore they pray the passing of an order granting the amendment asked.
