THE TWO GEORGIA FAIRS.

What They Look Like to a Man Who Has Been Up Against Them.

Having just finished the "On the Chutes" of two Georgia fairs we will have something to say about their character and management.

The State Fair held this fall in Atlanta in many respects was the largest, best and most successful exhibition of the resources of the state that has ever been held. The agricultural displays were magnificent, and a credit to any state in the union. This was the verdict of all who saw them.

The fact that Bulloch county was able to carry off second prize at a fair where such magnificent displays were on exhibition is, in itself, a big advertisement for this, the best county in the state of Georgia.

Under ordinary circumstances it would seem that the management and people ought to feel satisfied on the laurels won at this great fair, but when we know that there is no doubt in the world that our exhibit was head and shoulders above anything else at the state fair we are disposed to kick at the loss of the honor that was honestly won—that of first prize. It was our ambition to place the good old county at the very head of all the counties in the state, and we know that the showing made there entitled us to this honor. As a proof of the way the people of Georgia looked upon our display we print below two letters from two of Georgia's best men. These letters are taken out of a number of others, and are samples of the expressions of the best people in the state who made them in person. Men like ex-Governor Northern and others paid to their highest tribute.

Dr. Broughton, in his sermon at the First Baptist church in Atlanta on one Sunday night during the fair, asked the congregation to go out and patronize one fair that was run without gambling, and he told them that "the Bulloch county display alone is a credit to the great state of Georgia."

The feature to be regretted in the management of this great fair was the departure from time honored custom of allowing the prizes awarded on merit, unhampered by influences or favoritism, for, perhaps, the first time in the history of the state the men who employ the judges and on whose pay and time the men who passed on the different exhibits, and under whose influence they were under-

For Judge of Middle Circuit.

To the Voters of the Middle Circuit: I think it proper at this time to announce the fact that I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Judge of the Circuit. For eight years, I served the people of the Circuit as Solicitor General, endeavoring at all times to discharge the duties of that office with fairness, impartiality and courtesy. Upon the promotion of Judge Evans to the bench of our Supreme Court I was an unopposed candidate before the people for the Judge-Ship to fill out his unexpired term of two years. My unanimous election to this office necessitated a complete abandonment of my law practice. I submit that I am fairly entitled to at least a full term, if in your judgment I have made an efficient and impartial Judge. On that subject of course I can say nothing on my own behalf, except that I have labored earnestly in performing every duty of the office, impartially and to render efficient service to the people. Whether I have succeeded or not others must say. I feel, I am fairly entitled to an endorsement of my administration and of the record.

B. F. Rowlings

For County Treasurer

To the voters of Bulloch County: I hereby announce my candidacy for county treasurer, subject to the ensuing democratic primary; and, if elected, I promise to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability as hereafter. I have held the office for two terms and my books have been found accurate at all times. You all know my affliction and your support will be greatly appreciated.

W. W. DeLoach,

For Tax Receiver

To the voters of Bulloch County: I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Tax Receiver of Bulloch county, subject to the democratic primary, and, if elected, I promise to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

J. G. Jones,

For Tax Collector

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the democratic nomination, for tax collector of Bulloch county at the next election. I am a Bulloch county boy, whose life is known to every citizen of the county. If you deem me upright and entitled to the office, I will heartily appreciate your support and will endeavor to give you the best of my ability.

S. C. Allen.

For Tax Receiver

The friends of Mr. T. O. Akins hereby announce him for receiver of tax returns subject to the ensuing democratic primary, and respectfully ask for him the support of his fellow citizens.

Early Risers

wept like a child. It is wrong under whose influence and pay the judges worked, to go in and contest for the prize money themselves. This is what lost Bulloch the first prize at Atlanta.

As a further evidence of the injustice of the verdict, there was a prize of $50 on the best display of Georgia cane syrup in bottles. The Bulloch had 600 bottles of the finest syrup ever shown at any fair, more than double the entire fair, yet, the first prize, we are informed, was awarded to a man who didn't have a single bottle in his display to tie the blue ribbon on. That is the measure of justice as dealt out at the Atlanta fair.

We remember clearly that when one of the judges was inspecting some sea island cotton stalks, the owner told him that they had seen better days, that they had been picked at by the crowds during the fair. He turned around and said: "Miller, they haven't picked at you half as much as I have been at this fair." He had previously served on the board to judge the county displays, and had met the writer on the outside of the building one morning, and made this statement: "Miller, you have done a great work, that display is the grandest I ever saw in the south." Taking his two statements together leads us to surmise as to who did the picking at this old man. Who besides the Agricultural Society, who themselves were contesting for the prizes, were in a position to pick at him? Echo answers, who?

But on the whole, our display was a success, a success in spite of all the kicking and dragging of the men whose duty it was to see that we got fair treatment. Robbed as we are of the extra four hundred dollars carried with the blue ribbon, awarded as it were on favoritism to a crowd who did not merit it; yet the people of the great state of Georgia are spunking out in unmeasured terms, and the thousands who saw our display are voting us the distinction of showing the most magnificent display of farm and garden products ever shown from one county in any state in the entire south. No set of prejudiced judges can change this award. We will pay our respects to the "Macon Steal" in another issue. Below will be found a sample of the many letters now in our possession and which were referred to in the opening of this article.

Atlanta, Oct. 28, 1905.
Col. J. R. Miller,
Statesboro, Ga.

My dear Colonel:
I have thought for some time that I would write to congratulate you upon your magnificent exhibit at the state fair.

I am very certain that among the thousands who saw it, no one of them will deem it inferior to any one of the exhibits in any department made at the Atlanta exposition.

I have long known that prizes for state exhibits were largely the result of taste, skill, arrangement and judicious selection.

And I have no criticism of any kind to make of the awards to any county, but I am thoroughly confident that my judgement is the judgement of the majority of those who saw the state displays, that Bulloch was unsurpassed by anything that was included within the gates of the state exposition.

I sincerely trust that the decision of the county giving you second place will have no effect in discouraging you from competition in the splendid contests of the future. You have made Bulloch county famous among the industrial forces of the state, and in so doing, you are entitled, not only to the gratitude of your own people, but to the hearty congratulation of all the people of the state.

With sincere regards,
Truly yours,
Jno. Temple Graves.

Atlanta, Ga. Oct. 30, 1905.
Hon. J. R. Miller, Editor,
Statesboro, Ga.

My dear Mr. Miller:
I have been intending to write you a word of congratulation upon your success in winning the $1,200.00 prize for the best agricultural exhibit during the recent fair at Atlanta. You certainly had a magnificent exhibition of field, garden and domestic products, of which every citizen of Georgia should feel proud.

I was a little disappointed, I confess, in your not getting the first prize, but all people do not agree with judges on occasions of this kind, and we must gracefully submit. I went through your great exhibit of resources several times with a number of friends, and I sought you personally, for I wish to show in a slight degree my personal appreciation of your own great services, not alone by word, but by handing you as I beg to do in this letter, a subscription to your paper for the coming year.

With highest personal regards,
Very truly yours,
R. E. PARK,
State Treasurer

THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.
TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

We take it that even the Japs will now admit that "the illustrious ancestors" of Mr. Roosevelt must have something on those of the Milado, says the Charleston News and Courier.

Judge Simeon E. Baldwin, of New Haven, Conn., suggests that convicts employed in public road work be permitted to wear masks. Is the judge trying to popularize in America one of Dunas's greatest strokes in fiction? Inquires the New York Tribune.

All told, Japan has raised about $50,000,000 for carrying on the late war. With allowance for the difference in wages and population this is equivalent to our raising about $9,000,000,000. Could we have done that as easily as the Japanese have? asks the Providence Journal.

What the kings, emperors and other rulers cabled to Roosevelt for praise of his remarkable peace victory doesn't count for much. Their congratulations were diplomatically perfunctory. The genuine emotion of the world of what he has accomplished must be looked for in the foreign press. That more nearly voices intelligent and honest public opinion. Therefore it is immensely satisfactory to every true American to note the general and hearty unanimity of applause which echoes today from all corners of the earth. Theodore Roosevelt is in very truth the great man of the hour, concludes the Terr Haute Tribune.

In their wildest dreams the Japanese could not have expected to win so much as they have in so short a time, comments the New York Evening Post. The Russian terror is removed from their nation for at least a generation. They have Korea, the Liaoting peninsula, Port Arthur and Dalian; they have first call upon the friendship and the trade of China; they have leaped forth before the world as a people splendidly endowed for the arts, whether of war or peace. And in nothing, we firmly believe, will the historian see clearer proof of their greatness than in their making peace as they have done. We find it difficult to use the word "magnanimity." In this connection, To demand a huge indemnity and reluctantly to abandon it has not the air of chivalrous consideration for the vanquished.

But that the Japanese, after long weighing the chances and scanning the future, should have elected peace even at a large abatement from their wishes and hopes, testifies strongly to their possession of that great quality, moderation, which is high among the virtues, whether of men or nations.

Something more than patriotism must be found to account for the failure of M. Santos-Dumont to startle the native New Yorkers while an Ohio balloonist is able to set the town ablaze with excitement in one flight over the Tenderloin sky-scramers. With his dirigible machine Mr. Knaebush appears to be able to deliver the best goods that can be had in this line, while the Frenchman astonished people only by his sudden homeward flights (on ocean steamers) when the faith of Americans in ultimately easy aerial navigation for the masses was not proved by ready cash for his expensive experiments. On his own admissions, however, continues the New York Press, the American scientist is far from a solution of the age-old problem on which progress is so slowly made under enormous difficulties. He has a balloon that he can steer—when a sailing breeze does not blow. The successful "airship" (why do people like the word better than balloon?) will not balk when the wind is high. Science evidently has not yet lifted the balloon much beyond the dignity of a circus freak, and must make long and painful strides to reach the realization of Mr. John Jacob Astor's dream of an automobile that will literally fly.

HORROR IN ODESSA

Corpses Thickly Strew the Streets of Russian City.

THOUSANDS ARE KILLED

One Report Estimates That Five Thousand People Have Fallen Victim to Rage of Cossacks During Riots.

Advices from Odessa, Russia, state that anarchy is rampant in that city. Killing and plundering by the bands formed of hundreds of loyalists continued Thursday morning. Attacks on the Jews are incessant.

The nights are made hideous, bodies of "loyalists," with whom the police are fraternizing, marching through the principal streets, bearing national flags, portraits of the emperor and icons, singing the national hymn, smashing everything in their way and looting shops and houses.

Hospital wagons pass through the streets incessantly, carrying off the killed, wounded and mutilated. The population is panic-stricken. The city rings with the reports of rifle and revolver, and occasionally a volley is fired. Every house and tenement is looted and barred. The infantry patrols are doing their duty perfunctorily, declining to fire on the mobs unless they themselves are attacked.

The Cossacks are said to have looted over a hundred men by bombs and shots from windows. Cossack patrols carry carbines, and have their fingers on the triggers. The streets are absolutely unsafe for civilians.

The casualties Wednesday are believed to have amounted to 5,000 killed and wounded.

In the Jewish quarters bodies strewn on the streets and sidewalks. Jewish women and children were strangled and lacked to pieces in the streets where the mobs gained the upper hand.

The military is placing a hundred men in the streets. The Russian terror is removed from their nation for at least a generation. They have Korea, the Liaoting peninsula, Port Arthur and Dalian; they have first call upon the friendship and the trade of China; they have leaped forth before the world as a people splendidly endowed for the arts, whether of war or peace. And in nothing, we firmly believe, will the historian see clearer proof of their greatness than in their making peace as they have done. We find it difficult to use the word "magnanimity." In this connection, To demand a huge indemnity and reluctantly to abandon it has not the air of chivalrous consideration for the vanquished.

But that the Japanese, after long weighing the chances and scanning the future, should have elected peace even at a large abatement from their wishes and hopes, testifies strongly to their possession of that great quality, moderation, which is high among the virtues, whether of men or nations.

Something more than patriotism must be found to account for the failure of M. Santos-Dumont to startle the native New Yorkers while an Ohio balloonist is able to set the town ablaze with excitement in one flight over the Tenderloin sky-scramers. With his dirigible machine Mr. Knaebush appears to be able to deliver the best goods that can be had in this line, while the Frenchman astonished people only by his sudden homeward flights (on ocean steamers) when the faith of Americans in ultimately easy aerial navigation for the masses was not proved by ready cash for his expensive experiments. # A PROCLAMATION Issued by President Roosevelt, Designating November Thirtieth as Thanksgiving Day.

President Roosevelt, Thursday, issued his proclamation naming November 29 as a day for Thanksgiving. The proclamation is as follows:

"When nearly three centuries ago the first settlers came to the country which has now become this republic, they found not only hardship, but terrible risk to their lives. In those grim years the custom grew of setting apart one day in each year for a special service of thanksgiving to the Almighty for preserving the people throughout the changing seasons.

"The custom has now become national and hallowed by immemorial usage. We live in easier and more plentiful times than our forefathers, the men who with rugged strength faced the rugged days; and yet the dangers to national life are quite as great now as at any previous time in our history. It is eminently fitting that once a year our people should set apart a day for praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of Good, and at the same time that they express their thankfulness for the abundant mercies received, should manfully acknowledge their shortcomings and pledge themselves solemnly and in good faith to strive to overcome them.

"During the past year we have been blessed with bountiful crops. Our business prosperity has been great. No other people has ever stood on as high a level of material well being as ours stands now. We are not threatened by foes from without. The foes from whom we should pray to be delivered are our own passions, appetites and follies; and against these there is always need that we should war.

"Therefore, I now set apart Thursday, the 30th day of this November, as a day of thanksgiving for the past and of prayer for the future, and on that day I ask that throughout the land the people gather in their homes and places of worship, and in rendering thanks unto the Most High for the manifold blessings of the past year consecrate themselves to a life of cleanliness, honor and wisdom, so that this nation may do its allotted work of the earth in a manner worthy of those who founded it and of those who preserved it.

"In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this second of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and five, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and thirtieth.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
"By the President: Ellihu Root, Secretary of State."

BOXER WORK BEGUN

American Missionaries Victims of a Chinese Mob.

LOOT LIENCHOW MISSION

News of Disturbance Comes from Hong Kong—Names of Killed Furnished in Dispatch from New York City.

Advices from Hong Kong, China, state that five American missionaries have, it is believed, been murdered at Lienchow. Dr. Eleanor Chestnut, Mrs. C. E. Machie and child and Mr. and Mrs. Pearle are the victims of the disturbance at the Lienchow mission.

Lienchow is a town of 12,000 people, situated in the western portion of the province of Kiang Tung, at the head of the gulf of Tonk Kiang, not far from the treaty port of Pakhoi. A New York dispatch says: Mrs. Machie was the wife of Dr. Charles R. Machie, of Ohio. She was Miss Ella M. Wood, of Philadelphia. They had a daughter, Elsie, 15 years old. Dr. and Mrs. Machie have been stationed at Lienchow since 1889.

Dr. Eleanor Chestnut had no home in this country. She was appointed a missionary in 1883. John Rogers Pearle was a new missionary, who sailed from this country last August. He was born in New Bloomfield, Pa., in 1879. He was educated at the Lafayette college and at Princeton theological seminary. He married Miss Gillespie of Port Deposit, Md., last summer before going to China in August.

In addition to four church buildings, the Lienchow mission, which has 207 native Christians on its roll, has three Sunday schools and three establishments for secular education, one of which is a boarding school with nineteen pupils. It also supports a hospital and a dispensary.

HERESY CHARGE IS MADE

Unjustified and Abusive Attempt to Discount Standing of Prominent Methodist Minister.

Charges of heresy have been presented against the Rev. H. S. Bradley, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, in Atlanta, formerly a professor in Emory college, and well known not only in the state, but throughout the south, as a minister and writer of great ability.

After a full investigation of the charges, a committee or board of inquiry, consisting of three Atlanta Methodist ministers, has fully exonerated Dr. Bradley with a recommendation that no action in the matter.

These charges came at a great surprise not only to the members of the Methodist church, but to the public at large, who regard Dr. Bradley as one of the brainiest men and one of the most profound thinkers in the ministry.

The committee's action throws the whole matter into the annual North Georgia Methodist conference, which is to meet at Newnan, Ga., on the 23d of this month, at which place and time Rev. N. Snow, pastor of an Atlanta church, who has preferred the charges against Dr. Bradley, will ask the conference to give him a new committee of investigation, as he declares the evidence before the committee was sufficient to justify a trial for heresy.

The main feature of the charge appears to be on the ground of Dr. Bradley's views on the death of Christ. It is claimed by Snow that Dr. Bradley preaches and affirms that the death of Christ was not necessary to the reconciliation of God to man. Rev. Snow says that five witnesses testified to the truth of this charge and that Dr. Bradley admitted it.

WAS NOT IN THE "TRADE."
Convicted Murderer, J. G. Rawlings Makes Another Confession.
J. G. Rawlings, in the Valdosta Georgia jail, has made a confession of hiring Alf Moore to kill W. L. Carter, but he says that the killing of the children was not in the "trade." He says that he particularly cautioned the negro not to harm the children.

Rawlings, Joe Bently and Mitchell Johnson made a trade with Alf Moore to do the bloody work, and that Joe Bently and Alf Moore wanted to kill Carter on Sunday night before, but that they could not get a buggy at Habiba to go to Carter's house. He says they tried to hire a buggy, but that the liverman would not hire it to them unless they would tell him where they were going.

Rawlings says that his confession came without the knowledge of his lawyers, as he had reached the place where he could not keep quiet any longer. He says that he is thoroughly indifferent to the decision of the supreme court so far as he is concerned, but he wants his sons saved.

WHALERS CAUGHT IN ICE.

Eleven whaling vessels, comprising almost the entire fleet which sailed from San Francisco have been caught in the Arctic ocean.

They will not be able to get out until next July or August, and in the meantime their crews of 440 men must face the hardships of a winter in the north.

Another startling news is conveyed in a telegram to Lewis Anderson and Ford & Co., San Francisco.

The Statesboro News

(INCORPORATED.)

Statesboro, Ga., Nov. 7, 1905

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Entered at Statesboro, Ga., Post Office as second class mail matter.

Five thousand Smiths attended Smith day at the Macon fair, and one pair of Smiths got married.

The grafters are catching it in the neck these days, and probably they have seen their big time.

If the scheme of good roads from Statesboro to Savannah is carried out we fear the railroads will have to go out of business.

The most popular man now, is the one who is meeting his notes promptly at the bank.

Heart is making it lively for the Tammany bosses in the race for mayor of greater New York. The election comes off next Tuesday.

The Lyons Progress never fails to boom its town-Lyons, and it is doing much to attract attention to the new county of Toombs. Brother Moore is up-to-date.

And the Major has been down to Savannah and delivered the vote of Bulloch county to one of Savannah's candidates for congress. Is there no way to appease the Major's vanity?

The row in Atlanta between the Smith and Howell forces may result in counting Fulton's delegates out in the convention. This would be dreadful.

Russia is enjoying her new found liberty by reveling in a deluge of blood and pillage. Probably the Czar knew his crowd better than other people.

The Morning News persists in saying that it is too early to talk about the race for congress, but nevertheless, it takes a delight in bringing up the question, when it looks favorable to the expected Savannah candidate.

Help The Old Folks

We rush along through life and talk about the deeds of heroism, the praises of the old soldier, and such things and forget that right around us are old and poor folks who need help, and we are waiting for somebody else to do it. One ounce of genuine help while we live, is worth ten pounds of praise after we are dead. The winter is coming on, and the day of national thanksgiving will soon be here, and while we are rejoicing with full barns and money in the bank, let us remember the less fortunate, and make a division of our wealth while we live. No use to tell you who are the needy ones, for you know. The poor we have with us always.

The Automobiles Are Here.

A few weeks ago, Mr. L. F. Davis of our city brought up from Savannah the first automobile, and created a sensation among the folks and the mules and horses as well, as he drove the machine through the streets. One evening last week two men arrived from Savannah, each driving one of the things, usually called "red devils" and the run from Savannah in about five hours, notwithstanding the bad roads enroute.

It is said that the horses and mules they met along the way gave them all the road, and in several cases took to the woods, and the wrecks of several buggies and wagons are to be seen by the road side.

At one place they passed, the people in the house thought a great storm was coming as the roar of the machine was heard.

One of the troubles of having good roads is that the autos will begin to take the place of the horse and mule, but it is going to come anyway. In a few years people will be hauling cotton and other produce to market in these machines, and save the forage and corn that stock now eat. One thing calls for another, and as they have begun talking through the air without any wires, over land and sea, we are prepared to see anything come along. If some genius will discover a plan whereby a fellow can pay his debts easier, he will take the premium.

Metter High School Visited.

It was my happy lot to visit the little town of Metter last week, and while there had the privilege of spending the day at the high school which is under the supervision of my old friend, Mr. Hamlin Etheredge.

The fact that Metter is a young town would impress one with its probable insignificance, but I found it a full grown town, filled with wide awake progressive people. The fact that I had known the principal of the school from childhood, naturally added to my interest in the school. This, with the fact that I have occupied the position of an educator for some years, caused me to spend a whole day at the school where I observed the work with almost personal interest.

One of the first things that attracted my attention was the utter lack of correspondence between the school house and the other houses of the town, but Mr. Etheredge apologetically informed me that a fine new school building is no longer a matter of probability, but as much of a surety as if its massive walls and majestic tower already stood before us. I was doubly impressed with the need of a better building when I observed the work being done, also the many bright boys and girls of the school.

To say that the work is being nobly done would be lightly putting it. The first thing that struck me was the splendid discipline. Very few schools can boast of more perfect order. As much can be said of the recitations. Every lesson was thoroughly learned and recited with ease with only a few exceptions ever lesson was perfect.

The primary room is indeed a place of wonder. Miss Hollingsworth is to be congratulated upon the wonderful manner of managing the little ones. The thing that struck me more forcibly was that the pupils are not ruled by any harsh means but by the strong cord of love. I have never seen a more affectionate relation between pupils and teachers. The teachers do not appear as task masters, but as intimate friends whose duty it is to give the pupils something worth receiving.

From my observation I can truthfully say I never saw more thoroughness and enthusiasm exhibited by teachers and pupils, and if the people of Metter will pardon a word of advice from a stranger, I should just like to say, get your new building at once and see to what a high standard your teachers can take your school.

The music department is in charge of Miss Ruby Fenton who is doing excellent work, all ex-

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

press themselves as being highly pleased with her.

A more casual observer might have overlooked one other marked feature of all the teachers, and that is the fact that they make the pupils do the work themselves. The teachers do not occupy the position as mere knowledge givers, but knowledge drawers. Each pupil leaves the recitation bench with the satisfaction of having accomplished something himself, and also recognizing the teacher as being the one that opened the way. All success in teaching depends upon the teacher's power to cause a child to do that which he is unable to do alone. It is then clear that more information giving is not educating.

To the people of Metter and the county generally: I return my thanks for your courtesy shown me, and should yet ever see fit to visit our good old Palmetto state it will be returned.

Respectfully,
A. J. ASBELL,
Johnston, S. C.

In Memoriam.

Again the grim reaper, Death, has visited our church and removed from its ranks our much loved sister, Mrs. Bessie McCroan.

Sister McCroan was born January 24th 1861 and united with this church by an experience of grace and baptism July 18, 1891 under the Pastorate of Rev. Wm. Hursey.

She was happily married to Mr. Reiser McCroan on Oct. 23, 1904. She was spared for a short time to enjoy the pleasure of her new home. She died on Sept. 19, 1905. She was just in the prime of life. It is so true that "In the midst of life we are in death." She leaves an infant son, a husband, mother, father, two brothers, three sisters and a host of friends to mourn her loss. But we bow in humble submission to our Heavenly Father's will, knowing "He doeth all things well" and never makes any mistakes. She was an affectionate wife and daughter, a loving sister, a kind friend, loved by all who knew her.

We commend all the bereaved to our Heavenly Father's care. May His grace sustain and comfort them in this hour of sad bereavement.

Farwell Bessie, we sadly miss thee; Miss thee with an aching heart; But in Heaven we hope to meet thee, Where we never more shall part.

CALLS ANSWERED PROMPTLY

Day and Night

Will Make Big Improvement.

A party of Central Railroad officials were in the city on Friday measuring the grounds and looking up plans for a handsome passenger depot for this place. The party was composed of the following gentlemen:

G. L. Candler, superintendent; W. D. Beyer, auditor; C. H. Banks, auditor of disbursements; E. O. Gillican, traveling auditor; B. R. Burch, supervisor of bridges and buildings, and M. C. Tarver, supervisor of roadway.

The party was traveling in Superintendent Candler's private car and expressed themselves highly pleased with our town and the section through which the B. & P. branch of the Central runs.

They Whipped Him.

Last Saturday night about ten o'clock, a negro by name of Tom Parriah went to the house of Mrs. Barnes living in West Statesboro and knocked on the door, and when she did, the negro grabbed her around the body, and she screamed and the negro ran out.

He was recognized by a white man crossing the street at the time, and was later caught and given a sound flogging.

Mrs. Barnes is a widow living alone with her little children, and the people were incensed at his conduct, and could hardly believe his story, which was to the effect that he had not been in town in several years and thought his aunt resided at the house.

His statement may have been true, but it is safe to say that Tom will be more particular the next time he goes to a strange house.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitution remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Will Have Automobile Line.

Statesboro was treated with a visit from a party of gentlemen from Savannah on Tuesday afternoon. Those gentlemen came through the country in two large automobiles. The purpose of the trip, we learn, was to inspect the roads to see if it will be practical to construct an automobile line between Savannah and Statesboro. The party left Savannah at 2:00 p. m. and arrived in Statesboro at 5:00 p. m., just three and a half hours on the trip of fifty-two miles.

They expressed themselves as being surprised at the good condition of the roads already. They believe that it will be practical to place gravel on the road between here and that city and constitute a first class driveway.

It will be a source of pleasure to the hundreds of people in that city who have automobiles to drive through to Statesboro and return the same day.

Savannah is holding out inducements to northern tourists to spend the winter in Savannah. Those people most all own their own machines, and a driveway from Savannah to Statesboro would bring lots of them here, then, it would be possible for some of them to take up quarters in Statesboro. The driveway would furnish us much inducement at this end of the line as at the other. We hope to see this put into operation.

Bulloch may be asked to contribute something towards the completion of this line, and it is much as we have as much to gain by its construction as anyone else we hope that it will be considered in a favorable light. Every mile of property along the line or adjacent to it would soon double in value.

Will Sell Cotton at Auction.

On next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, will be sold to the highest bidder on the streets of Statesboro the bale of sea island cotton that won $170.00 at two Georgia fairs. Tied to this bale will be all the blue ribbons that it won at the two fairs.

The bale that produced the seed from which this bale was grown was sold by Messrs. W. W. Gordon & Co. on the Savannah market last season at fifty-five cents per pound. The present bale is grown on land that is worth $1000 per acre and bloomed beneath electric lights. Not a single lock of this bale ever had a drop of rain to fall upon it, and it was ginned and prepared by Mr. Nick Foss, the best expert sea island cotton ginner in southeast Georgia. It was examined by an expert cotton man in Atlanta when it had competition from the sea islands 140 miles south of here, and pronounced it to be the best bale of cotton he ever saw, the largest and strongest staple, with a silk strand not often seen in cotton raised in this section.

Automobile Craze Next.

We feel it in the air. The next craze to strike this place will be automobile craze. Some would say: "They are so high that very few can own them." You must remember that they are selling them already on the extortion plan as the negro put in when he bought on the installment plan, and soon every little irresponsible fellow who can raise six or eight dollars for the cash payment will be sporting an automobile around Statesboro, making people's horses run away.

The average horse even in the cities where hundreds of them are seen every day is as scared of these things as they would be of the devil himself, and when they get into the hands of the average kid around a town this size, then, harvest of disaster will be full.

Young Lady's Death.

On Monday afternoon, at the home of her father, about twelve miles west of Statesboro, Miss Lize Brannen passed peacefully into the unknown beyond, after an illness of only a few weeks with that dreaded disease, consumption. The funeral was held on Tuesday, Rev. G. G. N. Macdonell of the Statesboro Methodist church conducted the services in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, of the deceased. Miss Brannen was a member of the Methodist church at this place, she had been united recently in the office of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. here, and during her stay in the City made many friends, all of whom sincerely regret the news of her death. It is reported that she was engaged to be married to a gentleman from Florida next spring. Her two sisters, Mrs. Besenger of Florida and Mrs. Tomb of Savannah were present at the funeral.

Infants Death.

On Friday of last week the spirit of little Midge, the seven-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Parrish took its flight. The little one was the light of the home of its fond parents, and its death is a sad blow. It had only been ill for a short time. The interment was made on Saturday in the town cemetery.

Nature Needs But Little.

Nature needs only a little Early Riser now and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active, and the system free from bile, headaches, constipation, etc. The famous little pills "Early Riser" are pleasant in effect and perfect in action. They never gripe or sicken, but tone and strengthen the liver and kidneys. Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Rather Shady Tactics.

A reform candidate should pursue reform methods. The recent struggle for the control of Fulton county executive committee and the methods resorted to by Mr. Hoke Smith's faction reminds us that "all is not gold that glitters."

The struggle for the election of the executive committee was simply a beginning of the great struggle that is to be felt in every county in the state. Each side wanted to control the newly elected committee and had out a ticket. The meeting was called at the superior court room at 7:30 p. m., and at a little after 8:00 o'clock, just four hours before the meeting time, it is alleged that supporters of Mr. Hoke Smith hurried every bum that could be raked and scraped in a city as large as Atlanta, and blocked them up against the court room door, and these men who were there to occupy space, were drenched from time to time with mean whiskey. They finally got so boisterous that the door was broken in, and several hours before the time set for the meeting the small room was filled with this class.

In addition to the mob referred to, it is also reported that a full carload of Confederate Veterans were hauled in from the Confederate Veterans' home, and they, too, were drenched with had liquor. A second carload was started, but the superintendent of the home stopped this.

It was indeed a sad sight to see designing politicians hurdling these old heroes up for election purposes like so many negroes, and drenching them with whiskey. Taking advantage of their weakness to carry a point was a step that a man claiming a divine call should not resort to. True, they had their right to participate, but out of respect to the great cause for which they once fought they should have been allowed to have walked up and cast their ballot as other people did.

But it seems that the Smith crowd got it in the neck after all. When the chairman of the meeting arrived, he saw two-thirds of the crowd crowded out, and promptly and properly called every one to go out in front of the building and hold it on the square where all could get a square deal and have an opportunity to participate. The Smith crowd refused to take part in the monster meeting held on the outside and remained inside and elected a committee of their own, eleven of which have refused to serve, for the reason that they consider the big meeting presided over by the regular chairman the regular democratic meeting. The secretary of the state executive committee has announced that the committee elected on the outside will be the one recognized by the state committee. This was a big victory for Howell.

The meeting in the court room is said to have been composed of about three hundred, and the one on the outside more than one thousand. If Mr. Hoke Smith is compelled to adopt such methods in his home town in an effort to pack a meeting he seems to have little claims on the good people of the state. We have not heard of him posing as "The Reform Candidate" since the Atlanta meeting of which we have just described.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russian-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by all druggists.

Every Ounce You Eat.

Every ounce of food you eat that fails to digest does a pound of harm. It turns the entire meal into poison. This not only deprives the blood of the necessary tissue-building material, but it poisons it. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant. It digests the food regardless of the condition of the stomach. It allows that organ to rest and get strong again. Relieves Belching, Heart Burn, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Palpitation of the Heart, etc. W. H. Ellis.

Skating Craze Becomes Chronic.

Statesboro seems to be in the grasp of a regular craze on the skating question. It has reached the point that a large crowd will gather every night on the walk surrounding the court house, and until a late hour make the town hideous with the terrible racket they put up. The thing has reached the point where it should be curbed.

Bilious Attack Quickly Cured.

A few weeks ago I had a bilious attack that was severe I was not able to go to the office for two days. Failing to get relief from my family physician's treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man. —H. C. Bailey, Editor of the News, Chapin, S. C. These tablets are for sale by all druggists.
