$1.00 A YEAR.

STATESBORO, GA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1905.

VOL. 5, NO. 35

BULLOCH WINS SECOND AGAIN.

The decision of the judges of the Macon fair which was handed in Wednesday afternoon gave to the undesigned second prize for the second best agricultural exhibit shown from one farm.

There were no county displays at Macon at all. To say that we were surprised that any set of judges could possibly have placed us second to a man whose little exhibit compared no more with our own than darkness does with light, would be putting it about as mild as we can find language to express it. But we are not kicking, and took our medicine like a good fellow.

It looks like these fair people cannot think of anything but "Second" when they see us.

There were a number of displays at Macon who failed to get anything.

The first prize of $1,000.00 was awarded to W. C. Lewis, of Houston county.

The second prize of $500.00 to J. R. Miller, of Bulloch.

The third prize of $250.00 to Mrs. W. W. Monk, of Worth.

There were three exhibits who failed to get anything.

We also won the following special premiums: For the best bale of sea island cotton, $50; for the best two bushels of rice, $50; for the best five bushels of Irish potatoes, $50; for the third best one hundred stalks of sugar cane, $10. Total prize money won at Macon $860.00. This added to the $1,709.50 won at the Atlanta fair makes our total winnings at the two fairs $2,569.50.

The above figures are not profits altogether. It has been a big expense for months and now at the end of the struggle we desire to say that we have got about enough of fairs to last us for the next twenty years. If after that time there is shown any improvement in the tactics of the management of a Georgia fair, we may take a hand again, but until that is plainly shown we desire to be excused from any further participations, while we are not coming home a pauper, at the same time, we know that we have been robbed of the honor due us at both fairs. That we were entitled to first prize at Atlanta was plain to all who saw it, and the awarding of this honor at Macon to another was nothing short of highway robbery.

We will have something to say in Tuesday's paper about our experience at two Georgia fairs, what they look like and what they are as run by the present regime.

Big Ohio Sawmill Destroyed By Fire.

Baltimore, Nov. 1.—Fire tonight destroyed totally the Mount Clare sawmill, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with contents, consisting of much valuable machinery, with pine, oak and hickory lumber in process of manufacture.

Wind carried clouds of sparks to other buildings of the extensive plant and two large stacks of lumber nearby, but streams of water constantly played upon these prevented the spread of fire, which was under control an hour and a half after the alarm was sounded.

There is nothing to indicate how the fire started. It had gained considerable headway when discovered by a police officer. An approximate division of the loss is $50,000 on the building, $45,000 on machinery and $15,000 on stock, making a probably total loss of $110,000.

City Court In Session.

City court met Wednesday, and several criminal cases were tried before the jury. Among the convictions were two negroes for hunting on the lands of Mr. Dan Kennedy. This is the first conviction under the new law.

A Cotton Rush.

The streets of Statesboro were jammed with carts and wagons loaded with cotton on last Tuesday and Wednesday. About three hundred and fifty bales came in on Tuesday and about two hundred and fifty bales on Wednesday. The streets were blocked, and it was late in the evening before it could all be weighed at the warehouse.

The money value of the cotton in the two days was about $40,000.00.

Police Chief's Son Kills Bad Woman

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Charles Atkins, age 25 years, son of Chief of Police J. J. Atkins of this city, shot and almost instantly killed Etta Eckles, at 11 o'clock to night.

Atkins had gone into a resort kept by the woman and according to the story of inmates of the place, had begun to raise a disturbance, when the woman ordered him to be quiet.

Stepping toward him as if to eject him from the place, Atkins pulled his pistol and fired. The bullet entered the woman's heart and in eight minutes she was dead. Atkins is said to have been drinking heavily.

Young Atkins was arrested soon after the tragedy and committed to jail.

GUANO CO. ORGANIZED

The Statesboro Guano Company was organized on Tuesday. The meeting was held in the offices of Dr. Sample and Mr. J. G. Blitch was elected temporary chairman. The following were elected permanent officers: S. F. Olliff, President; W. S. Prestorius, Secretary and Treasurer; S. H. Litchstentine, Vice President and General Manager; and the board of directors, consisting of D. A. Brannen, R. Simmons, L. H. Kingery, D. E. Bird, S. J. Williams, in addition to the officers.

The company proposes to go to work on a building and be ready to manufacture fertilizers for the spring business, and hope to place on the market three thousand tons of high grade guano. The company is worthy the support of the farmers of the county and will no doubt make a success.

Post office Receipts Jump

As an index to the increased business of Statesboro, the receipts of the post office show that the business has doubled in the past twelve months. For the year of 1904 ending November the first, the receipts were $2,100, while for the year 1905 ending November the first, they were $4,200, in round numbers. This is a remarkable showing, and one that proves that business in all lines have greatly increased in the past year. It also shows that the people are more and more using the mails.

Crime would decrease if the Grand Jury could stay in session.

Two-thirds of all the crimes committed are traceable to liquor.

Smith and Russell met in joint debate at Monticello, and the political fur flew.

The people of Russia have forced the Czar to give them a constitutional government.

Rawlings, the man under sentence of death, for the murder of Carter in Lowndes county, continues to make confessions.

While the president was making the journey from New Orleans to Washington on a war vessel, he was in constant communication with the wireless telegraph stations.

Colonel J. A. Braunen is out in flash colors for Congress. So far it looks as if he has no opposition. Of course the primary election is nearly a year off, and there's plenty of time for the other aspirants to come into the arena yet, but whoever they be, they may be sure that Lonnie is going to give them a fine race. He seems to be immensely popular all over the first Congressional District.—Meldrim Guidon.

Bulloch county took second prize at the state fair. That is good. We are proud of our sister county. There is nothing like a little push and enterprise. Let old Effingham follow the example of Bulloch. Let our county resolve to go ahead and not be left behind in this matter, and we are bound to succeed. Can't we get another hustler like Mr. J. R. Miller and start working and never stop until we win our laurels, too, at the next state fair? Yes, we can, if we just say we will, and let nothing stand in the way.—Meldrim Guidon.

NOTICE

Georgia, Bulloch County:
Notice is hereby given to all parties concerned that on the 28th day of November, next, I will apply to the Hon. J. H. Martin, judge of the superior courts of the Oconee circuit, the judge of the middle circuit being disqualified on account of having been counsel for applicant in the same matter, at the court house in Hawkinsville, Ga., at 10 o'clock a. m. for an order to sell for reinvestment at private sale the following tract of land, to wit:
That tract of land located in 1253 district, G. M. of Washington county, Ga., containing 140 acres, more or less, bounded north and east by lands of Anderson Page, south by lands of Paul Bostick and west by lands of Thomas Vaughn, located on the Savannah road two miles below Reidsville, in Washington county, the proceeds to be reinvested in following lands, to wit:
A lot in the town of Statesboro, Ga., known as the Dite Olliff place. Bounded north by lands of Dite Olliff, east by lot of Gus Floyd, south by lot of Mike Brown and west by lands of Jno. Jones, containing ten acres, more or less. Reason for making this application being as follows:
Guardian's residence and minor's residence being in Bulloch county, it is both very inconvenient and expensive to go back and forth to look after said lands and to collect rents therefrom, the investment proposed to be made being for the best interests of said ward, being better investment and netting to said ward more revenue. This Oct. 18, 1905.

The Very Best Goods That Your MONEY CAN BUY

Money is hard to make---It takes time and hard work to make money.

Why shouldn't American citizens be allowed to spend their money where they please? Why should they be thought hard of when they divide their trading up, and buy each article where they can get the very best for their money? This is a free country. A merchant is nothing more than a public servant and his business should be to serve the public, not to dictate or own people. The best "merchant servant" is the merchant who secures for the public such goods as they want at the least possible cost. To this end we work. We strive with all our powers to secure for our customers the very best values the American market affords. We guarantee the price of every article we sell to be the best in the market, or your money back. We have thousands of well pleased customers, but we have capacity for serving many thousand more. If we have never served you, trade one bill with us and you will become our regular customer

Our Goods are Correct--Our Prices are Correct Our Methods are Correct

Our clerks are the best that we can secure and will take special pains in helping you make your selection. Our goods sell themselves—our clerks only show them. We stand behind every word that our clerks tell you about the goods. What they tell about them is our guarantee. The goods must be as represented, or your money back.

Below are a Few of our "Big Values."

School boy Jeans 15c worth 25c
Heavy unbleached homespun, yard wide, three yards to the pound 64c yd
Pepral 10-4 unbleached sheeting worth 28c for 21c

Pearl dress buttons, worth 10c easy, 5c.
Men's suits worth $10.69.95

We would like to give a complete catalogue of our stock, showing the price of every article, but we haven't space here. We want you to know the price of every article in our store. We haven't marked our goods in such a manner that we can squeeze every possible cent of profit out of every customer, but they are marked in plain figures and we have but one price.

We cloth the whole family from head to foot in any quantity goods that you want. Trade one bill with us and you will trade more. Make our store your headquarters while you are in town.

THE TWO GEORGIA FAIRS.

What They Look Like to a Man Who Has Been Up Against Them.

Having just finished the "On the Chutes" of two Georgia fairs we will have something to say about their character and management.

The State Fair held this fall in Atlanta in many respects was the largest, best and most successful exhibition of the resources of the state that has ever been held. The agricultural displays were magnificent, and a credit to any state in the union. This was the verdict of all who saw them.

The fact that Bulloch county was able to carry off second prize at a fair where such magnificent displays were on exhibition is, in itself, a big advertisement for this, the best county in the state of Georgia.

Under ordinary circumstances it would seem that the management and people ought to feel satisfied on the laurels won at this great fair, but when we know that there is no doubt in the world that our exhibit was head and shoulders above anything else at the state fair we are disposed to kick at the loss of the honor that was honestly won—that of first prize. It was our ambition to place the good old county at the very head of all the counties in the state, and we know that the showing made there entitled us to this honor. As a proof of the way the people of Georgia looked upon our display we print below two letters from two of Georgia's best men. These letters are taken out of a number of others, and are samples of the expressions of the best people in the state who made them in person. Men like ex-Governor Northern and others paid to their highest tribute.

Dr. Broughton, in his sermon at the First Baptist church in Atlanta on one Sunday night during the fair, asked the congregation to go out and patronize one fair that was run without gambling, and he told them that "the Bulloch county display alone is a credit to the great state of Georgia."

The feature to be regretted in the management of this great fair was the departure from time honored custom of allowing the prizes awarded on merit, unhampered by influences or favoritism, for, perhaps, the first time in the history of the state the men who employ the judges and on whose pay and time the men who passed on the different exhibits, and under whose influence they were under-wept like a child. It is wrong under whose influence and pay the judges worked, to go in and contest for the prize money themselves. This is what lost Bulloch the first prize at Atlanta.

As a further evidence of the injustice of the verdict, there was a prize of $50 on the best display of Georgia cane syrup in bottles. Bulloch had 600 bottles of the finest syrup ever shown at any fair, more than double the entire fair, yet, the first prize, we are informed, was awarded to a man who didn't have a single bottle in his display to tie the blue ribbon on. That is the measure of justice as dealt out at the Atlanta fair.

We remember clearly that when one of the judges was inspecting some sea island cotton stalks, the owner told him that they had seen better days, that they had been picked at by the crowds during the fair. He turned around and said: "Miller, they haven't picked at you half as much as I have been at this fair." He had previously served on the board to judge the county displays, and had met the writer on the outside of the building one morning, and made this statement: "Miller, you have done a great work, that display is the grandest I ever saw in the south." Taking his two statements together leads us to surmise as to who did the picking at this old man. Who besides the Agricultural Society, who themselves were contesting for the prizes, were in a position to pick at him? Echo answers, who?

But on the whole, our display was a success, a success in spite of all the kicking and dragging of the men whose duty it was to see that we got fair treatment. Robbed as we are of the extra four hundred dollars carried with the blue ribbon, awarded as it were on favoritism to a crowd who did not merit it; yet the people of the great state of Georgia are spouting out in unmeasured terms, and the thousands who saw our display are voting us the distinction of showing the most magnificent display of farm and garden products ever shown from one county in any state in the entire south. No set of prejudiced judges can change this award. We will pay our respects to the "Macon Steal" in another issue. Below will be found a sample of the many letters now in our possession and which were referred to in the opening of this article.

Atlanta, Oct. 28, 1905.
Col. J. R. Miller,
Statesboro, Ga.
My dear Colonel:
I have thought for some time that I would write to congratulate you upon your magnificent exhibit at the state fair.
I am very certain that among the thousands who saw it, no one of them will deem it inferior to any one of the exhibits in any department made at the Atlanta exposition.
I have long known that prizes for state exhibits were largely the result of taste, skill, arrangement and judicious selection.
And I have no criticism of any kind to make of the awards to any county, but I am thoroughly confident that my judgement is the judgement of the majority of those who saw the state display, that Bulloch was unsurpassed by anything that was included within the gates of the state exposition.
I sincerely trust that the decision of the county giving you second place will have no effect in discouraging you from competition in the splendid contests of the future. You have made Bulloch county famous among the industrial forces of the state, and in so doing, you are entitled, not only to the gratitude of your own people, but to the hearty congratulation of all the people of the state.

With sincere regards,
Truly yours,
Jno. Temple Graves.

Atlanta, Ga. Oct. 30, 1905.
Hon. J. R. Miller, Editor,
Statesboro, Ga.
My dear Mr. Miller:
I have been intending to write you a word of congratulation upon your success in winning the $1,200.00 prize for the best agricultural exhibit during the recent fair at Atlanta. You certainly had a magnificent exhibition of field, garden and domestic products, of which every citizen of Georgia should feel proud.
I was a little disappointed, I confess, in your not getting the first prize, but all people do not agree with judges on occasions of this kind, and we must gracefully submit. I went through your great exhibit of resources several times with a number of friends, and I sought you personally, for I wish to show in a slight degree my personal appreciation of your own great services, not alone by word, but by handing you as I beg to do in this letter, a subscription to your paper for the coming year.
With highest personal regards,
Very truly yours,
R. E. PARK,
State Treasurer
