Sea Island Growers Organize.

Meeting at Court House On Saturday Elects Delegates to Valdosta Convention and Prepare to Fight the Speculators

Owing to an error in the notice of the meeting there was not as large a crowd of Sea Island Cotton Growers out to the meeting on Saturday as was expected, but there was a representative crowd present from all sections of the county.

Mr. P. R. McElveen was elected chairman and J. R. Miller secretary. Hon. A. M. Deal was present and in a few well chosen remarks stated the object of the meeting. Chairman McElveen and Mr. R. Simmons each made a short talk. After some discussion the following delegates were elected to the convention which will meet in Valdosta tomorrow: R. Simmons, A. M. Deal and C. B. Aaron.

There was considerable discussion as to the size of the present crop in this county, and the following is about the gist of the information obtained from those in attendance from the various sections of the county:

There is less cotton in the fields now than there was the first day of January of last season; in fact, picking is reported to be practically over, and the ginners' present report that there is very little now being offered at the various gins, in the fact that gins are much clearer of cotton than they were a month later last season. Mr. Simmons, who, by the way, is authority, stated that there was a shortage up to the present time as compared with last season in the Statesboro market of at least 2,500 bales of sea island cotton. That means that up to the present the receipts here, which is the biggest inland sea island cotton market in the world, are at least 80 per cent reduced as compared with the same time last season, and the further fact that there is much less to draw from than last season makes a still greater shortage stare us in the face.

The object of the Valdosta meeting, we understand, is to promote a better grade of cotton and a reduction in the acreage along the same lines as accomplished by the short cotton growers of the south. It will be very probable that some action will be taken, too, to hold as much of the present crop of the market as possible.

ANOTHER STORE OPEN
Mr. J. Freidman of Savannah is in town with a stock of Goods, and has leased the store formerly occupied by Messrs Turner-Gilson Co. He will begin to move in today. Thus the list grows.

Drug Store Changes Hands

On yesterday morning Mr. S. J. Crouch bought out the Drug business of Messrs Karl E. Watson & Co. of this place. Mr. Crouch formerly owned this business, having sold it to Messrs Watson & Co. last year. We have not learned what business Mr. Watson will engage in. The business will change hands December 1st.

A Dangerous Community.
It is a disastrous calamity when you lose your health, because indigestion and constipation have a way of it away. Prompt relief can be had by taking New Life Pills. They build up the digestive organs, and cure the indigestion, colic, constipation, and are sold at W. H. Ellis drug store.

Mr. Solomon Hains Is Dead.

One day during the past week Mr. Solomon Hains died at his home near Enal. We failed to learn the particulars of Mr. Hains' death though it is known that he had been in failing health for several years. The deceased was about sixty years old and leaves many friends and relatives to mourn his departure. He at one time served as coroner of Bulloch county.

Miss Mary Gould Is No More.

On Thursday night about ten o'clock Miss Mary Gould breathed her last at the home of her brother, Mr. W. E. Gould, on East Main St. The deceased had been a sufferer from consumption for some time, but her death was not expected so early. She had returned from a visit to friends in the country earlier in the week and while her condition was looked upon as not being encouraging yet it was not thought to be serious. The remains were interred at the family burial grounds near the Roberts mill on Friday afternoon, a large crowd of friends and relatives being present to pay to her memory their tribute of respect. Rev. J. S. McLemore conducted the services. While well advanced in life Miss Gould had never married. She was a devout member of the Roman Catholic church, and it was in the absence of a priest that Mr. McLemore officiated at the funeral.

Griner Has Big Sale

The old hosiery sale of Messrs. C. B. Griner & Co., a page ad in the News announcing it on Friday, has been all the rage in Statesboro for the past two days.

A newspaper reporter called yesterday morning to know if there was anything in the way of an advertisement they would like to have insert in our ten page edition of this morning. Mr. Griner caught his breath while tying up a bundle of dry goods for a customer long enough to say: "Too busy to write an advertisement; tell them we're worked down, never had such a sale before. Your advertisement paid us better than it has ever done before, and they have always paid."

We will have a number of other bargain sales to follow between now and Christmas, will send for you as soon as I can catch my breath." At this juncture another customer jabbed him in the short ribs and said he was waiting to be waited on.

Will build Handsome Residence

We learn that Mr. J. P. Williams has sold the old building on his lot on South Main street, the same to be removed at an early day to make room for a modern residence structure in the near future. It is known that Mr. Williams has intended to build himself a handsome home on his lot here for some time, and it will be good news to learn that he has taken definite steps to start the same.

Must Have New Post Office Building

We are informed by Postmaster Rignold that the post office department has authorized him to lease a larger and better building for the accommodation of Uncle Sam's business in Statesboro. We learn that $40 per month is the limit placed on the new location.

In view of the large increase in business done through this office it will only be a short time before the Statesboro post office will be placed in the second class list, it now being third. The receipts for the month of October are by far the largest ever shown in the history of the office, and the receipts of the quarter ending Sept. 30th were away ahead of anything ever known in any three months previous.

When the office has been placed in the second class list, then we understand that we can get through an appropriation for a building in Statesboro. This will probably be only a short while, and when it does come, let every man put his shoulder to the wheel and get what we need now—a first class post office building.

Charley Brannen Crosses The River

On Saturday night the soul of Mr. Charles U. Brannen was called to its Creator. The deceased had been a sufferer with the fever for several weeks, and his death had been expected for the past week. The remains were interred at The Brannen Cemetery about six miles West of Statesboro on Sunday afternoon. Rev. G. N. MacDonell of the Methodist church conducted the funeral services in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives. The deceased leaves a wife and several children.

The circumstances surrounding the death are made peculiarly sad by reason of the fact that his parents have now resting upon their shoulders troubles brought on by a tragedy last summer in which two of their sons were implicated, one of them being the deceased himself, who was acquitted of the charge of the murder of young Ellis. His brother, Erasmus, however, failed to share the fortunes of the elder brother and is now under a sentence of life imprisonment. He has been accorded a new trial and his friends hope to clear him before the next jury. He was carried to the bedside of his dying brother under guard of the sheriff several times and was also taken to the home on Sunday and to the funeral Sunday afternoon. In the case of the parents of these two young men troubles come thick and fast, and they have the sympathy of a large circle of friends throughout the country.

Thanksgiving Services.

There will be special services at the Baptist church on Thanksgiving day at 10:30 o'clock a. m. An appropriate program will be arranged. All members of the church, as well as the public generally, are invited to be present. At this meeting the regular offering for the orphans home will be made. All members of the church are requested to either bring their offerings or send them in.

Old Bulloch Citizen Passes Away

The friends and relatives in this county of Hon. W. C. Knight of Ocdartown will regret to learn of his death in this city a few days ago. Mr. Knight left this county many years ago, when quite a young man, he has lived to a ripe old age, and reared a large and influential family in his adopted county. He served as clerk of the superior court of Folk county for twenty years, and was one of that county's most honored citizens. The editor of the News had the pleasure to meet him in his home a few years ago, and we together with his many friends and relatives in Bulloch sincerely regret to learn of his death.

Group.

A reliable medicine and one that should always be kept in a home for immediate use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will prevent the attack if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears. For sale by all druggists.

WM Held City Primary.

The newly elected Municipal Executive Committee held a meeting on Thursday night and ordered a white primary for mayor and a board of Aldermen to be held on Nov. 28.

The primary will have around it all the safe guards of a regular election, and in point of fact will practically be the election. The regular election which will ratify the result of the primary will be held on the first Saturday in December as usual.

While we have heard of no slate for the new officers of the city, yet there is some talk of various gentlemen being put in nomination. Among the men mentioned in connection with office of Mayor are the following:
R. Lee Moore, D. P. Averitt, J. L. Coleman, J. W. Wilson, and others. This is dependent, of course, on whether or not Mayor Johnston can be induced to serve again, if he should consent for the use of his name, he would get a solid vote in the city; in fact, there is no one who is qualified to fill his shoes, and no one would attempt to do so, if he should consent to serve. There are various names mentioned in connection with the aldermanic ticket, but nothing has been sufficient shape yet to justify an intelligent forecast of the personnel of the new board.

Mr. Crouch Buys Home.

One of the most important real estate deals recorded during the past week was the purchase from Mr. J. W. Olliff by Mr. S. J. Crouch of Mr. Olliff's home on East Main street. The price paid, we are informed, was $8,000.00. This shows that Mr. Crouch has faith in Statesboro dirt, and has decided to make this city his home. Mr. Olliff is understood to have under consideration the erection of a modern residence some time in the near future.

Statesboro's Great Showing.

As an evidence of genuine prosperity we have only to cast a glance at the statements of the three banks doing business in this city, which will be found in this issue of The Statesboro News.

If you will look them over you will find an extremely healthy condition of affairs. The combined deposits, time certificates and other cash items stored away in these banks show the magnificent total of between a quarter and a half million dollars. To be accurate, the exact figures are $310,950.58. Add to this the money now in the pockets of the people and in the channels of trade and other strictly cash items, we would not be surprised if there are not stored away in Statesboro fully a half million dollars in cash or its ready equivalent—all the cotton could be added to this, of which there is a considerable sum and it would make a total that any man with a bit of town pride could afford to point to with pleasure.

Now this condition of affairs is not confined to Statesboro, the county outside can make equally as fine showing; true lots of this money is there, but put the showing which can be made by the Bank of Metter, whose statement has not reached us as yet, and the sum would be appreciably swollen. The great amount of other cash items that could be gathered together from our country friends would give us a showing that no county outside of the large cities in the state could make, we believe.

Bulloch is a great county and Statesboro is a good town. Every dollar invested in property in this county is as good as if it was in United States gold bonds. We have much to be thankful for.

5000 BALES SHORT

President P. R. McElveen, of the Bulloch county branch of the Southern Cotton Growers Association, has taken the trouble to investigate the condition of the cotton crop as far as this county is concerned. He has interrogated every grower in the county and adding his replies together he is safe in saying that the yield of cotton in Bulloch will be at least five thousand bales less than it was last year. He finds that practically all the cotton has been picked and most all ginned, yet the ginners report is far short of the same time last year. He is sure of his ground in this matter. He at first thought it would be impossible to go to the Valdosta convention, but he assured us yesterday that he had made his arrangements so that he could make the trip; he and Mr. R. Simmons will leave this morning via Cordelle Messrs. Aaron and Deal informs us that they will be unable to go.

More Houses Needed

If there is a crying need for any one thing in Statesboro it is more houses. Stores and residences. It is a fact that at least a dozen people, both families and business firms have been notified that others will take their places on January 1st, and they have no other place to go, because every house in town is chock a block. There could be at least 50 dwellings and a dozen stores rented right here in Statesboro now. We hope that our property owners will not allow the town to be dwarfed for lack of room for those already here and those who are knocking at our gates. Build more stores, more homes and let Statesboro out to her full length.

"Thank The Lord"

crib Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Buckle's Arnica Salve. It cured my fearful running sore, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for 5 years." It is a marvelous remedy for cuts, burns and wounds. Guaranteed at W. H. Ellis drug store, etc.

Clark Howell Announces

Hon. Clark Howell has made his formal announcement for the office of governor, and publishes the platform on which he will go before the people of Georgia.

Mr. Howell appeals to the great masses of the people of Georgia, who will vote in the next white democratic primary, on a platform that must commend itself to every sober, self-respecting, patriotic citizen of the great state of Georgia. There is a wide difference between his platform of principles and the one on which his most formidable opponent is running.

Mr. Howell takes the position that Georgia is the greatest state in all the South, that she is well and wisely governed and that we are blessed with a degree of prosperity that has never been known since the civil war. He is in favor of letting well enough alone. He takes issue with that class of calamity howlers, who are yelling from the house tops that "everybody is a thief except me and my house." He says our white democratic primary has solved the negro question in politics. He would guarantee the same protection to the foreign capital now invested in our state that he would to himself and our own people, that much and no more. He is opposed to the confiscation of property from any set of men who may not happen to live in the borders of the state, but at the same time he would compel them to conform to the statutes as closely as he would the humblest citizen in the state.

He looks upon the disfranchisement proposition as being fraught with many dangers. He says: Make the ballot the prize for educational advantage and thousands of young negroes who are the beneficiaries of northern capital in ten years would flaunt that ballot in the face of thousands of illiterate poor white men in the state of Georgia.

He declares himself opposed to the policy of the issuing of free passes and privileges to public officials. He believes there are certain discriminations in the matter of freight rates to be adjusted, but expresses his faith in the honesty of purpose and ability of the railroad commission and the courts of the state to adjust the same.

His platform has the ring of statesmanship and high patriotic motives, and we believe that the great common people of the state of Georgia will recognize it as such and when the polls have closed on the day of the primary Clark Howell will be elected governor of Georgia by the largest majority given a candidate in recent years.

Big Land Deal

One of the biggest real estate deals we have heard of in some time was the sale by Mr. J. C. Deal of his farm to Mr. J. G. Brannen. The trade was consummated a few days ago, and the price is said to be $140,000. It contains about 800 acres of as good land as there is in Bulloch County. Mr. Deal will move to Pierce County where he will engage in the Saw mill business.

LAND SALE.

will be sold to the highest bidder for cash before the court house door in the city of Statesboro, on the first Tuesday in December, next, one acre of land located on the line of the Savannah & Statesboro Ry. near Grimsbach post office, adjoining lands of Jas. E. Hagins on three sides and J. L. Caruthers on the other. Two small houses on this land suitable for tenants.

J. W. Parrish.

D. C. Dukes Closes The Divide

It will be interesting to know that Mr. D. C. Dukes, who for several years made his home in Bulloch, died at Moultrie a few days ago. Mr. Dukes married Mrs. Pollie Donaldson of Register, but for some reason this union was dissolved after a short time.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

It will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Teachers Wanted for New Castle School. We, the patrons of New Castle school, solicit a first grade and second grade teacher, who will apply will call on either Mr. J. R. Bush, J. H. Anderson or J. G. Anderson, McCorkell community, and go as early as possible.

Sounds a Note of Warning.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Dublin Courier-Dispatch, puts the manager of the Mason Fair Association on notice that unless they get a different move on themselves and place before the people a letter show than they had this year, that they can expect little patronage from the people of that section.

The article in the Courier-Dispatch is timely. It is the duty of the country press to protect their people against fakes as far as they can, and when they see and know the character of a thing that is not what it pretends to be they should speak out and say so.

Now the writer had an exhibit at the Macon fair, and we are not putting our back up when a neighboring paper says the Macon fair was a fake. The editor was in Macon and walked through the agricultural hall, and we suppose he is clothed with all the information he wants; in other words, it is hardly a case of hearsay.

We remember that very few of the large exhibits who were at Atlanta could be induced to go to Macon; in fact, ours was the only one in the class of first, second, third, fourth or fifth that would entertain a proposition to go to Macon. Now why was this? It couldn't be because they did not want that $1,000.00 prize that Macon had offered. But it was for the simple reason that there was a well founded rumor afloat that the first prize at Macon had already been contracted away to a man who had agreed to stay from Atlanta. We carried ours to Macon, first: For the reason that it was on our way home. Second: Because we wanted to see if they would really deliver the goods to when an exhibit that would outclass it in each and every particular in ten years would flaunt that hall in the face of thousands of illiterate poor white men in the state of Georgia.

We notice that the managers say they intend to hold another fair next year, and that the basis of the same will be agriculture. Now it will be interesting to see what class of agricultural displays they will have there. Who is it? Who will be willing to spend a year's work and a thousand or two dollars getting up a display that is worth the while for a man has paid fifty cents at the gate to stop and look at unless they have been promised the goods, whether they merit them or not? A man who Robbed as we were of the extra $500.00 that was our own, and the honor of the blue ribbon which we were clearly entitled to, we had rather come home as we did than to know that every man who visited the Macon fair knew when the award was made to us that it was a bare face steal, and obtained on an exhibit that was not really creditable. The advertisement we gave our county is something that no set of biased and corrupt judges could steal from us, and worth a thousand times more to the county from which we hail than will the $500.00 be worth to the man who carried it off and who must know that it is not his own.

School Children Dress Too Fine

The following which we clip from the Monroe Enquirer speaks our sentiments to a "T."

A few days ago since I was driving down a street upon which one of the largest public schools and of Washington is situated. It is a graded school, and consequently there are pupils from the first to the eighth grade. The school faces one of the finest parks in the city. It was at the hour of recess, and being deeply impressed by the attractiveness of the children, I halted to give them more than a passing notice. There were hundreds of them, and if one were to judge by their apparel one would say they were all children of millionaires. No one would have thought them from the families of the ordinary citizens, whose incomes are not large.

Yet here were children dressed as if attending Sunday School or a picnic. Rich, bright ribbon tied back the hair of the girls, beads and long chains were around their necks and white and patent leather shoes and fancy slippers encased their feet. The boys wore expensive clothes, that should have been their Sunday best. They were not in roundabouts and jackets as in olden days.

One could but think that these children were being given false ideas of life and too extravagant notions in dress, and that their parents are responsible for the false impression made upon them as to the importance necessary to be attached to the clothes they should wear.

It would have been refreshing to have seen the girls in simple frocks and pinafores, that are so pretty and becoming, especially to the little six, eight and ten year olds, instead of the befrilled and lace trimmed fancy dresses for every day wear of these innocent babies who are scarcely old enough to go to school.

The older girls were dressed as if they were going to a party, with their thin waist, with insertion and lace set in the yokes, though with their fair necks to be seen, and handsome skirts of expensive materials. Scarcely one of them was dressed with the simplicity which belongs to girlhood much less than childhood.

The legitimate result of all this is the engendering of a spirit of extravagance that is sure to effect them all their lives and give them false ideas of economy and the eternal fitness of things.

Girls especially with such training, are dissatisfied with plain dress when they grow older, and if it is impossible for them to have their taste gratified at home they dare to go out into the world to find means to satisfy their desire for showy clothes and fables, and in the end sacrifice their good names upon the altar of vanity.

Parents are wholly to blame for inculcating wrong principles and ambition in the midst of their children. They had far better inspire them with aspirations for higher education and usefulness in the world and indifference as to apparel so they are tidy and respectable in appearance.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than All Others Put Together.

Mr. Thor, George, a merchant at St. Ignace, Ontario, says: "I have had a cough remedy for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozen sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I have personally recommended this medicine and have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by all druggists.

The South Leads

Our mills use more cotton than Northern mills.

J. G. Gurney, President of the Eagle and Phoenix Cotton Mills in Columbus, says that the South is now spinning more cotton than the North. The South has more spindles and the Southern mills have more modern machinery and turn out more work.

Mr. Jordan also states that the northern manufacturers are dissatisfied because the Southern mills have lower rates for the West and can ship goods there on better terms than New England mills.

"Our rates now are as low or a little lower for all central and Western territory than those from the eastern mills," says Mr. Jordan. "In fact this is a great cause for complaint among the New England mills and the New York jobbers who have seen the products of the Southern mills encroaching on territory that they would like to retain exclusively for themselves. Undoubtedly one of the first complaints that would be made if the Interstate Commerce Commission were given control over rates would be directed to destroying this alleged advantage of the Southern mills. Therefore, the proposed legislation, giving rate-making power to this Commission or any similar body, contains a serious threat to the prosperity of cotton manufacturing in the South, for we could not continue to do business without favorable rates. The northern mills have other advantages which we do not possess. They are nearer to local markets such as New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore and they can obtain money at a lower rate of interest. A distance basis of rates might hurt them but it would destroy us for we have no large nearby market such as they have but must depend upon distant markets for our prosperity. These are abundant reasons in the minds of the thoughtful cotton mill men of the South for opposing anything that looks toward government rate-making."

In Time of Peace.
In the first months of the Russian-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as such as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use, for sale by all druggists.

Sheppard and Clifton

Extract of letter to our countrymen by H. H. Babcock, Company:
Watertown, N. Y., August 6, 1905.

You have the exclusive agency for the sale of our vehicles in Savannah and tributary territory. No contention on the part of any of your competitors there that they can procure Babcock goods from us for sale is not to be credited.

The Savannah News says that Bill Clifton of Darien, the war horse of McIntosh, will be a candidate for congress. Oh Lord what have we of the First congressional district done, that such an affliction should be sent upon us?—Tattall Journal.

Tattall county is deeply interested in the success of Col. Lester, and we want a man that will continue to work and labor for our district, and that the man we need and the fully qualified to fill the place is Hon. J. A. Brannen of the county of Bulloch.—Tattall Journal.

Hon. J. H. Estill acted tenderfooted and tried to make the countryman believe that in 1904 he was mutual and unconserved as to who should go to congress from the First. But he as well as Pleasant A. Stovall has made the issue "city against the country."—Tattall Times.

We notice that "War Horse Bill Clifton" of McIntosh is mentioned in the Savannah papers as congressional timber. You Savannah tricksters pick your drive and run the swiftest one you have, cause we countries are giving to make it hot for 'em. Then we want to show you silk hat boys how fast Louis Brannen is.—Tattall Times.

A MAMMOTH DISPLAY OF CHEEK.
We have just received a card from W. W. Sheppard announcing that he would make the race for congress, and adding that if we saw fit to publish it he would appreciate same. If this isn't a glib article of cheek, then we fail to see what would constitute one. Our price to you, dear Walter, is $10, the same as to other, and when this is paid we will talk more about the appreciations.—Forest-Blade.

Letter to Farmers.

To the Cotton Growers and the Business Interests of Georgia: The Southern Cotton Association is no longer experimental. It has won for you two remarkable and notable victories. Every man, without exception, who did as we asked and urged made splendid money. Some as much as 4 1/2 cents per pound, $25.00 per bale or $25.00 on every ten bales. One half of this, or 2 1/4 cents per pound, $11.75 per bale, or $11.75 on every ten bales, was a handsome profit. It was just what you needed to help you when you followed our advice and those who listened to this money, those who declined to hear us last fall. Those who listened to a lot of cotton buyers and Theodore Price and others of like stripe and acted upon what they said last. On each bale sold at price and his partners advised the cotton grower lost just the amount that was gained by those who refused to follow them. For years and years price and his ilk have bled you to the tune of millions upon millions. In the short period of ten months the Southern Cotton Association have saved you millions. Who will you follow? Shall price and his sort be your prophet or will you listen to the Southern Cotton Association and its sort? Who are your interests are identical, mine and yours or yours and Theodore Price's?

"The state division on August 21 last levied an assessment on each county of 1 cent on each bale raised therein during last year. Had you invested that 1 cent last winter and held as we advised it would have made you, at the lowest estimate, $11.24. Can you beat that for profit on an investment? Again I ask whom will sustain, whom will you finance, Price and his ilk or the Southern Cotton Association.

That was the farmer's profit. Every other interest in the state and in the south made money out of our effort. The merchant, the banker, the cotton factor, the guano dealer, the insurance man, the newspaper man, the real estate dealer and every other line of business participated in the prosperity that followed. Collections were better, times were easier and there was happiness and hope for the future.

"The investment of 1 cent a bale was small, but it was a capital compared to the profit of the farmer, the profit of the south's every business calling, occupation or profession. It fixes her present business prosperity and insures that of the future. The farmers of Georgia ought to fall over each other to volunteer to pay that 1 cent. The business interests of the state in every line ought to offer their financial aid to this great work and movement and help us to so thoroughly organize the farmer that in the future when we fix a minimum price for any crop not a bale will be sold until that price is reached. Am I not right?

"Mr. John H. Reynolds, of Rome, Ga., did his part last winter when called upon to help in raising the bankers' fund for the central association. And long since when the editor of the Rome Tribune called upon the people of Floyd county to raise their assessment for the state division he sent voluntarily a $10 investment to the fund. He realized the good we have done and knows our power for better things in the future. He knows that last winter we saved many farmers and business interests from bankruptcy and lifted them to prosperity. He realizes we are the hope and will be the stay, not only of the cotton growers, but to the business interests of the south. He knows that our efforts saved millions to the south. What other organization ever did so much for a people in the same length of time or in any length of time?

"How many John H. Reynolds are there in Georgia? Make the fact known to John D. Walker, treasurer of the state division, Sparta, Ga. at once and we will be glad to publish the list. We ask this as an investment, not as a gift—we are not begging. The investments in the association in the past have returned fourfold, and many times more. Future investments will do the same. No one in this day of organizations and combinations could doubt it. In no other way, except by organization, could we have done what we have accomplished. There is no other method in the future.

"The south's duty is plain. Will she fail? She never has, nor will she this time. I say the south's duty is plain. I say it advisedly. The farmer is first and directly benefited. The money from his cotton then flows into every other business, therefore it is his and the duty of every other business man in the south to finance this important and vital movement. What says Georgia to this proposition?

"What is your response?
M. L. Johnson, Pres. Ga. Division S. C. A.

RAWLINS SAYS HE WILL PAY THE DEVIL A VISIT.

Valdosta, Nov. 17.—Black and half worn out by thumping, and having turned to a passage in Hebrews read a verse to the effect that if a man put Christ to shame, no sacrifice was of avail. He delights in expounding the scripture, his interpretations always being of the narrowest literal type. It is interesting, too, to notice in this connection the general cast and temper of Rawlin's intellect. It's distinguishing marks are his addition to queer, crude methods of reasoning and a tenacity of memory for recalling the most trivial details of a scene or a story. His conversation which is spun out to tediousness, consists of two things and only two: Minute narrative and round about argumentation. He never advances as many as even the most illiterate frequently do, any theories; and through all his dark, deep experience he seems to have reached no conclusion on the meaning of life and death. It was strange to hear him argue why he should not be punished for the murder of the Carter children.

"I HIRED MOORE." "Yes," he said, "I know I put Alf Moore up to killin' old man Carter. But I didn't expect him to kill the children. Why Alf is the biggest fool nigger I ever heard of. I had thought that he knew his business; that he was an expert at it. But like a fool, he went prowlin' around the house in broad open daylight. And then he shot the children, who I didn't want killed. Now, let me ask you this: I hired him to do away with the old man; and he didn't. Then is I to blame for the boy's and girl's death? Spo'd I hire him to kill a fellow who lived down by the creek and he'd come here to town and killed another, different man, would I been responsible?"

WOULD TALK FOREVER.
Rawlins will talk as long as any one will listen; always in an unemotional, flat voice, and, as has been intimated, lingers with remarkable minuteness on every irrelevant particular of his bloody tale. To him the number of biscuits in the bucket of food which he slipped to Alf Moore's lurking place, is as important as those conscience caverns of gloom down which his soul rushed to its tragic surrender. He still expresses an implacable hatred for Carter.

"Like begets like," he declared, "and Carter's wickedness begot wickedness in me. Through his agency I fell, just like Eve fell through the serpent."

RECOUNTS THE KILLING.
When asked if he regretted the murders, he answered, "Regret? My God! I'd give millions and millions of worlds as big as this one to have it all changed. And I pray for forgiveness. I asks Him to show me. But I ain't got no hope, no hope at all."

While the father was talking, Leonard and Milton stood silent, Leonard's countenance showed a softer, more intelligent expression than his brother's. Leonard, it will be remembered, was given a life sentence to the penitentiary. Milton during the entire interview kept his eye headed like a hypnotist on the visitor and occasionally ran his fingers over the outside of the cell bars.

On the common, just beyond the jail, a negro patient medicine show was exhibiting. When a banjo began to play, the boys brightened up and did their best to get a view of the minstrel, through an opposite window.

WANTED TO SEE PARADE.
This suggests the concluding and most humanly touching incident of the interview. The sheriff had arisen to relocate the cells and the prisoners had all retired to their palaces. Just then Rawlins, the father, arose again and with less hardness of voice than he had shown during the evening said: "Sheriff, I want to ask one favor of you. The circus parade will pass here tomorrow with the elephants and all. Now, please handout the boys together and let 'em stand there at the window and watch the show go by. I don't ask you to let me do it, but let the boys see. They always loved to see sights when they was little 'uns."

"I'll consider," replied the sheriff, "if I can't do that."

It should be mentioned here that Sheriff Passmore is a considerable officer, and a kind-hearted gentleman.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitution remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE NEWS.

TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

Following close upon the ruling that $20 is the proper penalty for stealing a five cent Missouri coin in which $200 is named as the correct figure. Such a diversity of judgments in different states is apt to create a demand that the whole subject be placed under Federal control.

An announcement comes from Colorado that deposits of pitchblende have been discovered in that state which promise to lower the price of radium. So many other stories of the same kind have been told in the last two years, and have proved misleading, that it won't do to trust this one implicitly. All the same, the world will hope for its verification.

The French journals are lauding the ingenuity of a postman named Fernand Cheval, who has utilized his scant free hours in building with his own hands a villa near the town of Harterive. The villa is a mixture of all imaginable styles of architecture. It took the postman twenty-five years to build it. Whenever he had an hour off duty, he would go into the neighboring hills and bring home a few stones to add to it.

The moral amount of water daily required is a mathematical calculation regulated by the sensation of thirst; a reduction of the body water by 1 percent produces thirst. Life can be sustained for a longer time when water is taken without food than when dry food is taken without water. It is said that six and a half pounds of water, holding in solution waste products, is excreted in twenty-four hours; this will serve as an approximate guide to the necessary amount of water for daily ingestion.

J. H. M. Abbott rhapsodizes in the Spectator as follows: London is a shop and a bank, a gambling hell and a cathedral. Its streets are paved with gold and set with thorns. It is the place for a rich man and the place for a poor man. It is all wealth and happiness; it is all poverty and distress. It is a huge paradox. Many things are possible in London that are also impossible. If it so please you, and you possess the ability to do so, you may live not merely a double life, but half a dozen different lives, which will never clash with one another. You may be a priest and a pirate. It is big enough for both of you.

Major-General Corbin impresses upon young army officers in his report the importance of living within their incomes. They are gentlemen, he urges, by virtue of their position, and to contract debts that he cannot pay is not the act of an officer who can ever have high standing in the service. While these admonitions to lead the simple life are passing among American soldiers it is interesting to turn to the forces of the Crown in Britain and find them about 4000 short of needed officers because the British subaltern cannot on his pay alone keep up the expenses of mess, club and band and his social obligations.

Thomas W. Lawson—whatever else he may have accomplished—has demonstrated the tremendous power of newspaper advertising. Writes Col. Mann, in Town Topics. I do not mean the power of the press; that is a different matter. Mr. Lawson has had no assistance from the more or less able editors; on the contrary, the majority of them have ridiculed or denounced him. By just plain advertising—like that of a merchant, publisher, hotel, theatre, railroad—without asking editorial endorsement, notices or puff, he has shaken Wall street and put stocks up and down as he thought judicious. He hung out no painted signs, pasted no picture posters, issued no circulars, but depended solely upon his newspaper advertisements, and they reached the people and brought the results he desired. Here is a lesson for business men, who may not approve Mr. Lawson's policy, but cannot close their eyes to the efficiency of his methods.

POLES BALK AT MARTIAL LAW. Repression Drives Them to Exasperation and Trouble is Imminent. The proclamation of martial law in all of the ten governments of Russian Poland has caused surprise and exasperation and there are apprehensions that it will provoke disturbances worse than those that have already taken place. The city of Warsaw is panic-stricken.

HYDE GIVEN THE LIE

By Ex-Governor Odell and Joker Chaucney Depew.

FLAL DENIALS ARE MADE

Answers to Certain Parts of Hyde's
Testimony Given Before the Insurance
Investigation Committee in New York City.

Former Governor Benjamin B. Odell, Jr., and United States Senator Chaucney M. Depew, as witnesses before the legislative insurance investigation committee, at New York, Thursday, denied parts of the testimony of James Hyde, in which their names were used.

Mr. Odell, in the course of his testimony, called Mr. Hyde's statements "base calumny," and when he was asked whether he directly or indirectly had made threats to have the charter of the Mercantile Trust company revoked, his face flushed, and, striking the arm of the witness chair with his fist, he exclaimed: "There is no truth in that statement, so help me God!"

Mr. Odell was the first witness of the day. He said no political pressure was brought to bear in the settlement of his suit against the Mercantile Trust company, and that it was settled the same as suits brought by others.

He said he had been advised by counsel that his claim was a just one, and that any court would have awarded him more than he received in the settlement.

He knew of the introduction of the Ambler bill, which, it is said, might have affected the Mercantile Trust company's charter; and, while he did not suggest its introduction, he saw no objection to it.

Mr. Odell denied that he ever made a statement to E. H. Harriman or any one else that retaliatory measures would be taken against the Mercantile Trust company. The witness said he and Mr. Harriman were personal friends, but that they had no business relations.

He wrote a letter on behalf of Mr. Hyde's candidacy for the post of ambassador to France, This was at the request of William H. McIntyre, one of the vice presidents of the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

Mr. Odell said he had never solicited political contributions, but possibly some money might have come to him through the national committee or Senator Thomas C. Platt, as the latter had always gathered together the friends of his in New York state, except in the last year.

Senator Depew was examined with regard to his syndicate participation and his duties as counsel to the Equitable Society. Regarding the ambassadorship to Paris, Senator Depew said Mr. Hyde came to him and solicited his influence to secure the appointment.

Senator Depew brought the matter to the attention of the president, although he told Mr. Hyde he was too young, and the president said it was utterly impossible to make such an appointment.

NEW KING OF NORWAY.

Prince Charles is Offered Throne and Accedes Post.

The Norwegian parliament Thursday by a vote of 190 to 1 appropriated $200,000 annually for the new king's civil list. Premier Michelsen will announce the election of Prince Charles to succeed King Oscar.

The official figures show that 257,710 votes were cast in favor of Prince Charles of Denmark as king of Norway, and 68,352 against him. A telegram was received from Prince Charles accepting the offer of the throne. The prince will take the title of Carl V, and the royal flag will be a golden lion on a purple field.

ROT REVEALED IN BOSTON

Raid by Police Uncovers Wholesale
Malpractice in Private Hospitals.

At Boston Saturday afternoon twenty detectives made a sensational descent upon five offices on Tremont street, where it is alleged illegal operations have been performed on an extensive scale, and, although the raid did not result in any arrests, the police found considerable material which they think will aid them in the future.

In each place a photograph was taken of the rooms and of the instruments found. Hundreds of people blocked traffic on Tremont street during the raids, and for hours afterwards the impression was general that another girl had met death in one of the hospitals, and that the police had caught the criminals.

The action of the police was the result of the disclosures which have come to light recently in connection with the death of Susanna Geary, the victim of the suit case tragedy, whose death followed an illegal operation alleged to have been performed in the office of Mrs. Dr. Jane Bishop, and the more recent operation performed on Lola Reed, a 15-year-old girl of West Newfield, Maine.

Although five places were entered by the police during the day, the work will be continued next week, the authorities having information in their possession indicating that the business is being conducted on such a large scale that it has become alarming. Their information also indicates that Boston has become headquarters for these illegal practitioners, who bring their patients from all parts of the country.

State Election in Ohio.

Practically completely returns on the entire Ohio state ticket show all the republican candidates except for governor, have been elected by substantial pluralities.

WAS A CONSPIRACY

Hyde Makes Sensational Disclosures Anent Equitable.

APPEARS AS A WITNESS

Declares Frick and Harriman Planned to Destroy Society by Throwing it into Hands of a Receiver.
Hyde Arraigns Harriman.

A New York special says: James Hyde, former vice president of the Equitable, was on the stand before the legislative insurance investigating committee for the first time Tuesday, and gave testimony which aroused in sensational statements.

Charges that H. C. Frick and E. H. Harriman entered into a conspiracy to deprive him of his rights and get control of the Equitable in order that they might destroy it, and that Harriman advised him at the time of Governor Odell's suit to give Odell anything he wanted, lest the governor should retaliate through the legislature, were the features of the day.

Mr. Hyde cleared up the matter of the $685,000 loan of the Mercantile Trust company, saying that Mr. Alexander had loaned it for the purpose of buying up stock of the company, setting objectionable suits, and for campaign contributions.

This contribution was the one to the last campaign, and was asked by Mr. Frick, who suggested it for the benefit of the society. To procure this money Mr. Alexander had Mr. Hyde write a letter to the president of the Mercantile Trust company, and this letter practically placed him in the position of guarantor.

Later, when the settlement of the loan was forced, Mr. Alexander and Mr. Jordan raised all they could toward it. The stock purchased with part of the loan was sold to Thomas F. Ryan for $212,000, and the balance, $473,000, Mr. Hyde paid personally. He did this because he understood that Mr. Alexander was financially embarrassed, and in a bitter tone, said:

"Notwithstanding the strained relations with these two gentlemen (Alexander and Jordan), I felt bound to see that the debt was liquidated by reason of the letter Mr. Alexander extracted from me."

Mr. Hyde said that the first received a salary of $29,000, seven years ago. In 1902, when he became chairman of the financial committee, this was advanced to $75,000, and in 1902 it was advanced to $100,000, at which it remained until he resigned as vice president of the society.

Mr. Hyde presented a statement showing that in the seven years of his connection with the Equitable Life and the allied corporations his average income has been only a little more than $18,000 a year. This was guaranteed as seven years' salary from the Equitable, amounting to $425,000, from which he deducted his losses in syndicate transactions, amounting to $29,515, and the $12,500 paid on the $85,000 loan, which left a balance of $123,884, or an average annual income of $17,697, to which was added the average income from his offices in the trust companies, or $10,500.

Witness said he presented this statement to show that he had been misrepresented.

The syndicate operations of J. H. Hyde and associates were gone into very thoroughly, and it was shown that in twenty-seven syndicates Mr. Hyde sustained personal losses of $128,615. Mr. Hyde ascribed the apportionment of the Equitable alliance of bonds in syndicates to officers of the Equitable Life to the customs and usages of Wall street.

The appointment of the Frick committee was gone into, and Mr. Hyde said:

"Mr. Harriman led me to believe, through a mutual friend, that the reports of that committee would be very friendly to me, and he did everything he could to dissuade me from selling my stock, at the same time doing everything on that committee to kille me and destroy the value of that stock."

Mr. Hyde's attention was called to the seriousness of these statements, and he replied that he had spent many sleepless nights and long days reflecting on them, and he made this statement as a matter of reflection, not conclusion. Mr. Hyde said that the Frick committee injured him because he did not think the investigation nor the report was in all details fair.

ALL RUSSIA TREMBLES.

The inauguration of General Strike Throughout Russia and Government Totally Unprepared.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says: The general strike summoned by the proletariat began Wednesday at noon, and in a few hours thousands of workmen had quit their employment to join the throngs in the streets.

A fierce northeast blizzard and snow storm, which swept the city on Wednesday night, drove every one from the streets and did more to preserve order than did the heavy patrol of troops which had been stationed everywhere.

The government was totally unprepared to meet the new crisis, and the whole country is trembling before the mutterings of what is feared by many to be the most serious upheaval that has yet visited Russia.

As one of the chief causes of the strike was the demand for democracy for the Kronstadt mutineers, the strikers feel that great sympathy will be felt for them in the army, and they openly declare that troops will not fire on the populace if such orders are given. In addition to this the people are better armed than ever before, as the rumors of ravages by the "Black Hundred" have caused fear throughout the city.

That the government fully appreciated the gravity of the situation is indicated by statements made on high authority that a large portion of the imperial domain, which comprises a third of Russia in Europe, and which is at present the property of the emperor and the grand dukes, will be given to the peasants.

According to this information, land will be supplied to the landless peasants in 15-acre allotments, not as a free gift but on easy terms, the payments to be made through the peasants' bank, and to cover a period of thirty-five years.

The social democrats had as impressive response on the part of all organizations of workmen to their summons for a general political strike to demonstrate their solidarity with the struggle of their Polish comrades for autonomy and to protest against the execution of the mutinous sailors at Kronstadt.

The men walked out of all the big mills and factories, and the employees of the Baltic and Warsaw railroads, the printers and other classes of laborers struck, but the shops in the center of the city were not closed. Troops took charge of the electric light stations, which were operated by sailors, so that the city was not placed in darkness.

TO HOLD 3,000,000 BALES

Cotton Growers Organize a Pool to Withdraw That Amount of Cotton From the Market.

A New Orleans special says: Following the arrival of President Harvie Jordan, the Southern Cotton Association Wednesday perfected plans for the taking of the market of three million bales of cotton by means of a series of pledges which the farmers will sign themselves, stating their name and address and the amount of cotton they will thus hold.

The cotton held will not be sold for less than fifteen cents a pound.

A representative of the association is to be sent into every one of 317 cotton producing counties of the cotton belt at once. When the pledges are signed they will be sent to the central office of the association in Atlanta.

President Jordan says that half of the crop has already been sold at an average of ten cents and the spinners must have all the remainder.

He believes that fifteen cents for the remainder is a fair price and it will only average the spinners 12 1/2 cents, while they have based all their calculations on fourteen cent cotton.

TO RAISE OUR FLAG

People of the Isle of Pines Cut Loose From Cuba.

DECLARE INDEPENDENCE

Determination Expressed to Become Part of United States—Territory is Organized—Roosevelt Approved of Action.

The inhabitants of the Isle of Pines have declared their independence of Cuba, and have organized a new government as a United States territory. A delegate to congress will be sent to Washington in order to have questions affecting the future of the island discussed before the house of representatives, ignoring Cuban authorities.

Mass meetings were had under the name of territorial conventions and officials were appointed to fill positions except those that must be named by the president under the constitution of the United States. The first officers of the new territory are:

T. B. Anderson, secretary of state; James M. Steere, treasurer; Edward C. Ryan, delegate to congress; A. T. Frise, chief justice; David S. Wall, sheriff.

The convention divided the districts and the five districts ordered elections to be held Tuesday to select members of the legislature, tax assessors and collectors. One ticket was named in each district, the only political question being to keep the island under the stars and stripes. The arrangements are proceeding in an orderly manner under the forms of law, the men on the different tickets announcing that they will take office immediately without regard to those serving under the Cuban government.

The first official notice of the affair is contained in this letter: "Nueva Gerona, Isle of Pines, Nov. 14, 1905. Theodore Roosevelt, President, Washington—Dear Sir: The people of this island, having purchased homes under the treaty of Paris, believing it was United States territory, and having waited over three years for recognition of their rights as American citizens, fear a continuation of these conditions and feeling alarm at the condition of Cuba during the coming election, have taken preliminary steps for the establishment of a territorial government under the constitution of the United States, believing this the proper step for us to take and the most effective way to receive justice and equity from our national lawmakers, hereby also advising you, our president, for a square deal."

"We trust our petition will meet your approval. Yours respectfully, T. B. ANDERSON.

"Chairman Territorial Convention. This movement to sever relations with Cuba was fomented by the American Club.

PLANS UNIQUE INTERMENT.

Steel Company to Bury Metal Containing Bodies of Two Workmen.

During the inquest held at Philadelphia Wednesday in the cases of John F. Orkin and Joseph Garcia, laborers, who were killed at the Midvale Steel Works on November 16, it was testified that the two men had entered a pit and that 30,000 pounds of hot metal poured from a leak and completely absorbed them. Not a trace of the bodies of the men was discovered. The steel company has decided to take about 8,000 pounds of the steel from the place where the men were last seen and have it buried out of respect for the dead workmen.

Taft Back in Washington.

Secretary Taft arrived in Washington from Hampton Roads Wednesday morning. Immediately after breakfast he called at the executive office and saw the president when the latter came to the office.

AGAINST RATE REGULATION.

Evilegation of Railroad Employees Visit President Roosevelt.

An earnest protest was made to the president Monday against proposed railroad freight rate legislation. The protest was filed by representatives of five of the great labor organizations connected with railroading—the engineers, firemen, conductors, switch men and trainmen.

The members of the delegation which called on the president represented the several organizations. They pointed out to him that railroad rate legislation logically meant the lowering of rates. This, they contended, will be followed by a lessening of the earning power of railroads, and consequently by reduction eventually of the wages of railroad employees.

The delegation which called on the president came from twelve different states and represented all of the large or systems of railroads.

TALLY SHEETS ARE DEMANDED.

Judge Orders County Clerk to Produce Them Instantly.

Council for the Municipal Ownership League at New York, Tuesday, obtained from Justice Amand, in the supreme court, an order directing County Clerk Hamilton to produce at once before the board of county canvassers the original tally sheets in his custody, or, in default of so doing, to show cause why he should not do so. Justice Amand also restrained the board of county canvassers from taking any action with regard to the canvass of the votes until the question as to the tally sheets had been decided.

IN THE SHADOW OF DEATH.
Jim Carter Looks Upon the Opening Doors of Gallows With Perfect Composure.

A News representative called at the county jail on Wednesday afternoon, and facing Jim Carter, convicted to be hung on next Friday for the murder of his wife, Sarah Jane Carter last August, asked if he had anything to say concerning his fate. He replied that while the time was fast drawing near that he should soon face his God, yet he was not altogether without hope; he had pending before the pardon board a petition, asking for his sentence to be commuted to life imprisonment. He had asked that in the event that he was hanged next Friday for his body to be sent to his relatives in South Carolina.

When Carter was asked if he had repented of the deed that had placed the noose around his neck, he replied that he had, he was sorry that he did it in a short time afterwards, but his wife was unfaithful to him and in an evil moment he slew her, and he now regrets it after it is too late. He will have a statement to make in Tuesday's paper.

GREAT REMOVAL SALE
We are going to move into another building on January 1st, and rather than go to the expense of moving our $6,000 stock, we are going to sell out at
ACTUAL COST FOR TEN DAYS
Beginning Saturday Morning, November 25th 1905.
This is a bona fide, actual cost sale, and will be limited to just ten days—no longer. Our entire stock of dry goods, notions, clothing, shoes, dress goods, skirts, etc., will be put on sale at cost prices. Our stock is all new, no rubbish. You run no risk of getting any out-of-date or shelf-worn goods put off on you. We have no old stock to unload, for there is not an article that is more than one year old. Any piece of goods in our store can be bought during this ten days' sale at exactly the same price we paid for it. There is no fake or trick about this sale, we mean what we say. If you don't believe we are selling at cost, you are welcome to see our bills. Come during the first days, before the stock is picked over. Here are a few of the exceptional bargains we will offer:
