GRAND JURY PRESENTMENTS

We, the grand jury chosen and sworn for Oct. term 1905 superior court of Bulloch county, beg to submit the following general presentments:

We have received and adopted the report of the committee appointed by the former grand jury to examine the books of the county officers, said report is hereto attached and made a part of our general presentments.

We have examined the books of the various magistrates and justices of the peace, and find them correctly kept, with the following exception: The J. P. docket of the 48th district, G. M. the cost bills are not properly itemized, and some of the entries are made in pencil.

We elect Messrs. W. A. Hodges, J. A. Fulcher and D. E. Bird as members of the board of education to succeed themselves.

We endorse the efforts of the board of education in building new school houses and laying off school districts as the law directs.

We have elected J. B. Lee, H. S. Parish and C. S. Martin as a committee to examine the books of the various county officers.

We understand that the county commissioners have employed a superintendent of roads for the county and endorse this action and approve this change in the method of working our roads.

We recommend that our commissioners furnish an itemized statement showing the amounts of collections and all expenses for road purposes for each district separately, also a report as to condition of roads, and that these reports be published quarterly.

We recommend that the chain gang be required to work the two public roads running through Statesboro within the city limits in the same manner as the roads in the county beyond the city limits.

We have examined the office of the sheriff and find his books neatly and correctly kept. We commend the sheriff for the efficient and systematic manner in which his office is kept.

We have examined the office of the county commissioners' court and find that some of the commissioners, to-wit: Morgan Brown, M. J. Bowen and W. J. Denmark receive pay as expenses in going and returning from said courts $1.00 per day extra to the $3.00 per diem, making $4.00 per day, which we think is in violation of said act creating said board.

We have examined the county treasurer's books and find them neatly and correctly kept, with a balance on hand of county funds eleven thousand nine hundred and forty-two dollars and fourteen cents ($11,942.14) and the further sum of one hundred and thirty-three dollars and twenty-six cents as money arising from fines and forfeitures ($183.26).

We beg leave to extend to his honor, Judge B. T. Rawlings and our solicitor, Hon. Alfred Herington, our appreciation for their courtesies to this body and the assistance rendered us in performing our duties.

Respectfully submitted,
W. H. Conner, Foreman,
F. N. Grimes, Clerk.

ERASTUS BRANNEN WAS CONVICTED

Erastus Brannen who was charged with the murder of Jack Ellis was convicted last week by the jury and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. Both he and his brother Jim were jointly indicted, but the jury found the one guilty. The killing of Ellis occurred in June last on one Sunday night along the public road. Jack Ellis in company with Lester Olliff and Conley Barnes were on their way home, and they say that when they overtook the Brannen boys, that the Brannens opened fire on them and killed Ellis and wounded Barnes. The Brannens insisted that they were going along the road and were overtaken by the other crowd and fired into without warning and that they shot only in self defense. Brannen is a young man only about twenty years of age. The case was hard fought on both sides and much interest manifested in the trial. A motion for a new trial has been made by his attorneys which will be heard at an early day.

JIM CARTER WILL HANG

At the session of the superior court last week Jim Carter, a negro, was convicted of the murder of his wife and was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, December the first, in private, as the law directs.

Some time during last summer Jim killed his wife because she would not live with him. He came back from South Carolina to induce her to return with him, and Jim, believing that she was unfaithful to him, proceeded to kill her in the presence of witnesses who testified against him on the trial of the case.

He fled to South Carolina after the murder of his wife, but Sheriff Kendrick got on his trail and in a few days had him landed behind the bars in the Statesboro jail.

Jim is a one-eyed negro about 40 years old, and will be the first negro to hang since Alonzo Evans was strung up for the murder of Henry Dutton about ten years ago.

The Grand Jury has cleared the atmosphere in Bulloch for a season and no doubt the criminals are glad they have adjourned.

Judge Rawlings presides with dignity and fairness to attorneys and clients and has won their approbation.

The winds began to blow as soon as Roosevelt got on his vessel. Even the winds desire to give him a strenuous time.

A negro killed the sheriff in Bainbridge and the negro was forthwith taken by a crowd and lynched.

Your creditors will not forget you, even though your friends forsake you and give you the icy stare.

The trial of criminal cases have a peculiar influence on the minds of the negroes and some white people. They sit for hours and listen at the details of crime.

Faith Not Necessary.

You may be just as skeptical and pessimistic as you please. Kogol will digest what you eat whether you eat or not. You can put your food in a bowl, pour a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure on it and it will digest it the same as it will in your stomach. It can't help but cure indigestion and dyspepsia. New York, Oct. 25.—The annual meeting of the voting trustees of the Seaboard Air Line Railway was held at the company's office in this city today.

The old board of directors were renominated without change, but John Skelton Williams entered a protest against the election of Thomas E. Ryan, J. A. Blair, J. B. Dennis, T. J. Coolidge, Jr., and J. M. Barr.

Will Make Improvements.

This week winds up the fair in Macon, and as Bulloch county has made a very creditable showing at both Atlanta and Macon, the management of these exhibits will return home next week and resume his duties as heretofore. During his absence the News has been a little short on reading matter, but he assures the many readers of this paper that in the future he will exert more effort in getting out one of the brightest and newest papers published in the state.

Better proof of this is the fact that he has already purchased a gasoline engine sufficient to run all the machinery, and placed an order for a $8,500 Mergenthaler type setting machine and we expect to print an eight page twice-a-week paper, all home print.

We offer every apology to our readers for our unintentional neglect in the past, and feel proud to say that we will be prepared in the near future to put out a paper that will doubly repay you for what you have missed.

The Arms of Night

I'm weary with this ceaseless strife These unrelenting hands of stain That force themselves into my life With brine upon the lips of pain.

The path before me rises steep; But by and by I'll rest and sleep, When night holds out her arms to me.

I've tired of this endless night With not a star in all the skies, While o'er my path, both left and right The raging storm revolves like flies.

And so I'm longing for that peace That each unnumbered soul shall see, When all the storms of life shall cease, And night holds out her arms to me.

O thou unseen, eternal One, Be near me thro' this trying day; And when this earthly day is done, O bear my weary soul away.

Beyond the golden sunset west, Across the misty twilight sea, O take me to that home of rest, When night holds out her arms to me.

Before my mental vision lies A home where many mansions are Beyond the golden sunset skies— Beyond the misty sundown sea. And in that bright, eternal land, Where Christ and all saints shall be, I shall in peace forever stand, When night holds out her arms to me.

M. R. Smith.

An Awful Cough Cured.

"Two years ago our little girl has a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat." writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by All Druggists.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by All Druggists.

The Better Way

The tissues of the throat are inflamed and irritated; you cough, and there is more irritation—more coughing. You take a cough mixture and it eases the irritation—for a while. You take and it cures the cold. That's what is necessary. It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; cures the cold because it drives out the inflammation; builds up the weakened tissues because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. That's how Scott's Emulsion deals with a sore throat, a cough, a cold, or bronchitis.

The Arms of Night

I'm weary with this ceaseless strife These unrelenting hands of stain That force themselves into my life With brine upon the lips of pain.

The path before me rises steep; But by and by I'll rest and sleep, When night holds out her arms to me.

I've tired of this endless night With not a star in all the skies, While o'er my path, both left and right The raging storm revolves like flies.

And so I'm longing for that peace That each unnumbered soul shall see, When all the storms of life shall cease, And night holds out her arms to me.

O thou unseen, eternal One, Be near me thro' this trying day; And when this earthly day is done, O bear my weary soul away.

Beyond the golden sunset west, Across the misty twilight sea, O take me to that home of rest, When night holds out her arms to me.

Before my mental vision lies A home where many mansions are Beyond the golden sunset skies— Beyond the misty sundown sea. And in that bright, eternal land, Where Christ and all saints shall be, I shall in peace forever stand, When night holds out her arms to me.

Wife-Beating.

A Scotch magistrate recently decided that a man may beat his wife, without breaking the law. Still, it is not generally regarded as a nice thing to do. The courts rather frown upon it in this country. The president suggested to congress last winter that a whipping-post be established for the benefit of wife-beaters. It is to say the least, a rather unpopular practice. No one may practice wife-beating merely for an amusement, just to pass the idle hours away, and those who stand well in his community after the Ladies' Aid society has set upon his case.

The ladies who do the debating for the New York Legislative League took up the subject of the wife-beater the other day. "Though I am a Christian I would kill a husband who beat me," said one of the leaders. "A woman who kills a husband who has beaten her," cried another one, "should be tried by a jury of her peers, and these should be women who have been beaten by their husbands." After these remarks the meeting, naturally enough, began to warm up a little. "It is a woman's right," said another lady, "to kill a man who beats her." "Yes," said another one, "it is just as important to shoot a brutal man as a mad dog." And so forth. The Legislative League had met for the purpose of passing resolutions condemning the hanging of women, but the reformers forgot all about that. They left the condemned woman on the trap, with the rope about her throat, while they exterminated the male wife-beater.

Weopine that the ladies of the New York Legislative League, whatever that may mean when translated into real words, have nothing to fear personally from wife-beaters. The strong-minded and strong-jungled ladies of legislative leagues are not the sort of women who are beaten by their husbands. Gentle husbands as at home tending the baby while the star-eyed goddesses of reform were planning to annihilate the wife-beater—at home, trembling with fear at every sound which reminded him of his wife's step upon the sidewalk; trembling and fearing her return.

What does the New York Legislative League think about husband-beaters? That is the really pertinent question. Are they merciful in their strength?

Superior Court Business

The October term of Bulloch Superior court adjourned on last Saturday night. The civil docket was light and consumed less than two days but the criminal side of the court furnished plenty of business for the remainder of the week. The case exciting the most interest was the one against Erastus and James Brannen charged with killing Jack Ellis along last summer. On a count of the many relatives about one hundred and fifty jurors were summoned to court, and many of these went off for other causes. The civil cases are growing less in the Superior court, as most of this litigation is now done in the city court. The Grand Jury was in session the entire week and found about sixty true bills during that time. They give attention to all the violators of the criminal laws, and their work will do much to restrain the criminal inclined.

Do You Want Strength.

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood, and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Conductor Held for Killing;

Says He Was Sober.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 27.—E. A. Moore, the street car conductor, who shot B. J. Seckinger and killed Mrs. F. F. Wheeler in a drunken rage on a street car yesterday late, declares this morning that he was perfectly sober when the killing occurred and that he is cognizant of everything that took place.

It is probable that he will be given an early trial. When Moore secured his position with the Savannah Electric company he filed an application stating that he was from Waycross and was a brother of J. L. Moore of that place. There is no J. L. Moore at Waycross. Moore was here with the 7th army corps and got in trouble with the provost guard but was pardoned after being convicted by a court martial and sentenced to Ft. Leavenworth prison.

Mrs. Wheeler was killed on the sixth anniversary of her wedding and the night after the marriage of her sister at her home.

Baby Orphans Were Poisoned

Burlington, Vt., Oct. 27.—It became known to-day that seventeen girls whose ages range from 2 to 6 years at the St. Joseph Orphan Asylum in this city, were taken suddenly ill last night and three of them died within three hours.

At an autopsy held today under the auspices of the State Board of Health, it was determined that the death of the three girls was due to the poisoning, but that the cause had not appeared.

The girls who were taken ill remained at the asylum last evening, while the remainder of the 250 inmates were taken to an entertainment.

It is supposed that in the absence of some of the nurses, the children obtained something of a poisonous nature, which they all tasted. Physicians were hastily summoned, when the illness was discovered, but they were unable to save three of the little ones. They expressed the opinion that the others would recover, although some of them are still in a serious condition.

Nothen to Fear

Mothers need have no hesitancy in continuing to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, and colds and croup and can always be relied upon. For sale by All Druggists.
